BOTH CROSS COUNTRY TEAMS LOSE IN CITY

VARSITY VS. LAFAYETTE, 20-35
—FRESH IN FLATBUSH TRI-ANGULAR MEET.

Lafayette came back at the varsity cross-country runners for their defeat of last year, and won in Saturday's meet over the six-mile Van Cortlandt Park course, 35 to 20. Landis finished in third place, but was only several yards behind McFall of the Penn athletes, first place winner. Keen competition between McFall, Russell and Landis resulted in good time for the distance. At the crack of the starter's gun the three harriers left the pack and were far in the van at the first lap, covering it in 17:28. The finish was also close, the three leaders being separated by not more than two yards.

The contest served to prime Captain Seymour Cohen's fellow cross-country men for the inter-collegiate championships at New Haven, on the 25th.

Loring P. Jones' squad of freshman cross-country lads lost their opening contest Saturday in a triangular run with Erasmus Hall and Commercial High.

It was an easy victory for the Buff and Blue harriers, whose score was 17 points. Commercial tallied 58 while our 1920 athletes failed to complete a team, as only four crossed the finish line, and therefore did not figure in the scoring. The three-mile course at Prospect Park, Brooklyn, was the scene for the freshmen's first meet.

Joe Rosofsky, a former Bay Ridge student, achieved the individual honors in the contest. He finished easily ahead of a large squad in 19:17. Always in the van, his most persistent rival was Rogers of Erasmus. How ever coming down "Dead Man's Hill," Rosie braved a header by lengthening his stride and succeeded in moving away to win at the finish by 15 yards. McGonigle, another Erasmus starter, came in third, Teddie Phelps, fourth, whose time was 19:34.

EMPLOYMENT BUREAU MAKES REPORT

The Employment Bureau report from September, 1915, to the same month, 1916, shows the amount of $27,345.05 in total earnings. 482 students were placed during this time. The figure of wages earned represents an increase of 129 per cent. over that of the previous year. The positions filled were temporary part time and full time positions, as well as permanent part and full time positions.

The Employment Bureau made of undergraduates during the year actors for the moving pictures, clerks, agents, athletic coaches, club leaders, bookkeepers, boatmen, bell boys, cashiers, canvassers, draftsmen, library pages, musicians, proofreaders, department store salesmen, grocery clerks, secretaries, stenographers, telephone operators, teachers of elementary and secondary subjects, tutors and guardians for young boys, translators, ushers, waiters, pool watchers, etc.

Many college men were employed during the automobile races, exhibitions and at the army and navy football game. At election time some worked for the political parties, others for and against woman suffrage. Department stores employed many students during the holiday season. The co-operation of large corporations of a public and private character, manufacturers, shops, offices, stores and schools was secured in appointing the undergraduates in remunerative positions.

Moreover, the Bureau's activity was not confined to New York City or even to New York State, but extended to neighboring States.

"Because of the prosperity so evident in the city during the last year," says the report, "more students were placed and more money was earned by them through the efforts of the Bureau than ever before in its history. The year just ended shows an increase in earnings of 129 per cent. over the previous year."

The Bureau, besides aiming to assist students to obtain part time positions for afternoons, evenings and holiday sessions, also aims to obtain positions for men who for financial reasons are compelled to change from the day to the night college. The Bureau also assists graduates of the College in obtaining positions for which their training qualifies them and which coincide with their life work.

The alumni of the College have also been instrumental in helping to place many of the students in profitable positions. The Bureau is supervised by a faculty committee consisting of Profs. Ernest Ilgen, chairman; Howard B. Woolston, and Arthur Bruckner. Mr. Henry Katz, 1910, the secretary, is in active charge.

MIKE TO BE 1917-1918 PUBLICATION

Permission was granted by the Student Council, at last week's meeting, to publish a joint 1917-1918 Microcosm. When the editors realized that the hold-up last year by the faculty committee, on account of the unsettled finances of the previous year book, might put off the publication of the '17 annual to the present term in which the '17 men are seniors, one of the plans was to attempt an exclusively senior volume, to be issued at the end of this term. The other scheme was a joint senior-junior work.

If the plan is successful, as passed by the Council, The 1917-1918 Microcosm will contain pictures, histories and other information of interest to the upper classmen, besides the regular content of the records and data of the City College's annals since the issue of 1916's volume.

Elections to the editorial staff of The 1917 Microcosm last Fall, resulted in the choice of Samuel H. Friedman as editor-in-chief. Friedman has since become editor of College Mercury. W. C. O'Brien, of the June class, News Editor of THE CAMPUS and a staff member of this newspaper since 1913, was elected Associate Editor. Edward Newmark, the business manager elect has since resigned. Harry Stern of the February, 1917, class is the associate business manager.

An independent board of 1918 editors and business men will probably be formed to look after the junior phase of the joint work. Elections for positions may be held soon in the class.

The authorization of the joint yearly volume and a talk on the subway petition were the principal items of business after the usual stormy session of the Council. The article on the subway project appears elsewhere in this issue.

FAMOUS ACTRESS TO RECITE.

Mme. Barseescu of European Fame to Declaim for Cercle Jusserand.

Madame Agathe Barseescu, the well-known European actress, will recite some of her favorite selections of classical French literature before the Cercle Jusserand next Thursday, in Room 126. Mme. Barseescu is quite famous in the European theatre world, having played in England, France, Germany, Italy and Russia, as well as in her own country, Rumania. She began her stage career in Vienna, and there gained the title of "the little imperial court actress." She has been decorated often by the rulers of those countries.

Strauss Lectures on Americanism

"As an American, I feel that America is passing through a great crisis. As a Jew, I feel that the present war is the most important factor the Jew should consider."

Thus spoke Samuel Strauss, editor of The New York Times in an address on "Membership and Individuality," before the Menorah last Thursday.

"The essence of true Americanism may be summed up in the expression, 'Liberty and Union'—not 'Liberty first and Union after'."

"Since May, 1915, this country has had a glimpse of the crevices and gaps in the structure of America. We have discovered that America is harboring numerous groups of German-Americans, French-Americans, and English-Americans, whose creed is 'Liberty first and Union after'."

"The events of the last eighteen months have made us wonder whether we have a United States—whether we have 'Liberty and Union' or 'Liberty first and Union last.' They have caused us to consider whether we are not an East and a West—whether we have not a number of States—a number of groups of Slavs, Poles, and other races banded together. And then we begin to wonder whether this bond will hold when the storm breaks, for the truth is coming to America in the near future—a great crisis."

"The problem of the Jews in America is the problem of all other groups—Democrats, woman suffragists or socialists—how to maintain the individuality of the Jewish people and still be a part of the large community," said Mr. Strauss discussing the Jews.

Once again the project which aims at having 137th Street subway station re-named "City College Station," by the Interboro Company, bursts into being—and print. Ever since the opening of the new buildings on the Heights, the movement has been advocated at different times, with more or less success. Donaldson, '18, is instrumental in reviving the agitation, and last week at the Council meeting he presented his plans to the law-makers.

The speaker said he had prepared resolutions which he purposes shall be signed by faculty, day, extension and evening students, organ recital patrons, school teachers, and others who are interested in, and have occasion to visit the College frequently. More than 10,000 signatures are anticipated.

Already the majority of faculty members have approved of the campaign by affixing their names to the petition. Separate blanks will be presented soon to the students for their signatures. President Mezes is said to be heartily in favor of the project and is negotiating with the Public Service Commission of New York City.

The Student Council has voted its support and appointed a committee to assist in the work of obtaining student signatures in the class rooms. Dean Brownson has given permission for the members to visit classes during sessions for that purpose.

The present campaign recalls articles appearing in the columns of THE CAMPUS for years on the matter. On November 4, 1914, Volume XV, Number 6, THE CAMPUS said editorially, in part:

"One of the projects, now covered with the dust of forgetfulness, which has been warmly advocated in the past by students and others connected with C. C. N. Y. is the matter of re-naming the 137th Street subway depot. Many of the subway stations are named after places of general and local interest. One which concerns us especially, since it is a realization of an aim identical with the one we are now furthering is the 116th Street station, known as 'Columbia University.'"

"The reasons for changing the name of the 137th Street station to 'City College,' 'C. C. N. Y.' or some similar title are numerous. The great majority of the passengers using this station are connected with our College. They comprise the faculty, the day and night students, and the academic youngsters. All told, several thousand nickels roll into the swollen coffers of the Interboro every day. The College is near the station, it is a place of public interest, and in accordance with the afore-mentioned practice of the Interboro of naming subway stations after places of interest, the College should give its name to the 137th Street station.

"This matter is of no great importance from a practical point of view, but it is one of those delicate touches which mean so much to those concerned, and which although slight in themselves increase appreciably the prestige of the College."

College Mercury has lately been advertising itself by the inscription: "37 Years Old." Mercury. "From the last issue of that publication, we now believe that this inscription is but an attempt to justify a continued existence.

Any magazine that accepts for publication articles of the type that Child Harold—as he appropriately terms himself—submitted for the issue of last week, has reached the end of its temporal existence and its appearance should cease.

Such a childish pessimistic mess as Child Harold wrote—evolved from an immature gloom-seeking imagination

—must prove conclusively that College Mercury is senile—that it has reached its second childhood.

Let us inform the editors of College Mercury that we are not worried. We have firm faith in our swimming team and do not believe that any of our athletic activities are "on their last legs."

As for Child Harold, well, he merits punishment, but the punishment of his apparent age—a spanking.

This year's Basketball Schedule is worthy of our team and its abilities. We have not had as fine an array of opponents in many years. Congratulations to Manager Corrigan!

OFFICIAL.

The Social Science course, which will be introduced in February, 1917, will be open only to students admitted to the College at that time (February, 1917), or thereafter, with this exception, viz.:

Students admitted to the College in September, 1916, may be transferred to the Social Science course upon application to the Committee on Course and Standing. Such transfers of such students as may be made by the committee will in all cases take effect in September, 1917; during the term beginning February, 1917, such students will be required to continue the fundamental subjects of the courses in which they are now registered, but may so far as conditions permit be allowed to take one or more of the preliminary subjects of the Social Science course.

The Committee on Course and Standing will receive applications for transfers under the above proviso at any time prior to December 1, 1916, but not thereafter.

By order of the President, CARLETON L. BROWNSON, Dean. November 3, 1916.

MISS SPEYSER ENGAGED.

Miss Anna Speyser, secretary to Professor Duggan, has announced her engagement to Mr. David G. Matzkin, of Brooklyn. Miss Speyser will continue in her present duties for some time.

Menorah Forum Hears Prof. Guthrie.

"Patriarchal Ideas in Jewish History" was the subject on which Professor Guthrie spoke at the Menorah Forum last Tuesday.

He outlined the ethical principles embodied in the Jewish patriarchs, and claimed that there is no historical source that is so authentic and goes back as far as the Bible.

Dean Wants to Meet Students.

To Students of the College: I realize, with regret, that because of added duties of various kinds, I have had less opportunity this term to meet students personally, for consultation upon their work, upon general college questions, or upon matters of any other sort. I have greatly prized this opportunity in the past and I wish to make due apology to the student body for having been somewhat hard to reach during this term.

Henceforth I shall reserve the hour from 12.30 to 1.30 P. M. daily for consultation with students, and I assure them of a welcome whatever the matter which they wish to present to me.

CARLETON L. BROWNSON, C. C. N. Y., Office of the Dean, November 3, 1916.

NO MORE OFF HOURS IN T. H. H.

System of Compulsory Study Periods Has Been Introduced.

Off hours must now be utilized by Townsend Harris students in the preparation of lessons. Formerly the men were free to spend their leisure time as they wished. This new scheme is under the direction of Dr. White, of the Education Department.

Students who have off hours must present themselves at the Townsend Harris assembly hall. A force of Education VI students and instructors who are at leisure is in attendance to lend aid in the solution of difficulties.

A set of reference works has been placed in the hall and will serve as a nucleus for a Townsend Harris library.

The attendance at these study periods is taken, and absences are noted. As many as 400 students are present at certain hours.

ISRAEL G. ORNSTEIN.

I am two men, I have a personal self, And a political one. In politics I am a hypocrite, Yet I never tell a lie. Everyone is my friend, That is, everyone whose vote I may need.

The man against whom I intend to vote, Figures me as an earnest supporter, Although I tell him nothing to which he can point,

Should he accuse me of bad faith. The man for whom I will vote, knows it. I tell him, for purposes of exchange. In short, I am a typical politician, Of the higher kind.

Personally, I am a fine fellow. I am exclusive in my friendships, Because I, rightly, set a high value on myself.

I am gentle with those younger than myself, And strong with my equals.

I play politics as a game, and win. I live seriously, and—

THIS BUSINESS OF COLYUM CONDUCTING IS GETTING EASIER ALL THE TIME. HONEST, WE'RE BEGINNING TO LIKE IT. WE THINK WE'RE IMPROVING. WHAT DO YOU SAY, FELLOWS? IT'S HARD WORK, THOUGH. WE LOST THREE POUNDS SINCE THE BEGINNING OF THE TERM. ENGLISH MONEY.

THE GIRLS THAT HAUNT THE AVENOO.

When life seems tinged with shades of blue, I sometimes walk the avenoo and scorn the smiles of gilded girls that hide their cheeks 'neath clumsy curls. Their chalk-like faces seem to shriek. "It is but men, just men we seek. What though they be too young to shave, what though they're hiding from the grave, let them be student, knight, or knave, if they're but men—that's all we crave. We care not if they're drenched with rum, we'll welcome even the deaf and dumb, if they're but wearers of the pants, for they may be our only chance."

You've met that God-forsaken crew, the haunters of the avenoo. You find them there, as sure as fate, most ev'ry night at half-past eight, when, in a slowly moving train, they march down, then up again. Through cold and heat, through rain, and sleet, they march up, down, the crowded street; a hopeless, senseless, manless crew—the girls that haunt the avenoo.

BLUE POINT AGAIN.

I BLUE POINT Intended To Write About ALZEE, In My Usual Way But Suggestion Made Me Do This

We are taking P. S. 7. Whatever else we shall gain from the course, we have already been benefited by a suggestion of Professor Palmer's to such an extent that we wish to pass the hint along.

The professor suggests that, when one meets with a new word and wishes to add it to his vocabulary, he should first make sure of its meaning and then use it several times, the utilization serving to emphasize the acquisition. We have found this exceedingly practical. Three of our recent experiments were with tergiversation, hysterian, and ambage.

One of our amateur ham actors met us the other day.

He was much elated. We asked the reason.

"I have just been given the post of Cuspidor in Spitfire."

"That's nothing," we said.

"We have acted in mop-scenes, too."

CLEVELAND ABBE, ALUMNUS, DEAD

Cleveland Abbe, '57, one of the oldest and most prominent of our alumni, died on Tuesday, October 31, at the age of seventy-eight.

Mr. Abbe was one of the three surviving members of the class of '57, of which Professor Werner is a member. He was very active in the United States Weather Bureau, having invented the original weather map, now used by all scientists. He was honored by the College with the degree of Doctor of Philosophy, only three Ph.D.'s having ever been conferred. The only other alumni to receive this degree from C. C. N. Y. were Russel Sturgis, '58, and John Bach McMaster, '72, the historian.

HOROWITZ EXPLAINS FRESHMAN RULE

Dear Sir: Considerable comment has been caused by the passing of the "Freshman Rule" at the Intercollegiate Swimming Association meeting.

As the representative of C. C. N. Y. I voted for the adoption of that rule because the College faculty had previously passed such a ruling and it would be to our disadvantage to be in a league where our opponents could use freshmen and we, because of our faculty rule, could not.

In the opinion of those who are in charge of swimming here, the "Freshman Rule" was our only salvation, because this rule means the establishment of a freshman swimming team.

A freshman swimming team means a close relation in this sport with the high schools and the development of men for the varsity to take the place of those who graduate and leave.

I hope that this will explain the position of C. C. N. Y. in regard to this rule and will put a close to all unfavorable comment.

Very truly, SAUL HOROWITZ, Manager Swimming Team.

LIVE DOPE ON LIVE SPORTS

SPORTING COMMENT

The abolition of season tickets by the A. A. Board, has given rise to a great deal of comment, both pro and con. We have heard many opinions on the subject, the majority of which were con. But, in the main, the expression of opinions was based on guess. Rarely were they founded on any deep consideration of the matter. Suppose we look into the reasons which caused this change from a time-honored custom.

Last year the attendance at the big games was way above 1,000, and at the headliners it passed the 1,500 mark. The Fire Department and Prof. Storey have objected strenuously to this, and the attendance this year will be limited absolutely to 1,200. What effect has this on the sale of season tickets? Well, there will be no way of determining how many holders of season tickets will attend a certain game. The management will, therefore, be at a loss to know how many tickets to put aside for the gate. They will have to depend on guess-work. If they put aside too few, some season ticket holders, coming late, will be kept out when they have every right in the world to demand entrance. If too many are put aside, the A. A. will lose money. Result, loss of money and inefficient management. That is Reason No. 1.

Reason No. 2: There were 848 A. A. members for the year, 1915-1916. At 50c. per, the sale of membership tickets netted $424.00. Only 59% of the members bought season tickets at 75c. The proceeds, here, were, $371.50.

The combined sales of membership and season tickets amounted to $795.50. We could safely figure on an equivalent amount for this year under the old scheme. Let us raise the amount to even $1,000.00. Take a look at the basketball schedule. Can $1,000.00 pay the guarantees for these superb games as well as support the other sports for the first half of the season and at the same time pay for the equipment of all the teams. Even counting on the ordinary gate receipts, can such a membership carry through a $5,000.00 budget. We think not!

When you get down to it, the A. A. would have to charge $2.50 or $3.00 for a season ticket. How many fellows do you think, would be willing to buy tickets at that price? Wouldn't you prefer to pay your quarter or so, a week rather than fork up $3.00 at one time. We would, and you would, too. Besides, 75c. for at least 10 games, is an average of 7 1/2c. a game. Now, nobody will deny that that is a ridiculously low sum to pay. At other colleges the season tickets range from $10.00 to $25.00, and the games are no better than ours. Yet, here, some fellows are kicking because the A. A. will charge 50c. for tickets at most of the games. At a few of the big attractions, it is true, the A. A. will most likely charge 75c., but those games are worth that and more. Besides, all members of the A. A. will get a reduction of 50% on tickets and, at some of the small games, a still greater per cent. So, that, when we get down to rock-bottom facts, we see we're getting mighty big returns for our small investments.

These, then, are the facts in the case. Consider them calmly and dispassionately. Don't fly off the handle and rave about how much the winter season is going to cost you. Heretofore, you had to pay for the swimming meets, when you bought your season ticket. Now, you can omit them if you wish. If you don't care to witness every basketball game, here's your opportunity to pick out the ones you want to see. So, after all, the evils are not so many. We feel sure, that when you consider the matter carefully, you will see our point of view. We hope you will support it.

Talking about schedules, Manager Carrigan's basketball schedule approaches our idea of one, direct from Utopia. "Lou" deserves all the congrats we can hand him, and more, too.

We beg to differ with our contemporary of the Mercury, when he claims that the swimming team is on its last legs. A new relay has been worked up which already does faster time than last year's. Quite a number of new men have come out for the team and are practising faithfully. The team, rather than being on its last legs, is entirely rejuvenated.

The water-polo team is coming along fast. It gives great promise of being the best we've had in years. This year is expected to show the turning of the worm and our water-poloists expect to turn the trick.

Joe Drake, "Chic" Saltman and "Hy" Feldman paid us a visit recently. Joe is at Columbia Law, while "Chic" and "Hy" have joined the ranks of the pedagogues, which same reminds us of a little story we heard about "Hy." "Hy" was teaching a class of little kids, when one of the youngsters piped.

"Is it true, Mr. Feldman, that caves are inhabited?" "Ye-e-s," replied Mr. Feldman, "by bacilli and protozoa and the like."

We've got another. This one is on "Ruby" Rubinstein. "Ruby" raised a beard this summer. (Ask the Sophs about it.) Well, "Ruby" ran in a track-meet, somewhere up-State, and some kids were standing on the side-lines when "Ruby" came breezing along. "Gee," exclaimed one of the kids, "look at that old man run!"

SENIORS ARE NOW SOCCER CHAMPS

1917 cinched the interclass soccer championship last Friday by beating 1920 by the score 1 to 0.

The only goal of the game was shot by Stern, with four and one-half minutes left to play.

For the victors, Granich, Stern and Corrigan starred, while for '20 Taflovitch, Hecht and Raskin were the leading lights. The game was hard fought throughout, each team fighting desperately.

It is said that the game will be protested by '20 on the grounds of a penalty kick which was not allowed. However, it is safe to say that it will not be allowed.

The Lineup:

Raskin O.R. Rogen
Hasel I.R. Stern
Taflovitch C. Cohen
Stall O.L. Granich
Thaler I.L. Deutch
Hecht R.H.B. Bernstein
Katz C.H.B. Wengezuck

Substitutes—Henken for Thaler.

SOPHOMORES WIN LISTLESS MEET

ROLL UP SCORE OF 36 POINTS; JUNIORS SECOND—MAC MAKES PLEA FOR SUPPORT.

The sophomores won a listless meet last Friday, with a score of 36 points. The juniors missed the services of Howay and Bosworth and had to content themselves with second. Twenty and seventeen trailed.

A sacred tradition was broken when the meet started at 4 P. M., as scheduled. Credit unto Saul Horowitz, Mac and the rest of the diligent toilers.

Try as he would, Bill Jones could not but describe his pretty circles, spirals, etc., in the plunge. He took first, floating 61 feet in various directions. Auerbach pushed him hard, getting second with 60 1/2 feet.

An example of what practise will do is Isler's victory in the hundred. Unable to swim until the Hygiene Department took him in hand, he learned and developed rapidly, and is now one of our best. He took first in his event by a goodly margin.

Before the plunge started, Mac took the entire squad of contestants in hand and gave them a good talk. He appealed to the boys to come out and share in the privileges accorded and obligation of keeping the College on the athletic map.

The return of Liebner, Auerbach and Jones to the quad promises well for varsity aquatics.

SOPHS BEAT FRESHIES BY 4-2 SCORE.

In Well Played Ball Game '19 Comes Up From Behind After Tying Score.

The sophs avenged themselves last Thursday by defeating the freshies in a well played ball game, by the score of 4 to 2.

Matthews pitched a fine game, striking out eight '20 men. Nerschner also pitched a good game but his support cracked at crucial points.

This was the first game of the play-off of the triple tie in which the interclass baseball tournament had concluded.

The Score:

1920.... 0 1 1 0 0-2

SINISTER SOPHS ORGANIZE.

Intend to Haze All Freshmen Violating Rules.

"The Sinister Sophomore Society," organized in the 1919 class for the purpose of organized pledging and hazing of the lower classmen, has begun activities.

The organization, familiarly known as the "S. S.," embraces fifteen prominent men of the class whose names, for obvious reasons, are held secret. The personnel of the society will be made known at the end of the year, at its annual banquet and election.

The "S. S." has established connections with all authorities having influence over student affairs and has obtained full support for all its actions.

It is said that any opposition to the new society's activities by the freshmen will be curbed by the entire sophomore class.

The "S. S." has already pledged twelve men.

ORGANIZE NEW SPANISH CLUB

A Spanish club, open to all who have had at least one year of Spanish, has been organized by Professor Fuentes, Dr. Camera, who is to be the director, and Leo Pasternale, '19.

The first meeting was held last Thursday, and all future meetings will be held weekly and same time in Room 201.

C. C. N. Y. Men in Harlem Survey

Dr. Rastall, who is conducting an industrial survey for the Chamber of Commerce, spoke before the class in business organization last Thursday and appealed for men to aid in the field work of the survey. Fifteen responded.

Volunteers were also obtained in the Sociology classes.

Arthur Haas, '94, a prominent "fourth dimensionist," and member of the De Witt Clinton faculty, addressed the Mathematical Society on "the Fourth Dimension from both Meta and Mathematical Standpoints," last Thursday.

The members of the Mathematical Society will be glad to assist any student who finds difficulty in his mathematics courses, at the hours indicated on the schedules posted on the bulletins.

Gill and Franklin will address the Mathematical Society on Thursday, November 9, at 12 M., on "The Self-evolutes."

Form Fresh Swimming Team.

A freshman swimming team has been sanctioned by the A. A. Board. There is a raft of good high school material in the class, among whom are Broones, who captured the 220 in the fresh-soph meet; Thuor, a plunger from Harris; Phelps of track fame; Hodes and Schwartz.

Meets are pending with Irving School, Clinton, Commerce, Stuyvesant, Harris and other city high schools. The freshies ought to give a good account of themselves.

ELECTIONS IN PHRENO.

MURAD

THE Turkish Cigarette

That Murads are Better than many 25 cent cigarettes
is NOT a mere claim.

Much of the tobacco used in many 25 CENT cigarettes could never get into the Murad brand. These facts are perfectly well known among cigarette manufacturers.

We Challenge Contradiction.

Don't pay 25 Cents for a cigarette whose price is the only expensive thing about it. A half dozen puffs will show how much better Murads are.
