Starts Sports Ball Rolling Here At Last

STADIUM AND GYM SCENE OF
HALF DOZEN INTERCOMPANY
EVENTS SATURDAY

In the above designated periods, companies have preferential use of the Stadium and its facilities. That is, should a few stray men wander in and want to have some recreation, they are to be accorded full privileges, provided, however, that should there be a clash of desires for the use of certain facilities, the company indicated has preference.

The sports ball started rolling last Saturday afternoon when half a dozen intercompany events were staged in the Stadium and gymnasium. A great deal of spirit was elicited in the contests, companies being out in full force to cheer their representatives.

Last Saturday the Stadium was the scene of two soccer games, a pushball contest, and a special 100-yard sprint event. In the gym a basketball game was staged.

It is expected that events will be run off every week in this manner.

Periods	M.	T.	W.	T.	F.

Religious Service Inspires Gathering

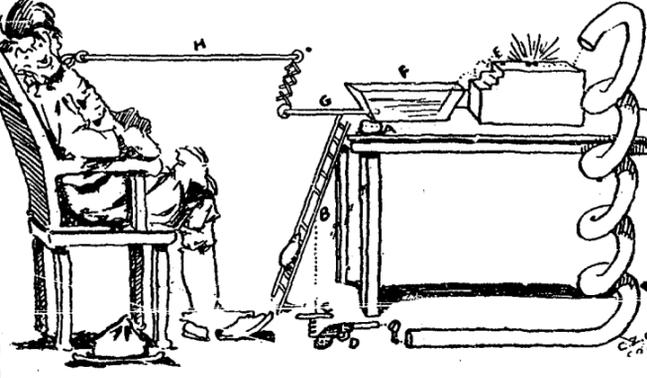

MOVES DEEPLY THOSE PRESENT
FRIDAY EVE—RABBI SOLO-
MON AND MR. BURCHARD
MAKE SPEECHES

Tears were brought to the eyes of Mr. Burchard, Chairman of the Joint Welfare Committee, when he rose to address the gathering at the Jewish religious services in the Doremus Lecture Theatre last Friday evening. So sincere and spontaneous was the service that those present were deeply moved.

After the reading of the service by Private Liebreich, of Company E, who very ably acted as cantor, Rabbi Elias Solomon, C. C. N. Y., 1900, president of the United Synagogue of America, gave a prayer for the winning of the war, and a short talk in which he compared the aggressiveness of Esau to the might of Germany and the idealism of Jacob to the spiritual purpose of America in fighting for right against might.

Mr. Burchard Moved to Tears
Mr. Lewis Sayre Burchard then spoke, and with moist cheeks told of how the sincerity of the service and the earnestness of the congregants brought him back to the family prayers in the house of his father, a Christian pastor. "Everything that we can possibly do to enable you to carry on the traditions of that glorious faith that has meant so much to mankind, that you have defended so courageously through the centuries, will be done." Your devotion here in prayer has made this chemistry lecture hall a veritable temple of God, and you may rest assured that the Joint Welfare Committee will do everything in its power to enable you to hold to the tenets of your faith while you are here in the S. A. T. C.

New Features Daily For Post Exchange

BARBER AND TAILOR SHOPS—
LOST AND FOUND DEPTS.—
WRITING FACILITIES

Everyday finds the Post Exchange one step nearer perfection. Additional plans are being devised to make the Exchange a more comfortable and pleasing place for the men of the post.

Lieutenant Leverich, who now has charge of the Exchange, has announced the installation of a new credit system. Company commanders will issue to those men who desire

Will Send Bibles to Men

Mr. Meyer Magui, Jewish Welfare Board representative, then told of the work the J. W. B. hopes to do at the post, invited the men to the Comrades Club, to use the J. W. B. stationery, and by increased attendance at the Friday evening services to tangibly express their needs and desires. He said that Jewish Welfare Board prayer books and Bibles would be mailed to every man in the S. A. T. C. during the week.

Menorah Still Active

Seaman George M. Hyman, president of the City College Menorah Society, stated that in conjunction with the Jewish Welfare Board Menorah activities would be continued and that Menorah Journals would be sent to S. A. T. C. men at a nominal subscription rate and urged them to use the Menorah bookcases in the College Library. He said that Menorah syllabi on the issues of the war as affecting Jewish ideals, would be sent to the men. All payments on Liberty Bonds bought by Menorah members should be sent to Frank Schaeffer, former president of the Menorah at the Jewish Theological Seminary.

them, booklets containing coupons good for five, ten and twenty-five cents purchases of merchandise. The booklets are of one, three and five dollar denomination. At the end of the month the company commander will deduct from the men's pay the amount of credit they received.

The Post Exchange will soon enlarge its activities by opening a barber and tailoring shop in room 16A, next door to its present headquarters. Opposite the candy and cigar counter there will be erected a lunchroom where sandwiches and cakes will be served to those of superhuman appetites.

Sergeant Max Hofman, who now manages the Exchange, states that men will be permitted to check parcels any time, free of charge. Found articles may be turned in at the Exchange which will attempt to return them to their former owners. The new manager also states that suggestions and criticisms will be cordially received and considered. The bulletin board near the door may be used by any of the men as a means of communication.

The Exchange will be open until 9:45 P. M., and it is expected that the men will take advantage of the Exchange's hospitality. Writing paper and envelopes are distributed free of charge at the counter. The "Campus" mail box is to the left of the entrance. Contributions may be placed there.

Lieut. Bivings Loses His Younger Brother

THE CAMPUS has learned of the death at his home in Jacksonville, Ga., of a younger brother of Lieut. Charles K. Bivings, commander of Company B.

The entire post joins his command in extending its condolence and sympathy.

VICTORY DAY!

November 11, 1918, will stand in history as a red letter day—VICTORY DAY!

THE DAY that sealed the doom of Autocracy.

THE DAY that cast from his bloody throne the inciter of child-murders and woman-ravagers.

THE DAY that removed forever that ruthless menace to the realization of the ideal of Democracy for the world.

The men of the S. A. T. C. and Signal Corps joined the millions of others last Monday in celebrating VICTORY DAY.

All that morning they could hardly restrain their enthusiasm. The S. A. T. C. men who attended Prof. Mead's lecture in St. Luke's Church spontaneously burst into the singing of "The Star-Spangled Banner" and the "Marseillaise" that sent a thrill of patriotism and love for humanity into everyone's heart.

Following that period, by Major Flower's order, all men were given leave until reveille Tuesday. The variety of things they did before scattering all over the city are beyond description, save to say that their joy burst from them in such a din that it must have preceded all others to God's glad ear.

VICTORY DAY!

Addition to Group

WILL BE TURNED INTO AN EN-GINEERING BUILDING AFTER
S. A. T. C. IS GONE

A new structure will soon be added to the group now making up the main buildings of the College of the City of New York. Under contract with the War Department, the College will soon erect a barracks building, so constructed that when the College again resumes its normal functions it can be converted into an Engineering Building, to be an addition to Compton Hall.

The building will be situated on the plot of ground facing Amsterdam Avenue in the northwest corner of the college group. It will be the latest word in barracks construction, of tile and stucco with complete steam heat radiator and electric lighting systems, a continuation of the college systems. The ground floor will extend from Compton Hall seventy-five feet deep and 200 feet long. The upper floors will be cut out to make room for an areaway which will provide light and air.

"The building is to be constructed," said Professor Frederick B. Robinson, who has worked out the plans and complete the arrangements with the War Department for the College, "that after the College has no use for the barracks accommodations, the structure can, with little difficulty, be converted into an Engineering Building that will give us room for enlarged engineering laboratories, that will make the College of the City of New York one of the finest engineering colleges in the country. The building has been so planned that the cost for this modern fireproof edifice will be no greater than for the old fashioned wooden barracks. There will be no expense to the government beyond the usual allowance for the S. A. T. C."

Recommend 30 Men From O. T. C.; Will Report Nov. 15th

TO CAMP LEE—MANY PLATTS-
BURGERS AMONG THOSE SELECTED

Thirty men have been selected by their company commanders from the S. A. T. C. here to leave for Camp Lee, Va., where they will be trained to be second lieutenants of infantry. Quite a number of men who received training at Plattsburg this summer are on the list. It was learned that they have been ordered to report to camp on Friday, November 15th.

Last Thursday the recommended men received their inoculation. They received a "three-in-one" dose which will not oblige them to submit to any further injections. Those who were not Plattsburgers were vaccinated in addition.

Recommendations, it was also learned, have already been made for men to train for the air service and artillery. In all cases, however, more names of men than will be chosen were submitted to afford the commanding officer an opportunity for selection. When the final choice will be made could not be learned at time of writing.

Following are the names of those who will leave for Camp Lee:

Company A:—Mortimer C. Gussow, Max Slavin, Herbert Magen, Irving F. Ashworth, Lester Rabbino and Lawrence J. Naumann.

Company B:—Sidney C. Engle, Charles W. Frank, Bernard N. Labenky, Burton C. Meighan, Walter C. Miller and Julius D. Smolin.

Company C:—Morris Banks, Nathan Krinsky, Jacob Chasin, Benjamin R. Leinhardt, Abraham P. Zemansky, and John F. Nichols.

Company D:—Jerome Goodman, Aloysius B. Kiley, Solomon S. Tausend, Simon A. Levenson, Edward Jenik and Harry Jablow.

Company E:—Maximilian Goldburgh, William Holland, John Mullen, Monroe Brieger, James Watts and Henry A. Cohen.

Lieut. Woltz Injured While Saving Others

RECEIVED OVATION FROM CO. A
LAST SATURDAY AFTER
WEEK IN HOSPITAL

Lieut. Howard O. Woltz, who was laid up in the infirmary during the past week, was greeted with prolonged cheering on Saturday when he appeared again before Company A. Lieut. Woltz was injured in an automobile collision a week ago Saturday. In a heroic effort to avert the collision, he jumped from his seat in an endeavor to reach the wheel, but was thrown through the windshield before he could turn the car completely away. Fortunately the windshield was turned down and only his leg was injured as a result. Lieut. Woltz's prompt action saved all the other passengers from injury. Among those in the machine was Lieut. Bonitz, commander of Company E.

Lieut. Woltz comes from Trinity College, Durham, N. C., and graduated from Plattsburg this summer.

HELP THEM TO HELP YOU

The coming of the representatives of the Y. M. C. A., K. of C., and the Jewish Welfare Board to the post has been welcomed by the members of the S. A. T. C., with manifest joy.

No happier choice of chairman for the Joint Welfare Committee could have been made than that of Mr. Lewis Sayre Burdick, C. C. N. Y., '77. His jovial smile, his warm grasp of the privilege to come into contact with such a magnetic personality.

Last Friday evening religious services were held in the Doremus Theatre, Chemistry Building. The attendance was fair, but can well be bettered. The service was truly inspiring and helped to fill that yearning for the sacred things the men have been accustomed to at home.

A DARING EXPERIMENT

Professor Baskerville, of the Department of Chemistry, has termed the S. A. T. C. "the most daring educational experiment ever attempted by any country in the world."

The S. A. T. C. is still in its experimental stage. Yet already things are beginning to shape themselves, confusion and disorder are dying out under regulations and systems, and what was befuddled is becoming clear.

The experiment cannot fail. It is being based upon sad experience and sound reasoning.

At the beginning of the war, the valiant of England's college-men threw down their books and pencils and flocked to join the army as privates.

America is determined not to make that same mistake. The experiment, however, is the coalition of the Army, Navy, and the educational system of the country into one united divisional organization.

The ploughshares of the schools has been beaten into swords and placed upon the end of the Army's and Navy's rifles. The Huns are noisiously afraid of cold steel.

These bayonets with their brothers of the razor-edge will rid Europe and the world—if the brothers haven't already done so—of the Mad Man of Berlin.

IF WE HAD TIME

We'd write a "Hymnal for Soldiers and Sailors," we would!

Our first hymn would be "The Great Unwashed," with special application to and to be sung, in unison, by the K. P. squad. The chorus—oh, yes! We've reached the chorus stage—would run like this:

"He washes pots;
He washes pans;
He washed clothes, he heck!
He washes walls
And floors in halls;

But—

He Doesn't Wash His Neck!"

From the manner in which some of our dainty doughboys obey the command, you'd think it was—or were, as you please!—"At Tension!"

A Republican majority in Congress, and a statesman president becomes a politician president.

As we wend our way to press, we hear that President Wilson is in France. As Will Rogers might put it, "Probably heard about the delights of the country from Newt Baker."

PEACE! PEACE!

It's an ill wind that blows nobody some good. After the false peace report of last Thursday, the Garbage Can Manufacturers' Association reported their greatest sale of garbage can covers in history.

Never mind! That peace celebration around Times Square proved conclusively that Broadway knows more ways than one of getting "all night."

Speaking of peace, we've been advised to suggest to our officers that they hook their uniforms now and avoid the rush.

Anyway, what shall it avail us of they have Election Days and Peace Reports? Cheer up. Peace is coming—and so is Christmas. We get off then!

This space reserved for use of the band. A kind of band-stand.

IT'S THOSE BEANS, BEANS, BEANS (To the tune, "The Last Long Mile")

Oh, we like the ham and we also like the jam
That they serve us here for dinner,
And the five-inch crust, we'll eat it if we must,
Altho we're sure it's gonna make us thinner,
And it's not the cake that brings on the ache,
It's not the fats or beans,
It's the things that haunt us, at ev'ry meal they taunt us,
It's those beans, beans, beans.

By Jno. Klempner, 2nd Naval Battalion.

KEEP YOUR EYES FRONT!

(To the tune of "Keep Your Head Down, Fritzle Boy")

Keep your eyes front, soldier boy,
Keep your eyes front, soldier boy,
When "Eyes front!" I said,
You turned your head,
I saw you, I saw you;
You were watching a maiden fair,
And you gave her quite a stare;
And you hate K. P. to do
For a week or maybe two,
Keep your eyes front, soldier boy.

Raphael Philipson, Company E.

Harvester is in receipt of some literary masterpieces from Company A and Company D. But before these gems can be printed they must be susceptible of being deciphered.

Harvester is humane. He wants to conserve the printer's eyesight. Therefore ye disciples of the quill, drop up (or ascend up) The Campus office Thursday nights and get you some regulation copy paper and write to your heart's content. Thanks.

This applies to all gleaners, by the way. Get Campus papyrus and write legibly thereon, and oblige.

The course in map making at Van Cortlandt Park is thoroughly enjoyed by the park are well patronized. Yesterday some of the Company B men rode up in a Packard and returned in a Ford. Such is the fickle fortune of war.

Why is Company B so downcast today? No war, no light, and perhaps no pay! So dig up an enemy if you can And please the hearts of our fighting men.

If someone drops a lighted cigar near your post, give the alarm, of fire, says Private Williams, of Company B, quoting the eighth general order. Better still, smoke it yourself.

Sergeant: Private Smith, I wanna see you apart for a minute. Private:—What do you think I am, a puzzle?

A Louie told us confidentially that usually the way we are treated depends upon how we feel at the time.

One pleasing phase of the military life hereabouts is the omission of the handshaking—that silly and unhygienic vestige of centuries ago. What an ideal substitution is the snappy salute!

Oh, for just one rainy day! What a novelty 'twould be to go without a day's drill or naccount of a drizzling downpour. For that matter, even drilling during a shower would be a pleasant (?) novelty to most of us!

Many a young soldier who has hitherto advocated unrelentless prison labor has within the last week undergone a marked change in attitude towards the problem.

Judging from the way Acting Corporal Bent is discharging the heavy duties of his position, he seems bent on becoming a general at least.

We sometimes wonder whether it is malice or just a sense of humor that prompts Sergeant Holt to march Company E to mess with us six-footed giants bringing up in the rear.

P. S.—Askaloff, he who is our tower of strength and pillar unto the stars, was found one day last week briskly engaged in making himself looking spic and span as though it was for inspection. But later we saw him in converse with a certain young damsel. Alas! That we should have been undecieved.

Oh sweet patootie! It won't be long before the "bucks" of Company E will be "jazzing it" to the strains of the Company E "jazz" band. Yea sree, Company E will have a jazz band, and in fact its members are already practising. Smiling "Mac" Goldburgh is its director and sponsor, and when "Mac" does something, it's bound to be good. Ask "Mac" if you doubt it.

Robbins is blue! We know it sounds like bad grammar and bad bird language. But it's true, nevertheless. We may have said, "Robbins are red-breasted," but the Robbins in this case is Private Robbins, of Company E. He's blue because he's a "buck," but his work on the "Campus" business staff is bound to put him in good spirits again.

Morning calisthenics have no terrors for the men of Company E—that is for those men who are fortunate enough to be under Sergeant Francis Turner's wing. Sergeant Turner has become popular because of his boxing exercises. The Stadium resounds every morning with his, "Come now, fellows, give that Dutchman ten body blows; now give him that left jab, and another one! Now make that feint! And finally, knock him out with that knock-out blow! Come boys, he's thick, give him another! Breathe in deeply to the count of ten. There, now he's out!

Sing sweetly little birdies; chirp forth again your celestial message, oh larks on high; for Sergeant "Mac" Goldburgh, of Company E, is happy again. Three weeks ago, "Mac" was top-sergeant of Company B. In addition, he was the life and spirit of Company B.

But then came the reorganization of companies, and "Mac" became a "buck" private in Company E. The clouds grew thick and black around his curly locks, despondancy settled on his snow-white brow. But broken hearts will heal, Time, that master healer must win, and "Mac" is now a sergeant in Company E, with brighter prospects for the future.

So sing sweetly, little birdies; chirp-forth your celestial message oh larks on high, for Sergeant "Mac" Goldburgh, of Company E, is happy again.

HOW SHALL WE ANSWER?

Far across the sea a voice is calling—calling to us at home. It is the voice of two million men, our brothers and friends, which we hear. They are asking us to help them. They do not want us to fight their battles with the Hun. This task they accept, and accomplish resolutely. They do not need our assistance in work, but in play.

Our soldiers have been provided with recreation, athletic, social and literary, and they have been entertained and cared for, and the morale of the Americans has been topnotch. And now comes the most trying moment in the history of the war. Very soon fighting will cease, and the monotony of war will become duller. Demobilization will come, and it has been the sad experience to have demoralization come at the same time. The seven organizations, whose thirty-six hundred buildings and hundreds of workers have preserved the morale of the Army so splendidly forsee this danger. For this reason they have made a combined drive for $170,500,000. They must have this money with which to carry on their welfare work while the men are idle and waiting to be sent home. They depend on us to raise it. Factory, church, school and office must co-operate to raise this fund. Our quota is small, and we should go "over the top," and even double the amount. How much shall we answer?

Fire Drill Regulations

Must Be Rigidly Obeyed in View of Condition of Building

The condition of the Twenty-third street building which houses 768 students makes fire drills absolutely necessary. The structure is old, and the stairways and fire escapes few. The students are asked to co-operate, so that the fire drills will train in rapid and safe dismissals in time of emergency. These are the rules.

1. The Signal—The prolonged ringing of the fire gong.

2. Duty of Students—To maintain absolute silence. Absolute obedience to all regulations and directions.

Students not in class rooms should join the line of the nearest class room. There must be no rushing through halls.

3. Duty of Fire Leaders—One leader at head of double line, the other at the rear. The fire leader must see that swinging doors are held open. If necessary he may order the nearest fellow-student to hold a door open and fall in at the end of the line. The leaders must know the assigned stairways and exits. They may assign a fellow-student to care for a crippled classmate. Alternates take the place of leaders in the absence of the latter.

4. Coats, Hats and Personal Belongings—When the weather is inclement, hats and coats may be taken if

READING ROOM OPENED

It will be of interest to students to know that room 103 is a reading room daily from 12:35 to 4:35 P. M. Books are available on the following subjects:

Education 1 and 3, English, Economics, History 1 and 2, Public Speaking and Sociology.

Menorah Elects Officers

The first regular meeting of the Menorah Society was held on Friday, November 8. Officers were elected with the understanding that they were to vote themselves out of office upon removal to the uptown building. The men elected were: president—L. S. Lang; vice-president—L. M. Levitsky; secretary—Signer; treasurer—H. N. Finkelstein.

The next meeting will take place on Thursday, November 14, at 12:35 P. M., in room 103. Important business will be transacted, and it is urgent that all members be present.

PROFESSOR KLAPPER MADE DIRECTOR

Prof. Klapper has been made director of the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences. He will henceforth be known as Director Klapper. Beware ye freshmen, who dare address his highness as "dean."

These are in the room where students are reciting. Books and personal belongings must be left behind.

5. Alternate Routes—In order to train students to meet the exigencies that may arise in real danger, stairways will be blocked. If the assigned stairway cannot be used, order your class, already in double file, to "about-face" and proceed to the alternate stairway. The fire leader at the rear now leads the class and the fire leader at the head of the lines now brings up in the rear. For assigned and alternate exits, see placards in each room.

6. Place of Each Class After Leaving Building—(See placard in each room.)

7. Instructors in Rooms 204 and 403—Be sure that a wide aisle is always kept clear in the center of the room and in front of the room leading to the door that opens on the outside fire escape. As soon as possible, aisles will be formed by making chairs fast to the floor. Until that is done, proper aisles must always be maintained. Do not wait for the fire drill to clear aisles.

College to Raise War Work Funds

Plans Laid In Faculty—Student Council Meeting—Krause Elected Treasurer

A conference was held on Thursday, November 7, between a committee of the faculty, consisting of Professor Klapper, Palmer and Camara, and the Students' Council, on the war work campaign. Professor Palmer of the Public Speaking Department, announced that the academic session was expected to raise two hundred dollars, to be pledged during the week of November 11th, and paid before December 10th. This is our quota as established by the division in charge of the raising of funds in the college.

Director Klapper added that an intensified campaign was needed. He stated that "a general meeting may seem the best plan at first thought, and we may have one later in the week. However, the best method is to have speakers address the classes individually, and distribute pledge cards."

PLAN OF CAMPAIGN.

Professor Klapper's plan was put into the form of a motion by Eliscu. Seven speakers, trained by Professor Palmer will speak to classes throughout the building. In corroboration with the regular campaign, students will be asked to join the "earn and give" division. Under this provision men are asked to earn five dollars, and to donate it to the fund in cash or in installments, to be completed not later than March.

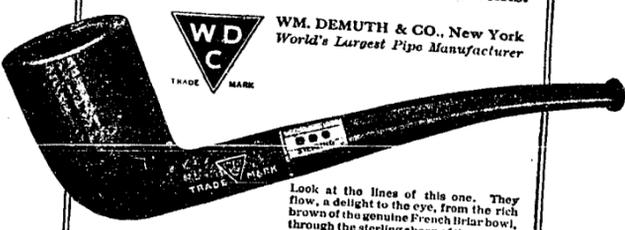

The formal opening by President Schlesinger of the first meeting of the Student Council followed. The constitution of the former council was accepted in toto, and the body decided to vote itself out of existence upon returning to the main building. The tie between Krause and Tupitz as treasurer was decided, and Krause was elected.

'21 CLUB ELECTS OFFICERS

The '21 Club met on Friday, November 8, in room 101 and elected officers. The results were as follows:

President, J. Q. Jonas.
Vice-President, A. Billings.
Secretary, L. Rosengardt.
Treasurer, I. Newman.
Marshal, R. Bernstein.
Cheerleader, K. Nunes.

The office of cheerleader was created for the benefit not only of the sophomores, but also of the freshmen, who will be taught the College cheers and songs.

Many soph songs were sung, including a new one composed by Hendroff and Billings. Plans were discussed for class athletic teams, the smoker, and various other activities which will add new zest to the '21 Club.

Dear Harry,
In your column
You had a joke
About a physics class
In which the professor
Advised you S. A. T. C.'s
To hock your uniforms,
To pay for your books.
And you answered
That it couldn't be done,
As you couldn't get
A red cent on them.
Now, Harry,
You get all those uniforms
That are all battered up
And discolored,
And bring them down here
To Twenty-third Street,
And I guarantee
That I can sell them
In twenty-seven minutes,
Regardless of the price.
Oh, gosh! we kids down here
Can't wait until we possess
One of those variegated unies.
That don't fit, and shoes
That can't be shined.
Merci.

Dr. Storey Explains U. S. Health Plans

DETAILS STEPS BEING TAKEN TO PROTECT HEALTHY AND CURE THE SICK

Dr. Thomas A. Storey, head of the college Hygiene Department, has sent the following communication to the news editor of The CAMPUS, which the latter takes the liberty of publishing to revise a story in a recent issue which dealt with his appointment as executive secretary of the Interdepartmental Social Hygiene Bureau:

"A second thought after reading your reference in The CAMPUS the other day to my plans for the immediate future leads me to write you this letter in the hope that you may wish to revise your statement for the more accurate information of my interested friends in the College.

"The Chamberlain-Hahn bill, enacted by Congress last July, produced the United States Interdepartmental Social Hygiene Board. The membership of this Board is made up of William G. McAdoo, secretary of the treasury; Newton D. Baker, secretary of war; Josephus Daniels, secretary of the navy; Lieutenant Colonel W. F. Snow, Medical Corps; Lieutenant Commander J. P. Phelps, Medical Corps of the navy; and Assistant Surgeon General C. C. Pierce, U. S. P. H. S. Mr. Daniels, secretary of the navy, is chairman of the Board.

"This powerful group of public officials, each representing a great department of the United States Government is concerned with the application and administration of a law that was enacted for the purpose of securing a better protection of soldiers, sailors and civilians from venereal diseases; their more effective treatment when they have such disease; and their better education in hygiene so that they may more effectively and more effectively avoid these and other diseases.

"Four million, one hundred thousand dollars were appropriated by Congress in order to enable the Board to carry out the provisions of the law. Two million dollars are to go to State Boards of Health by way of the United States Public Health Service for the prevention and treatment of are being spent for the detention, isolation, quarantine, and long time convalescence; one million dollars commitment of carriers of venereal disease, who are likely to be a source of danger to soldiers or sailors; two hundred thousand dollars have gone to establish a division of venereal disease in the United States Public Health Service, and one hundred thousand dollars for administrative expenses; and finally, eight hundred thousand dollars were set aside for distribution to colleges, universities, medical schools and other institutions under rules and regulations laid down by the Board, largely for better methods of education in hygiene.

"I have been loaned by the City College and by the State Military Training Commission to this interdepartmental Board to service as its Executive Secretary. I am sure that you and any one else acquainted with the college and with the Department of Hygiene and with our work in the state, can understand the gripping interest of the College in the field that has been opened up through this Board, especially by virtue of the appropriation for securing better methods in hygiene.

"The method of instruction in hygiene developed here in the College and carried over into the State may perhaps now reach other institutions and other States more quickly and more effectively.

"Very truly yours,
"THOMAS A. STOREY."

SECURES INDEFINITE LEAVE FOR MR. STORCH

Professor Baskerville has obtained from the War Department, an indefinite furlough for Mr. Hyman Storch, an alumnus of the College, to come back here as instructor of quantitative analysis. He will teach the Navy unit students.

Mr. Storch graduated about three years ago. Professor Baskerville sent him out to the University of California where he taught physical chemistry. He was scheduled to come back to C. C. N. Y. this fall as instructor when he was called in the draft.

Captain D. L. Williams, who was in charge of supplies for the department, is now purchasing all supplies for the American University, a gigantic research bureau of the chemical service.

Moses Chertock, who is a graduate and formerly tutored here, is now with the Development Division of the service in Cleveland.

A Company Soccer Reveal Deft Toe In Downing Co. C

ROBERTS ON RAMPAGE FOR VICTORS—WINNERS STRONG ON ATTACK
SCORE 2 GOALS IN LAST 3 MINUTES

Charles Roberts went on a rampage Saturday and furnished the medium through which A Company defeated the C Company soccer in a 2 to 0 defeat. Roberts revealed in the play. He broke pell mell through the C Company defense, and with the aid of Bonapart and Frellich, uncovered bewildering team work. In A Company tallies which came in the last three minutes of play were made by Roberts and Frellich. MacSlavin, who left for an O. T. C., Monday, played a stirring game at half-back.

Harsany and Matthews broke up the A Company attack and were the only members of the losing teams who were able to slow down the A Company advance:

The line-up:
Bonapart—c.—Tarloosky
Cottin—o. r.—Richmond
Haskell—o. c.—Gordon
Frellich—i. r.—Lawsy
Roberts—i. l.—Levine
Silver—r. h.—Niedelman
Slavin—i. h.—Miller
Lehrman—c. h.—Matthews
Rosensweig, S.—r. f.—Banks
Berman—i. f.—Harsany
Rosenberg, W.—g.—Krinsky

Score, end of the first half, 0-0. Final score, Co. A, 2; Co. C, 0. Substitutions—Horowitz for Slavin.

Book for Cottin, Matheys, W. Newman for Haskell, Stutz for Matheys, Singer for Krinsky, Feigen for Niedelman. Goals—Roberts and Frellich.

Referees—Lionel B. Mackenzie, Linesman, Arthur Taft.

B Company Five Downs D Quintet By Score of 16-8

HALF ENDS WITH COUNT 6 UP— BUT B FORGES AHEAD IN SECOND STANZA

B Company had little trouble in triumphing over the D Company basket ball team in the gym last Saturday afternoon by the score of 16 to 8. Moe Feinberg, of Varsity fame, was a tower of strength for the victors.

At half time both teams were tied by the score of 6 to 6. However, after the whistle blew and several changes were made in the B Company line-up, B Company forged steadily ahead, and when the final whistle blew had won by a safe margin.

This game will not count as one of the inter-company basket ball games, as Mr. Williamson does not intend to start the inter-company basket-ball tournament until November 19th.

The line-up:
Cohen—r. f.—Janick
Feinberg—l. f.—Kohns
Tomberg—c.—Murray
Biegelisen—r. g.—Kaplan
Fraye—l. g.—Lesser
Score for first half, 6-6. Final score 16-8. Goals from field, Feinberg, 2; Tomberg, 3; Fraye, 1; Biegelisen, 1; Kohn, 1, and Murray 1.

TESTA WINS ALL-POST 100-YARD CHAMPIONSHIP

Sig. Testa, of Company B, former 100 and 220 yard P. S. A. L. champion, won the all-post 100 yard championship in the Stadium last Saturday afternoon in 0:0:15. Testa was hard pressed by J. H. Friedman, of D Company, who finished second. Leo Silver, of E Company, took third, and William Rosenberg, who is intercollegiate hop, skip and jump champion, finished fourth.

VICTORS WIN BY THREE YARDS— FIGHTING UPHILL AFTER EARLY GROUND LOSS

C Company was awarded the decision over A Company in the most spirited game that ever took place in the Stadium last Saturday afternoon. A Company had the ball in C Company's territory for the first fifteen minutes of play, but gradually lost their advantage in the closing minutes of the struggle, and when the final whistle blew, C Company had three yards to its credit.

Company Soccer Teams Fight Hard To Tie

TAFT PLAYS FINE GAME, BUT RECEIVES NO SUPPORT

D and E Companies soccer teams struggled through an extra period soccer game last Saturday, with both teams fighting to score. The game but rather one of rugged playing.

Arthur Taft played a fast game on the line, but had no one to assist him. The defence of both teams was very weak and there was a lack of concentration in attack.

The line-up:
Taft—c.—Lesser
Silver, Leo—c. h.—Levy
Faske—r. h.—Minges
Barnett—l. h.—Posner
Berson—i. r.—Wittner
Haeden—i. l.—Weinstein
Schoen—o. r.—Horwitz
Lubell—o. l.—Fruchtman
Mullen—l. f.—Iserman
Ruby—r. f.—Murray
Hyman H.—g.—Testa

CO. E SHOWS GREAT ESPERIT DE CORPS

Company E is always doing things by erratic leaps and bounds. Youngest of the battalion's children, Company E, is also the friskiest. First, it romped away with the rope in the tug-of-war with Company A. Then it paid for one hundred and fifteen CAMPUS subscriptions in ten minutes. And, finally, a week from last Saturday, it rolled up the huge sum of $91 for the Company fund several moments after Lieut. Fahey suggested raising a company fund. Watch the youngster grow!

PURCELL OF GYM DEPT. WOUNDED IN FRANCE

Lieutenant Raymond F. Purcell, of the college Hygiene Department, who has been in active service in France for several months, is in a London military hospital with a machine gun bullet in his left leg and a score of mustard gas burns received early last month while out with a midnight patrol seeking information. After he was wounded, Lieutenant Purcell was out in No Man's Land for three hours under a gas attack by the Germans.

His experiences are described in a letter to Dr. Storey, which is in part:

"We had advanced about ten miles in three days (a glorious day was!) when Fritz halted in a good defensive position. We were with a fighting patrol at midnight to locate his strong positions. My intention, and bring back a prisoner to determine if any new troops had been brought up and who they were. As we were planning the attack, a famous old mustard variety. It could not open them for ten days."

Alumni are not only invited, but urged and entreated to mail immediately to the Alumnus Editor, at the College, all news items that concern them. News is not likely to reach the editor while it is still news unless you send it yourself.

Dear Brother Alumni:—

There is so much news on hand that you will have to take some of it in condensed tabules, and fill out the details yourself. You know the dear old Mater and her new dresses well enough to picture it all. Let us begin with our

WELCOME HOME TO DR. FINLEY

Yes, our Colonel, Doctor, Commissioner, ex-President Finley is just back from Palestine. You know, of course, that he went there in charge of the Red Cross army work, and so received his latest title, that of Colonel in the U. S. A. Colonel Finley was with the British army in its triumphant entry into Jerusalem. He is seeking to have additional Red Cross help sent to Palestine where it is sorely needed. Next comes

WELCOME TO LEWIS BURCHARD, '77.

Old Grads, and young ones too, could find few fraternal pleasures greater than that of having "Lew" Burchard's hearty smile and generous frame permanently on hand to welcome them at the College. And they are to have that pleasure for this college year at least—and who knows what beyond. Mr. Burchard has taken charge of the Y. M. C. A. "Army Welfare" work here. Already he is with us for a time every day, and as soon as the necessary "hut" can be built, he will be here all day. That leads us to the next new feature.

WELCOME TO THE WEBB HUT

The "Army Welfare" hut will be completed—you might insert a small "perhaps" here—by Christmas. It is to be named in honor of our former president and military hero, General Webb, and will be built around his statue on the Campus in such a manner that the statue will give an effective dignity to the entrance way.

WELCOME TO THE NEW ENGINEERING BUILDING

Yes, a new and permanent Engineering Building is to rise on the vacant plot between the present Mechanic Arts or "Compton" Building and Amsterdam Avenue. The ever-present generosity of our Board of Trustees has made this building possible, as they have personally pledged themselves as security for the building. The building will probably pay for itself, as it is to be first used for housing our soldier lads and we receive Government funds for their maintenance. The structure will thus be erected primarily as a barracks for seven hundred men; but it will be made of hollow tiling and steel in such fashion that later it can be easily converted into an engineering building. The ingenious architectural plans which make this shift possible provide for the ultimate spreading of a huge roof over both the new building and the present Compton Building, thus uniting them as one.

The practical side of all this eminently attractive arrangement has been in the hands of Prof. Robinson, '04, who is the business manager of the College in its relations with the S. A. T. C.

WELCOME ALSO TO THE LOTH BUILDING

Perhaps you do not know the Loth Building, but it is one of the best built and most commodious manufacturing buildings on Washington Heights. It was built for and owned by one of our most loyal alumni, Bernard Loth, '77. At present it has merely been leased by the College as one of the necessary series of barracks for our soldiers, but the lease is renewable for five years, and the renovated building is as valuable as an annex that we shall certainly be loath—get that, please—to let it go

WELCOME TO THE D'ANNUNZIO MOTOR

That is, when we see it. You see, we have aeroplane courses now with two standard training aeroplanes, worth thousands of dollars each. These are not soaring around above the Campus, but are safely housed in the Compton Building, where they are wisely explained by Prof. Steinman, '06. Through the notice attracted by these courses we have received—and most gladly accepted—the offer of Captain D'Annunzio, the most famed of Italian novelists, poets, patriots and aviators, to send us one of the motors used by him in his recent brilliant flight over Vienna. Come to see the motor, when it reaches us.

C. C. N. Y. Is Still Holding Its Own

TWO JUDGES ARE ELECTED—MANY OTHER ALUMNI CANDIDATES

Of the three judges whom Manhattan has elected to the Supreme Court of the State, two were C. C. N. Y. alumni. So was their nearest rival, Nathan Ottinger, '92, who had previously held a Supreme Court judgeship by Republican appointment. This is a very fair average of what City College men do in New York elections. The two additions to our already long list of city, state, and federal judges, are Richard Lydon, '89, and Robert Wagner, '89. Wagner has long been a Democratic leader in the state, and State Senator since 1908. Lydon is a well-known city lawyer and popular Democratic advisor, but this was his first appearance as a candidate in an election contest.

To list all our alumni candidates, successful and unsuccessful, in the recent election, would be impractical. We don't know them all, and have no means of getting the list, but one unsuccessful candidacy was so new and striking as to call for congratulatory comment. The wife of Prof. Henry G. Kost, '80, was a nominee for the Assembly, in a Bronx district.

Our Soldier Dead

Hyman Freiberg, who graduated from the College in June, 1915, was reported, under date of October 15, as "killed in action" in France. He enlisted in the army as a private in the 307th Infantry, was sent to France, and there won his commission as a lieutenant, and was assigned to the 131st Infantry, Illinois Division. Lieutenant Hyman took part in several big engagements, and escaped without a wound. His company was being held in reserve, and he was resting with a group of brother officers in an orchard far behind the lines when a long distance shell exploded near by and killed him.

Abraham Rosenbaum, 1912, non-grad, was reported "killed in action" on October 15th. He was a graduate pharmacist and a corporal in the Sanitary Corps. His family have word that he was probably killed by an aeroplane bomb dropped upon the Field Hospital where he was at work among the wounded.

Isaac Chapman, who graduated from the College in June, 1914, has just been reported to have died from influenza at the Aberdeen testing station for artillery. He was a lieutenant in the U. S. A.

Joseph Donovan, 1913, non-grad, well known to a host of his City College comrades, was badly wounded in action on September 6th. A shrapnel shell burst as near him that he received fifteen wounds in the leg and two in the arms. A fragment also struck his body but was deflected by his watch.

Joseph Abelow, 1913, non-grad, is reported as "missing in action." He was a chemist, and a private in the Sanitary Squad of the 307th Infantry.

Sons of Alumni Worthy of Paters

Further "grandsons" of the College, not previously reported as being in service are as follows:

'67, Howard Clinch, sons of Edward S. Clinch of '67, is assistant business secretary of the National Service Section of the U. S. Shipping Board.

'73, Daniel Davison, son of Dr. David H. Davison of '73, enlisted in April, 1917, and is now in active service in France as a corporal in the 9th U. S. Infantry.

'73, Two sons of Edward M. Colie are in the service and both are on the French front. Edward M. Colie, Jr., is a major in command of Hospital Train No. 58, with the American Expeditionary Force; and Frederic R. Colie is a private in the Ambulance Service with the A. E. F.

'74, Two sons of Richard P. Williams, '74, are officers in active service in France. Richard P. Williams, Jr., is a captain of Infantry attached to headquarters of the 159th Brigade, A. E. F., and Dr. Alexander W. Williams is a lieutenant-colonel in the Medical Corps, in command of Base Hospital No. 45, A. E. F.

'77, Abrick Man, Jr., son of Abrick Man, '77, is doing ambulance work in France.

'77, Miss Agnes E. Burchard, daughter of Lewis S. Burchard, Jr., is in France in the service of the Red Cross. She is serving as secretary to Dr. Lambert, Chief of the American Red Cross Medical Service in France.

'79, Edwin O. Perrin, son of Ernest Perrin, '79, who was long a teacher at the College, is a lieutenant of artillery with the 3rd Brigade at Camp Jackson, S. C.

War Has Changed College Radically

OUR WAR COLLEGE—ITS PRACTICAL WORKING

The Alumni will be interested in the practical details of the organization of the College on a war basis. It is ancient history that for over a year the College has been training from two to four hundred men of the United States Signal Corps. This training was given by arrangement with the War Department Committee on Education and Special Training. When the new Man Power Bill went into effect, this same committee of the Army organized a plan for the extensive training of all College students, primarily for the purpose of sifting out officer materials. The plan, put into effect at our College, as well as at other colleges, was to induct into the service as privates in the United States Army, all college students of draft age who were physically fit. In our College there have already been inducted 1,400 United States soldiers and 200 men for the Naval Unit. The authorized strength of the Signal Corps was also raised to 600, and arrangements are being made for additional groups of men to be prepared in technical subjects. The entire military population of the camp will number 2,500 or more.

The uptown plant of the College, with the exception of Townsend Harris Hall, has been given over entirely to the military population of the College by day, and to the evening session by night. The Division of Vocational Training is handling the financial and business arrangements connected with this work, and has already secured the fire house on 104th Street and Amsterdam Avenue. This fire house is to be used as a dormitory. The Great Hall of the Main Building, the Lincoln Corridor with its adjacent rooms and the Locker Gallery, have been turned into dormitories. The Loth Building, on 150th Street and Amsterdam Avenue, has been leased and is being renovated for dormitory purposes. Other places will be added in which the boys will be housed. Extensive preparations for mess have been made in the Lunch Room of Townsend Harris Hall, and the Alcove Room of the Main Building.

'81, Three sons of Ogden Doremus Budd, '81, are in military service. Bern Budd is in France as a captain in the 52nd Infantry, with the A. E. F. Ogden D. Budd, Jr., and Thomas G. Budd are both lieutenants in the Military Aeronautics Service.

'88, Andrew Lewis Drummond, son of Lewis E. Drummond, '88, is in France with the A. E. F. He is a sergeant in Co. D, of the 106th U. S. Infantry. Thomas Drummond, a nephew of our alumnus, is a member of the Heavy Tank Corps.

PHI BETA KAPPA TO MEET AT HOTEL ASTOR

A meeting of our City College Chapter will be held on November 27th, at 8:15, at the Hotel Astor. Jerome Alexander, '96, will be the speaker of the evening. He will show those who are so fortunate as to be present, the secrets of that new mechanical triumph, the "ultra-microscope." He will also try to guide them through "the twilight zone between chemistry and physics."

Major F. E. Breithut, formerly assistant professor here, is still in Washington. He is Chief Personnel Officer of the Chemical Warfare Service.

Obituary

'74. The Venerable Richard P. Williams, Archdeacon of Washington, D. C., in the Episcopal Church, and Canon of the National Cathedral in Washington, died on September 22nd. Dr. Williams was a loyal alumnus of our College and the first president of the Washington Branch of our Associate Alumni. He was born in New Orleans, La., spent his boyhood in New York, and on graduation from the College became a merchant and Wall Street broker. Later he studied for the ministry, was ordained in 1893, and in 1897 was appointed as the first rector of Trinity Parish in Washington. He became Canon of the National Cathedral in 1911.

His son, Colonel Alexander Williams is in the Army Medical Corps, and at present in command of a U. S. Base Hospital in France.

'82, non-grad. Dr. Abraham Korn died on October 13th, at his home, 1857 Madison Avenue. He was a physician of long standing and a leading figure in Harlem real estate circles. He was president of the Harlem Property Owners' Association, having held the office for fifteen years. He frequently represented the real estate interests at Albany and was a recognized authority on land taxation.

'72. James E. Malone died on October 23rd, at his home in Brooklyn, 465 Fifth Street. Mr. Malone was a "knit-goods" merchant and business agent in partnership with his son. He was a Trustee of St. Francis Xavier's Church in Brooklyn and an active leader in his parish. Three of his sons are now in the U. S. Army, two of them as aviators.

'06. Isaac Newton Hoffman died a victim of the pneumonia scourge which has been devastating our city. If not actually "killed in service," Hoffman came very near to that high death. He had exhausted himself making Liberty Loan speeches and was too enfeebled to resist the disease when it attacked him. He was one of the best known of our younger alumni, a newspaper man attached to the "Times," and a former editor of our College Mercury. He was born in Russia, and his mother is presumably in Moscow today if she is still alive, as she had returned there on a visit in 1914 and could not get out of Russia during the war. Mr. Hoffman was highly patriotic and energetic, and took part in all civic and public activities.

We hear with regret that E. Michael von Schoening, '73, died suddenly, of heart failure, October 17, 1918. After graduation he entered into a business career, and established himself as an importer and dealer in musical instruments. He kept up his interest in college affairs. In March, 1918, he gave $250 to the Students' Aid Fund, after subscribing a like amount for the proposed library building.

More Members of Hygiene Dept. Enter the Service

The staff of the Hygiene Department of the College was further depleted last week when four more members left the College to enter the service of Uncle Sam, as athletic directors. Messrs. Cantor and Rider have gone to Camp Tremont, Cal. Mr. Haas is at Camp Lee, Virginia, and Mr. Reichardt is in Ohio at the War Camp Community Conference.

Few members remain of the staff which conducted the work of the department when America entered the war. The handful includes Prof. Frederick A. Wolf, Walter Williamson, Lionel B. Mackenzie and Joe Deering.

Prof. Baskerville's Lieut. Son Performs Another Great Deed

GOES 50 HOURS WITHOUT SLEEP,
THROUGH SHELL-FIRE, TO DELIVER PAPERS

Hardly recovered from the wounds he had received in fierce fighting at the front as well as the effects of the gas which had overcome him, First Lieut. Charles Baskerville, Jr., son of Professor Baskerville, volunteered to carry important papers through shell-fire to a certain brigadier-general. He escaped unscathed, delivered the papers, going 50 hours without sleep to complete his mission.

The lieutenant was first wounded on July 14th, in the fighting before Chateau-Thierry. He was struck in the left shoulder, but refusing medical treatment, he tied his arm in a sling and leaped back into the struggle.

On July 23rd, Lieut. Baskerville was again wounded, and this time also gassed. His company was in the thick of very bloody fighting. All the officers were killed and he assumed command. The Huns threatened to wipe out the entire company. Bullets came down like hail upon them, the shells screamed in the air overhead, and in addition the Germans floated over a cloud of poison gas.

The men's lives depended upon getting news back to the superior officer. Lieut. Baskerville found difficulty writing his message while he had his gas mask on. Without thought of self he ripped it off, and while hastily scribbling his message he was overcome.

Lieut. Baskerville was laid up in a hospital at Nice. He was later transferred to a hospital for convalescents at Alrey. It was here that a mortally wounded major was brought in. In stripping him of his clothes, the important messages were discovered.

While he has been found fit for active service, the physicians have added the condition that on account of the weakened state of his heart, Lieut. Baskerville should not be sent back to the front lines. The lieutenant's strenuous objections, Professor Baskerville stated, failed to move the doctors.

Professor Baskerville has received a Prussian helmet dented by bullets which was sent to him by his son. The latter is in France about a year.

CHEMISTRY LIBRARY TO OPEN ON NOV. 16

Beginning November 16th the chemistry library will be open for all students between the hours of 9 to 5 o'clock. Mr. Nathan Van Patten, Professor Baskerville announces, has been appointed special instructor in chemistry and he will have charge of the library.

Professor Baskerville has heard from a number of former graduates who were tutors in the Chemical Department, and who are now in the Chemical Warfare Service of the U. S. Army.

A. H. Wyckoff, soon to receive his commission as second lieutenant in the Chemical Warfare Service, will shortly leave for Washington to take the position of assistant to Major Breithut. He was laid up in a hospital for several months following an explosion in a laboratory in which he was working with two others. His two companions were killed outright, while he was badly burned by gas.

E. J. Kelley, who formerly gave a number of lectures here on municipal chemistry, is doing special legal chemistry work in the Contracts and Patents Section.

S. V. Yackitz, who also tutored, is now with the Medical Division in New Haven, Conn.

Band Rounding Out Under Prof. Baldwin

RAW MATERIAL BEING MOULDED
INTO FINISHED ORGANIZATION

Time, with the able assistance of Professor S. Baldwin, is rapidly carrying the battalion band on to perfection. In but a few weeks the band has become a harmonious organization, polished in the performance of its duty, executing with finesse its repertory of popular airs. Much credit is due Professor Samuel A. Baldwin, whose unerring perseverance has converted raw material into an efficient military band.

Following is a list of the names of those men who are now regular members of the band:

Company A:—F. C. Holmes, S. M. Cutler, John M. Regan, Edwin Ericson, Henry Gross, Albert J. Gottlieb.

Company B:—L. L. Deiauey, George Rabinowitz, J. Miller, Jesse Seehof, Harry Raskin, J. Black, Bernhard Lebow, Silas Birnbaum, M. Israel, R. Shore, Clarence D. Bramfeld, Edmond O'Connell, Harold Harris.

Company C:—Abraham C. Isaacson, Louis Kouglov, M. Perrin, Jack Liss, Max Crystal, Ernest Buffone.

Company D:—S. O. Maltz, Joseph Morona, Pedro and Harry Raskin.

Company E:—P. Levi.

Navy:—Irving Hartman, Joseph Wasserman, Abraham Abrahamson, Neville Simmons.
