Unique Entertainment at College Smoker

VARIETY PLAYERS TO PRESENT PROGRAM—ABUNDANT REFRESHMENTS TO BE SUPPLIED—SPIRITED TALKS BY NOTABLES.

The day for the All-College and Pep Rally is fast approaching. The plans of the committee are almost completed for what is sure to be an epoch-making affair.

In addition to the many features mentioned last week, this occasion will mark the debut of our widely advertised Variety Players as an organized body. A few of their star numbers include Guest, who will present his famous magician's act; Metz and Teitler, accompanied by Dubin at the piano, will offer their comic dancing and jiggling number; Leibson, who is directing the entertainment, will amuse the audience by his impromptu parodies to the tune of the present day's most popular songs.

The fellows are reminded that this affair will be a regular smoker. Those Sophomores who were disappointed in not being able to hold a class smoker, can forget their sorrows and at the same time show their real spirit by attending this All-College Smoker. A regular feed will be spread, and plenty of drinks and smokes will be handed out.

The opportunity to listen to the coaches, basketball captain and team, and other notables under such circumstances is a rare treat. Not only will basketball be the talk of the hour, but the meeting will also have the nature of a football rally, too.

Every student who prides himself on his College spirit and loyalty should be there, even if it does inconvenience him a little. The committee is working hard to make this affair a real success, but it alone can't do everything. The student body must give their support and co-operation. Let this rally change the dormant and latent spirit in this College to real, live pep.

The Place—Hammond Hall in the Concourse.

The Time—Friday evening, Dec. 12th.

The Price—50c, a ticket.

Get your tickets as soon as possible from any one of the Students Affairs Committee: Sugarman, Bloom, Cottin, and Feigin, or any one of your class presidents and student councillors.

C. C. N. Y. MEN WIN SHIPPING BOARD PRIZES

Four students taking Dr. Snyder's Course in Foreign Trade, Political Science II during the past term, won four cash prizes in a contest conducted by the U. S. Shipping Board, who chose the topics. Dubin, '19, and Lowenthal, '19, both received the highest cash prize of $100. George M. Hyman, '19, erstwhile Student Council president, and Grossman, '20, received prizes of $25 for their efforts. Notice of the contest was sent to all colleges in the country giving courses in foreign trade. Out of eight prizes offered, City College men won four.

Zionist Society Outlines Plans

DANCE TO BE HELD IN JANUARY

On Saturday evening, Nov. 22, 1919, members of the Zionist Society of this College met at the Central Jewish Institute, 125 E. 85th Street, for the purpose of electing officers and outlining a policy of activity for the immediate future. The new office-holders are J. Stein, president; J. Segal, vice-president; M. Weintrob, secretary; M. Wahrhaftig, treasurer.

The Executive Committee, composed of J. Stein, J. Segal, M. Weintrob, M. Wahrhaftig, L. Ginsburg, J. Marcus, H. Finklestein, N. Arnoff, S. Greenberg, M. Rose and Rosenblatt, is scheduled for bi-weekly meetings.

Mr. S. Rosenblatt, chairman of the Music Circles, announces that gatherings will take place every Friday at 2 o'clock. The "rendezvous" will be made public just as soon as a suitable place is secured. Those who are adept in the rendition of Jewish music are requested to see the Secretary of the Zionist Society or Mr. Rosenblatt. It is hoped that Sophie Braslan will be present at a grand concert in the Great Hall sometime in the early spring.

Every second Wednesday during the lunch hour an English Forum will be held. Arrangements are being made for rooms and the committee, consisting of H. Finklestein and M. Weintrob, promises a most interesting selection of speakers.

The Zionist Society has decided to run a dance on Jan. 3, 1920, in the gymnasium. Delegations from other colleges of the city are expected and a very sociable affair is confidently predicted. Tickets will be put on sale sometime during the first two weeks of December, the price being $1.00 per couple.

The Hebrew Circle under the direction of J. Segal and S. Rosenblatt meets every Friday at 1 o'clock in Room 13. Discussion is conducted in Hebrew and a prominent Zionist is invited fortnightly to address the circle in Hebrew. Recently Mr. Wilkansky of Palestine spoke on the "Economic Possibilities of Palestine." On Dec. 5, 1919, Mr. Turoq, former editor of the "Hebrew Monthly," will lecture in Room 13.

A great future is expected for the Zionist Society of the College, inas-

Student House To Be Realized

TO CONTAIN DORMITORIES AND REFECTORIES

At a meeting of the United Synagogues held Tuesday, Nov. 25, 1919 at the Jewish Theological Seminary, Mr. Nachman Arnoff, ex-President of the Zionist Society of this College, presented the need of a Students' House in the immediate vicinity of the College buildings.

The United Synagogues delegates voted in favor of such a project and appointed a committee to discover ways and means for establishing the house.

There will be a spacious dining room conducted for the benefit of students and faculty absolutely at cost price. All dietary laws will be strictly adhered to. The other parts of the building will either serve as dormitories or recreation centers or will be rented out to fraternities and other student societies.

The general plan of the Students' House will be similar to that of the Columbia House where meals are served daily to more than 200 students and faculty members.

If affairs run smoothly, the Student House will be a reality by September, 1920.

Support to Football

VOTES $10—JOINS ROOSEVELT SOCIETY IN A BODY

At the last meeting of the Chemical Society, Bloom, '20, was authorized to pledge $10 to the football fund on behalf of the Society. This amount will most likely be exceeded by contributions from the members, but is given to encourage other societies to similar action.

At the same meeting all the members signified their intention of joining the Roosevelt Society in a body. Those who haven't filled out pledge slips or paid up may do so with Nadel, '20, who is taking charge of the matter.

THE PHRENO ANNOUNCES DEBATE

Phrenocosmia is preparing its guns for the big Clio-Phreno debate to be held at its next meeting. The subject on which the candidates will be judged is, "Resolved, That the U. S. Courts have the power to issue injunctions in labor disputes."

The Clio-Phreno debates have been going on for over sixty years, and are a factor of interest to the entire College. Last year Phrenocosmia won the debate.

At its last meeting Phreno heard Linder, who spoke on the difference of our attitude toward the Social Science and the Pure Sciences. An original one-act play was read by one of the members.

HUGE SOCIAL AND FINANCIAL SUCCESS—MOONLIGHT WALTZES FEATURE.

Memories! More memories! Altho the Junior Hop has already taken its place in the lists of "things that were," its memory will linger for years to come in the minds of faculty members, students on Thanksgiving Eve at the gala affair held in the College gymnasium.

College to Exhibit Paintings of Childe Hassam

PAINTINGS ARTISTICALLY INTERPRET SPIRIT OF NEW YORK DURING WAR TIME

Some time before the Christmas vacation, there will be put on exhibit in the Lincoln Corridor of the College of the City of New York twenty-two wonderful patriotic paintings by Childe Hassam.

These paintings are intimate, authentic, historical records of New York City's war activities. Mr. Hassam's interpretation of the spirit of New York during war-time is a vigorous yet sublime tribute to our staunch Americanism, while our men were fighting and dying on the battle-fronts of Europe. Never again can we live over those days of confident, prayerful, exultant expectancy of victory, yet each pulsation of our hearts and minds is recorded truthfully, artistically. And in days to come we shall need the inspiration of these pictures to remind us of the valor of our men at the Front and of our answer to their appeal, "Keep the Home Fires Burning."

It is hoped that these paintings may be hung in some Memorial Hall and Prof. Leigh Hunt, Art Director of this College and one of the Committee which is endeavoring to bring this about, has expressed the possibility of the selection of the College of the City of New York as the Memorial Hall.

In order to secure these paintings for New York City immediate action is imperative. Mr. Hassam places a modest valuation of $100,000 on the entire collection. Several cities outside New York are bidding and begging for individual pictures. In a few years these canvasses will be priceless, and the desire of individuals and perhaps foreign governments to acquire them on account of their historical associations will further increase their value.

It was only after much persuasion that the artist would permit a public appeal to be made to the civic pride of New York to retain by popular subscription his interpretation of our heart-throbs.

Subscriptions should be mailed to Mr. Nelson D. Bosanko, Assistant Manager of the Metropolitan Trust Company of the City of New York, 716 Fifth Avenue, Treasurer of the Fund.

Luckily, the predictions of the weather man were fulfilled. Wednesday, November 26, 1919 was scheduled for rain and it certainly did rain. Had the weather been fair, the gymnasium would have been overcrowded and what would have added to the financial success of the affair most assuredly would have detracted from the comfort of the guests. Taken all in all, the Hop proved to be financially worth while and socially a complete success.

Once inside the gymnasium and out of the rain, spirits were on the ascendancy. The syncopated strains of "jazz" music perpetrated by the Creole Jazz Band, floated gaily on the twilight air. It penetrated every nook and corner of the campus and proclaimed to all that an event of events was taking place.

Somehow, the streamers that seemed to hang suspended in confusing variety, the appealing beauty of the "moonlight" waltzes, the throng of light-hearted, eager dancers and the thought that "she" was beside you at your college affair transported you into realms of high-faloot fancy where Calculus and Chemistry are unknown.

A glance here and there, a friendly "How are you? meet my friend, Miss So and So," and you glided onto the well-waxed floor with a heart that was overflowing with joy and excitement. Unexpected friends were present to be introduced to "her" and how thrilling were your whispered comments on the celebrities "she" met that day! Proudly, you pointed out the president of your class and your Professor of Government—for Professor Guthrie was there entering into the spirit of the evening, stopping to chat with this one and that, joshing the leader of the band and shaking hands with every one's lady friend.

Mr. Healy was present and so was "she," an exquisite, enticing "Miss Femininity" who caused many a love-sick Junior to remark to his friends "Some baby!"

The punch! Nuff sed! But why wasn't there more of it? Knowing so well that good things disappear quickly, the class should have made quantities more than was provided.

The Dance Committee is to be congratulated. Hy, Cohen and Sam, Huber have one more laurel to their credit. So artistic were the decorations prepared by them that one easily imagined that Fairyland had been transplanted for the express benefit of the Junior class. Everything was so far removed from the sordidness and reality of life that one found it hard to believe the existence of such things as Physics 03.

Graduates of the College, former students now at medical institutions, and fraternity men gathered together under their respective banners and kept up a

OUR SCIENTIFIC SOCIETIES

Since the division of the College into three schools, and the accompanying tendency toward specialization, activities of the student body... are more or less prone to become separated from the rest of the college as a whole.

It is neither possible nor desirable that all members of scientific societies take an active part in activities of an all-college character, but certainly the appointment of a few men to represent each society on the three major activities--athletics, student government and publicity--would go a long way toward maintaining a close bond with the college life as a whole.

An occasional inter-society social affair, arranged by a joint committee would in all likelihood promote a spirit of good fellowship, of mutual esteem and understanding between the various societies themselves.

HAVE YOU JOINED THE ROOSEVELT CLUB?

The Roosevelt Club membership campaign is not yet closed. Reports of membership to the present time, although encouraging, show that we have not yet reached the 100 per cent. goal.

Particularly encouraging is the action of the Chemical Society. On the motion of one of its active members the Society recently decided to join the Roosevelt Club as a body, so that, in its case at least, 100 per cent. membership is assured.

Mr. Gottschall, in the Dean's office, is at all times glad to reward new members with a thanks and a smile.

ENFORCING THE AUTHORITY OF UPPER CLASSMEN.

By the time the average College man reaches his junior or senior year, he takes a certain amount of pride in the College Buildings and the grounds surrounding them. A freshman, and even a sophomore, just beginning to feel at home in his new surroundings, is very apt to be thoughtless in the matter of throwing papers and other rubbish around in the concourse and on the College grounds.

An official committee of upper classmen may eventually be formed to check this tendency. In the meantime let each upperclassman appoint himself a committee of one to enforce his authority by reminding errant lowerclassmen of their duty toward the buildings and the surrounding grounds.

GARGOYLE GARGLES

Dear Ed,

Just want to tell you about the Hop. 'Twasn't a Hop, 'twas a Jump. Some affair! I'll tell this world and Mars! Asked a nice dame to go with me and was sapped right when she accepted.

Inasmuch as Prohibition is among us, there was no punch in the punch. (They should've called it "slap" instead of punch.) And there was no hops in the Hop. Wee they yelled punch is served, there was a bigger scambull than any egg's bin in. Just like wee they served watermellen at the last Elevator Boys' Outing. Hilt myself in the rush.

The razz band was grate. Even the hoarses and bucks and parallel bars, wich they use in the day, shimmeed. I like razz bands spechully waze the clarinette come up for air on a blue noat and then goes down moaning like a dying Bessarabian goof-hound (if you ever heard any).

They cudent fool me with the mune-light dants. 'Twasn't nonelight at all cuz I saw a guy making the thing go on the trak upstairs.

The Major

I look down upon the rabble, From my eminence on high. I scorn them and their babble Far superior am I. Even regular lieutenants Salute respectfully. For I am a stately major In the good R. O. T. C.

I have a pretty uniform, Allowed to wear puttees. My uniform and clothes are white. I wear the parade blouse. Demands comfort in a major Of the fine R. O. T. C.

My emblem is a diamond. Ahh-- The light bits it just right. It looks most like a looie's bar Especially at night. I tell all of my lady friends I'm an ACE of diamonds--see? For they might not respect a major Of our proud R. O. T. C. Iseah P. F

And let us add Iseah: "A diamond on each shoulder Makes you look like a goose," Said Private Jones a bit holder. "Two aces make a DEUCE." I gave him ten demerits With diabolic glee. For you can't fool with a major In our dear R. O. T. C.

MR. SCHWARTZ TRACES DEVELOPMENT OF JEWISH DRAMA

Mr. Jesse Schwartz, Social Director of the Central Jewish Institute, addressed members of the Menorah at its regular Wednesday Forum, in Room 20 at 1 p. m.

Mr. Schwartz, in a very clear sketch, traced the birth and growth of the Jewish drama from its crude beginnings in Roumania to its artistic triumphs, of recent years, in America. He showed how the Jewish drama, in spite of the prejudice and enmity it had to encounter from both Jew and Gentile, developed normally, from the Miracle play of the seventeenth century, to the artistic problem play of Hirschbein, Gordon, and others.

AN ACTIVE SPORT

To the Editor, Campus. Sir:

If C. C. N. Y. is to have about it the real American college atmosphere, a greater interest in athletics is necessary not on the part of a few but throughout the entire student body. The only means of stimulating such interest is by encouraging active sports. By active sports are meant those which bring out enthusiasm by keen competition of brain as well as muscle and keep it at a high pitch through continuous activity.

VARIETY PLAYERS TO ENTERTAIN AT PRINCETON SMOKER

The Variety Players held a social meeting last Wednesday evening, 26th. Liebson announced that a few of the members would entertain at the Princeton Smoker. The "Football Show" is coming along in fine shape. Everyone at college is behind it. The organization is meeting with co-operation on every hand.

On Friday evening, December 19th, a special meeting is to be held to introduce members of the evening session. An elaborate program has been arranged.

The meeting last week was an exceptionally good one. Members entertained by dancing and singing. I. Lapan sang his new song, which will be introduced at the Princeton smoker. The next meeting will be held tomorrow at 1 in Room 304.

It is predicted that as soon as the students learn what a good time is to be had at the meetings, the club will grow tremendously. More visitors come up at each new meeting.

The following cheer, composed by "Bob" Sugarman, varsity cheer-leader, is the most recent addition to C. C. N. Y.'s songs and cheers. LEARN IT. It will be given its debut at the Manhattan game this Saturday night.

GREEK GOINGS-ON

(By J. V. M.)

The members of Delta Alpha who saw service in the country's armed forces throughout the late war have founded a post of the American Legion. The post has been named for Francis Lewis Allen, '14, who died in service, and to date has enrolled forty members from the undergraduate and alumni bodies.

The Zeta Chapter of Phi Sigma Kappa held its winter dance last Friday evening, Nov. 28th in Brooklyn.

Zeta Beta Tau announces the following initiates:

- Arthur Norman Fuchs, '23 Julian Aaron Joffe, '23 Dudley Victor Lascoff, '23 E. Alvin Meyer, '23 Samuel Ball Seidel, '23 Sanford J. Thorne, '23 Emil Henry Wasserberger, '23

Alpha of Delta Sigma Phi is planning a third affair after having held a dance and a smoker, both with great success in the past three weeks. It will be in the form of a Welcome Home Banquet to all the men who were in service, both alumni and undergraduate and will be held December 13.

The new initiates are: William MacLeod, '20 William A. Fisher, '21 "Red" Mulready, '21 Harold Meyer, '23 Bennet Clapp, '23

Phi Epsilon Pi--Pledges: Marlin Brookes, '23 Lawrence Goldman, '23 Louis Segal, '23 Siegmund Weiss, '23

Tau Delta Phi--Initiates: Benjamin Schwartzberg, '22 Harold Hoffman, '23 Al. Lewin, '23 Jack Hoffman, '23 Sidney Neddelman, '23

Phi Beta Delta Initiates: David Schwartz, '21 Barret Jacobs, '23 Jerome Landsman, '23 Maxwell Meltzer, '23 Morris Sheffman, '23

Alpha Beta Gamma Initiates: J. Edwin Bleibtrey, '20 John F. X. Finn, '20 Frank Murray, '20 Theodore A. Axtell, '23

The Gamma Chapter of Sigma Omega Psi was the guest of Alpha Chapter at the Junior Hop last week.

much as the present officers and members pledge themselves to spread the ideals and aspirations of Zion. It rests with the Jewish youth that is found in our colleges to become the leaders of this consecrated movement yet, so far, there has not been a gratifying response to the calls for leaders of Young Judean clubs. If the Jewish boys of the College adopt "In the Hope of Zion Restored" as their motto they cannot and will not fail to respond to the forthcoming Zionist drive for membership.

School of Business

Outlines Courses

MANY OTHER COURSES TO BE INCLUDED

Now that the School of Business and Civic Administration has become a certainty, specialization will be in the following general courses of study:

- A. General Business Management.
- B. Foreign Trade, Consular and Diplomatic Service.
- C. Public and Social Service.
- D. Accountancy.
- E. Journalism.

As time goes on, many other branches of business study are to be added to the curriculum.

A most opportune program of courses has been announced by Prof. Robinson who is the dean of the School of Business and Civic Administration.

Political Science I (Economic Development of the United States) which was omitted by mistake from the "Announcement of Elective Courses for 1920," and which is prescribed for science students though elective for others, will be taught by Mr. Albrecht.

"Resources and Industries of the United States" (Poly. Sci. III) is a study, which not only is basic but also is coming into great prominence in European countries. It seeks to acquaint the students with the sources of raw materials, climatic and other physical conditions upon which the industrial life of the country and its foreign trade depend. Prof. Robinson plans to invite one of the most eminent geographers and geologists of this country to take charge of the course. It will be prescribed in the curriculum of the School of Business and Civic Administration.

It is confidently expected that Prof. Edwards, the well-known economist and expert on banking methods, will return to give the course on "Money and Banking" (Poly. Sci. IV) together with several additional courses. At present, he is making a complete survey of practical banking conditions in New York and the country, in general, and the material thus collected will form the subject for a text which is to be uniform with the series now being published by Dean Robinson.

A most timely course (Poly. Sci. VI) on the settlement of labor disputes, the prevention of strikes and the fair treatment of labor as well as of the public is to be given under the heading of "Immigration and Labor Problems." The question of labor is one of the leading economic problems of today not only of this country but also of the world. Inasmuch as the problem of immigration is closely connected with the question of labor the two will be considered together. The course will be in the hands of Prof. Robinson and Mr. Albrecht. The latter has served on the Bureau of Labor in Washington, the Federal Employment Bureau and in the office of the Adjustment Committee of the Garment Workers of America, in which industry the Protocol, a form of settling disputes without immediate resort to strikes, is in operation.

Political Science IX, given by Dr. Restall, is a continuation of Political Science XIII, "Business Management," and is very important not only for Business students but also for Engineering students. Its scope covers such problems as the management in the operation and construction of plants, determination of efficiency units, scientific management, office and sales management.

"Ocean Trade and the Traffic Aspect of Foreign Trade" (Poly. Sci. XI-C) will be taught by Prof. Snider as a continuation of XI-a (the marketing

ALLEN McCURDY ADDRESSES SOC. PROBLEMS CLUB

Mr. Allen McCurdy, prominently connected with liberal movements in this country and, at present, Secretary to the Committee of 48, whose purpose it is to preserve as far as possible, the traditional liberty of English speaking races, addressed the members of the Social Problems Club last Friday, in Room 125 on the Formation of a New Political Party.

Mr. McCurdy showed plainly how in the past, both existing parties have strayed from their original purpose in that they did not espouse the cause of the voters that elected the men to office. He pointed out that, in reality, the present-day American voter has little or no voice in the management of politics, and that his authority ends with the insertion of his vote in the ballot-box. The only solution to this perplexity was, according to the speaker, the formation of a new political party, whose prime and only object would be to give to the voter his inalienable right of deciding directly upon the election as well as upon the policies of the candidates.

aspect of foreign trade). The former course should be taken by those who have already had XI-a. Other students who have taken Political Science II may elect XI-b without having first had XI-a.

Professor Brett, instructor of the Actuarial class of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company of America, is to conduct the course in "Insurance" (Poly. Sci. XV).

Political Science XVII, "Marketing Methods in Salesmanship," will be in the hands of Prof. Saxton.

Commercial Law Courses

"Contracts and Agency," Poly. Sci. 42, as well as "Real Property, Suretyship, etc.," Poly. Sci. 44 will be offered next term. Students now taking Poly. Sci. 43 should elect Poly. Sci. 44 and others who have had Poly. Sci. 42 are eligible to enroll in Poly. Sci. 44. Hours of the above-mentioned courses will be announced in the forthcoming schedule. Professor Moore, who is now making an industrial survey in Poland and Russia, is expected back in time to conduct the classes in Political Science 44.

All Accounting courses, Poly. Sci. 12-a, 12-b, 3-a, 13-b, will be under the general supervision of Prof. George M. Brett.

"Master in Business Administration"

Students who intend to enter Business should make it their business to take all the Accountancy courses as well as the Commercial Law subjects. The faculty of the School of Business and Civic Administration will recommend to the Board of Trustees that a five year course in business be approved for the degree of "Master in Business Administration" which is the same degree as that conferred by the Harvard University School of Business Administration.

All the necessary courses are now available at the Twenty-third Street branch of the College and it will be the policy of Dean Robinson to make these same courses available for day students at this building. Inasmuch as the School of Business already has 3,000 students, it will be an easy matter to arrange.

Students who will have completed Political Science 1, 2, 3, 4, 8, 9, 12, 13, 42, 43 and 44 will be eligible for the degree of Bachelor of Science in Business and those who are staying for the proposed 5 year course will, it is confidently expected, receive the full master's degree in Business Administration.

Officers Club Plans

Winter Dance

PROCEEDS TO PURCHASE INSTRUMENTS FOR BAND

Major Drew of the Reserve Officers Training Corps Unit at this college spoke on Friday, November 21, 1919, at a meeting of the recently established Officers' Club held in room 128. He expressed himself heartily in favor of the club's existence and promised to do his best to back it. The social intercourse to be derived from membership in the society is an excellent means of cementing friendship among the officers and will assuredly result in a better "esprit de corps."

The Officers' Club plans to run a dance some time in the near future and as soon as a definite date and place have been selected, tickets will be put on sale. Proceeds thus secured will go into the R. O. T. C. fund for the purchase of musical instruments and other necessities.

'19 CLASS SENDS OUT ALUMNI LETTER

Dear Brother '19 Man:

Now that we're a full-fledged alumni class 1919 has started things off with a boom and from the meeting of the Executive Committee last week things look as if '19 is even going to outdo its famous undergrad. record and be the best alumni class in the history of the College.

First of all we're having our regular "19 NIGHTS" on the 19th of each month in the Webb Room of the Main Building. The Executive Committee will hold its meetings on that night and you will always find a bunch of '19 men singing the old songs and talking over old times and new experiences. Whenever you see the 19th on your calendar think of '19 and drop around. See you Wednesday evening, December 19th?

Keep Saturday evening, January 24th open for our big first Annual Nineteen Smoker in the Webb Room. Also December 20th when Varsity five is going to trim Yale and '19 will have a special section reserved for the '19 man and his best girl. Ski dancing may follow the game. And then we're planning our big '19 Procession for Numeral Lights this year with a distinctive '19 costume and a snake dance and—more anon.

But to carry on all these activities '19 must have your support, financial as well as moral. Please send us your dollar dues, part of which will be set aside as a sinking fund for our class gift to C. C. N. Y.; sit down now and mail a dollar bill to George M. Hyman, permanent Secretary-Treasurer, 981 Park Avenue, New York City.

By the way have you paid your Alumni Association dues? You'll get the Campus and the Quarterly besides.

DR. BAUER TO LECTURE ON EINSTEIN THEORY

"The Solar Eclipse of May 29, 1919 and the Einstein Effect" will be the subject for an illustrated lecture to be given Thursday at 12 o'clock, December 4, 1919 in the Physics Department lecture hall, room 105, Main building.

Dr. Louis A. Bauer, who is to deliver the lecture, is the Director of the Department of Terrestrial Magnetism of the Carnegie Institute, Washington, D. C.

Students and those of the faculty who expect to be present should come early because, most likely, the room will be unable to contain the large numbers that will flock to hear this well-known scientist and to see his interesting slides.

CAMPUS DOPE ON COLLEGE SPORTS

THE FIRST SATURDAY IN DECEMBER is about to make its bow. After waiting for the past few months to see a real City College team in action, it feels sort of good to know that four days separate us from our long-cherished and patiently awaited night. As usual, a local college has been scheduled to test the skill of our varsity. This year Manhattan College has received the assignment. It is needless for us to tell what usually happens to the opponents of the Lavender gang, and this year is not going to be an exception.

IN LOOKING OVER THE RECORDS OF OUR TEAMS of '17, '18 and '19 we are forcefully struck with the column of wins and points scored. The records of those teams are looked upon with reverence by the followers of intercollegiate basketball. Still, none of the preceding teams went through a defeatless season. While there is life there is hope, and the present combination is full of both life and hope. With speed and ability an inseparable part of their make-up, it won't surprise us to see this team trim 'em all.

THE COMING BATTLE ON SATURDAY NIGHT MARKS THE FIRST BIG December opening since the entry of the U. S. in the late detested fracas across the pond. During the pre-war basketball campaigns in the gym, it was the good fortune of the followers of the team to see a brand of unbeatable ball played by such stars as Fisch, Mussy, Pro, et al. These men are gone to fight in a bigger game. The game we all buck up against sooner or later. They are succeeded by men equally determined to accomplish things on the court. The present line-up comprises such names as Capt. Fliegel, Speed "Ball," Krin, "Chick" Feigen and others.

DURING THE '18 SEASON, THE TEAM WON seven games out of a possible ten. The following year our team lost four out of eleven contests. Two of these went by the very narrow margin of one point, while one game was lost by a field goal. The only decisive defeat of that year was administered by the Navy.

A SIDE TALK WITH SUBSTITUTES. DON'T BE DISCOURAGED if you cannot make the varsity live your first year out. Consider how long it took the Cinney Reds to break into a world series.

WHILE SQUATTING ON the side-lines, sit up now and then and look tense. This will attract the attention of the pretty girls. We know!

NEVER INDULGE IN profanity during a game. Five men and a coach can do all the cursing for Alma Mater.

THE SWIMMING TEAM TRAVELS UP TO RUTGERS THIS FRIDAY NIGHT and will try to wrest victory from Leo Giebel. For the first time in years we have a team of any note representing the College, and it would not surprise us to hear of the team trimming even such a combination as Giebel, Roth and Chase.

THE SOCCER GAME BETWEEN THE SENIORS AND JUNIORS came up to expectations with a victory gained via the one point route. Both teams were in fighting trim and a scrappy game was witnessed by the loyal rooters of both classes.

KRINSKY PLAYED A PHENOMENAL GAME AT GOAL FOR the '21 class. His catching of the ball when a goal seemed imminent saved the game for his team and squashed the hopes of '20.

LOOKS LIKE FOOTBALL IS GOING TO BE PLAYED AT THE COLLEGE NEXT FALL. We've got the material, the field and the spirit. It's now up to us to dig down and finance the team. What say?

Meet Rutgers This Friday

LAVENDER WELL PREPARED—RUTGERS BOASTS STRONG TEAM

The Swimming team will open its season this Friday night when it travels over to New Brunswick to tackle the Rutgers crowd. The outcome of this meet is very much in doubt due to the fact that a new ruling at Rutgers permits freshmen to participate in varsity sports. They number among their freshmen Leo Giebel, best all-around swimmer in the East; Clarence Roth, crack swimmer of Erasmus last year, and Paul Chase of the New York A. C. This meet will afford a thorough workout to the Lavender team and should put it in trim for the coming intercollegiate. Coaches Mackenzie and McCormick will be on hand to watch the men in order to get a line on their actual abilities in competition.

Some of the men whom Manager Bloch will take to Jersey are: Cagney and Haas, who will make a bid for the dive; Thuer, who has been averaging sixty-five feet in the plunge, and a sure point-winner; Capt. Lehman and Ashworth, who will take care of the long distances; and Hodes and Bower, who will be hard to catch in the sprints.

C. C. N. Y. is represented by a strong team this year and will give Rutgers a hard fight. More men, however, are expected to arrive in the near future.

wanted for the water-polo team; Mac will take care of these men in the pool any afternoon.

First Pep Meeting Well Attended

The first of a series of pep meetings at which songs and cheers will be the order of the day, was held last Wednesday in room 126.

Bob Sugarman opened the proceedings by denouncing that type of fellow who takes no interest in college activities. This introductory talk so aroused the men that their cheering was brimful of pep. Bob had to do no urging.

After a "Big Varsity," Sugarman introduced the new "Hooray" cheer, which appears on page 88 of the Lavender Book. After this, "Trombone," "Chinga-Linga," and "Stand-Up-And-Cher" were rehearsed. The meeting ended with "Lavender" and a "Big locomotive."

Pep meetings of this sort will be held every Monday and Wednesday at 1:10 in room 126.

ZETKIN APPOINTED WRESTLING COACH

Marcus M. Zetkin formerly a wrestling instructor at Camp Crane, Allentown, Pa., has been appointed by the Hygiene Department to organize wrestling this year.

Zetkin is ready to teach wrestling not only to those who can make the team, but also to any one who wishes to learn wrestling for the sport's sake. Beginning with Saturday, December 6, he will be in the wrestling room of the gym every Saturday at 1:00 p. m.

WHO'S WHO IN SPORTS AND WHY

"HY" FLIEGEL

CAPTAIN, BASKETBALL TEAM

When the varsity basketball squad trots out on the court this Saturday for the opening game with Manhattan, the spectators will greet among other favorites the well-known husky captain of the team, "Hy" Fliegel. This is the fourth year "Hy" appears as a player on the City College court, during which period he has built up a large following of admirers.

"Hy" Fliegel entered college as an all-around star, coming from De Witt Clinton, where he won his "C" in football, track and basketball.

As a freshman he played on the '20 basketball, baseball and soccer teams, performed in track, and participated in class activities. Because of these ef-ports he was elected into Sophomore class. In his second year "Hy" went out for the varsity quintet and broke out with Fisch, Pro, "Mussy" and Schmidt.

Last year "Hy" played a splendid brand of ball on the team, rising to his mightiest at the N. Y. U. game in which he drew the house to its feet by both his offensive and defensive playing. This year he is chairman of the A. A.

insignia committee, athletic manager for Feb. '20, and captain of the basketball team. The big guard is the studying factor on the team and his attack adds much to the punch which, we expect, will make Yale, Princeton and the rest of 'em take the count this winter.

Seniors Bow to Rivals in Soccer Game, 1-0

LITTENBURG KICKS GOAL—EXTRA PERIOD NECESSARY

The seniors of the team last week, '21 nosed out '20 by the narrow margin of 1-0. Similarly somewhat to the recent basketball game, the teams were evenly matched. Consequently the game was prolonged to an extra ten-minute period.

The Juniors owe their first victory of the carnival to the fine playing of Littenburg, who, incidentally, kicked the only goal of the game. The teamwork of Sherman and Scotty Shapiro also aided the winning team. The back-field playing of Krin, Feigen, and Rabbino broke up not a few tries at the '21 goal. Although '20 was beaten, nevertheless the good playing of Artie Taft, Lebo, Harsany, and Feldman should not be overlooked. Because of their splendid work the ball was kept most of the time in '21's territory.

The Juniors kicked the goal three minutes before the end of the extra period. By means of fine passing the ball was brought to within ten yards of '20's goal when Littenburg, taking a well executed pass from Sherman, managed to get the ball past Fliegel and through the goal.

Faculty Committee Plans Formulated for Extensive College Drive

PLANS FORMULATED FOR EXTENSIVE COLLEGE DRIVE

The Faculty Athletic Committee sanctioned football at its meeting last Wednesday evening. Prof. Wolf is now at work preparing a memorandum to cover all details connected with the re-establishment of football and will present this to the committee at its next meeting.

On November 28th the Directing Committee held a meeting, at which plans for re-establishing football were completed. Among other things it was decided to conduct a campaign at the college during the week of January 1-11 to show the Alumni that the college is one hundred per cent. back of the movement.

CARNIVAL STILL UNDECIDED

The swimming meet, track meet, and tennis matches of the '20-'21 carnival were again postponed. They will be completed during the present week.

By winning the soccer game last Friday the Juniors gained three points, the score two standing 6-3 in favor of the Seniors.

CHEMICAL SOCIETY SUPPLEMENT

Chemistry Before and After War Described By Chem. Dept.

FIRST OF A SERIES OF ARTICLES DESCRIBING PRESENT CHEMICAL OUTLOOK--OTHERS TO FOLLOW SOON

The Chemical Society is undertaking the issuing of these special supplements with the purpose of acquainting the student body with the big opportunities in the chemical field, the present outlook, and the special facilities that this College has to offer for a complete chemistry course. This initial statement from the Department of Chemistry will be followed by others dealing about the student who comes into chemistry and their appreciation of the College; the general education available to our students; the numerous and valuable gifts to our Department of Chemistry; the City College Chemistry Society; the interests and activities of the teachers attached to the Department; and so on. Other members of our department will also contribute facts not generally known to our students, and other aspects of the chemical field.

The Present Chemical Situation

For many years the industrial applications of chemistry have been steadily developing in the United States. The World War has brought to our country a new and wider appreciation of the applications of chemistry to the industry and to the numerous problems of living.

The demand for the production of staple chemicals in this country has been phenomenal. The production of sulphuric acid, which may be taken as the indicator of the chemical industry, amounted in the United States during the war to 1,000,000 tons in 1914, 5,000,000 tons in 1917, and 7,500,000 tons in 1919. Chemists have specialized just as individuals in professions specialize. We had not specialized, for various reasons (mainly economic and political, dealt with in appropriate places in the courses in chemistry offered at the College), in the manufacture of coal tar dyes, synthetic pharmaceuticals, fine organic chemicals, optical and chemical glass, certain textiles, etc., but the War stimulated the slogan of "self-containedness" for some time advocated by the American Chemical Society and now the United States has successfully entered these and other fields. To be sure much of this development is to be attributed to war production but more has come to stay. In fact with the gradual resumption of normal trade relations and with concomitant international competition, the need of the chemist in saving wastes and developing improved processes, thus reducing costs of production, in searching for new things, etc., will become even more pronounced. Others things being equal, that country with the most and the best equipped chemists will fare best not alone in trade, but will live in better and happier conditions.

Incidentally it may be stated here that the American Chemical Society is now the largest (14,000 members) organization of its kind in the world and exerts more influence than any other national chemical society. Also it may be recorded that over 2,000 of its membership work within the metropolitan district, constituting the New York Section, and that two members of the Chemistry Faculty have been Chairman of the Section.

The increase in volume of production, taken together with the fact that never before was the chemist and chemical engineer so highly rated and considered so indispensable, has added new zest to the members of the profession.

Opportunities and Compensation

The following figures, compiled by the Bureau of Employment of the Chemists' Club, speak for themselves. From them it may be seen not only that there is a greater call for chemists, but that the compensation now more nearly reaches what a man with such training should receive.

The table shows the percentage of the number of positions filled each year at different ranges of salary:

	1915	1916	1917	1918	1919
$1200 - $1500	14	12	19	21	28
$1500 - $1800	13	11	12	16 1/2	19
$1800 - $2100	5	7	13	11	28
$2400 - $1000	2	5	5	7	5

The above table shows an increase in 1919 over 1915 of 100 Per Cent. in salaries ranging from $1200 to $1500
 about 46 Per Cent. in salaries ranging from $1500 to $1800
 460 Per Cent. in salaries ranging from $1800 to $2400
 150 Per Cent. in salaries ranging from $2400 to $1000

In 1914 a graduate received a beginner's salary of from $60 to $75 a month. Such a chemist would now command $100 to $125 a month. The Bureau, from its data, draws the following conclusions: that there has been a marked increase in salaries in all classes of chemical work, and that there has been a decided tendency towards a larger number of high salaried positions where a knowledge of chemistry is an essential.

The increased compensation comes not only from the general trend of the times, but also from the fact that more positions are now open to men trained not only in analytical chemistry, but especially in the engineering of chemistry.

As is well known to many graduates, the Department of Chemistry of the College has for many years been actively interested in "placing" men. It is not generally known, however, that for the period of 1910-1918, inclusive, that about nine percent of the entire graduates of the College was started in life at a living wage by the Department of Chemistry. A member of the Chemistry Faculty was one of the founders of the Bureau of Employment of the Chemists' Club, which serves the entire country, and another member is now Chairman of that Bureau, so our faculty is in close touch with openings for young men, who are qualified.

Advice to Future Chemical Engineers

In accordance with its policy ever to meet conditions as they arise, the Chemistry Department of the College continues to enlarge the scope of its courses. Some have been designed more particularly to fit men for factory work. Much of this is ready now, but more will come. This sort of chemistry cannot be demonstrated with beakers and burettes. It means increased equipment, more housing accommodations, supplies in large quantities, etc., etc. So in choosing electives for the Spring term those men with a taste for technical chemistry have their attention particularly called to Courses 10, 15, 17, 20, 21, 22 and 26. The attention of students is also directed to page 85 of the 1918-19 Register on which are given not only strictly chemical courses but those courses in other departments considered as indispensable for a technically trained chemist. Students may consult the Director of the Chemistry Laboratories during his office hours or by appointment as to any problem confronting them as to their program or future life work.

Students are advised against specializing in chemistry through some alluring necromancy of dollar production by an easy route. It is a difficult subject and means hard work for him who proposes to pursue the science, but the reward is sure for him who earnestly follows the call. Inspiring teachers will be needed for those who come later. Experience gained as assistants to experienced teachers will prove of inestimable value to young men. To be sure the monetary return in that profession of teaching is deplorably inadequate, but in it, as in well directed industrial life, there are great sources of inner comfort and content in helping others.

Prof. Baskerville to Lecture Tomorrow

TALK SUPPLEMENTED BY MOTION PICTURES—SUBJECT IS "CHEMISTRY IN GREAT WAR"

Under the auspices of the Chemical Society, Prof. Charles Baskerville will give a lecture on "Chemistry in the Great War" in Room 126 on Thursday afternoon at 4 p. m. His talk will be supplemented by three reels of motion pictures which have been loaned by the U. S. Government for this occasion.

Prof. Baskerville's lecture tomorrow afternoon will be an abstract of similar papers delivered before the Brooklyn Institutes of Arts and Science.

For the use of Room 126 for Thursday, which was supposed to be given over for a meeting of the Engineering Society, the Chemistry Society is greatly indebted to Prof. F. O. X. McLaughlin, who kindly consented to postpone his lecture. He will deliver this illustrated lecture on the "New York City Water Supply" next Thursday in Room 126.

JOINT MEETING WITH HUNTER KEM KLUB

The date for the joint meeting of the C. C. N. Y. Chemical Society and the Hunter College Kem Klub has been definitely set for Friday evening, January 9, 1920. At this meeting papers will be presented by members of both societies. Following this, the visitors will tour and inspect the Chemistry Building, under the guidance of Prof. Easterbrooke. The Hunterites will probably extend a similar invitation in the near future.

"NEW CONGRESS" SUBJECT OF PROF. GUTHRIE'S LECTURE

This afternoon at 1 P. M. Professor Guthrie will address the Civics Club on "The New Congress." The meeting will be held in Room 204.

The lecture will deal with the composition of the Congress, the problems it must cope with, and the significance of its responsibilities.

Those who heard Professor Guthrie's lecture on "The Legal Aspect of Labor Unions," know that a treat is in store. In case Room 204 does not hold all the visitors, arrangements are under way to requisition one of the lecture-halls.

CLASS SPIRIT MANIFESTS ITSELF

The class of 1923 is organizing solidly to combat the prospective class of 1924. Squads from the various boroughs are being formed. All over '23's alcoves signs may be seen calling for men to join the squad from their borough. Squad meetings are being held regularly.
