COUNCIL PRESIDENT DENOUNCES MEMBERS

Says, in Interview, That Work Is Obstructed by Personal Animosity of Members

SUGGESTS REFORMS IN LUNCH ROOM SYSTEM

Warsoff Has Sponsored Many New Measures Which Council Has Failed to Act Upon

President of the Student Council, Louis A. Warsoff, in a recent interview with a Campus reporter, emphatically denounced the attitude of the Council members. He declared that the quibbling and antagonism of the councillors was an obstruction to any positive achievement on the part of the body and that without the whole-hearted cooperation of the men, it would be impossible successfully to culminate any of these projects to be considered.

Mr. Warsoff, by way of explanation to show what he has done single-handed, despite the opposition of the Council, enumerated the measures he had put into effect thus far this term: "I have initiated the 'Compulsory U' idea and succeeded in placing it squarely before the student body, which upheld it by more than a two thirds majority. Moreover, I have determined to push it to a successful end. I have combined the Lost and Found Committee into one efficient unit; I have instituted the present form of Chapel dismissal; I have dismissed the inefficient Co-op Store Committee for not functioning properly, and have appointed a Special Investigation Committee to look into important questions regarding its management; I took steps toward an elaborate and creditable Debating program, and I have sponsored many other measures which I cannot now enumerate.

"These facts are not irrelevant. There are a score of plans I have for the future which depend solely upon the assistance I get from the Student Council. These plans are: A constructive lunchroom plan to be submitted to the faculty; this necessitates the removal of some of the lockers to the balcony, and the rest to the basement; the extension of the lunchroom throughout the whole concourse, and the substitution of marble tables for the present hideous things. I do not think it is necessary to tell you that the accomplishment of such a plan necessitates money. How shall we obtain that? Either by asking Mr. Hammond to invest the money, giving him in return a five year lease, with the option of an extended lease for satisfactory service, or else by advertising for someone who is willing to take the lunchroom over and invest five thousand dollars for improvements. More than one man would want to grasp the opportunity. I propose a thorough investigation of the Employment Bureau; efforts in behalf of the completion of the Library and Social House; the publication of a College Song Book; and further improvement of the Co-op Store.

"I have shown you what I have accomplished in but five weeks; I have also outlined my main plans for the future. Now what I want to place before the student body is this. What I did, I did against odds. I received no cooperation from the members of the Student Council. Not only did I not receive cooperation, but I was forced to work against personal antagonism, petty jealousies, class prejudices, and deliberate log-rolling.

FROSH WIN FLAG RUSH

Just before going to press the Campus learns that the Freshmen won the annual flag-rush held yesterday afternoon in the Stadium. Although outnumbered nearly two to one the Sophs gave the lower classmen unusually fierce opposition. Only a very small percentage of either class turned out for the fracas.

FIRST SOPH CARNIVAL TAKES PLACE TO-DAY

Performance in Stadium to be Followed by Procession and Demonstration at 42nd St.

The recalcitrant freshmen, who did not observe the rules set down by their sophomore elders during the early part of this semester, will be afforded an opportunity today to do penance for their misdeeds. The Carnival Committee, with Whitfield as chairman, promises to present some real treats. It is planned to stage a three ring circus in the Stadium at noon. There will be a plentiful supply of freshmen entertainers, some of whom have been hardened by their experiences in the Soph Carnival of last Spring. Fully one hundred and twenty-five freshmen have been reported to the committee. With an appropriation of fifty dollars from the treasury, and voluntary contributions of Indian blankets, perambulators, and various pieces of female attire, there doubtless will be sufficient material to fitly attire the freshmen performers.

After the performance in the Stadium, the R. O. T. C. Band will lead a parade down 135th Street to Riverside Drive. They will march down to 125th Street, where the Subway will be boarded. The procession will alight at Forty-second street, where a demonstration will take place from the Public Library steps. The Presidents of the Freshman class will then address the gathering, if the regular activities fail to furnish sufficient amusement, there will be some real old fashioned blanket tossing.

MICROCOSM ANNOUNCES ART COVER CONTEST

Prize of Ten Dollars To Be Awarded
To Designer of Best Front Cover—
Senior Pictures Taken Soon

The Microcosm board announces a ten dollar prize to be awarded for the best front cover design submitted for the 1923 Annual. Information concerning details of the contest may be secured from Bernard J. Benjamin '23, editor-in-chief of the year book.

Contributions which will be judged in the award for the prize must be submitted not later than January 2. A meeting of the 1923 class will be held in the near future. The details concerning the individual photographs of the Seniors will be discussed. Members of the February and June classes will be photographed in a few weeks.

Subscription tickets for the "Mike" are now on sale for $2.50; partial payments on the year book are accepted, and will be received by Moe Fass, '23. Positions on the staff of the Microcosm are still open. All student above the Freshmen year, who are desirous of joining the staff are advised to see Bernard Benjamin or Alexander J. Whyman immediately. Work on the publication has already been begun by Alex Whyman '24, Business Manager of the annual.

Varsity Football Team Makes Fine Showing In First Season In 15 Years

Inexperience Greatest Handicap Against Strong Rivals—Defence
Strong—Opponents Average Less Than Fourteen Points Per Game—Only Two Regulars Will Be Lost By Graduation

With the game against Catholic University last Saturday, City College's first Varsity football season in more than fifteen years came to an end. The record hitherto by the team was not brilliant, neither was it poor. It was more than fair for a first-year eleven.

The record stands at one victory and six defeats. This sounds bad, but it is not so disparaging as it seems at first. The schedule, for a team just making its gridiron debut, was a stiff one, containing opponents of high ability. The opponents were held to comparatively low scores. Although defeated, the team gained its most notable achievement against N. Y. U. by holding the Violets to a 7-0 score. In this game, the Varsity rose high above what was expected of it. It held N. Y. U. on even terms. A slight nervousness on the part of the Lavender in the first period gave the Bronx eleven a touchdown. Thereafter the game took the form of a duel in which the contestants were evenly matched.

An interesting fact in connection with the scores is that, of the 97 points scored by opponents, 80 were made in the first half. Because of this, the team was looked upon as a second half combination. The explanation for this, peculiar circumstance seems to lie in the fact that greenness and inexperience in solving opposing offenses put the team at a disadvantage during the first half. As it became familiar with the style of play used by its opponent, the eleven's showing improved.

In this connection, it might be said that the football team was supposed to be chiefly a defensive combination. It was Coach Neville's purpose to develop the team in such a way that opponents would find it difficult to score. That the Varsity mentor succeeded in carrying out his object is now well-established. Against the 97 points scored by opponents, the team made 21 points. This illustrates that offense had, of necessity, to be sacrificed for defence, so necessary for any new gridiron combination.

City College adherents of the gridiron first became actually aware that Varsity football had really been restored, when, last April, about a hundred aspirants for the team reported to Coach Neville for the first Lavender spring football practice ever held. For fully a month, the Stadium was the scene of an activity which was quite strange to the College. New though it was, it was also pleasing. It threw an entirely new and different and welcome atmosphere about the College. Everything and everybody seemed to breathe and radiate football.

SAKOLSKY, '23, NEWLY ELECTED MERC EDITOR

At a special meeting of the Mercury staff yesterday, Hyman L. Sakolsky, '23, was chosen editor of Mercury. This late election was caused by the fact that Sakolsky and Trilling, also '23, were tied for the place in an election held earlier in the term. It was decided at that time to have each man edit an issue. Yesterday's election was held immediately after the appearance of Mercury.

A few days before College opened for the fall semester, the football squad started practice. Coach Neville found that the material had an abundance of weight, but lacked experience and genuine talent. Work along purely fundamental lines was inaugurated, and thoroughness was the end to be achieved.

The entire city became intensely interested in the destinies of City College football. The topic found an important place in the columns of the newspapers. The great interest manifested in the team was illustrated when several former football stars of other colleges volunteered to aid Coach Neville in his work of building up the team. Among these were Ed Jolley, of Springfield Y. M. C. A.; Ed Harkins, of Williams; Tex Schab, of V. M. I.; and Bill Galvin, of Yale. Coach Neville also had the aid of last year's freshmen coaches, "Mac", Lieutenant Finnerty, and Major Herrick.

After three weeks of training, the Varsity entered into its first contest against St. Stephens. The game resulted in a 7-0 defeat for the Lavender. The showing of the team was very satisfactory and praiseworthy. The long drill on fundamentals proved to be conclusively beneficial. The men handled the ball excellently, and kept the game from being marred by fumbles.

Against Providence the following week, the Varsity's inexperience enabled the strong visiting eleven to annex sixteen points in the first half. In the second half, however, the team surprised with a flashing open attack which swept the visitors off their feet. The Varsity scored seven points to three for its opponents. However, Providence's early lead was too much to overcome, and the final score read 16 to 7 against the Lavender.

Drexel was the next opponent. The Quakers were favored with breaks which were disastrous to the College eleven. A disappointing game ended 15 to 9, with the Varsity on the zero end of the score.

The next week, the Varsity travelled up to Geneva to meet Hobart. The up-staters had an exceptionally strong team. They had previously defeated N. Y. U. 20 to 0. The game aroused great interest because it would serve to throw some light on the relative ability of the Lavender and the Violet. In a crackerjack, slam-bang game, the score of which does not testify to the Varsity's fine showing, Hobart emerged victorious, 24 to 0. The team's performance is more significant when it is considered that Hobart had the advantage of playing on its home field.

The Varsity's next game was against the New York "Aggies." The con-

ENGINEERING SOCIETY HEARS TALK ON "TOOL"

The Engineering Society was addressed at its last meeting by Mr. J. DeCotis on "Tool Designing". The lecture, illustrated by slides, presented information that could ordinarily not be gained in the class room. Open discussion and questions from the floor concluded the meeting.

Lectures by the members of the Society are scheduled for every meeting until the close of the term. Notices will be posted on the bulletin board in the concourse.

SOPH CARNIVAL TO-DAY

The first Soph Carnival of the current semester will take place to-day at 1 o'clock in the Stadium. All Freshmen who have been reported for violation of the rules will report to the '25 alcove as instructed by the Committee.

COUNCIL TO CONSIDER LUNCHEON SITUATION

Co-op Investigation Committee Will Be Named—Chairman To Announce Lavender Book Staff

Plans to remedy existing conditions in the luncheon room will be considered at the meeting of the Student Council this afternoon at 2 o'clock in room 209. A plan for extending the existing lunch room will be presented for approval by the Council.

In the proposal made by Louis A. Warsoff, president of the council and printed elsewhere in these columns it is proposed to remove the lockers to the tunnel and thus enlarge the present room. It is further proposed to substitute marble tables for the wooden ones now in use. The council will be requested to offer Mr. Hammond, the present manager a five year lease on condition that he makes the proposed changes.

An investigating committee to look into the finances of the Co-op Store will be appointed at to-day's meeting. The committee of three which will be named is expected to present a full report of its findings before January 2. In accordance with a motion passed at a previous meeting, a Lavender Book committee will be announced. The editor-in-chief, business manager and advertising manager of the handbook will be appointed at this time.

Reports of the finances of the Athletic Association, Campus and Mercury will be called for. It is expected that those organizations will refuse the council's demands. In the event of a refusal the editors of the publications will be summoned before the Discipline Committee on contempt charges.

DEBATERS ORGANIZED AT TUESDAY MEETING

Jeremiah Berman '24, Elected Secretary—Professor Palmer Outlines
New Plan to be Followed

The first organization meeting of the Debating Squad was held last Tuesday, in Room 227. Professor Erasmus Palmer of the Public Speaking Department presided.

Professor Palmer outlined the new method of organizing debating teams which is to be instituted this term. As at Bates College where debating is a major activity, a permanent squad is to be formed, a secretary elected and information gathered and discussed by all members, and kept on file.

The question whether the debating team was to be chosen only from the members of the squad was discussed. It was agreed that this procedure should be followed, but that the attendance requirements be modified so as to allow for those who are unable to be present on Tuesday evenings.

Jeremiah Berman '24, was elected secretary of the squad. The next meeting will be held next Tuesday evening at which a resolution on the Ship Subsidy question is to be framed. It is probable that owing to the fact that this question is at present confronting Congress, the Ship Subsidy will be the topic for future debates.

VARSITY FIVE NOW READY FOR START

Team Shows Fine Form in Practice — Dazzling Speed and Accuracy Noted

COACH HOLMAN WILL SOON PICK FIRST FIVE

Opening Game Set For December 2
Against St. Francis—Schedule
To Be Out Shortly

With only a week left before the start of the basketball season Coach Holman is pushing his men hard. Realizing that success depends wholly upon team play the basketball mentor is leaving nothing undone in his endeavors to produce a winning combination.

Indications are that the team this year will live up to the best Lavender traditions. Taking what was left of the championship five of last year and adding to that the material of the '25 team Coach Holman has formed one of the fastest teams ever seen on the court. Despite their small size, Varsity men are dangerous players, with speed, shiftness and good eyes for the basket. In a practice game against the veteran Cathedral five they rolled up a score of over fifty points to an insignificant number for the opposition. Their dazzling speed and remarkable accuracy in the attempts for the basket completely baffled the visiting team, which is coached by a former Lavender star, Nat Krinsky.

Up to the present the first five has not as yet been decided upon. Undoubtedly however, Capt. Leo Klauber and "Doc" Edelstein will play, either one or both playing at guard. Jack Nadel, who is by far the best shot on the team is practically sure of starting as forward. The other berths have not been definitely decided upon. As for the center position, only as soon as Schtierman shows his wares, will a definite selection be made. At present Jim Currun though not as aggressive as he could be, is displaying some brainy basketball sense and works in well with the bunch.

As to who is to play alongside of Jackie is giving Nat considerable trouble. Archie Hahn, according to the dope, was scheduled for the position. However, the dope may be wrong for Palitz, star forward of last year's Frosh team is fighting hard for the position. Coach Holman is visibly impressed by his earnest work and expects to start him against St. Francis. This will be true if his good work continues.

As in past years a good second team will be formed of the remaining bunch. These men will always be ready to jump into the fray.

St. Francis opens the schedule on December 2. Recently the Orange and Black trounced Cathedral, 31-16. If comparative scores mean anything the Lavender should win easily. The rest of the schedule will be published shortly.

CLONIA MEETING TO BE HELD TO-NIGHT

Clonia will hold its regular meeting, to night at 8 o'clock in the German Library, Room 308.

John McIndoe and Alfred Vogel will be initiated. The remainder of the evening will be devoted to several literary papers which have been prepared by certain members.

Plans for the resumption of the Clio-Phreno debates, are being considered by both organizations.

BY B. J. K.

A week before the opening game and the regular team not yet picked. That's characteristic of Nat Holman. He may or may not have made up his mind as to the first five men. But he wants to keep them all fighting—and he surely is succeeding. Every member of his squad is scrapping for a first team berth. The termination of the football season and the consequent appearance on the floor of "Black-Jack" Schtierman has entered another bid for the center assignment. The battle will rage all week and the line-up will probably remain a dark secret until next Friday night.

Artie Foxe is acting in the time-honored and silly manner of all basketball managers. He has been promising to disclose the basketball schedule for the last month or two. The opening game is only a week off, yet the card for the season is still a mystery. If he is withholding the schedule because there are too many open dates, Foxe must have been negligent and inefficient when he should have been at work. If the card is complete there is no reason for keeping it a secret. It seems to us that Foxe is merely trying to impress the College with the fact that HE is the manager and that HE has it in his power to graciously favor us with the schedule if HE so wishes.

The crowds at basketball practice have been very small, thus far. During September and October most of the loyal legion were in the Stadium watching football scrimmage. But the gridiron season is now over and the rooters have not yet turned out at the basketball court in the expected numbers. The team is well worth watching. It is probably the equal of last year's championship five and should turn in as impressive a record as that much-lauded aggregation. Its play is so fast as to give any real sport fan a thrill. And every scrimmage is replete with action. Practice is as interesting as a real game. Next week, in particular, should bring out all Lavender adherents. During the remaining six days of practice the team will be picked, the line-up announced. That ought to pack the gym.

Frosh court prospects are also good. Most of the yearling balltossers are veterans of high school teams. This fellow Farley, whose height is placed at every figure from six feet four to seven feet, may prove another "Andy." Nat Holman is wont to say, "Give me a big man and I'll make a center of him." He's found his man and it will be interesting to watch him turn out his product.

Dain, a Sophomore member of the Varsity cross-country team, seems to be the best Lavender harrier of recent years. He isn't breaking any records or winning any titles, but he finishes well up in every race. This is Dain's first year of Varsity running and we expect much of him, in the future. Sober, the Frosh captain, is another hill-and-daler who surpasses the recent Lavender average.

Nat Holman and some of the members of our Varsity basketball team are posing for the Daily News illustrations of basketball lessons. This is somewhat of an honor as the News usually selects the best team in the city.

The water-polo team bids fair to equal or surpass the record of last year's sextette which finished second in the Intercollegiate League. With a line-up of fast men, the team has adopted the new six-man offense, six-man defense. The new system should prove a boon to such men as "Turk" Tannenbaum, who, though fast and accurate, found it hard to score because they played in basketfield positions.

"Kid" Schnurer, who has a fine chance for the regular center-forward assignment, lays claim to being the lightest water-polo player in intercollegiate circles. Schnurer weighs only one hundred-and-forty pounds. But he has enough scrap and grit for a two-hundred pounder.

We like the record and spirit of the Frosh football team. Any bunch of fellows that can go ahead and fight and win in spite of the hard luck that befalls them is bound to make a good record. That's why we expect to see '26 make out as well in basketball and other sports as they did in football.

If we are not mistaken, "Turk" Tannenbaum, second-string back on the Varsity eleven, played in only four games, missing his major insignia by one contest. "Turk" ought to get his major letters, anyhow. He was one of the hardest workers on the squad and rarely missed a practice. Even on Monday, when most of the players were excused, Tannenbaum got into uniform. He is a senior and will not have another chance at the prized major insignia. "Turk" plays water-polo but that only gives the minor letters. The insignia committee should stick to judgment rather than the strict letter of the awards code in a case like this.

FRESHMEN ELEVEN HAS GOOD RECORD

Yearling Team Wins Three and Loses Two Games During Past Season

PLEBES WEAKENED BY LOSES IN MIDSEASON

Dr. Hal Parker Makes Good as Coach in First Season at City College

Despite the loss of many of its star players in mid-season, the City College Freshmen football team went through a successful season. Their record of three victories and two defeats is practically the same as that hung up by last year's initial football team, yet the superior brand of play that "Doc" Parker's men showed, this year, surprised the College.

Although the team suffered two defeats, Coach Parker suffered none. He was successful everywhere. In the face of discouraging set-backs, the Frosh "Bill Roper", with an indomitable will, overcame all handicaps.

A little should be said on behalf of Manager Milt Rabinowitz. His care, attention and devotion to the team were manifest throughout the season.

The Freshmen started off with a rush. Two consecutive victories were chalked up before they were halted by the Fordham Prep team, armed with an invincible staff of officials.

The first game of the season was the Evander Childs contest. The 7-6 score does not show the relative merits of the teams. Our yearling eleven played well together, Philidius, left end, being the individual star. The first game of the season was the Evander Childs contest. The next game with Mamaroneck, showed the Frosh, at their best form, working as a unit. A brilliant and brainy backfield, combined with fast ends and a steady line, made the freshmen look like the next Metropolitan first year champions. The score was 39-6.

The Fordham Prep game, the next on the schedule, was the occasion of the team's first defeat. The 14-6 score was tallied by the Maroon, despite the sterling work of Plaut and Cohen.

Now, the trouble set in. The next day Moe Cohen, the captain and star of the team, was dismissed from college for failure to attend classes. Epstein, a linesman, also quit. The team now was forced to meet N. Y. U. minus the services of these two mainstays. The Violet freshmen won by a 7-3 score in a well-fought game. In the N. Y. U. fracas, Smith and Plaut showed to advantage, the former registering a field goal. After this game, Hockhauser, the sturdy guard, left the team. Yale, despite its numerous injuries, had a paradise compared to the lot that fell to our freshmen.

The last game, with the Fordham Frosh, showed the team at its best since the Mamaroneck contest. Smith and Plaut played brilliantly on the offense. Sawickey played a fine defensive game while Rosenberg, Philidius, Levistein, Kalish, and Hertzberg did well on the line.

Among the other men who deserve mention are Malter, Vogel, Charley Wuswasser, the only man to play five full games, Gusson, Finkelstein, Scheller and Klein. The team had a successful season. Yet he showing might have been better had some men in the '26 class, of high school fame, shown more spirit.

STUDENT TALKS TO CHEMICAL SOCIETY

The Baskerville Chemical Society at its last meeting ratified its new constitution. One of the provisions is that all new members must have taken the chemistry 3 course. At the same meeting, Louis Schatanoff '23, spoke to the society on his research work concerning the "Sensitiveness of Reactions."

A motion was passed providing that the society place several pictures of Prof. Baskerville about the building in order to perpetuate the memory of the great Professor.

FOOTBALL TEAM CLOSES SEASON

test resulted in the Lavender's only victory of the season by the score of 14 to 7. The team presented a better line of attack than it had in any of its previous games, and clearly out-classed its opponents. The victory left the team in good shape and high hopes for the N. Y. U. game, scheduled for the following Saturday.

The N. Y. U. - C. C. N. Y. game was regarded with much interest in the football world. The result came as somewhat of a surprise. The general opinion had been that City College would lose by three touchdowns. The 7-0 score was entirely unexpected.

The Varsity wound up its season the following week against Catholic University. The Washington team had a versatile repertoire of forward passes and trick plays which proved too strong for the College eleven. The Lavender defense, moreover, was not at its best. Either it felt the strain of the N. Y. U. gam or it suffered from that severe malady, over-confidence. Catholic University won, 21 to 0.

The men who composed this year's squad are the following: Oshins, Schtierman, Miller, S. Brodsky, Kudin, Brauer, Ross, "Turk" Tannenbaum, Harry Tannenbaum, Moftey, Farber, Greenberg, Schuster, Rosenwasser, Schapiro, Garvey, Ashworth, Washer, Sauber, Chomsky, Friedman, Ringel, Harvey, Clancy, Elk, A. Brodsky, Hochberg, Crownfield and Prager.

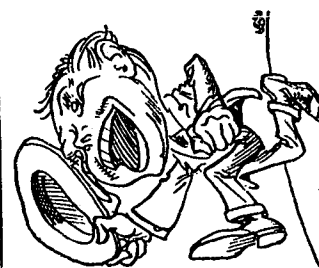

The team went through the season without a captain "Lou" Oshins and "Jack" Schtierman acted as captains in various games.

Next season holds forth much promise for City College football. The team will have veteran material upon which to build. Only two men of this year's eleven will be lost through graduation. They are George Schapiro and Harry Rosenwasser. In addition the team will be greatly strengthened by some crackerjack material from the freshman eleven. The most encouraging feature of the whole situation is that almost all of the men on next year's squad will have at least two year's more of varsity football before them.

GEOLOGY CLUB WILL TAKE TWO DAY HIKE

The Geology club will take a two day hike to Cedar Lake, New Jersey, to examine various rock deposits. The date that has been set is December 8th and 9th.

Aside from being an ideal camping spot, the Cedar Lake region is of great interest to geologists because of its many characteristic earth formations.

COLLEGE HARRIERS ENTER TITLE MEET

Lavender Runners to Compete With Strongest Teams in Intercollegiate Circles, This Monday

This Monday, eighteen colleges will make a strong bid for the intercollegiate cross-country championship over the standard six-mile course at Van Cortlandt Park. The outstanding feature of the race will be the meeting of Dykerman, of Carnegie Tech, and Higgins, the Columbia luminary.

This is the fourteenth annual championship race and the second in succession held over the New York course.

Last year, the Cornell harriers won by a very low score but the mainstays of that team have been graduated and Cornell's showing will not be as good this year.

The Lavender runners are entered in this final meet, and, after their remarkable showing of last Saturday in the Metropolitan championships, and the hard practice of the team, this week, the Lavender harriers are expected to place among the first. If Dain runs as well Monday as he did last Saturday, he ought to finish among the first twenty out of the large field of 287 entries.

Captain Patent should run a close second to Dain while Orlando, if his foot is well, ought not to be far behind either of the first two. Parisi, Reisman and Hamburger ought to finish where they will count.

PROFESSOR TURNER TO SPEAK ON RELATIVITY

Continuing the practice innovated last term, the members of the Math and Physics Departments met in joint session last Thursday, and propounded some new thoughts on Einstein's theory of relativity. Prof. Arthur B. Turner attempted to prove that Einstein's physical laws are the first approximation to an understanding of the subject of relativity.

Y. M. C. A. CONVENTION IS HELD AT COLLEGE

Dr. Fosdick of Union and Dr. Speer of Presbyterian Mission Address Gathering of College Men

Virtually every seat in the Great Hall was occupied last Sunday night when Mr. W. J. Kitchen, chairman of the Metropolitan "Y" convention, called the meeting to order. The speakers of the evening were Dr. Harry Emerson Fosdick, of the Union Theological Seminary, and Dr. Robert Speer, of the Foreign Mission Board of the Presbyterian Church. The convention was attended by representatives of the Y. M. C. A.'s and Y. W. C. A.'s of all of the New York colleges.

The meeting as opened with the singing of a number of songs, led by one of the Teachers' College delegation. Mr. Kitchen, then introduced Dr. Fosdick whose talk treated of the indifference of the younger generation to religion.

"Young people are indifferent to religion because they believe that the great issues of life are not connected with religion, said the speaker. "They are tremendously in earnest about life, and are trying to understand the problems which confront them. They find no solution in the remedies which religion presents. However, the great issues of life lie close to the center of the Gospel. There are three great issues especially which deal directly with religion: the issue of materialism versus Christianity, the issue of industrial conditions, and the issue of war.

"The young people would stop with a shock if they realized the harm which the materialistic view is causing. It wrecks all idealistic conceptions and takes away from a man the beautiful beliefs which he has cherished in his moral and spiritual treasury. The more a man, especially a young man, is in earnest, the more he is cast down by materialistic views. Materialism narrows the field of vision, takes in only small issues, and to a man of ideas and imagination, seems petty. The really great man is he who can see great issues clearly, and surely he who professes Christianity has a foundation for clear knowledge of great issues. The teachings of Christianity, when stripped of the ritual and historical lore which makes them so distasteful to the younger generation, are great and simple truths, expressed by a man who never had a small thought or petty issue in his mind.

"Christianity enables a man to see issues and to dare to carry out ideas which no materialist can see or dare to conceive. It gives a man power to see solutions for the great problems of industry and war, and the student body of today ought not to cut itself off from this great source of inspiration."

Dr. Speer's talk was much in the same vein. He urged the students to live clean lives, so that they might aid in bringing about the "new earth" of which St. Peter prophesied. He called attention to the stench of moral unwholesomeness, broken health, and utterly horrible conditions which are the result of the present industrial system, and pointed out that the students, when their turn came to lead industry and politics, could do much to remedy conditions.

SOPH DANCE TAKES PLACE TO-MORROW

The Sophomore Dance will take place this Saturday evening in the College Gymnasium. The Dance Committee promises an interesting program. Many upper classmen and Freshmen are expected to be present. Souvenir booklets that will create somewhat of a sensation are promised by the committee.

OFFICE ANNOUNCES SCHEDULE CHANGES

Students Urged to Consult Professors Before Arranging Programs

Elective cards for the spring semester of 1923 may be obtained by upper classmen in the Registrar's office Room 121. Sophomores have until Dec. 4, Juniors Dec 5, and seniors and Tech students until Dec. 6 to return their elective cards. Complete instructions and details may be obtained by reading the notices posted on the bulletin boards throughout the college.

Students are urged to consult the professors of the departments, in whose courses they are specializing before arranging a program and not to choose their electives in a careless and haphazard manner.

Consultation hours will soon be announced by the various professors and will probably be published in the next issue of the Campus.

The following changes and additions to the schedules should be carefully read by all students.

The following changes of hours, which do not appear in the printed schedule, should be noted:

WRESTLING TEAM IN EVENING PRACTICES

Volunteer Coaches of Great Help to Bialo—Great Improvement Noted

Besides the regular afternoon practices the varsity wrestling men meet evenings to perfect their particular holds. Every Monday and Wednesday evening they receive the able coaching of such men as "Hank" Horowitz, "Moe" Silver and Mr. Knight.

These voluntary coaches have been secured by Captain Bialo to acquaint the men with scientific wrestling. "Hank" Horowitz was captain of the Stevens wrestling team. "Moe" Silver was the college's star performer in the 145 lb. class and runner-up in the Metropolitan Wrestling Tournament. Mr. Knight is the former Intercollegiate heavyweight champion of Canada. With such a combination the headwork of the men will not go for naught.

Captain Bialo, Michael, Spitz, Ruffin and Finkel are showing splendid form in their practice bouts. "Milt" Greenberg is pushing the captain for the position in the 125 lb. class. Ferber and Cares are fighting Michael for the 135 lb. berth while Wolff, Bischoff and Gray are out for the heavy weight class. There is a special need for heavy men and those interested are urged to report. Experience is not necessary.

The present staff of coaches will instruct the candidates in the fundamentals of the sport.

Candidates for the freshman team are also requested to report now.

DEAN ROBINSON WILL REPRESENT COLLEGE

Professor Robinson, Dean of the School of Business Administration, will travel to Minneapolis next week to represent City College at the annual meeting of the Association of Urban Universities.

C. D. A. WILL ATTEND DANCE AT EARL HALL

Elaborate Preparations Under Way for Smoker in December Basketball Team is Active

The City College chapter of the C. D. A. has been invited to attend an informal dance to be held at Earl Hall, Columbia, under the auspices of the Intercollegiate Italian Society. Delegations from Columbia, N. Y. U., Hunter, Barnard, C. C. N. Y. and Brooklyn Poly will be present. Friday evening, Dec. 8, is the date of the affair. Admission will be free. Students and faculty of the college are cordially invited to attend.

Although the date set for the smoker of the C. D. A. is fully five weeks off, Mr. Serretella '23, chairman of the smoker committee, is already completing plans to make the affair one of the most successful and brilliant of the season. The committee refuses to divulge the details of the affair, but assures a most enjoyable evening to all students who will attend. Rosebud Hall, Coney Island, has been chosen as the scene of the festival, and the evening of December 20, as the date. In order to avoid overcrowding, only 400 tickets have been placed on sale, and these may be obtained for $1.50 in the C. D. A. alcove any hour of the day.

The Intercollegiate Italian Society has offered a silver loving cup to the team emerging victorious in the recently formed Inter-Collegiate Italian Basketball League, and the City College quintet is striving mightily to win the trophy. Practice sessions are held every Saturday afternoon. The 23rd Street Y. M. C. A. has already fallen a victim to the local C. D. A. five.

The 1924 class Junior Prom will be informal, according to a decision reached at yesterday's meeting of the Class Council. The annual dance which is the principal function of Junior Festival Week, will be held on the evening of Tuesday, December 26 at the Hotel Commodore.

JUNIORS WILL HOLD INFORMAL CLASS PROM

Plans Theatre Party, Basketball Game And Banquet For Annual Festival Week

The annual celebration will include the Varsity basketball game on December 23. On Friday evening, December 22 the Juniors and their friends will hold a theatre party at one of the Broadway playhouses. The Festival activities will draw to a close on the 29th with the class banquet.

Work on the Souvenir program has already been started. An artistic booklet covering the events of the week is now in preparation. Alexander J. Whyman is in charge of the entire Festival Week as general chairman, Sidney A. Fine vice-president of the February class is vice-chairman of the general committee. Tickets for the prom will be placed on sale soon at subscription rate of three dollars and fifty cents per couple.

ARRANGEMENTS MADE FOR FRESHMAN DANCE
The Freshman Dance which is scheduled for Friday evening, December 1, in the College Gymnasium promises to eclipse the other College dances this season. A vast number of tickets have been sold, not only to freshmen, but also to upper classmen.

The Committee has exerted every effort to produce the desired results. A good band has been secured and moonlight dancing will be featured. Tickets are $1.50.

DR. TYNAN REVIEWS BOOKS FOR FREEMAN

The current issue of "The Freeman," dated November 22, contains an article by Dr. Joseph L. Tynan, entitled "A Paean of Imperialism." It is a review of the book "England." Dr. Tynan has had several reviews published in "The Freeman" during the past year. In the next issue there will appear another article by him entitled: "An Unsounded Quantity," a review of three books on Ireland.

Y. M. C. A. DANCE IN GYM A SUCCESSFUL AFFAIR

Informal Spirit Feature of Well Attended Social; Committee Well Pleased

Some forty couples gathered in the gymnasium last Friday evening at the semi-annual dance of the college Y. M. C. A. Due to the hard work of the committee, which consisted of Muecke, Ryan, Wingeback, Meyer, and Littlefield, the gym was beautifully decorated, and the whole atmosphere was homelike and exceedingly pleasant. The punch, which was very popular, was both excellent and plentiful.

The music was furnished by a five piece band, which jazzed so well that the pretty little dance orders were quickly filled, and while some couples sat out dances now and then, they were few and far between. Perhaps it was because the inducement was small, since the gym was well lighted. Furthermore, Louis Warsoff was present for part of the time; however, he seemed to be satisfied, and soon took his departure.

William Krowl, secretary of the "Y," was present and acted in the double role of chaperon and chief of the organization. He seemed to be having a good time, despite the pressing weight of his duties.

The dance owed much of its success to the friendly and informal spirit which prevailed. Everyone exchanged dances with practically everyone else, and light conversation and banter did much to eliminate the stiffness which often mars a dance. Staid, dignified seniors mixed freely with ingenuous freshmen, especially if the freshmen were accompanied by a pretty partner.

All those present were sorry to have to leave when Mike Bonny relentlessly turned off the lights at a quarter past twelve, and some of the more hectic spirits repaired to the various fraternity houses for further entertainment. The general sentiment was that the dance had been a great success.

hearted support and cooperation of the Student Council?

These representatives, who were elected in good faith, are betraying their constituents. They are placing their personal prejudices, and class prejudices above the interests of the College. The Student Council meeting has become the joke of the College. The Student Councilors, the class Presidents, college men, mind you, behave like pampered children and Kindergarten infants. The men who have been at Student Council meetings know that I speak the truth. Men old enough to realize the sacred responsibilities of office, deliberately cause disturbance for the mere sake of obstructing business, to satisfy a personal antipathy. I do not think that class prejudice, or personal prejudice should come before the interests of the College.
