

FRESHMEN MEET IN GREAT HALL

1,000 Yearlings Attend First Mass Meeting.—Dean Brownson Speaks.

INCOMING CLASS IS TAUGHT "BIG VARSITY"

Warsoff and Klauber Advise Frosh—Junior Advisers Also Speak—Elections this Afternoon

The first mass meeting of the Freshman Class was held last Thursday, in the Great Hall. Fully one thousand Frosh put in an appearance. The meeting, which was presided over by Louis Warsoff, President of the Student Council, was marked by a fine display of spirit.

Louis Warsoff struck the keynote of the assembly when, in his speech of introduction, he stressed the need and value of participation in extra-curricular work.

For the seventeenth time, as he himself admitted, Dean Brownson, in the name of the faculty, welcomed the incoming freshmen. His discourse was brief. The Dean explained his conception of the true American college man saying that a college man studies hard and at the same time bears his share in the life of the institution.

Rules have been set aside in favor of freshmen who still affect short pants; black stockings may be worn by these gentlemen. So Leo Klauber, chairman of the Frosh-Soph. Com. announced when he expounded the Frosh Rules. He urged that the freshmen live up to the rules "like men." "I hope for the biggest Frosh-Soph year we have ever had," Klauber said. "The answer lies with you."

"Join the U", was the solicitation of "Iz" Michaels, chairman of the "U" Committee. "Al" Whyman, Business Manager of the Lavender Book, urged Frosh to purchase "Bibles", explaining their contents and attractive features.

Milton Greenberg, Varsity Cheerleader, said: "Always give your opponents as much as they deserve; City College men are always gentlemen." He solicited material for cheerleaders from the '26 class and then turned to the more important business of leading cheers. A Big Varsity that made the Hall ring was the result; the Locomotive, Siren, and Small Varsity were also put over in fine shape.

GRID MEN SHOW FINE FORM IN SCRIMMAGE

probably win the secondary berths. At the tackles, Kudin and Elk both husky scrappers, seem to be the best of the lot. Kudin is one of the best men on the line. "Horse" Brodsky and "Chuck" Miller, both 200-lb. infants, are fixtures at the guard assignments. Better men couldn't be desired. "Black-Jack" Schtierman the only high-class man out for the centre position, is in no way below the standard of his mates. Little Vogel, Hochberg, and Sauber will probably break into some of the games.

The backfield is not so easy to pick. In fact, only two men seem to have cinched their places. "Truck" Mofetz, the pint-sized quarterback, has made a fine showing lately and seems slated for the signal-singing job. And "Lou" Oshins, the shifty, speedy half-back is due for another of the scoring assignments. The other positions are a matter of conjecture. Harry Tannenbaum, "Turk Tannenbaum, Sam Farber, Harvey, Rosenwasser, and Mike Garvey are all putting up a great fight. Prospects favor Harry Tannenbaum for full-back, because of his crashing line-plunging and lengthy punting. For the remaining berth, keep an eye on Farber, a sturdy '25 lad who was practically unknown until the squad entered into scrimmage. In action, Sam has shown that he can run, kick, and pass with the best of them. He is probably the best punter on the squad. "Turk," Rosenwasser, and Garvey are all working like demons, however, and any one of them may win a regular place.

Elections will be held today for officers of the lower freshman class and for Poet-Historian, Athletic Manager, and Marshall of the upper-freshmen.

CONCERTS IN STADIUM ARE WIDELY BROADCAST

For the first time in the history of the country, outdoor concerts were broadcast by radio this past summer. This novel feature was staged at our own college in the Stadium on August 11th-16th. The New York Philharmonic orchestra played to the usual crowds in the Stadium, estimated at ten thousand, while from the Westinghouse radio-phone station the music was broadcast to an audience estimated at hundreds of thousands and covering an area of two million square miles.

The project was conceived by Popular Radio, one of the newer wireless magazines. Through arrangements made with the Westinghouse Company and the American Telephone and Telegraph company the arrangements were completed. A special wire was run from the Stadium to the college and thence to Newark, a distance of twenty five miles away.

VOCATIONAL SCHOOL FORMALLY OPENED

The audience was given a rare treat in having the pleasure of hearing six of the greatest operatic stars of the day. Mme. Anna Roseile, soprano, and Mme. Stella De Mette, mezzo soprano, both of the Metropolitan Opera Company; Mr. Vincente Ballester, tenor and Mr. James Wolf, basso of the Chicago Opera Company, and Mr. Baldrich Roglio, tenor, sang several operatic selections and ballads. The audience was quite wild with enthusiasm over them and insisted on encore after encore. It was, indeed, one of the most popular—if not the most popular phase of the day's program.

Among the guests who visited the Loth Building in the morning were: Hon. Lee Kohns, Regent Herbert Bridgman, Cavalier Anthony Bagarozzy, Mr. Adolph Lewisohn, Hon. Philip Berolzheimer, Hon Martin Ansonge, Col. Frederick Feigel, Col. Sam Alexander, Mr. John C. Ward-lau, Mr. Norman Nicoll, Dr. John Furia, Mr. William Tapley, Dr. Charles Fagnani, Dr. A. F. Beale, Mr. Emmanuel Cohen, Bishop William P. Manning, and Sir Thomas Lip-ton.
