FRESHMEN SWAMP MAMARONECK 39-6

Yearlings Display Great Power and Punch and Roll Up Six Touchdowns

CAP'T MOE COHEN AND PLAUT STAR FOR FROSH

Victory Avenges Last Year's 14-6 Defeat-Mamaroneck Scores but One Touchdown.

Playing the sort of football expected of them, the freshman eleven buried the Mararoneck High School team under an avalanche of touchdowns last Saturday morning in the Stadium, winning by the score of 39 to 6. In doing so, they amply avenged the 14,-6 defeat handed to last year's yearlings by the Westchester

The cubs displayed a brand of football, the power and efficiency of which would not be denied. They swept through the high school team almost at will and piled up six touchdowns, one in each of the first two periods and four in the final stanza. Their attack contained the finish and decisive punch that were missing in the previous encounter with Evander Childs. The freshment practically found themselves as a playing com-

At only one time did the playing of the yearlings fall below the mark This was in the third frame when the College voungsters went scoreless and Mamaroneck scored its lone buchdown of the game. This touchdown as well as the poor exhibition of the freshmen were entirely inex The performance of the Lavender cubs smacked distinctly of over-confidence. After scoring two louchdowns and outplaying their opponents in the first half, they seemed to feel that the game was theirs, and their playing suffered accordingly, being exceedingly sluggish. The visiting lads, always on the alert and, like last year, quick to take advantage of opportunities, lost no time in annexing a touchdown, and the lead of the homeplayers was cut to six points

Fortunately, for the freshmen, they learned their lesson right then and there. With the beginning of the fourth quarter they played like fury. They tore through the high school lads with a sustained and determined drive, and the result was an overwhelming addition of twenty-seven points, while Mamaroneck went

The Westchester lads, like last year, presented a light but fast team Like last year also, their defense was rather weak, but they relied mainly on their varied and open attack to pull them through. However, they rarely got possession of the ball, most of the action being staged in their territory. It was only in the third period that this condition was reversed The repeated fumbles and careless playing of the College yearlings put the latter on the defensive in their own territory and gave the Mamaroneck team a chance to employ its considerable trouble with their puzoffense which carned the Westchescame rather as the result of an inter-

FIRST MERC TO BE FOOTBALL NUMBER

College Mercury to Appear This Friday-Edited by H. L. Sakolsky, '23

College Mercury, the Campus' literary magazine, will make its contribution to the celebration of the return of football to City College with the publication of its first issue of the year, a "Football Number." The Mercury Board is exerting every effort to put the issue out this Friday.

The issue promises to be the best in a long while. Among the features of the magazine will be a three-color cover design by Herman Getter, '25. and several football pictures and cartoons by Samuel Sugar, '25. A story, "Caricature," by Abel Meeropol, '25, and another, "Fang," by Milton I. Levine, '23, are included, besides a poem by the late Alvin Bruch, former editor of Mercury. Several other poems and essays, in addition to the ever-popular "Silver Lining" column, complete the make-up of the

This arrangement has been made because the Mercury Association found it impossible to choose definitely between Sakolsky and Trilting, who were the two leading candidates for the editorship of the magazines. It has finally been decided to allow each of the men to take charge of one issue, and the final election of an Editor-in-chief will be made after the appearance of the November num-

Aronson Chosen for Student Affair Committee-Klauber and Greenberg for Discipline

The first meeting of this term's Student Council was called to order at 3 o'clock Friday in Room 126 by Louis A. Warsoff, newly elected President. Plans for the coming semester were mapped out, and appointments to the most important committees were announced.

President Warsoff opened the meetng with a short introductory talk, in which he discussed the accomplish ments expected from the Council The College looks for great things but you can only come up to expecgard for class pettiness,-and if you strictly enforce the rules against absences from this Council." Elections for places on the Student Affairs and Discipline Committees were the first business of the Council. For the first, a second vote between Fass '23, and Aronson '23 resulted in the election of the latter. Klauber, '23, and Greenberg '23 were chosen for the two vacancies on the Discipline Committee from among more than a dozen candidates.

Professor Downer was unanimously re-elected Faculty Treasurer, and the A. A. nomination of Greenberg '23, was confirmed with no dissenting

After a stormy debate and much fiery eloquence upon the part of the '25 delegates, a motion was passed to allow the '24 class to have its dance in the Gym on the night of November 23, a date which had previously been assigned to the Sophomore Class. November 4 was set as the time for the Seniors' Dance.

Due to the opposition of the '23 dellegation, the Council refused to accept the report of the Microcosm Committee nominating as "Mike" Editor Isidore Zukernick '23 and as Business Manager Alexander Whynman '24. It was felt that Zukernick though le gally a Senior, was not truly of '23 A new report at the next meeting was asked of the Microcosm Committee composed of the President of the Student Council, the Editors of the Campus, and Mercury, and the Editor and Business Manager of the last "Mike"

CAN'T PAINT FROSH

The permission recently granted by the Fresh-Soph Committee whereby sophomores may make freshmen conspicuous by markings on the forehead, has been rescinded. Hereafter no sophomore will be allowed to apply iodine or any other coloring matter to the faces of members of the '26 class.

SOPHS TAKE EVERY BOUT IN CANE SPREE

The '25 class climbed a notch nearer the winning of the Student Council Banner, when they downed '26 in the cane-spree, 24-0. The Sophs captured all six bouts, three on falls, three or decisions. Nevertheless all the bouts were hotly contested. Leo Klauber chairman of the Fresh-Soph Comand Milty Greenberg, of the wrest-

OSHINS AND BRODSKY CARRY BRUNT OF OFFENSIVE WORK DURING GAME

Varsity Three Times Within Five Yards of Goal, But Lacks Punch Necessary To Carry Ball Over Line-Drexel Scores Touchdown On Fluke After Kick In Second Quarter

The college football team suffered its worst defeat last Saturday when it lost the third game of the season to the Drexel aggregation. The team played a sterling game on the whole, displaying a good knowledge of football but lack of its application. The Drexel team showed greater adeptness of football tactics due probably to their greater experience. The dependable kicking of Heist, lanky full-back, was a big factor in his team's success. Sassek and Schuman, quarter-back and right half-back, respectively, were very agile when going through the line or around the ends, and were responsible to a great extent for the victory. Our line, mittee, ran the affair, and Julie Bialo which greatly outweighed the Drexel line, played well when there was a big distance to be gained, but lost out when within a short distance of the opponent's goal. This was evident on two occasions when the Lavender team was within a yard of the goal but failed to get across.

"It is honorable and obligatory to do as much for your city as for yourself," he concluded.

Dean Brownson then explained a new method of dismissal from the Chapel recommended by the Student Council. After the faculty departed the students leave row by row.

The ball was in the Varsity's hands in mid-field at the opening of the period. "Lou" took the ball through for another first down. Thinking that a few long forwards would take the ball over the line, Moftey called for a pass by Farber. Farber threw the ball but it was grounded by Wilson and went into Drexel's hands. Heist bucked the line for two yards. Schuman squirmed through for three yards and Sassek followed with a plunge that gave Drexel its first down. In the next play the Engineers' backfield seemed to have forgotten who was to receive the ball and it fell wide. Garvey, who had crashed through expecting an end run, picked up the ball and made his spectacular run of forty yards to the goal posts. ## THE STUDENT COUNCIL MEETS

The meeting of the Student Council Friday was a sore disappointment to those who expected the Council to get down to work, to act as the governing student body of the college should act. The Council wasted valuable time in useless wrangling, and was so disorderly at times that the chairman had to threaten the ejection of several men. It was indeed a fine example for the students present-a spectacle to make them respect the Student Council, to support its measures with full confidence in the wisdom and ability of the legislators. If for no other reason than that it will otherwise result in a loss of power and prestige by the Council, the members should endeavor to make the meeting one that the ordinary student can attend with pleasure, other than that derived by laughing up his sleeve.

Several officers of the '25 class in declaring Freshman Rules off, exceeded their powers so grossly that even the gullible freshmen felt that it could not be so. It is fortunate for the concerned that the action was rescinded before it could do any harm.

The Alcove Decoration Committee is soon to resume the work began last term. Student approval of the project might well be shown by care for the alcoves already decorated.

The loss of Saturday's game was an unexpected blow to the football team and its supporters. However, the men should fight twice as hard now, and with the improvement in the calibre of playing evident at times, should be able to round out a success-

The destruction of the rock, proposed by the newest college organization "The Blasters", might be the loss of a famous landmark and a blow to the college geologists, but it would be joy unalloyed to all loyal Lavender rooters.

MIRRORS OF THE CONCOURSE

An Abbreviated Biography of Louis A. Warsoff.

It is an opinion among scientific circles that Mr. Warsoff arose spontaneously. It would be inconceivable to imagine that he would calmly wait through millions of eternities for the proper nucleus chromosomes to accidentally unite and thus risk the Presidency of the Student Council. That perhaps accounts for his explosive manner. At an early age, when still on intimate terms with grade A milk, his political capital was already in evidence, a broad smile and two gold teeth. His political philosophy may be summed up in two words, popular election. His private philosophy can also be summed up in a few words, but that is not necessary. Consult Boc-

"House of David" Gridders

Members of the U of Cincinnat football eleven last week solemnly vowed that no razor would touch their beards until they scored on the gridiron. So far this season the Bearcats have failed to score on their opponents. Firmly resolved that they would score against Ohio Wesleyan the University footballers decided to let their beards grow long until they managed to cross some team's goalline.

The fact that the coeds refused to meet them in their House of David disguise was expected to be an added incentive for victory. Local barbers have formed a special rooting section to cheer the Cincinatti pigskin chasers onto a goal.

At a meeting of the Baskerville Chemical Society on Thursday, plans were arranged for the forthcoming social event of the Society. This is to consist of a joint meeting on November 4 of the City College scientists, their colleagues from Hunter College

The gathering will be addressed by a prominent member of the Faculty, after which it will repair to the Gymnasium to attend the Senior Dance.

Aside from the weekly lectures by members, which form the major part of the club's program, the members will hear lectures by Dr. Prager, Professor Breithut, and Mr. Thuor. Professor Breithut has but recently returned to the College after an extended leave of absence, but those who remember him know that he is a most interesting lecturer on Industrial Chemistry.

Next week the first initiation of the year will be held. Two new members, Messrs. Morris and Schnopper of the '24 class, will be admitted.

The Equity Players Inc. has inaugurated a new low price in the theatre world. All second balcony seats to its Tuesday matinees will hereafter be sold at the very nominal rate of twenty-five cents. All wasted, all wasted. Here and now, forever more, we swear off "pre-dope" --- that same "dope" that indicated an overwhelming victory for our Varsity. All wasted-that wonderful write-up of the game, prepared two weeks ago, in which we welcome our a stiff practice. Along side of the first victory.

As for the game itself-- pretty good crowd, wasn't it?

Guess, "Turk" Tannebaum never fully recovered from that kick in the head, received in practice. Only a man with an extremely low I. Q. would try to run back a kick that went over the goal line, when he could have it on the 20-yd. line.

We're not using all our resources. There's lots of good material on that squad that's going to waste, for lack of notice. Harry Tannenbaum belongs in that first team backfield. He's fast, a crashing line-plunger, a good kicker, a dependable defensive man. "Dutch" Prager, a fast, sure-tackling end can catch no forward turns at center position. All three passes while he warms the bench.

Nor are we using our first team men to greatest advantage. year of coaching, works well with the Oshins and Farber, real speed-boys, are being worn out by futile rest of the team and at present is the line smashes. Well, we have a good Freshman team, anyway. At times the Varsity is more brilliant, but the Frosh are consistent, they're steady, they're THERE all the time. And they don't play such a varsity's defense. Jackie Nadell, listless game during the first half, as to make the most brilliant Frankie Salz, Pinky Match, Palitz, second-half play ineffective.

A machine-that's what the Frosh team is. Such businesslike accuracy, precision, sureness. No individual star—only a machine, mechanically sure and unfailing. "Doc" Parker has made good, all right.

- Fordham Prep, N. Y. U. Frosh, Fordham Frosh-some trio to meet on three successive weeks. But that's what our yearlings are up against. Last year we played the first two, licking the Prep team and tying th N. Y. U. Frosh.

A word about Ed Jolly, the former Springfield "Y" quarterback. He's a volunteer coach, not paid. Yet he's been out practically every day. And he works, observing, criticising, demonstrating. All we can say is Thanks. But a cheer at the next home game might show that we recognize and appreciate his labors.

President Mezes sprang a pleasant surprise when he opened Freshman Teams. the first assembly of the term with a speech on football. If anything, it shows that the Faculty are squarely behind the gridiron sport. They helped bring football back, and they're helping it make good.

Too bad that the hardest game of the season should take place on foreign fields. A good cheering section would mean another man on the line for our Varsity. ## TALKS TO BIO CLUB ON THEORIES OF SEX

Dr. Anderson, Latest Addition To Biology Department, Outlines Theories of Sex Transmission

The Bio Club listened to an interesting lecture by Dr. Anderson last Thursday. He has only recently come to C. C. N. Y. and this was his first appearance as a lecturer before the club. Over fifty students packed room 319 to capacity. The lecture dealt with the transmission of sex Many of the faculty were present.

Dr. Anderson opened by describing the contrast between the theories in vogue formerly and those now accepted. Whereas theories were usually closely supported by confirmatory were briefly outlined. This asserts that the sex is determined by some partic- time with serious results. Schuman ular characteristic or combination of received the ball and made as if to the chromosomes in the cell. The speaker tried to show the more recent scientific thought and research along these lines. He spoke of x and y chromosomes and many other more abstruse matters, illustrating them with hieroglyphics on the blackboard.

The basis for much of the present thought is in the results of experimentation on fruit flies, and the recent that some of the flies are not fertile at all and that combinations of chromosomes in an unusual manner mamake the fly sterile and weak so that it will die within a short time. In plants also, there are strange results. Some plants such as the corn develop not only the usual male tassel at the tip and the female tassel at the ear, but in addition extra sex organs so that both parts are both male and female and the plant is really doubly hermaphroditic.
