COLLEGE TRUSTEES WIN LEGAL BATTLE

Supreme Court Justice Mullan
Orders City to Appropriate
$226,000 Over Budget

COLLEGE COMMENDED ON 75 YEARS OF WORK

Mullan Warm In Praise of College — States It Fills Real Need In City's Life

Dr. Sidney E. Mezes, City College, and Hunter College won their third victory yesterday over Mayor Hylan and Comptroller Craig in the long-standing dispute over increased salaries for the two institutions. The city will be forced to appropriate $226,000 more for City College and $88,000 more for Hunter College than is provided in the budget.

Charles H. Tuttle, trustee of City College and its attorney, announced that Supreme Court Justice George V. Mullan had granted orders of mandamus against the Board of Estimate requiring appropriation of these additional amounts.

The decision makes short work of Corporation Counsel O'Brien's argument that the Legislature's action in permitting the college trustees to fix their own salary list is unconstitutional. In passing, the Justice declares that "it was the evident intention of the city to follow the prevalent custom of providing for the head of an institution of higher learning a residence on or near the grounds of the institution."

After reviewing the inception of the college Justice Mullan remarks: "For 75 years there has not been a suggestion that the college was not fulfilling a proper city purpose. The history of the college for 75 years amounts, I think, to a practical construction of the constitutional provision in question, that the college is supplying a city need and that moneys expended for its maintenance are paid for a city purpose."

Continuing the decision he says: "Undoubtedly the city could exist and prosper without a free college for the use of its denizens. So, too, could the city manage to survive with a reasonably comfortable body of citizens, if we had no free baths, no free band concerts, no free recreation piers. I think it is safe to say that any city activity or enterprise that is reasonably calculated to promote the happiness and general welfare of the people of a given community, is serving a 'city purpose.'"

Justice Mullan pays a high tribute to City College. He continues: "Young men who are desirous of grounding themselves for the professions or who, for other reasons, are eager to advance beyond the high schools, and who are without the means to enable them to enroll at the great out-of-town universities, would be denied the opportunity for a college education if free municipal institutions of learning, like the City College, are not permitted to exist. The States have for years been furnishing free educational facilities in the higher branches of learning. Why may a city, which, in most of its activities, operates merely as a state agency, not do the same?"

Free Institutions Desirable
"New York, if not the richest and most magnificent of the cities of the world, as many believe it to be, is at least a very great and very rich city and many things are proper for it to

DRAMATIC SOCIETY TO PERFORM THREE PLAYS

Cast For First of Three One-Act
Plays to Be Given Mar. 10
Already Selected

The Dramatic Society will hold its first regular rehearsal in preparation for the Varsity Show to-day at 1 o'clock in the English Library, Room 117. Three one-act plays are being prepared for the show. The cast for one comedy was chosen at the meeting last Friday, and the parts for the other two plays will probably be allotted this afternoon.

The three plays that were chosen are fairly unknown to the amateur stage. "Free Speech," written by a Harvard student in the '47 Workshop, is a farcical satire of life in Russia under the Czar's regime.

"Workhouse Ward," a comedy in the Irish dialect by Lady Gregory, the famous English playwright, will also be presented. This will be the second presentation of one of Lady Gregory's plays by the Dramatic Society.

The third play will be a one-act tragedy, "The Man Without a Head," recently written by Mr. Thanhauser, a student of Yale University.

James I. Corbett and "Bob" Trilling have won the two leading male roles in Lady Gregory's comedy. They are both adept at imitating the Irish accent, and have the ability to create real local color. Dr. Tynan hopes to recruit a young lady from the Evening Session to complete the cast.

Dr. Tynan gave a dramatic reading of "Free Speech" last Friday for the benefit of the club, and the members present were very enthusiastic about the comic possibilities of the play.

The Hecksher Foundation Theatre, at 105th Street and 5th Avenue, which has definitely been leased to house the show on March 10, is one of the most beautiful structures devoted to the Drama in New York City. It is a new building, having been completed only last year. The theatre's seating capacity is 672. It is fitted out to compare most favorably with the Broadway's finest.

There are still many men needed to attend to the business end of the affair. All men who are interested, particularly in regard to the scenery, stage settings, and electrical work, should see Seymour A. Copstein, stage manager. Poster artists should report to James I. Corbett, advertising manager, and men willing to help in compiling the program should communicate with Alvin Grauer.

GIVES DONATION FOR STUDENT EMPLOYMENT

Mr. Charles N. Nettleton, an old alumnus of the college, recently contributed twenty-five dollars to the Committee on the Employment of Students and accompanied the contribution with a letter in which he expressed his sincere appreciation of the work the employment committee is doing.

"I was very much interested," he said, "in your report of the Committee for Employment of Students. It seems to me that you have accomplished splendid results with a very small amount of money. I am enclosing my check for twenty-five dollars as a contribution to your expenses, and I send it with a great deal of pleasure."

PROF. SCOTT TALKS BEFORE BIO SOCIETY

Reviews McLeod's "Biochemistry and Medicine"—Screen Projections of Physical Culture Beauties Popular

The Bio Club began the term's activities with an initial meeting last Thursday at 4:30 P. M. in Room 319. The society will hold all its subsequent meetings at this late afternoon hour in order that it may not be pressed for time as is the case in midday meetings.

Professor Scott, the principal speaker, reviewed McLeod's "Physiology and Biochemistry in Relation to Modern Medicine." He explained that researches conducted recently at the University of Toronto revealed a valuable cure for diabetes. A hormone secreted by ductless glands in the pancreas promotes, normally, the oxidation of sugars. An extract of this hormone from a calf's factus can be administered to diabetes patients, when their own secretions are inadequate.

The speaker then turned to the problems of ventilation and riddled existing ideas on the subject.

The oxygen and carbon dioxide content of the air has no real significance, but air currents as opposed to stagnant air are the elements which determine the good or ill effects of the air. This was proved with some Oxford athletes, who, after smoking in a closed room for five hours, were greatly relieved by an electric fan. Professor Scott closed his talk with comments on the fact that the less clothing one wears, the smaller the possibility of catching cold, but advised that the members do not try this out just now.

After a talk by Simon Wolf '23, on the achievements of the U. S. Biological Survey, screen projections of Physical Culture beauties brought forth loud applause and hilarity from faculty and students.

EMPLOYED STUDENTS MAY CUT SCHEDULES

The Faculty Committee on Course and Standing has posted a notice in the Lincoln Corridor recommending that students who work after classes carry light schedules. On or before February 28 the schedules will be reduced upon application to the Recorder. The notice states moreover, that "for those who fail to do so, the plea of outside work cannot be accepted as excuse for a poor scholarship record."

This action was taken because of the difficulties which students who carry full schedules and work after classes have in their studies. Many of the cases of the students who are "dropped" from the roll of classes and of the College have been due to the ambitious schedule students have carried in addition to their extra work. The Faculty Committee has attempted to remedy this matter by advising and permitting such students who must do outside work to have their schedules lightened accordingly.

Moreover, it is generally the case that such students never participate in extra-curricular activities. As the value of these activities are great it is hoped that this action will allow these men to have a rounded out college education which necessarily includes these important college activities.

Varsity AND LION NATATORS TIE, 31-31

City College, Trailing by 8
Points, Saves Meet by Winning Relay Race

WALLACE SMASHES OLD BREASTSTROKE RECORD

Tie Breaks Long Losing Streak
—College and Columbia Now
Deadlocked for Last Place

On Friday, February 16, at the City College pool, the Blue and White could but tie the Lavender swimming team in a hard fought meet. A new record was made in the pool by Wallace of C. C. N. Y. for the 220 yard breast stroke. The hardest race was in the 100 yard dash which resulted in a tie between Wachter of Columbia and Dundes, the Lavender century man.

In the 220 yard breast stroke race Wallace took the lead for the Lavender at the very beginning and kept it with ease throughout. He travelled the distance in the record breaking time of 3:09.4 seconds. Several yards behind Wallace came Schneeweiss of C. C. N. Y., trailed by Matzk of Columbia.

Dundes experienced far more opposition in his race against Wachter of Columbia. Both ended in a dead heat after making the 100 yards in the fast time of 14 seconds. Nagel of Columbia finished right behind the two leaders.

The points which tied the score for Lavender came in the final event, in the relay race. At this stage of the meet, Columbia was leading by eight points, the score being 31-23.

Lavender hopes now centered on the relay team. Glynn, start-off man for the College, finished a few feet behind Knaebel. Harvey, however, practically settled the issue by overtaking Rothchild and giving Caspar, a newly discovered star, a comfortable lead. Murray Dundes finished well and the meet was tied. The time for the relay was 2:39.3, which was 2.1 seconds faster than the previous College record.

The summaries:
C. C. N. Y. (31) Columbia (31)
50-yard Swim—Won by Knaebel (C), Dundes (C. C. N. Y.), second; Rothchild (C), third. Time 27.2.

440-yard Swim—Won by Lange (C), Wachter (C), second; Schecter (C. C. N. Y.), third. Time, 6.39.

Fancy Dive—Won by Balbach (C), Josepher (C. C. N. Y.), second; Ferguson (C), third. Winning Score, 105.9.

150-yard Backstroke Swim—Won by Walker (C), Abatte (C. C. N. Y.), second; Huie (C. C. N. Y.) third. Time, 2:21.3.

220-yard Breast Stroke Swim—Won by Wallace (C. C. N. Y.), Schneeweiss (C. C. N. Y.), second; Matzk (C), third. Time, 3:09.4.

100-yard Swim, Dead Heat—Dundes (C. C. N. Y.) and Wachter (C); Knaebel (C), third. Time, 1:04.

800-foot Relay—Won by C. C. N. Y., (Glynn, Harvey, Caspar, Dundes). Time, 2:39.3.

Umpire—John Curran, N. Y. A. C.

ERRATUM

The daily newspapers erroneously reported last week that Frederick Kline, who was charged with disorderly conduct, is a student at C. C. N. Y. The registrar's office announces that no student by that name is now enrolled at the college.

Varsity Five Downs Syracuse In Rough Game, Score 30 to 21

Victory Wipes Out Previous One-Point Defeat And Puts College
In Line To Retain Eastern Championship

ROUGH TACTICS AND NUMEROUS FOULS MAKE CONTEST MOST POORLY-PLAYED OF SEASON

Foul-Shooters Of Both Teams In Pitiably Form—Match's Playing Features Second Half—College Leads
At Half Time By 17 To 10

The long-awaited tussle between the quintets of Syracuse and City College was staged last Saturday night in the College gymnasium. The Lavender proved to be the superior of the two, finishing on the winning end of a 30-21 score. Fight and roughness marred the smoothness of play, of which no worse exhibition was seen on the home court this year. Numerous fouls were called, which resulted in three men being removed. The victory avenged the 31-30 defeat suffered at Syracuse earlier in the season. The score at half time was 17 to 10 in favor of the College.

NEW YEARLING FIVE LOSES TO STUYVESANT

By 27 to 22 Score—Goldberg
Stars For Team

An excessive number of fouls called against them played a large part in sending the College yearlings down to defeat before the Stuyvesant High School quintet last Saturday night, in a game preliminary to the Varsity-Syracuse match. With a practically new line-up, the freshmen team did very well, losing by a margin of five points. They scored on three goals to their opponents' eight, and Goldberg, crack plebe forward, sent eight out of twelve fouls through the ring to his adversary's eleven out of twenty. The final score was 27-22.

Goldberg, the only yearling left on the team from the early part of the season's line-up, played a very fine game. He accounted for fourteen of the team's points, and was largely responsible for the passing that gave his teammates the chance to score the other tallies. Blumenreich and Zasuly displayed good form, and the entire team worked together well.

Dick and Lefel did most of the scoring for Stuyvesant. The Stuyvesant playing, though steadier because the men have played with each other for some time, was by no means better than the playing of the yearlings. Four of the men on the frosh line-up were playing their first game for the cubs, after but little practice, and displayed brilliant work. Another factor that may have been important in keeping victory from the yearlings was the shortening of the 2nd half, for the Syracuse team had to make a train back to Syracuse. With three minutes more to play, the freshmen, playing whirlwind ball towards the end of the game, might have been able to tie the score or win out, since only five points was the margin of advantage for their rivals.

In the first half, the high school lads took the lead on fouls, but ceded it to the freshmen after a few minutes of play, when Goldberg started the cubs' scoring with a neat shot from the side court. Goldberg tallied three field goals and three foul tries in the first period. The yearlings tallied five goals to their opponents four, and played a fine defensive and offensive game. They held a three-

By triumphing over the Salt City lads, Nat Holman's stars have succeeded in keeping intact their chances of retaining the Eastern championship, won last year by a practically unbeaten Lavender five. Inasmuch as Cornell, which was defeated earlier in the season by the Lavender, is now leading the Intercollegiate League, and is favored to win that championship, the College's chances for the coveted title are exceedingly bright. A victory over N. Y. U. on March 3 will clinch the issue, as far as C. C. N. Y. is concerned. The rest is up to Cornell.

Referee Hastings, officiating in place of Tom Thorp, called the game at 9:20. O'Brien did the umpiring.

On the tap-off, both teams appeared nervous and strained. This became evident when the men began fumbling the ball. After a few minutes of unfruitful playing, Mendelson of Syracuse, unable to break through, caged a goal from midfield. Edelstein missed on two free tries after Fisher fouled Klauber. Palitz then put the college in on scoring by caging a beautiful shot on a dead run, after a swift pass from Nadel. Greve put Syracuse again in the lead, when, following up an unsuccessful attempt from the field, he netted one under the basket.

The College five then let loose with a whirlwind brand of play, which swept the Syracuse lead into insignificance, and gave them an advantage which they held for the rest of the game. "Doc" Edelstein and Captain Klauber broke through the entire Syracuse team for scores. Little Jackie Nadel shifted away from Fisher, and put the College far in the lead. At this stage of the game, MacRae was hurt in a collision with Edel. He continued to play however. Ediel and Gallivan then engaged in a duel all their own from the foul line. The College star caged four to his rival's two. Both were in poor form, missing numerous attempts. The half ended with the score at 17 to 10 in favor of the Lavender.

Not long after the second period started, Greve was removed for too many personal fouls.

McCarthy took his place. The game continued to wax rougher and rougher. Wretched basketball was displayed by both sides. The Syracuse players, in particular, probably forgetting that they were playing on a foreign court, adopted the same tactics that were evidenced on their

SIXTEEN CONTESTS FOR VARSITY NINE

Attractive Schedule Includes Ten Home Contests—Season To Open April 7

COLGATE UNIVERSITY TO FURNISH FEATURE GAME

Washington and Lee and Colgate Are Newcomers—Usual Strong Teams Will Be Met

The Lavender varsity nine will engage in sixteen games this season, according to the schedule issued by Manager Bill Prager. Ten contests are slated for the Lewisohn Stadium and six for foreign fields. The southern trip made last year has been omitted. The newcomers on the card are Washington and Lee University of Virginia, and Colgate University.

The season opens on April 17th at South Field, where the varsity will engage Columbia. This marks the first time in Lavender baseball history that Columbia is engaged in the season's opener. Last year the Blue and White nine was met when the season was well under way. While the Columbia contest will be Lavender's premier engagement, the Morningside team will already have completed a southern tour, on which it is scheduled to meet some of the best college teams in the country.

The varsity next travels to West Point, where it will take on the Army nine. Last year, the cadets earned an 11-2 victory, the Lavender team being in the throes of an unusually deep slump. A meeting with Stevens at Hoboken terminates the varsity's early season travels. The Engineers were downed last year as the result of a brilliant last inning rally, 6-5.

The home season opens on April 18th when Brooklyn Poly comes to the Stadium. Last year, Axtell and Methessel, the crack Poly hurler, staged a pretty pitching duel, until Coach Holman took Axtell out to save him for the West Point game, when the Brooklynites went ahead to win, 6-2. Manhattan College and Cathedral College next take turns in visiting the Stadium. Manhattan is the only opponent with whom a home-and-home arrangement has been made. The local team was taken into camp last year by the score of 4-1. The last meeting between Cathedral and City College took place two years ago.

The varsity next travels to Hartford, where Trinity College is encountered. At the Stadium, last year, the Connecticut nine was buried under a 12-1 count. The Lavender next plays two games at home, with St. Francis and St. John's furnishing the opposition. The former was defeated 3-2 in a tight game last year. The latter returns to the Stadium after an absence of several years. A return engagement with Manhattan, at the Catholic Protectors Oval, follows.

N. Y. U. opens the last lap of the schedule, which fairly bristles with first-class attractions. The game with the University Heights team should furnish one of the big attractions of the season, as it did two years ago, when the Violet last invaded the Lavender's premises. The Hall of Fame team, with a complete veteran lineup, should turn out one of the strongest nines in local circles this season. The Violet holds a 5-1 decision over the Lavender as a result of the last meeting. Washington and Lee will represent the South this year. Judging from the calibre of former Southern teams that have been seen in action at the Stadium, the Lavender nine will have a busy time of it on May 12. Last season, William and Mary College, and North Carolina came up from south of the Mason and Dixon line, and gave two of the finest exhibitions of baseball seen on the home lot in a long spell. St. Stephens College, which helped the Lavender inaugurate its first varsity football season in fifteen years, is the next opponent on the card, followed by Fordham University. C. C. N. Y. furnished the Metropolitan district a considerable surprise last season, when

FACULTY MANAGER OF ATHLETICS APPOINTED

Professor Williamson Chosen For New Position—Has Done Much For College Sports

Professor Walter M. Williamson of the Hygiene Department has been appointed to the position of Faculty Manager of Athletics. This is a new position in the College sports administration and is similar to that of graduate manager of athletics at other institutions.

The appointment of Professor Williamson comes as a direct result of his past work in connection with C. C. N. Y. sports. He has been the author of many important changes in the administration of athletics. Finances, the stability of which is the most important factor in the maintenance of athletics, have been put on a firm basis. Football as a major sport has been resumed after a lapse of fifteen years. All minor sports have been encouraged and have progressed rapidly.

Professor Williamson was graduated from New York University in 1906. In September 1907 he started work at this institution and has been here ever since. Two years ago, because of his continued interest in athletics and his capacity for work, he was appointed. Secretary to the Faculty Athletic Committee. He served in this position until his present appointment.

FRESHMAN FIVE WILL PLAY BROOKLYN POLY

The reconstructed freshman five will take the floor against the yearlings of Brooklyn Polytechnic Institute, in the preliminary game, this Saturday night. The Lavender cubs, having accounted for four victories in eight starts, are anxious to win Saturday's game and assure themselves of an even-break for the season.

Brooklyn Poly has established freshman athletics only within the last year. Little is known of the record or calibre of the Gray basketeers, but "Pop" Foster, head coach of the Engineers, has a habit of turning out fast fives.

Lack of teamwork was the principal factor in the downfall of the College freshmen in the game against Stuyvesant. The loss of four veterans has disrupted the combination and made necessary the formation of an entirely new team. "Rube" Goldberg, the dependable forward, is the only regular left. Experience in the five-man game should make a really good guard of Shein, ex-captain of the Hoboken High team, who has just entered College. Coach Parker's problem lies in adequately filling the other three positions before Saturday night.

It trounced the Maroon on the latter's field 7-2. Ted Axtell's twirling, which held the Bronxites helpless, was the feature of the contest.

The season will be wound up with two home games. On May 26, Drexel University, another of Lavender's football opponents, visits the Stadium diamond, and, on May 31, Colgate rings down the curtain in the feature contest of the season. The up-state institution enjoys great prominence in all fields of sports, and its ball tossers are an eloquent example of its prowess. This contest should be one of the best of the season.

The schedule:
 March 26 Cathedral College Home

CORNELL TAKES LEAD IN BASKETBALL LEAGUE

Dartmouth's defeat by Cornell in an intercollegiate basketball game Saturday night puts the Ithaca five in the sole lead in the race for the League championship. The big Red Team defeated the Green by the close score of 32 to 31, in an extra five minute period, the teams having been deadlocked at 26-all at the final whistle. Before Saturday's game a triple tie for first place had existed between Cornell, Princeton, and Yale.

In the only other league match of the evening, Columbia, playing in top-notch form, won her third straight league contest by downing the University of Pennsylvania, 23 to 18. As a result, the Blue and White is pushing Princeton and Yale for second place.

Cornell, defeated only by Yale, which in turn was conquered by Columbia, now rules an overwhelming favorite for the title.

Cornell	4	1	.800
Princeton	3	1	.750
Yale	3	1	.750
Columbia	3	2	.600
Pennsylvania	0	4	.000
Dartmouth	0	4	.000

DISCIPLINE COMMITTEE FORBIDS PLATE GAMES

At the last meeting of the Discipline Committee, a rule was passed forbidding the exceedingly popular alcove game of playing with plates on the tables. It was condemned by the committee because it is a childish sport, because it disturbs those trying to study, and because it causes loss to Mr. Hammond, proprietor of the lunch room. The committee will severely punish anyone violating this rule.

No gambling of any sort nor eating in the alcoves will be tolerated.

NEW YEARLING FIVE LOSES TO STUYVESANT

 point lead right up to the end of the first half, when, with a foul and a field goal the Stuyvesant players brought the score to a tie at 13-all.

The schoolboys took the lead in the second period, and had a margin of eleven points before the yearlings started creeping up on them. Putting up a fine defense, and displaying some speedy offensive work, the cubs kept the Stuyvesant tally at 24 until they had advanced their own to 19. Both teams exchanged a foul and a goal bringing their respective scores to 27 and 22, which remained so until the timekeeper blew for the end of the fray.

HANDBALL TEAM WINS FROM TRINITY STARS

College Captures Three Out of Five Games—Swertlow Beats Sakman in Straight Games

Last Saturday the City College handball team nosed out the Trinity A. C. in the hardest fought meet of the season, to-date. The score was 3-2, and it was only the superb playing of Swertlow and Milgram that enabled the College to defeat the crack downtown combination.

William Sakman, the Trinity star and one of the greatest handball players in the country, fell an easy victim to the onslaught of the skillful Swertlow. This makes the second time the College mainstay has defeated the tall Trinity wall artist.

Milgram, the Lavender captain, received unexpected opposition from Lenin, Sakman's team-mate. The sturdy Varsity player lost the first set but won the next two in quick time. The doubles match between Milgram and Swertlow, for the College, and Sakman and Lenin, for Trinity, was the feature of the afternoon. The Lavender duo triumphed after three hard fought games. Reichgott, C. C. N. Y., lost the remaining singles match and paired with Schaefer to lose in the doubles. A sixth match was scheduled but not played because Buxbaum, Trinity ace, failed to appear.

Next Saturday, the team meets Columbia, in the first intercollegiate match of the schedule.

The Monday following, the team travels to Brooklyn to meet the Crescent A. C.

The scores:—
 Swertlow City College, defeated Sakman, Trinity A. C. 21-7, 21-7.

Milgram, C. C. N. Y., defeated Lenin, Trinity A. C. 18-21, 21-15, 21-6.

Milgram and Swertlow defeated Sakman and Lenin, 18-21, 21-18, 21-15. Keenan, Trinity A. C., defeated Reichgott, C. C. N. Y. 21-12, 12-21, 21-17. Keenan and Bosing defeated Reichgott and Schaefer, 21-10, 21-16.

VARSITY CLUB ELECTS OFFICERS TO-MORROW

Letter Men to Hold First Formal Meeting—Organization Plans to Be Discussed

The newly-formed Varsity Club, composed of all men who have ever earned their varsity letters, will meet to-morrow afternoon at 3 o'clock in the A. A. room.

An informal meeting of the club was held last Thursday. Plans of organization were brought up, but it was decided to leave matters in the hands of a committee, of which Leo Klauber, captain of the basketball team, is chairman and Lou Oshins, varsity hallback, secretary.

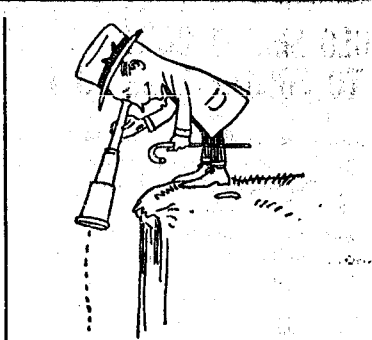

The formation of the club is looked upon with great favor by C. C. N. Y. men, who feel that such an organization will supply a long-felt want. The club seeks to foster City College athletics and to enable former City College stars to be of service to their Alma Mater.

VARSITY WATERMEN BATTLE TIGER TEAM

The Varsity swimming and water-polo teams will meet Princeton, this Friday night, at the Jersey pool. In a previous meet, the Tigers won a double triumph, winning the swim 44-18 and the polo match, 44-13.

The varsity sextette is not in the best of condition for its struggle with the championship Nassau outfit. "Little" George Shapiro and Kukiel, regular backs, have been declared ineligible, while John Dondero, the star forward, is under the weather a bit.

The swimming team has been improving steadily, and showed its best against Columbia, last week. The natators have little chance to win but should improve considerably over their previous effort against Princeton.

Lavender Touch Goal

Columbia defeated the College water-polo team last Friday evening in the college pool in a slow game. The final score was 29-14. With Captain Shapiro out of the line-up with the grip, Dondero out with an infected eye, Kukiel out for the same reason, and "Little George" Shapiro out because of ineligibility, it was well-nigh impossible for the team to make a formidable showing. "Rube" Ornstein, who returned to College this term, made a very welcome addition to the team, appearing at his old post at goal. "Hal" Schnurer scored Lavender's single touch goal shortly after he substituted for Clancy at center forward. His scrappy showing was very commendable. "Turk" Tannenbaum scored the other nine points with two thrown goals and three fouls.

Mindlin and Beiswinger starred for the Blue and White team. Mindlin scored four touch goals, and Beiswinger scored a touch goal and four foul goals. Both men are veterans of last year's sextette.

The first half started with an extended fight at both goals. After a few minutes of play, the ball was slapped against the boards by Mindlin for Columbia's first tally. Beiswinger added to the Blue and White score with two foul shots, and tallied a touch goal on a pass from Mindlin. The score stood at 12-0 when Coach McCormick substituted "Hal" Schnurer for Clancy. Hal immediately proceeded to make the action a little more interesting. He grappled with his opponent at the goal, and in the melee that ensued, swam over the heads and shoulders of all the men in the tussle, and scored an exciting goal. Beiswinger scored twice on a foul on Nacovsky, bringing the total to 14-5. The half ended with no further scoring.

Quite some surprise was occasioned when Captain Shapiro appeared in the line-up for the second half. George was suffering acutely with the grip, and it wasn't believed that he would be able to enter the contest. He lined up in Trachman's place, however, and rendered an able account of himself.

Mindlin brought the Lions' score to nineteen after a tough tussle at the goal, soon after the second period started. Turk tallied three fouls out of four attempts; Mindlin scored two touch goals in a row, bringing the count to 29-8. Turk threw two thrown goals shortly before the final whistle. The summary:

Columbia (29)	C. C. N. Y. (14)

MR. TULGAN PUBLISHES THESIS ON RESEARCHES

Joseph Tulgan of the Biology Department has just completed his Ph. D. thesis and has sent it to press. It will appear in the American Journal of Physiology. The forty page paper is entitled "A Study of the Relation of Afferent Impulses to the Activity of the Central Cardiac Vascular Nervous Mechanism." The facts presented in the thesis are calculated to stir up considerable controversy.

Mr. Tulgan graduated from the College in 1920. While teaching at the college, he pursued his studies in Physiology at Columbia. He gained the Master's degree in 1921 and he is now completing his work for his Doctor of Philosophy.

SYRACUSE DOWNED ROUGH BATTLE, 30-21

home precincts. MacRae, especially was most flagrant in his violations. He hung on Jimmie Curran's neck, and entwined his arms like an octopus about Edel's body. At one time he sent little Jackie, who was just about to dribble through for a basket, sliding and spinning on his haunches along the width of the floor. All these injuries might have been heaped as deserved retribution upon the heads of the erring up-staters themselves, had Edel been able to convert their mistakes into points. Under ordinary circumstances, such rough handling would have been shown to be unprofitable; but with Edel resting evidently on past laurels, the Syracuse players felt privileged to take liberties. So Jackie and Jimmie and the rest were oscillated and flung about unceremoniously by the barbaric Orange invaders, without any prospect of being avenged.

As the game proceeded thus violently, several things happened. Mendelson, cutting in for the ball, smashed into Klauber and was all but laid out. For a moment, it seemed as though the dark-haired youth would be unable to continue to play; but after receiving some medical attention, he pluckily remained in the fray, amid the plaudits of the huge crowd. The game continued, unabated one whit in roughness. Poor Palitz, playing his first game as member of the regular five, became the innocent butt of Referee Hastings' rulings, and was banished from the game because of alleged roughness. The same fate was immediately after allotted to Gallivan, which brought the number of ejections up to three. Match was substituted for Palitz, while Trout went in to tread the stormy path vacated by his teammate.

From this point on, all the action really worth-while centered about Match. Pinkie really played a remarkable game. Soon after being substituted, he crashed through for a booming basket, and for the rest of the fray put up a scrappy, expert, cool-headed exhibition. He played so well, indeed, as to incur the umbrage of the doughty MacRae, himself, and in a little mix-up that followed, the lanky Orange center gave vent seemingly unreserved to his displeasure, thereby bringing down upon himself the enraged jeers of the mammoth mob. Referee Hastings let loose with some wild gestures, indicative, evidently, of MacRae's banishment, but a consultation with Umpire O'Brien was productive of nothing more than a double foul being called, and MacRae remained to continue his havoc.

After Match's basket, described above, Edel caged a goal which brought the scoring for the game to a close. With the score standing 30-21 and about one minute to play, Coach Holman trotted out his trusty reserves and gave them a chance to lick up or mop up whatever had been left by their teammates of the Syracuse minions.

The game, as a whole, while not lacking in thrills here and there, was undoubtedly the most disappointing ever exhibited on the Lavender court this season or any season. Syracuse's rough methods affected the varsity's usual clean, brilliant playing, and the results were extremely dissatisfying. The big crowd went away with few words of praise and commendation.

MENORAH FACES BUSY TERM OF ACTIVITIES

Open Forum and Hebrew Circle Tomorrow—Smoker Planned—Washington D. C. Visited

Menorah will officially resume its activities to-morrow with an open forum at 12 o'clock in Room 126 on "Anti-Semitism, Causes and Results." All students are invited to attend. At 1 P. M., following the forum, an organization meeting of the Hebrew Circle will take place in Room 12. All Hebrew speakers are urged to be present.

The membership campaign will soon go under way. This term's aim is 250 members. The society carried 175 names on its lists last semester. Menorah visited Washington on Sunday, February 11 and viewed all the famous sites, structures and government buildings in the capital.

A smoker will be held by the society in about three weeks. Admission will be free to members, while outsiders are also invited at one dollar per.

Those members who do not, at once, return books that have been drawn from the Menorah library will have their library privilege revoked.

ENGINEERING CLASSES VISIT FURNITURE SHOP

The mechanical engineering students of the School of Technology visited, last Friday, the furniture shop of the Nohm Company on East 53rd Street. With Professor Bruckner, acting as guide, the Tech men examined the numerous machines and saw many household articles in the process of manufacture.

This trip is but one of many that the classes of Professor Bruckner plan for the term. The factories of the largest electrical concerns will be visited and the machines used will be studied in detail.

PROFESSOR MOORE BACK

Professor Thomas R. Moore of the History Department has resumed his teaching, this semester, after a leave of absence which extended through the greater part of last term. The results of overwork in teaching and in extra-curricular activity had made the leave of absence necessary.

VOLUME BY ALUMNUS FINEST IN ITS FIELD

Murray P. Horwood who was graduated from the College about ten years ago, and now is an Instructor in the Department of Biology of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, recently published a volume entitled "Public Health Surveys." This book is considered in public health circles, the finest work in its field, and has brought much credit to the author.

The preface to the work was written by William T. Sedgwick, who until the time of his sudden death was the greatest authority on public health. This preface was his last contribution to the scientific world. Horwood's success in obtaining Sedgwick's endorsement and the presence of this preface in the volume has greatly added to its prestige.

PROF. DOWNER OFFICER OF COLUMBIA ALUMNI

Professor Charles A. Downer, head of the department of Romance Languages, was elected vice-president of the Alumni Federation of Columbia University at its meeting on February 15. Prof. Downer received the degree of Doctor of Philosophy in Languages from Columbia University in 1901.

do that might not be proper in the case of a small and poor community. I think there is little room for doubt that it is proper and eminently desirable for this city to maintain free institutions of higher learning like the College of the City of New York. I am of the opinion that there is left no particle of room for doubt that the College is, and has been for 75 years, actually serving a city purpose."

Justice Mullan devotes considerable space to maintaining his decision that any monies expended by the city for maintenance of City College is for a "city purpose."

"If I am right in deciding that the college is serving a city purpose," he concludes, "it follows that the city must yield to every mandate of the legislature in relation to the college unless any such mandate is inhibited by some other constitutional provision. "Let the mandamus issue."

'27 SHUNS SCRAP LEAVING JUNIORS TO ENGAGE SOPHS

The meek unassuming Freshmen were extremely shocked last Friday, when, in the midst of their peaceful cheering rally, a wild horde of barbarous Sophs descended upon the unsuspecting newcomers and chastised them unmercifully. It was not long, however, before the Frosh, urged on by the bellicose orators of the '25 class, charged the Sophs and endeavored to retake the alcove.

By this time the Juniors, who had previously confined their activities to inciting the Freshmen to further endeavor, were thoroughly aroused, and pitched into the Sophs with frenzied enthusiasm. The Freshmen quietly dropped out of the melee, and the battle raged between the Sophs and Juniors, with the latter having slightly the better of the situation. The contest was suddenly terminated by the ringing of the two-o'clock bell, and, cheering their opponents lustily, the Freshmen and Sophomore combatants departed in peace.

MATH AND PHYSICS DEPARTMENTS MEET

The Math and Physics Departments held a joint meeting last Tuesday afternoon. Mr. Marcus of the Physics Department, derived and explained Maxwell's Equations. A general discussion followed the lecture.

"Sheer Height"

THE American business building represents a distinct and national architectural style when its design frankly emphasizes its sheer height and outwardly expresses the inner facts of its construction. The tall buildings which stand as monuments throughout the country to the vision of our architects and the skill of our engineers have, in the gigantic profiles which they rear against the sky, the true American spirit of aspiration and progress toward even greater achievements.

Certainly modern invention—modern engineering skill and organization, will prove more than equal to the demands of the architecture of the future.
