MANHATTAN AGAIN BOWS TO VARSITY

College Nine Turns in First
Shutout of Season—
Score, 5-0

TED AXTELL ALLOWS BUT THREE SAFETIES

Only One Manhattanite Reaches
Third Base—Willie Trulio
Makes Three Hits

The College nine smeared a 5-0 defeat over Manhattan, at the Stadium, last Monday. Earlier this season the Lavender crushed this same opponent 11-4 and Monday's contest was a return game. Manhattan played the part of home team and batted last.

Teddy Axtell, turning in the first shutout of his varsity career, was the big noise of the College victory. The husky southpaw was in superlative form and allowed only three widely-scattered hits. Just one Manhattanite got as far as third base. Teddy fanned nine wearers of the green and showed perfect control, passing not a single man. The College infield backed Axtell in great style making only one error and cutting off several potential hits. Jack Weisberg, in the eighth inning, contributed a one-hand stop that was the feature of the game.

Match, playing his first game since his recovery from his recent illness, handled his one chance in pleasing style. Trulio, with a double and two singles in four trips to the plate, was followed close for batting honors by Bongiorno, Weisberg, and Captain Axtell, who gathered two safe smacks apiece. Thirteen hits was the College total. Percy, with a pair of doubles accounted for two-thirds of the Manhattan hits.

Teddy Axtell opened the second with a stiff single over short. Willie Trulio laid a bunt along the line and won a life when McDonough, fielding the ball, found no one on the bag to take his throw. A fast throw caught Axtell off second. When Salz fled out to left, the chances for a score seemed remote. Trulio stole second, however, and scored when Joe Bongiorno lined a double over Percy's head. Another tally was chalked up in the fifth. With one down, Jackie Nadel singled and pilfered second, to score on Weisberg's drive through short.

In the seventh, a two-base wild throw by Miller and a sharp single into left by Archie Hahn gave City College its third run. The scoring was completed in the ninth. Pinkee Match after slashing a slow ball over short, stole second. Jackie walked and Weisberg went out on a foul bunt on his third strike.

The eighth was the only inning in which Manhattan reached third base. Percy led off with his second double, a liner which Jackie Nadel just missed spearing, after a desperate run. McDonough fled out to Nadel, but Newman shot a hard grounder between first and second, that seemed destined for right field and a hit. Jack Weisberg cutting across at full speed scooped up the ball in his gloved hand and just nailed Newman with a pretty throw to first. Percy reached third where he was left when Weisberg pulled down McCarty's hot liner. The score by innings follows:

Manhattan 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 —0 3 1
Batteries: Axtell and Hahn; McCarty and Sullivan, Newman.

'U' COMMITTEE ELECTIONS

All men who wish to apply for any of the three positions of Chairman, Vice-Chairman, and Secretary of the "U" committee, must submit their names to Chairman Etra or Secretary Berson of the present "U" committee, before Friday, May 18, at 12 o'clock.

PROF. BALDWIN TO GIVE 900TH ORGAN RECITAL

City Emblem Will be Presented to the Professor—Sunday's Recital Concludes Series

Professor Samuel Atkinson Baldwin, F. A. G. O., will give his 900th Public Organ Recital next Sunday afternoon, May 20, at four o'clock. This recital will conclude the present series. It will be under the auspices of the Mayor and the City. To further honor the occasion, the representative of the city will present the flag of the city to Professor Baldwin. It is not yet known who will officiate on this occasion as the city's delegate.

The recitals in the Great Hall have brought much good music to hundreds of thousands who otherwise would not have had it. During the nine hundred recitals there have been 7,134 performances of 1,336 different works, embracing every school of organ composition and hundreds of other fields of music. The next series of recitals will commence on October 3, and will be given on Wednesdays and Sundays.

The performance next Sunday afternoon will include, in all, eight recitals. Selections from the works of Beethoven, Wagner and Schubert will be given. Among the various pieces is a rhapsody by Professor Baldwin. The professor has been at work on this composition for a long time.

Professor Baldwin was born in Salt City, Minnesota, in 1862. He is a graduate of the Royal Conservatory of Music of Dresden. At the age of 15, he began as an organist at the House of Hope Presbyterian Church, of St. Paul, Minnesota. In 1895, the professor settled in New York City. Professor Baldwin has been a professor of music, and an organist at City College since 1907. He is a founder, a fellow and a past warden of the American Guild of Organists.

OFFICERS TO DINE AT CITY COLLEGE CLUB

The Officers' Club will hold its annual dinner on the evening of Tuesday, May 28, at the City College Club. The club has invited the Military Science Department to attend. Professor Holton, Colonel Arnold, Major Whipple, Captain Winfield, Lieutenant Jacobs, and Lieutenant MacLamor have promised to be present.

The committee which is arranging the function consists of Samuel Levinson, '24, and Harold Wilson, '23.

STUDENTS MAY CHANGE DATES OF MILI SCI EXAM

The Department of Military Science and Tactics announces that those students who will be absent on May 21 and 22, Monday and Tuesday of next week, due to religious holidays, will be permitted to shift their examination day to the latter part of the week. These men must first apply for permission at the office of the department.

AWARD DELANEY ORATIONS PRIZE

Herbert S. Vogel Given Second
Award in Original Orations Contest

SJORGEN IS WINNER OF ROEMER POETRY PRIZE

Judge Hartman and Mr. Moses, Former Prize Winners, and
Prof. Winans Are Judges

The Semi-Annual Prize Speaking Contests were conducted last Friday evening in the Great Hall. Hubert T. Delaney, '23, who spoke on "The Negro as a Soldier," was awarded the first prize in the Original Orations Contest. Herbert S. Vogel, '23, for his discussion of "Music in America," received the second prize and Clarence L. Sjorgen, '24, won the Roemer Poetry Prize. Judge Gustave Hartman announced the decisions. Professor J. A. Winans of Dartmouth College and Mr. Henry C. Moses were the other judges. Mr. Moses and Judge Hartman are winners of former contests. Professor Mosher acted as chairman and Professor Baldwin rendered organ selections during the intermissions.

The Original Orations were given first. Hubert T. Delaney, '23, who won the first prize given by the Board of Trustees, spoke third on "The Negro as a soldier." Addressing the audience in a quiet tone, Delaney convinced them by his sincerity. He said in part, "The history of the Negro soldier is a series of valorous deeds achieved by a set of loyal Americans in the defense of their country. In every crisis of our national history the black man has shown his endeviating devotion to the honor and glory of our nation. He has, because of his conspicuous bravery, been invited to share the perils of our wars, but he has not been accorded the privilege of sharing the spoils of victory. In spite of that fact, his courage and valor have remained unshaken.

"His patriotism has been unquestioned; his valor could not be, for his blood flows like an ever moving stream throughout our national history, from Boston Commons where Crispus Attucks fell, to Chateaufort where an entire battalion of the New York Fifteenth were awarded the French Croix de Guerre for their conspicuous bravery....

"When we consider that 200,000 Negroes left America to fight in the hope of rebuilding American democracy and came back only to be cheered upon their arrival and forgotten after the war was won; forgotten I say because they found on their return American democracy persistently denying them the rights and immunities of a true democracy for which they had been fighting; when we consider that they received as their reward the destruction of their homes, the burning of their brothers by reckless mobs, urged on by race prejudice while they were on the field of battle defending their country's honor; I say when we consider this, we are forced to the conclusion, that patriotism and valor, under such trying circumstances possess a peculiar merit and beauty.... How long will the United States, the founder of democracy in the Western World, allow them to suffer such abuses, unaided?

COLLEGE DEBATES MANHATTAN FRIDAY

Lavender Debates U. S. Participation in World Court with Manhattan College

DANCING IN GYM TO FOLLOW DEBATE

Levine, Berman, Weisman and Spitz to Represent College—Prof.
Duggan to Preside

On this Friday evening, the Varsity Debating Team will debate Manhattan College in the Great Hall. The Lavender will argue the affirmative of the question, "Resolved, That the U. S. should join the Permanent Court of International Justice as recommended by President Harding."

There will be a dance following the debate in the Gymnasium. Tickets can be obtained from members of the Debating Council at 75 cents per couple.

The team that will represent the College against Manhattan consists of Milton I. Levine, '23, Captain, Jeremiah Berman '24, Hyman Weisman '25 and Henry Spitz '25, alternate. Manhattan College will be represented by M. McCaffrey, Captain, Murphy, Martin and Walrad.

Professor Stephen Pierce Duggan of the Department of Government and Sociology and Director of the Institute of International Education, will preside. The judges for the debate are Dr. Francis J. Paul, Principal of De Witt Clinton High School, Professor H. A. Wichelms of New York University and Dr. Arthur A. Boylan of George Washington High School.

The debate will be keenly contended and a large audience is expected. Last year Manhattan College earned a 2 to 1 decision over the Lavender, and will be represented this year by the same team. Capt. Levine and Weisman of the College team were members of the team which met Manhattan last year and Friday's contest will be characterized by keen rivalry for the decision to avenge last year's defeat. The World Court question is one of great current interest and is attracting much discussion in official and educational centers. It is consequently one of more than academic interest and will probably be acted upon by the senate in the near future.

During the intermissions Professor Samuel A. Baldwin will render several selections on the organ.

A dance in the gym has been arranged for by Acting-Manager Levy. Tickets are on sale at 75 cents per couple. A band has been procured and a large number are expected to attend.

The college team is composed of veteran debaters. Capt. Levine was a member of the team which met Manhattan last year and is the present Manager of Debate. Weisman has debated against Manhattan and also against N. Y. U. last year. "Jerry" Berman '24 was also a member of the team that debated N. Y. U.

Professor Erastus Palmer of the Public Speaking Department coached the team.

The debate is being directed by the Debating Council consisting of Milton I. Levine, '23, Chairman, Irving J. Levy '24, David Katz '25 and Sidney Jacobi '26.

BOAT AND BALL TICKETS

Excursion tickets will serve as admittance cards to the varsity baseball game, this Saturday. The game will be started at 10 A. M. St. Stephens, the College that opened the varsity football season last year, will furnish the opposition.

COUNCIL WILL HOLD NOMINATIONS MAY 24

Nominating Convention Will Be Held at the Time of Fresh
Assembly

The Student Council Nominating Convention will be held Thursday, May 24, at 12 Noon, in Room 126. The elections will take place the following Monday, May 28, while a second ballot, if necessary, will be conducted on Thursday, May 31. The Election Committee, appointed by President Klauber, is composed of L. Kaufman, '23; Samson Z. Sorkin, '25; and Frederick L. Kraut, '26.

It was originally intended to hold the Convention at an assembly, but as May 17 is Charter Day, and May 24 is a date assigned to a Freshman Assembly, the original plan was changed so as not to delay the election to the very end of the term. Only '24 men are eligible for presidency and vice-presidency while the secretaryship is open only to members of the Class of 1925. All Union members except those of the incoming freshman class are permitted to vote.

The office of president will be closely contested this term. Three men have already declared their intention to run. F. Eugene Corbie, '24, secretary of the Council; Max Etra, '24, chairman of the Union Committee, and Alexander J. Whyman, '24, vice-president of the Council, will contest the presidency. Each of the three candidates are in the forefront of the College. They are so evenly matched that the College political experts predict an unusually heavy vote at the polls.

Samuel Levinson, '24, a member of the Student Council, and Co-op and Lunch Room Committees, and chairman of the Club Committee, has announced his candidacy for the office of vice-president. Rubin Berson, '25, of the Student Council, The Campus, secretary of Soph Skull and assistant manager of Track, will contest the position of secretary with Abel Meeropol, '25, Editor of the Lavender Book, Gargler, Soph Skull, and member of the "Merc" Staff.

SECOND ISSUE OF "LIT" TO APPEAR IN A WEEK

The next issue of the Lavender, the new "Lit," will go to press this week and will be on sale the week of May 24.

This second number, in addition to the literary contributions, will contain several critical articles and more editorial comment than was given in the first issue. Many of the contributors to the first issue, among them Arthur Quali, Milton Steinberg, David Beres, Seymour Copstein, and Albert H. Aronson will again be represented. Mr. Aronson has promised to contribute an article on the request of the Student Council for a student curriculum committee. He will present the opinions of members of both the faculty and the student body.

BY B. J. K.

We are neither very old nor very crabbed, yet we expect to say after tomorrow that the Faculty-Senior baseball game "ain't what it used to be." The "profs" will be there, also the seniors, Nat Holman will pitch, the band will play its other song, and Professor Otis will keep score to make sure that no radical makes a hit. It will all be interesting and amusing enough for freshmen and sophomores and we advise these youngsters to see the game. But for us of '23 and '24 there can be but one thought, tomorrow—Where, oh where is our friend Bill Guthrie?

Ah, we picture him clearly as he umpired the last Faculty-Senior affair. We recall once more that great heart needing so many yards and yards of chest-protector to safeguard it, that smile that outshone Louie Warsoff's gold teeth, that voice that could talk even louder and longer than any 4 Student Councillors (believe it or not). We recall—but we cannot continue. Bear with us, dear friends, our heart is in Iowa there with Guthrie and we must pause till it come back to us.

But seriously, as some other great writer once said, "He was our friend, faithful and true." "Big Bill" Guthrie, of all the members of the faculty, came nearest being one of us,—for, greatest virtue of all, he was a "regular fellow". He alone, of the entire faculty took a genuine and active interest in us and our doings; he followed our teams, helped our various drives, and even attended our dances—though we could never persuade him to try any dancing himself. He knew us and liked us as did none of his fellow teachers and we knew him and liked him as we did none of his fellow teachers.

Wherefore, we say again, "Go, little lads, and enjoy your game." As for us—we shall also come, but we shall gather together in a circle and talk in hushed and reverend tones of "Big Bill" Guthrie. And Louie Warsoff shall weep as he tells how Guthrie languished in Iowa for months without major insignia. And the athletes shall weep as they tell how they must now elect subjects other than Government. And we ourselves shall weep as we bawl out the new "ump." So shall we all weep till the grounds are wet and the game is called. Which will be a fitting tribute to the memory of "big Bill," friend of City College.

A MYSTERY STORY

As Teddy Axtell labored on the mound last Monday, something seemed to be troubling him. A dark scowl adorned Theodore's handsome countenance. He struck out three Manhattan batsmen and the scowl remained, he smashed out a hit and his face was still clouded. Evidently enough, our hero was not at his customary ease. But he fanned nine men, allowed only three scattered hits, and shut out the enemy.

And after the game, Teddy came into the A. A. room—still scowling, still troubled. Casually, he thrust a hand into his pocket and then—the yell he let out brought us up upon our feet. "That's why I didn't feel like pitching," he said as he drew a square, waxed-paper package from his pocket, "I forgot to eat that other sandwich!"

"Didn't feel like pitching"—three hits—nine strike-outs—no runs. Darn it all, why didn't he eat that sandwich and feel like pitching and we might have had a no-hit game.

REAL ANNOUNCING

Heard at the freshman track meet, last Saturday. "Shot-put, won by X—. Distance, 36 feet. just." And this from a varsity shot-putter who intends to teach school some day.

YEARLING TRACKMEN CRUSH MORRIS, 30-15

Last Four Events Called Off Because Of Rain — Pinkie Sober Elected Captain

The freshman track team doubled the score of the Morris High aggregation in an abbreviated meet at the Stadium, last Saturday morning. The count was 30-15. A sudden and heavy shower necessitated the cancellation of the last four events on the card.

After the meet Pinkie Sober, who had scored ten points, was elected captain. Sober formerly led the Evander Childs team. He now runs the half and the mile, both of which events he won last Saturday. Ken Wibecan with 8 points was second to Sober for high-scoring honors. Alliegro, in the shot-put, took the only first place for the visitors.

Wibecan had little trouble in taking the 220, although Bonagura was never so far behind as to be out of the running. At the gun the freshman star shot into a lead of about six feet which he maintained throughout. In spite of the heavy going Wibecan completed the course in the good time of 24 2-5 seconds. Schutzer, of the yearlings, finished third.

The quarter-mile run was the most interesting race of the day. Young, for the cubs, and Bonagura, for Morris, early left the rest of the field behind and made it a two man race. The pair ran neck and neck until the last twenty-five yards when Young went into a slight lead, which carried him over the line a winner. The time was 57 1-5 seconds.

Sober turned in two fine performances in capturing the mile and the half-mile. He won easily in both events, leading from the gun and steadily increasing his advantage. Hyman of the cubs took third in the half and second in the mile. The times for the two events were 2 minutes 9 4-5 seconds and 4 minutes 55 4-5 seconds, respectively. The shot-put went to Morris. The summaries:—

220-yard dash—Won by Wibecan, Freshmen; second, Bonagura, Morris, third, Schutzer, Freshmen.—Time—24 2-5s.

440-yard run — Won by Young, Freshmen; second, Bonagura, Morris; third, James, Freshmen.—Time—57 1-5s

880-yard run—Won by Sober, Freshmen; second, Goldstein, Morris third, Hyman, Freshmen.—Time—2 min. 9 4-5 s.

1-mile run—Won by Sober, Freshmen; second, Hyman Freshmen; third Goldfhis, Morris. Time—4 min. 55 4-5s.

12-pound shot—Won by Alliegro, Morris; second, Wibecan, Freshmen; third, Young, Freshmen.—Distance—37.7 in.

ELECTION OF MANAGERS

The A. A. Board will elect the 1923-1924 Managers of Rifle and Wrestling and the Assistant Manager of Wrestling to-morrow, at 1:00 P. M. in the A. A. Room.

Candidates for either manager-ship, must be of the Class of June 1924 or February 1925. To be eligible for Assistant Manager, candidates must be members of the Class of June 1925 or February 1926. All candidates must be "U" members.

SENIOR NINE MEETS FACULTY BALL TEAM

Nat Holman Will Pitch for "Profs" Tomorrow — Fanned Nineteen Men Last Year

The annual "Comedy of Errors" will be enacted in the Stadium this Thursday, when the members of the faculty show up with gloves and bats, instead of marking books and pencils, for the game against the seniors. The slugging "profs" are quite chesty over the victory that they pulled out last year, when Nat Holman struck out nineteen senior basemen in seven innings. The '23 team, however, is more than grimly determined to erase the blot which last year's graduates placed upon the senior escutcheon.

The senior management announces with regret that Nat Holman will again be in the box for the faculty. Dr. Holz will probably leave the dental laboratory for the catcher's place. At first base the faculty will use Professor Holton who seems to improve with age. Professor Allen, former Harvard star who made four hits last year, Professor Fuentes, a neat infielder, and Professor Stair will be among the others who will positively appear.

Teddy Axtell and Archie Hahn, the varsity battery, will don the senior uniforms. They will most likely play in positions other than their own. Such has been the custom of past seasons. Just who will appear in the supporting cast is not yet known. Quite a bit of color will be lost through the absence of "Big Bill" Guthrie, the popular 'prof' who used to umpire in big league style. Professor Guthrie is in Iowa resting up after a nervous breakdown. Dean Brownson, Guthrie's partner of past games, will again officiate on the bases.

CHOOSE FOUR ASSISTANTS FOR TRACK MANAGEMENT

Four men were elected as junior assistant managers in track at the meeting of the Executive Board of the Athletic Association held on Friday. They are David Kurke, '26; Sidney Jacobi, '26; Leo Meyer, '26; and Lester Rosenbaum, '26.

VARSITY'S WINNING STREAK IS BROKEN

N. Y. U. Catches Lavender Off Form and Carries Off 9-0 Victory

COLLEGE NINE SLUMPS IN FIELD AND AT BAT

Washington and Lee Flashes Big League Ball and Thumps Out 8-2 Victory Over Lavender

The varsity nine's giddy march along the rosy, narrow path of victory was rudely halted last week, when it suffered two setbacks in a row. After running up the impressive record of six consecutive wins, the Lavender team first collided disastrously with New York University's crack nine, last Thursday, in the Stadium, while on Saturday, the so-called Generals of Washington and Lee University stopped at the home diamond on their northern invasion to carry back home with them an 8 to 2 victory over the College balltossers.

One of the biggest crowds that ever witnessed a College ball game in the Stadium turned out for the contest with New York University last Thursday. Hope ran high that the Violet team would be the Lavender's seventh straight victim, but when the first inning was over it seemed very plain that the God—or Goddess—of victory had turned against the College team and left it flat in favor of the Bronx. Never had the varsity nine been deserted so miserably, for it staged probably the worst brand of ball thus far this season and most likely the worst as regards the remainder of the season.

Captain Teddy Axtell was on the mound for City College, and if he had been accorded some respectable backing, the contest would undoubtedly have been the closest this year. As it was, the team exhibited a violent reversal of form. Eight errors in the field aided the Violet team more than its seven hits in accumulating its total of 9 runs, while at bat, four safeties were all that could be accumulated, and these by only three men—Nadel, Salz and Trulio.

The Bronx visitors took advantage of the neurotic condition of the College team in the very first inning and got off to a two-run lead. Washington, who seemed to be an annoying influence to Teddy Axtell throughout the game, was hit by a pitched ball and Griffin was walked. Both men advanced a niche, while Flynn was being thrown out by Salz. McLaughlin singled through third, and Washington and Griffin registered at the plate. More N. Y. U. runs threatened to find their way over the rubber when Davis reached first on Bongiorno's error and Krassner walked, filling the bases, but Frankie Salz saved the situation by completing a beautiful double play when he scooped up Troy's grounder, touched second, and threw to first in plenty of time to beat the runner to the bag.

N. Y. U.'s two runs certainly did not appear to be an insurmountable margin as the Lavender players came in to bat. For a brief space of time it looked as though things would be even up, for Jackie Nadel stepped right up to the plate and slapped a screeching double to center, and Jack Weisberg, sacrificed him neatly to third. But with one out and a score so imminent, Lavender hopes went up in the air like smoke and the prelude indicative of the performance of the entire game was played. Hahn's attempted sacrifice bounded into Carlson's hands and Jackie, instead of staying on third, was out at the plate by much more than the proverbial mile. Archie succeeded in stealing second, but the golden opportunity had already flown, and Teddy Axtell was thrown out by Flynn for the last out.

In each of the next three innings, the varsity again had really excellent chances of scoring, but was equal to the task. In the second stanza, after Trulio had flied out, Frankie Salz cracked a double to deep left, but he was left to languish helplessly on the second sack when the next two men fanned. In the third inning, Bastian was fortunate enough to get hit by one of Carlson's slants, but he spoiled the good work by trying to pilfer second and getting caught at the job redhanded. This proved unfortunate, for Jackie Nadel came through with his second hit of the game, a sharp single off Carlson's glove, and Weisberg reached first on Flynn's error, but both men were left stranded when Archie Hahn flied out to Cassidy and Teddy was thrown out by Washington.

Another case of a perfectly good chance to score going to waste was in the fourth inning, when Trulio led off with a double to left center, but was left on the bags when the next three men went out.

N. Y. U. meanwhile continued to score in the wake of numerous Lavender errors. Beside the two runs gathered in the first inning, one tally was added in the next frame and another in the fifth. The seventh was a hectic inning, for, on only two hits, the Violet tallied four runs, due largely to three glaring errors by the demoralized City College fielders. The last N. Y. U. run in the eighth was also accounted for on another misplay and a hit.

Wigderson relieved Axtell in the eighth inning. He allowed only one hit.

Two days after the N. Y. U. debate Washington and Lee handed the Lavender team its second defeat in the space of two days. The Generals fully lived up to their reputation and treated the handful of spectators, who had braved the threats of rain, to an exhibition of big league ball. Charley Wigderson was the pitching victim of the slugging Southerners and was driven to the showers after an ill-starred sojourn of four and two-thirds innings on the mound.

Captain Teddy Axtell took up the burden where Wigderson left off and checked the onslaught of the visitors, limiting them to four hits and holding them scoreless for the remaining innings. The team exhibited some symptoms of recovery from its miserable showing in the N. Y. U. contest and accorded Teddy the support which he lacked against the Violet.

The Southerners clouted Wigderson's offerings hard and often, and although they went scoreless in the first two innings, they began scoring with a vengeance in the third frame when they chalked up five tallies.

Axtell's sterling pitching had a tonic influence on the College team and they began to come to life both in the field and at bat. In the seventh inning, the Lavender scored two runs. Frankie Salz cracked out a single and Healy was walked. Both men worked a perfect double steal when Bongiorno failed to hit on an attempted hit-and-run play. After Bongiorno struck out, Bastian slapped a whistling grounder to short, on which Salz scored. Healy followed Frankie over the plate when Mattox threw wild to Frew.

'23-Men Attention!

The "Yale Alumni Weekly" refers to the earning power of young men who have been five years out of college. Those who made the best showing were in the financial and mercantile lines, and they were insurance salesmen, bankers, brokers, business men, advertisers, publishers, manufacturers, and real estate dealers. The first year out of college the men in these lines AVERAGED earnings of $705. In their fifth year in business their earnings averaged $2,405.

WE ARE PREPARED to send two men next fall to the New York University nine weeks intensive Life Insurance course.

THE MEN WE WANT are the fellows who are ABOVE the average, prominent in college, who are going to succeed in life—preferably those who at least in part have worked their way through College: men who would be a credit to a Financial Institution 80 years old, Assets $125,000,000: Surplus $11,000,000.
