FROSH OVERWHELM WHITE PLAINS HIGH IN FIRST GAME 33-0

Stellar Backfield Sweeps Everything Before It In Scoring Five Touchdowns

MEISEL'S 80-YARD RUN FEATURE OF CONTEST

Yearlings Score Ten First Downs In Remarkable Exhibition of Football Tactics

The 1927 football team opened its season with an impressive victory over the White Plains High School eleven on the latter's field last Saturday afternoon. The freshmen scored five touchdowns while shutting out their opponents, the final score being 33-0.

The lines of both teams were perceptibly weak, the freshmen making ten first downs and the high school boys six. The all-star backfield of the yearlings made several spectacular plays. The outstanding feature of the game was an eighty yard run for a touchdown by Meisel through a broken field. Caress, quarterback, made a thirty-yard run for a touchdown after catching a forward pass thrown by Meisel. He broke through many lines for long gains which aided considerably in scoring. Salomonic, the former all-scholastic full-back, carried the ball over the line three times. Whenever a short gain was needed, Caress gave the ball to the half-back who invariably made the desired distance. He also completed five out of six forward passes and made several long runs around the ends.

The team work of the back-field was almost perfect. On the offense, Cohen and Meisel continually prevented the other back-field men from being tackled by their opponents. The interference of all the yearlings was exceptionally good. The opposing backs frequently smashed through the freshman line only to be pushed back or completely halted by the back-field men. The ball was in frosh territory most of the time, because of the long gains made in running back punts. Cohen usually caught the punts, and several times without interference ran them back fifteen or twenty yards. This was often duplicated by Meisel and Caress.

The freshmen scored a touchdown in the first two minutes of play. Packer recovered the ball after "Sal" had punted. On the next three downs the frosh only gained five yards, but on the fourth down Salomonic broke through tackle and with some splendid interference by Cohen, ran fifteen yards to a touchdown. Miller missed the placement kick for a goal. In the second quarter, Salomonic picked up a fumble and ran twenty-five yards for his second touchdown. Miller brought the tally up to thirteen by kicking the goal. Caress made the next touchdown when he received Meisel's pass and sprinted thirty yards to the goal posts. It was a beautifully planned play, the frosh quarterback having a clear field before him. Miller added a point to the Lavender total, when he kicked the goal and brought the score to twenty.

In the third quarter, the yearlings failed to score. The battle waged more evenly in this period and it was the only one in which the Westchester lads threatened. They made two first downs in succession but then lost the ball on downs. The yearling aerial attack was then brought into play and

MONTAGUE TO SPEAK BEFORE SEVEN ARTS

Overstreet and Bennett to Follow As Lecturers Before Arts Society.

Two eminent philosophers and a distinguished actor have been secured as speakers by the Seven Arts Society for its first three lectures.

On Thursday, October 18, Professor William P. Montague of Columbia University will address the society on some phase of modern philosophy. For the following Thursday, the club has secured Professor Harry Allen Overstreet, and on November 1st, Richard Bennett, actor and manager, will speak. Arrangements are at present being made to have Professor J. Salwyn Schapiro address the society on November 8th. These lectures will all take place at 1 o'clock in Room 306.

Professor Montague was formerly an instructor of philosophy at Harvard University, and is at present head of that department at Columbia University. He has written numerous treatises on logic and realism, and is the editor of a book entitled "The New Realism."

Professor Harry Allen Overstreet, head of the Department of Philosophy at this college has attained prominence not only in academic circles but as a popular lecturer on matters sociological as well.

The third speaker, Richard Bennett, has attained prominence as the versatile "He" in the well known Broadway success, "He Who Gets Slapped." He has also produced many other plays, of which "Damaged Goods," is the best known.

PRESIDENT INTERESTED IN COUNCIL ACTIVITIES

Is "A Great Believer In Its Possibilities of Usefulness."

Responding to the telegram of greeting from the student body that met him upon his return from Europe last week, Dr. Sidney E. Mezes, President of the College, addressed the following letter to Alexander J. Whyman, President of the Student Council:

Mr. Alexander J. Whyman,
President of the Student Council,
College of the City of New York.
Dear Mr. Whyman:

Please be assured of my hearty appreciation of the telegram that greeted me from you on behalf of the student body on my return from Europe. It started off the present academic year for me most delightfully and is, I am sure, a prophecy of the pleasant relations I am to have with the student body in the future as in the past. Please thank the Student Council on my behalf for the message.

As you no doubt know, I have always been especially interested in the activities of the Council and a great believer in its possibilities of usefulness. I hope the coming year will be especially successful for the as president of the Student Council and for the Council itself.

Cordially yours,
Sidney Edward Mezes.

MANY HEAR FIRST VON KLENZE TALK

Head of German Department Delivers First in Series of Lectures on the Dramas.

REVIEWS HISTORY OF DRAMA'S EVOLUTION

Says That Modern Plays Blend the Technique of Greeks and Elizabethans

"We are on the eve of one of the latest social, intellectual, moral and artistic movements which man-kind has ever experienced," began Professor Von Klenze of the German Department in the first of a series of lectures upon "The Drama of the XIXth Century," which he is giving Thursdays at 12 o'clock in Room 306.

The professor devoted his first lecture to an account of the development of the dramatic art since its appearance in Greece. "The selective, aristocratic culture of the Greeks," he explained, "was mirrored in the national drama. Ignored was all the grim sordidness of life, its monotony and drabness. Only the noble and serene found expression, even in tragedy. The favorite theme of every dramatist was inexorable Fate triumphing over some vainly struggling hero."

"Shakespeare contributed to literature a new dramatic type—the character play, in which individuals rather than the fates play leading roles. We are interested in Macbeth the ambitious and Hamlet the weak not in the forces which brought out these characteristics."

After explaining how the great political and scientific upheavals which ushered in our modern age had tended to break down the aristocratic element in drama, Professor Von Klenze took up the story of play-writing since 1844, when Hebbel's "Mary Magdalene" put an end to the reactionary theatre.

He continued in part: "The drama of the XIXth Century set out to harmonize the Fate of the Greek plays with Shakespeare's character studies. But it differs from its predecessors in three important respects. For the naive conception of "Fate," biology and psychology have substituted environment and heredity. Also, the human mind has come to be recognized as a delicate, infinitely complex thing, whose disturbance gives rise to most of the tragedies of life and finally, these modern plays are concerned with the bourgeois and the proletariat rather than with aristocrats and demigods. Plays as great as "The Weavers," "Ghosts" and "Lovers of Darkness" breathe a new sympathy with the lower classes."

Concluding with a forecast of brilliant activity for the drama of tomorrow, the professor declared "The XIXth Century drama is one of the greatest contributions to the literature of the race. The results of such a movement cannot but be of prime importance. Let us look to the new drama even to improve upon what those great bourgeois gave us. Before us open new vistas—life in all its details will be revealed to us upon the stage."

VOGEL '27 APPOINTED TO DEBATING COUNCIL

Richard W. Vogel '27, has been appointed by President Whyman of the Student Council as the fourth member of the Debating Council,

FACULTY MAY APPROVE CURRICULUM COMMITTEE

Action One Way or Other Looked for Shortly by Council President.

By Alexander J. Whyman
The Editor of the Campus has asked me to write fortnightly reports on Student Activities. I am therefore taking this opportunity of informing the student body of developments to date.

In a previous issue of the Campus I stated that I would place before the Student Council at its initial meeting the following items. The installation of a Curriculum Committee, the questions pertaining to Assemblies and the Lunch Room and the Song Book. It is my intention to state here what action has been taken in regard to these matters.

Nothing definite can be said as yet about the Curriculum Committee. The matter was brought up at the last meeting of the Faculty and was referred to the Faculty Committee on the Curriculum. The latter has not met yet this term, but according to Dean Brownson the matter will be taken up next week at the meeting of that committee. The possibilities of the faculty acting favorably on this matter are very great and I feel confident that a Student Committee on the Curriculum will be instituted shortly at the College. It is understood that the Committee, if authorized, will have no definite powers, but will act merely in an advisory capacity.

To my mind the Student Council acted very wisely in petitioning the Faculty not to abandon the weekly compulsory chapels. Last Friday the Council went on record as favoring the continuance of compulsory assemblies but asked that they be changed from Thursday to some other day and that the Student Affairs Committee be given a say in the making out of the program for the assembly. In asking for the change in date of chapel the Council felt that it would be far better to conduct activities during the general College Hour. The Council also felt that the assemblies could be more suited to the College's needs and asked that it be given advisory powers in making out the program. There is no doubt but that "Chapel" is a vital necessity at this College. It is the only opportunity that we have of assembling as a unit and feel that we are part of the College. Last year because of the tremendous enrollment, the students were divided into two assembly sections, one for Freshman and one for upper classmen. Before that, because of the number of people present it was impossible to hear a speaker by those who sat in the back rows. It is because of that that some of the Faculty consider it unfair to make an assembly compulsory. The Council felt however that with two sections that evil could be remedied to a large extent, and that at these assemblies more could be gained than lost. It was felt, furthermore, that if Chapel were to be voluntary the attendance would be slim and for that reason it was asked that it be compulsory. I trust that the petition will meet with favorable action when the Faculty meet next week to take up the matter. Assemblies are a vital necessity not only for student activities but also for the maintenance of college spirit.

I want to assure you all of the efforts of the Faculty Lunch Room Committee in trying to improve conditions in our Lunch Room. Definite action has been taken and Professor

Varsity Loses To Drexel In Season's Opening Game

Visitors Employ a Deceptive Lateral Pass That Catches The Lavender Team Napping—Freeman, Drexel Fullback, Makes Two Out of Three Touchdowns

BACKFIELD CARRIES BRUNT OF PLAYING DUE TO INSUFFICIENT SUPPORT FROM THE LINE

Oshins Plays Well, Though Somewhat Off Form—Tannenbaum Scores The Season's Initial First Down in the Second Quarter—Opponents Do All Their Scoring in the First and Last Periods

The second season of Varsity football at City College opened with a defeat last Saturday afternoon in the Stadium when the Lavender eleven went down before the Drexel players by the score of 18-0 in a hard fought but poorly played game. The contest was characterized by penalties, fumbles and bungled signals. The team attempted every style of football attack but was unable to cope with the steadier playing of their opponents.

THE LAVENDER ISSUES CALL FOR CANDIDATES

Contributions Requested For First Issue, to be Distributed About November First.

The first number of the Lavender, the College literary magazine, is now in course of preparation, according to Milton Steinberg, managing editor of the "lit", and should be ready for distribution about November first. The Lavender is now incorporated in the Union, and will be distributed free to Union members.

Vacancies exist on both the literary and business boards of the magazine. Candidates for the literary board are requested to see managing editor Steinberg tomorrow and Thursday at noon in the Mercury Office, bringing with them, if possible, samples of their work. The type of contributions desired includes short stories, essays and verse.

Alexander J. Whyman, business manager of The Lavender, will meet candidates for the advertising staff at noon Thursday in the Mercury Office. At the same hour, Douglas Willington, circulation manager, will interview candidates for the circulation staff.

FILL VACANCIES ON AFFAIRS COMMITTEE

Nathan Berall, '24, and Frederick Kraut, '26, were elected to the Executive Student Affairs Committee at the Student Council meeting held last Friday. Members of this committee serve until graduated. The committee as now constituted includes Alexander J. Whyman, '24, chairman; Milton Rabinowitz, '24; F. Eugene Corbie, '24; Nathan Berall, '24 and Frederick Kraut, '26.

FRATERNITY "U" REPORTS

All men who have been selling "U" tickets in their respective fraternities are requested to make returns at once to Warren A. Ruhl, vice-chairman of the "U" committee.

This is the second year that the Varsity team has lost to the Philadelphia school players. Last year they lost to them in the third game of the season by the score of 15-0. On the whole, the Lavender line played a good game but weakened at crucial moments and was driven before the onslaught of the Philadelphia team. The backfield played a good, but slow game, probably due to insufficient line support.

Despite the overwhelming loss after such careful preparation, confidence is still evinced that the team will come through the season on top. Favorable comment was heard on all sides regarding the possibilities, especially since the team now has the experience of meeting a real opponent and has been able to learn its defects in actual play.

Schiff presented an adamant will to his adversaries and was the steadiest player on the line. He was very effective in offensive tackling, breaking up a number of plays and preventing the opponent's from gaining, and was the mainstay on the defense. Williams played a rather ragged game at center chiefly because of nervousness on meeting strange players for the first time. Plaut was an efficient field general and was ably substituted by Klein when it became necessary. Roy made some spectacular gains that stood the team in good stead and would have meant a great deal more had the line been able to advance with similar regularity.

Freeman, the Engineers' sturdy full-back, played a stellar game. He was responsible for most of their gains and two of his team's touchdowns. Both teams used the aerial attack often but without much success. The Drexel team was able to complete only one forward in the latter part of the fourth quarter but the completion of it earned another six points for them.

First Period

The Lavender team won the toss and elected to receive the kick at the South goal. Plaut caught the pigskin and ran it back fifteen yards. In the tackling Mackin, Drexel tackle was injured and had to be taken out of play. Williams made a bad pass that brought the ball back to within three yards of the Lavender goal and necessitated a kick by Oshins from behind the lines. Drexel made some short snappy gains through the line and with an occasional lateral pass that secured it a first down shortly after play began.

With a series of lateral passes the Drexel team brought the ball within seven yards of the goal. Freeman took the ball across the line on two plunges and gave his team the single touchdown scored in the first half. The try for goal was blocked by the entire Lavender team.

On the kick-off from mid-field Plaut sent the ball sailing behind the goal-posts. The ball was given to Drexel on the eighty-yard line. When a sixteen yard run around right end was penalized because one of their men held, the Drexel team made up for the loss with a twenty-yard gain around left end on a criss-cross play. Plaut received the ball on a kick and ran it back fifteen yards to the fifty yard line. Oshins made a line plunge for a nine yard gain and was caught on the third down behind the line of play by Casner when he attempted a forward pass. He then kicked thirty yards and Drexel was playing on the seventy yard line, after a fumbled ball in their backfield, as the whistle blew for the end of the first quarter. The score stood at 6-0.

Second Period

The City College team came back into play in the second quarter fully determined to regain the ground lost in the first period. The backfield bucked the opposing line with unusual force but were unable to make any appreciable gains. On end runs and off-tackle plays poor interference accounted for the loss in territory and failure to score.

A short series of line plunges by the Lavender team was followed by similar tactics from the Philadelphians. Most of the playing was done in mid-field. Schiff broke through and took the Drexel man out immediately after Oshins had kicked the ball and later broke up an end run. Tannenbaum made the first first-down of the season when he carried the ball through the line after Plaut had taken it around right end for a gain. Roy then attempted a forward pass but it fell short of its mark.

Plaut signalled for a kick on the next play but instead carried the ball around right end for a thirty-five yard gain. Philidius made a gain of seven yards on a fake forward but two other attempts to complete forwards failed. Drexel was able to get a first down in the last part of the period and had just made ten yards when the whistle called the players into the dressing rooms at the end of the half. The score still stood at 6-0 in Drexel's favor.

In the Lavender dressing room, Coach Neville gave the men some sound advice on their playing and pointed out their faults with an eye to having them correct them directly when the next half should begin. The twelve hundred spectators in the stands bolstered up hope when they saw the City College squad come trotting out on the field for the second half of a disappointment. The cheering was very heavy and the team entered the gridiron resolved to keep the visitors within the limits of the tally they had scored.

Third Period

The third period was marked by a series of fumbles and indecisive actions by both teams. Oshins was caught behind the line on an attempted forward and a Drexel halfback fumbled the ball for a loss early in the quarter. Oshins fumbled on a kick which was followed by a succession of plays that brought the teams in mid-field. After receiving a kick from Freeman and failing to gain much territory for lack of interference, Plaut made one of the prettiest runs of the scrap when he plunged through the line for an eighteen yard gain. Pandemonium broke out in the stands and as a result of the increased good spirit Oshins and Tannenbaum went through for gains.

Both teams kicked against each other with neither gain nor loss and City College was given possession of the ball on the seventy-five yard line. Freeman intercepted a forward pass and would have made a touchdown had he not run out of bounds. Freeman's spectacular run of thirty yards for the posts brought the third period to a close with the score remaining as it was in the first quarter.

TENNIS AND HANDBALL TOURNEYS START SOON

The annual College tennis tournament will start next week. As has been the custom in previous years, the semi-finalists will obtain tryouts during the Varsity's indoor practice next spring. The tennis team has been greatly weakened by the loss of some of its star performers and new material is surely needed.

Entries will be received by Manager Kaslow, '25. The entrance fee is fifty cents and any student, except last year's Varsity players, may enter. The draw will be blind and matches will be arranged during the off-hours of the participants. The tournament will take place on the Notlek courts.

Following this the handball tournament will take place. In this tournament Varsity players will be allowed to participate.

Fourth Period

After their short respite both teams went back to their positions fully aware of the other teams capabilities and intentions. The Lavender combination was earnestly set on tying the score at least, if not bettering it and the Drexel eleven was as equally determined to prevent the City College men from scoring and to elevate their tally if possible.

The quarter was extended and delayed because of shifts in the line-up and injuries. The Lavenderites began the play with a rush and procured a first down shortly after play commenced. Halpern, who had replaced Philidius, made a five yard gain around right end but Freeman stopped the next gain by dropping Oshins on a line plunge. Schiff picked an attempted forward out of the air but lost it to Drexel on some technicality.

Drexel seemed to recover its temporary loss of vigor and after failing on an attempted pass followed it up with three line plunges that gave it two first downs and brought the ball within eighteen yards of the goal posts. Friedman stopped a line plunge but Freeman took the pigskin around left end for his and his team's second tally. The try for the extra point failed and the score stood at 12-0.

The game was rapidly drawing to a close and the City College men wasted no time in trying to make a tally. Both teams kicked back and forth and the ball was once more in Drexel's hands within a short distance of the posts. Connell, the Philadelphia quarterback, called for a forward and made a surprisingly high throw that Foley, the right halfback, caught up and brought over the line for the Engineers' third tally. The kick for the extra point was blocked and the game ended with the next play with a victory for the visitors by 18-0.

The crowds wended their way out of the stands crestfallen over the loss but confident that Coach Neville will be able to coordinate the men better after their first encounter against an actual combatant.

they carried the ball back up the field. In the last quarter the freshmen made a touchdown by means of a forward pass, but it was disallowed because "Sal" had run more than ten yards before throwing it. Five minutes later, Meisel made his spectacular eighty-yard run. The last touchdown was made when Salomonic broke through center on the three yard line.

Except for one or two weak points in the line the team showed excellent form. Besides the brilliant playing of the backs, Swinkton and Macadam starred. Cohen gave a wonderful exhibition of grit when he refused to quit when injured. Later he had to be carried off the field. Macadam was seriously hurt in a scrimmage and it is feared that his collar bone was broken.

All in all the team played brilliantly and it should give a good account of itself in future games.

CROSS COUNTRY TEAM FAST REACHING FORM

Captain Reisman and Orlando Doing Good Work—Dain Slow In Getting Into Shape

The varsity harriers under the leadership of Captain "Cy" Reisman are rapidly reaching their best form for the hard tussles ahead. Coaches MacKenzie and "Speedy" Joe Friedman are well satisfied with the results obtained by the squad in its preliminary training. The men are in good form for so early in the cross-country season.

The men were over the Van Cortlandt Park course last Thursday and covered the distance in near mid-season time. Several new men have reported to Manager Berson during the last few practice periods and are showing up well. Among the new candidates are Clements, Forster, and Huie.

Captain "Cy" Reisman is running in rare form. "Cy" has been one of the most consistent point scorers for the team during the past two seasons. "Tony" Orlando, last year's star, is again running in as fine time as last season. Much is expected of "Charlie" Dain, who in the past two seasons made such an enviable record in the hill and dale sport. "Charlie" has been slow in getting into shape but there is no doubt that he will soon be displaying his old form.

Bernhard, Maday, Leon, Kasowitz, Sigelschiffer, Brodsky, and Lieberman will complete the team. This is the first season of cross-country for "Dave" Lieberman and he is doing very well. His speed and stamina has made him a valuable asset to the team.

Practice is held daily in the Stadium between 1 P. M. and 5 P. M. Coach MacKenzie and Joe Friedman, '23, are still calling for new candidates.

VARSITY BASKETEERS COMMENCE PRACTICE

Holman Advises Men To Get Into Condition Gradually—Practice Started October 8th

A large squad reported to Coach Nat Holman in the Hygiene Building last Thursday afternoon to try for the basketball team. Among the candidates were many veterans and a host of promising newcomers. A general spirit of optimism pervades the Nat-Holman camp.

"Old Reliable" gave the athletes an interesting lecture. The subject of his talk was the proper care of the body and the proper methods of getting into condition. Saying, "Rome wasn't built in a day," he urged the men not to overwork themselves but to undergo the preliminary stages necessary to round into condition. After giving some more general advice, he announced that active training would begin the week of October 8th. At present the candidates are to be seen daily in the gym either running around the track or doing conditioning exercises.

The material available will undoubtedly form a combination composed of shifty players and good shots. The nucleus of the team will be the veterans of last year's championship five. Captain "Doc" Edelstein, the consistent foul shooter, will probably be used for the centre berth. "Jackie" Nadel and "Leo" Palitz, both forwards, will try to hold down their old positions. "Pinkie" Match and "Frank" Salz will aim their efforts toward the guards.

There is a wealth of reserve material that will be of great value to the light quintet that will probably be put on the field. Some of these men are "George" Heynick, "Joie" Moses, "John" Patterson, "Dave" Trachman, "Miltie" Katz, "John" Gilbert, "Roy" Plaut, "Rube" Goldberg and "Kid" Raskin besides a host of other promising men.

FRESHMEN SWIMMERS LOSE PRACTICE MEET

Harris Defeats Frosh 30-14—Team Shows Well Despite The Lack of Practice

The Townsend Harris Hall swimming team defeated the City College yearlings in a practice meet Friday afternoon in the College pool by the score of 30-14. The meet served the purpose of giving Coach McCormick an opportunity to get a line on the material he has on hand this year.

It was the first tryout of the year for the '27 men and they showed to good advantage, despite their failure to win more than one event. The only events which were closely contested were the 220 yard swim and the relay. In the former event, Lewis, the only '27 man to score a second place, lost to Davison of Harris by but a few strokes. The freshmen got away to a good start in the relay and held the lead throughout though they were constantly threatened. Cowen, anchor man, for the yearlings in this event, swam an exceptionally good race and finished ahead of Davison in spite of the latter's burst of speed near the finish.

In the fifty and hundred yard swims and in the back stroke the Harris men excelled, taking first and second in all three events. The fancy swim was also contested, but owing to the fact that the freshmen had had little chance to practice it was decided not to count it in the score.

WHYMAN REVIEWS THE WORK DONE BY COCOUNCIL

Compton has an appropriation of several hundred dollars on hand which will be used to make further improvements in the Lunch Room. In addition, our Student Committee consisting of Corbie and Tarlau, and Berall ex-officio, will take care of other details.

At this point it will not be amiss to refer to the hearty cooperation in Council activities we are receiving from the Faculty. Especially is this true of Professors Brownson and Downer. Professor Brownson has always willingly aided and advised the Student Council on various matters and has always shown a keen interest in student activities. Professor Downer for the past ten years has been Faculty Treasurer of our Council and was reelected again this year. He too has always shown much interest in our work.

SHERWOOD EDDY TO ADDRESS STUDENTS

Will Discuss Present European Situation — Lecture Under Auspices of Five Societies

Mr. Sherwood Eddy, well-known lecturer, traveller and writer, will speak on "The Present Crises in Europe" at noon Thursday in Room 126. A considerable audience is expected.

Mr. Eddy has recently returned from a tour of Europe, in the course of which he made an intensive study of conditions on the Continent. He will discuss, on Thursday, the German situation, with the financial complications arising from the Ruhr controversy; the attitude of the French government towards Germany; the progress of socialism and sovietism in Europe; and possibly the recent Graeco-Italian controversy.

Mr. Eddy's lecture is to be given under the joint auspices of the Menorah, the Newman Club, the Douglass Society, the C. D. A. and the Y. M. C. A. These five societies, which were accustomed last term to present individual lecturers at the same hour each week, have arranged, in order to eliminate the confusion and rivalry attendant upon such a system, to one lecturer each week, hereafter under the auspices of all of them.

YEARLING HARRIERS WORKING OUT DAILY

Men Making Rapid Progress — More Candidates Needed — Friedman, Helping MacKenzie Coach

The freshman cross country team is working hard to get into shape for a severe campaign. The candidates who have been reporting daily are showing good form. More men however, must come out for the team to warrant any hopes for a successful season.

One of the most promising of the candidates is Smith, interscholastic two-twenty champion. "Chick" Polatchik, has been showing up well and will prove a valuable member of the team. The rest of the men who have been reporting regularly are "Joe" Zahn, "Zero" Neuman, "Oliver" Goldsmith, and "Fresh" Motto. "Jerry" Hyman, who has been out with a pulled tendon, will begin running again next week.

More men are urged to come out. Coach MacKenzie and "Speedy" Joe Friedman, '23, are in the Stadium every afternoon ready to aid and advise candidates.

Manager Kurke is working on a schedule of stiff meets. Stuyvesant-Clinton, Erasmus, N. Y. U. Frosh-Fordham Frosh, and the Intercollegiate are on the tentative schedule. As soon as enough men report regular meets will be scheduled.

'24 WILL ATTACH ITS CLASS SEALS TO-DAY

The February and June Classes of 1924 will affix their class seals to the alcove walls to-day. Both seals have been designed by Dave Lieberman, president of the June '24 class. The February seal celebrates the men the class has given to writing and debating. The June seal symbolizes the '24 men of the basketball team of last year.

THERE ARE SEVERAL VACANCIES ON THE ADVERTISING BOARD OF CAMPUS. NO PREVIOUS EXPERIENCE IS NECESSARY.

RECORD REGISTRATION FOR EVENING SESSION

Changes Made in Night Curriculum—Gym Work Now Required for Graduation

Registration in the Evening Session of the College this semester is the largest ever recorded since the opening of the institution in 1909. The total number of students at all branches is 6,537.

Of the six and a half thousand students, 2,587 are at the Main Building, 2,322 at the Commerce Building, 1,050 at the Brooklyn branch, and 578 at the Municipal Building.

Another evidence of the Session's growth is seen in the alternation of the curriculum of the Evening Session to conform with the course of study given during the day. Hereafter, articulated male students will be required to complete one year of hygiene in order to obtain any collegiate degree. Students taking these courses have been assigned lockers in the gymnasium. In addition they have the privilege of using all the athletic halls during any evening of the week and on Saturday. A special fee of $5 is charged for this course.

LOST—A "Lefax" note book yesterday on the main stairway. A liberal reward is offered for its return to Walter Jacobs, '25. Finder drop note in Locker No. 113.

SUCCESS IN YOUR PROFESSION

is, of course very largely influenced by the thoroughness of your training. Schools and colleges necessarily differ—and as might be expected in a newer field such as Chiropractic—the differences are exceedingly marked. The CARVER INSTITUTE, the first great school of Chiropractic in the world, with the highest entrance requirements and standards of any, numbering Doctors of Medicine and other college graduates among its students and alumni appeals very strongly to college men.
