FIRST CUB HOME GAME

Neither Team Has Suffered Defeat
In Games To Date—
Keen Battle Anticipated

Badly battered and bruised, as a result of their hard tussle last Saturday with the Lawrence eleven, the freshman pigskin chasers are looking forward with some awe to three hard games following one upon the other. The first of these crucial contests, crucial because on their results hinges the final rating of the team, is a clash with the heavy and powerful Stuyvesant eleven, champions of Greater New York.

The yearlings and the wearers of the Scarlet and the Blue are two of the most evenly matched teams in the city. Both are undefeated after three games, while Stuyvesant has the added distinction of not having had her goal line crossed. The East Siders have beaten Nyack, 14-0, Paterson, 21-0, and the 28-0 in successive victories. The Frosh walloped White Plains, 33-0, Evander, 40-0 and played a 10-10 tie with Lawrence.

On paper the record of the high-school eleven is the more impressive. Yet, tomorrow's tussle should see the freshmen emerge on the long end of the score. In Stuyvesant's last game, they beat the weak Textile outfit 28-0, while earlier in the season, the same Textile team was trounced 41-0 by New Utrecht, a team admittedly not in the class of Stuyvesant. Stuyvesant's low score may be partially explained by the fact that their big outstanding luminary, Ken Whalen, saw the fracas from the side-lines. Coach Saltman also used a scrub team in the last two periods.

Both teams have powerful backfields and a strong, aggressive line. The freshman backfield has one advantage over Stuyvesant namely, experience. Hamer and Hansboro, the two newcomers, on the Stuyvesant eleven are dependable players, but lack that necessary experience. Meisel, Salomonic and Caress of the yearling backfield all played high-school football before coming to City College. This, together with the individual brilliancy of the freshmen backs, should prove the deciding factor in the game. Whalen is the only member of the Stuyvesant backfield that begins to compare with the yearling trio. Bill Timm, the other veteran in the Dutchmen's backfield, is an erratic player as evinced by the poor game he played in last year's Stuyvesant-Cinton game after performing brilliantly all season.

The forward walls of both elevens are evenly matched. Stuyvesant has four members of last year's championship aggregation on its line. Prati, Mendelson, Weiss and Makser are playing the game of their lives. The two ends and the left tackle are playing a creditable game for newcomers. The Frosh forward wall will be strengthened by the return of Miller to center. Seidler and Deutch at the guard positions are reliable and

SENIOR CLASS COUNCIL APPOINTS COMMITTEES

At the meeting of the '24 Class Council last Thursday, Mac Etra '24 was appointed chairman of the Pin Committee. Members of the senior class desirous of becoming members of the committee should interview Mr. Etra in the '24 alcove.

Hal Schnurer '24 was appointed chairman of the alcove committee, and H. Tannenbaum '24 and Pete Brody '24 were chosen as committeemen.

NEW MUSICAL COMEDY PLANNED FOR SPRING

Plan Now Underway for Production
Of Varsity Play to be Held at Hotel Plaza in April

The project of a musical comedy to be produced under the college auspices is rapidly gaining favor. Plans have already been made for the production of this show at the Hotel Astor some time during April. Men prominent in college activities are lending active support to the carrying out of these plans.

Hy Sakolsky, Nat Berall, Abel Meeropol and Howard Hintz have volunteered their services to write a suitable play for the proposed show. Al Whyman, President of the Student Council, and Hy Sakolsky, Editor of "Mercury," will write the songs and music.

Seymour Copstein '25 will assume charge of the stage production and Al Whyman will act in the capacity of business manager.

A meeting of all men who are interested in this new project will be held next Thursday at one o'clock in the "Merc" office. Men who are acquainted with any phase of play production, especially electricians, carpenters, business and stage managers, are urged to attend this meeting.

DEAN BROWNSON AT ALBANY CONVENTION

The Dean and Professor Heckman
Attend Meeting of Educators—
Discuss Entrance Limitations

Dean Brownson and Professor Heckman of the Education Department represented City College at a convention of educators held recently in Albany. The meeting was held in the building of the Department of Education.

The question of limitations in college entrance examinations was the most important of the subjects considered. The prevailing opinion was that further restrictions in college entrance requirements are imperative. Dr. James, principal of Boys' High School, made the point that there ought to be a character test for entrance, as well as an ability test.

Dean Brownson, when interviewed by a Campus reporter, said: "The idea of making college entrance requirements more strict is undoubtedly a good one. The only obstacle is the difficulty of drawing up a character test. Few of us have an accurate idea of our own character; it would therefore be a very difficult task to pass judgment upon that of another. The question, really, is not one of restriction, but of selection."

DRIVE TO UNIFORM BAND ENDS TO-DAY

$125 Collected to Date—Band to Stage Pep Rally on Campus

The drive to equip the college band with attractive uniforms was launched vigorously last Wednesday morning, with the sale of red and green tags bearing the inscription "Equip the Band!" Approximately $125, or about sixty per cent of the required sum has been raised to-date, and it is expected that the necessary amount, which is over $200, will be raised by tonight.

On Wednesday morning, the corridors, the alcoves, the concourse and the fraternity corners in the Lincoln Corridor were canvassed by the committee, and students were urged to purchase at least one tag: either the red, which sells for twenty-five cents, or the green one, at ten cents. Following the Chapel exercises yesterday, students who had not as yet secured their tags were approached, and a goodly sum was realized. Pep rallies in the concourse, at which prominent college men spoke, concluded yesterday's activities.

The drive closes to-day, and a concentrated effort will be made by the committee to secure sufficient funds to purchase the desired uniforms.

According to Sid Rosenberg, chairman of the tag-day committee, every student of the college will be wearing a tag by the end of the day. At twelve o'clock, the college band will assemble at the Senior Pedestal on the Campus. The band will parade about the college grounds playing Lavender songs and martial airs.

It was originally intended to have the uniforms ready for the Hobart game, but this has been found to be impossible. They will be ready for the N. Y. U. game however, and will be used for that game and the Fordham game, the two most important encounters of the season. The band will moreover be available for all other important college functions. The band is composed of about sixty men, and at least forty can be mustered for all important occasions.

Professor Holton and Sid Rosenberg '25 have completed the design for the band uniform. The trousers will be white, with wide black seams along the sides. The Jersey will be a Lavender and Black combination, and the hat will resemble to a great degree the Sophomore caps, which are white with lavender trimmings.

ADVOCATES STUDENT CURRICULUM COMM.

The Faculty Committee on the Curriculum at its meeting last Monday, passed a motion favoring the establishment of a student curriculum committee, with advisory powers, to act in unison with the faculty committee. The motion will be presented to the meeting of the entire faculty. This meeting will be held in about two weeks.

The faculty action was the result of a resolution passed by the Student Council a few weeks ago, urging the faculty to establish a Student Committee on the Curriculum.

SEVEN ARTS MEETING

The Seven Arts club will hold a regular business meeting in Room 306 at 1 P. M. this afternoon. All members are urged to attend, as very important business will be transacted.

VON KLENZE SPEAKS ON REALISTIC DRAMA

Delivers Fourth Lecture of Series of Ten Under Auspices of Seven Arts

Professor Camillo von Klenze, speaking before the Seven Arts Club, delivered the fourth lecture of his series of ten on the "Modern Drama" last Wednesday at one o'clock in Room 306. In this lecture, Professor von Klenze traced the development of psychological realism before the time of Ibsen.

In his three previous lectures the professor described the Greek drama, the Shakespearian drama, and the rise of social realism. The typical plot of the Greek drama was the clash of the individual will with an inscrutable fate. The Shakespearian drama, which reflected the Christian view of life, that the individual is responsible for his actions, was in its essence a character play, according to Prof. Von Klenze. Social realism in the drama came as a result of the rise of the bourgeoisie, and is typified by the family play which has no heroic characters.

The professor pointed out that the next tendency of the drama was that of psychological realism. This new form of psychological realism is an attempt to reflect in detail the condition of the human soul. The fundamental vision of life to which modern drama adheres is essentially scientific. There is the passionate desire to understand life in all its phases. Hence the interest of the modern drama in such varied subjects as the proletariat, and morbid conditions of the mind.

The German philosopher, Feuerbach, according to Professor von Klenze, gave philosophic expression to these modern tendencies. The keynote of Feuerbach's philosophy was, "We are certain only of this, that we are here, that we are alive. Therefore, study life, worship and ennoble it."

"Another important effect of psychological realism on modern drama," said the speaker, "is the study of individual souls as really complex phenomena."

In Greek and even in Shakespearian drama, on the other hand, the characters are regarded as simple and unified in their mental behavior. Among the first to regard the individual in this light was Goethe, who embodied it in his two dramas, "Rasso" and "Faust."

"Fate in the Greek drama," continued Professor von Klenze, "is now replaced by a new fate which in the modern drama represents the two unchangeable forces of heredity and environment."

Professor von Klenze concluded his speech with a consideration of Kleist, the German dramatist, who was one of the earliest fore-runners of psychological realism and the recreator of the one act play.

STUDENTS LECTURE BEFORE RADIO CLUB

Richard Carlisle, president of the Radio Club, explained the theory underlying the construction of small transmitting sets, at the meeting of the club, on Thursday, October 18. A. Pollock, a member of the society, discussed the mechanical construction of such sets.

Next Thursday, at one o'clock, J. Marcus, an officer of the club, will give the third of the series of lectures which the club is conducting for beginners. He will talk on the construction of one-tube receiving sets.

NEWMAN CLUB DANCE IN THE GYM TONIGHT

The Newman Club will hold its annual informal Hollow'een Dance in the Gymnasium tonight. The committee, under the chairmanship of Leo Ryan, has completed painstaking preparation to insure the enjoyment of all those who attend the affair. The Gymnasium will take on a gala appearance with the usual streamers and fraternity banners. Tickets may be procured from Chairman Ryan in the Newman Alcove.

CONSIDER CONDITIONS IN COLLEGE ALCOVES

Alex. Whyman '24 Urges Cleaner
Alcoves in Address to Class Presidents

At the meeting of the class presidents, held yesterday afternoon Alex. J. Whyman '24, President of the Student Council, commented on the present condition of the alcoves.

Mr. Whyman asserted that approximately $1200 had been expended in painting and decorating the alcoves, and that the carelessness of the college students was bringing back the state of affairs prevalent in former terms. The speaker urged the class presidents to cooperate with him in keeping the alcoves in respectable condition, and in apprehending those students who willfully violate college regulations concerning the alcoves.

"Eating in alcoves or tossing newspapers about are against the regulations of the Student Council," declared Mr. Whyman, "and offenders will be punished by the Discipline Committee."

The class presidents have agreed to report all offenders to the Discipline Committee, and will meet in two weeks to determine the progress of the plans.

TECH MEN URGED TO CONSULT DEAN SKENE

Freshman Intending to Take Engineering Courses to Confer With Dean Immediately

Dean Skene of the School of Technology has announced that it is important that all members of the entering class who intend to specialize in engineering confer with him as early as possible regarding the arrangement of a definite course of study.

It is very desirable that students contemplating the study of engineering at the School of Technology eliminate all comparatively large number of courses required for all of the engineering degrees.

It frequently happens that prospective engineers neglect to inquire about the prescribed courses until they are about to enter the School of Technology. The result is that they are over-burdened with too large a number of difficult subjects during their last year. This difficulty often necessitates their remaining in College longer than the prescribed five years in order to obtain their degrees.

Professor Skene may be consulted at his office at Compton Hall during any lunch hour or afternoons after 3 o'clock.

LAVENDER READY TO FIGHT HOBART ELEVEN TO FINISH

Up-State Aggregation Has Defeated St. Stephens by 40-0 Score

VARSITY AIDED BY RESTS

Team Plays With Added Zest
In Thursday Scrimmage—
Fine Work by Brauer

Tomorrow, the Varsity eleven will meet Hobart in the Stadium. This is the hardest game on the Lavender schedule with the exception of N. Y. U. Since the Genevans have an aggregation easily as strong as that of last year, a victory for C. C. N. Y. seems very doubtful.

Hobart, last year at Geneva, held the varsity to a 24-0 score. The Lavenderites on this occasion put up a scrappy game, and that is all that is expected of them tomorrow. The Genevans in their first game this season beat St. Stephens by a score of 40-0. St. Stephens in turn defeated the varsity 7-0. The comparative deduction is that a victory is decidedly uncertain.

The Lavender footballers tomorrow enter the fray with nothing to lose and everything to gain. So far this season, the efforts of the team have not succeeded in bringing victory, although elevens less strong than Hobart have been encountered. The men, however, realize the significance of a victory over such a formidable adversary, and will enter the battle full of fight and the spirit to win.

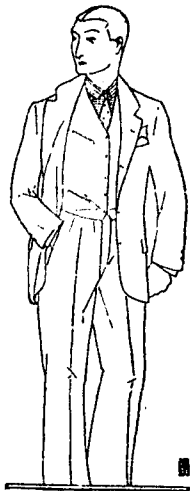

The weather-man during the past week has made things miserable for the coach and team. Because of incessant rain, no outdoor practice could be staged for the first three days of the week. The problem of presenting a well-organized team to combat so worthy a foe, with such scant time for practice, must surely be a puzzler for Coach Neville.

The squad however has received an unlooked for rest which may do some good. This was noticeable in the eagerness for work demonstrated in practice Thursday. In this short vacation period, however, the men have slowed up perceptibly and will have to step a bit in order to keep up with their opponents.

The lineup will no doubt be the same as that of the Delaware Game last week. Brauer, since he has returned to the squad, has been causing quite a sensation because of his running, tackling and passing ability. Plaut has been playing his consistent and brainy brand of football.

On the line, Schiff and Bienstock will tackle, while Friedman and Ell hold down the guard berths. Williams as usual, will occupy the pivot position and Phildius and Crowfield will serve at the ends.

In the backfield, Plaut at quarter, and Berk and Garvey at halfback will be the likely choice. Brauer in all probability will again draw the full-back assignment.

To the man of discriminating taste we offer you conservative College Attire, that at once reflects that smart drape and finished workmanship, so characteristic of the better shops, without the inconvenience of exorbitant prices.

hand is sprained played a stellar game. His passing was good, except at one point. He had just wrenched his shoulder, and a snap-back to Meisel went a trifle wide, with the result that Teddy missed a field goal, from the thirty-yard line. Naiman and Packer cleverly divined the point of attack in the peculiar Lawrence shift and were always ready. Swinken played a steady and dependable game at right end. But one fault could be found with the line. It was too frequently offside. The individual brilliancy of the backs was lacking due to the muddy condition of the field. Meisel needs solid ground for his end runs. Salomonic with his glant reach intercepted and caught many a pass that was not intended for frosh hands.

First Quarter

Salomonic kicked off to the twenty-yard line. Lawrence opened up with a forward which failed. On the third down they punted, Meisel getting the leather and racing eight yards until he was tackled. Meisel made eight yards on an off-tackle plunge. A five yard penalty was inflicted for being offside. Salomonic punted to the nineteen yard line where the receiver was downed in his tracks. Lawrence punted on the first down and the ball rolled out of bounds at the thirty-yard mark. Meisel broke loose for twenty yards around right end for a touchdown, but it was disallowed for being offside, and the team was penalized five yards. Meisel's off-tackle stab netted five yards, and Caress added four more on a centre rush. Here Meisel easily booted the leather between the bars for a placement kick, from the twenty yard line.

Judge, receiving Lawrence's kick-off on the 45 yard line, rushed the pigskin back five yards before he was upset. Salomonic's punt rolled out of bounds at the centre of the field. Three line plunges and a five yard penalty gave Lawrence first down. Another penalty and a short end run netted the second first down in succession. A cross-buck formation yielded two yards, two line plunges as many more and a forward pass, completed with the aid of an open formation, brought the leather to the frosh eight yard line. A centre rush was good for a yard. Two more were gained on an off-tackle plunge and on the third down the attack failed to gain.

On the last down a sweeping end run was attempted, but Meisel nailed the man with the ball and threw him for a five yard loss as the quarter ended.

Score: C. C. N. Y. Freshmen 3, Lawrence 0.

Second Quarter

Salomonic punted to the forty-five yard line and the receiver was downed in his tracks. An open formation gave Lawrence ten yards and a first down on the first play. A pretty tackle by Packer threw the runner for a loss. Lawrence made five yards on a centre rush. A forward pass was broken up by Naiman and the Frosh had the ball on downs.

Caress ran around left end for fifteen yards. Salomonic punted to the twenty yard line. Lawrence ran the ball back to her own forty-yard mark. A double pass netted two yards. Packer and Bronstein smeared a centre rush. A flying tackle by Deutch threw Lawrence for a ten yard loss. A sweeping end run yielded but three yards. Beck broke up a cross buck play and the frosh had the ball on downs. A fake pass failed. Meisel slipped through tackle for four yards. He made twelve more through the same place. A five yard penalty was inflicted for delaying the game. Salomonic got two yards on an off tackle plunge. Eight yards more were added on a short pass from Meisel to Salomonic. "Sal" made six through guard. Meisel got three off-tackle and another forward from Meisel to Salomonic was good for five yards and a first down. Meisel broke through tackle for three yards and Salomonic got two thru centre. The leather was now in a position to try a field goal. Bronstein's pass was a trifle wide and Meisel missed the goal.

Score: — C. C. N. Y. Freshmen 3, Lawrence 0.

MATH DEPT. DISCUSSES STRUCTURE OF ATOMS

The department of mathematics met last Thursday and inaugurated a series of discussions on recent developments in mathematical physics, following Sommerfeld's "Atomic Structure and Spectral Lines." Professor Reynolds read a paper covering the first chapter. President Sidney E. Mezes and various members of the physics, chemistry, and philosophy departments were present and took part in the discussion.

Third Quarter

Salomonic kicked off to the thirty yard line and the receiver was downed on the thirty-five yard mark by Bronstein. Caress intercepted a long forward pass on Lawrence's forty-seven yard line. Lawrence recovered a frosh fumble and ran twenty yards before Naiman stopped the runner. Another forward was unleashed by Lawrence and again Caress grabbed it, and aided by perfect interference, ran eighty odd yards for a touchdown. The Lawrence players were bowled over like ten pins by the mechanical and perfect interference of the frosh. Meisel added the extra point with a placement kick.
Score: — C. C. N. Y. Freshmen 10, Lawrence 0.

Lawrence kicked off to the thirty-yard line. Salomonic punting on the first down, kicked to the forty-yard mark. Beck downed the receiver in his tracks. Lawrence failed to gain on a sweeping end run. A centre rush netted three yards. Another yard was added on a cross buck. On the last down they made first down on the cross-buck formation. Two crisscross plays netted three yards. A centre rush was good for three more. A long forward was unsuccessful and the freshmen had the leather on downs. Caress got two off tackle. Salomonic made five more in the same place. A centre rush made first down. Poor interference caused Salomonic to be thrown for a ten-yard loss on an attempted end run. Meisel immediately retrieved this by a ten-yard off-tackle plunge. As the quarter ended Salomonic punted to the twenty-yard mark.
Score: — C. C. N. Y. Freshmen 10, Lawrence 0.

Fourth Quarter

Lawrence made six yards on a criss-cross. Two end runs were good for eight yards and a first down. A long forward was good for fifteen yards. Two more forwards brought the ball to the frosh eight-yard line. For three downs they held, but on the last the referee ruled that Lawrence had crossed the line. A forward behind the goal added the extra point.
Score: — C. C. N. Y. Freshmen 10, Lawrence 7.

Meisel ran the kick-off back to the twenty yard line. Ten yards were gained on a centre rush, but were lost with a five yard penalty for being offside. Salomonic punted and Lawrence had the ball on the forty yard line. Ten yards were the result of a forward pass and a fifteen yard penalty for talking by a substitute brought Lawrence into position for a field goal. The ball easily went over the bar knotting the count.

Score: — C. C. N. Y. Freshmen 10, Lawrence 10.

Lawrence kicked off and Meisel returned the ball to the forty-five line. Two forwards were good for a first down. Lawrence intercepted another forward just as the whistle blew.

VARSITY BASKETEERS ROUNDING INTO FORM

Fundamentals Still Stressed—Scrimmages Featured By Spectacular Shots and Shifty Floor-work

The varsity basketball squad of last week as shown by the scrimmages is rapidly rounding into form. This was the third week of practice for the team.

Coach Nat Holman, the varsity coach, is still working on fundamentals. While the gymnasium is occupied before the regular practice starts, Nat instructs the freshmen and inexperienced varsity candidates in the art of basket shooting in the newly equipped exercising room. In the scrimmages, the new players are instructed in criss-crossing and in the "give-and-go-in" style of basketball. Later on in the season, the finer points of the game will be taught.

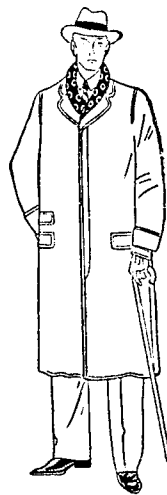

Scrimmages are held at each practice session. On Friday, Coach Holman divided the men into the "Blacks" and the "Whites". With Salz and Perlman, forwards, Heynick, center, Match and Goldberg, guards, on the "Black" team; and with Nadel, Trachman and Towbin, forwards, Edelstein, center, Hodesblatt and Palitz, guards, on the "Whites," an even struggle was justly anticipated.

Of the players, seven are veterans from last year's squad. Goldberg, Hodesblatt and Towbin played on the '26 team, while Trachman is a newcomer. The playing of both teams was extremely fast and was featured by many spectacular shots. From this, it was apparent that this year's Lavender quintet will possess the speed and accuracy which have been characteristic of City College teams, coached by Nat Holman.

Coach Holman, on Thursday, gave his men a short talk on "training and practicing." During the scrimmage, Nat occasionally halted his men to show them how to avoid certain minor faults. He illustrated important hints on team play and stressed his dislike for individual stars.

FRESHMAN X-COUNTRY TEAM BEGINS PRACTICE

Four Tentative Meets on Schedule More Freshmen Needed For Squad.

The freshman cross-country season began early last week when the entire squad was put through their first earnest grind over the Van Cortlandt freshman course of three miles. From now until the end of the current season, practice will be held daily at the Stadium, with regular bi-weekly runs, on Tuesdays and Thursdays, over the Park course.

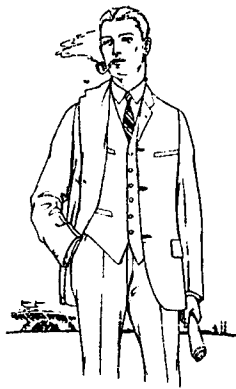

Late as is the start, the first meet of the season probably taking place next Saturday—prospects for the team are bright. Among those who have been out practicing regularly are Hyman, Goldsmith, Lunderquist, Matto, Zahn, Polatchnik and Numan. More men from the freshman class are needed if a really high class team is to be turned out.

Four dual meets have been tentatively arranged by Manager David Kurke, '26, and the schedule awaits final ratification by the A. A. Board. The teams which are to be met are from Morris H. S., Horace Mann, Brooklyn Poly Frosh and N. Y. U. Frosh. If the '27 team shows up well in these dual meets, the combination will be entered in the Freshman Intercollegiate.

The tentative schedule follows:—
Oct. 27—Morris H. S.
Nov. 3—Horace Mann.
Nov. 10—Brooklyn Poly Frosh.
Nov. 17—N. Y. U. Frosh.
Nov. 26 — Frosh Intercollegiate Champs.

All the races will be held over the three mile frosh course at Van Cortlandt Park.

THE HEBREW UNION COLLEGE SCHOOL FOR TEACHERS IN NEW YORK CITY.

Organized by the Hebrew Union College, with the co-operation of the New York Association of Reform Rabbis, to train teachers for Religious and Sunday Schools in New York.

The curriculum is designed to give a comprehensive training in subject matter as well as in the methods of teaching.

A two years course of study covers the fundamentals of History, Bible, Religion, Hebrew and Pedagogy. Attendance is required two nights a week.

The courses are offered in extension to all persons unable to enroll for the complete course of study. Laymen interested in the subjects taught for their cultural and educational value are invited to enroll.

Registration for the Fall semester of 1923, begins October 15th and ends November 9th.

Opening sessions will be held the evening of November 5th.

For information concerning admission, courses, sessions, etc., apply to ABRAHAM N. FRANZBLAU, Principal, 140 West 42nd Street, New York City.

STUYVESANT PLAYS FROSH IN STADIUM IN MORNING GAME

Lavender Eleven Conceded Slight Edge Over Championship High School

FIRST CUB HOME GAME

Neither Team Has Suffered Defeat In Games To Date—Keen Battle Anticipated

Badly battered and bruised, as a result of their hard tussle last Saturday with the Lawrence eleven, the freshman pigskin chasers are looking forward with some awe to three hard games following one upon the other. The first of these crucial contests, crucial because of their results hinges the final rating of the team, is a clash with the heavy and powerful Stuyvesant eleven, champions of Greater New York.

The yearlings and the wearers of the Scarlet and the Blue are two of the most evenly matched teams in the city. Both are undefeated after three games, while Stuyvesant has the added distinction of not having had her goal line crossed. The East Siders have beaten Nyack, 14-0, Paterson, 21-0, and Little 28-0 in successive victories. The Frosh walloped White Plains, 33-0, Evander, 40-0 and played a 10-10 tie with Lawrence.

On paper the record of the high-school eleven is the more impressive. Yet, tomorrow's tussle should see the freshmen emerge on the long end of the score. In Stuyvesant's last game, they beat the weak Textile outfit 28-0, while earlier in the season, the same Textile team was trounced 41-0 by New Utrecht, a team admittedly not in the class of Stuyvesant. Stuyvesant's low score may be partially explained by the fact that their big outstanding luminary, Ken Whalen, saw the fracas from the side-lines. Coach Saltman also used a scrub team in the last two periods.

Both teams have powerful backfields and a strong, aggressive line. The freshman backfield has one advantage over Stuyvesant namely, experience. Hamer and Hansboro, the two newcomers, on the Stuyvesant eleven are dependable players, but lack that necessary experience. Meisel, Salomonic and Caross of the yearling backfield all played high-school football before coming to City College. This, together with the individual brilliancy of the freshmen backs, should prove the deciding factor in the game. Whalen is the only member of the Stuyvesant backfield that begins to compare with the yearling trio. Bill Timm, the other veteran in the Dutchmen's backfield, is an erratic player as evinced by the poor game he played in last year's Stuyvesant-Clinton game after performing brilliantly all season.

The forward walls of both elevens are evenly matched. Stuyvesant has four members of last year's championship aggregation on its line. Prati, Mendelson, Weiss, and Makser are playing the game of their lives. The two ends and the left tackle are playing a creditable game for newcomers. The Frosh forward wall will be strengthened by the return of Miller to center. Seidler and Deutch at the guard positions are reliable and

SENIOR CLASS COUNCIL APPOINTS COMMITTEES

At the meeting of the '24 Class Council last Thursday, Mac Etra '24 was appointed chairman of the Pin Committee. Members of the senior class desirous of becoming members of the committee should interview Mr. Etra in the '24 alcove.

Hal Schnurer '24 was appointed chairman of the alcove committee, and H. Tannenbaum '24 and Pete Brody '24 were chosen as committeemen.

NEW MUSICAL COMEDY PLANNED FOR SPRING

Plan Now Underway for Production Of Varsity Play to be Held at Hotel Plaza in April

The project of a musical comedy to be produced under the college auspices is rapidly gaining favor. Plans have already been made for the production of this show at the Hotel Astor some time during April. Men prominent in college activities are lending active support to the carrying out of these plans.

Hy Sakolsky, Nat Berall, Abel Meeropol and Howard Hintz have volunteered their services to write a suitable play for the proposed show. Al Whyman, President of the Student Council, and Hy Sakolsky, Editor of "Mercury," will write the songs and music.

Seymour Copstein '25 will assume charge of the stage production and Al Whyman will act in the capacity of business manager.

A meeting of all men who are interested in this new project will be held next Thursday at one o'clock in the "Merc" office. Men who are acquainted with any phase of play production, especially electricians, carpenters, business and stage managers, are urged to attend this meeting.

DEAN BROWNSON AT ALBANY CONVENTION

The Dean and Professor Heckman Attend Meeting of Educators—Discuss Entrance Limitations

Dean Brownson and Professor Heckman of the Education Department represented City College at a convention of educators held recently in Albany. The meeting was held in the building of the Department of Education.

The question of limitations in college entrance examinations was the most important of the subjects considered. The prevailing opinion was that further restrictions in college entrance requirements are imperative. Dr. James, principal of Boys' High School, made the point that there ought to be a character test for entrance, as well as an ability test.

Dean Brownson, when interviewed by a Campus reporter, said: "The idea of making college entrance requirements more strict is undoubtedly a good one. The only obstacle is the difficulty of drawing up a character test. Few of us have an accurate idea of our own character; it would therefore be a very difficult task to pass judgment upon that of another. The question, really, is not one of restriction, but of selection."

DRIVE TO UNIFORM BAND ENDS TO-DAY

$125 Collected to Date—Band to Stage Pep Rally on Campus

The drive to equip the college band with attractive uniforms was launched vigorously last Wednesday morning, with the sale of red and green tags bearing the inscription "Equip the Band!" Approximately $125, or about sixty per cent of the required sum has been raised to date, and it is expected that the necessary amount, which is over $200, will be raised by tonight.

On Wednesday morning, the corridors, the alcoves, the concourse and the fraternity corners in the Lincoln Corridor were canvassed by the committee, and students were urged to purchase at least one tag: either the red, which sells for twenty-five cents, or the green one, at ten cents. Following the Chapel exercises yesterday, students who had not as yet secured their tags were approached, and a goodly sum was realized. Pep rallies in the concourse, at which prominent college men spoke, concluded yesterday's activities.

The drive closes to-day, and a concentrated effort will be made by the committee to secure sufficient funds to purchase the desired uniforms.

According to Sid Rosenberg, chairman of the tag-day committee, every student of the college will be wearing a tag by the end of the day. At twelve o'clock, the college band will assemble at the Senior Pedestal on the Campus. The band will parade about the college grounds playing Lavender songs and martial airs.

It was originally intended to have the uniforms ready for the Hobart game, but this has been found to be impossible. They will be ready for the N. Y. U. game however, and will be used for that game and the Fordham game, the two most important encounters of the season. The band will moreover be available for all other important college functions. The band is composed of about sixty men, and at least forty can be mustered for all important occasions.

Professor Holton and Sid Rosenberg '25 have completed the design for the band uniform. The trousers will be white, with wide black seams along the sides. The Jersey will be a Lavender and Black combination, and the hat will resemble to a great degree the Sophomore caps, which are white with lavender trimmings.

ADVOCATES STUDENT CURRICULUM COMM.

The Faculty Committee on the Curriculum at its meeting last Monday, passed a motion favoring the establishment of a student curriculum committee, with advisory powers, to act in unison with the faculty committee. The motion will be presented to the meeting of the entire faculty. This meeting will be held in about two weeks.

The faculty action was the result of a resolution passed by the Student Council a few weeks ago, urging the faculty to establish a Student Committee on the Curriculum.

SEVEN ARTS MEETING

The Seven Arts club will hold a regular business meeting in Room 306 at 7 P. M. this afternoon. All members are urged to attend, as very important business will be transacted.

VON KLENZE SPEAKS ON REALISTIC DRAMA

Delivers Fourth Lecture of Series of Ten Under Auspices of Seven Arts

Professor Camillo von Klenze, speaking before the Seven Arts Club, delivered the fourth lecture of his series of ten on the "Modern Drama" last Wednesday at one o'clock in Room 306. In this lecture, Professor von Klenze traced the development of psychological realism before the time of Ibsen.

In his three previous lectures the professor described the Greek drama, the Shakespearian drama, and the rise of social realism. The typical plot of the Greek drama was the clash of the individual will with an inscrutable fate. The Shakespearian drama, which reflected the Christian view of life, that the individual is responsible for his actions, was in its essence a character play, according to Prof. Von Klenze. Social realism in the drama came as a result of the rise of the bourgeoisie, and is typified by the family play which has no heroic characters.

The professor pointed out that the next tendency of the drama was that of psychological realism. This new form of psychological realism is an attempt to reflect in detail the condition of the human soul. The fundamental vision of life to which modern drama adheres is essentially scientific. There is the passionate desire to understand life in all its phases. Hence the interest of the modern drama in such varied subjects as the proletariat, and morbid conditions of the mind.

The German philosopher, Feuerbach, according to Professor von Klenze, gave philosophic expression to these modern tendencies. The keynote of Feuerbach's philosophy was, "We are certain only of this, that we are here, that we are alive. Therefore, study life, worship and ennoble it." "Another important effect of psychological realism on modern drama," said the speaker, "is the study of individual souls as really complex phenomena."

In Greek and even in Shakespearian drama, on the other hand, the characters are regarded as simple and unified in their mental behavior. Among the first to regard the individual in this light was Goethe, who embodied it in his two dramas, "Rasso" and "Faust."

"Fate in the Greek drama," continued Professor von Klenze, "is now replaced by a new fate which in the modern drama represents the two unchangeable forces of heredity and environment."

STUDENTS LECTURE BEFORE RADIO CLUB

Richard Carlisle, president of the Radio Club, explained the theory underlying the construction of small transmitting sets, at the meeting of the club, on Thursday, October 18. A. Pollock, a member of the society, discussed the mechanical construction of such sets.

Next Thursday, at one o'clock, J. Marcus, an officer of the club, will give the third of the series of lectures which the club is conducting for beginners. He will talk on the construction of one-tube receiving sets.

NEWMAN CLUB DANCE IN THE GYM TONIGHT

The Newman Club will hold its annual informal Hollow'een Dance in the Gymnasium tonight. The committee, under the chairmanship of Leo Ryan, has completed painstaking preparation to insure the enjoyment of all those who attend the affair. The Gymnasium will take on a gala appearance with the usual streamers and fraternity banners. Tickets may be procured from Chairman Ryan in the Newman Alcove.

CONSIDER CONDITIONS IN COLLEGE ALCOVES

Alex. Whyman '24 Urges Cleaner Alcoves in Address to Class Presidents

At the meeting of the class presidents, held yesterday afternoon Alex. J. Whyman '24, President of the Student Council, commented on the present condition of the alcoves.

Mr. Whyman asserted that approximately $1200 had been expended in painting and decorating the alcoves, and that the carelessness of the college students was bringing back the state of affairs prevalent in former terms. The speaker urged the class presidents to cooperate with him in keeping the alcoves in respectable condition, and in apprehending those students who willfully violate college regulations concerning the alcoves.

"Eating in alcoves or tossing newspapers about are against the regulations of the Student Council," declared Mr. Whyman, "and offenders will be punished by the Discipline Committee."

The class presidents have agreed to report all offenders to the Discipline Committee, and will meet in two weeks to determine the progress of the plans.

TECH MEN URGED TO CONSULT DEAN SKENE

Freshman Intending to Take Engineering Courses to Confer With Dean Immediately

Dean Skene of the School of Technology has announced that it is important that all members of the entering class who intend to specialize in engineering confer with him as early as possible regarding the arrangement of a definite course of study.

It is very desirable that students contemplating the study of engineering at the School of Technology eliminate all comparatively large number of courses required for all of the engineering degrees.

It frequently happens that prospective engineers neglect to inquire about the prescribed courses until they are about to enter the School of Technology. The result is that they are over-burdened with too large a number of difficult subjects during their last year. This difficulty often necessitates their remaining in College longer than the prescribed five years in order to obtain their degrees.

Professor Skene may be consulted at his office at Compton Hall during any lunch hour or afternoons after 3 o'clock.

LAVENDER READY TO FIGHT HOBART ELEVEN TO FINISH

Up-State Aggregation Has Defeated St. Stephens by 40-0 Score

VARSIITY AIDED BY RESTS

Team Plays With Added Zest In Thursday Scrimmage—Fine Work by Brauer

Tomorrow, the Varsity eleven will meet Hobart in the Stadium. This is the hardest game on the Lavender schedule with the exception of N. Y. U. Since the Genevans have an aggregation easily as strong as that of last year, a victory for C. C. N. Y. seems very doubtful.

Hobart, last year at Geneva, held the varsity to a 24-0 score. The Lavenderites on this occasion put up a scrappy game, and that is all that is expected of them tomorrow. The Genevans in their first game this season beat St. Stephens by a score of 40-0. St. Stephens in turn defeated the varsity 7-0. The comparative deduction is that a victory is decidedly uncertain.

The Lavender footballers tomorrow enter the fray with nothing to lose and everything to gain. So far this season, the efforts of the team have not succeeded in bringing victory, although elevens less strong than Hobart have been encountered. The men, however, realize the significance of a victory over such a formidable adversary, and will enter the battle full of fight and the spirit to win.

The weather-man during the past week has made things miserable for the coach and team. Because of incessant rain, no outdoor practice could be staged for the first three days of the week. The problem of presenting a well-organized team to combat so worthy a foe, with such scant time for practice, must surely be a puzzler for Coach Neville.

The squad however has received an unlooked for rest which may do some good. This was noticeable in the eagerness for work demonstrated in practice Thursday. In this short vacation period, however, the men have slowed up perceptibly and will have to step a bit in order to keep up with their opponents.

The lineup will no doubt be the same as that of the Delaware Game last week. Brauer, since he has returned to the squad, has been catching quite a sensation because of his running, tackling and passing ability. Plaut has been playing his consistent and brainy brand of football.

On the line, Schiff and Bienstock will tackle, while Friedman and Elm hold down the guard berths. Williams as usual, will occupy the pivot position and Philidius and Crownfield will serve at the ends.

In the backfield, Plaut at quarter, and Berk and Garvey at halfback will be the likely choice. Brauer in all probability will again draw the full-back assignment.

VARSITY HARRIERS TO RUN FIVE MEETS

Lafayette, N. Y. U., and Brooklyn Poly Appear on Schedule—Entered in Two Events

MET CHAMPS OPEN CROSS-COUNTRY SEASON

Six Teams of Metropolitan District To Compete for Local Title Title Saturday

The varsity x-country team will open its season this Saturday as a competitor in the Metropolitan Championship run at Van Cortlandt Park. Three stiff dual meets have been booked for the team by Manager Rube Berson. The season will be concluded by the Intercollegiate Champs.

Last year, the Met Champs were held the Saturday preceding the Intercollegiate. This year however, precedent has been overlooked, and the Met. Champs heads the schedules of the colleges in the city. The strong aggregations which will vie for honors in this meet are C. C. N. Y., N. Y. U., Rutgers, Brooklyn Poly, and Fordham.

Columbia's cross-country team had no difficulty in establishing its supremacy over its metropolitan rivals last year when the Blue and White won with the remarkably low score of 16. Rutgers was far behind with a total of 50. N. Y. U. was third with 71, while City College was fourth with 91. Fordham fifth with 102, and Brooklyn Poly with 135 trailed the rest of the field.

The Lavender team did well last year, considering the obstacles which had to be overcome. With a squad of but eight men, and these not present at every meet, without a coach, and the team not practicing as a unit, a pleasant surprise greeted the college when the harriers finished fourth in the race. Conditions are reversed this year with Coach L. B. MacKenzie and Ass't. Coach J. Friedman preparing a large number for the six-mile intercollegiate course at Van Cortlandt Park. Practice, contrary to custom, is being held regularly.

The first dual meet of the season will be held the Saturday following the Met. Champs., Nov. 3rd, against Lafayette at Van Cortlandt Park. Lafayette, usually, presents a strong aggregation and the Lavender harriers will have to be in top-notch form if last year's defeat of 36-19 is to be wiped off. This run was held over the Lafayette course at Easton and, because of the unfamiliarity of the district, several college harriers ran a half-mile out of the course. Dain, who will again carry the college colors this year, finished third, one minute and four seconds behind the winner.

N. Y. U. will be the next opponent to compete with the college runners. This race will take place November 10th, also at Van Cortlandt Park. At the annual meet last year the N. Y. U. team wiped out the 1921 defeat at the hands of C. C. N. Y. men with a

COLLEGE RIFLE MEN ANNOUNCE SCHEDULE

Meets With Leading Universities of East Arranged—Results To Be Broadcast.

Captain Irwin Murray of the rifle team yesterday announced the schedule for the coming season. Meets are arranged with the leading eastern universities. This will be the rifle team's first year as a College team, as in the past the meets were conducted under the auspices of the R. O. T. C.

The team will do no travelling but will perform in its own armory. The score of its shooting will be sent by radio to the opposing college which will in turn broadcast its results.

The tentative schedule is as follows:
Nov. 19 ..... Syracuse University.
Dec. 5 or Feb. 17 ..... New York Univ.
Dec. 12 ..... Columbia University.
Dec. 18 or March 10 ..... University of Delaware.
Dec. 26 or Jan 20 ..... University of Maine.

Jan. 13 ..... Amherst College.
Feb. 10 ..... University of Virginia.
Feb. 24 or March 24 ..... Cornell Univ.
March 3 or March 17 ..... Colgate Univ.

Later in the season, the college harriers avenged their defeat in the dual meet by out-running them in the Intercollegiate Champs. Hostilities for the coming season will begin this Saturday when either may draw first blood in the Met Champs.

The last dual meet of the season will take place Saturday, Nov. 17, at Van Cortlandt Park against Brooklyn Poly. The only victory of the season last year was gained at the hands of the engineers. The Lavender harriers just nosed out this victory when it finished at the short end of a 27-28 score. Brooklyn Poly carried away the individual honors of the race when Captain Judge crossed the finish line in 35 minutes, 53 seconds, half a minute ahead of the first Lavender runner.

The season as usual, will be concluded with the great Intercollegiate Championship Meet to be run over the six-mile course at Van Cortlandt Park, the intercollegiate x-country track. This is the fifteenth annual championship race and the third in succession held over the New York course. Last year, out of a record field of 287 entries of 18 colleges, Columbia took first place. The Lavender team did not do as well as was expected but nevertheless managed to keep out of the cellar position in the scoring by nosing out N. Y. U.

The schedule follows:—
Oct. 27 Metropolitan Championships at Van Cortlandt Park.
Nov. 3—Lafayette at Van Cortlandt Park.
Nov. 10—N. Y. U. at Van Cortlandt Park.
Nov. 17—Brooklyn Poly at Van Cortlandt Park.
26—Intercollegiate champs at Van Cortlandt Park.

VARSITY FIVE NEARS MID-SEASON FORM

Basketball Team Still Needs Much More Practice To Acquire Typical Holman Style

After three weeks the Lavender basketball team is rounding into mid-season form. It is apparent that this year's quintet will possess all the speed and accuracy that has been characteristic of the teams coached by Nat Holman.

Coach Holman has devised a novel means of giving the first team players the maximum opposition. In the scrimmage on Tuesday, he placed Match and Palitz as guards on one team, the Blacks, while Nadel and Satz played forwards on the Whites. Edelman jumped center for the team on which Match and Palitz played, while Heynich jumped opposite him. Towards the end of practice, Nat himself played on the Whites with Patterson as the other forward. Goldberg and Perlman were the other two members of the Blacks. Tobin and Hodesblatt of last term's frosh five also received workouts on these teams. After the first two fives had scrimmaged, teams three and four took the floor. Prominent among the second ten players are Prager, Moses, Trachman, and Katz.

Tuesday's scrimmage was featured by the fine shooting of Nadel and Edelman. The Lavender stars are both shooting and passing with their former brilliancy which earned them places on many all New York fives. Match also played a good game but he will be handicapped this season because of his habit of making unintentional personal fouls. The pass work of Salz and Palitz has improved greatly over last year and their shooting is more accurate.

In the second scrimmage, Katz starred for the third team, shooting two baskets. Prager and Trachman also played well. Coach Holman has already cut down the squad to eighteen men.

SWIMMERS TO HAVE TEAM OF VETERANS

Many Veterans of Last Year's Team And Several Freshmen Are On the Squad

Although the opening meet of the swimming season is more than two months off, practice for the varsity team is already being held. The prospects for a good City College team this year are bright, as nearly all of last year's veterans are back at college, while many promising members of last year's freshman team are also trying to make berths on the Varsity.

Of the men out for the fifty-and-one hundred yards dashes, Coach McCormick will probably choose from Frank Casper, Bailey Harvey and Murray Dundes. For the breast stroke there are Dan Schneeweis and Wallace; both veterans of last year's team. Sal. Shufro is also fighting hard for a place in this event. In the back-stroke, the team has been greatly strengthened by the return to college of Steve Abatte, and in addition "Mulligan" Gesburg, former freshman star. In the relay, it is probable that the veteran combination of Casper, Harvey Dundes and Glynn will be used. Hy Schein, diver, is also back on the job, and Johnny Balsam, last year's frosh diver, will probably be his mate in this event. Of the men out for the four-forty yard swim, the most promising are, Worall and Curtis; Hy Shecter, Hughie Glynn and Bert Huie may also be used in this event.

FROSH FIVE BEGIN TO PRACTICE SEPARATELY

Freshmen To Hold Practice at Different Time From Varsity—Holman Still Coaching

A large squad of candidates reported to Coach Nat Holman last Monday on the first separate freshman practice of the season. Heretofore the '27 men have been practicing with the varsity, but since Monday they have had their workouts at different times from the varsity, owing to the fact that "Doc" Parker, the freshman mentor, is occupied with his duties as coach of the yearling football team. Nat will instruct the 1927 floor men until the end of the gridiron season.

Among the candidates for the team is Shein, ex-Hoboken High School star and member of last term's freshman aggregation. He was the outstanding star of the N. Y. U. game shooting six field goals. Another veteran of last season is Julius Raskin brother of the former varsity captain. He will not report immediately because he is playing freshman football. Ted Meisel, former New Utrecht player, also will report after the football season. Another promising candidate is Marcy Greenberg, all-scholastic star from Morris High School.

Manager Rabinowitch is preparing a schedule which includes games with the leading high schools of the city. The climax of the season will be, of course, the N. Y. U. freshman game, which will be played as a preliminary to the varsity game.

INDOOR TRACK TEAM TO BE RE-ORGANIZED

First Team Since 1921 — Coach MacKenzie Believes Enough Material Available.

With cross-country practice going along regularly, Coach MacKenzie has turned his attention to track. His aim is to build up a team to represent the college in the indoor track meets scheduled for the winter by the various athletic organizations in the metropolitan district.

This new departure from the recent trend of City College track athletics is the result of the interest aroused in board running by the interclass track relays held during last winter in the college gym. Enough new men of promise were brought out by these meets to warrant hopes of entering a representative combination in the local athletic meets in which Columbia, Fordham, New York University and other colleges are entered. The various athletic clubs of the city also enter teams in these meets, assuring competition of a very high order.

Three years ago an indoor track team regularly represented the College and performed with surprisingly good results for a first effort. During the winter of 1920-21, the Lavender runners succeeded in winning several first places in the mile relay events at the Osceola, Wilco and 106th Regiment Games, and defeated Brooklyn Poly in a special race preliminary to the basketball game of that year, held at the 23rd Regiment Armory in Brooklyn. To crown the generally successful season, George Bisgier, captain of the team, that year, first defeated Berni Wefers Jr., the crack N. Y. A. C. runner, in the hundred-yard dash in 10 1-5 seconds, then won the twenty at the Osceola games, finished third to Loren Murchison, nationally known sprinter of the Illinois A. C., and Eddie Farrell the New York A. C. crack in the special 50, 60 and 70 yard dashes at the Wilco games and rounded out the season by winning the 300 yard Metropolitan title.

The following year an attempt was made to re-organize a team, but the graduation of Bisgier and Horn, the withdrawal of Prerau and Bayer, and the injury to Factor early in the season left the team in such poor shape that the college entries were withdrawn. Coach MacKenzie and Capt. Rosenwasser concentrating on developing the team for the outdoor season. During that winter and in '23 the authorities thought it best to stimulate interest in the sport by means of the interclass relay races and meets, with the understanding that if enough men turned out, an attempt to meet other colleges would be made this winter.

At present practice is being held daily from noon to 6 o'clock in the Stadium and will continue as long as weather conditions permit. These practices are intended primarily for those intending to try for the team, who are not also on the cross-country squad. These workouts will give the men an opportunity to get into condition, so that when the team takes to the boards, Mac can immediately concentrate on speed development. Should enough men turn out for the sport, it is planned to obtain an armory for daily practice.

Is One-Fifth as Powerful as WJZ—Already Heard in Canada—Now Testing with Australia

The Radio Club has just installed a vacuum tube transmitting set of one-fifth the power of the large broadcasting stations such as WJZ. The set has been already reported loud at Toronto, Canada, and many points scattered over the eastern portion of the country. The club is keeping a schedule of tests with stations in New Zealand and Australia whereby those stations are listening for signals, and if heard there, two-way communication will be attempted.

The transmitter here is fully equipped for radio telephone broadcasting on low power, but will probably not be employed for that purpose because the high quality of the New York broadcasting would be too difficult to duplicate without further elaborate outlay. When anything worth attention occurs at the college, one of the big stations will broadcast it.

The club's transmitter was designed and built entirely by the members of the club. Certain standard hook-ups were studied, but in every case it was found possible to improve on what others had done in the field, and the set embodies many original points of design and construction.

The most difficult part of the construction was the actual building of the set. It is as well built as any commercial instrument of the type. The construction of the set was undertaken for the most part during the summer vacation, when Carlisle, Polak and Day devoted two or three weeks to the work.

DOUGLASS SOC. PLANS ACTIVITIES FOR TERM

The Douglass Society outlined its plan of activities for this semester at a meeting held last Thursday noon.

Arrangements are being made to hold the annual Douglass Society concert in the Great Hall of the college. The club is also considering the feasibility of producing Shakespeare's "Othello." At the meeting to be held this Thursday, plans for the launching of a membership campaign will be considered.

STUYVESANT MEETS FROSH TEAM TOMORROW MORNING

aggressive. Seidler, especially, is anxious to play well as he is the only man on the first team who comes from Stuyvesant. Pacer and Naiman need little boosting. Stuyvesant knows Naiman. They "laid" for him in last year's Clinton game. Swinkin and Beck can be depended upon to put up a stellar game at the wing positions. One fault can be found with Beck. In his eagerness to get started in the play, he is frequently off-side. Dr. Parker has probably remedied this fault in the right side of the line, so noticeable in the Lawrence game. Aside from the ability of the 'two teams, the Frosh have an advantage in the fact that the game will be their first home affair. Every engagement thus far has been in the face of hostile crowds. With every freshman and many upper classmen in the stands urging them on, the Frosh will come through tomorrow in their first big test.

SOCCKETTES TRIM TOWNSEND HARRIS

Unofficial Freshmen Team Wins Hard-Fought Soccer Game

On Thursday, October 18, the Freshmen Soccer Team, alias the Lavender Soccer Club, had a workout with Harris in which the '27 men defeated the preparatory school 1-0.

The game was played under great difficulty, rain falling all the time. It finally rained so hard that the game had to be halted. The field was very heavy and muddy so that neither team was able to do itself justice. The freshmen, however, proved themselves the better mariners and succeeded in kicking one goal.

The '27 kickers made their point when Goitchman received a corner kick from Miller, and from a difficult angle kicked the goal.

The pass work of the line was excellent and the defense of the backs was equally good. The only fault the team displayed was very erratic goal-kicking. Many times the freshmen would double the ball past the Harris defense only to lose the point by a poor kick at the goal.

So good was the freshmen defense that Harris never had the opportunity to kick a goal. The ball was always around the Harris goal.

'27 DANCE NOV. 3 TO BE A FROSH-JUNIOR EVENT

Thanks to Freshman Hospitality, Juniors Will Attend Yearling Affair En Masse Next Saturday

Tickets for the Frosh Dance, which will be held on November 3rd in the Gymnasium, have already been placed on sale by the '27 Dance Committee, of which Dave Miller, vice-president of the upper freshman class is chairman. The price of tickets is $1.50 per couple. They may be obtained from any member of the Dance Committee in the Freshman Alcove.

The Junior Dance which has been temporarily shelved is still an unknown quantity. All eligible Saturday nights on which the dance could be held have already been booked by the other classes for their functions.

It is the general consensus of opinion among members of the '25 class that Juniors should attend the Freshman affair en masse next Saturday evening. This idea has met with the approval of the Junior class officers and is approved by the Freshman Dance Committee, for it will greatly increase the profit accruing from this function for the '27 class.

A large number of Juniors have already purchased tickets from Dave Miller, '27, and so the affair next Saturday promises to be a '25-'27 event. This is due entirely to the hospitality of the Freshmen class.

FOUL-SHOOTING TEST BEGINS NEXT MONDAY

The foul-shooting contest for Coach Nat Holman's cup will get under way next Monday.

All those men who have entered their names in the tourney are requested to note in the three columns on the bulletin board in the Gym Building beside their names the hour and day most convenient for them to compete. Manager Blum advises the men to allow plenty of time for the shooting because there will be other men competing.

Manager Blum, who is arranging the tournament, will then select a group of these men by placing a circle around the time they are to appear.

The Story of Chiropractic Its Development.

On the death of Dr. D. D. Palmer, the discoverer of Chiropractic, the its development principally devoted upon Dr. Willard Carver whose 28 years of accomplishment in its service have been largely instrumental in placing the science where it is today.

Dr. Willard Carver, LL. B., D. C., founded in 1905 the first Chartered Chiropractic College in the world. His deep knowledge of the science, and his ability to impart that knowledge to others gives to every Carver graduate the confidence and respect of his patients.

First Pen made for Students only

Designed by Geo. S. Parker for their special needs and made by Duofold craftsmen—yet offered at only $3

JUST as the Parker Duofold and Lady Duofold are recognized as the aristocrats of pens priced at $5 and higher, so this new Parker D. Q. is the blue-blood of pens in the medium-priced class. Indeed the same crafts-guild that produces Parker Duofold makes this Parker D. Q. that we announce at only $3.

Parker designed this pen based on a study of the students' requirements and desires. Hence it's a pen that is practically made to the students' order. We know of no other with this special ring to link to note-book, and no other this size under $5 with a special metal girdle to reinforce the cap. Yet no extra charge is made for these features, or for the super-smooth point of 14k gold tipped with Native Iridium.

Insist on seeing this new creation. Any good pen counter can supply you, but look carefully for the stamp of the genuine, "Geo. S. Parker—Lucky Curve."
