VARSITY OPPOSES CATHOLIC U. AT CAPITAL TONIGHT

Will Try for Thirteenth Straight Win Against Washington Five

By Jack A. Nadel

In preparation for to-night's game with Catholic University, the undefeated varsity basketball team went through the most strenuous series of practice sessions yet held this season. Cognizant of the many defects that have cropped up in the last three games, the men, under the keen guidance of Coach Holman, have worked hard all week to perfect their play.

The players who have a tendency to dribble the ball the length of the court were ordered to give it up and to make use of short snappy passes instead. Nat wants as many men to work in on a play as is possible, and not to have one man doing all the carrying. Only in this way will men like Hodesblatt, Goldberg and Schein get the necessary confidence in their ability.

Drilled In Passing

The team was intensively drilled in passing with a view to improving accuracy. Frequently, in the Northeastern game a Lavender player was free for a shot, but the pass was either late or intercepted. The men must learn to pass accurately to a player traveling fast for the basket. It is encouraging to note that the basketballers showed a decided improvement in this week's practice.

Another point stressed by Coach Holman was the inaccurate shooting under the basket. Palitz time and time again eluded his guard but missed the easy tries for the basket which followed. In yesterday's session, which consisted solely of shooting and passing, each player went through an intensive period of foul shooting. The work from the fifteen-foot mark as been rather inconsistent of late, it will be recalled.

Has Strong Team

Catholic U. has a fairly strong team although its record for the season is not very imposing. In early games the Washington men defeated both Fordham and St. Francis, and lost to Princeton and Army by close scores. In a return game with Fordham, last Saturday, they were beaten by a large margin.

The defense used by the Washington five is the same as that used by Dickinson—the zone system. In the Dickinson game, the Lavender team was completely baffled by this formation in the first half. Coach Holman had the second team use the zone defense in practice with the first five this week. It is necessary to take long shots in order to cope with this style of defense, and in yesterday's practice the team tried out their shooting eyes with much success.

The stars of the C. U. aggregation are Lynch, Ebert and Breslin. Lynch will be remembered as the brilliant half-back who played so well against the College in the football game two years ago.

Holman, in an interview, expressed confidence that the team would come through all right. "The men must realize," he said, "that our opponents fear us more than we fear them."

Students' Sanity Threatened by Clock Strike—Classes as Usual

The College clocks have stopped. For more than a month they have squatted in their places on the walls, serenely content, and their hands have not budged an inch. At first their refusal to work was thought to be a mere passing whim, a fleeting fancy that would soon be satisfied. But for more than a month they have not moved. It is growing serious.

It is like the famous situation in "Alice in Wonderland": "Two days wrong!" sighed the Hatter, on looking at his watch. "I told you butter wouldn't suit the works!" he added, looking angrily at the March Hare. "It was the best butter," the March Hare meekly replied.

"Yes, but some crumbs must have gotten in as well," the Hatter grumbled: "you should not have put it in with the bread knife."

The Hatter's admirable theory may be a satisfactory reason for the stopping of a watch, but no mere butter and crumbs would make the steel wheels of a College clock cease their remorseless grinding. A clock that has ticked on steadily through the years without increase or retardation in its snail-like pace is not to be daunted by the mere presence of algae and wheat-particles. No sir! We must seek another cause. Not only that, but we must remedy the condition, or some day, sometime, somebody's brain is going to snap. The strain is terrific. Imagine a student breezing down the hill to an early morning class, for instance. At 8.45 he looks at the dial on the Townsend Harris tower and its hands point mutely to 12.15. At 11.20, he ambles into the library and sees the silly timepiece there registering an unchanging 9.55. And if, perchance, he walks into the lunchroom at 12.05, the first thing his eye lights on is the clock, grinning down at him the fact that it is 10.10. No human being can stand it.

But after all, the petulant misbehavior of these clocks is of little real import. They cannot bring about any vital change in the life of the College. Despite the fact that the official time, as recorded by the office clock, has been a quarter to seven, for four weeks and seems likely to remain so recitations will continue as usual. This statement is made on reliable authority.

ENGINEERING MAY BE ALTERNATIVE TO DRILL

Proposed Organization of Military Unit at the College Depends on Enrollment

The organization of a military engineering unit at the College, work in which may be substituted for work in the infantry unit, is being contemplated by the Military Science Department.

The formation of the unit depends on the enrollment of at least fifty students as prospective members of the Course, and the securing of the funds necessary for equipment. A national law provides for the maintenance of engineering units in Colleges throughout the country. If the quota has not been filled, the establishment of a College unit will come as a matter of regular procedure. In any other case, a special appropriation from Congress will be required.

The students enrolled in the course will begin their technical study of engineering in their second year, the first year being spent in regular infantry drill. Their third and fourth years will be more completely devoted to the engineering in theory and in practice.

PRES. MEZES TALKS ON CITY CIVILIZATION

President Mezes discussed the rise of the city civilization before a political discussion group at the Temple Rodeth Solom last Monday night

President Mezes held that cities, through history, have been the nurseries of civilization. It is through the agency of these cities, said the speaker, that such mechanical improvements as the telephone and the street car first came to be used efficiently.

Speaking of New York City, President Mezes declared that it had advanced appreciably, even in the last twenty years, especially in its system of caring for its dependent classes. Dr. Kappman of the class of 1906, also addressed the meeting.

MENORAH OUTLINES ITS PROGRAM FOR SEMESTER

Officers Already Chosen—Many Prominent Men to Speak—Rabbi Wise Among Them

Election of officers was held and a program of activities for the present semester announced at a meeting of the Menorah Society held last week. The new officers of the Society are Mortimer Wolford, president; David Rudavsky and Aaron Lipkowitz, vice-presidents; Arthur Weinberg, corresponding secretary; Al Morellbaum, recording secretary and Edwin Lewis, librarian.

Activities will begin with a smoker this week in honor of Mortimer Wolford who is leaving for Europe on Saturday. Chairman Weinberger of the Farewell Committee stated that only Menorah members will be present at the function.

In a few weeks Prof. Von Klenze will inaugurate a series of forums. He will be followed by such noted speakers as Rabbi Stephen S. Wise, Dr. Emil Waltman, chief physician of the Board of Education, and Judge Gustave Hartman. They will lecture on topics of general interest.

A debate with the N. Y. U. Menorah Society will be held at the end of March. Jeremiah Berman, veteran varsity debater, will captain the C. C. N. Y. Menorah team.

A drive for an increased membership has been launched by the Menorah Society. Three hundred and sixty-two members were enrolled last semester and the committee expects to top this figure this term.

"MERC" OUT TUESDAY

The Political Number of Mercury will be ready for distribution next Tuesday, announces Abel Meeropol '25, new editor of the comic.

The issue is a satirization of college and national politics. Sam Sugar '25, former art editor, has drawn a novel cover.

VARSITY SWIMMERS ENGAGE N.Y.U. TEAM

Lavender Mermen Expected To Turn in First Victory — Poloists Battle Alumni

The New York University natators invade City College to-night and for the first time this season the Lavender swimmers are confident of victory. Although the varsity was swamped by Yale at New Haven, last Saturday, the men expect to humble the Violet by a large score. This is the first non-League meet of the season for the College team.

This is the first year that New York University is represented by a swimming team and so far it has not been a very successful one. Lehigh and Union smothered the Heights team, while Brooklyn Poly was beaten by the Violet. The victory over the Brooklyn Engineers, however, does not prove that N. Y. U. has a strong team since the former was so weak earlier in the season that it was forced to cancel its engagement with the Lavender team. The University team is composed mainly of inexperienced swimmers and the College outfit should have little difficulty in winning.

Brown Dangerous

Brown appears to be the only N. Y. U. man who should cause any trouble. He will compete against Glyn and Kertsey in the furlong and these men feel confident that they can give him a good tussle for the first two places. The rest of the N. Y. U. team is so weak that the Lavender is favored to take every first place.

Immediately after the swimming meet the varsity water polo team will engage the Alumni. This contest should prove both interesting and exciting. The varsity will learn much from the tricks which the Alumni are certain to employ. Many stars of past years have signified their intention of being present and Captain Sehnrer and his teammates have a huge task before them. Four all-American water polo players will be seen in action when Lilling, Dondero, Menkes, and Gasheim enter the water.

Strong Alumni Team

The Alumni have assembled a powerful team and intend to show the varsity poloists how the game was played in their day. The Alumni will probably start with Menkes, center, all-American for two years; Dondero and Weinstein, forwards; Shapiro and Ornstein, backs; Lilling, at goal. This is the famous combination that placed City College on the map of water sports when they were runners-up for the Intercollegiate Championship in 1922. Dondero was second all-American forward for one year and Lilling was second all-American goal for two years.

The varsity will present the same line-up that was defeated by Yale last week.

Willie Nacovsky is still suffering with a punctured ear-drum which he received in the practice before the Yale game. His loss will be somewhat felt, but it is expected that the work of Austin will offset it. Captain Sehnrer will be at center, Austin and Elerich, at the forward positions, Clancy and Schecter, backs, and "Tarzan" Trachman, at goal. This combination will make the Alumni hustle if they hope to win.

The probable lineup:
Schnurer (Capt.) C. Menkes (Capt.)
Austin R. E. Weinstein
Elerich L. F. Dondero
Clancy R. B. Shapiro
Schecter I. B. Ornstein or Tannenbaum
Trachman G. Lilling

RADIO CLUB SECURES SPEAKERS FOR TERM

The Radio Club has been successful in obtaining several experts to speak on various phases of radiotelegraphy during the coming term. Mr. C. L. Beach, engineer of the Radio Corporation and of the Maratime Radio Works is to give a talk on "Transoceanic Radiotelephony" based on his personal experience as operator on the "Leviathan", Mr. E. T. Dickey, also an engineer of the Radio Corporation and the Maratime Radio Works, will deliver a talk on "How to Construct a Superheterodyne Set."

Messages are transmitted every night, and cards have been received from distant points stating that the transmission is very loud. The following members of the club take turns in staying in the Radio Tower during five nights in the week. Edward Glazer, Chief operator, Benjamin Orange, Joseph Goldstein, Richard Carlisle, and David Wexler. They will transmit messages to parts of North America or to Europe, if such messages are left in the special box on the first floor.

ANNOUNCE CARD OF SEVENTEEN GAMES FOR COLLEGE NINE

Manager Wittchell Schedules Nine Contests for College Stadium

NO GAME WITH COLUMBIA

Only Newcomers are Albright, Lafayette, and Boston Universities

The 1924 varsity baseball schedule, announced to-day by Manager Wittchell, is composed of seventeen games, nine of which are to be played in the Stadium.

Captain Trullio's men will play eight games away from home, including a short trip into Pennsylvania. Columbia will not be met as in former years because of the refusal of the Blue and White authorities to send their nine to the Stadium. During the last few years the baseball contests between the two institutions were all held at South Field.

Same Opponents

Albright, Lafayette, and Boston University were not met last season. All the other opponents on the Lavender schedule played Nat Holman's 1923 nine, with the exception of Seton Hall, who performed in the Stadium last two years ago.

St. John's was defeated 8 to 4, and Cathedral was swamped twice, 10 to 3, and 5 to 0. Manhattan met defeat by the score of 11 to 4 and Brooklyn Poly came out at the small end of a 3 to 1 score.

Lost to N. Y. U.

New York University's strong nine subdued the College team by the score of 9 to 0. Drexel was also able to conquer the Varsity, beating them 7 to 5. St. Francis met too strong a combination in the Lavender team, losing 5 to 4 in a close contest. Stevens and St. Stephens were the two other victims of last year's nine, the former losing a hard game by 11 to 10, while the latter were overwhelmed to the extent of 11 to 1.

The team traveled to Hartford to meet Trinity but an unusually severe storm prevented the contest. Fordham had little difficulty in defeating the College nine by a 10 to 1 score.

Battery candidates are working out in the auxiliary gymnasium every Monday, Wednesday and Friday afternoon. The whole squad will report on March 10, and will use the gymnasium floor until the weather permits outdoor practise in the Stadium.

FROSH CLASS SELECTS OFFICERS THIS MONDAY

Re-elections for officers of the '25 class will be held Monday afternoon from 12 to 3 in the freshman alcove. The following candidates are running for office:

President, Sheller and Soracoff vice-president, Eisenstein and Winacakaur; secretary, Rothman and Vogelsson; treasurer, Hecht and Goldberg; Marshall, Oaklander and Silverberg; Athletic manager, Beckenstein and Behrens; poet-historian, Borack and Kaemtor.

STUDENTS MUST CLAIM MAIL

The Student Mail Bureau announces that all mail at present in their hands must be removed within thirty days or be forfeited. A similar notice has been issued by the Lost and Found Bureau, which finds that many lost articles returned to the bureau's room have not been called for.

FRESHMAN FIVE TO PLAY NEWARK NORMAL SCHOOL

Yearlings in First Game On Foreign Court To-morrow Afternoon

The freshman basketball team will play its first game of the season on a foreign court, when it meets the Newark Normal High School to-morrow afternoon. The yearlings have won every game since losing to Commerce last term and are favored to continue their streak.

In the game against Mt. Vernon last week the freshmen showed an inability to cut through their opponent's defense. During the past week, Coach Parker has been paying a great deal of attention to this phase of the team's play. The defense of the frosh was well high impenetrable, the Westchester champs scoring only one field goal in the game.

Hirsch, the new player from Townsend Harris Hall, played a stellar, all-around game. Although he failed to get the jump on his lanky opponent, the freshman center performed brilliantly on the offense. Goichman was the high scorer for the frosh while Meisel played his customary good game. Dick, former Captain of Stuyvesant, lacks experience but should develop into a capable forward. Goldberg appeared to be off form.

COLLEGE DRILL BEST IN 3 STATES, SAYS MAJOR

Major John E. Ardrey, R. O. T. C. officer at the headquarters of the second corps area, visited the College last Monday and Tuesday and inspected the military science unit. Every unit in the R. O. T. C. is inspected annually by a representative from headquarters.

Major Ardrey, in commenting on the drill, said that the College unit was the best that he had seen in the entire second corps area, excluding military schools. The second corps area includes the States of New York, New Jersey and Delaware.

BIOLOGY CLUB HOLDS TERM'S 1st MEETING

The Biology Club held its first regular meeting of the term last Thursday, February 21, at 4:30 P. M. The program of the meeting consisted of a paper on the subject of "Cancer" by Joseph Stein '24, and a lecture on "Bird Coloration" by the president, Bernard Fread, '25.

Stein's talk was concerned chiefly with two original papers on cancer research in which determinations on the effect of vitamin starvation were made. He showed that the presence of vitamins in the subject's diet had no effect on the tumorous growth. His citation of cell growth in mineral salts led to a lively discussion which Dr. Goldfarb eventually cleared up.

The theories of significant and non-significant colors advanced by Sayer, Darwin and other naturalists formed the subject of Fread's talk.

EVE. SESSION COUNCIL WILL MEET TO-NIGHT

The Student Council of the Evening Session will hold its first meeting of the term to-night at 8 P. M. in Room 126. The elections for the new term will take place.

All delegates who have not already turned in their qualification slips must do so to-night. Such action is necessary to permit the delegate to vote.

The club plans to conduct excursions and field trips on which snapshots will be made. Prizes will be awarded for the best pictures.

A Speech Club to remedy the speech defects of City College students is being organized by Leon Wolpe '27, organizer and present leader of a speech club in New Utrecht High School.

The course consists of a series of exercises for the development of the muscles of the jaw and the diaphragmatic muscle. Proper breathing is taught and smooth speech, in this way, is soon obtained.

A notice has been posted in the Concourse requesting all applicants for membership in the class to give their names to Wolpe. There will be no charge for either books or tuition in this course. Meetings will be arranged to suit the convenience of the majority of members.

'26 PLANS SOCIAL PROGRAM

The first meeting of the '26 class council was held yesterday in the junior alcoves. Arrangements for its annual dance, which is to take place on April 26, in the gym, and for a smoker, which is being contemplated were discussed.
