VARSITY POLOISTS AND NATATORS TO BEGIN BIG SEASON

Yale and Princeton Are Probable Contenders for Swimming Championship

POLO TITLE FOUR-SIDED

Lavender May Win Water Polo Honors—Princeton, Yale and Columbia Have Good Material

The secretary of the Intercollegiate Swimming Association, Mr. William Schrouff, recently announced the complete schedule of swimming meets and water polo matches for the season of 1924. The College natatorium will be the scene of the eighteenth annual intercollegiate championship meet.

The struggle for premier honors in swimming this year will probably be contested between Yale, holder of the title for 14 years out of the last 15, and Princeton. The Tiger team, which gave the Bulldog a scare in 1923, has suffered greatly through losses due to graduation, while the New Havenites have lost four stars in the persons of Jelliffe, Banks, Marshall, and Veeder.

The Nassau team have Trowbridge and Butterworth for the dashes; Hazelton in the 440; Captain Moser, intercollegiate diving champion; Hardin and Rissing in the breaststroke; Draper and Hayes in the backstroke. All these are veterans and they will be strengthened by the addition of Hawkins, McClaren, McGowen, and Maxwell, members of the freshman team which last year created a sensation by defeating the Bulldog cubs.

Yale has Captain Colgate for the dashes. He will be aided by Stewart and Sullivan. Stoddard in the quarter, Lydgate and Lincoln in the backstroke, and McCullum in the dive will round out the team. Kwai is a worthy member. He recently negotiated the quarter in 5:46.

Columbia will have an easy time in taking third place in the final standings. Wright, Kennedy and Solomon in the dashes, Captain Wacker and Lange, veterans, in the 440 dash, Krissel, last year's Frosh star, and Verguson in the dive all are swimmers of calibre. Wright, the winner of last year's Frosh 50 yard title, is reputed as doing the distance in 0:25.

Pennsylvania will battle it out for fourth position, but C. C. N. Y. will be a lively contender for that honor. Outside of Captain Holst in the dashes and Schissel in the dive, the Red and Blue have no men to beat the Lavender. The coming meet will be close, probably hinging on the relay.

In water polo the outcome is more uncertain than ever before. Four teams are threatening to grasp the title from Princeton, holder for three successive years. The Tigers have a team of sophomores and are greatly to be feared. Captain Newby, Johnson, and Parvis are the only '24 men to return and there are no '25 men on the squad. Captain Taylor, goal guard, Newman, center forward, Maitlen of the '26 team will all play for Nassau this year. Coach Sullivan is whipping a team together which will be a strong contender for the title.

The Yale sextette is much weakened through the graduation of some of her athletes. Captain Langner, all American forward, and Esselstein, second A. A goal guard, form a nucleus of the team. But the Bull-dog has only an outside chance for honors, though they may use swimmers to strengthen their aggregation. They recently lost to their alumni, 45-15.

DUGGAN TALKS ON WAR PREVENTION

Proposes Amendment to Constitution as One Means of Effecting Peace

Professor Stephen P. Duggan, head of the Department of Government, addressed the Menorah Society last Thursday, in Room 126, on the "Prevention of War." He proposed as a means toward the prevention of war an amendment to the Constitution of the United States stating that "in event of war, not only the lives and liberty, but also the property of citizens shall be conscripted. Congress shall have power to enforce this amendment by appropriate legislation."

In introducing his proposal, Professor Duggan dwelt on the present warlike conditions in Europe and the need of a practicable method to do away with war. He said, "There are more armed men in Europe today than there were in July 1914. There are more hates in Europe today than ever before in the history of mankind."

The professor went on to explain the proposed amendment. He declared, "Every industry would be conscripted. The men who remain at home will be paid no more than the soldier in the field. All these affairs will be determined by the government, which now decides on the fate of the soldier."

The speaker, expounding the benefits of his plan, pointed out that under the proposed amendment, war would be directly and personally detrimental to every citizen in the country. "This," said the professor, "would be a sufficient guarantee against the passage of a war declaration."

Developing this idea, Professor Duggan showed that business men, realizing that they would make no profit during the progress of the war, would make strenuous efforts to prevent war. "Old men in Congress will not be so ready to vote away the lives of young men. I insist that I have the right to vote away my neighbor's money as he has the right to vote my son away," stated the professor.

The contemplated proposal, according to Professor Duggan, would have two other beneficial results. First, it would make the United States invincible in war. Secondly, it would initiate a movement for peace which would sweep around the entire world.

In conclusion, Professor Duggan continued, "This plan will not positively bring about world peace but it is a step in the right direction."

DECEMBER ISSUE OF QUARTERLY APPEARS

Number Contains Memorial Photograph of Edward Lauterbach '64 and An Address by Prof. Baskerville

The December issue of the City College Quarterly, published every three months by the Associate Alumni of the College of the City of New York, made its appearance last week, and is being distributed to all members of the Associate Alumni Association.

The City College Quarterly was founded by James W. Sheridan, '04, immediately following his graduation. Prof. Mott of the English Department is the present editor. This issue of the Quarterly contains a memorial article and photograph of Edward Lauterbach '64, "Science and Civilization," the last public address of Professor Baskerville, is a feature of the issue. The address was delivered in the Great Hall shortly before his death at the International Meeting of the American Chemical Society and the Society of Chemical Industry.

"Seventy-Three," an address which Dr. Charles Fagnani, '73, made at the last Annual Dinner of the Associate Alumni of C. C. N. Y. in honor of the fiftieth anniversary of his class, is also included. "Doremus and War Chemistry in 1862," is an interesting article selected from "Conversations with Distinguished Persons During the Second Empire," by Nassau W. Senior, a distinguished English publicist. The issue also contained a review of "Education For Moral Growth," by Henry Neumann '00.

ACTOR ALUMNUS TO TALK AT ASSEMBLY

James K. Hackett, '91, Will Address College on European Tour

James K. Hackett '91, Shakespearean actor, who has won international fame by his dramatic performances, will be the guest of the College and the principal speaker at the chapel exercises to be held in the Great Hall at noon this Thursday.

Mr. Hackett will arrive here from Europe Thursday morning. He will be met at City Hall by a faculty reception committee to be appointed by President Sidney E. Mezes. There is now being circulated among City College alumni and prominent New York citizens a petition to present the distinguished College alumnus with the keys of the city.

In proposing to give Mr. Hackett this honor, the committee has considered not only his work in promoting a better international feeling through the medium of the drama, but also the fact that he is a true New Yorker, descended from an old New York family.

Mr. Hackett's most signal triumph was the presentation of Macbeth and Othello under the auspices of the French Government at the theatre Odcon in Paris. At the premiere, many noted diplomats were present. The President of the French Republic, the British Ambassador, representing the King of England, and the Crown Prince of Japan attended. The American Ambassador brought with him a congratulatory cablegram from Mr. Hackett from the late President Harding. As a recognition of his contribution towards goodwill between nations in presenting the two tragedies, the Republic of France presented Mr. Hackett with the Cross of the Legion of Honor.

The invitation of the French Government for the tragedian to present both Macbeth and Othello came while he was appearing in the former play with Mrs. Patrick Campbell at the Aldwych Theatre in London. When the official invitation from the French Ministry of Fine Arts had been received, Mr. Hackett took his entire English-American company to France. As the Thane of Cawdor in the English production, he gained the enthusiastic approval of the London critics. In fact, the "London Tatler" declared that he had "succeeded where Garrick, Kemble, and Macready failed."

Mr. Hackett's ability was early revealed in his activities at the College. He founded the Dramatic Society and was its leader during most of his college career. He won all but one of the six prizes for declamation, awarded during his undergraduate days.

PARKER ORGANIZES 1924 GRID MACHINE

New Varsity Coach Addresses First Meeting of Candidates for Next Season—Sixty Present

Emphasizing the necessity for a proper mental attitude and higher standards of scholarship for all football men, Coach Parker last Thursday launched his campaign for a successful football machine at the College. An audience of sixty athletes crowded the Wrestling Room to receive the first message of the new varsity coach.

"Next year's schedule is the stiffest we have had in years. We should not be deceived by the seemingly easy opponents. Rhode Island State is far superior to the Connecticut Aggies and Hamilton is as good as Delaware, as past performances will indicate," the coach declared.

"A proper mental attitude is needed here. In the Spring of 1922, Princeton's team was threatened with disruption because of ineligibilities. But they scraped a team together and although they did not expect to win the championship, they were determined. They plugged seven days a week and the result was the winning of every game on their schedule. That same mental attitude, although it will not win us the championship, will elevate us above the laughing stock class."

The mentor stressed the fact that year-round activity in athletics of some form is essential to perfect development of football material. He recommended that the line men go out for wrestling, and the end and back go out for track and baseball. The subject of the junior varsity team was introduced and the plan of centralizing all energy on the success of the team was spoken of.

In conclusion, the coach said, "We are the underdogs! Everyone is laughing at us, even our friends. Despite this, I hope that in a few years we will be able to stop the jeers that are being heaped upon C. C. N. Y. Get busy!"

PROFESSOR PURIN TO LECTURE ON TOLSTOY

On Thursday, after chapel, in Room 308, Prof. Purin, of Hunter College, will address the German Club on "Tolstoy in Germany." Prof. Purin is a student of the comparative literature of the Continent.

The Verein announces that it has arranged for a talk by Dr. Friederich Kettner, Viennese lecturer, philosopher and laborite. He will speak in the near future on "Ethical Radicalism."

SCOTT LECTURES ON 6000 MILE AUTO TRIP

The experiences of a 6,000 mile automobile trip to Iowa were related in a talk on "Sagebrush and Rattlesnakes" delivered by Professor G. G. Scott, head of the Biology Department before the Biology Club last Thursday.

"Some of the most interesting sights of the trip," the professor said, "were found in Yellowstone Park. Boiling geysers, roaring torrents, hot-spring holes, and, of course, the Grand Canyon make the national reserve a place well worth visiting."

Lavender Wins Sixth Straight Contest in Downing McGill University

NADEL STAR OF GAME

Worst Exhibition of Basket Shooting Seen on Home Court in Years—Match Plays Well

The unbeaten varsity basketball team won its sixth game of the season last Friday by defeating the McGill University five, champions of Canada, in a loosely played contest on the home court. The crude team work of the visitors and the poor shooting of the varsity kept the score down to 23-15.

During the first half, the Canadians were unable to pierce the Lavender defense. They resorted to long and wierd shooting but could only score one field goal. On the other hand, the home team, although passing up many easy chances to score, rolled up a total of twelve points. With four minutes left to the half, the entire second team went in, during which time neither side scored baskets.

In the second half the Canadians continued their erratic shooting. The varsity kept up its good defensive work but gave the worst exhibition of basket shooting ever seen on the College court. Time after time they missed the easiest shots from within the zone line and under the basket. At one period of the half, nine successive tries failed to find the basket. Five of these were missed by Captain Edelstein who, in spite of many attempts, could not score in this half. The only Lavender player that did not lose his head was Match who calmly continued to feed his rattled team mates. Nadel was the sole New Yorker who found the basket at all for the varsity and he missed a great many easy shots.

Lavender Defense Good

The Lavender was out-scored twelve to eleven during the second half. The Canadians were making many of their wierd shots good. Manson, captain and center for the Canucks, scored three crazy shots while Mendelsohn, besides playing a good defensive game made two ringers. The only encouraging features of the Lavender's play were their steady defense and the good following up of their unfruitful shots.

The varsity took the ball on the tap-off but lost it a moment later on a poor pass. The Canadians, sensing that the only way to beat the home team was by scoring long field goals, quickly resorted to this method of attack. After a long shot from the side of the court by Manson went wide, Palitz was fouled but failed to tally. McGill got the ball but some clever foot work by Nadel recovered it for the varsity which lost it again on a technicality. The Canadian champions then tried several long shots, the forwards following the ball up each time and throwing it back to the guards.

The varsity finally took the ball but lost it because of sloppy passing. Nadel intercepted a pass and, by pretty dribbling obtained a shot under the basket. He missed that and another shot a moment later. Jackie was in position to shoot for the third time but was fouled by Hilton. He scored the first point of the game when he made one of his two shots good. Salz was fouled during the follow up by the same player and also made one shot count. The varsity took the ball down the field after the jump and tournament brought together City College and New York University in the other contest. Great interest centered on the first-mentioned match since the championship honors hinged on a victory for either team. A hard battle was expected from the N. Y. U. players and everyone was surprised at the unusually easy victory of the College team over the Violet. Santasiere, Tholfsen, and Koslan won their games, while Pinkus had to be content with a draw in his game against G. Kreines. Pinkus was a pawn ahead in the ending, but upon adjudication, the match was decided a draw.

The University of Pennsylvania defeated Cornell by the score 3-1, Everding, Levin, and Petty winning at the three lower boards. William J. Bryan scored the only victory in the tournament for Cornell by defeating Casciato at the first board, after a battle which lasted seventy moves.

Our varsity came through with the score of 11 1/2-5 1/2; N. Y. U. with 7-5 finished second in the competition; while Pennsylvania and Cornell landed in third and fourth places, respectively.

At the annual meeting of the Intercollegiate Chess League, held on the last day of the tournament, the following officers were elected: Harold M. Phillips, New York, President; H. Helms, New York, Secretary; H. Cassel, New York, Tournament Director.

Appended are the individual scores made in the tournament.

City College: Santasiere, Tholfsen, Koslan, each 3-0; Pinkus, 2 1/2-1/2.

N. Y. University: Kabatsky, 1 1/2-1 1/2; Gladstone, 2-1; Kleiman 2 1/2-1/2; Kreines 1/2.

U. of Pennsylvania: Casciato, 1/2-2 1/2; Everding and Levin, each 1/2; Potty, 2-1.

Cornell: Bryan, 1/2; Neidich and Muir, each 0-3; Haight, 0-2; Samuels, 0-1.

HOFFBERG AGAIN HEADS C.C.N.Y.—A.S.C.E. CHAPTER

Hoffberg '23, was re-elected to the presidency. Francis G. Parisi '23, Albert K. Huie '25, and John Rippstein '23, all of the school of Technology were chosen for the position of vice-president, secretary, and treasurer, respectively.

On Wednesday evening, December 19th, the chapter as a body attended a general meeting of the American Society of Civil Engineers held at the Engineering Societies' Building. The subject under discussion was "Transportation by Bridges."

hind for scoring honors.

George Washington High School at present rated as second best in Bronx division of the P. S. A. L. League will engage the College freshmen in the preliminary to the McGill game. This season George Washington has lost but one game and that by one point to Evander Childs High School, the leader of the Bronx P. S. A. L. Tournament. De La Salle and Union Hill High, holders of excellent records for the past two seasons bowed before the basketball ability of the Washington Heights team this year. Lecycraft and Ryan up forward; Wattenburger at center; Tyman and Browning at the guard position will battle for George Washington while the frosh will be represented in the court by Greenberg and Goickman, forwards, Goldberg, center, Meisel and Schein guards.

The probable line-up for the McGill-Varsity game follows:

C. C. N. Y.	Pos.	McGill
Nadel	L. F.	Mendelsohn
Salz	R. F.	Little
Edelstein (Capt.)	C.	Mansoff
Match	L. G.	Capt. Amaron
Palitz	R. G.	Quackenbush

forced to leave the game. Match missed his try. After some nice passwork, Salz dropped in a nice goal from around the foul line. Fast passwork from a Lavender outside, Match to Edelstein to Salz brought the varsity within two points of their opponents. Nadel knotted the count at 13-13 when he lifted a roller off the floor behind the foul line and flipped it in on the same motion.

Vanderbilt was overcome by the rush of goals and called for time out, during which it changed its lineup. When play was resumed again Bomar and Salz both drew fouls, but neither was successful. Bomar was afforded another chance from the penalty mark and made it good. A long pass, Nadel to Salz and a fast flip by the latter was good for two points. Nadel added another marker on a foul try. The score was tied again in a moment, however, when Ryan and Walker, following up a long throw, slapped the ball in together on their second try. Salz took Nadel's shot off the backboard and threw it out to Edelstein who gave it back to Nadel. The latter's clear shot from the side followed by Edelstein's foul goal gave the Lavender a 19-16 advantage. Match ran the lead up on a follow-up of Edelstein's shot. Nadel missed and Walker made good on one foul try apiece. Nice passwork, Match to Nadel to Palitz to Salz resulted in another goal. Palitz fouled Bomar for the fourth time and made way for Goldberg. After Bomar had missed his foul shot Edelstein scored a nice goal after work by Nadel and Match.

The Brown game, of the week before, ran along similar lines. The first half, during which the varsity looked pretty bad ended with the close count of 13 to 10. It was only in the final period that the team was able to draw away to win by 30 to 19.

Nadel and Salz, with a total of seven field goals apiece and Match, who loomed big on the defense and did a great deal of feeding, did the best work in the two Lavender victories.

ANNUAL INTER-CLASS TOURNEY POSTPONED

The inter-class basketball tournament has been postponed until the close of the basketball season. The tourney will, therefore, commence next term, with the opening game about March.

Four teams, representing the four classes, will compete for the banner as in former years. Each team will meet every other team once and six games will be played to complete the tournament.

That class which will be represented by the highest percentage will win the trophy. In case of a tie, the two contestants will play a final game.

Those men who are members of either the varsity or freshman squads of this season are not eligible to play. All others, bound by the same conditions as the members of the teams representing the college are, may represent their class.

INDOOR TRACKMEN HAVE GOOD RECORD

Lavender Runners Were Once Potent Factor In Intercollegiate Meets

1896 WAS GREATEST YEAR FOR VARSITY BOARDMEN

Sport Will Be Re-instituted on List Of College Activities This Year

After a lapse of several seasons the Lavender will once more compete on the board track. For several years, interest in intercollegiate track athletics has been steadily growing. At most of the A. A. U. indoor meets, special intercollegiate events have been scheduled and, to satisfy further demand for such competition, annual indoor intercollegiate meets have been provided. For the past three years this championship meet has attracted a great number of colleges and universities in the country.

Indoor track is one of City College's oldest sports. In fact, as far back as the records show, it was the Lavender's first means of entering into the field of intercollegiate competition. At the very outset, the College teams always made excellent showings. During the years 1876-1894 the Lavender teams maintained an average rating of sixth place among more than twenty-two colleges. The only teams that caused the College runners any trouble were Harvard, Yale, Columbia, Princeton and Pennsylvania. On the other hand, defeat was seldom met at the hands of Dartmouth, Amherst, Lafayette, Lehigh, Brown, Cornell, Michigan, Hobart, and Bowdoin.

In 1895 the college enjoyed its greatest season. It went through the year without incurring a single defeat, Brown, Union, and Rutgers among others being the victims of our championship team. During that successful season William Oetman, '98, broke the two mile intercollegiate record of 8 minutes, 15 seconds by 5 seconds. He also bettered the one mile bicycle record the following year when he covered the distance in 2 minutes 31-4/5 seconds. Others who distinguished themselves during that period were Murry Frank, Fred Martin, George Dixon, Jim Benit and Chares Gray.

The years 1904, 1905, 1906 were also banner years for the College track men. During those years, the interest shown in track was at its height. As many as 125 men would report for the team, tryouts being held at the beginning of each season. With plenty of material at hand from which to build a strong team, it is not surprising that it made such good showings.

In 1910 Coach McKenzie turned out a team that was the talk of the intercollegiate world. Billy Roberts, '11, and Eddy Coyle, '10, were the outstanding stars of that wonder team. Since 1910 Lavender teams have participated in many of the indoor runs held under the auspices of the A. A. U. However, about this time interest in indoor track began to wane and, as a result, our victories were getting fewer. The support and enthusiasm over the sport began to decline considerably and the work of the track team became extremely erratic. In this branch of athletics candidates became less numerous; the men did not practice regularly or stick to the strict training rules.

Then again, in 1916, indoor track was revived with the result that the team made a creditable showing. The mile relay team was entered in A. A. U. competition and came through with flying colors. They easily won first place at the St. Johns College Games. This same varsity relay team won its class championship at the Penn Relay Games and incidentally broke both the College and the relay class record. This, in turn, was followed by another period of inactivity on the part of the College Track Team.

In 1919, the track team gave evidence of returning to its former position of glory. It produced a host of distinguished athletes on the boards. First of all, William Rosenberg was

APPRECIATION

The following letter was received by the Basketball Management after the Dickinson game: Mr. Walter C. Blum, Manager of Basketball, College of the City of New York.

Dear Sir: Allow me to extend my sincerest thanks to Professor Williamson for treatment that you and your management afforded our team while under your roof. Extend my thanks to you for the superb for his kind treatment.

Allow me to say, in closing, that I have made all trips with Dickinson's basketball team and nowhere has the reception equalled that of C. C. N. Y.

Yours truly, (Signed) Sidney D. Kline, Mgr. of Basketball Dickinson College.

inscribed in the college annals as a record maker. He became Metropolitan champion of the hop, skip and jump. Later, he was the first C. C. N. Y. man to take first place at the Penn games. Other 1919 men starting on the cinderpath were Loettles who established a record in the short distance run, and Murray in the sprints.

In an interview with Mgr. Rubin Berson concerning the present situation he made the following statements:—"It was only three years ago that we had one of the best track teams in the city—a team that defeated Fordham and Brooklyn Poly and did not lose a meet. It is only three years since we had a sprinter who did not lose a dash that season and won a Metropolitan junior title. I refer to George Bisgier. It is only three years since we came second in the Metropolitan Relay Championship with a team composed of "Nippy" Rosenblum, Harry Rosenwasser, "Bugs" Bayer and Cy Reisman. Only three years, yet, what a change has taken place. Our indoor track team activities are dormant. We have not enough men and we have not enough support.

"In previous years, C. C. N. Y. has figured prominently in board-floor activities. Our relay teams, our sprinters were second only to the basketball team as winners of fame for C. C. N. Y. But that was three years ago and conditions have undergone a deplorable change.

"Last winter City College's indoor track was absolutely dead. Somewhat of an attempt was made to get things going—hard-working "Mac" got busy, a score of candidates came forth—and then the thing just sort of petered out. Where the fault lies nobody seems to know. But, it remains as a blot on our previous record that we didn't enter a single man in any of the indoor meets. We didn't send a single competitor into the Intercollegiate at the 22nd Regiment last year.

"Excuse—there can be none. We cannot place the blame on lack of facilities, for N. Y. U. and Fordham, neither with a respectable sort of indoor track, entered teams in the national meet. We have a fairly good track and hours might have been arranged that would not have conflicted with basketball practice. We should have entered at least as many as our local rivals. It makes no difference whether we would have won or not—N. Y. U. didn't win, neither did Fordham. But as Prof. Williamson remarked: 'it looked good to see them there' at a national meet, a gathering of the cream of the intercollegiate athletic world.

"Last year's indoor season is gone and what has happened cannot be helped. We can make up, however, by seeing to it that the approaching indoor season be a success. The gym is ready; "Mac" is always ready; men are wanted. If enough men and the right kind of men report, the rest will naturally come. A real track team will be formed that will undoubtedly make a creditable showing. City College will then be put where it formerly was in the Metropolitan track world."

VARSITY WRESTLERS BEATEN BY STEVENS

College Loses by 15-9 Score—Team Unprepared For Meet and in Poor Condition

The varsity wrestling team was defeated by Stevens 15-9 at Hoboken on Saturday. The meet consisted of six closely contested bouts and the issue was in doubt until the last moment. Because of a misunderstanding as to the date of the contest, which had been posted for next Saturday, the team was neither prepared nor fit for a meet.

This was evident as soon as Spitz stepped on the mat. Although he gained a decision over a man much heavier than himself, it clearly could be perceived that his usual form was lacking. Had he been in training there is no doubt but that he would have pinned his man in the first few minutes of the bout.

Next to take his place upon the mat was Kriloff. He usually is accustomed to leave the mat with a fall to his credit, but was forced to leave it with a decision. Five times he tripped his opponent, a man huskier and half a head taller than himself; each time as his opponent fell, Kriloff in some unaccountable manner all but pinned himself beneath his competitor, and each time, by almost impossible bodily contortions, extricated himself from the danger.

Ferro, recently recovered from a rather long period of illness was pinned in the later half of his bout. That he agreed to partake in the meet at all but serves to his credit.

The fourth man was Majgid, substitute for Finkel the captain, who had failed to be notified of the match. In the early part of the contest Majgid succeeded in throwing his opponent over the entire mat, but training will tell and Majgid has not been near the wrestling room for the past two weeks. He was pinned in eight minutes and some odd seconds.

The fifth man was Wolf, who true to himself and his name, attempted to get down to business as soon as he felt the softness of the mat beneath his foot. His opponent however did not share his sentiments, and for the first five minutes, successfully warded off all Wolf's businesslike attempts. When the referee begged him to make a move, he sullenly curled up on the mat and remained there for the rest of the bout. The decision was awarded to Wolf.

Bischoff, also out of training, was also beaten.

FROSH FIVE DEFEATS GEORGE WASHINGTON

Yearlings Win Nip and Tuck Battle In Last Minutes of Play—Frosh Impress

Coach Parker's yearlings continued to show the good form they found in the Townsend Harris game last week when they bested the strong George Washington High School five by the score of 14-12 in the preliminary to the varsity engagement last Saturday night.

The game was very fast and the freshmen had to play at their best to beat the runners-up of the Bronx division of the P. S. A. L.

Wattenburg made the first score after two minutes of fast passwork. The initial tally for the '27 men came when Greenberg caged his free try on Browning's foul. The half ended with the score 7-3 in favor of the Lavender cubs.

Leacraft's pretty shot late in the second half evened matters at 11-11. Wattenburg's foul goal gave the Washington team the lead for the first time in the game. The advantage was short-lived, however, for Raskin, crashing through twice, was fouled on both occasions and scored from the penalty mark with unerring accuracy. The first year men clung to their two-point lead by pretty freezing for the last minute of play.

Raskin and Schein, with seven and four points to their credit, respectively, and Meisel, who played well on the defense and did considerable feeding, played sterling ball for the freshmen. For the high school team, Wattenburg and Leacraft stood out.

WRESTLERS LOSE TO B'KLYN. POLY., 15-13

The varsity wrestling team was defeated by the matmen of Brooklyn Poly in a closely contested meet Friday evening, December 21. The final result was not decided until the last event which gave Poly the meet by the score of 15 to 13.

The score stood at 13 to 10, in favor of Lavender, when Wolf faced Worzel, the Poly captain in the final match. It was Worzel's second match of the evening, he having piously thrown Captain Finkel in the 145 pound bout. The Brooklyn 158 pounder was the aggressor from the start and, by clever foot work, managed to bring Wolf to the mat with a head and arm lock, in four and a half minutes, giving Poly the meet by 2 points.

Kosloff, in the 125 pound match, and Bischoff, in the 175 pound bout, won for City College on falls, while in the 115 pound class Spitz won a time decision.

Captain Finkel put up a splendid battle in the 145 pound match but slipped off the mat, his opponent taking advantage of his opportunity to pin Finkel with a speedy reverse arm hold.

McGILL FIVE DOWNED BY LAVENDER QUINTET

Salz missed a ridiculously easy shot. The ball traveled down the court and McGill lost it again on long shots.

Nadel Scores Three The Lavender started the second half with a fast running attack. Edelman saw an opening and dribbled but lost the ball on a technicality.

The Lavender started the second half with a fast running attack. Edelman saw an opening and dribbled but lost the ball on a technicality. Nadel made three points on the next play when he was fouled while scoring a field goal.
