ELECTIONS OF A. A. AND COUNCIL TAKE PLACE NEXT WEEK

Students To Vote For A. A. Officers In Concourse Monday

ONLY "U" MEMBERS VOTE

Council Elections Next Thursday—Berson and Berall Running For President

Next week will be election week at the College. Nominations for officers of both the A. A. and Student Council closed this week. A. A. balloting will take place Monday and Student Council elections next Thursday.

A nominating convention for Student Council officers was held in the Concourse yesterday. This action introduced a new custom into college life. In the past such conventions have been separate from, regular Student Council assemblies.

The candidates for the offices of president, vice-president and secretary are voted for by the whole body of "U" members. For president Nathan Berall '25, and Ruben S. Berson '25 were nominated. For vice-president Abraham L. Evans '25, Philip L. Wiener '25, J. Bailey Harvey '25 and Herman Getter '25 were proposed. Barney B. Fensterstock '26, Robert T. Philidius '26 and Samuel Candel '26, received the nomination for the secretaryship.

Dean Lauds Honor Men

The two men who are in the race for the chief office in the student organization have all been active in college life. Nathan Berall was editor of The Campus last term and the early part of this semester. At present he is editing the Lavender, the College literary magazine. Ruben S. Berson is news editor of The Campus, manager of the track team and secretary of the council.

Before the nominating convention was called, Dean Brownson, on the invitation of the Student Council, called the men awarded major and minor service insignia, Soph Skull and Senior Lock and Key to the rostrum to face the applause of their fellow students.

"Served College Well"

"The award these men have received," said Hyman Weissman, the present chief of the council, "is not the little pin but the feeling of command which their positions give them. To them the years they have spent serving the college is amply paid for by this feeling. They have deliberately chosen to distinguish themselves in these fields in preference to others. Their example is a guiding beacon to you who follow them."

Elections for A. A. officers will take place on Monday at two o'clock in the Concourse. All the "U" members may vote.

The candidates for president are: Lou Oshins, Sam Sorkin, and Jack Weisberg; for vice-president, Pinkus Match and Leo Palitz; for secretary, Mitzi Goldstein, Jerry Hyman and Roy Plaut; for treasurer, Aaron Block, Samuel Sober, M. Mitchell, Murray Saiken, Chick Shlanger, and Frank S. Stark. Twelve men are candidates for assistant treasurer: Moe Adolph, Morgan Callahan, John Deutsch, Bernard Eisenstein, Irving Ehrenberg, Jack Graulich, Dave Kanstoren, Joseph Kaempfer, Max Siegel, E. Mansfield Spiegel, Gabriel Vogelsson, and Joseph Wishnetsky.

College Straw Vote For National Head Through Campus Ballot Today

Every student in the College will be given an opportunity today to voice his opinion on the coming presidential elections this fall, by casting a straw vote in The Campus Presidential Contest.

All voters should cut out the ballot printed below, designate their choice for chief executive by making a cross to the left of the name of the man desired or insert his candidate's name and cast their ballot not later than 2 o'clock in the large ballot box under the bulletin board in the Concourse.

Immediately after the polls are closed, The Campus election officials will begin counting the votes. The results will be tabulated and the final figures posted on the Concourse bulletin board as soon as possible.

This contest will be the first ever held in the College whereby every student, be he freshman or senior, will be given an opportunity to show not only his choice for the next president of the United States but will also be able to voice his party affiliations.

Similar contests have been held every year by the graduation class in an endeavor to determine the senior's party preferences. The results of these successive ballots have no bearing on the outcome of today's choice for president since voting in this contest will be shared equally by all the students of the College.

On the ballot below the names of six most likely candidates for the highest position in the U. S. appear. The Republican party's hopes lie especially in either Calvin Coolidge, the present President of the United States, Hiram W. Johnson, Californian senator in the present Congress, or Frank Lowden, former governor of Illinois.

Of all the candidates listed above most talk centers around "Al" and "Cal" but whether either will get a majority vote in the College is a matter for conjecture.

TRACK MEN DEFEAT B'KLYN POLY, 62-46

Pinkie Sober Stars for College—Greisman of Opponents Takes Three Firsts

The varsity track men trampled over Brooklyn Poly, 62 to 46, yesterday in the Stadium, earning their second win of the season. Of the twelve events, each team captured six, but the Lavender men took enough seconds and thirds to come out well ahead.

The home team proved superior on the track in all but the two sprints. Brooklyn Poly showed their ability in the field events, the varsity only winning the discus throw, with a heave by Brauer of 92 feet, 9 inches.

100 yards—Won by Griesman, Poly; Schutzer, C. C. N. Y., second; Pagliaro, C. C. N. Y., third. Time—0:10 2-5.

FOLEY '01 DECLINES; TAMMANY SHOCKED

Consternation In Democratic Ranks—Foley President of Associate Alumni

Consternation in Democratic ranks followed the action of James A. Foley '01 in declining the leadership of Tammany Hall last night. The surrogate took this step, which came as a distinct shock to political leaders of this city, under express orders from his physicians.

The fact that for three weeks Foley had had a written statement of declination in readiness was also a surprise. It was only on the earnest solicitation of Governor Smith and Mayor Hylan that he refrained from issuing it Wednesday night.

Graduating from New York Law School in 1903, Mr. Foley was elected to the assembly where he held office from 1907 to 1912. From the Assembly he went to the State Senate where he remained until 1919 when he became Justice in the Surrogates Court.

Mr. Foley was a delegate to the New York State Constitutional Convention in 1915 and chairman of the committee to investigate the telephone rates. Under his leadership the committee reduced telephone rates 10 per cent in 1914, $3,500,000 in 1915 and 8 per cent in 1919. He helped settle the recent strike of the Interborough Rapid Transit employees. The Workmen's Compensation Law of 1914 was the work of Mr. Foley, as was the Equal Pay Bill for women teachers.

UNION ALLOTMENTS MADE; KEPT SECRET

The distribution of next term's "U" funds is too intricate to be divulged at the present time, according to Sidney Rosenberg '25 chairman of the "U" committee, which determines the value of each organization to the College and distributes its funds accordingly.

The results of the distribution will probably be made public at the Student Council meeting today.

The full committee, consisting of Sidney Rosenberg '25, chairman, Mike Helfand '25 and A. Arnald Jaffe '26, met last Wednesday.

Because of the change of The Campus into a three-a-week publication, the allotment to it will probably be increased.

PUT POINT SYSTEM TO STUDENT VOTE

New Plan Designed To Prevent Monopoly of Extra-Curricular Activities

In accordance with the promise made by Hyman L. Weissman, '24, president of the Student Council, to the effect that a new point system for curricular activities would be submitted to the student body, another Council Committee.

Eliminate Three Evils

The plan is intended to bring about its objects as follows:

First, it will prevent indiscriminate participation in extra curricular activities. Second, it will put an end to the accumulation of too many distinctions by one student and thirdly, it will give a greater number of students the opportunity to participate in extra-curricular activities.

The plan was designed to eliminate three evils in extra-curricular activities. Its object is to remedy the following:

First, the limited number of students participating in extra-curricular work. Second, the overloading of work on the shoulders of the few and third, the neglect of work, curricular and extra curricular, resulting from such overloading.

Weissman's plan was introduced and passed by the student council after the plan submitted last week by Harry Bloch '25 had been rejected. The author of the plan is a member of a Student Council Committee on the Point System. The other members are: Charles S. Epstein, Chairman, Samson Z. Sorkin, and Harry Bloch.

"Practical System"

The plan was endorsed by the student because it felt that Weissman's plan was a "more practical system," more liberal and more flexible. The plan proper is as follows:

I. All extra-curricular activities are divided into five classes.

Class 1—Campus—Editor, Managing Editor, Business Manager. Mercury — Editor, Art Editor, Business Manager. Student Council—President.

Class 2—Microcosm — Editor, Business Manager.

A. A. — President, Treasurer. Campus — members of Executive Board.

Mercury — members of Executive Board. Chairman of Union Committee.

Class 3—Presidents of Classes and Clubs.

Publications — members of the associate boards.

Debating — Varsity team, manager and assistant manager.

Varsity Show — Manager and major cast.

Chess Team.

Microcosm — Managing Editor.

"Lavender" — Editor and Business Manager.

Lavender Book — Editor and Business Manager.

Student Council — Vice-Pres. and Secretary.

Class 4 — Student Councillors. Other officers of the A. A. Staff of Campus and Mercury. Other officers of the Union Committee.

VARSAITY NINE TO PLAY MANHATTAN, STEVENS; OVERWHELM ST. JOHNS

Visit Manhattan Today In Return Contest And Travel To Hoboken Tomorrow To Meet Engineers—Saints Trounced In Wednesday Game 15 to 1

By JACK A. NADEL

The varsity baseball team, which overwhelmed St. John's Wednesday by a score 15 to 1, will play two games this week-end. Today at Hedley oval, 240th Street and Broadway, Manhattan College will be met in a return engagement. A previous encounter with Manhattan resulted in a shut out victory, 4 to 0, for the Lavender. Halsey Josephson allowed only three hits in that contest. Artie Moder will be the probable choice of Coach Holman for mound duty.

At Hoboken Tomorrow

Tomorrow at Hoboken, the varsity nine will meet Stevens. The game was originally scheduled for last Saturday but rain intervened. Halsey Josephson will pitch this tussle, as Stevens over Brooklyn Poly, R. P. I. year. Five veterans remain from last year's team which was just nosed out by the Lavender by the score of 11-10. Mapes and Harrigan, the regular battery, will probably draw the assignment for this game.

Snyder, Callaghan, and Jabin are considered heavy hitters. Their batting was mainly responsible for the early season victories scored by Stevens over Brooklyn Poly, R. P. I. and St. Francis.

Josephson Twirls Well

St. John's College was swamped by the varsity baseball team in a one-sided game by the score of 15 to 1 on Wednesday afternoon. The feature of the game was the wonderful pitching of Halsey Josephson. He allowed only one hit and no runs in seven innings. Although wild at times, he tightened up in the pinches and prevented the Brooklynites from scoring.

Heavy hitting by the Lavender batsman was responsible for the majority of the runs. The St. John's infield played raggedly and thus contributed heavily to the big score. In the third, fourth, and fifth innings, thirteen runs were scored. Marasco, Match, and Hodesblatt hit hard in these innings and were responsible for many of the runs.

WEATHER MAN SAYS

The Manhattan baseball game will not be marred by rain this afternoon, according to Forecaster Scarr of the United States Weather Bureau. He predicts fair weather and moderate temperature for today.

The varsity team may have eluded the weather jinx, after all. If the Stevens clash tomorrow is also a sunny battle, the Hoboken mine which has had nine games called off on account of rain, will also be in luck.

Another feature of the games was the fielding of the varsity infielders. Three snappy double plays were executed by Slotkin, Plaut, and Raskin. Roy Plaut made some phenomenal stops around the keystone sack, and cut off potential hits.

The varsity started its scoring in the second inning, making one run. This was accomplished by doubles by Marasco and Match. The six runs scored in the third inning were made on only one hit, a safe bunt by Hodesblatt. Three walks and five errors by the St. John's infield aided materially in the scoring.

College Scores Heavily

With the bases full in the fourth inning, "Pinkie" Match singled sending in two runs. Halpern followed with another single, and two more runs came in. Hits by Josephson and Marasco in the fifth inning coupled with two errors and a walk, accounted for three runs. The last run was scored in the sixth on hits by Slotkin, Plaut, and Hodesblatt.

The lone marker scored by St. John's was scored in the eighth off Wigderson. Slotkin made a wild throw to first and the batter reached third on the error. He scored ahead of Weisberg's throw to Langson on a grounder.

The score by innings.
C. C. N. Y. 0 1 6 4 3 1 0 0 0 15 13 2

ANENT THE "POINT SYSTEM"

At tomorrow's session of the Student Council consideration will be given to a question which ought to be of vital interest to every student, whether he is engaged in extra-curricula activity or not. We have reference to the "point system" proposition, which in all probability will be adopted in some form, before the close of the semester. A special committee has been working diligently for the past week devising a plan which seems to be both effectual and feasible. We do not propose to discuss the technical details of the system or comment upon the merits or faults of the proposal submitted last week. There are clearly many points which need to be revised. We do wish, however, to point out the real necessity for the adoption of some such system at the College.

The need for regulation and limitation in activity participation has existed for some time past. The problem grows more acute with each succeeding term. That extra-curricula affairs are flourishing to a greater extent than ever before is probably unquestionable. But we are convinced that, under present conditions, their whole purpose is being defeated by the lack of regulative provisions and other attendant evils. Everyone recognizes the fact that a monopoly has been created in the field of outside activity. The major interests are in the hands of a surprisingly small group of men. It is the rule rather than the exception to find one man bearing the burden of three or four exacting activities at one time. A situation of this sort is deleterious both to the activities themselves and to the students involved. It is not difficult to see how such a condition was made possible, however. When there is an insufficiency of material for the number of activities existent it is inevitable that the few who are enthusiastic and capable should bear the responsibility of all.

As we see it, the primary purpose of extra-curricula activities is to afford to the students an opportunity of broadening their interests, gaining valuable experience and procuring helpful and wholesome enjoyment. Beyond this they have little or no value. It is apparent that at present this end is far from being achieved. The majority of those engaged in activities are overtaxed rather than benefitted. Their duties unavoidably become a worry and an obnoxious duty rather than the keen pleasure they should be. Rather than see conditions continue as they are now we would prefer a reduction in the number of activities. But fortunately this is not the only solution. The one and only logical panacea for the situation is the "point system." If a workable plan is adopted activities will be put upon such a basis that they will either be inclusive of a large number or disappear entirely.

LETTERS OF LORD CHESTERFIELD TO HIS SON

Dear Boy,
Your last communication has assured me beyond the possibility of any further doubt that you realize the essential purpose of education in the broader sense. I have often expressed my opinions on the subject when under the influence and am flattered to find that they have had no little weight in shaping the course of your college life. It is very gratifying, indeed, to learn that you can drink any of your classmates to a standstill, although in my younger days four quarts of Barcardi was not a particularly significant achievement. You must learn as time goes on to stomach more liquor without showing any of those horrible effects that are the trappings of the vulgar. I would by all means advise you to practice drinking privately over a long length of time before attending any social event at the University, for no one can rightly call himself a gentleman, who is unable to hold his liquor with poise.

I cannot warn you too strongly against the members of the Faculty. They can see no further than their noses, and if they could, would clap you all between the pages of some dusty volume, there to rot away your young lives. You must humor them by apparently listening to their verbiage although you may at the same time devote the hour to sleep in preparation for the night's activities. By carefully arranging your program at the beginning of the semester you may be able to rent your room to a night-watchman in the day-time and to a day laborer at night. Be sure to remind your professors at regular intervals that your grandfather endowed the college several years ago and that I will do as much if they do not interfere with your education.

Your dotting father,
Chesty
P. S. Yes, you may send me her phone number.

After the exercises fifty distinguished guests had luncheon in Webb Hall and proceeded to Lewisohn Stadium, where 1,000 selected members of the R. O. T. C. went through maneuvers and military drill for the visitors.

STUDENT OPINION

Editor of "The Campus":

In your issue of May 12th, "An Alumnus of '17" calls attention to the disgraceful—and it was disgraceful—behavior of most of the undergraduates at the Charter Day exercises.

Most likely, the author of that letter sat somewhere in the first three or four rows and consequently did not share our extreme boredom. I wonder if "Alumnus" appreciates what real boredom is—that lack of interest which is the result of listening to speeches for two hours, speeches of which not a single connected sentence can be heard? (Most of the students are compelled to sit through such a procedure every week.)

The writer wants it understood that this is not an apology but a statement of the facts that resulted in annoying the speakers and those of the audience who heard them.

The president of the Radio Club, in 1921, suggested to members of the faculty that loud speakers be installed on the pillars in the Great Hall about fifteen feet above the floor and in the balconies, with an inconspicuous sensitive transmitter located in front of the speaker. The attention and interest of the student body in Chapel and Charter Day, proceedings would justify the cost, although it would amount to about $20,000. This would require a special appropriation from the Board of Estimate and Apportionment. We know too well the acrimonious attitude of the city authorities toward the College to expect any such sum to be granted.

It is obvious, therefore, that the only remedy for the present deplorable state of affairs is to discontinue Chapel exercises until an adequate remedy for the acoustic difficulties of the Great Hall is applied.

Final preparations for the Hebrew concert to be given on Sunday, May 18, at 8:15 in the Townsend Harris Hall auditorium have completed by the College Menorah Society.

There will be many stars on the program. These include Professor Durmashkin, noted Russian tenor, Mrs. Esther Fisher, Miss Dodge, and Charles Rubell '26. R.O.T.C. TO MARCH IN SAFETY WEEK PARADE

Picked Company to Participate In Procession at Request Of City

At the request of city officials, the group of picked men of the R. O. T. C. will take part in the Safety Week parade, to be held on Saturday, May 17. The request was in the form of a letter to the Dean.

The procession will start at 11th Street and Fifth Avenue and proceed along the avenue to 62nd Street, where the ranks will be broken. Mayor Hylan and other city officials will view the parade from the stand at 57th Street. The 500 City College men picked to march will form at 1:45.

The men marching in the parade will be rewarded by receiving 80% in their military science exam. If there are no demerits against them, they will receive 90% or "A" for the term.

This is the first time since the Liberty Loan drive during the World War that any City College organization has represented the College in a parade or other public event.

TO CONDUCT CONTEST FOR DRAMATIC EDITOR

Vacancy on the Campus Staff—Candidates Should See Morris in Room 121

Competition for the dramatic editorship of The Campus is being conducted by Richard B. Morris, '24, who now holds that position.

All men who have any ability to judge or criticize plays, and who are applying for the post should hand in a dramatic review of four hundred and fifty words to Morris in room 121, before Tuesday, May 19 at 1 P. M. The criticism should cover one of the following plays: Walter Hampden's "Cyrano," "Cheaper to Marry," "The Bride," "The Show off," "All God's Chillun Got Wings," "Cobra" or "Abie's Irish Rose."

This Campus position is an important one and efforts are being made to obtain the proper man for it. Morris is willing to teach prospective candidates some of the points in dramatic criticism. The present editor has been reviewing two or three plays a week. His criticisms have proven popular with Campus readers. Most of the recent plays have been reviewed, complimentary tickets having been supplied by the theatrical managers on application.

A.S.C.E. HEARS LECTURE ON ASPHALT PAVEMENT

The local student chapter of the American Society of Civil Engineers heard Walter Rosengarten, traffic expert, speak on the subject of "Asphalt Pavements" at its meeting last Tuesday afternoon. Mr. Rosengarten is traffic engineer of the Asphalt Association.

The lecture was illustrated by slides tracing the development of the use of asphalt among the ancients to its modern and highly perfected use as paving material. Mr. Rosengarten pointed out by contrast the relative merits of concrete and monolithic types of pavements as compared to block types.

OFFICERS HOP IN WEBB ROOM SATURDAY NIGHT

Members of the College faculty will be patrons of the Officers' Club formal dance which will be held on Saturday evening May 17, in the Webb Room of the College.

The dance, an event looked forward to by the R. O. T. C. officers, is the annual hop of the military men. All will appear in full military uniform. Mike Nicholas is in charge of arrangements.

E. S. CHEM BANQUET SUNDAY

The Chemical Society of the Evening Session will hold its annual banquet at the Hotel McAlpin Sunday night. Tickets at $1.50 each may be obtained in Room 214.

PLAY OF THE WEEK

THE CHANGELINGS: Spirited Revival

The word "great" must at all times be employed sparingly in the dramatic column. In the present instance, despite much in this regard from Yale University ex-cathedra, economy prevents us from generously bestowing this epithet on so good a comedy as "The Changelings" (Henry Miller's Theatre).

Delicate shading, a gentle urbanity, a rare charm, a pointed pen which does something more than scratch life's surfaces—all delivered across the footlights in a superb ensemble performance, teamwork only matched this season by that of "Outward Bound" and "Spring Cleaning"—and the net result of one hour, fifty minutes, during which time the audience enjoys a constant ripple of easy contentment, is a rare feeling of quiet inner satisfaction.

Urbanity in satirical technique is the vehicle which Lee Wilson Dodd employs herein with superb artistry and as such it stands out in striking relief against the trenchant poignancy of Lonsdale, the surface satire with which Molnar paints his "Swan," and the broad, picturesque strokes which Kaufman and Connolly have mastered with consummate genius.

No one becomes particularly wrought up in "The Changelings", no matter whose life seems headed for the rocks, and whenever the play is about to reach high tempo, whenever situations begin piling up in grotesque intensity, just as we are about to bestir ourselves from our snuggling cosiness, deus ex machina, friend L. W. Dodd, seems to stage whisper from 'way out the wings, Relax, gentle auditor, none of us intend to take ourselves very seriously. And so, with rare good humor and genial patience, the audience manages to survive all this much ado about switching partners and the still more incessant pokings in and out of doors of all the "arch-conspirators" in the quite impossible machinations which unfold.

Unfortunately there is one character completely divested of Mr. Dodd's felicitous sense of humor. And this serves as target for our special annamversion. Wicky Faber, apparently submerged by the omnipresence of an incomplete doctorate thesis, re-acts in he-man fashion to a situation of the following pertinence, a pretty wife, whom he passionately adores, allowing herself to be caught up by a snake in the grass. This is the technique:

1. Wears a pained look labeled "disillusionment"; 2. Cusses civilization; 3. Drinks two glasses of cognac; 3. Strides recklessly from the parlor table to the mantle-piece and back three times; 4. Succumbs, probably exhausted by the above intensive acrobatics. Add to this a rendition of the role by Geoffrey Kerr, who probably believes higher education means the mispronunciation of every word in the language, and the effect is something like this: "I thot you her bean beck, dem civileyezation," and similar faultless examples of painful diction.

In "The Changelings, again as in "We Moderns," "Helena's Boys," et al, we have a "name-tape" technique. All characters file in displaying the following popular labels: "Older Generation", "Younger generation", "Self-Expression", "Maintenance of the Family as the Bulwark of Civilization" (two name-tapes being sewed together to provide for the last). The only difficulty is that the Older Generation is really the Younger and in general, quite ingeniously, everybody is wanting to do something quite different from what the audience is thinking the playwright is going to make them do. In this way, the first act and half of the second was used up in our getting all set as to who's which.

We found an artistic poignancy in the brief epilogue unattainable by any comedy we have seen in goodly season. After all, we, too, are all like the four great friends, with hidden forces quiescent within us, quite unconscious of their potentiality until the great shock comes. And then, what do we do? Why, we slump once more into our narrow rut of habit and remain, decent, or as the psychoanalyst will have it, inhibited. "Plus ca change,—plus c'est la meme chose." R. B. M.

WATER PENTATHLON TO START MONDAY

Feature of Spring Water Carnival Open To Entire Student Body

The pentathlon, the feature of this year's spring water carnival gets under way Monday with the largest number of entries ever contesting for the C. C. S. A. prizes. The pentathlon is expected to eclipse the success of last year's five day marathon swim which was very popular and drew many students down to cheer the contestants.

The large number of non-varsity entries has led the Association to announce that it will probably award at least one prize to the highest score made by a man not connected with the varsity or frosh aquatic team. Although the carnival is run to benefit the swimming of the varsity fish all students are encouraged to enter.

Entries must be handed into Manager Jacobs or Assistant Manager Hellinger before Monday. The fee is twenty-five cents.

MAKE NOMINATIONS FOR SPORTS AWARDS

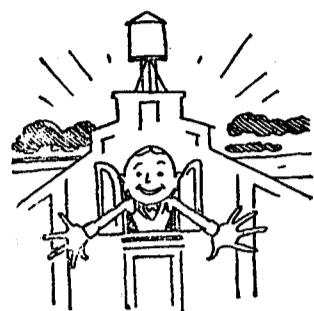

Varsity Coaches and A. A. Board Recommend Athletes—Judges Announce Decision Soon

In accordance with the terms of the athletic bequest of the '13 class the judges, Professor Thomas A. Storey, chairman of the faculty athletic committee, Lionel B. McKenzie, senior coach of sports, and Jack A. Nadel, '24, president of the A. A., have requested the coaches of the varsity teams and the A. A. Board to submit a list of athletes who have done notable work in the field of sports. The committee will announce its choice at Commencement.

When presenting the deed of trust to the College during the chapel exercises of May 1, Mr. Hyman Schwartz, '13, said that his class desired to reward "that undergraduate who, by virtue of his athletic achievements, reflects most glory and renown upon the College." This publicity from athletics is necessary, explained the speaker, to attract the public's interest and obtain necessary appropriations from the city.

Several men were nominated by the A. A. Board at an executive meeting held Wednesday in the Hygiene building. The names were not made public.

If you knew what ageing in wood does for pipe tobacco.

Even the finest Kentucky Burley Tobacco (and that's the kind we use) is green and raw when it's pulled. You could hardly smoke one pipe load of it.

And here's where Velvet is different: Our ageing takes out that rawness and harshness, and makes the tobacco mild and mellow and gives it fine flavor. Ageing in wood does what no artificial treatment can do.

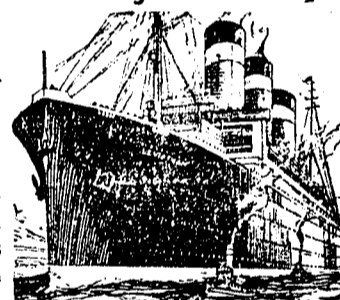

Remember—Velvet Tobacco aged in wood.

ARMY HEAD LAUDS SOLDIER EXHIBITION

Enthusiastically Received By Spectators — Reviewed by President Mezes

Although simpler than previous spectacles, the annual review of the Reserve Officers Training Corps, held yesterday in the Stadium, was enthusiastically received. The pageant earned the commendation of Major John E. Hodsey of Governors Island, representing the Second Corps Area of the American Army. The short time allowed the military officials necessitated the elimination of the competitive company drills from the review program including the tent pitching and bayonet contests.

Immediately following the chapel exercises, the picked platoons mustered along South Walk. The review was opened with the march of the band through the Convent Avenue gate of the Stadium toward the reviewing stand. Close behind came Cadet Major Levinson commander of the student corps, cadet Captain Fuchs and the five picked platoons, each in command of a cadet lieutenant.

Officers Review Unit

Upon arriving at the reviewing stand, the companies completed a column left and marched about the stadium to their respective places along the field. As the banners of the state and nation passed before the students, the entire gathering stood at attention.

Assembled on the field, the band rendered several military selections, which were followed by several rifle movements by the respective platoons.

The major function of the military ceremonies now began. Cadet Major Levinson gave the order, "Pass in review". Immediately, the band struck up a stirring tune and marching in advance of the companies, paraded before the reviewing stand. The chief reviewing officer of the day was Major John E. Hodsey of Governors Island. President Mezes, Deans Brownson and Skene, Professor Holton, Colonel Arnold, Captain Cawthorne, and Lt. MacLamore completed the group of officials in the stand.

Conduct Daily Competition

The competitive drills, originally scheduled to be performed by all companies at the same time, are being carried out separately by the Military Science department. Every day this week the respective companies have paraded before a review group consisting of Captain Cawthorne, Lieutenant Jacobs and Lieutenant MacLamore. The latter, after rating the company, have chosen the best platoon. Appearance, step, the execution of the manual of arms and of mass commands are the factors determining the rating of every platoon and company. The contest closes this morning and the results will be published in The Campus Monday. Those scheduled to perform the manual of arms are to assemble to-day between 8 and 9 o'clock. Five prizes are being awarded. To the student executing the manual best, a gold watch will be presented. The second prize is a gold fountain pen, of a well-known make, and the fourth and fifth awards will consist of briar pipes.

Final entries will be taken tonight for the annual evening session track and field games, which will be held tomorrow afternoon in the Stadium. Main branch athletes who wish to register for any event will do so this evening in Room 214.

The Main branch, defeated twice this year in indoor meets with the Brooklyn branch, is out for revenge. Commerce will also send up a strong team. Gold, silver, and bronze medals will be awarded for places in each event.

Three events for girls have been scheduled; the fifty yard dash, the 240 yard relay, and the potato race.

CUB NINE TO PLAY AT RICHMOND HILL

Yearlings Engage Strong Long Island Team Tomorrow— Same Lineup to Start

The frosh ball tossers travel to Long Island tomorrow to meet the Richmond Hill High School nine. The '27 team will use the same lineup against the high school club that bowed to N. Y. U. last Tuesday.

Concordia Prep, the only team that has played both of tomorrow's opponents beat each by a margin of three runs. In their other games, the Long Islanders beat Manual Training and Jamaica Training School.

Coach Parker has not announced his selection for mound duty yet but either Levy or Reich will get the call. For Richmond Hill either Black or Quartup will perform. The high school team will line up with Miller, first base, as leadoff man. The remainder of the lineup and their batting order is Dwyer, center field; Blake, right field; Nattell, left field; Mish, short stop; Zaco, catcher; Martin, third base; Blotz, second base; and either Black or Quartup on the mound.

NO CLASS RIVALRY AT '27 DANCE TOMORROW

Freshmen and sophomores will forget their traditional rivalry and make merry at the semi-annual dance of the 27 class tomorrow night in the gym. Tickets at $1.50 a couple may still be secured in the '27 alcove.

Elaborate decorations in the gym have been arranged by a committee of which Miller is chairman. Spotlight dancing will be the treat of the program. Refreshments will be served, and a ten page souvenir booklet distributed. Bobby Jacobson's band will furnish the music.
