College of the City of New York

Vol. 35—No. 5

NEW YORK CITY FRIDAY, OCTOBER 10, 1924

Price Six Cents

FIRST HOME GAME BOOSTS "U" SALES ABOVE 600 MARK

Four Center Sections of Stadium Reserved for "U" Members

FRESHMEN STILL LAGGING

75 Tickets Sold on Partial Payment Plan—Clancy Aims at 1300 Membership

With the approach of the first home game, the fifty per cent reduction on football tickets became the most potent factor this week in the slow though steady increase of the "U" membership. That the sales curve has already passed the six hundred mark was made known yesterday by chairman Clancy.

The four center sections of the Stadium will be reserved for "U" members for all home football games, according to Professor Walter Williamson. The seats will be sold for fifty cents with the "U" ticket, and the privilege of one more reserved seat for one dollar. Pairs of tickets may be had from Feldman '26 and Eisenstein '27 in the concourse today.

Receipts Good Till Oct. 24

Al Grossman '25 in charge of the part payment plan expressed optimism over the sale of booklets by that plan. Over seventy-five men have already bought tickets in installments. The receipts obtained under this plan are invalid after October 24. Until that day, however, a part payment receipt is equivalent to a regular "U" ticket in all respects.

The members of the "U" committee, John Clancy '25 chairman, Al Grossman '25 and Sid Rosenberg '25 are active in the concourse selling tickets during lunch hours. Tickets may also be procured at the Bursar's office in Room 216. The price is $4.00.

John Clancy '25, chairman of the "U" committee, continued to exhort the freshman class in a statement yesterday. "I cannot understand '28," he said, "but I realize that, being new in the College, they may not yet fully realize the vital significance of extra-curricular activities to the school. I believe that the freshmen can determine the success or failure of the teams, organizations and clubs of C. C. N. Y. The great number of men in the freshman class, almost a thousand, has a powerful significance."

Drive Slow

The "U" tickets entitle their holders to thirty issues of The Campus, four issues of Mercury, the College comic, four issues of Lavender, the literary magazine, and one Lavender Book, the school handbook. Besides this, a fifty per cent reduction on all home games in football, basketball, swimming, and water-polo games may be obtained. The cash saved by the "U" membership far exceeds four dollars, the actual cost of the booklet.

Despite the steady progress that the drive has been making since it was launched three weeks ago, it does not compare favorably with the results of the drive during the corresponding period a year ago. In 1923 a thousand tickets had been sold after three weeks. The end of the campaign saw a record of a 1300 sale set.

WILL ISSUE MONTHLY JOURNAL IN ITALIAN

At the first meeting of the Circolo Dante Alighieri, held last Thursday, the society decided to issue a monthly bulletin in Italian. The publication will be known as La Vedetta Studentesca.

FROSH-SOPH GAMES TO BE HELD MONDAY

Three athletic contests on the Frosh-Soph Calendar are scheduled for Monday, October 13. The baseball and track contests will be held in the Stadium and the tennis game on the varsity courts. The '27 and '28 teams must report at 1 o'clock Monday afternoon at the designated places.

SHELLER CHOSEN FEB. '28 LEADER

Winokaur and Beckenstein on Third Vice-Presidential Ballot—Other Classes Vote Oct. 10

Bob Sheller, last term's freshman president was re-elected president of the Feb. '28 class Tuesday by a vote of 46 to 27 for his only opponent, Hy Sorocoff, frosh trackman. The Feb. '23 class was the only class to hold elections this week. The other classes will vote next week.

In the race for the vice-presidency Chuck Winokaur, last term's vice-president, received 17 votes on the second ballot, to 14 for Beckenstein and 9 for Hyman. A third vote will be held either today or Tuesday for the first two candidates.

Beckenstein, a former De Witt Clinton basketball star, is a candidate for the freshman quintet. Dave Hyman, one of the defeated candidates was treasurer of the class last term.

Hal Goldberg, prominent in the class scraps, defeated Nat Greenstein, former member of the Athletic Committee, for secretary by a vote of 42 to 25.

For treasurer, Whitey Franks, member of the Frosh Feed Committee was elected over Israel Tannenbaum with 8 votes, Dave Hecht, 8 votes, Leon Kresner, 4 votes, and Sidney Moskowitz, 8 votes.

Sid Licht was unanimously elected poet-historian. He received 42 votes.

For athletic manager, Bernie Epstein, crack freshman swimmer, was elected, beating his competitor, William Schwartz, by 34 votes. The ballot was 52 to 18.

The last office, class marshal, was given unanimously to Arthur Feinuck, the only one in the field.

October 10 is the date set by the Class Elections committee, of which Pinkie Sober '26 is chairman, for all other class elections. Balloting will take place in each alcove from 10 a. m. to 2 p. m. Results will be posted on the alcove bulletin boards the following day by the committee.

CONDUCT OF ELEVEN LAUDED BY STEVENS

The department of the team at the Stevens game is commended by John A. Davis, director of athletics at the engineering school, in a letter to Professor Walter M. Williamson, faculty manager of athletics. An excerpt of the letter follows:

"I am writing to congratulate you, Mr. Parker and the members of the football team on the splendid game you played last Saturday and the fine spirit manifested by the team and its followers. It is a real joy these days to encounter this sort of conduct.

"I regret to read in this morning's paper that your captain, Philidius, was seriously injured. Please extend in behalf of our team our sympathy and hope that he will soon be back on the field."

SELECT SIX FOR DEBATING SQUAD

Gladstone, Halpern, Leavitt, Rosenbaum, Shapiro and Spitz Win Places

Six men were selected to form the varsity debating squad at the try-outs held yesterday in Room 222. They are: Gladstone, Halpern, Leavitt, Rosenbaum, Shapiro and Spitz.

The candidates prepared seven minute speeches on either side of the proposition "Resolved, that the United States favor an amendment to the Volstead Act to permit the sale of light beers and wines." The contest was judged by members of the public speaking department.

In preparation for the collegiate debates that are now being arranged, the squad will be divided into affirmative and negative teams which will debate against each other on the Volstead topic. Immediately before the first varsity contest, the four best men on the squad will be chosen to represent the College.

The first debate of the season is scheduled for the end of the month with N. Y. U. The amending of the Volstead Act will probably be the subject for dispute. The University of Maine will most likely be met in a return debate. Arrangements are being made to meet several of the following colleges in the interval between terms: Boston University, M. I. T., Boston College, Clarke University and the University of Rhode Island.

Last semester the varsity debating team, under the captaincy of Hy Weissman, hung up the enviable record of four victories in five debates. N. Y. U. was defeated by a two to one decision on the question of the re-enactment of the immigration law.

On its trip to Pennsylvania the College orators earned victories over the teams representing Franklin and Marshall and Penn State. The entrance of the United States into the World Court was the topic of both debates. Defending this same subject the College met and conquered the University of Maine by a unanimous decision of the judges. In the last debate of the season, and that a return contest, the College went down to an unexpected defeat at the hands of Franklin and Marshall by a two to one vote of the judges.

LAVENDER TO APPEAR AT CLOSE OF MONTH

Issue Will Surpass Others in Size—Sam Sugar Designs Cover

Lavender, the College literary magazine, will usher in its second year of publication at the close of this month under the editorship of Nathan Berall '25. The lit will be approximately three times the size of those issued last semester. Sam Sugar has designed the cover for the issue.

An essay on George Santayana by Paul Weiss, and a sketch entitled "The Card Game" by Morris White are among the contributions. Abel Meeropol has written a story called "Peterkin." Other contributors include Peter Beilenson, Philip Weiner, Sidney Wallach, Peter Penn and Eliseo Vivas.

CLANCY AND SCHECHTER TIE IN POLO ELECTIONS

In the election held yesterday for the captaincy of the varsity water polo team, Clancy and Schechter each received five votes. A re-election will be held to break the tie next Thursday at 1 o'clock in the A. A. Room.

WILL FEED FROSH AT Y.M.C.A. DINNER

Sectarian Groups Will Cooperate—"Y" to Give Vocational Guidance

Tonight the Y. M. C. A. will hold its semi-annual freshman dinner in the Webb Room. Every '28 man interested in its activities is invited to be present. There he will hear outlined the plans for the semester.

Y. M. C. A. dinners of the past have been notable events in the social life of the college. Men prominent in local affairs, the President of the college and members of the faculty have in the past attended. Their talks, interspersed with cheers and songs, proved effective in inculcating that indefinable college spirit and served to arouse a feeling of camaraderie among fellows who otherwise might have remained strangers.

Hold Joint Lectures

This dinner has also a special import for, contrary to custom, the committee has invited representatives of the four other sectarian societies of the college, namely the Menorah, C. D. A. Douglas and Newman Clubs. This innovation is another aspect of the policy of cooperation begun last term among these clubs in the matter of lectures. The organizations agreed that each week another one of the societies would hold a lecture meeting while the others remained inactive.

According to a prominent member of the Y. M. C. A. this policy is planned to break down barriers among different sections of the student body. It will breed a cosmopolitanism that will result in a more effective cooperation inside the college and a far better political spirit in the community.

Besides the lectures in concordance with the other sectarian associations the Y. M. C. A. intends to continue last term's discussion groups. At these semi-formal meetings a brief address on a topic of national, local or collegiate interest is made by some prominent person. When he is done the students either ask questions or discuss the speaker's viewpoint. The "Y" alcove proved far too small to hold the crowds present last year.

Give Business Talks

A third feature of the "Y" program is the institution of vocational guidance talks. Leaders in various industries will be invited to meet students at certain hours and inform them of the requirements of the branch of business life they represent. The audiences will be private in order to permit each student to obtain a solution to his problem.

This extensive program is made feasible in a large measure by the employment of Wesley Eastman as general secretary. The alcove has been renovated and a partition separates it in two, providing an office for the secretary in the concourse. The rest of the alcove has been converted into a library. Cushioned seats have been provided and also a library table. The "Y" has subscribed to half a dozen weekly and monthly magazines. The books that will line the shelves of the library may not be taken from the alcove but must be read there. They will be under the charge of Mr. Eastman.

BUSINESS BOARD OF LIT HOLDS MEETING TODAY

All candidates and members of the Business Board of Lavender, the College literary magazine must report to Leo Meyer in the Mercury office today. Important business will be transacted.

ST. STEPHENS OFFERS ELEVEN REAL TEST IN STADIUM TOMORROW

PHILIDIUS ON SICK LIST FOR REST OF SEASON

Captain Bob Philidius will be unable to play football for at least six weeks because of the injury he sustained in the Stevens game.

An X-ray taken last Monday revealed the fact that the crack end's shoulder was not fractured but that the joint between the shoulder blade and collar bone was separated. This necessitates absolute rest for six weeks and it is hoped that Philidius will be back for the Fordham game, the closing contest of the season.

THIRTY FRESHMEN OUT FOR JAYVEE

8 High School Men Report—St. Stephens Tactics Used Against Varsity

Thirty freshmen reported to Coach Romoser for the initial jayvee practice Monday. The poor showing may be due to the delay in getting medical examinations. Prospective candidates should get their athletic cards today, in order to join the squad before the first team is formed.

Eight of the candidates, all former high school players, received uniforms, and will form the nucleus for the team. Coach Romoser ran the men through a preliminary drill, acting as the junior varsity quarterback.

On Thursday the jayvee went up against the varsity, using the St. Stephens style of plays. The team, which will have its own set of signals, will always scrimmage with the first team, using the tactics which the varsity's prospective opponent is expected to use.

Strenuous workouts will begin Monday. Practice sessions start at two-thirty.

OSHINS ELIGIBLE FOR VARSITY GRID TEAM

Faculty Athletic Committee Reinstates Athlete—Will Play End

At a meeting of the Faculty Athletic Committee last Tuesday, Lou Oshins, recently declared ineligible for varsity football, was reinstated.

Last year Oshins, dissatisfied with conditions in general, quit the football squad after the second game. The Faculty Committee considered this department unworthy of a member of a Lavender team and this season Oshins was prevented from playing on the eleven. The temperamental athlete apologized for his hasty action and the committee decided to reinstate him.

Oshins' reinstatement comes at a fortunate time as the injury to Captain Philidius will greatly weaken the line. The former played end on the Morris High School eleven and backfield on the last three City College outfits. His return will help solve the end problem for Doc Parker.

Oshins is in his senior year at College and at present is president of the Athletic Association.

St. Stephens, Defeated by N. Y. U., Meets Lavender Gridders Here

LOU OSHINS IN LINE-UP

Visiting Team Has Defeated Varsity Twice in As Many Years

The rejuvenated varsity eleven, minus the services of Captain Philidius, will clash with St. Stephens tomorrow at the Stadium, in an attempt to wipe out two successive defeats at the hands of the Saints. Lou Oshins, recently reinstated by the Faculty Athletic Committee, will probably be chosen by Doc Parker for the end position in place of the injured captain.

In 1922 and again last year, St. Stephens put across 7-0 victories over the Lavender. The College gridders stand a good chance of reversing those decisions in tomorrow's contest.

Visitors Strong

The Saints are unquestionably much stronger in football than Stevens, although the eleven has sustained two defeats this season. Bowdoin won the opener, 6-0, and last Saturday N. Y. U. rolled up nineteen points against St. Stephens, while holding their opponents scoreless.

Forward passing will probably be the forte of the visitors' attack. In the tilt with N. Y. U., St. Stephens proved noticeably weak at line bucking, making their only first down on a long pass, Noble to Murry.

Noble, the Stephens star quarter, will do most of the throwing and punting. Deloria is another all round backfield man and gave N. Y. U. a lot of trouble.

Secret Practice

The Lavender team will depend on straight plunging and end running to break up the St. Stephens defense. The varsity has never been so strong at these departments since football was brought back to the College.

Behind closed doors all week, Doc Parker sent his team through fast scrimmages, correcting the faults which came to light in the Stevens game. The varsity backfield is now working with more precision, and the interference is cooperating well. Coach Romoser devoted his time to the drop kickers, who will have to get off their kicks with more speed and accuracy for the point after touchdown.

Subs Capable

Yesterday, the men went through a stiff scrimmage. There will be no scrimmage in today's practice, which will be of a light nature.

The contest with Stevens brought out several good qualities in the Lavender eleven. The men were always on their toes, ready to take advantage of every break. The line proved able to hold in a pinch, stopping two Stevens rushes on the College's one yard line. Coach Parker discovered that his wealth of reserve material could replace the regulars without weakening the line-up.

The probable line-up:

C. C. N. Y.	St. Stephens
Oshins	L. E. Wilson
Seidler	L. T. Jones
Naiman	L. G. Havvy
Dreiband	C. Gruver
Washor	R. G. Smith
Packer	R. T. Laepke
Raskin	R. E. Hardy
Plaut	Q. B. Noble
Meisel	L. H. B. Willard
Cohen	R. H. B. Schatly
Cottin	F. B. Deloria

THAT FIRST GAME—AND TOMORROW'S

The signal victory of our football team over Stevens last Saturday was in several respects an important event for the College. We do not pretend to intimate that the success of our team in its first game of the season is, in itself, cause to regard the prospects for the remainder of the schedule as being particularly bright. The Stevens game may be portentous of future victories. And then again it may not. But we do not consider it as being especially meaningful from this angle.

The encouraging performance of the eleven was instrumental in reviving the enthusiasm which was evanescent towards the close of the season last year. There has been aroused at the College an intensely real interest in the sport, and renewed faith in its ultimate success at C. C. N. Y. has been inculcated. The spell has at last been broken. It is pleasant and stimulating to see the College emerge the conqueror in a football contest after so long and disheartening a period of oblivion. Let us repeat it is stimulating—magnificently so. But all of this is really somewhat beside the point.

More gratifying to us than the victory even, was the spectacle of such a large number of C. C. N. Y. rooters at an out-of-town game. Would it be waxing unreasonably optimistic to interpret this as an indication that this season the Stadium will be packed to capacity at every home contest? We wonder.

But we have not long to wait for an answer. The test comes tomorrow when the varsity grapples with St. Stephens. No team could be more deserving of the unified support of a student body than the one we now have. One other thing should be remembered, too. No matter how powerful a team is, football games are won just as much by the rooters in the stands as by the men out on the field.

IS IT NOTHING TO YOU?

We recommend that each one of our readers turn to the front page of today's issue and glance over the article concerning the "U" campaign. Take particular notice of the fact that to date, a little over 600 men have subscribed. Having done that, remind yourselves, or let us remind you that we have a student body of approximately 2900. With this data before you, pause a few minutes and think it over. And then think it over a second time. Keep pondering over it until you find yourself compelled to buy the ticket that has been reserved for you in the full expectation that you will claim it. Compelled by what? By the poignant realization that only about 20 per cent of us have manifested interest enough in one College to support the one organization upon which all of our activities are dependent for their very existence. At this late period of the term, the condition is nothing short of alarming. Some immediate steps will have to be taken to alleviate it. It seems to us that the "U" Committee itself could expend greater efforts in revitalizing the so-called campaign. But after all it is most unfortunate that a "drive" of any kind is necessary.

Gargoyles

HELEN TO PARIS You were tall and straight And firm as a pine, And your eyes had the warmth Of southern wine, And my heart's blood sang When I made you mine Dear Boy;

You were strong and swift In a god-like way, And fresh as the tang Of salt sea-spray, And my soul leaped high When we sailed away For Troy;

And now you are dead Like the meaneast thing, And the blood of my heart Has ceased to sing; Oh Zeus! That a day Should ever bring Such woe!

But deep in my heart I am glad you died, For who can hold The wind or the tide? And now no one else Will lie by your side. I know.

SPOONER'S RIVER ANTHOLOGY

Red Hot Mama They should Have told me That Elmer Had a weak heart I wouldn't have Done what I did. It came back like A boomerang anyway. You see I had the reputation Of getting more Out of a kiss Than any other girl! Between Yokohama And the East River. Well, one day They sicked Elmer on me. Elmer was a good boy But he had a habit Of holding hands That was most disconcerting. More than that, It was silly. So I thought I'd give him something With more kick to it Than any army of mules. We began at nine thirty. He drew in his breath With a gasp that rattled The crockery two rooms away. I don't know when he passed off. I got kind of suspicious About four hours later. The thought of being so close To a corpse for three hours And more simply bowled me over. I ain't sorry for Elmer. He was always a dead one anyway. ABEL.

BOUND IN MOROCCO

"POR QUE?" by Maria de Montez. The Four Nations Press, Boston.

I had heard of Montez before—in essays by Madariaga, Castro, and even the Italian Cecchi—and so, altho I had never read anything by him, my interest was aroused when I saw this volume on the New Book Shelf in the Public Library.

It was a great cause of worry to his mother that, for two years after he was born, Julio never spoke a word. —Por que no hablas? chico, she would ask heaping up terms of endearment in a gigantic acceveration. Later, when he was learning to read and write, his teacher would ask in more angry tones, Por que no hablas? tanto de una familia de tontos!

By the time he was fourteen, as soon as he saw a question forming on a person's brow, he would sputter: "P-p-p-p" and whoever was going to interrogate him waited, expecting that now, at last, this foolish, dumb Julio was going to say something.

But he didn't. All he did was grow. He grew into a tall handsome figure of a man: black hair; deep, flashing brown eyes; long, strong, slender arms and legs. Of course, his folks were not poor. They dressed him well, and sent him around just as if he were not a hopeless imbecile. Indeed, except in his home-town, he passed for quite a wit. Once, while visiting a wealthy cousin near Toledo, the cousin's daughter had asked him: —Why don't you speak, Julio? He looked at her a long while in silence which could only seem profound, and then replied in a deep musical voice: "Por que?"

And at this philosophical wisdom even the scholarly cousin could not help being abashed. When Julio wrote a letter proposing marriage to the fair cousin, she refused him. But when he went to see her and to her emphatic "No!" opposed the question "Por que?" she could only answer "Yes." They went to live in Toledo, where Julio quickly conquered the intelligentsia by the opportune iteration of the question: "Por que?" Even when his wife died, childless, while still quite young, he was kneeling at her bedside, face upturned, asking in a voice of sobs: "Por que?" Only his unwillingness to divulge completely the significance which attaches ultimately to the iteration of that sometimes sardonic, sometimes, fervent, sometimes bitter "Why?" prevents me from discussing that significance at greater length. Let me tell you, tho, that it is written with a Rabelaisian abandon, in a style which unites the vigor of Melville with the airy whimsicality of Cabell, and that it is as entertaining as it is interesting. And, introducing to Americans an author long renowned on the continent, it brings to mind the now familiar Cabellian dictum that all art is essentially allegory. For here we have an allegory, colorful, gorgeous, and profoundly wise (without being sententious) and one which is sufficiently esoteric to delight the heart of the jealous reader with its almost equivocal subtleties.

The book has been brought out in a very good translation, (a thing altogether too rare where Spanish books are concerned,) and in an excellent binding.

Among the recent acquisitions to the College Library are Freud's "Group Psychology" and "Beyond the Pleasure Principle"; Hergesheimer's "Balisand"; Huxley's "Young Archimedes"; and Lardner's "How to write Short Stories." One of these, probably, will be the subject of a review in this column next week.

TECH MEN AID STUDY OF MANHATTAN TRAFFIC

About two hundred students of the School of Technology, under the auspices of Borough President Miller of Manhattan, recently conducted an investigation to determine the extent of vehicular traffic in Manhattan Island. After several days of careful service and exact accounting, they learned that about 200,000 vehicles enter and leave Manhattan Island daily. The work was done under Dean Skene of the School of Technology.

ASK ROBINSON TO ACT AS EDUCATION EXPERT

Prof. Robinson, chairman of the department of economics and dean of the evening school, has been invited to attend the conference of the Cleveland Foundation as an expert. These conferences purpose to survey the state of higher education in Cleveland and to study ways and means of improving it. A merger of the existing institutions of higher learning in Cleveland into one city college is contemplated.

Prof. Robinson will report on the organization of the business, journalism and evening schools of the College.

STUDENTS MUST FILE EMPLOYMENT REPORTS

Faculty Employment Committee Will Not Continue to Supply Ushers to Ball Parks

In its newly acquired office, room 6A, the Employment Bureau is functioning again. But it will not aid those who, having obtained employment during the summer through its efforts, have failed to file reports. This lack of cooperation on the part of a few students is preventing Manager Al Rose from completing his annual report for the Faculty Employment Committee.

The latter body decided at its meeting last week not to supply the ball parks with ushers either for the World Series or during the next baseball season. This resolution was taken after several students had stated that they were dissatisfied with the treatment accorded them by the managements of the ball parks.

DESCRIBE WORK AT BIOLOGICAL STATION

Goldfarb, Martin and Scott Relate Experiences at Wood's Hole, Mass.

The experiences of three members of the Biology department, Professors Goldfarb, Martin and Scott, engaged in research work at the Wood's Hole Biological Station, Cape Cod, Massachusetts, were related at a meeting of the Biology Society last Thursday at noon. Professor Browne also spoke, his topic being the prevention of scarlet fever. About fifty students and professors attended.

The history of biological research in America was the topic of Professor Goldfarb's talk. He traced the development of original research work, beginning with the experimentations of Louis T. Agassiz and ending with the work carried on now at Wood's Hole, reputed the best biological station in the United States. He also explained the work of Professor Smith, an American ichthyologist, doing research work for the Siamese government.

Professor Scott spoke of the many foreign students doing original research at the station. Among them was Julian Huxley, grandson of Thomas Henry Huxley, the noted biologist. Mr. Huxley promised Professor Scott to speak at the College at the earliest opportunity. The courses offered to students at the research station during the summer were also explained by the professor. The next meeting of the Biology Society will be held next Thursday. Papers will be read by students, and reports of scientific meetings held in the city will be submitted.

"O somewhere in this favored land the sun is shining bright;
The band is playing somewhere, and somewhere hearts are light,
And somewhere men are laughing and little children shout;
But there is no joy in City—Bob Phildius is out."

Captain Bob Phildius is out—out for the season. The loss of the brilliant end will be felt keenly by the Lavender team. Bob was the ideal captain—a talented and intelligent player and an inspiring leader. It is indeed a pity that Phildius could not go through this season, which was to have been the banner one of his career; which would have won him his place among the best wing men in Eastern gridiron circles.

Captain Bob, you have given City College your best and her heart goes out to you in your misfortune. Here's to a speedy recovery and we're not going to be disheartened. Instead, we are going to dig in harder than ever. We have an ideal to strive for now. We are going to make this team worthy of the captain who will be watching it from the side-lines.

R-R-REVENGE!

Tomorrow's game with St. Stephens is going to clear things up regarding the strength of the team. The Stevens game showed us very little. The Engineers presented a weak outfit and the Lavender rode to victory in spite of shortcomings.

The high tackling, or rather groping, which was so prominent in last week's game will be very much out of order against the Scarlet eleven from up-state. Noble and DeLoria, the backfield gentlemen whose feet-footed antics caused the College teams of the past two years so much trouble, are again on hand and will only be held in check by good, hard, knee-high tackling.

The game is of consequence from other standpoints. First and foremost, it will furnish the occasion for a sweet revenge. For the past two years, it will be remembered, St. Stephens has taken the joy out of opening day by turning us back, each time by the score of 7 to 0. Let's hope its our turn this time. Then again, the contest will give us an insight into our chances with our traditional rival, N. Y. U., in the game of next week. The Violet has already disposed of the Saints to the tune of 19 to 0.

INSIDE DOPE

From our point of view the game is anybody's, so evenly are the teams matched. If there is any edge to be conceded we would give it to the visiting team because of its heavier line and veteran backfield. Be that as it may we are looking forward to seeing the Lavender eleven at least one touchdown to the good at the final whistle.

SOME PROBLEMS SOLVED.

The return to good standing of Lou Oshins means a good deal. Lou, who disported himself at end before coming to shine in Lavender backfields, is a deadly tackler and should admirably solve Coach Parker's problem of how to replace Phildius. Oshins is moreover, a good kicker, which should solve another of Doc's problems.

THE OLD FIGHT.

Coach Parker is disgruntled because of the break which the religious holidays of this week caused in his scrimmage plans. True, it means a lot when a team misses a day of scrimmage in the few days it has to prepare for a game. The team will have to make it up in fight, the Parker fight which we called attention to before the first game and which flashed out when Stevens was held on the one-yard line for four downs. Come through, team!

ANENT ATTENDING

Once more we're not going to urge you to attend the game. All we can say is that we pity anyone who isn't going to be in the Stadium tomorrow to see the Lavender open its third home season, win its second straight game and pay back a debt of two year's standing.

HARRIERS STAGE FAST TRIAL RUN

Run Nine Miles Instead of Six for First Time in History of College

Twelve harriers raced over the new intercollegiate cross country course at Van Cortlandt Park yesterday in the most successful practice session held this season. The men, in excellent condition after a preliminary jog, completed the course in a burst of speed that augers well for the future. Five runners, for the first time in the history of the College, ran a distance of nine miles.

Uniforms have been supplied to seven men. As soon as a candidate shows proficiency, he is given the official outfit. At present Captain Charlie Dain, Tony Orlando, Red Brody, and Whitey Mayday, who are veterans, and Joe Tubridy, Jerry Hyman, and John Clancy, who are newcomers, wear the uniform.

Manager Kurke '26 is completing his schedule, which promises to be the stiffest in years. Fordham, N. Y. U., Brookham Poly, Rutgers, Stevens, and Lafayette form the tentative card. A meet with Union College had to be refused because the team's appropriation permits only one trip out of town. This year's meet abroad will be held at London, Pa. against the Lafayette aggregation.

Two championship runs are also on the schedule. The Metropolitan championship run, in which all the New York institutions compete, is the first on the varsity schedule and will serve as an acid test for the hill-and-daiars.

OFFICERS CLUB PICKS NICHOLAIS PRESIDENT

At its last meeting the Officers Club formulated a social program and held its annual elections. The men chosen are: president, Michael Nicholas; vice-president, Walter W. Flechner; treasurer, Morris A. Prevor; corresponding secretary, Harry J. Rose; recording secretary, William H. Roodenberg; marshal, Morton Solomon.

GYM CLUB TO EXHIBIT AT FROSH-SOPH MEET

Seeks Members — Practice Sessions Under Tutelage of Mr. Dailey

After jumping into the limelight by sponsoring an Olympic exhibition last term, the Lavender Gymnastic Club, under the leadership of Mr. Dailey, began an intensive campaign for members yesterday. The auxiliary gymnasium will be utilized for gymnastic practice.

The club gained great popularity in June when it gave an exhibition of its work before an audience of 350 students and outsiders. At the same time, the United States Olympic Gymnastic team thrilled the spectators with an impressive drill.

Another active season is contemplated by Manager Ketcham '25. In collaboration with the Fresh-Soph Committee, the club will give its first exhibition of the fall term in December, between events in the '27-'28 meet.

The officers for the 1924-25 season are: Edward Sloka '27, captain; Herby Ketcham '27, manager; Joseph Ketcham '27, assistant manager.

Five Veterans Report to Coach—Stevens, Columbia and B'klyn Poly May Be Met

With a new coach in the person of Sam Cantor, and a schedule in the process of completion by Manager Leo Meyer '26, the varsity wrestling team is well on its way for a successful season. Ten candidates reported in the auxiliary gymnasium yesterday for instruction.

Five veterans remain as a nucleus for the season's team. Captain Wolf, 158 pound star of last year, Bischoff, who gave some good performances in the unlimited class, and Klinger and Magid, the 145 pound men, are again out for the squad. Ferro, diminutive lightweight member of last year's outfit, is unable to wrestle any longer since he suffered a broken cartilage in his leg, but this veteran will assist in the coaching of the team.

Three freshman stars of last season are competing for varsity berths. They are Katz, Haber, and Devine, the scrappy 158 pounder. Other candidates include Barnett, Dorfman, and Leo Weinstein.

The schedule will probably consist of matches with Stevens Institute of Technology, Columbia, and Brooklyn Poly. Manager Meyers is also negotiating with Boston College and Syracuse.

Coach Cantor has outlined the hours he will give to the team. Practice sessions will be held every day at 1, and in addition, he will personally meet the men Tuesday and Thursday at 5. Willie Finkel, last year's captain, has also volunteered his services to the team.

Although the prospects for the team have been decidedly brightened by the coming of a coach, many new men are needed, especially those in the lighter classes, from 118 to 145 pounds. New uniforms are being supplied by the F. A. C. in the hope that wrestling will be firmly established at the College.

BIRD PICTURE EXHIBIT IN LINCOLN CORRIDOR

An exhibit of photographs taken by Bernard Fread '25, President of the Biology and Camera Clubs, has been placed in a glass case in Lincoln Corridor. The pictures, consisting mainly of bird studies, are the result of many days of painstaking effort. They were taken in Van Courtlandt Park with an ordinary Kodak camera.

New photographs of nature studies taken by members of the Camera Club will constantly appear in the club's case. Snapshots of the College buildings and surroundings will also be photographed for exhibition purposes.

HOLMAN'S BASKETEERS GET LIGHT WORKOUT

This week's practice sessions in basketball brought out forty-five men in uniform almost daily. At present, both varsity and frosh candidates are working out under coach Holman.

Thus far the men are taking things easily and are indulging in only light workouts. They will gradually increase their efforts at a steady pace.

Although practice has been announced for Tuesdays, Wednesdays, and Fridays, at 5 p. m., it is very probable that sessions will be held every afternoon of next week.

UNOFFICIAL SOCCERITES HOLD DAILY PRACTICES

Entire Team Is Back—Prospects Good for Another Unbeatable Team

Although official sanction has not yet been granted to the team, the Lavender Soccer Club continues to practice for the coming season. Practically the entire team of last season is back in the ranks and several prominent newcomers are competing for berths.

The team made an admirable record last year by winning six regular games with high school teams, emerging with the distinction of blanking all opponents and beating the interscholastic champions of Brooklyn and the Bronx.

Manager Morris Raif, '27, is contemplating sending another petition to the F. A. C. asking for a recognition of soccer as a varsity sport. A petition last year was entirely disregarded.

Townsend Harris, Brooklyn Tech, Stuyvesant, Morris, Erasmus, and the High School of Commerce will again appear on the schedule, which is in process of completion. Erasmus holds the City P. S. A. L. championship, while Morris boasts the premier honors in the Bronx.

Prospects for the team are rosy, according to Captain Ike Miller, '27. "My entire team is back and new men from the frosh class will insure good substitutes. With the same teams on our schedule as last year, the outlook could not be brighter," declared Miller at the last practice held in Jasper Oval.
