Quintet to Play Two Games
During Christmas
Vacation

STARS IN ALUMNI LINE-UP

Palitz, Match, Edelstein, Nadel, Saltz, Klauber and Raskin to Face Varsity

During the Christmas vacation the Lavender basketball team will keep in trim for the more important and heavier part of the schedule by engaging in two contests. The first of these will find the varsity opposed to a combination of former Alumni stars, who will revisit the gym on December 26. Again, on January 1 the dribblers will entertain a quintet from McGill University, Canada.

In the Alumni lineup, announces Manager Pepper '26, will be found many of the old court stars, who have played both under the present coach, Nat Holman, and under the former Mentor, Joe Deering. Several old luminaries such as Streusand, McGill, Lewis, Bigelow, and Lipton, have signified their intentions of appearing for the game. Among these more familiar to the present generation of basketball fans will be such illustrious names as Doc, Edelstein, Red Klauber, Pinkie Match, Archie Hahn, Tubby Raskin, Sr., Leo Palitz, Ben Pearlman, Jackie Nadel, and Frankie Saltz.

Alumni Strong

With such a galaxy of satellites to choose from, the Alumni will present a strong aggregation. In last year's encounter the varsity was hard pressed to glean a victory by a score of 39-35. There is an intense rivalry between the two camps and the games are always well contested.

Having terminated the 1925 campaign the St. Nick cagemen will inaugurate the new year with a tussle against the McGill tossers.

The Canadians were not met last year, but in 1923, the College had no trouble in trouncing the visitors by a big margin. Little is known about the strength of the McGill outfit for it has not yet played in the United States.

Team Play Ragged

The victory over Rutgers last Saturday brought little satisfaction to Lavender fans. The team play of the local dribblers was ragged, and again the basketeers were forced to attempt long distance shots because of their inability to cut for the goal effectively. A redeeming feature however, was brought to the fore in the center play of Bob Suttel. At present he is the best jumper on the squad and will probably start in the two holiday games.

Coach Holman will fill the other berths with his remaining experienced men. Mac Hodesblatt and Irv Goldberg will again take care of the two guard posts while Harry Goichman and Hick Rubinstein are slated to lead the attack on the College's opponents. In the last contest the work of Hodesblatt and Goldberg was noteworthy. These two succeeded in breaking up the Rutgers offensive to such an extent that the New Brunswick five was shooting from all angles and distances in the second half.

Reserved Seats for Varsity Basketball Games on Sale

Reserved seats for the varsity basketball tilt against the Alumni on December 26th and the one against McGill University on Jan. 1, may be procured from Bernard Eisenstein, the Athletic Association treasurer, at two for $1.50 with a "U" ticket. They may also be purchased at the Co-op store or from Prof. Williamson at $1.00 each. General admission with "U" tickets will be $.50.

H. WOLLMAN GAVE LAW COURSE IN 1918

Lectured at 23rd St. to Practising Attorneys—Became Interested in College Then

Henry Wollman, one of the established of the $309,999 trust fund to be used for the advancement of business and banking study at the College was a special lecturer at the Twenty Third Street building in 1918, in a law course given to practising attorneys. It was while engaged in this work that Mr. Wollman became interested in the college.

The proceeds of this fund, since it is from a residual estate, may not be available for many years. No definite plans, therefore, are being drawn up by the trust fund committee which, at all times, is to consist of the President of the College, the Dean of the School of Business and Civic Administration, the chairman of the Board of Trustees and an Alumnus. The present committee consists of President Mezes, Dean Fredrick B. Robinson and Mr. Moses J. Stroock.

The committee may use the money in any of a number of ways. It may be used for the establishment of a bureau of business research, the establishment of professorships or the awarding of scholarships and prizes. The exact usage to which the money will be put, according to Dr. Robinson, will depend on future circumstances. In no case, however, must the money be used for any purpose other than the promotion of business and banking instruction at the College. This, and the stipulation that at all times must the money be used under the name of the deceased Morton Wollman are the conditions under which the fund was founded.

It was at a dinner to Adolph Lewison, noted philanthropist, last May, that Mr. Wollman first asked Dr. Robinson for advice in regard to a bequest to the School of Business and Civic Administration. After conferences with President Mezes, Arthur W. Coombes, and Bernard Naumburg, president of the City College Club the present arrangements were completed. After the death of certain members of the Wollman family now enjoying the income from the estate of Morton Wollman, Henry and William, brothers of Morton, are to dispose of the money as they see fit. They have placed it in a trust fund, the proceeds of which are to be used by the business division of the College.

LAVENDER CANDIDATES MEET

All candidates for the business board of the Lavender, the literary publication of the College will meet Harry Horowitz, assistant business manager, to-day at 12 o'clock in Rm. 424.

RIFLE TEAM WINS WITH PERFECT SCORE

Riflemen Maintain High Record in Prone Position Meets

Continuing its record-breaking achievements, the varsity rifle team overwhelmed the University of Maine marksmen in its last regular prone match with a perfect score, 500-190.

This is the fifth successive prone meet in which the Lavender riflemen have shot without a miss. The opponents that have fallen before the unerring aim of the fusiliers are Drexel, R. P. L. and Rutgers. The Lavender ninrads have also captured the metropolitan prone championship with a perfect score.

The rifle team last week scored a victory over the University of Vermont in all four positions—sitting, kneeling, standing and prone. This was the first four position fray for the targetmen and they rang up a total of twenty points more than their highest score last year. In this engagement, seven men tallied perfect scores in the prone position. Incidentally, Columbia, the Lavender's closest competitor for intercollegiate honors, tallied a result in its match with Penn State considerably below the 1924 points chalked up by the varsity.

In the tussle against Maine, the following were the ones to turn in perfect targets. Jake Solomon, Haydon Noyes, Ike Lichtenfels, Margolies and Sam Saltz. Four other men shot 99. These are Feinberg, Captain Hal Nagler, Valentine and Brause.

The shooting of Margolies in the last conflict is a source of much satisfaction to the team. Ike Lichtenfels, high scorer in the Vermont scrap, came through in the pinch, while Jake Solomon and Noyes fired with their customary unerring aim. Sam Saltz deserves commendation for his praiseworthy achievement.

There is no match slated for this week, but Manager Mac Kinnon '26 is completing arrangements for meets to take place after the vacation. Henceforth, the only regular engagements to be shot off will be four position affairs in preparing for the intercollegiates in April.

STUDENTS OF GOVERNMENT TO VISIT SING SING PRISON

Trip Is to Be Made From College Campus in Buses

About one hundred students taking government courses at the College will visit Sing Sing on Tuesday December 29. The trip will be made in busses which will leave the College Campus at 9:30 A. M. and return about 3:00 in the afternoon. Tickets are being sold at $1.25 round trip.

The trip was arranged by Professor William B. Guthrie of the Government department and he has announced that the first opportunity to make the visit will be given to students now studying Government.

Other students, however will be taken on the trip also, and those desiring to go should see a man on the committee which is taking care of the trip, at their earliest opportunity.

Warden Lewis of the prison will speak to the students who will make the trip on the subject of "Prisons and Prison Reform."

President Mezes Removes Ban; Press Reference To Mili Sci Again Assumed By 'Campus'

PRESIDENTIAL PROCLAMATION

To the Students of the College:

In the latter part of the spring term, the Student Council requested the Faculty to make numerous changes in the curriculum involving nearly every department of study and including a change in the Military Science courses. These requests were courteously received by the Faculty, and its Committee on Curriculum held many meetings and devoted much time to them and presented a discriminating report to the Faculty for its action and for the consideration of the Board of Trustees.

While the requests were being thus carefully considered, the Student Council and The Campus undertook a campaign of propaganda and publicity against Military Science courses that exceeded the bounds of common courtesy and propriety. Not until an atmosphere of agitation disastrous to good college work was created and until The Campus had stated that its case had been fully presented was any curb put upon freedom of utterances, though it had, beyond question, degenerated into license.

After due deliberation, considering only the good of the students and the College, the Faculty has recommended to the Trustees that some of the students' requests be granted and that others, including the one related to Military Science, be denied. The Trustees have unanimously approved the conclusions of the Faculty. The whole matter is officially closed. I now, therefore, request all students to return to our normal, academic routine; after all, students attend college chiefly to receive instruction to the end that they may increase in knowledge and mental power.

All publications, including The Campus, will have the full measure of freedom that is the rule here, subject, of course, to the following regulation, that has been in existence for years:—

"It shall be the duty of the managing editor to maintain a suitable standard of intelligence, propriety and courtesy, and he will be held responsible for the performance of this duty." (The Annual Register, page 101.)

The Trustees further provide that this regulation may be enforced either by the President or by the Faculty.

Among the Morris alumni present, now attending City College were:— Aaron Orange '26, Benjamin Weintraub '26, Herman Friedman '27, Harris Levin '27, Herbert M. Morris '27, Edward A. Reich '27, Samuel A. Marshall '28.

The Morris High School alumni meeting is only the first of a series of alumni reorganization gatherings which are to be held in the city. The alumni of Townsend Harris Hall, Clinton and Boys' High will meet during the holidays.

CENSORSHIP PERIOD ENDS

3256 Parents Poll For Elective Course—591 Favor Present System

FACULTY REJECT CHANGE

Rejects Student Drill Proposal—Trustees Uphold Professors

The ban on all matters pertaining to Military Science placed upon The Campus by President Mezes on November 23 has been revoked.

"All publications," he declared "including The Campus, will have the full measure of freedom that is the rule here." This ends a period of censorship that was placed on The Campus in the midst of the Military Science campaign that attracted Nation-wide attention.

Periodicals Protest

As a sign of silent protest the paper appeared with several columns bordered in black. Editorials expressed the opinions of The Campus. Comment by Lavender and Mercury deplored the restriction of free speech. The Civil Liberties Union expressed its disapproval to the president. The Nation and New Republic, through their editorial columns and numerous individuals, in letters to the president and The Campus protested against this censorship. President Mezes took no action until after the meeting of the Board of Trustees.

During the period of the ban all members of the College depended on the metropolitan papers for their news. Important events followed in rapid succession. On December 10, the faculty by a vote of 54 to 16 rejected the Student Council proposal that Military Sciences be made elective. Thirty-nine members of the faculty did not vote. The Student Council not content with conducting a student poll, sounded parent opinion by a referendum taken through the mails. The result was 3,256 in favor of making the course elective to 591 to keeping the course compulsory. Last Thursday the Board of Trustees decided that Military Training be retained without any change in the course.

Improvement Promised

The Military Science department has endeavored to rid the course of some of the features objected to, Chapter 27 of Moss and Lang's Manual of Military Training has been cut out of every textbook that is in the hands of students. This is the chapter dealing with bayonet drill. Groups of two dozen students have been holding informal conferences with Herbert Holton, Professor of Military Science and Tactics. He has sought to learn student objections to the course and has promised to do all in his power to improve uniforms and drilling hours.

During the period of enforced silence on the part of The Campus, Lavender and Mercury took up the war on Military Science. The second

MATMEN PREPARING FOR BROWN MATCH

Meet Scheduled for January 9
—Lavender in Line for Met. Championship

By virtue of the recent victory of Brooklyn Poly over Columbia, who lost to a 21-8 score, the College wrestling team is now in line for the metropolitan championship. This is an honor that no Lavender grappling aggregation of recent years has won.

The College mat team is one of the best that has ever been turned out. The easy overwhelming victory over Brooklyn Poly and the fine showing made by the wrestlers against the Elizabeth Y. M. C. A. last Friday indicate their power and ability. The Elizabeth coach, W. E. Cann, who was the United States Olympic wrestling coach in 1924, commented favorably on the enthusiasm and endurance of the Lavender grapplers.

The Elizabeth match was merely held as a preparatory to the Brown encounter, to be held on January 9th at Providence, R. I. The purpose of the practice tilts is to keep the squad in good physical condition during a long period of rest between matches.

In last Friday's tussle, Macklin again starred, being the only College representative to win. He gained his victory over Curette, a former state champion, on a time advantage of five minutes and forty-five seconds. Levin, in the 115-lb. class, performed very well against a far superior opponent, losing only in the last several seconds.

Coach Cantor is working the men hard for the coming intercollegiate battles.

Practice will be held daily throughout the Christmas vacation, in the wrestling room of the gym. Former college wrestlers, among whom are Julie, Bailo, Irv Rifkin, Spitz, Finkle and Wolf, will help to round the team in shape.

COURT TEAMS WILL PLAY ELEVEN HOLIDAY CONTESTS

Intra-mural Basketball Competition to End With Christmas Games

The intra-mural basketball league will play off its final contests during the winter vacation. The winners in the two groups of competition will then play each other for the intra-mural basketball championship.

The C. D. A. five has shown itself to be the best team in group 1, but is closely followed by the team of '27. The '28 team and The Campus outfit are now in a tie for first place. The Saranacs and Virgins are leading the second group of competitors.

The schedule for the holidays follows:
Dec. 24—Blues vs. Unities at 1:15
Dec. 26—C. D. A. vs. '29 at 2:00
—The Campus vs. '27 at 2:00
Dec. 28—All Stars vs. Unities at 2:15
—Blues vs. Toreadors at 1:15
—Amazons vs. Saranacs at 3:00
Dec. 29—C. D. A. vs. '28 at 2:00
Dec. 30—Hammonds vs. All Stars at 1:15

FROSH PRIMED FOR WASHINGTON TUSSLE

Quintet to Engage Strong H. S. Team As Preliminary to Alumni Game

With two victories and two defeats chalked up against their record the freshman quintet is pointing toward a win over the strong George Washington High School aggregation, this Saturday evening. The game will be a preliminary to the varsity contest with the alumni five.

Coach Parker has been putting his charges through strenuous sessions in order to eliminate the faults which were so prominent in the recent Morris encounter. The team is working to improve the attack and its general floorwork.

Liss, the frosh captain, revealed himself to be the star of the team, in the last tussle. He has continued his consistent leadership in scoring, while his aggressiveness and floorwork make him worthy of the captaincy. Geldman, who has shown his dependability in former games, shone in the Morris contest with one foul and three field goals.

Lebowitz, who made his debut with the cub quintet against Morris flashed a fine brand of play in the tap-off position. Bienstock, also starting for the first time, showed himself to be an aggressive man and fitted in with the rest of the team. With added experience both men should clinch their newly won positions.

Scrimmage has taken up most of the practice. The first and second fives have been improving their passing and shooting. The lack of good substitutes which was noticeable in the last few games is another problem that Doc Parker is beset with, and is trying to solve this week.

The line-up against George Washington will be the same that took the floor against Morris, last Saturday.

Captain Liss and Geldman will start at the forward posts, Lebowitz for center and Sandak and Bienstock will guard the home goal.

WATER POLO TEAM DEFEATS JANUS A. C.

Greenstein High Scorer for Varsity in Hard Fought Tussle

The varsity water-polo team gained its first victory of the season last Friday night when it defeated the Janus Athletic Club by the score of 23-5. The game was closely contested throughout but due to the good condition of the team only new men were put in during the game. Greenstein the center forward was the high scorer for the varsity with two goals to his credit. If Johnny Elteich hadn't had a cold the spectators would have had the novel experience of seeing two sets of brothers playing against each other. Johnny's brother played back for the visitors while B. Lewis the brother of "Jinks" Lewis played forward.

Campaign Against Military-Science Spreads Rapidly to Other Colleges

Ohio State Will Conduct Referendum on Subject Next Month

The campaign conducted by The Campus against compulsory military science has attracted comment in colleges throughout the country.

Among the colleges that have taken up the campaign are Ohio State, Davidson College and the University of Oregon. The student publications at N. Y. U., Cornell and West Virginia have devoted their columns to a discussion of the subject. Considerable agitation has been aroused even in universities where military science is elective, including Harvard, Princeton and Yale.

At Ohio State University developments have taken on a proportion that bids fair to surpass the City College campaign. A referendum will be held next month to ascertain the student body's attitude on the question. In the meantime several debates are being arranged. Many faculty members emphatically denounced the compulsory course.

Cries of "Communist" and "Pacifist" have been directed at these teachers. The latest coup of the drill proponents took the form of a raid on the home of an anti-militarist professor. A still was discovered in his cellar, he was dismissed from the university as un-American, and the anti-drill campaign received a temporary setback.

"Aim of Training Wrong"

Military training at West Virginia was denounced by Dr. J. N. Deahl, head of the Education department. "When the civilized world," he said, "is endeavoring to bring about disarmament and secure peace among the nations, it would seem that our students and faculty would most heartily join in the movement to reduce military training in the University. Our country has a reputation, or should have, for dealing with nations on a basis of equity, justice and peace.

"The specific aim of military training is the maiming and killing of human beings. Military training is not only one the wrong road to civilian education but it is on the road directly in the opposite direction."

In defense of military science, Major Leland S. Devore, commandant at West Virginia, declared. "The average college student who comes here at seventeen is just beginning to think. He knows nothing about national defense. Football, baseball, movies, and dat's are much more important to a college student than drab but nevertheless essentials as military science."

The Oregon daily in its editorial column made the following statement: "Although military training is still here today, many Oregon students will rejoice at the New York revolt. Military training at Oregon today is justified possibly in theory, but in results it must be confessed that the burden of proof remains with the military advocate. The men do not show the results of discipline, physical improvement, or mental efficiency, and judging from appearances, for the most part the University of Oregon army would by only at home in Napoleon's grand flight in Russia."

Cornell Comments

"Is it not irrational, inconsistent, and brutal," queries a Cornell correspondent, "to make it possible for Cornell men to get a cultural training only upon first learning to kill men? For instance, the sophomore goes from a lecture in English literature to the Drill Hall, where the infantrymen are told that it is not sufficient to gore the enemy with his bayonet, but a genuine soldier must give the weapon a violent wrench to make the hole large and militarily correct. To remedy this inconsistency, I am sure our militarists will not ask that poetry be no longer studied. Then what do they suggest?"

Another Cornellian wrote, "Discipline is necessary. The American youth can stand a lot more than he gets, but the R.O.T.C. is training officers upon whose initiative depends the lives and home of their countrymen."

The Cornell "Daily Sun" was among the first collegiate papers to protest against the censorship of The Campus.

The educational benefits of military science were disposed of by an Ohio correspondent rather concisely:

"There was one bit of educational value given me by a drill sergeant who had seen the world from the hold of a battleship. He told me and the rest of the class that no ladies are allowed to visit the ruins of Pompeii for reasons which he related with gusto and which you, Mr. Editor, cannot be told.

"Another sergeant taught me the trick of chewing an overly large cud of tobacco and giving commands at the same time. While I consider this of great value, I have not as yet had occasion to put the knowledge to practical use.

"Because I live in a civilized community and have the benefits of all sanitary arrangements, I no doubt will never be called on to use some of the other education given me."

The "Harvard Crimson" reprinted the Armistice Day editorial of The Campus. "The Daily Princetonian" praised the stand of City College students. The "Yale News" is planning to run statements on the matter by President Sidney E. Mezes and Felix S. Cohen.
