VARSITY QUINTET DRILLS HARD FOR HAVERFORD GAME

Saturday Night's Contest First In Three Weeks—Squad In Good Shape

FIVE BEATEN BY ARMY

Doc Parker In Charge of Practice During Nat Holman's Absence

The Lavender basketball team has been hard at work for the final drive of the season. Exams interfered with practice sessions but now after two weeks of drill, the team is ready for its game with Haverford on Saturday night at the gym.

The plucky players lost a hard fought game to the cadets at West Point after getting into tip top shape with hopes of pulling through with a victory. Two factors were responsible for the college defeat—the big court and Roosma. The former Passaic High School star could not be stopped and ran wild for twenty-five points.

Large Court Unfamiliar The big Army court was the greater factor in the defeat. The Lavender players up to the time had been used to a small court together with a short, snappy passing game. On the big court they were lost and the teamwork was consequently poor. The cadets ranged head and shoulders over Holman's men and had it almost all their own way in scrimmages under the basket and on the tap off.

The big surprise of the game was the stellar playing of Goitchman who subbed at guard in place of Hodesblatt. The former crack freshman player worked in well with the team and played a big part in staving off the Army offense. Hodesblatt has been a very dependable guard all season and is an important cog in the smooth working of the team. Because of his experience in varsity contests, it is doubtful that the guard assignment will be taken from "Hodey."

Victory String Broken The defeat at the hand of West Point broke a string of seven straight victories. The team, however, is far from disheartened and is perfecting its offense and defense to go through the rest of the schedule with a clean record.

The Massachusetts Aggies team provided a strong offense, built around Captain Samuels. The stocky forward was the dangerous man to guard because he was constantly being "fed" by his team mates. Captain Match and his men used some rare strategy in the second half and compelled the Aggies to get on the offensive instead of waiting for breaks.

Coach Holman always warns his charges not to force the issue after a comfortable lead has been gained. It is entirely up to the team that is behind to get on the offensive and they, generally will unless they are out to hold their opponents to as low a score as is possible.

Parker Directing Team The direction of the practice sessions is now in the hands of Doc Parker. Coach Holman is on a Western tour with the Celtics and has given the freshman coach full charge. Doc Parker is thoroughly familiar with the Holman system and with the wealth of varsity material on hand should encounter no difficulties.

The second team has made a very creditable showing up to-date and has improved considerably. Their playing against the rival varsity team has revealed the fact that they are a hard playing and close guarding quintet.

TO GIVE $50 FOR BEST STUDENT SONGS WRITTEN

The Campus Association, an organization composed of former editors and business managers of The Campus, announces that it will give fifty dollars in prizes to the best City College songs written by an undergraduate. The selection of judges, the time limit of the contest, and other details will be published in a later issue. The selections chosen will be printed in the City College Song Book that is to appear this term.

GETTER ELECTED COUNCIL PRESIDENT

Defeats Hintz in Re-election—Grossman and Sober Chosen Vice-President and Secretary

In the re-elections for president of the Student Council held Thursday, January 15, Herman Getter '25 defeated Howard W. Hintz '25 by a vote of 196 to 137. In the first election Al Grossman '26 was elected vice-president and Pincus Sober '26, secretary.

There were three candidates for the presidency in the first balloting. Herman Getter received 140 votes, Howard W. Hintz received 136 and Henry Spitz '25, the last candidate tallied 114. Two candidates contested the position of Vice-President. They were Al Grossman and A. Arnold Jaffee '26. Grossman won by a vote of 240 to 143. In the race for the secretaryship Pincus Sober defeated Fred Kraut '26, 199 to 194.

Getter's activities include the Vice-presidency of the Student Council last term, the Art Board of the Mercury and the 1924 Microcosm. Grossman is circulation manager of both The Campus and the '24 Mike, was vice-chairman and is now chairman of the "U" Committee and a class officer. Captain of the cross-country team, chairman of the Junior Advisory Committee and a class officer are the major activities of Secretary Sober.

Only about 400 students of the College took part in the Council elections out of an approximate 2500 registration. This was because only "U" members were extended the voting privilege.

Storey and Crowne Absent on Leave; Seven Appointed To Faculty Staff

Three Graduates Awarded Fellowship in Biology and Chemistry Departments — Ettari, Newton and Palmer Resign From Respective Posts—Professor Grendon Returns to College

According to an announcement from the office of the president of the College, various changes have been made on the faculty staff. Appointments, resignations, and grants of leave of absence to members of several departments have been made.

In the department of Hygiene, Professor Storey has been granted a leave of absence from March 1 to September 1. Professor Woll will act as head of the Hygiene Department during that period. Dr. Roger S. Palmer has resigned from this department.

Professor J. J. Crowne of the English department is on sabbatical leave of absence for one year beginning this February. Simultaneous with Professor Crowne's departure is the return of Professor Felix Grendon of the same department. Dr. Francesco Ettari, instructor in

INTENSIVE CAMPAIGN FOR "U" MEMBERS COMMENCES TODAY

Possession of "U" Ticket Necessary for Participation in All Extra-Curricular Activities

PRICE OF BOOKLET $3.00

Goal Set at Twelve Hundred Mark—Partial Payment Plan Also Starts Today

Although the "U" campaign actively started with the first day of registration, Thursday, January 29, the most intensive efforts of the committee will begin today with the field consisting of the united undergraduate body. This semester the "U" fee is $3.00, which is one dollar less than last term's cost. Tickets may be procured in the alcoves from any of the committeemen or in the Bursar's office, Room 217 of the Main Building.

Contrasted to its price of $3.00, the "U" ticket offers a monetary return of $9.25. The publications which are free to "U" members include thirty-eight issues of The Campus, costing $1.90, four issues of Mercury, the College comic, costing $1.00, and three issues of Lavender, the College literary magazine, costing $.60. Besides the above, the holder of a "U" booklet is entitled to half price reductions on the two remaining basketball games, on fourteen home baseball games, on one wrestling match, and on four swimming and water polo meets, which together represent a saving of $5.75. The new tickets will be necessary for the next basketball games with Haverford. General admission tickets, priced at $1.00, are sold to "U" members for $.50.

Only "U" members are entitled to vote in Student Council, Athletic Association, and class elections. Participation in extra-curricular activities, including athletics, publications, club membership, etc., is open alone to those who have paid their "U" fees. Al Grossman '26, chairman of the "U" committee, promises strict enforcement of this regulation.

The goal of the committee is to surpass not only the spring term record of 850 members but also the 1200 mark. Besides Chairman A. Grossman. (Continued on page 4)

4 C. C. N. Y. ALUMNI GAIN HARVARD LAW AWARDS

Four City College men competed for the fourteen scholarships offered to first year students at the Harvard Law School for the year 1925. All the four were successful. Out of the two hundred that took the examinations, Charles Epstein, Edmund Burke Jr., Hyman Weissman, and Asher Gerstenfeld achieved the enviable record of obtaining the second, fifth, sixth and eighth places respectively.

Harvard Law School, long known to be the premier law school of the country, has always been especially stringent in its scholastic requirements in the awarding of prizes. This reflects credit all the more upon the men that received the awards and upon their Alma Mater.

Hintz Again Given Editorship of Campus

Sorkin Re-Elected Business Manager—Budner Elevated to News Editorship—Associate Members Compose New Editorial Board

Howard W. Hintz '25 was re-elected Editor-in-Chief of The Campus for the present term at the last meeting of the Campus Association. This marks the third term in succession that he has held the executive position of the paper. Hintz has been a member of The Campus staff for the past three and one half years.

The re-election of Samson Z. Sorkin '25 as Business Manager was announced at the same meeting. Sorkin has also been connected with The Campus for the past three years. Prior to his position as Business Manager, he was Sports Editor of the paper.

Joseph Budner '26 was elevated from the Associate Board to the News Editorship. A new Editorial Board was created by the editor. It will be composed of Felix S. Cohen '26, Harry Heller '27 and Sidney Jacobi '26, former associate editors.

Appointments to the Associate Board will be announced in a few weeks. About four men will be chosen from the News staff to fill the vacancies caused by the creation of the Editorial Board.

A formal competition for places on the News Board will be instituted within two weeks. All aspirants will receive regular news beats and instruction in news and headline writing. The competition will last until the spring vacation when five or six men will be appointed to the staff.

The first meeting of candidates for the News staff will be held next Thursday at one o'clock in the Campus Office, Room 411. All men interested in journalism are invited to attend the first meeting.

A meeting of the entire Campus staff excluding the Business Board will be held today at one o'clock in the Campus Office, Room 411. All members of the Executive, Associate, News and Sports boards must attend. Important announcements by the editor will be made at the meeting.

SUMMER JOB SEEKERS MUST FILE REQUESTS

Al Rose, manager of the Employment Bureau, announces that all applicants for summer positions should file applications as soon as possible. In addition, those desiring to form band combinations should register in his office, room 6A.

PENN AND COLGATE ON 17 GAME CARD FOR BATSMEN

Seven New Opponents for Varsity Baseball Team Include Bowdoin and Middlebury—14 Encounters to Take Place in Stadium—Season Opens April 1

Lavender baseball fans will be able to witness fourteen home games this year, out of a schedule listing seventeen contests. A formidable array of opponents, seven of them newcomers, presents itself for the veterans of last year's hard hitting combination.

Those on the schedule whom the varsity has not yet faced on the diamond are U. of P., Bowdoin, Middlebury, Colgate, Catholic U., Temple and St. Lawrence. Lehigh, Brooklyn Poly, Albright and Union, all opponents of last year, have been dropped from the schedule. The games away from home are with Lafayette, at Easton, Pennsylvania, St. Lawrence, at the Varsity Excursion grounds and Fordham, at Fordham.

N. Y. U. and Fordham will meet the Lavender for the first time in two years. Rain caused the cancellation of both these contests in 1924, leaving the Metropolitan championship in dispute.

Only Trulio Lost

This season should be one of the most successful from a baseball standpoint that the College has ever witnessed. Of last year's winning aggregation, but one man is lost, Will Trulio, who captained the team.

On April 9, the St. John's team comes to the Stadium. The Saints conquered Nat Holman's nine by score of 8 to 4 in the 1924 opener, played on a muddy field. In a return game at home, the varsity batted several St. John's pitchers for a total of 15 runs, while allowing the opposing team but one tally.

The day after the St. John's game, the nine will have a battle with Middlebury on its hands. Another hard game will take place a week later, after a contest with Stevens Tech, when the Lavender makes its first trip to Easton, to face Lafayette. The Pennsylvanians are still smarting under the 16 to 9 defeat administered last season.

N. Y. U. is to be met on April 22, at home. A victory over the Violet, if followed by one over the powerful Fordham nine, will give the College team a strong claim for the Met Championship.

The month of April concludes with games with Rensselaer Poly and St. Francis. R. P. I. has not met the home team yet. The Saints, however, lost to the varsity in 1924 by 5 to 3.

Meet U. of P. May 16

Colgate University's nine visits the Stadium on May 2. On the sixth and ninth, the College plays host to Manhattan and Drexel respectively, both of whom were defeated last season. The victory over Manhattan was by a score of 4 to 0, and that over Drexel by 7 to 5.

Near the close of the season, several new opponents will be met. Temple is scheduled for a game on May 13. Three days later the strong U. of P. aggregation appears at the Stadium. Catholic U. winds up the home season on the twentieth.

On May 23, the Lavender engages St. Lawrence in the annual game which features the Varsity Excursion. The season is concluded on May 27 with one of the hardest tilts of the season, that with Fordham. The game will be played at the Fordham field.

The complete schedule follows:

April 1, Cathedral at home; 3, Bowdoin at home; 9, St. John's at home; 10, Middlebury at home; 15, Stevens at home; 18, Lafayette at Easton, Pa.; 22, N. Y. U., at home; 25, R. P. I. at home; 29, St. Francis at home.

May 2, Colgate at home; 6, Manhattan at home; 9, Drexel at home; 13, Temple Univ. at home; 16, Pennsylvania at home; 20, Catholic University at home; 23, St. Lawrence at Varsity Excursion; 27, Fordham at Fordham.

THREE TIMES EDITOR

Howard W. Hintz '25 has achieved the signal honor of being elected Editor-in-Chief of The Campus for three successive terms. With the completion of this semester, Hintz will have served the College publication for four years.

RE-ELECTED TO POST

Samson Z. Sorkin '25, second time chosen Business Manager of The Campus by The Campus Association. Sorkin was formerly Sports Editor and a member of the News Board.

What's past is past. There is nothing gained by crying over a defeat. The thing to do now is to turn our heads to the future. That is where our possibilities reside.

In considering what is ahead, however, we can't help thinking back. It is clear that great improvement over the play in the Army game will have to be effected if the future is to be pleasant.

That last game saw the worst exhibition by one or two individuals that has ever been given by any pupil of Nat Holman. Imagine a Holman representative repeatedly throwing the ball several feet over the head of a teammate waiting unguarded under the basket; or throwing the ball into the enemy's hands time after time; and showing such amateurish ability in all those fundamentals which have always been second nature to City College players that one watching almost imagined he was back in his elementary school days.

These men we refer to are not the great natural stars that Edelstein, Salz, Nadel of last year's team were. There is no question that they are not in this class. Still, if they are to wear City College shirts they're not trying; they're exerting themselves enough, all right, but they're not getting results; they're not "producing," as Nat would say.

And the hardest part of the schedule is still to come! N. Y. U. and Fordham, the two teams we are most anxious to beat loom up ahead, in addition to several other strong teams. One is faced with the unusual and gloomy possibility of a Lavender team losing several games in a single season.

If the individuals we are referring to don't show any improvement quickly we'd like to see second team men finish up the season. Personally, we think Harry Goichman belongs in there right now. From his freshman days Goichman impressed us as a real basketball player and after seeing his recent work as varsity sub we're firmly convinced that he ought to be wearing a black shirt. We shouldn't be at all surprised to see Harry starting the next game. Another second team man who looks good and would look still better in a black shirt is Tubby Raskin.

As we were saying, the hardest part of the schedule is still unplayed. And don't forget we must beat Fordham and N. Y. U.—we must beat Fordham and N. Y. U.!

SOME SNAPPY SEXTET!

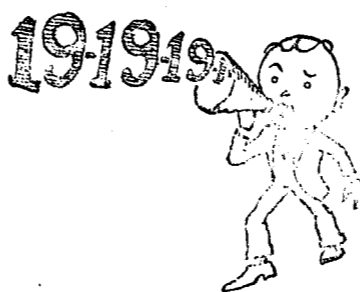

It is with a distinct lightening of the heart that we turn our attention to the water polo team. All praise to the Lavender sea-dogs.

It appears that we are in fair way to regain our lost prestige in the water sport. Four years ago C. C. N. Y. boasted a team that was the second greatest in the entire history of the League; second only to Princeton's "wonder team" of the same year. After that great season the Lavender fell away. But this year we see another powerful sextet pushing the College's banner out into the front ranks of the title fray.

DIAMOND NOTES

The 1925 baseball schedule compiled by Manager Jaffee is one worthy of the sterling nine Nat Holman expects to send out this season. The card abounds in "big" games. Fordham, N. Y. U., Pennsylvania, Lafayette, Colgate, Bowdin, etc., are tempting morsels for the hungry Lavender ball-players. Roy Plaut seems to be especially hungry to hear the familiar "play ball!"

No prospects ever had a rosier complexion than ours of this year. With the exception of Captain Bill Trulio every man who played on last year's team is with us again. It'll be great to see a familiar face on every single sack. The pitching staff, the most essential factor in college baseball, is intact now that Artie Moder and Charlie Wågerson are back in college. The brilliant Halsey Josephson and this pair should make the Lavender a hard team to beat.

We've cheered so much for our "19" Model suit you may think it's a new hunch.

No — just a development of the good old high button sack. You young men showed signs of waiting some changes — wider trou, full back etc., and we took the tip. Hence "19" Model.

You won't blame us for cheering when you see the suit.

YALE POLOISTS OUT TO AVENGE DEFEAT

Lavender Mermen Meet Eli in Return Engagement at New Haven Saturday

Coach Kad MacCormick's swimming and water polo teams will meet the mermen of Yale University in a return contest, at New Haven. The Lavender poloists are favored to triumph again, while the College swimmers are expected to make a much better showing than in the last engagement with Yale.

Since the close of the last semester the Lavender mermen have engaged in two meets, one with Princeton on January 9, and the other with Yale on the 16th. The impressive performances of the water polo aggregation make possibilities for a championship exceedingly bright. Yale was defeated last week in quick fashion, while a spirited battle against the champion Princeton players resulted in a close defeat.

The outstanding event of the Yale meet was the water polo match, in which the College players emerged victorious by the score of 32 to 25. The College presented a fast combination encouraged by the previous game with Princeton. Schechter, left forward, was the star performer of the contest, accounting for 22 of the Lavender points. He graced the score sheet with the touch goals, two thrown goals and one foul goal. The five touch goals gathered by the Yale players were distributed among five men.

Yale, tied with Columbia last year for the polo title, could not cope with the Lavender attack. The steady teamwork of the College players was apparent from the start. Captain John Clancy and Schechter played brilliantly on the defense, scoring all the touch goals. The other College players, although not scoring played with precision and should be able to stop the other League teams. Steig, a sophomore, is already looked upon with much approval, while Elterich, Naiman, and Austin are dependable.

The Blue team won the swimming meet easily, taking every first place for a score of 51 to 11. Bugs Boyce, only a sophomore, took a second place for the College in the 150 yard backstroke, beating Stoddard of Yale by a good margin. Boyce will be one of Mac's mainstays during the rest of the season and seems to be improving steadily. Balsam contributed the only other second place for the College in the fancy dive, De Fronzo taking third place in this event, Captain Caspar took third place in both the 100 and 50 yard dashes. Kertesz in the 140 was promising, also taking third. Schneeweiss in the breast stroke was the other scorer for the College.
