R.I.S. ONLY TEAM FACING LAVENDER TO LOSE CONTEST

N. Y. U. Makes Most Impressive
Showing, Winning

FORDHAM HARD PRESSED

N. Y. U. Fordham and Hamilton
Win, While St. Lawrence
Is Tied

Three future opponents of the College football team were victorious in last Saturday's games and one, Rhode Island State, was defeated. St. Lawrence was tied by Union while the Manhattan gridlers watched Parker's charges win from the Aggies, having an off date.

By far, the most impressive showing of any of the elevens was made by N. Y. U. against the Connecticut Aggies. The score, 23-0, probably does not show what a badly beaten team the Aggies were at the end of the four fifteen minute quarters. The ball was almost always in Connecticut territory and at no stage of the game did the Aggies look dangerous from a scoring standpoint. The invaders were up against a fast, rugged team that out-classed them from the start.

N. Y. U. Backs Strong

The Violet players showed speed and an ability to solve almost any situation that arose. They completed some superb forward passing and Briante, O'Neill and Connors frequently broke away for long runs. The University Heights players played an unusually rough game, several of the Nutmeg eleven being injured in scrimmages.

Briante will be back to watch when the Violet comes up against the Lavender. The former White Plains High School star carried the ball over for two touchdowns and made several brilliant runs. Connors also scored a touchdown and accounted for a placement kick from the 28-yard line.

Fordham Scores Late

With everything pointing towards a tie, Fordham turned a 6-6 deadlock into a 20-6 victor in the last five minutes of play against the Providence eleven. Captain Joe Manning, with his arm severely injured, tore the Providence line asunder in the last quarter and scored a touchdown which decided the game. A moment later he intercepted a forward pass and raced thirty-five yards to another.

The game was a disappointment to the Maroon followers as they expected to win by a much larger score. Graham was held well in check and the Providence line stood up under the frequent batterings of the Bronx backs. Manning was the only Fordhamite to successfully assail the forward defense of the Rhode Island team. The Maroon resorted to an aerial attack after obtaining the lead but this was unsuccessful. Through out the second half, Fordham had the better of the game but was unable to get within striking distance of the goal. Two of Graham's kicks were blocked.

St. Lawrence Ties

St. Lawrence, the Lavender's next opponent, battled to a scoreless tie with Union. Both elevens played a strong defensive game and though Union had the edge on the attack it could not push the ball over at critical moments. Both teams had to resort to considerable punting, to the detriment of St. Lawrence. St. Lawrence was unable to cope with Union's aerial game in the third quarter and the ball was brought to the fifteen-

The Campus Quizzer

Question: What do you think of the football team?

Asked in the corridors during the one o'clock hour.

Jack Hirsch '28—"The line showed to advantage. However, the backfield was very slow in finding openings. Artie Moder's playing at quarterback was a revelation. In general, the eleven looked good and should turn in several successful performances."

Harry Brautman '28—"I think the football team showed up very nicely. We ought to be real proud of our team and see them and cheer them at every game."

Al Leventhal '28—"The team looks good, especially the line. Artie Moder proved himself a capable successor to Roy Plant. With the breaks of the game not hampering them, the team ought to plunge through to many more victories."

Walter Brause '27—"The team did more than could have been expected. Although the backfield is green, they ought to put over a big surprise by trimming N. Y. U. decisively."

Mac Schwartz '28—"The team showed up remarkably well, except in giving interference. Judging from Saturday's game, we should have a successful season."

SIMPSON ADDRESSES COLLEGE TOMORROW

Lecturer Will Speak Before Student Body in Room 126 at Noon

Bill Simpson, who is rapidly becoming a well known figure among eastern college students, will speak in Room 126 at 12 o'clock tomorrow. His topic will be on the general subject of brotherhood and love.

Mr. Simpson is a very unusual character. He bases the entire conduct of his life upon love. He wears only the roughest sort of clothing and no shoes, except when he is in places where it is imperative to wear them. Then he uses a very simple kind of sandals. His trousers are of corduroy and his shirt is one that his wife made for him.

He graduated from Lafayette College in 1912 with high honors, and was elected to Phi Beta Kappa. In 1916 he finished the course at Union Theological Seminary with the highest honors in a large class. As his life work he chooses the Christian ministry.

Immediately after graduating, he was offered two parishes. One was a rich and influential church in Philadelphia and the other was a small country pulpit in New Jersey. He chose the latter. After the war started he found it necessary to resign from this position because of his pacifist views, and became connected with the Civil Liberties' Union.

About seven years ago, he decided upon his present mode of living. Since that time he has made no use of money whatsoever. He has depended upon earning his way completely. He feels that all of the necessities of life can be secured by love of man for man, and that no one needs to depend upon the capitalistic system for anything that is vital to him. During all of the time since he made the decision seven years ago, he has found it practical to live by.

Last summer he decided to earn his passage to India as a seaman. Before he sailed, he found it necessary to declare his allegiance to the American government. At the last minute he resolved to forsake his plans. This meant that it was necessary for him to give up seeing Ghandi and studying religious conditions among the Mohammedans and Buddhists.

Non-"U" Members To Be Prohibited From All Extra-Curricular Activities

Chairman Margolies Seizes Tickets Held by Non-"U" Members at Game

Three partial payment tickets were confiscated by the chairman of the "U" committee at last Saturday's football game. The men attempted to purchase tickets for the game at half-price and were apprehended by Chairman Hyman Margolies when they could not satisfy his suspicions. The identity of the purchasers was not revealed by the committee which held that the loss of the payments was sufficient punishment, inasmuch as previous warning had not been given. In the future similar offenders will be summoned to the discipline committee for punishment.

This action is in line with the vigorous enforcement policy announced in Monday's Campus.

Another aspect of the "U" committee's enforcement policy will be illustrated by the expulsion from activities, of non-purchasers of "U" tickets. The drive, beginning next week, will be under the supervision of Dave Weinblum '26, now vice-chairman of the "U" board. The outline of his campaign was presented in the last issue of Campus.

Four Men Promoted

The success of the "U" drive has earned promotions for four men. Chairman Margolies announced the appointment to the board of Abel Weinberger '26, who did the streamer that surrounds the balcony in the Concourse, Herman Schwitzer '27, George Moscovitz '28 and Samuel Sekler '26. The latter three sold enough tickets to pass the board's standards. Thirty-four candidates are still in the field.

KRAUT '26 OUTLINES PROGRAM OF COUNCIL

New Alcove Committee is Created—Plan Major Insignia Club

Several innovations and reform measures are on the present program of the Student Council, as outlined by Frederick Kraut '26, president.

A new and important committee, the Alcove Committee, has been created by the council. The function of the new body will be to take care of the alcoves and lockers. Great stress will be laid on keeping the alcoves clean, while the committee will also seek to protect the lockers from theft. Disciplining offenders will be in the hands of the committee. The Dean has promised to verify the latter's decisions.

Hereafter no collection of contributions of any sort will be permissible without the consent of the Student Council. This ruling applies to clothing exhibitions in the alcoves as well as to club drives.

The organization of a Major Insignia Club is being seriously undertaken. The Major Insignia, awarded by the Student Council, recognizes the performance of highest extra-curricular work by the recipient. Students are eligible for the insignia at the close of their senior year.

The question of freshman rules will be taken up at the council's first meeting, Friday afternoon.

Settlement of all financial matters, investigation of the possibility of a Student Council dance, and the planning of more rallies in support of teams complete the council's present program.

Several appointments may yet be made and some men may be dropped from the board, according to the chairman's announcement.

With statistics still incomplete the committee announced the continuing success of the "U" drive. The first few hours of the new week showed a sale of sixty tickets. Eighty partial payment tickets were turned in for the regular pasteboard, raising the number of paidup "U" members to 800. The drive closes November 1.

Drive Approaches 2,000

The number of tickets sold is mounting daily. When the 2,000 membership mark is reached, each holder of a "U" ticket will receive a refund of one dollar, in accordance with the plan announced at the beginning of the term by the "U" committee.

Men wishing to try out for the "U" Committee should see the chairman, Hyman Margolies. Appointments to the committee are based on the number of "U" tickets sold by candidates.

The committee this year consists of Hyman Margolies '26, Chairman; David Weinblum '26, vice-chairman; Benjamin Daneman '27, secretary; Isidor Brimmer '26, Samuel Lieberman '26, Samuel Rubinfeld '26, Walter Brause '27, Sidney Donner '27, Leonard Stolb '27 and Bernard Abramson '27.

DUGGAN TO ADDRESS STUDENTS TOMORROW

Noted Educator and Sociologist Will Speak on "Education in Russia"

Stephen Pierce Duggan, professor of political science and sociology in the College will deliver an address on "Education in Russia" tomorrow at noon in Room 126. Professor Duggan will speak by the invitation of the Ed. Club.

Professor Duggan has just returned from a trip abroad. He investigated educational centers in all the principle countries of Europe and the East, including Russia, Germany, France, China and India. In Russia, Professor Duggan discussed problems of education with the two Soviet leaders, Tchichterin and Trotsky. Professor Duggan is a well-known figure about the college. He received his B.S. here in 1890 and his M.S. in 1896. In 1898 he received his M.A. degree from Columbia and his doctor's degree in 1902 from the same institution.

Since 1896, Professor Duggan has taught in the College as instructor, assistant professor, and professor of political science and sociology.

Professor Duggan has been a director of the Institution of International Education since 1919. He is a trustee of Vassar College and of the World Peace Foundation. Also he has been for some time a director on the National Committee of Mental Hygiene. He is a member of both the American History Association and the American Political Science Association.

Professor Duggan is the author of several works, including, "The Eastern Question," "A Study in Diplomacy," "History of Education," and "The League of Nations."

CLASSES MEET IN DISTANCE EVENT

Fifteen Lap Race to Be Held in Stadium Tomorrow Noon

A novelty in the track sport will be staged tomorrow afternoon in the Stadium at 12:30, when Coach MacKenzie starts the Interclass long-distance track meet. Each class may enter an unlimited number of men, but teams will consist of ten men each. It is expected that some classes will enter two teams each.

The race will be a 15-lap affair. The winning team will be decided by compiling the individual times made by the members of the teams. The class with the lowest composite time registered will be awarded premier honors.

Coach MacKenzie will take this opportunity to get a view of the varsity and frosh cross-country teams. All men on these squads must enter this meet, according to the track mentor.

According to varsity manager Sidney L. Jacobi '26, varsity and frosh practice for cross-country, indoor and outdoor track will take place every day in the Stadium at all hours, preferably, however, at 12 and 1.

The varsity squad has now been augmented to the number of twenty men. In addition to Captain Pinkie Sober '26, who is in fine mettle, there is Jerry Hyman '27, whose steady practice should stand him in good stead, and Sam Greitzer '27, another veteran. Among the most promising members of the squad are Mark Matthews '28, captain of last year's yearlings, Lionel Barrow '28, dependable varsity two miler last year, Bernard Levy '26, Morris Kinzer '28, frosh two miler, Frank Betters '28, frosh cross-country veteran and Henry Lazarus '28, of frosh track fame.

Others who are training conscientiously include Hansman '27, Cooper '28, Lowe '27, Sam Sober '27, Kushnick '28, Valentine '26, and Murphy '26.

After the dinner is served, the group will join in a program of music and stunts. The 29 men will be given an opportunity to become acquainted with the upperclassmen.

All freshmen are invited to attend the dinner. The charge for all other men will be seventy-five cents.

LAVENDER ELEVEN DRIVEN HARD FOR ST. LAWRENCE TILT

Tubby Raskin Injured, Will Coach Jayvee For Remainder of Season

DOC PARKER IS OPTIMISTIC

Next Three Games to Be Played Away From the Stadium

Although a feeling of confidence pervades the campus in regard to varsity football, Coach Hal Parker this week is driving his Lavender trustees harder than ever in preparation for the St. Lawrence University game next Saturday. No rest was taken by the team on Monday afternoon, and yesterday the gridiron mentor put his men through one of the stiffest drills of the season.

In an interview granted to the Campus correspondent Monday, Doc Parker, in his characteristically reserved manner, refused to display any great enthusiasm over the victory of last Saturday, although there was little doubt that he was highly pleased with the result. On the basis of the game with the New York Aggies, Doc said: "There is no doubt but that this year's team will be as good as last year's barring injuries, of course. Although I am satisfied with the outcome of the last game, it would be well to bear in mind that the New York Aggies as a team was weaker than any one outfit we met last Fall, and that the real competition is coming."

Moder Praised

"For Artie Moder," the coach continued, "I have much praise. He has improved to a great degree. Not so much from the standpoint of carrying the ball has he improved, because much of his effectiveness along those lines was due to the splendid interference afforded him, but more from the standpoint of his heady generalship as quarterback. He was better than I had hoped for."

"Of course the biggest blow to the team was the loss of Tubby Raskin. I would say that losing him is the same as losing two men! He could have been used throughout the season either as a regular end or quarterback. I was planning to shift him to the backfield occasionally."

Lavender fans will have to travel in the next three weeks in order to see the varsity games. St. Lawrence, New York University, and Rhode Island State College will all be played abroad. The team returns to the Stadium to meet the strong Hamilton College aggregation on October 31.

Tubridy to Return

Aaron Orange '26, varsity manager, announced yesterday that Tubby Raskin, who was injured in the game with the Aggies, has been added to the coaching staff. Tubby will coach the ends on the jayvee squad and will assist Coach Plaut in general work.

In preparation for the St. Lawrence game at Canton, New York next Saturday, Coach Parker has arranged a series of scrimmages with the jayvee which is using the Canton rivals' tactics. By the end of the week it is expected that the varsity will be well acquainted with the style of play used by the opponents.

The return of Frank Tubridy to the squad is expected this week, and he will be primed to take Raskin's place at end. The rest of the team is in good condition, except for minor ailments. Captain Bob Phildy troubled with a blistered foot, Allie Dreiband, dependable an infected hip.

Song Contest Relic is Discovered Among Papers in Editor's Drawer

While rummaging through the editor's desk in the Campus office recently, one of the reporters found a relic of last spring's song contest. It was so interesting that we are printing it in these columns.

"Sir:—
Please find enclosed a ballad entitled "Classmates," written by pen this morning. But I want to offer it to the College until I can't find more time to write something different. I am not a songwriter. But a writer of short poems that has never been published or printed in any paper. But what I write I do it for past time in my leisure hours to pass away my blues. If this ballad is no use to the College, you can with my permission correct it anyway. You seem possible as I just wanted to write something for C. C. N. Y., hoping and trusting C. C. N. Y. Success to win always in the future and forever. Please accept this in true faith. As I saw it in the Monday, New York Evening Journal and that is how I wrote it. I am not entering the contest. Just on the lookout for the C. C. N. Y.

Hoping and trusting success, I beg to remain,

Andrew J. O'Brien, Better known in Harlem as Skinny O'Brien, The Idol Poet?

P. S. Kindly excuse writing on back of paper as I was short at the present time, and on bottom of these verses you will find the College yell, written this afternoon for the boys of C. C. N. Y. College.

I beg to be excused from the contest, which was in the evening Journal on Monday.

"Classmates, Classmates",
When the college school is open, we will go back again.

One by one we will muster in sunshine or rain
Our hearts are full of pep, rally our flag and country,
Let no one unfurl it, we want our rights and liberty.

Classmates — classmates we rally around our class

We want plenty of action, let no one pass.

Our comrades will succor, so come along.

We want some pep, March on, We can't go wrong.

College days, College ways, are the ways with us.

Don't give up the College yell, our comrades we can trust.

We want rah-rah-rah-, the will know when we are Classmates, classmates, enroll the students with our star."

— End —

FINAL FIGURES SHOW REGISTRATION OF 3,300

Complete registration figures show 3,300 students have enrolled in the Day Session. This is an increase of 172 over last year's registration. In spite of the fact that entrance requirements were raised last year the Day Session has received more and more applications. Only 38 students passed the entrance examinations. However, 634 city high school graduates were admitted without examination. 156 men transferred from the evening session. Townsend Harris Hall sent the College 114 students.

The new freshman class is the largest since the adoption of the 75 per cent rule for entering students.

FORDHAM HARD PRESSED

N. Y. U. Fordham and Hamilton
Win, While St. Lawrence
Is Tied

Three future opponents of the College football team were victorious in last Saturday's games and one, Rhode Island State, was defeated. St. Lawrence was tied by Union while the Manhattan gridder's Parker's charges win from the Aggies, having an off date.

By far, the most impressive showing of any of the eleven was made by N. Y. U. against the Connecticut Aggies. The score, 23-0, probably does not show what a badly beaten team the Aggies were at the end of the four fifteen minute quarters. The ball was almost always in Connecticut territory and at no stage of the game did the Aggies look dangerous from a scoring standpoint. The invaders were up against a fast, rugged team that out-classed them from the start.

N. Y. U. Backs Strong

The Violet players showed speed and an ability to solve almost any situation that arose. They completed some superb forward passing and Briante, O'Neill and Connors frequently broke away for long runs. The University Heights players played an unusually rough game, several of the Nymex eleven being injured in scrimmages.

Briante will be back to watch when the Violet comes up against the Lavender. The former White Plains High School star carried the ball over for two touchdowns and made several brilliant runs. Connors also scored a touchdown and accounted for a placement kick from the 28-yard line.

Fordham Scores Late

With everything pointing towards a tie, Fordham turned a 6-6 deadlock into a 20-6 victor in the last five minutes of play against the Providence eleven. Captain Joe Manning, with his arm severely injured, tore the Providence line asunder in the last quarter and scored a touchdown which decided the game. A moment later he intercepted a forward pass and raced thirty-five yards to another.

The game was a disappointment to the Maroon followers as they expected to win by a much larger score. Graham was held well in check and the Providence line stood up under the frequent batterings of the Bronx backs. Manning was the only Fordhamite to successfully assail the forward defense of the Rhode Island team. The Maroon resorted to an aerial attack after obtaining the lead but this was unsuccessful. Through out the second half, Fordham had the better of the game but was unable to get within striking distance of the goal. Two of Graham's kicks were blocked.

St. Lawrence Ties

St. Lawrence, the Lavender's next opponent, battled to a scoreless tie with Union. Both eleven's played a strong defensive game and though Union had the edge on the attack it could not push the ball over at critical moments. Both teams had to resort to considerable punting, to the detriment of St. Lawrence. St. Lawrence was unable to cope with Union's aerial game in the third quarter and the ball was brought to the fifteen-

SIMPSON ADDRESSES COLLEGE TOMORROW

Lecturer Will Speak Before Student Body in Room 126 at Noon

Bill Simpson, who is rapidly becoming a well known figure among eastern college students, will speak in Room 126 at 12 o'clock tomorrow. His topic will be on the general subject of brotherhood and love.

Mr. Simpson is a very unusual character. He bases the entire conduct of his life upon love. He wears only the roughest sort of clothing and no shoes, except when he is in places where it is imperative to wear them. Then he uses a very simple kind of sandals. His trousers are of corduroy and his shirt is one that his wife made for him.

He graduated from Lafayette College in 1912 with high honors, and was elected to Phi Beta Kappa. In 1916 he finished the course at Union Theological Seminary with the highest honors in a large class. As his life work, he chooses the Christian ministry.

Immediately after graduating, he was offered two parishes. One was a rich and influential church in Philadelphia and the other was a small country pulpit in New Jersey. He chose the latter. After the war started he found it necessary to resign from this position because of his pacifist views, and became connected with the Civil Liberties' Union.

About seven years ago, he decided upon his present mode of living. Since that time he has made no use of money whatsoever. He has depended upon earning his way completely. He feels that all of the necessities of life can be secured by love of man for man, and that no one needs to depend upon the capitalistic system for anything that is vital to him. During all of the time since he made the decision seven years ago, he has found it practical to live by.

Last summer he decided to earn his passage to India as a seaman. Before he sailed, he found it necessary to declare his allegiance to the American government. At the last minute he resolved to forsake his plans. This meant that it was necessary for him to give up seeing Ghandi and studying religious conditions among the Mohammedans and Buddhists.

Non-"U" Members To Be Prohibited From All Extra-Curricular Activities

Chairman Margolies Seizes Tickets Held by Non-"U" Members at Game

Three partial payment tickets were confiscated by the chairman of the "U" committee at last Saturday's football game. The men attempted to purchase tickets for the game at half-price and were apprehended by Chairman Hyman Margolies when they could not satisfy his suspicions. The identity of the purchasers was not revealed by the committee which held that the loss of the payments was sufficient punishment, inasmuch as previous warning had not been given. In the future similar offenders will be summoned to the discipline committee for punishment.

This action is in line with the vigorous enforcement policy announced in Monday's Campus.

Another aspect of the "U" committee's enforcement policy will be illustrated by the expulsion from activities of non-purchasers of "U" tickets. The drive, beginning next week, will be under the supervision of Dave Weinbloom '26, now vice-chairman of the "U" board. The outline of his campaign was presented in the last issue of Campus.

Four Men Promoted

The success of the "U" drive has earned promotions for four men. Chairman Margolies announced the appointment to the board of Abel Weinberger '26, who did the streamer that surrounds the balcony in the Concourse. Herman Schwitzer '27, George Moscovitz '28 and Samuel Sekler '26. The latter three sold enough tickets to pass the board's standards. Thirty-four candidates are still in the field.

KRAUT '26 OUTLINES PROGRAM OF COUNCIL

New Alcove Committee is Created—Plan Major Insignia Club

Several innovations and reform measures are on the present program of the Student Council, as outlined by Frederick Kraut '26, president.

A new and important committee, the Alcove Committee, has been created by the council. The function of the new body will be to take care of the alcoves and lockers. Great stress will be laid on keeping the alcoves clean, while the committee will also seek to protect the lockers from theft. Disciplining offenders will be in the hands of the committee. The Dean has promised to verify the latter's decisions.

Hereafter no collection of contributions of any sort will be permissible without the consent of the Student Council. This ruling applies to clothing exhibitions in the alcoves as well as to club drives.

The organization of a Major Insignia Club is being seriously undertaken. The Major Insignia, awarded by the Student Council, recognizes the performance of highest extra-curricular work by the recipient. Students are eligible for the insignia at the close of their senior year.

The question of freshman rules will be taken up at the council's first meeting, Friday afternoon.

Settlement of all financial matters, investigation of the possibility of a Student Council dance, and the planning of more rallies in support of teams complete the council's present program.

Several appointments may yet be made and some men may be dropped from the board, according to the chairman's announcement.

With statistics still incomplete the committee announced the continuing success of the "U" drive. The first few hours of the new week showed a sale of sixty tickets. Eighty partial payment tickets were turned in for the regular pasteboard, raising the number of paidup "U" members to 800. The drive closes November 1.

Drive Approaches 2,000

The number of tickets sold is mounting daily. When the 2,000 membership mark is reached, each holder of a "U" ticket will receive a refund of one dollar, in accordance with the plan announced at the beginning of the term by the "U" committee.

Men wishing to try out for the "U" Committee should see the chairman, Hyman Margolies. Appointments to the committee are based on the number of "U" tickets sold by candidates.

The committee this year consists of Hyman Margolies '26, Chairman; David Weinblum '26, vice-chairman; Benjamin Daneman '27, secretary; Isidor Frimmer '26, Samuel Lieberman '26, Samuel Rubinfeld '26, Walter Brause '27, Sidney Donner '27, Leonard Stoll '27 and Bernard Abramson '27.

DUGGAN TO ADDRESS STUDENTS TOMORROW

MERC ADVERTISING STAFF MEETS TO-MORROW AT 12

A meeting of the Advertising Staff of Mercury will be held to-morrow at 12 o'clock in Room 410. All members and candidates for the staff must be present. Important business will be transacted and discussed.

NON-UNION MEMBERS BARRED FROM MEETINGS

CLASSES MEET IN DISTANCE EVENT

Fifteen Lap Race to Be Held in Stadium Tomorrow Noon

A novelty in the track sport will be staged tomorrow afternoon in the Stadium at 12:30, when Coach MacKenzie starts the Interclass long-distance track meet. Each class may enter an unlimited number of men, but teams will consist of ten men each. It is expected that some classes will enter two teams each.

The race will be a 15-lap affair. The winning team will be decided by compiling the individual times made by the members of the teams. The class with the lowest composite time registered will be awarded premier honors.

Coach MacKenzie will take this opportunity to get a view of the varsity and frosh cross-country teams. All men on these squads must enter this meet, according to the track mentor. According to varsity manager Sidney L. Jacobi '26, varsity and frosh practice for cross-country, indoor and outdoor track will take place every day in the Stadium at all hours, preferably, however, at 12 and 1.

The varsity squad has now been augmented to the number of twenty men. In addition to Captain Pinkie Sober '26, who is in fine mettle, there is Jerry Hyman '27, whose steady practice should stand him in good stead, and Sam Greitzer '27, another veteran. Among the most promising members of the squad are Mark Matthews '28, captain of last year's yearlings, Lionel Barrow '28, dependable varsity two miler last year, Bernard Levy '26, Morris Kinzer '28, frosh two miler, Frank Betters '28, frosh cross-country veteran and Henry Lazarus '28, of frosh track fame.

Others who are training conscientiously include Hansman '27, Cooper '28, Lowe '27, Sam Sober '27, Kushnick '28, Valentine '26, and Murpny '26.

"Y" WELCOMES FROSH AT DINNER TONIGHT

J. J. Ray to Speak at Semi-Annual Banquet in Webb Room

The semi-annual Freshman Dinner of the Y. M. C. A. will take place in the Webb Room, this evening, at 6:30. Mr. J. J. Ray, general "Y" secretary of the Medical Students Club at Cornell, will be the principal speaker of the evening.

Arthur W. Coombs '27, president of the "Y", will act as chairman and toastmaster of the dinner. Besides Mr. Ray, he will call upon various members of the cabinet to speak. After the dinner is served, the group will join in a program of music and stunts. The '29 men will be given an opportunity to become acquainted with the upperclassmen.

All freshmen are invited to attend the dinner. The charge for all other men will be seventy-five cents.

LAVENDER ELEVEN DRIVEN HARD FOR ST. LAWRENCE TILT

Tubby Raskin Injured, Will Coach Jayvee For Remainder of Season

DOC PARKER IS OPTIMISTIC

Next Three Games to Be Played Away From the Stadium

Although a feeling of confidence pervades the campus in regard to varsity football, Coach Hal Parker this week is driving his Lavender trustees harder than ever in preparation for the St. Lawrence University game next Saturday. No rest was taken by the team on Monday afternoon, and yesterday the gridiron mentor put his men through one of the stiffest drills of the season.

In an interview granted to the Campus correspondent Monday, Doc Parker, in his characteristically reserved manner, refused to display any great enthusiasm over the victory of last Saturday, although there was little doubt that he was highly pleased with the result. On the basis of the game with the New York Aggies, Doc said: "There is no doubt but that this year's team will be as good as last year's barring injuries, of course. Although I am satisfied with the outcome of the last game, it would be well to bear in mind that the New York Aggies as a team was weaker than any one outfit we met last Fall, and that the real competition is coming."

Moder Praised

"For Artie Moder," the coach continued, "I have much praise. He has improved to a great degree. Not so much from the standpoint of carrying the ball has he improved, because much of his effectiveness along those lines was due to the splendid interference afforded him, but more from the standpoint of his heady generalship as quarterback. He was better than I had hoped for."

"Of course the biggest blow to the team was the loss of Tubby Raskin. I would say that losing him is the same as losing two men! He could have been used throughout the season either as a regular end or quarterback. I was planning to shift him to the backfield occasionally."

Lavender fans will have to travel in the next three weeks in order to see the varsity games. St. Lawrence, New York University, and Rhode Island State College will all be played abroad. The team returns to the Stadium to meet the strong Hamilton College aggregation on October 31.

Tubridy to Return

Aaron Orange '26, varsity manager, announced yesterday that Tubby Raskin, who was injured in the game with the Aggies, has been added to the coaching staff. Tubby will coach the ends on the jayvee squad and will assist Coach Plaut in general work.

In preparation for the St. Lawrence game at Canton, New York next Saturday, Coach Parker has arranged a series of scrimmages with the jayvee which is using the Canton rivals' tactics. By the end of the week it is expected that the varsity will be well acquainted with the style of play used by the opponents.

The return of Frank Tubridy to the squad is expected this week, and he will be primed to take Raskin's place at end. The rest of the team is in good condition, except for minor ailments. Captain Bob Phildy troubled with a blistered foot, Allie Dreiband, dependable an infected hip.

HOME GAMES

Much has been said, much has been promised, in regard to intra-mural athletics at City College, during the last year. But it would probably be not far from the truth to say that C. C. N. Y. has never had as inadequate a calendar of intra-mural sports as at the present time, and, that no American college has ever had a worse one.

That this is the case is especially discouraging in view of the promising turn that the whole situation took a few months ago. Last April the Inter-Fraternity Council announced the initiation of an athletic program unprecedented in scope. It was planned to hold track and swimming meets and tournaments in baseball and tennis. The track meet, alone, of these events, was run off. The few fraternities that managed to push the tennis tourney into the semi-final round received absolutely no support from the Council, and there the tournament ended. The other suggested meets were never even started. The I. F. C.'s athletic program was a flat failure and the rest of the College did not draw up a program to disregard.

We have no desire to minimize in any way the value of inter-collegiate athletics. When we say, therefore, that we regard them as supplementary to and inferior in importance to a proper system of intra-mural sports, we are maintaining the prestige of the latter and not reflecting upon that of the former. An intensive system of athletics calculated to involve every able-bodied student at the College would probably be as intrinsically valuable as any phase of college life, not even excepting the curriculum. For the C. C. N. Y. student is usually in great need of physical development and exercise of a sort that Hygiene courses do not offer. His opportunities to engage in such sport outside of the College are generally limited. Finally a propensity to take heavy programs and the frequent necessity to earn money makes it very easy for the student to forget that there is such a thing as sport, — and to miss all the benefits, and, what is much more important, all the fun that is embodied in that word.

We advocate the inauguration of regular inter-class, inter-club and inter-fraternity athletic contests in such sports as football, soccer, basketball, swimming, water-polo, track and baseball. We suggest the holding of open tournaments in tennis and golf. We call upon the Athletic Association, the Student-Council, the Inter-Club Council, the I. F. C. and the various class councils to make a beginning in the solution of the greatest athletic problem of the College. We call upon these bodies to face the problem they have so long ignored or evaded.

Upon demand, we feel, is the demand,—the right and the demand of the College.

A DIALOGUE FOR THE DIAL

THE PSYCHOLOGIST: Tell me, Mr. Gallagher. If a professor is lecturing and no one hears him, does he utter a sound?

THE PHILOSOPHER: Now is that nice? But I dare you make replication to this query. If a pitcher throws the ball with such velocity that no one sees it, has he thrown the ball?

THE PSYCHOLOGIST: You will have your little joke, won't you? I ask to be excused; I don't know a thing about baseball. But lend again the auditory organ! If there were only one color in the whole world, would redheaded people be called "Red"?

THE PHILOSOPHER: How could you? Try this on your piano: if a kid is given castor oil in a glass of ginger ale, and he is ignorant of the presence of the castor oil until he has drained most of the imbibation, is it ginger ale until he detects said presence?

THE PSYCHOLOGIST: Pardon me, that's my wife's voice. Ponder this, old chappie: a dress is in an orchestra seat; a lady with a long nose, bobbed hair, and pumps is in that dress; is the lady in the orchestra?

THE PHILOSOPHER: It were one of the dictates of common sense, I should venture.

THE PSYCHOLOGIST: It pains me more than it does you to inform you how wrong you are. Try again. The lady is in the dress; is the lady in the orchestra?

THE PHILOSOPHER: It must be. But then, one can't be sure, not having read Mr. Broun this morning.

THE PSYCHOLOGIST: Back to the bushes for you. Once again you err. But I realize something is fundamentally wrong with my question. Ladies don't wear dresses nowadays.

THE PHILOSOPHER: So they don't. So they don't. But tell me, Mr. Shean. If a youth who has flunked Solid Geometry twice and eats filet de sol has a dime hid away irretrievably in a dark, dark pocket of his coat, has the dime any color?

THE PSYCHOLOGIST: Is it a Canadian dime?

THE PHILOSOPHER: Ay, you be a smart one. But here's one. If a man be walking with his wife, is he walking with a lady?

THE PSYCHOLOGIST: That depends on whether they're married or not.

THE PHILOSOPHER: Tell me, have you gone in for a "U" ticket this year?

THE PSYCHOLOGIST: My dear man, I am a member of the class of 29 and freshmen, I will have you know, never buy "U" tickets.

THE PHILOSOPHER: I perceive the column is coming towards its end, and since I have an hour, I should like to have our dialogue ended with.

THE PSYCHOLOGIST: Well, then, let's go.

BOTH TOGETHER: So is your old man!

BIG BOY.

"How could you make such a terrible" writes Mrs. Diamond, ma of her boy Richard, "mistake as to report that my boy Richard spent the past summer in this country?"

Awfully sorry, Mrs. Diamond, but you see, I got the hunk of information from an unreliable source, one of The Campus reporters. Very inefficient fellows, all of them. Think of nothing but scandal, gossip and elective subjects. It was so nasty of them, I think, to corrupt the true facts of the situation. Just because they never went abroad, the selfish things saw no reason for advertising the fact of little Dickie's doing so. How the circulation manager and myself, Mrs. Diamond, commiserate you in this terrible, shameful hour! If the neighbors have been whispering about your innocent boy, I ask you not to worry. Show them this, and I am positive they will see the error of their ways and will be as nice to you and your Dickie darling as ever. In the meantime, I shall see to it that the scoundrel who wrote the disgusting defamatory article receives his due punishment. I will talk the matter over with the editor, who will probably compel the reporter to buy a "U" ticket and write on one side of the paper only, "I will always be a good boy", one hundred times. I must leave off now as I smell the cutlet burning in the kitchen and if I don't hurry up, the blaze will spread to the potatoes. Give my regards to Mrs. Feitelbaum and all the Feitelbaums and please tell Mrs. Cohen, on the fifth floor, I will return her dollar as soon as I get it back from the chairman of the "U" committee, the big loafer. Goodbye, Mrs. Diamond, and don't let Dickie grow a moustache. It's no longer required for graduation.

EDITORS START WORK ON NEW FROSH BIBLE

Lavender Book to be Completely Re-written; Candidates Must See Managing Staff

Work on the new edition of the Lavender book which will be distributed in November, has commenced, according to Edward Earle Penn, editor.

For the first time in four years, the College will have a new "Frosh Bible." It has been customary to simply distribute the same book but this edition promises something new and different.

The opening articles will be a message to the frosh class from Pres. Mezes. Every City College record has been tabulated. The history of every college sport has been compiled. A record of sport results and schedules for the coming term will soon be completed.

A list of clubs and club activities will be included. The origin of college traditions and customs will augment a history of the foundation of the College.

Walter Ramsay Fleisher '27, and James Mac Andrew '27 have been appointed co-associate editors and will handle the sports and news articles respectively. Candidates for the staff should see either of these men.

Benjamin Daneman '27, Business Manager, wishes to interview men for the business staff.

THE THEATRE

SCANDAL

"THE GRAND ST. FOLLIES, A revue in two acts, produced at the Neighborhood Playhouse.

The third edition of delicious scandal foisted on the theatrical world disclosed situations more startling of nature than were revealed the two years previous. At the expense of cleverness, I am afraid, the principals involved in the Follies told their stories as though they all had served as reporters with Zit's Weekly or Whiz Bang. Franker humor could hardly be imagined in the less arty and more flagrant forties.

To heap further encomium would be to pin a medal upon a breast now tottering under its burden of gold, silver and bronze. With the exception of "What Price Morning Glories," which assumed an intolerable tepidity and tenuousness after its first few minutes, every sketch in the Follies is a feather under the arms of the audience and in the cap of the Playhouse. Ian Maclaren, Albert Carroll, Sadie Sussman, Dorothy Sands, Polaire Weisman, Dan Walker, Otto Hulcius, and the mad buffoon who did Abie, were splendid. The singing was excellent and facetious.

One more paragraph and this advertisement is finished. The Follies boasts one crack, contrived edgewise, which the men, turning around as all of them did, perceived not very many ladies understood, and therefore chorled the merrier. It was the one about the.....

PARKER OPTIMISTIC!

When Doc Parker, varsity football coach, says he is satisfied with his team's showing, everyone knows that he is more than satisfied. For Doc Parker, much like Gil Dobie, has successfully maintained a reputation for being a great pessimist throughout three grid seasons. The Lavender mentor declares that this year's team is as good as last year's and, taking into consideration the fact that almost the entire 1924 backfield has tailed to return, that is all that any Lavender rooter could desire. It is true, as the coach points out, that the opposition furnished by the Aggies was rather spiritless, but the petrification process set in after many attempts at piercing the Lavender line had failed. We predict that several of our future opponents will be discouraged in like manner.

A STONEWALL DEFENSE

The majority of the 1,988 (not 5,000) spectators were considerably surprised to see the Lavender line hold the Farmers for downs on several occasions. Frequently the up-state backs were nailed in their tracks and thrown for losses. They succeeded in scoring one first down as compared with the ten made by the local gridders. Two kicks were blocked while Raskin broke through once to nail an Aggie back behind his goal line for a safety. Phildius and Raskin gave brilliant exhibitions getting down under punts and breaking up end runs. The tackling of the Lavender was good enough to prevent the slow Farmers from making any substantial gains. Numerous substitutions failed to weaken the varsity line.

BACKFIELD INEXPERIENCED

With the exception of Bill Cohen, who scored the Lavender's first touchdown, the entire backfield is inexperienced. The backs played a heady defensive game but failed to take advantage of the numerous opportunities afforded them on the offensive. The Lavender forwards opened huge holes in the Aggies' defense but slowness on the part of the backs kept the score down. Artie Moder showed the best form in diving through openings and encircling the ends. As a field-general, the diminutive back also shone. The Lavender play was restricted to straight football without the use of the forward pass or any trick formations. Coach Parker will probably hold the backfield in check until the N. Y. U. game. The varsity coach had given his charges much practice in the defense against the forward pass and when the Aggies tried the aerial attack, their attempt was thwarted.

RASKIN OUT

Tubby Raskin, after playing a bang-up game at end in the first half, was forced to retire because of an injury. It is feared that he has sustained a broken arm. In the meantime, the plucky end has volunteered to help Roy Plaut coach the Jayvee. In another column, Doc Parker speaks in glowing terms of the ability of Raskin whom he intended using in the backfield at times. It will be a true calamity if Tubby is unable to take part in the college's important conflicts.

C. C. N. Y.—7. ST LAWRENCE—o.

While the varsity is engaging St. Lawrence Saturday, Roy Plaut's Jayvee will take on the Morris High School eleven. The squad includes twenty-five freshmen. A good line on the Manhattan gridders, who witnessed last Saturday's struggle in the Stadium, may be obtained Saturday when the Green hooks up with the New York Aggies. After the varsity's 7-0 victory over St. Lawrence (?), the college gridders will bend all efforts toward the N. Y. U. game.

MARATHON TOMORROW

With the interclass marathon and the meeting of the basketball candidates tomorrow, the fall athletic season will be in full swing. The large number of cross-country and indoor track candidates presages the most successful track season in years. We expect Jerry Hyman to lead the '27 class to victory in the Stadium run. The freshman class is an unknown quantity and may upset the dope. A large number of entries from '29 has already been received by Manager Sid Jacobi. 1929 has started off splendidly by coming out in large numbers for track and football.

yard line. Maniero, however, intercepted a pass and ran 42 yards out of danger. Fullback Howe and Quarterback Fregoe will bear watching this Saturday.

Hamilton traveled to Rochester to trim the local university to the tune of 8-0. A safety paved the way as the final period opened and a 48-yard run by Doane, left-end of the visitors, a few minutes later, put the game on ice. The Hamilton line showed great defensive work.

Rhode Island State fell a victim to the superior pass work of Western Maryland College. The Northerners were continually foiled in their attempts to circle the ends and to complete forwards. Maryland scored a touchdown on a series of off-tackle plays and center rushes.

VETERAN DEBATERS REPORT FOR SQUAD

Manager Jacobi Announces Formal Debating Will Replace Discussion System

Eight men answered the call of manager Sidney L. Jacobi '26 by trying out for the Varsity debating team Monday at one o'clock in Room 221. Two are former varsity men, and two others have participated in College debating on freshman teams.

Charles M. Schapiro '26 and Irving A. Gladstone '27 are the two veterans, while Morris Finkel '27 and Irving Zablodowsky '28 served on their respective class teams last year.

The other candidates are Robert Marcus '27, Abraham Brown '28, Julius Filles '27 and Jesse Spark '28, all of whom have had previous experience in debate.

This term the discussion system will not be used. The Varsity will return this year to formal debating.

Manager Jacobi announces that there will be two teams picked, one to consist of six men to comprise the first team. This team will be composed of the six best candidates from the '26, '27 and '28 classes. Then there will be a junior varsity of six men to be composed only of juniors and sophomores. This group will have a schedule of its own in addition to serving as an auxiliary team to the varsity.

The freshmen will have their own team and their own schedule.

The debating committee, Manager Jacobi and Assistant Manager Richard W. Vogel '27, are arranging a schedule. A trip during Christmas Week to New England is being planned.

The next meeting will be held on Tuesday, October 13, in Room 221, at 12 and 1 p. m.

MARKSMEN FORM PLANS FOR SEASON

Tentative Schedule Now in Williamson's Hands—Solomon and Noyes Back

The College rifle team, which established such an excellent record last year, met Thursday to discuss plans for the new season. Arrangements were made for daily practice in the Armory every afternoon. Manager McKinnon reported that he had already placed a tentative schedule in the hands of Professor Williamson, for approval. As soon as the list is sanctioned, formal challenges will be issued. The team has already received, and is considering, an offer for a match from the University of Vermont.

The most welcome news for the riflemen was the announcement of the return to the ranks of Solomon and Noyes, the leading marksmen of the 1924-25 season. With these two men back in the line-up the personnel of the last varsity aggregation is almost intact. That team, captained by Noyes, won ten out of twelve meets, and also annexed the Metropolitan Prone Championship. In the Intercollegiate Rifle League, the Lavender won third place. The only man to be graduated was Lo Piccolo, a very consistent shot.

The sharpshooters will also have a few freshmen who were on the R. O. T. C. team, eligible for varsity competition. The most promising of these newcomers will be Feinberg, whose score on the R. O. T. C. squad last year were of varsity calibre. The personnel of the present squad will comprise Nagler, Captain, Solomon, Noyes, Lichtenfels, Saltz, Brause, Valentine, Margolies, Shapiro, and Feinberg. This list, however, will probably be augmented by the men who respond to the call for candidates. No previous experience is necessary for a trial. Candidates should report to the R. O. T. C. Armory, at Amsterdam Avenue and 140th Street, any afternoon.

Strict Fresh-Soph Regulations Are Enforced at Most Colleges

Fights, Snake-Dances, and Costumes Feature First Year at the Different Universities

While the College is divided on the question of reinstating Fresh-Soph regulations and determining what form they should take, hostilities between the rival classes at other institutions have made great headway. Indiscriminate fights, snake-dances, and parades featured the opening of most colleges, while others entered immediately upon their program of orderly-arranged and competitive contests.

At Rutgers University, the sophomores opened the season with a victory in the annual "Proc Rush." The first-year men stormed a pole erected by the sophs, in an attempt to destroy the proclamation (freshman rules) which were posted thereon. The second-year defense, however, proved too strong for the puny freshmen. As a result the plebes will be forced to abide by the following rules for the next two weeks:

- 1. Wear a frosh hat and tie. 2.

Wear a freshman tag in full view at all times. 3. Wear trousers turned up well over the ankles. 4. When on Queen's Campus, run when whistled at. 5. Carry books to class in a market basket.

"The Frosh Bob"

Pranks and antics at the expense of the freshmen are being tried out at Temple University. The yearlings are making themselves evident around the campus by sporting the very latest style in coiffure—the frosh bob. Their hair was clipped for resisting the sophs. The Vigilance Committee has devised novel ways of dealing with the rebellious freshmen. On one occasion one of their number had a baby cap placed on his head and was made to drink milk from a bottle in view of pedestrians. The sight of boys with their trouser legs rolled above their knees, their coats on inside out, and the green dink resting on their noble heads will be a common sight until the beginning of the Christmas holidays.

City College isn't the only institution perplexed with the solution of the fresh-soph problem. At the University of Pittsburgh, the enforcement of the obnoxious rules is still undecided. The Druids, sophomore honorary fraternity for men, has announced that it will take the responsibility to bring the frosh to terms. Meanwhile an unofficial body has been active in seeing that the first-year men are kept on an uncomfortable go wherever they show themselves on the campus. The following are among the regulations imposed upon the plebes:

- 1. Freshmen must wear the official dink at all times. 2. Freshmen will wear black socks and ties. 3. Freshmen will not use tobacco on the campus. 4. Freshmen will not talk to co-eds on the campus. 5. Freshmen will enter and leave all buildings through the rear or basement doors.

"Freshmen Etiquette" at Boston U. Hazing policies put into effect by the sophomores in various departments at Boston University have changed since last year. One department requires the frosh to use the rear entrance to the building; to wear green ties; to desert golf knickers; and to part their hair on the side. Law and order have been maintained because it was felt that the initiation should be dignified. In fact, the freshmen green-book is now entitled "Freshman Etiquette" instead of "Freshman Nursery Guide" as in previous years. Co-eds Obey Ten Commandments The initiation for the Boston U. Co-eds is laid out on a definite and business-like program. There are ten commandments for them to follow and these tenets say that the first-year girls must wear a Buster Brown collar and green tie; must not talk with men students; must be at college by 8:30 a. m.; must courtesy to the girls in the sophomore class; and do a number of other things to learn their proper station in life. In addition to all this, there is a daily schedule for them to follow. On one day they must carry a telephone directory to all their classes; another day they must carry a box of animal crackers; on such and such a date they must wear a black stocking and white shoe on one foot, and a white stocking and black shoe on the opposite pedal extremity; and they must always remember that the way of the transgressor is hard.

Keeps Your Hair Neat— Rich-looking and Orderly IF your hair lacks natural gloss and lustre, or is difficult to keep in place, it is very easy to give it that rich, glossy, refined and orderly appearance, so essential to well-groomed men. Just rub a little Glostora through your hair once or twice a week, or after shampooing, and your hair will then stay, each day, just as you comb it. Glostora softens the hair and makes it pliable. Then, even stubborn hair will stay in place of its own accord. It gives your hair that natural, rich, well-groomed effect, instead of leaving it stiff and artificial looking as waxy pastes and creams do. Glostora also keeps the scalp soft, and the hair healthy by restoring the natural oils from which the hair derives its health, life, gloss and lustre. Try it! See how easy it is to keep your hair combed any style you like, whether brushed lightly or combed down flat. If you want your hair to lie down particularly smooth and tight, after applying Glostora, simply moisten your hair with water before brushing it.
