LAST "U" RECORD SMASHED AS 1300 MARK IS PASSED

Sales Reach New High Level— Reduction on N. Y. U. Tickets for Members

CLUB MEMBERS WARNED

Lecture Goes Given Personal Notice By Committeemen to Procure Tickets

The last standing "U" record topped yesterday when sales passed the 1300 mark and the new high point replaced that of the spring 1923 term when tickets sold at $2.50.

There are, however, about 400 part payment stubs included in this reckoning. The final exchange of these is expected to be greatly accelerated by the announcement that only men holding fully paid up booklets will be able to purchase seats for the N. Y. U. game at reduced rates. It is also expected that the rigid enforcement, beginning next week, of the policy of requiring club members and all those who attend lectures to belong to the Union will result in the sale of many more tickets.

Half Price for N. Y. U. Game

Chairman Margolies declared that it was solely because of the fact that the N. Y. U. game was not being played at home that the ruling in regard to part payment tickets had to be adopted. The N. Y. U. authorities, it is declared, have been instrumental in this. Tickets for the game are at $2.00 but "U" members can secure theirs at half price.

Union committeemen were at the doors of all lecture rooms yesterday and demanded that entrants show their booklets. Those who did not have any were warned that they would not be allowed admission to other club activities during the term.

Send Letter to Clubs

In pursuance of the policy to have all club members belong to the "U", vice-chairman Weinbloom '26 has sent the following letter to the presidents of all the College clubs.

Dear Mr. President:

I would like to call your attention to the following fact, namely, that your club was chartered by the Student Council and allowed the facilities of a meeting room upon the condition that you abide by the Student Council rulings.

The first and fundamental of these is that no student may become a member of a club or enjoy the privileges of any club unless he has paid his financial share of the extra-curricular activities of the school, in other words unless he is a member of the "U".

Ask for Co-operation

We hope to have your co-operation and we would be very grateful to you if you would relieve us of some of our work by announcing to your members that they must become "U" members in order to remain in the club.

In order to help you enforce this ruling, we will have a "U" committeeman at the door of your meeting room who will demand a "U" ticket from each student entering the room.

In order to avoid confusion, I am sending this letter before-hand so that you can establish your club on a proper 100 percent "U" basis right at the start of all activities.

Kindly do not fail us. The Campus will give proper recognition to your club as soon as you get your 100 percent "U" membership.

(Signed) Union Committee:
D. W. Weinbloom,
Vice-chairman.

Barefoot Bill Simpson Holds Listeners Enthralled in Talk on Brotherly Love

Declares Race, Color and Creed Are Immaterial in Brotherhood of Man

Barefoot, wearing a homespun shirt of blue and a suit of rough brown corduroy, Bill Simpson, the apostle of brotherly love, spoke to an audience of City College men who came to look with curiosity and remained to listen in interested silence. The lecture was delivered under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A. yesterday in Room 126 at noon.

Bill came to preach the gospel of brotherly love and he did it. "I come to you," said he, "as your lover, as one who loves you more than you are loved by father or mother, as one who loves you as does God." And he spoke with such sincerity and with such earnestness that there was not a snicker of laughter or scoff of derision heard from any of the 200 or more persons gathered there.

The lecture was replete with quotations from the Scriptures yet Bill preached no religious dogma. "Creed nothing, class nothing, color nothing, sex nothing, degrees of virtue nothing, one as good as the other, we are all one in the brotherhood of man."

"There are many," said he, "that believe as I do, that would embrace the doctrine of brotherly love, did they dare. What is wrong with us? We're afraid, that's what the matter is. We're afraid of what people will think of us when we're as foolish as love makes us, we're afraid of what people will think of us when we're as poor and degraded as love makes us."

In general tone the lecture was informal. Leaning against the lectern or sitting on the table, he seemed to speak to each individual, not to an audience. Now and then he walked across the platform and the white of his bare feet seemed to gleam against the dark boards of the floor. Now and then he paused and lifted his eyes to the ceiling as if seeking divine inspiration. When he finished he sat down at the side of the room and bowed his head. Then he walked to the platform again and was prepared to answer questions.

The first one asked of him was as follows. "What will happen to the race if there is no sexual love?" "What are you?" asked Bill. "What faith?" "No," said Bill, "are you a body?" "Yes," answered Bill. "Marry. A body is the clothes of a man. Nothing can hurt a man thru his body. This question shows the materialism of the age."

CERCLE JUSSERAND ANNOUNCES PROGRAM

At the first meeting of the Cercle Jusserand, held yesterday in Room 209, President Samuel Appelbaum outlined his program and discussed plans for the coming semester.

The program includes not only discussions on various topics of interest carried on solely in French, but also the appearance of distinguished visitors who will lecture to the club.

Mr. Appelbaum has also been fortunate in again securing the services of Prof. F. Weil of the French department, to act as adviser to the club. Prof. Weil has acted in this capacity for the past few years and is well liked by the members and friends of the Cercle. All those who are acquainted with the French language are invited to the meetings of the club, which will be held every Thursday, at 12:30 in Room 209. Officers for the coming term are Samuel J. Appelbaum, president; David Finkelstein, vice-president and Jacob Zangwil, secretary.

In spite of his rough manner of dressing (it is said that the material for the shirt he wears was woven by his wife on a hand made loom), Bill is by no means uncultured. After his extremely honorable graduation from Lafayette College, he attended Union Theological Seminary from which he was graduated with the highest honors in 1916. Throughout his life he has endeavored to do as much as he could for his "brethren" and this course of conduct has caused him to act in the most unusual manner. When offered a chance of two parishes he chose the poorer. During the war he was a pacifist and he paid for his views with the loss of his parish, for he was compelled to resign his position.

About seven years ago he adopted his present manner of living. He wears only the simplest clothes he can obtain. His feet are bare, except when it is imperative that he have them covered and then he wears only plain sandals. He earns his way wherever he goes and uses no money whatsoever. It is his belief that no one need depend upon the capitalist system for the necessities of life. His last seven years of living seem to substantiate this belief.

He will be at the college until Sunday evening and he may be seen in the "Y" Alcove at any time.

The Campus Quizzer

What is the chief fault you find with The Campus?

Asked in the corridors during the one o'clock hour.

A. Weinstein '29—"From a comparison of other college newspapers, notably those of New York City institutions, I find that The Campus is without any appreciable fault. Of course, I do not infer that The Campus is perfect, but that the room for improvement lies in creating new features and not correcting old."

B. Lipowsky '26—"In general I have found The Campus the equal, if not better than, most college newspapers. The one failing I find is that there are too many advertisements but since the latter are necessary for financial stability we must dismiss this fault."

J. London '27—"The Campus is evidently attempting to assume the characteristics of the popular tabloid newspapers. What with the great number of ads, the introduction of sport photographs, and the submergence of many factors that mark a "high-class" educated journal, The Campus is bound to attain its deplorable end."

P. Davis '29—"This is my first term at the College and my expectations concerning a college newspaper have not at all been disappointed by reading The Campus. I would prefer more news in place of the many ads if financial considerations would permit this."

D. Loebman '27—"Too many advertisements, which in a way excusable, appear in the columns of The Campus. The only other fault I find with the College newspaper is that the Gargoyle column is not at all of a high calibre. Otherwise The Campus is a very good journal."

JAYVEE ENGAGES MORRIS IN OPENER

Four Game Schedule to Begin in Stadium Tomorrow at 2:30

Toughened by constant scrimmages with the varsity eleven, the jayvee will open its four game schedule when it will be pitted against Morris High School in the Stadium tomorrow at 2:30. Coach Plaut, who has been in charge of the team, will wind up his preliminary practice session with a thorough signal drill this afternoon.

The junior varsity has been practicing since September 8 and will be in excellent shape for its opening contest. The men have gained valuable experience in their frequent tussles with Doc Parker's men. This week the gridders were also being coached by Tubby Raskin, whose inopportune injury sustained in the New York Aggie's game, has incapacitated him for active work.

In tomorrow's fracas the Lavender will stack up against a really formidable opponent. Morris High has already played and romped off with two games. In the first of these Seward Park was swamped under a 47-0 score, while last Saturday Poly Prep was handily beaten. The Bronx eleven is composed of men who are both heavy and fast and this team will prove a true test of the jayvee's mettle.

A line-up of the men who will start on the field tomorrow has not yet been decided upon by the coaches. The team will be chosen from among the following: quarterback, Packer, Goldfein, and Rosenber; backs, Salamonia, Hirshberg, Bargman, Wardlow, Ben Cohen, Reich, and Tagam; center, Beissstock, and Resnick; linemen, Harry Walsh, Rusack, Halpern, Antony, Pesakoff, and Scobel; end, Clarke, Malter, and Schwartz.

These players are either freshmen or upperclassmen who do not as yet measure up to varsity standards.

CAMPUS CANDIDATES HOLD FIRST MEETING

Cohen '26 Explains New Point System—Men Receive First Assignments

The first meeting of candidates for the news and sports boards of The Campus, was held yesterday, in the circulation office, Room 411. The men, chiefly freshmen and sophomores, were addressed by Felix S. Cohen, editor-in-chief.

After driving the forty-odd candidates, between the news and sports board, according to their inclination, Cohen explained the point system to them. Each aspirant will be given two or three assignments which must be covered for each issue. The write-ups will be corrected and marked by the issue-editor of the day. Each column-line not requiring a change will be credited with a point. The system, it is believed, will be conducive to both quality and quantity writing. The five or six candidates earning the largest number of points will be selected for the staff. The competition will extend over a period of eight weeks.

Heller, managing editor, will instruct the men in the technique of news and head-line writing. He will be assisted by Cohen. The sports men will be under the charge of Arthur Liffander, sports editor. Assignments have already been made and copy must be in for the next issue.

VARSITY GRIDDEES MEET ST. LAWRENCE TOMORROW

'29 TAKES TRACK MEET; HYMAN '27 SCORES FIRST

The class of '29 won the inter-class x-country meet in the stadium yesterday with an average time of 19 minutes, 36 seconds. '28 was a close second turning in an average of 19 minutes, 42 seconds. The average was obtained by computing the records of the first ten men of each class.

Jerry Hyman '27 crossed the line first in the time of 17:26. The only other men to come in better than eighteen minutes were Matthews and Barron, both of the '28 class. Five freshmen counted among the first ten.

Coach MacKenzie has posted the schedule for cross-country practice at Van Cortland Park. Candidates for the team should consult the list.

EAGER FANS CROWD RADIO SCORE BOARD

World Series Games Brought to Alcoves by Radio Club's Device

The World Series baseball games, which hold so much interest for the great majority of students, are being reported each day by the Radio Club in the '26 alcove under the auspices of the Student Council and the "U".

As has been its custom for the past few years the club has installed a score-board of ingenious design and operates it according to radio news of the games. Electric bulbs arranged in the form of a base-ball diamond indicate the position of runners while other lights show the strikes, balls, and outs. Various special bits of information, such as the hitting of a home-run, or some exceptionally fine fielding, is displayed on a black-board. Last year, this arrangement evoked a great deal of enthusiasm both from students and faculty members, and indications point to a like reception this term.

The radio set by which the results are obtained has been loaned by D. Weinbloom '26. A. Seidler '26, L. Levy '27, and B. Leder '27, constructed the score-board. The operation of the board is handled by D. Abramson '27.

An invitation has been extended to all freshmen interested in radio to attend the meetings of the society, held every Thursday at one o'clock.

Lectures and demonstrations of members of the club and members of the department of radio telegraphy have been arranged. Transmission from the College tower will start next week on a low wave length of thirty-nine meters. Added to the facilities of the station will be a Hertz antenna, now in the process of erection under the supervision of President E. Glaser '27. 2 H J, as the station is now called, having been heard in Europe last year, now expects, with its increased improvements, to reach entirely around the earth. With a power input of 100 to 150 watts, the station will receive its experimental license in a short time.

Leave for Canton Tonight for First Game Away from Home

INTERFERENCE PERFECTED

Parker Also Works on Hastening Signals—Opponent's Power Unknown

With one victory as its assurance, Parker tutelage as its weapon, and a second triumph as its objective, the varsity football team travels to Canton, New York, tonight for its Saturday fracas with St. Lawrence University. The battle is looked upon as an opportunity for gauging the Lavender's chances against N. Y. U. next week.

Opponent's Defense Powerful

St. Lawrence is practically an unknown quantity, as far as driving power goes. By its tie game with Union last week, it established itself as a powerfully defensive aggregation. This, however, does not indicate lack of development on the offensive. It is well-known that Union defeated the strong Hamilton squad last year by the remarkable tally of 63-0, and that Union has the same team this year. The performance, therefore, of the St. Lawrence boys in holding Union takes on added importance.

The Lavender may also be considered as an unknown quantity, because of the great mass of reserve plays and formations which were not used against the New York Aggies. Moder obviously used few tricks last week and it is generally believed that he was under strict orders to "hold back". Not one forward pass and little punting was attempted by Parker's cohorts against the Farmers, but there is every assurance that Moder will open up with more plays on Saturday.

Seidler May Be Out

Joe Tubridy, brother of Frank, who returned to College Wednesday, but will not be able to enter against the Cantonians, will probably take the place of the injured Tubby Raskin at end. Joe has been showing speed coupled with headiness during the past week. It is feared that Is Seidler may not start due to a slight injury to his shoulder sustained last week.

Practice this week centered about perfecting the interference and hastening the signals. The interference in the Aggie game, although satisfactory to Doc Parker, was not all it could have been, while the general comment on the "huddle" system of giving signals was that it slowed up the game considerably.

Leave for Canton Tonight

The varsity will engage in its last practice of the week this afternoon in the Stadium. Immediately afterwards they will partake of supper together, following which they will board the train at 9:15 p. m., arriving in Canton by early morning and will give them ample time to get back their "land legs".

The probable line-up will be:

QUINTET PRACTICE BEGINS TOMORROW

Prospects Very Bright as Three of Last Year's First Five Return

Enthusiastic for the beginning of practice, veterans, and new candidates alike yesterday met coach Nat Holman at the first meeting of the 1925-26 basketball team. Regular practice will start today at five.

The necessity of keeping in good physical condition was emphasized by coach Holman. Regular attendance at practice and general observation of all training rules were other salient points in the mentor's discourse.

Prospects for basketball are very bright. Three of last year's first five are back again. Only Pinkie Match and Leo Palitz have been lost to the team through graduation. Captain Mac Hodesblatt, Harry Goichman and Goldberg are the three first string men back.

Tubby Raskin, Teddy Meisel, and several others of last year's second team are back again to strive for regular berths this season. They will get much competition, however, from the new candidates and from the members of last year's freshman five. Of the latter Rubinstein and Hirsch stand out prominently.

With such a choice array of material to choose from, Nat Holman should have little difficulty in organizing a quintet which will equal, if not better, last year's brilliant record. The '24-'25 tossers dropped only two games, both on foreign courts. However, they won the championship of the Metropolitan district and established themselves as one of the leading teams, if not the leading team, in the East by trimming Fordham. The Maroon had previously gone undefeated all season, and in accomplishing that feat had beaten the best college teams in this section of the country.

Practice, beginning tomorrow, will be held every afternoon in the gym. For the first week or two the men will just pass the ball around, shoot at the basket, and in general get used to the court. Coach Holman will then instruct the players in many of the fine points of the game, and after the fundamentals have been thoroughly mastered the team will engage in scrimmages.

Manager Murray Pepper '26 urges all candidates for the team to take their medical examinations immediately.

The Lavenders runners are practicing daily in the Stadium at present, but beginning with next week, Coach MacKenzie will take his men up to Van Cortland Park on Wednesdays

COUNCIL DISCUSSES FROSH RULES TODAY

Personnel of All Committees Will Be Announced at Initial Meeting

The question of frosh rules, the creation of a new Alcove Committee, and the organization of a Major Insignia Club are the most important of the measures to be taken up at the first meeting of the Student Council to be held this afternoon. The meeting will be called to order promptly at three o'clock in room 308 by Frederick Kraut '26, president.

Among the other problems that will be discussed are the clearing up of all financial matters, the planning of more frequent rallies before athletic events, and the possibility of holding a Student Council dance during this semester.

The importance of the matter of frosh rules has been shown by the numerous letters received by The Campus, both favoring and opposing their reestablishment. A Campus reporter investigated this subject last week and found that a majority of the students he questioned were in favor of frosh rules. Whether or not they will be adopted will be decided by the Student Council today.

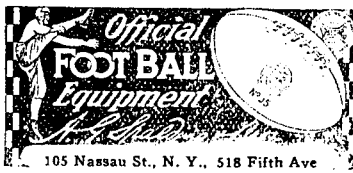

The Council has created a new alcove committee whose chief functions will be to protect the lockers in the Concourse from robbery and to keep the alcoves clean. The members of this and other committees will be announced at the meeting.

The Council also expects to form plans for the organization of a Major Insignia Club. Those students who have distinguished themselves in non-athletic extra curricular activities during their college career are awarded major insignia at the close of the senior year. The only club in the college similar to the proposed organization is the Varsity Cub which is composed of students who have received awards from the athletic association.

The officers of the Student Council for the present semester are Frederick Kraut '26, president; Jerry Hyman vice-president, and Dave Kanstoven '27, secretary.

and Fridays. On the other days the squad will use the Stadium.

Manager Sid Jacobi '26, urges all the men on the frosh and varsity outfits to watch the bulletin board in the Concourse for the announcement of the groups in which the team will practice at Van Cortland Park.

COLLEGE MERCURY TO APPEAR OCT. 20

Term's First Issue Deals With Various Phases of Real Estate Booms

The Real Estate number of the Mercury will appear on the campus about October 20, with a five color cover design by S. Malcolm Dodson '26. This will be the first cover that Dodson has drawn for the college humor magazine.

The literary work of the issue will be concerned chiefly with all the various phases of recent real estate booms throughout the country. Of these the Florida and Rockaway booms have offered the main sources of ideas to the editors. The Mercury humorists have attempted to handle all angles of the subject. These have been written in several different forms, including long articles, short jokes and poems, trios and unusual skits.

The issue contains an elaborate center spread which is an exact facsimile of the real estate section of the New York Times. This two page feature makes use of all the ideas contained in a regular daily issue of that journal.

The Mercury staff is now in charge of Sam Sugar, the new editor-in-chief. S. Malcolm Dodson '26, is the associate editor, while Howard Fensterstock '28 and Arthur Goodfriend '28 are the managing editors. The latter two men have edited the first issue.

The art work for the number has been done by Sugar, Dodson, Sedwitz, Netter and Goodfriend, and the literary work by Goodfriend, Fensterstock and Lewis. The principal contributors to the issue are Louis Granich '29, Bernard Smith '27, and Emanuel Eisenberg. Among the alumni, Peter C. Denker '23 and Barney B. Fensterstock '25, last year's editor, have submitted literary work.

Al Broido '26 has been chosen as this semester's business manager. He has arranged for a twenty-eight page issue. "From Our Viewpoint", the theatrical page which was instituted last year, will again be a feature of this term's Mercuries.

COLLEGIATE CHATTER

What Do We Say?

"Western and middle western college men form better material for business executives' positions than their eastern brothers," according to a recent statement in Kansas City.

So We Won't Print It!

The college man has been characterized as one who smokes cigarettes, wears loud clothes and talks women and football. But according to the opinion of a professor of the University of Colorado the college woman "is too free; you can pick her at a glance; she has lost her reserve. What the Co-Eds think of this is unprintable.

Rivals For Harold Lloyd

At the University of New Hampshire, the Freshmen are presented with "skimmers", that is, they receive a blue cap with a white visor and button, a white and blue "jazz" bow tie, and a poster. What a nifty sight they must make.

Will Have Nothing On Ours

$300,000 for a single building, that is what the Erskine Ramsay Engineering Building at Alabama Polytechnic Institute will cost. It is part of a comprehensive scheme of building for the college and the structure is claimed to be the finest and most modern engineering building in the country. The structure is entirely fireproof and includes a reception room as well as room for faculty meetings.

Not So With The Campus

At Auburn they are now busy initiating the men who succumbed to Dan Cupid during the past summer. The literary men were hardest hit for three reporters to the college paper entered marital bonds.

When A Subway Is Convenient

The town of Auburn although harboring the Alabama Polytechnic is not large enough to warrant stopping express trains there. However so many students have been injured by jumping from trains after pleading vainly with the conductor to stop the train, that the railroad has relented and certain trains will stop on signal. This will be very convenient for students who have a weakness for spending week-ends in Montgomery.

We Tasted Them Long Ago

University of Oklahoma women have started the idea of flavored lipsticks, and this weapon of womanhood has literally swept the university town in flavors ranging from lemon to tutti frutti.

Finishing It Early

They hold the scraps early at Carnegie, on September 15 to be exact. At night both classes assemble on the football field to bury the hatchet. A grave is solemnly dug and the hatchet deposited therein. Following this symbolic pageant, the frosh are unmolested if they obey the regulations.

"WE SERVE"

IN a cooperative affair such as ours cleanliness is a matter for both management and patron. On the former a high standard of cleanliness reflects efficiency, on the latter a pride in his community.

We have hoped to do our part. Have you done yours?

In particular may we ask that ice-cream boxes be put in the proper receptacles?

FRENCH FELLOWSHIP CONDITIONS DECLARED

Eleven $1,200 Fellowships in French Universities Offered to American Students

Announcement of the American Field Service Fellowships for French Universities for 1926-1927 has just arrived from the office of the Institute of International Education.

The fellowships, not to exceed 11 in number, carry a value of $1,200 and are tenable for one year. They will be renewable for a second year upon application, provided, according to the announcement, that circumstances warrant it. Various courses of study are open to the candidate but it is expected that he pursue one in which he has already shown some proficiency. They are offered in the Universities and other institutions of higher learning in Paris, Nancy, Lyon, and other French cities.

Various conditions and requirements must be met by the applicants. Full information concerning these are to be found in the pamphlets obtainable in the office of the School of Education. In 1920, The Society for Fellowships in French Universities and The American Field Service were amalgamated and incorporated under the title of the American Field Service Fellowships for French Universities, Inc. The object of this Association is to provide an enduring memorial for the 127 Field Service men who gave their lives in the great war, to develop a better realization and appreciation of the contributions of French Universities to science and learning, and to promote mutual understanding and good will between France and the United States. One can get in touch with the secretary, Dr. S. P. Duggan, at 522 Fifth Avenue, New York.
