DEBATERS LOSE SECOND CONTEST TO BOSTONIANS

Topic Discussed Was Resolved: That U. S. Enter League of Nations

JUDGES DECISION 2 TO 1

Debate Took Place in the Boston College Auditorium Monday

The College debating team was defeated by a vote of two to one by the team of Boston College on the subject of "Resolved: That the United States Enter the League of Nations." The debate took place at Boston on Saturday afternoon at 3 p. m.

The College team left New York on Saturday at 12 o'clock and reached Boston that evening at 6 p. m. whereupon they went to their suite at the Westminister Hotel. During their stay the C.C.N.Y. men took an automobile ride through the city and visited all the historic spots of interest.

Michell Speaks First
The debate was held at 3 p. m. in the Boston College auditorium which was well-filled with representatives of the opposing team. Harry Michell '28 the first speaker for the affirmative which City College was defending took the stand and proceeded to argue that American isolation was impossible. He proved this statement by the facts that the United States has taken part in three European wars since its formation. He also stated that peace in Europe cannot be attained until the nations of Europe are secure and argued that the League was needed to attain this desired peace.

The next speaker was a Boston College man, Anthony A. Driscoll '26 who was the first speaker on the negative. Driscoll stated that the League of Nations has been a failure and has not succeeded in bringing about the results for which it was formed. He proved this statement by a reference to the quarrel which resulted at Geneva.

Richard S. Joseph '26 the second speaker for City College explained how the League of Nations operates and just what it has done since its formation. The second speaker for Boston was William H. Marnell who analyzed the work and accomplishments of the League to show that the League had failed in its original intentions.

Keefe Final Speaker
Maurice C. Finkel '26 then took the stand for the affirmative and enumerated the advantages which would accrue to the United States were she to join the League. One of these, which he discussed was the fact that America at the present time is in need of new foreign markets and entrance into the League would automatically bring her these markets. The last speaker on the negative, J. Leo Keefe '27 proceeded to prove that should the United States enter the League such an action would conflict with our Constitution and therefore such an action would be impossible.

The judges in the debate were, Erastus H. Hewitt Esquire, Yale '11; George L. Ellison, Boston University '06; and James J. Caffery Esquire, Harvard '19. They rendered a decision of two to one in favor of the Negative.

FACULTY TO MEET SENIORS ON COURT

Game Scheduled to Take Place Tomorrow in Gymnasium

A Faculty-Senior basketball game to be played tomorrow at 12:30 in the College gymnasium, has been arranged by Murray Pepper, last year's manager of that sport. Several of the star basketball tossers of the faculty, headed by Coach Nat Holman, have promised to appear. This will be Holman's last appearance on the court before his trip down south with the Celtics.

The seniors will be well represented by ex-captain Mac Hodesblatt and Irving Goldberg, who have signified their intention of participating in tomorrow's contest. Murray Pepper, Abe Morris and Bernard Levy will round out the team. These men have been practicing daily and are developing into an aggregation.

Besides Holman, for the Faculty, Lionel MacKenzie, track coach, Leo Lehrman, chemistry instructor, Sam Cantor, wrestling coach and Leo Palitz, assistant varsity basketball coach will play. The instructors will attempt to duplicate last year's performance, when the seniors were handed a setback.

The admission fee, for the contest, has been set at twenty-five cents, the gate receipts of which are going towards the expenses of Numeral Lights in June. Tickets may be procured from Murray Pepper '26, Herb Williams '27 and Bernard Eisenstein '28. Pop Lechner will probably referee the encounter.

VARSITY NIMRODS WILL SHOOT AGAINST MIDDIES

The Varsity Rifle Team will meet the fusiliers of the United States Naval Academy at Annapolis in about three weeks. This match, unlike other matches, will be shot with regular army 30-30 rifles.

Practice for the entire squad will be held this Friday, April 30, Friday, May 7, and Saturday, May 8, at the army training camp at Peekskill. The best seven men in the four positions of standing, kneeling, sitting, and prone will be picked and sent to Annapolis to compete against the sailors.

LAVENDER NETMEN DEFEAT PRATT 5-1

Rosenblatt Leads Varsity to Easy Victory in Its First Match

In its first match of the 1926 season, the varsity tennis team swamped the racqueters of Pratt Institute by the score of 5 to 1, Saturday morning at the Pratt courts.

Mike Rosenblatt, captain of the St. Nicholas team, started the ball rolling by defeating the Institute first singles man, Captain Stevens, 6-0, 6-1. Rosenblatt drowned his opponent under a volley of over-heads, back-hands, and drives. At no time was he pressed and his command of the court and control of both racket and ball were perfect.

Vin Kleinfeld, playing second singles, lost a pluckily played match at 6-3, 6-2, 4-6. Oshman, playing third singles, won his match with ease at 6-2, 6-3. Oshman had his opponent beaten throughout the match and had no trouble whatsoever in winning. His shots came over with lots of speed and his opponent found them too much to handle.

Ruggles, the City College fourth singles player, angled his shots prettily and outwitted the Institute player to win 6-2, 6-3. He played a cool, steady game, directing his shots with great accuracy.

Rosenblatt teamed up with Dan Bronstein, who subbed for Kleinfeld, and outplayed the Brooklynites by a 6-2, 6-1 tally. This combination worked smoothly and their teamwork was excellent. In all probability, Bronstein will remain as a doubles man due to his fine showing.

Oshman and Ruggles, the other Lavender combination, out-volleyed and out-generated the racquet wielders from Brooklyn and won easily at 6-2, 6-3. Both have played together on the freshman team and their knowledge of each other's game stands them in good stead.

This afternoon the varsity tennis team will travel to Hoboken to meet the Stevens Institute aggregation. The Lavender is favored to win since the Engineers barely defeated the Pratt team.

J. L. Stoll '27 Elected Chairman Of Fall Semester Union Committee

Schweizer '27 Is Chosen Vice-Chairman by Student Council

J. Leonard Stoll '27 was unanimously chosen to be chairman of the "U" committee for the fall semester at the last meeting of the Student Council. Herman W. Schweizer '27 was elected vice-chairman, and Harry Horowitz '28, secretary to the Union. The committeemen elected were Lester E. Tomback '28, George Moskowitz '29 and Moe Abramowitz '28. All the men who have been elected to the committee have had previous experience in this sort of work. Stoll, the new chairman, served for one year, and during the past semester acted in the capacity of vice-chairman.

Schweizer has been a member of the committee for a year and a half, and owes his position to his work

Intercollegiate Football Assailed; Professors Demand Immediate Reform

Professor Storey Represents City College at Controversy of College Professors

The April Bulletin of the American Association of University Professors has condemned the present form of intercollegiate football. It claims that football causes neglect of work which is the fundamental purpose of a college education. Dr. T. A. Storey is representing City College on the committee which made the investigations on which the condemnation is based.

The accusations against football were made by the Committee on Methods of Increasing the Intellectual Interests and Raising the Intellectual Standards of Undergraduates, who recommended that the colleges in various sections of the country meet through representatives to determine upon the adoption of recommendations to correct the situation presented.

The recommendations favored were:—to limit the participation of students to one year of intercollegiate football, and the adoption of faculty coaching systems conducted by men who would do much by personal influence to make—for cleanliness in living and speech, for complete devotion to the immediate cause, for absolute honesty, and for high standards of sportsmanship.

The report of the committee admitted football as being a good and interesting sport. It does not believe football in moderation to be harmful, but rather beneficial. However a great number of bad effects were listed. Overexcitement is one of its greatest evils. Drinking is due in great measure to football, and the argument is that at the various fraternity houses which are crowded before and after the games many of the alumni introduce liquor in large quantities. Betting is another factor in considering the evils of the game, since it is claimed that more money is involved in football than any other of the collegiate sports and that it is this that leads to the evil of the indirect hiring of athletes.

The ticket situation is also dwelled upon, and the discontent caused among the faculty due to the hiring of coaches who are paid more than the

Soph Skull to Consider All Applicants Tomorrow

Soph Skull, the sophomore honorary society, will meet in the Campus office tomorrow at 2 o'clock to consider and pass upon applications for membership. All applications must be submitted to Lou Williams, chancellor Sidney L. Jacobi, vice-chancellor or Jerome I. Hyman, secretary, before noon tomorrow.

All members of the '28 class are eligible for election at this time. Elections to the society are held once during the year and this will be the only chance for members of '28 to submit their applications.

PLAYERS WILL HOLD FINAL REHEARSAL

Varsity Show to Be Presented Friday at the Hotel Plaza

With the final dress rehearsal tomorrow evening, the Varsity Show will be ready to make its bow at the Hotel Plaza on Friday evening at 9.00 o'clock.

Tickets for the show are still on sale and may be procured in the concourse from William Ober '26, under whose supervision tickets are being sold, and other committee men. Single tickets are two dollars and boxes seating eight persons may be bought for twenty dollars. Dancing will commence at the conclusion of the presentation of the plays at about 11 o'clock, music will be furnished by a well-known collegiate orchestra of five pieces.

At the rising of the curtain, Philip De Caron will be found playing the leading role of Napoleon in the Man of Destiny of which Bernard Shaw is the author. The play was coached by Professor Tynan who selected the entire cast of players. Richard A. Diamond plays Giuseppe and James McAndrews is a Lieutenant. The feminine character in the cast is acted by Miss Lillian Hooker, an evening session student.

Mr. Daniel Brophy is coach of the "Hero of Santa Maria", the play chosen for the second part of the varsity show program. He selected George Egan and Ralph Harlauer to act the roles of Martin and Lody respectively. The part of Elmira is being played by Agnes Fordrunga of the evening session. Eugene Devine, Francis Ward and Myron Weyman are portraying Nate, Wilkenson and Zoss respectively.

"The Hero of Santa Maria" was written by Ben Hecht and Kenneth Goodman. The former is the author of several novels which have received great popularity.

The Executive Committee which is in charge of the production is headed by Professor Schultze and Mr. Brophy. Frank Ward '27, Dick Diamond '26, and Al Russell '26 are the student members of the body.

Others who are taking an active part in the presentation of the Varsity Show are Leo Rogers '26, president of the Dramatic Society; Frank Ward '27, production manager; Jim Eastwick '26, publicity manager; A. Jacobi '29, stage manager; Morgan Callahan '27, assistant production manager; and Al Pursall '26, business manager.

VARSITY TEAM MEETS STEVENS IN N. J. TODAY

Coach Doc Parker Will Probably Assign Moder to Mound

LAVENDER IS FAVORED

Team's Showing Favorable—Captain Tubby Raskin Has Best Batting Average

The varsity baseball team will play its first game on foreign grounds when it boards the ferry this afternoon for Hoboken, where it is to engage Stevens Institute of Technology. This encounter comes as a relief after having bucked up against some of the strongest nines in the East for the past few weeks.

The weather man cheated the College ballteam of an extra victory last season when he declared rain on the day scheduled for the contest with today's opponent. Previous to that, however, it was customary for the Lavender stickmen to administer regular beatings to the Jerseyites. There is every indication that th thernoon's tussle will be a continuation of past performances. Moder Will Probably Pitch Artie Moder will probably be called upon to face the Stevens batters later on in the day. Should his twirling fail to hold the scarlet sluggers in check, Kany will be assigned to the mound as a relief pitcher. In all events, it is likely that Coach Parker will not use Halsey Josephson since he is relying upon "highpockets" to turn back the powerful Temple nine on Friday.

The varsity's exhibition against Lafayette last Friday was altogether pleasing, despite the outcome. It was one of those rare occasions when a team looks good even in defeat. With the return of George Jacobson to the nine's ranks and the development of Gus Packer, the sun field is once more a bright spot for the teams rating. Both have been performing very well with the stick and their fielding is beyond reproof. Halsey Josephson is expected to fill the remaining garden position today.

Raskin Plays First The infield berths seem to be occupied by permanent guardians at last. Captain Tubby Raskin, who is ably covering the initial sack, is the mainstay in the team's hitting. Tubby is the only Lavender slugger up to date who has connected safely with the horsehide in every encounter. He also holds the distinction of being the sole batter to have sent the ball beyond the confines of the Stadium. Tubby's batting average is close to the five hundred mark, having hit safely in eight out of seventeen turns at the bat.

The keystone bag is being well taken care of by Rossi, who is pretty well secured in his claim as a result of Reich's poor performance when he was permitted to cover that position in the Villanova game. Rossi has been batting well and is near the top in the race for high-hitting laurels. He has a competent assistant in covering his berth, in Dono at short. Dono has a powerful wing, which has been a great factor in heading off batters at first. Ephron at third, completes the infield outfit. Irv has been pounding the ball regularly; his triple in the last game accounting

City College vs. C.C.N.Y.

Once again City College captured the relay race at Philadelphia and once again the cities became twisted somehow and the Lavender got the worst of it. Many a C.C.N.Y. student no doubt picked up a newspaper Saturday evening or Sunday morning and was thrilled to see the words, "College Class—One Mile Relay, Won by City College", and was then as suddenly disappointed to see the name of Detroit following as the victor, with the City College of New York second. The feat of this same Detroit team, after beating the Lavender last year, needs no retelling.

Another Defeat

Halsey Josephson seemed to be in as fine form last Friday when he faced Lafayette as he has been in a long time but something went wrong somewhere and the Lavender went down to its third defeat. Josephson struck out ten men, and walked not one, which is something worth boasting about. The support accorded him was not too good, but it was as good as has been furnished in previous games. The trouble with the varsity batsmen was their lack of power at the bat. Only five men hit safely, and only two of the College players hit in the same inning.

In the contest with Rutgers the Wednesday previous, two men got hits for the first time. George Jacobson, who went through an entire season last year without garnering one safety, banged out a single in his first turn at bat this season, and in the same inning, Rossi, who had been benched for the Providence game, woke up and got his first hit of the year.

Dick Meehan, erstwhile caller of strikes and balls as the case may or may not be, now looms up as the logical contender for the honor of being known as the toughest umpire in the collegiate baseball world. In six contests at the Stadium this year, he has ordered out of the game three different players, which is an average of .500. In the Rutgers game, in which Meehan brought his record up to its present status, he sent one New Brunswick sub who's razzing got his goat, entirely out of the Stadium.

'Twas Ever Thus

Three divers gentlemen have expressed objection to comment appearing in this column about a week ago regarding the playing of a new man at second base, all believing that it is not within the province of Sport Sparks to "raze" any players who are giving the best that is in them. Perhaps it might be enlightening to these gentlemen to know that we are acquainted with Reich, the player mentioned, but slightly and with Rossi, whom he replaced, not at all. There was no personal element intended in the comment which was offered. Reich was not "razzed" for making errors. Errors are too common in all college baseball games for them to stand out too noticeably. Sport Sparks saw a man in the game when one superior to him was on the bench and the man was making costly errors. He was giving his best, but when the best of another man will be of more help to the team it is the other man who is wanted. This was the aim of the comment objected to.

We wish to remark that it is proper for Sport Sparks to retain some oracular mysticism.

The Seniors' Last Chance

The annual senior-faculty basketball game is generally assumed to be an opportunity for long-suffering students to get back at their taskmasters. Among said taskmasters who will face the barrage of the senior dribblers tomorrow are Nat Holman and Leo Palitz, who should make things of a higher temperature than usual for the soon to be bachelors. Then there is Leo Lehrman, of w... solo fame, under whom we are still manufacturing synth... sparks across the street. Chief attraction of all, no doubt, will be the famous scientist (military), Sergeant Berger of the Bronx, whose eagle-eye accounted for many points last year. For the seniors, two varsity stars, Captain Hodesblatt and Irv Goldberg, will take the floor, if there is anything left to be taken after the sergeant gets through. Murray Pepper, the famous playing manager, will also show his manly figure in a uniform.

For the championship of the world at the business of packing away products of the culinary art, we submit the name of George Tepper. The scene is the Student's House. The event is the reception to the Hakoah football team. The characters are Mr. Tepper and one obliging waiter. The drama revolves about the efforts of the hero, who has started the waiter on the downward path by asking for more, to put away all that the willing waiter wishes to serve him. Since we lost count at the fourth portion of chicken and the third dessert, this great American tragedy, as yet unwritten must needs be only an approximation.

RELAY TEAM PLACES IN PENN CARNIVAL

Mile Team Garners Second Place in Class C Division

The annual invasion of the Pennsylvania Relay Carnival met with more than its usual success when two of the Lavender teams gave creditable performances against the best talent in the country. Second place was garnered in the Class "C" mile relay and fifth position in the first sprint medley championship.

For the first time in the history of the College a team entered in an event other than the mile relay. In addition to the added sprint medley, two men were entered in the 100 yard dash, giving City College as large a representation as any other metropolitan school.

The mile relay team that finished in the runner-up position for the second consecutive year was composed of Johnny Levy, Fred Kushnick, Elmer Low, and Captain "Pinkie" Sober, Levy stepped out at the beginning of the race and gave the baton to Kushnick in first place with a one-yard lead over the City College of Detroit team. Kushnick duplicated Levy's good performance and finished his leg leading the rest of the field. Low, the number 3 man of the local combination, did not do as well as expected, a troublesome injury to his leg being the probable cause. Low relinquished the lead to Detroit by a scant few yards, but a poor pass of the stick to Sober set the team back fifteen yards. Sober ran a brilliant quarter, regaining ten yards on the Detroit anchor man, but could not overcome the lead the Michigan team had. The Lavender team was timed in 3:28 1-5, while Detroit negotiated the distance in 3:27. Harry Lazanes went with the team as alternate but did not compete.

The College proved a surprise by annexing fifth place in a stellar field in the sprint medley relay. Columbia, Georgetown, M. I. T., and Occidental College of California led City College to the tape, while Syracuse and Springfield trailed the local aggregation. Levy, Hoffman, and Sober made up the team.

Levy, running a quarter, again got off to a fast start and amazed the crowd by leading the field for 350 yards, but Johnny was overhauled by his more experienced opponents in the stretch and gave the baton to Harry Smith in fourth place. Both Smith and "Cy" Hoffman showed their mettle by holding some of the best sprinters in the country, for their 200 yard legs. Captain Sober turned in a good "half" covering the distance in 1:56, but was unable to overcome the large handicap he ran against. Campbell, of the winning Columbia team, made the "half" in 1:53 and led his team to victory in the fast time of 3:29, but one second short of the record. City College's time was 3:32.

Smith and Hoffman gave creditable performances in their heats in the 100-yard dash. Both finished third in a field of six. Fast time in the "century" was impossible due to a strong head wind.

The showing of the team strengthened the belief that the present combination Coach MacKenzie has assembled is one of the strongest in years. Practically all of the men are available for another year, and it is expected that next year's showing at Philadelphia will be much better.

Deutsche Verein Chooses Its Alt Heidelberg Theatre

The Deutsche Verein has selected as the theatre for its performance of Alt Heidelberg, the International House at 500 Riverside Drive opposite Grant's tomb. The play will take place on May 29 and its cast which consists of fifty members of the Deutsche Verein who have been rehearsing for the last five months and who are now rehearsing in the theatre. Tickets for the play will be available in a few days in Room 308.

Inter Class Natators Will Swim Tomorrow

The events will be a 50-yd swim, a 220-yd swim, a fancy dive, a 50-yd breast stroke swim, a 50-yd back stroke, a 100-yd swim and an interclass relay.

All men at the college who have not won any award in swimming and water-polo for 1926 are eligible to compete. Entries for the inter-class relay must be handed in by the athletic manager at the same time as the other entries. Medals will be awarded to the winner of the various events.

The captain of the varsity water-polo team will be elected tomorrow at 12:30 in the A. A. office. All men on the varsity water-polo squad must be present at the meeting.

It has been necessary for Mac to bear the entire burden of the season's receiving because of the lack of catching material at the College. But Mac's ability on the receiving end is not his only claim to his berth. He also boasts of the second best batting average.

MAT TOURNAY ELIMINATIONS EFFECTED LAST THURSDAY

Finals Take Place Tomorrow - Winners to Be Awarded Numerals

Before a small but enthusiastic audience, the elimination bouts in the interclass wrestling tournament took place last Thursday afternoon in the gymnasium. But two or three men remain in each weight and the individual winners will be determined in the finals to be held tomorrow afternoon at 12:15.

The contestants displayed an aggressiveness and determination that drew repeated plaudits from the crowd. It is perhaps due to the shortened periods of the bouts, they being but six minutes in length, that the contests were so keenly battled.

Morris Spitz '23, former wrestling captain, refereed the bouts. In the finals this week he will engage captain-elect Levin in an exhibition match. Since both men will probably again meet in the A.A.U. meet, the contest should be interesting.

The men who survived the elimination bouts and will engage in the finals are as follows:

115-lb. class—Silverman '27, Golin '28, Weiland '28; 125-lb. class—Grossman '29 and Sittler '29; 135-lb. class—Pintz '30, Welinsky '29 and Pike '27; 145-lb. class—Lippman '29, Barish '29, Blumfeld '29; 158-lb. class—Schwalbenest '29 and Birnbaum '30; 175-lb. class—Shapiro '27 and Petluck '29; unlimited—Diamond '30, Packer '27, Margolin '30.

The individual winners are to be awarded numerals, while the class scoring the most points will be awarded a prize, as yet undetermined. Winners of the various classes tally five points, and the runners up add three points to their class total.

WESLEY EASTMAN TALKS TO MENORAH SOCIETY

Mr. Wesley Eastman, secretary of the Y.M.C.A. declared before a meeting of the Menorah Society in Menorah Alcove Monday that the College needs a small group of serious minded students motivated by a spirit of humanity and understanding to work for the best wherever it is found.

Mr. Eastman in his speech emphasized that hard work and less superficial talk is the most vital need among the various activities of the College.

During the course of his talk. Mr. Eastman asked a series of questions regarding the students' purpose in attending the College, the standard of judging successful activities, the relation between instructor and student, and the expressed idea that C. N.Y. is not the place to discuss such problems as military science and the Passaic strike.

PROFESSORS CONDEMN FOOTBALL AT MEETING

There have been two proposals submitted. Dr. Edgar Fauver of Wesleyan University proposes to limit the participation of students in intercollegiate athletics to one year.

Another plan favored by the Wesleyan parley is to limit the football schedule to four games in October with a team of its own class and its own vicinity. The Wesleyan Parley was engaged in by delegates of nine colleges on December 6.

These suggestions if put into practice, it is said, would end intercollegiate contests and championship eliminations; public interest would be decreased, training reduced, and commercialism minimized.

Politics Club Hears Guthrie at Meeting

The reorganization meeting of the Politics Club took place last Thursday at 12 in Room 204. There were about twenty interested students present.

Professor William B. Guthrie addressed the group on the aim of the Politics Club, stressing the fact that the organization was to act as a link between students of the College and the practical world of politics in such ways as giving letters of recommendation, signed by Professors Guthrie and Robinson to any political club, and to assist anyone who desires to enter the field of politics.

Marvin Lechtman '26 was elected chairman pro tem, and appointed Julius Dilles '27, Harry Heller '27 and A. Polisch '27 as a constitutional committee. It was decided that the next meeting would be on Thursday, April 29, at 12 o'clock in Room 204. Following the meeting, the club will go in a body to attend Mr. Max Steuer's lecture.
