PRICE FIVE CENTS

CONSTITUTION OVERRULED BY S. C. PRESIDENT

Kanstoren Officially Declares
Campus Deprived of Student Council Seat

AMENDMENT PASSED 9-2

Campus Asserts It Was Not Referred to Classes for Ratification

Setting aside Section 2 of the fifth article of the constitution which refers all amendments to the classes for approval, David Kanstoren '27, Student Council president, officially declared The Campus expelled from the Union and forced the Campus representative to leave his council seat.

The president based his ruling on the contention that the editor of the Lavender Book had incorrectly reprinted that section of the Constitution. The amendment proposing that The Campus no longer be a member of the Union was passed by a vote of 9 to 2.

Amendment Read

The amendment reads as follows: The Campus is no longer a member of the Union and shall no longer hold a seat in the Student Council. The president then asked the Campus representative to leave his council seat. The representative refused to leave his seat quoting Article 5 Section 2, of the Student Council constitution, which is as follows: Such propositions shall be voted on at the next regular meeting following that of its introduction and if two-thirds of the members present shall vote in favor of the amendment it shall be submitted to the classes for approval. This would then necessitate the submitting of the amendment to the various class councils before it could be valid.

The president of the council decided that according to Section 3 Article 5 it would not be necessary to go through this procedure, because three-quarters of the council had passed the motion. The Campus representative, who had left his seat, thereupon read Section 3 Article 5 which reads as follows: If three-fourths of the classes ratify the amendment it shall become immediately effective. If the classes do not vote on the amendment within two weeks, it can be made effective by a three-fourths vote of the Council without the approval of the classes; claiming that the president's viewpoint was thus not justified.

President Admits Error

The president at first admitted this, but then recalled that the Article 3 Section 5 had been amended so as to eliminate the necessity for the votes of the classes. The Campus representative asked for a copy of the request was refused by the president constitution with the amendment. His who said, "I cannot take the time of the meeting now, if you wish to see the amendment, consult last term's Student Council secretary."

This is the culmination of a resolution passed by the council about four weeks ago in which although the Campus was granted its allotment, they were to be put out of the Council. An amendment was necessary, however, to conform with the latter part of this motion and it was duly made and passed as related above.

C.C.N.Y. Post of the American Legion Inaugurates Drive for Memorial Bay

Campus Issued for Last Time Before Xmas Recess

This is the last regular issue of The Campus before the commencement of the Christmas vacation which will start on December 24 and last until January 2. The Campus will next be issued in ordinary news form on January 7.

On Thursday December 23, a Crampus will be issued.

Proceeds of Varsity-Alumni
Game Donated for Memorial
Bay Drive

The undergraduates of the College are being appealed to by the City College Post of the American Legion game, the proceeds of which are to buy tickets for the Varsity-Alumni game to the fund of $50,000 for the erection of a bay at the entrance of the new library, as a memorial to the C. C. N. Y. men who died during the World War.

The student body is asked to raise only one thousand dollars as their quota of the entire amount. Major Holton, the leader of this movement intimates that once the undergraduates raise the $1,000, the alumni will be approached for the remainder of the fund.

Major Holton hopes that the action of the Athletic Association in pledging to donate the entire proceeds of the game to induce other societies, clubs, and fraternities of the College to donate their share for the fund.

Tickets for the basketball game to be held on Christmas Eve, December 24 can be obtained at the regular price of fifty cents with a "U" stub. The A. A. announces that two tickets may be had at the regular reduction upon presentation of one "U" stub.

"The funds for the bay which will cost approximately 50,000 dollars are to be raised principally among the friends and alumni of the College," Major Holton stated. "We feel that it is fitting that the present student body should contribute a part of the necessary sum."

At Chapel last Thursday, Major Holton outlined the plans for the drive and appealed to them to buy tickets for the Christmas Eve game. Contracts for the proposed library will be let on the twenty-third of this month and the City College Post of the American Legion desires to inaugurate the drive as soon as possible in order to make provision for the erection of the memorial bay in the first original plan.

COUNCIL CALLS FOR INSIGNIA APPLICANTS

Major and Minor Awards
Given For Non-Athletic Extra-Curricular Work

All candidates for major or minor Student Council insignia should hand in written applications listing their extra-curricular activities to the president or secretary of the council before next Friday, David W. Kanstoren '27 announced at the Student Council meeting Friday.

The major insignia consists of the C.C.N.Y. monogram in gold letters. This award is given those candidates for graduation or students at the College for three years who intend to leave at the end of this semester who have done excellent work in all extra-curricular activities. The minor insignia is awarded those who just fall short of the major insignia standards or for those who excel only in one activity, debating, chess, Campus, Mercury or club affairs.

The president of the Student Council is eligible for major insignia by a two-thirds vote of the council, the president of the A.A. and editor-in-chief by a three-quarters vote. All others may be granted insignia unless two negative votes are cast. Written applications for insignia must be handed to the president or secretary of Student Council. These applications should state the extra-curricular activities in which the student participated not including athletic activities.

WOHL FETED IN DINNER BY COLUMBIA UNIVERSITY

The Columbia School of Optometry tendered a testimonial dinner to Professor Frederick B. Wohl, recently appointed head of the Hygiene Department, last Friday at Hoffbrau's. Some 400 people were present to hear him speak.

A marine clock was presented to him by the Optometrical Society of New York.

Acting-President Robinson Announces Plan To Provide Eleven With Training Quarters

310-Acre Tract of Land To Be Used by Team During September

A plan was announced by Acting President Robinson at the dinner tendered to the 1926 eleven at the Hotel Imperial last Thursday, whereby the use of a 310 acre tract of farm land would be turned over to football men for training purposes. The land, located at Brewster, N. Y. is owned by Dr. Robinson and the Professors Bret, Snyder, Compton, Holton, Guthrie, and Bruckner.

"I have long had in my mind", Acting President Robinson declared in an interview Friday, "the possibility of a training camp for football. The farm would be converted into training quarters for the accommodation of the entire squad. The period of training is to last from the first of September to the opening of Fall season. Moreover," Dr. Robinson continued, "All those with whom he has spoken about the project are favorably inclined toward it, including the six co-owners of the land". Dr. Robinson also discussed with Coach Parker the possibility of a plan to have all men expecting to play football the next season to engage in some form of physical exercise during the winter. This would keep the candidates in good physical shape.

"These plans although tentative", Dr. Robinson stated, "are a part of a general scheme to perfect the team. Everything possible will be done" he continued, "in keeping with scholastic scholarship standards, to make the team one of the best drilled in the country."

A formal offer will probably be made in a few days to the Faculty Athletic Council, concerning the use of the farm for training purposes. Certain details of the organization and the financing of the project will be perfected shortly, the acting president stated.

Dr. Robinson is certain that a practical plan for September training may be worked out. Moreover, he is sure that students, faculty and alumni will whole-heartedly finance the project.

CITY BASKETBALLERS DOWN UNION 21 TO 13 FOR FOURTH VICTORY

Basketball Team Meets
Alumni And Villanova

The varsity basketball quintet will have two encounters during the Christmas holidays. On Christmas Eve Dec. 24, the C.C.N.Y. Post of the American Legion will be the opponents.

Villanova will meet the College five in their second vacation game in the exercising hall of the Hygiene Building on December 31. Both games should supply plenty of action to the spectators.

FROSH BASKETEERS SHADE JEFFERSON

Yearlings Nose Out Schoolboys by One Point in Fast Game

Refusing to be overwhelmed by the reputation of their opponents, a frosh five smashed their way through their way to a brilliant victory over Thomas Jefferson H. S. by one point on the Lavender court last Saturday night. The score, 17-16, is indicative of just how close and tense the game was. At no time throughout the game did either team have more than a three-point lead and that only once.

It was their clean playing that won for the cubs, for while the schoolboys kept missing their few foul goals, the frosh took advantage of their opponents' rough play to garner nine points on free tries.

There was a nerve racking tense moment in the last minute of play, when with the score at 17-16, the referee discovered that two of the Thomas Jefferson boys were wearing same number. A foul was, however, disallowed. But 10 seconds before the whistle, Rabinowitz, of Jefferson drew a foul and with the time up poised for the shot that meant a tie or defeat. It turned out defeat for the ball bounced off the backboard to miss widely.

The frosh played a brilliant, heady, clean game. Their modified passing was a revelation and their foul shooting premier. For the first time this season they showed some first-class teamwork.

Hochman, of the yearlings was the high scorer with two field and four foul goals. Spindell and Feleppa both played strong, aggressive and fast games. Lechner showed his best form so far and garnered four points for the cubs. Denenholtz, although he didn't score fitted in smoothly with the passing machine. Maidman who three times arched the ball high from midfield to cage a basket stared for the visitors along the Schuchman, their captain.

Five minutes elapsed in the first half before Feleppa drew first blood with a foul goal. Hochman caged five points to offset Rubinowitz's tallies for Jefferson and the first half ended at 10-8 in favor of the frosh, with Feleppa ending the half as he had begun it—by a foul goal.

The second half resolved into a steady struggle with the cubs holding their lead by offsetting Jeffer-

QUINTET SCORES EARLY

Leads 10-5 at Half-Time;
Throng Crowds Gym
to Capacity

Maintaining its unbroken string of victories the College varsity quintet soundly trounced the Union basketweavers by a 21-13 tally last Saturday night in the gym. The upstate courtmen by virtue of their victory over St. John's last Wednesday were looked upon as a difficult obstacle to be overcome but as events prove Union was indeed mild.

Passing to each other with marvelous accuracy and lightning speed, the Lavender cagemen had things their own way. The Schenectady Giants seemed dazed by the dazzling floorwork of the Lavender and even when the former possessed the sphere, the aggressive guarding that was encountered caused a deluge of wild shooting.

The beginning of the contest forebode a nip and tuck battle but the St. Nick aggregation forged slowly ahead and were not even once given a threat for victory. The score at half time was 10-5 with the visitors on the tail end. After a comfortable lead was maintained, Leo Palitz, acting coach in the absence of Holman, sent a flock of substitutes in the fray but not a point did any one of them add to the College total.

Foul Shooting Poor
To aid the Lavender quintet indirectly, was the woefully poor foul shooting of the visitors. The game was rough and in consequence numerous penalties were inflicted. Union with fifteen tries to make good was able to capitalize but three points while the College was successful in seven out of twelve attempts.

The scoring of the local combination was well distributed. Hick Rubinstein stood first with three field and one foul goal. Raskin, Meisel and Hirsch were even with four points apiece and Goldberg contributed one field goal. True to form the Lavender playing was not individualistic but fraught with teamwork and co-operation.

O'Neil, the Union six foot four center and captain was high scorer for his team with three field goals. In general floorwork and speed, he stood out for the Schenectady boys but was indeed weak when it came to fouls. Bednowitz also played a fine game for the visitors.

College Passes Well

After some speedy scrimmage, during the first number of play Rubinstein broke through the Union defense for the first two pointer. Captain Raskin soon made good on a foul and was followed by Maybe's goal from midfield. The College passing was a treat, the ball going up and down the court with lightning speed. Hirsch brought the crowd to their feet with a beautiful one-hand shot.

Then ensued several minutes of Magnum Caput!

(with apologies to D. R.)

That European dictatorship bug has crossed the seas and found a resting place in the personage of none other than our own Student Council president. Any presiding individual who "waves aside" clauses in a constitution undoubtedly merits the admiring glance of Napoleon. Any presiding individual who deems the pertinent fact in a discussion, the fact which determines the constitutionality of a question, not important enough to warrant his council's attention, is either an autocrat or simply a downright boob.

Lavender Book's most recent edition contains the constitution which is supposed to define powers, duties, procedure, etc., of Student Council. At the meetings of the latter body, the handbook always was placed upon the table, and since it contained the only published constitution, it was continually referred to in constitutional matters. Mention was never made that the printed version of the rules and regulations was incorrect. The very clauses now under discussion formed the subject of conversation between the writer and the Council president, yet no mention of their possible inaccuracy was made.

When the Student Council passed the resolution ousting The Campus, the representative of the latter organization was asked to yield his seat. Whereupon he pointed out that the constitution requires amendments to be ratified by the various classes. With as yet no mention that the latter procedure was no longer existent, the Council president read aloud that clause which says, "If three-fourths of the classes ratify the amendment, it shall become immediately effective. If the classes do not vote on the amendment within two weeks, it can be made effective by a three-fourths vote of the Council without the approval of the classes" and brilliantly interpreted this as obviating the need of submitting an amendment to the classes if the Council shall have passed it by a three-fourths vote. After an intelligent reading had been made for him, he eventually agreed that his supposition was incorrect.

Then came the sudden realization that this part of the constitution had been revoked by an amendment last term, or last year. (Our quarrel, however, is not with this sudden discovery of what looks like a deliberate concealment, for we realize that whereas Council's negligence may explain our ignorance of this amendment—and we don't yet know whether there really is such an amendment—yet the force of the ruling cannot be diminished on this account.) The Campus representative asked the logical question, to be shown this amendment in the minutes. And then came the president's irate remark that the time of the Council should not be wasted in this manner, and that therefore he rules that those clauses in the constitution be considered set aside.

It is almost difficult to comprehend the situation. Theory advanced that the printed edition of the constitution was incorrect; that several clauses had been revoked by an amendment; doubt as to theory expressed; only way to settle question definitely is to look up the minutes; and then this logical and reasonable demand is refused on the grounds of possessing insufficient importance to deserve time of Council.

What is the use? Is there any sense in throwing a rope to a drowning man in that condition?

We Wonder

We have continually urged the adoption of the proposed plan for reorganization of the Student Council. But this is one moment when we feel that we would like to see the present system continue a while longer. For then we could view the effect of ousting The Campus from the Council, if this action does become final eventually.

On the other hand, we realize the folly of the wish. For if the councillors did not know that Student Council's and Union's days are numbered, and that therefore their latest piece of brilliance is merely an empty gesture without practical consequence, probably this situation would never have arisen. For it is doubtful that one without "spunk" to essay a radical procedure in September will have the necessary courage in February.

Starting The Memorial Drive

Proper student initiation of the drive is essential for the success of the efforts to raise $50,000., the sum needed for the proposed memorial for City College's war dead. If undergraduates will contribute the first one thousand dollars, then the committee will be armed with its greatest weapon for inducing alumni to contribute the remainder.

However, no direct contributions are asked of the student body. The latter may raise the thousand dollars referred to above by attending Saturday's varsity alumni game, proceeds of which have been generously awarded to the fund. Everyone organization in College should subscribe one hundred percent to the game.

GRIDIRON MEN FETED AT ANNUAL DINNER

Gold Footballs Awarded To Twelve Players and Manager Settel

Credit for the big surprise of the football dinner, goes to Acting-President Frederick B. Robinson, who promised the use of a farm owned by him and other alumni as a training camp for the football team. Dr. Robinson declared that football and other sports would receive co-operation from him as far as possible, and held out hopes for a new era in football.

The dinner was held at the Hotel Imperial, the new quarters of the City College Club, and was sponsored by Arthur Taft '02, executive secretary. Head Coach Harold J. Parker, Professor Walter Williamson, twenty letter men and a number of celebrities were present. Gold footballs were awarded to twelve graduating players and the manager.

FROSH ELUDE SOPHS AT ANNUAL FESTIVAL

Succeed in Keeping Time and Place Complete Secret

"What — no sophs?" was the query of a hundred freshmen observing the traditional Frosh Feed last Thursday night at the Venetian Spaghetti House, Broadway and Chambers Street.

Despite strenuous efforts of the sophomores to learn the date and place of the feed, the '30 class succeeded in keeping their secret. The only sophs present were those previously pledged to appear as part of the evening's entertainment. "Soph contributions" were donated by Jack B. Rosenberg, president of the '29 class, Sandy Rothbart '29 and Jack Deutsch '29. "Tondeleo," a riot in one act was presented for the edification of the frosh.

Professor William B. Guthrie of the Government department, who arrived at the feed by a devious route, addressed the group intimately on "Advice to the Lovelorn." Dr. Theodore Goodman '15 of the department of English introduced the class to the matter of "Class 'Spirits.'" Dr. Goodman's tuxedo was another feature of the feed.

Hal Sweetman, co-chairman of the Feed Committee, welcomed the class in the name of the committee. A ten-course dinner followed at the conclusion of which souvenirs were distributed in the shape of address books with the inscription "C.C.N.Y.—1930."

After the address of Hal R. Goldberg '28, junior advisor, on "Winter Draws On," the feed adjourned to witness a thrilling track meet between representatives of the frosh class and the city police.

OWEN SHORTHAND BOOK NOW ON SALE

Faculty Class Being Formed—450 Students Accommodated in Evening Session

The textbook of abc shorthand, by John P. Owen, L.L.M., of Fordham and New York University, was placed on sale Friday at all the shorthand classes and at the College book room. The course is based on the most modern principles of all the present systems and is intended to cover all usages to which shorthand is popularly applied. Letters of the alphabet are used to express phonetic sounds.

The minimum speed guaranteed after the completion of the course is 120 words per minute. A speed of 190 words has already been achieved by several students in the classes.

A faculty abc shorthand class is now in the process of formation. Professors Rupp, of the Latin department; Mead of the History department; Byers of the Economic Languages department; Neus, of the Art department; Burchard, of the Economics department; MacNeish of the Math department; Keeley, of the English department; Hansos, of the Hygiene department and Appelbaum of the Chemistry department have already registered for the class. The hours at which it will meet have not yet been decided.

Four hundred and fifty students are being accommodated at the shorthand classes being held now in the evening session.

QUINTET VICTORIOUS IN UNION ENCOUNTER

severe battling. Meisel finally cut, drew two fouls and made both count. Soon Raskin attempted a foul but missed and the ever alert Rubinstein batted the ball in the hoop. The defense of the Lavender was superb and Union could not get through. Ruby swished in a foul and before the period ended O'Neil added a goal to make the Union total five.

Long Tries Fail

Rubinstein again popped in a two-pointer from a difficult angle and was soon followed by Meisel's foul. Union was taking long shots but to no avail. Hirsch, then smashed through making one of the prettiest shots yet seen. Maybe retaliated in part with a foul, Goldberg then receiving a pass from Raskin made a well earned goal, well merited because of the excellent passing. Several minutes of dazzling floorwork was finally halted by a double personal foul. Both teams made the point. Raskin then made good on a foul. Union was shooting wildly and desperately but the ball would not go in the basket.

Raskin again smacked through and at full speed dropped in a difficult backhand shot, and O'Neil retaliated. A spectacular goal from mid-court was credited to Shane. A double personal again was called but neither side was successful. O'Neil tapped the sphere in for two points, ending the scoring.

The summaries:
C.C.N.Y. (21) Union (13)
Raskin, (Capt.) L. F. Maybe
Rubinstein R. F. McDowell
Goldberg C. O'Neil
Meisel L. G. Bednowitz

MENORAH TO DEBATE WITH HARVARD TEAM

Will Debate On Superiority of Present-Day Judaism Over Older Form

An elaborate program has been planned by the National Convention of Menorah Societies which will convene at the Hotel Brevoort during the holidays on Dec. 28, 29 and 30.

The City College Menorah debating team will take issue with the representatives of the Harvard Menorah on the subject: "Resolved that our Judaism is better than our grandfathers'. The issue is not a religious one, "Judaism" being here defined as the sum-total of Jewish Civilization. The debate will take place on Tuesday, Dec. 28, in the Great Hall. More than 2500 invitations for the affair have been already issued by the Intercollegiate Menorah office. The men to represent the College will be selected from the following members of the debating squad, Shapiro '27, Langer '27, Marcus '27, Sanders '28, Adler '28, and Putterman '27.

Tentative plans also include a symposium on "The Relation of Menorah to Other Organizations", in addition in the latter the Hillel Foundation, the Ivukah Movement, and Campus Fraternities. Harold Riegelman, a national officer of Zeta Beta Tau will discuss the latter in connection with the Menorah.

Plans are also being made for a discussion dealing with "The Affiliations of Graduates with Menorah". In addition, there will be an informal dinner tendered to official delegates, an Inter-Varsity Menorah Dance, a Theatre Party, and a sight-seeing tour. The business session will be devoted to the election of national officers and the rendering of reports by the various delegates.

WRESTLERS TO MEET NEWARK ED. SCHOOL

Match to Take Place Thursday Evening at East Orange

The Newark School for Physical Education is to be the next opponent of the Lavender matmen in a practice match arranged by Manager Hirschberg to take place Thursday evening at the Normal School gym in East Orange, N. J. This is a practice match to help the men get in condition for the meet with Franklin and Marshall which is to take place on January 15. It is expected that Franklin and Marshall will furnish the stiffest opposition yet encountered by the College.

The team is practicing regularly in the small gym and is being instructed in wrestling tactics and technique by Mr. W. Finkle, captain of a former lavender mat team, who is now an instructor in the Public Speaking Department.

It has been decided that there will be no frosh wrestling schedule because of the dearth of heavy men. However there is a great deal of promising freshman material, of which Broder is probably the best. Broder wrestles in the 158-lb class. Along with him are several other bright prospects for next year's mat team.

Because of Levin's victory over Nardi, this year hopes run high for him to feature prominently in championship matches. He was runner up in the Metropolitan Championships last year, having been defeated by Spitz, a City College alumnus. Spitz will enter the Metropolitan Championships this year for the Boy's Club.

Manager Hirschberg has decided to enter Levin in the Intercollegiate Championships and has great hopes for him.

Camel attracts the quality smoker

CAREFUL observation will reveal that men of quality demand quality in a cigarette—smoke Camels. A Camel smoker goes straight to the point in cigarettes and demands enjoyment.

For there are no better tobaccos or blending than you get in Camels. There is no other cigarette taste and fragrance that can compare with Camels, because they are rolled of the choicest Turkish and Domestic tobaccos grown. In a cigarette, as in the smoker, there is nothing that can substitute for quality.

If you want to know what experienced smokers like, just try Camels. Each year new millions try them all and find in Camels enjoyment realized. Camels never tire the taste. To test the quality of Camels, compare them with any cigarette made regardless of price.

Talks on "La Fontaine et Les Fables." Many Faculty Members Present.

Lecturing in French on La Fontaine and the fables, rendering an original dramatized version, M. Daniel Michenot, professor of diction at the University of Strasbourg, Alsace, France, made his appearance Thursday morning in room 105, before an appreciative audience of 350, French students and professors.

In his opening remarks, Professor Michenot said, "America is an ideal country for studying, and I greatly envy you for your magnificent facilities."

Speaking of La Fontaine, the lecturer stated that the poet had one quality that is only too rare today, that is, laziness. He added hastily that he did not mean a mere lethargy, but an intelligent laziness.

"People who are lazy in the right way," he began, in warming up to his theme, "take time to go away to the country, to reflect and to observe. Such a man was La Fontaine.

"The poet," continued M. Michenot, "was a painstaking and diligent workman, for all his good-natured manner. He was also a master of the verse whose lines are of varied length, having no fixed or arbitrary pattern. La Fontaine used this style of verse not because he found nothing better, but because it produced many charming effects."

The French professor spoke in his native tongue throughout the course of the lecture and, as indicated by frequent applause and laughter, appeared to be well understood by the large audience of students and faculty men which overflowed the lecture hall.

Continuing, he said, "one should act the fables instead of reciting them in a dry, matter-of-fact way, for they are a play of humanity, with the world for a stage."

The lecturer seemed to know from memory most of the fables studied in the French four course. He recited as many of the fables as time allowed, pantomiming the various characters with gestures and weird sounds, which brought much laughter and applause.

Many comments were heard on the "beautifully clear diction that was a delight to hear," as characterized by a younger member of the French faculty, who added that, "The infinite variety of his gestures and intonations was such as to make the characters live before one's eyes."

The lecturer paused on several occasions in the course of his talk to make some humorous remarks which appeared to be very appropriate.

Professor Charles A. Downer, head of the Romance Languages department, opened the meeting with a few well-chosen words, introduced the speaker and acquainting the audience with his work. Most of the French faculty were present, as well as Dr. Liptzin, of the German department, and several others.

M. Michenot has been on a lecture tour since early in October, under the auspices of the Alliance Francaise of this city. The lecture on La Fontaine given here Thursday, was the last of a series in a tour he has been making throughout the country, speaking at various colleges and universities.

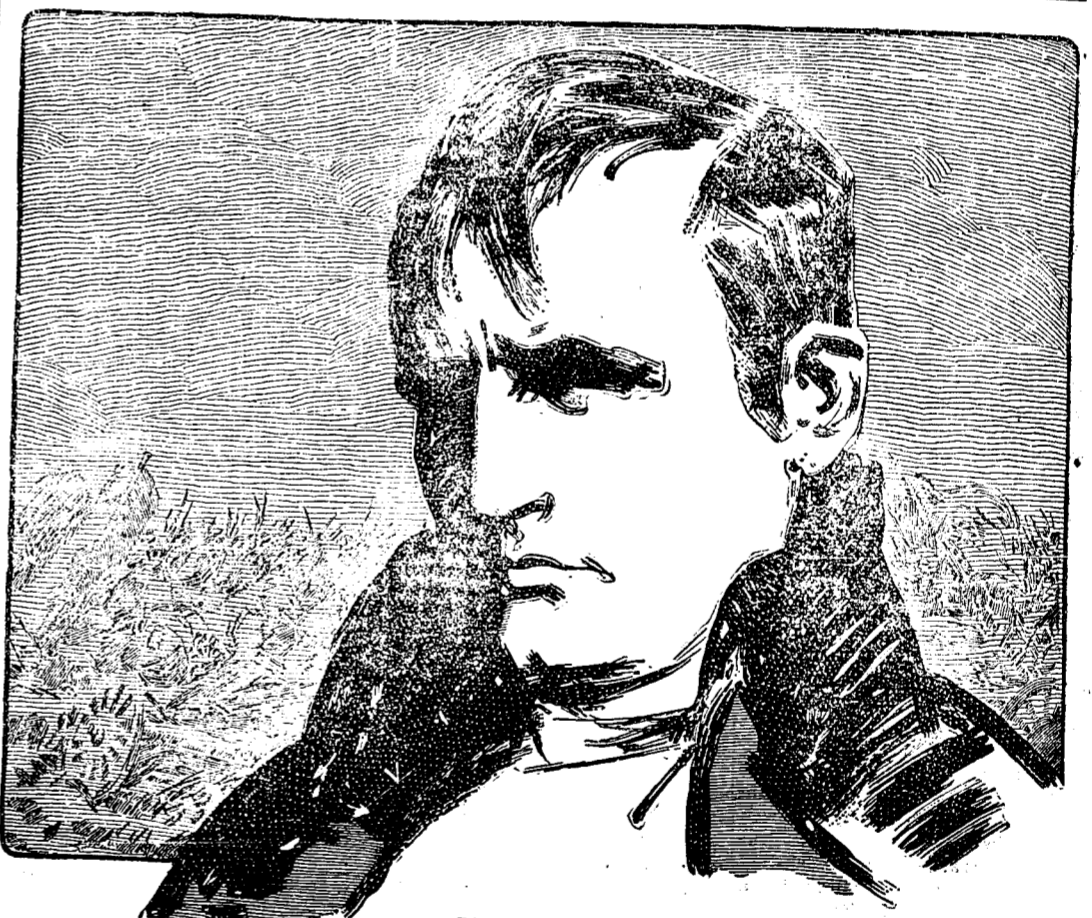

The list of fables that were dramatized, follows:

- Le Lion et le Rat. La Colombe et la Fourmi. La Cigale et la Fourmi. Le Loup et l'Agneau. Le Heron—La Fille. Le Chene et le Roseau. Les Animaux Malades de la Peste. Le Lion Amoureux. La Jeune Veuve.

Man-power

Four millions of the best man-power of Europe perished in the Napoleonic conquests. Military conquest is non-creative, while industry is always creative.

In the last ten years one American manufacturer—the General Electric Company—has created machines having a man-power forty times as great as that of all the lives lost in the Napoleonic wars.

In the years to come, when the college men and women of today are at the helm of industry and of the home, it will be realized more and more that human energy is too valuable to be wasted where electricity can do the work better at lower cost.

The laboratories and shops of industry are the sources of many of the enduring attainments of our times. In the General Electric organization is an army of 75,000 persons, co-operating to make electricity do more and better work for humanity.

A series of G-E advertisements showing what electricity is doing in many fields will be sent on request. Ask for booklet GEE-18.
