PRICE FIVE CENTS

MIKE SUBSCRIPTIONS GO ON SALE TODAY IN SENIOR ALCOVE

Charge for Seniors to Be $4.50
Including Biography and Photograph

LOU ROCHMES '27, EDITOR
ANNOUNCES NEW PLANS

Year Book to Be One of Largest and Most Elaborate
Yet Published

Subscriptions for the 1927 Microcosm go on sale today in the senior alcove. In accordance with the faculty provision that no contracts may be undertaken until the venture is certain of financial stability, the Mike staff intends to start a drive until the thousand dollars, stipulated by Professor Hubert as the preliminary requirement, is obtained.

The immediate drive for subscriptions is to be made among the members of the senior class, especially among those who will be graduated this February. The charge to seniors, which is $4.50, includes the insertion of a photograph and individual biography. Clubs and fraternity contracts are also being sought.

Subscriptions Obtainable Now
Subscriptions may be obtained any day from Harry Numark '27, business manager of the yearbook, or Mac Slavin '27, circulation manager. Seniors are urged to subscribe as early as possible in order to assure the Mike of sufficient backing.

The 1927 Microcosm, according to Lou Rochmes '27, editor-in-chief, will be the largest and most elaborate ever published at the College. Many new features will be inaugurated which should go to give the annual a more diversified appeal than even the 1926 Mike, conceded to be the best, had.

One of the innovations will be the great amount of color work. Besides the frontispiece, for which is planned a multi-colored drawing to be reproduced by three color process, the annual will contain at least five full page, three color drawings. The art work in addition to the colored plates, will be profuse. Frank Netter '27, art editor of the '26 book, holds the same position on the staff of the 1927 Mike.

New Arrangement of Pictures
As an attraction to the seniors especially, individual photos of those who subscribe will take the place of the strip of four pictures usually run. The book will again have four senior photos to the page, but the arrangement will be altered so as to permit an increase in the size of each and so as to distribute the cuts in such a manner as to give individuality for each.

Many other innovations are promised by the editor, some of which have not yet been materialized into concrete form. As a result of the innovations, the size of the book will be increased substantially.

A photographer has already been secured, but the printing contract will not be signed until the necessary sum of one thousand dollars has been subscribed. This total may be raised by the income received from clubs and fraternities as well as by the support accorded the annual by the seniors.

The editors hope to include the entire group of the '27 class who are graduated this term. The February

CLUB COMMITTEE TO REVIEW CHARTERS

Prepared Questionnaire Must Be Answered by All
College Clubs

Prompted by the investigation begun by the Board of Trustees, the Student Council, last Friday, asked all clubs to submit a copy of their constitutions to the club committee.

This inquiry, however, will not effect such organizations as the Menorah, Y.M.C.A., or Newman Club, which have received their charters directly from the College, and not through the Student Council. The committee in charge, appointed by Dave Kanstoren '27, consists of the following four seniors: Herbert M. Levy, chairman, David Flacks, Ralph R. Temple and Morton Sleenfreund.

Presidents from the various clubs are requested to get in touch with the committee men, in charge of their particular club. Herbert Levy '27, has charge of the Philosophy, Radio, Peace, Spanish and Classical clubs, and the Deutsche Verein. Ralph Temple '27, is to investigate the C.D.A., Officers, Camera, French, History and Dramatic clubs. David Flacks '27, is to take care of Biology, Chemistry, Mathematics, Engineering and the Seven Arts clubs. Morton Sleenfreund '27 will investigate the Social Problems club, Geology, Boxing, Politics and Education clubs.

The questions to be asked by the committee are to cover first, a list of the officers' names and the number of active, interested, members of the clubs. The second question concerns activities last term and its proposed program this term. Herbert Levy, who after stating the promised support of the president of the Student Council declares in his letter to the Campus that "any club which does not prove of sufficient interest to the student body, as evidenced by a well attended meeting and a reasonable amount of activity will have its charter revoked and its privilege to continue as a City College club rescinded."

SQUAD HOLDS INITIAL GOLF PRACTICE IN GYM

Twenty-four men reported for the initial indoor golf practice. Dr. MacNeish, who recently was appointed to the math department, will supervise the activities of the team.

Among the men who reported are Monroe Mayer '28, captain of the team, and Edmund Goodman '28, of last year's team. A tourney will be held to make the final selections. Indoor practice this semester will be under the tutelage of Mr. Maurice McCarthy.

A tentative team selected from the candidates recently played St. John's and beat them 4-0, despite the fact that St. John's is entered in the Intercollegiate Golf League. It is certain that there will be a match with Fordham next Spring and possibly with teams of the Big Three.

The schedule depends on the amount of material from which the coaches can select a team.

NATATORS TO MEET FIRST TIME TODAY

Candidates Needed for Varsity
Swimming and Water
Polo Teams

A meeting of all candidates for the varsity swimming and water polo teams will be held this afternoon at 5 o'clock in the Hygiene building. Although many veterans of last season are back at the College again this year several positions on the teams are still open. Accordingly, all men who have any swimming ability whatsoever are urged to attend.

Prospects for the swimming season this year are much brighter than they were last year. Several new men, coming up from the cubs of last year, are expected to make a name for themselves in intercollegiate swimming circles. Bernard Epstein '28 who was elected captain of the natators at a meeting held late last Thursday will swim the breast stroke for the Lavender and will have as his teammate Jules Blumensohn '28. Captain Epstein took second place in that event in the Intercollegiate Swimming Association races of 1924.

Harold Silverman '28 who did the diving for the varsity in the 1925-26 season will hold the same position on the team this year. In the free style events Coach McCormick will have a big selection from which to choose. Harry Meisel '29 who was a star sprinter on the Lavender cubs last season will represent the College in the 50 and 100 yard events. Cosmir Patrick '27, who swam for the varsity last year will again perform this term. Sol Bakis '28 and Murray Klinger '28 will also be candidates for the short distance positions. Another of the 1925-1926 freshman will step into a varsity position in the person of David Herman '29 who swims the backstroke.

Three new members have been added to the Eastern Collegiate Swimming and Water Polo Association which now consists of eight colleges. The new teams are Syracuse, Dartmouth and Navy. Due to this increase in membership the College will only have one meet with each team instead of two as has heretofore been the case.

In water polo practically the entire team with the exception of Emerin Goldberg, who captained the poloists last season, will be back. Captain Greenstein '28 who was one of the best forwards in the league will hold down his old position on this year's aggregation. The forward line will be further strengthened by Dick Diamond '27 and Jean Devine '27.

LARGE CROWD TO CHEER TEAM IN STADIUM TODAY

Rally

In anticipation of the Manhattan game tomorrow, Max Schimmel '28, varsity cheer leader, has been directed by the Athletic Association to hold a Pep Rally at 1 p. m. today in the Great Hall.

Coach Parker and Captain Isador Seidler will address the students and short speeches will also be made by Assistant Coach Plaut and Manager Elmer Settle.

Immediately following these talks the entire varsity squad will appear on the platform and the audience will be sent through its paces, singing the college songs and cheering in time to the gyrations of cheerleader Schimmel. The R.O.T.C. band will supply the accompaniment.

Team Needs Support
"Everybody who can should be down today at one o'clock in the Great Hall" declared Captain Isador Seidler when interviewed. "The team needs the support of every man in the school in order to win the Manhattan Game."

Immediately after the rally the entire audience will be invited to adjourn to the Stadium to watch the Lavender Gridmen engage in their last practice session before the game with the Green team. A scrimmage with the junior-varsity will probably be held at that time.

Tickets for the Manhattan game are now on sale in the alcoves in the Student concourse. They may also be obtained from Professor Williamson, Hyman Sorokoff '28, Bernard Eisenstein '28, Howard Isserson '28 and Jack Deutsch '29.

Because tomorrow's contest will be City College's Walter Camp Memorial, tickets are being sold at a twenty-five cent advance in price. Tickets at the gate will cost a dollar and a quarter. For Union members the price will be one dollar. The Manager of Intra-Mural Athletics Wanted by A.A.

Candidates for position of manager of intra-mural Athletics will meet Thursday in the A. A. room in the Hygiene Building at twelve. The Athletic Association plans to carry on a program of intra-mural athletics on a large scale. "A man of responsibility and experience" declared President Isadore Seidler "is needed for the new position". The successful candidate will be a member of the A. A. executive board.

TEAM READY FOR BIG GAME

Large Crowd Expected for First Contest With Local
Local College

TRAINER REPORTS THAT TEAM IS IN GOOD SHAPE

Return of Captain Seidler to Game Strengthens Forward
Wall

The largest crowd of the season will witness the Lavender gridmen's effort to maintain their winning streak, at the expenses of Manhattan College, tomorrow in the "big game" for both local colleges. The ticket sale for this game has exceeded all previous figures, and by 2:00 p. m. tomorrow the Lewisohn Stadium should be entirely filled.

The contest promises to be the most closely contested one on the College Schedule, inasmuch as the Green regards this game as the most important one for its team, and much traditional rivalry in connected with it. Manhattan has not played since October 15 when the team lost to St. Lawrence, 20-3. The only victory the Green accounted for was chalked up against Springfield College by a 3-0 tally. Rutgers beat the uptown boys by a 8-0 score.

Men in Good Shape

Doc Duckers, varsity trainer, reports all the men to be in excellent shape for tomorrow's contest with the exception of McAden, who will be out with a badly sprained wrist. McAden was playing up to his 1924 form and his injury means the loss of one of the best reserve linemen on Doc Parker's squad.

The crack Lavender line, which has been so instrumental in the winning of three games, is expected to perform up to its usual standard. The local goal line has been creased but three times this season, a fact which demonstrates the ability of the forward wall, Capt. Tige Seidler will be ready for duty again and will probably have Hal Rosner as his mate at the other end position with Tubridy, Goldberg and Lipsitz ready for action. All these ends have distinguished themselves by their fine play in the last four games and the flanks are about the strongest posts in the line. Johnny Elterich and Johnny Clarke are as fine a pair of tackles as the Lavender has had in recent years, and are ably supported by Artie Rosenbluth and Willie Halpern at the guard positions. Al Dreiband, who has rapidly developed as a roving center and has proven himself an accurate snapper back will again start for the Lavender. Ed. Gall, his understudy will be ready to go in the fray in case of necessity.

Same Backfield to Start.

As for the backfield, Doc Parker will probably start the same combination that performed so ably against Rhode Island, last Saturday. The flashy Tubby Raskin, who starred in the contest against the Providence lads will again call the signals. Raskin ran the team in a manner which was reflected in the score which the Lavender rolled up.

NEW YORK AGGIES DOWN JAYVEE, 13-0

Grossman Makes 60-Yard Run
—Shapiro and Voso
Star in Line

Fighting valiantly to avert a third defeat the College Jayvee eleven bowed to the husky New York Aggies, last Saturday afternoon, at Farmingdale, L. I. by a 13-0 tally. The farmers scored in the first quarter when Van Orden, their captain raced around left end for thirty-five yards, scoring the first six pointer. In the third period, the Aggies kicked, and while the ball rolled over the Lavender goal line, touching one of the College men, a touchdown was recorded for the Green and White when one of their players fell on the bouncing oval.

The Jayvee played a mediocre game but at times shone brilliantly. Early in the third quarter Grossman substituting for Mezey for Pinson, intercepted an Aggie pass on his 10-yard line and dodged thru the entire Green and White team for sixty yards before he was brought down. With the leather on the former 5 yard line, in the final period the Jayvee failed to tally after four futile attempts.

The entire Lavender junior aggregation showed marked improvement over their form in the Fordham tilt.

THAT PEP RALLY

An opportunity to supply some of that moral aid which many sport devotees consider all-important falls to the lot of the entire student body today. The first pep rally of the current football season is scheduled to start at one o'clock in the Great Hall. Causing all the exuberance is tomorrow's encounter with Manhattan College, which will make its annual, and as yet unsuccessful, bid for victory on the gridiron.

The program is fairly attractive—short speeches by coaches and captain, introduction of the entire team, and peppy talks by such College personalities as "Big Bill" Guthrie, who makes listeners forget there ever was such a thing as an acoustic problem. And then there'll be opportunity for a little vocal practice.

Besides being a potential gesture of enthusiasm, the proposed assembly should throw some light on the question of whether students object to chapel because of the usually boresome programs or because it consumes an hour of their precious time. If the former premise prevails, the S. R. O. sign will be displayed early. The occasion is too jubilant to state the alternative, so we'll merely urge that you be in your seats early.

CONGRATULATIONS, DEUTSCHER VEREIN!

While dwelling on the general subject of chapels, it is interesting to note that the Deutscher Verein has secured permission to conduct an assembly in the near future. From the viewpoint of effort and initiative alone, the society merits the commendation of all. From the viewpoint of the program presented, it will no doubt merit the attendance of all.

Deutscher Verein, it will be recalled, decisively won the inaugural Campus Song Contest in the spring. At that time, the few hundred present felt amply rewarded for their journey to the Great Hall. The songs rendered gave cheer to music lovers. And every week the society has been entertaining its members in its own enjoyable way. This joy it will endeavor to spread among all.

How clearly this chapel indicates the deficiencies of the Student Council! More power to Deutscher Verein, which can accomplish what the Council has been unable to do.

Beer, Women, and Song

Ye bards of the vineyard who wassail and sing
 Khyyamical joys of the old-vintaged wine,
 Your glory's departed; now beer is the thing,
 For malt is a gift of high Helion's mine.

So fill up the tankard,
 And fill up bowl,
 Take a bite of your pretzel,
 And let the beer roll;
 Tho your voice it be husky,
 You will sing like an angel
 Tho your accent be rough,
 If you drink but enough.

Howie Fensterstock who in private life is a profound philosopher startled those familiar with his scholarly habits by a witty effusion.

"I'm having a linen shower, boys," he remarked nonchalantly.

"Who is she?" several asked breathlessly.
 He made no answer but drawing an Irish linen handkerchief from his pocket, blew his nose vigorously.—Ugh! how disgusting.

A report from authentic sources hath it that Ivy Packer V. P. of the Student Council is contemplating a contribution to this popular colyum. If so we have on our celebrated staff the following notables:

Readers may expect luscious colyums in the immediate future. We are now engaged in dissecting a volume, Degeneration in the Great French Masters. J.B.R.

'29 CLASS STARTS FORMAL ACTIVITIES

Frosh-Soph Score Again Even as '30 Captures Cross-Country Event

One of the largest meetings in the history of the sophomore class was held last Thursday. Real formal work in the fulfillment of the term's program was begun.

The entire dance committee, with Ben Rosenthal and Sandy Rothbart as co-leaders has been appointed. The temporary members are Hyman Bass, George Keuner, Julius Koch, William Wolarsky, Jess Weiss, Sam Feinstein, Louis Schwartz, Sylvan Freeman, Ben Schiff, Fred Bassin, and Philip Gordon. The tickets have been distributed and plans are being formulated for a unique dance. The Soph Strut will be held in the College gymnasium on November 20. Genuine spirit has been manifested by the '29 class of the Brooklyn Branch which has promised whole hearted support. A new feature in the form of a dance class has been instigated by the sophomores. Through the courtesy of the Menorah Society, the Menorah alcove has been secured for these classes. The best dancers in the school have already offered their services as instructors to the boys who are not versed in this art. The class also wishes it to be understood that all men from any class whatever are welcome at these instruction periods. They will be held every Friday afternoon at 2 p. m.

The class has also shown great spirit by reserving a section of the Stadium for the Manhattan game.

Last Thursday a frosh-soph athletic meet was held in the Stadium. In closely fought battles the two classes tied up the score in their series of athletic events. The '29 class was leading, having won the tug-of-war and the cane-spreed by the count of 13-11, while '30 had only been successful in capturing the track meet. Then came '30 and captured the cross-country race, 25-15.

The race took the barriers twice around the course which extended from the 138th street gate up to 140th street, around the main building down St. Nicholas Terrace to 127th street, then up to Convent Avenue, and back to the gate at the finish. The complete distance measured a little over two and one-half miles. In the final abulation, the places of the first four men of each class to finish were recorded. The frosh captured the first, third, fifth and sixth places, while the sophs snared the second, fourth, ninth, and tenth places.

First place was captured by Lerner '30 in the fine time of 17:19, leading at the finish by over one hundred yards. Closely bunched behind came Pillar '29, Fernandez '30, Klein '29, Rosen '30, Singer '30, Alexander '30, Schulenfree '29, Read '29, and Rosensteel '30.

The next was in charge of Sid Klein was the official time-keeper.

The complete results follow:

FROSH-SOPH FLAG RUSH TO BE HELD THURSDAY

The freshmen will engage the sophs in a flag rush on Nov. 4, according to Hy Sorokoff '28 chairman of the frosh-soph committee. This contest gives the '30 men a chance to even the score with their inveterate rivals.

The latter now have the edge over the frosh, having won both the cane-spreed and tug-of-war, while their opponents were victorious in the track contest. Clem Finklestein '30, chairman of the upper freshman vigilance committee will lead his class in the flag rush.

PAST PERFORMANCES

Portraits of Pathos

JAUREZ AND MAXIMILIAN, a drama by Franz Werfel. Item One of the Guild's repertory, at the Guild Theatre.

For the first selection on its repertory program, the Guild has chosen a lumbering, extravagant manuscript by Franz Werfel whose Goat Song of some time previous was esteemed excellent enough for that eloquent Austrian to declaim as his swan song, and forever hold his throat Jaurez and Maximilian he calls his encore, and as encores go, it is not nearly so provocative of approbation as the lyric that brought down and stunned many, many houses and caused the Guild to write Werfel furiously for another to match, if not surpass it.

This drama must be a little disappointing to the many who were astounded at the undecipherable symbols that abounded monstrosly throughout The Goat Song. It is a simple, unassuming, declarative study of a pathetic Hapsburg, and it is not even couched in the cipher that is dramatic poetry or poetic drama. Loquacious it is, and sometimes bombinating but never florid and fanciful. It rattles forever with the musketry that is consistent dramatic writing. In substance it is conservatively solid and with or without the stupendous efforts of the Guild to dress it lavishly and heavily, one perceives that tragedy it is, or seems to be, mistaken for.

One can hardly describe Jaurez and Maximilian as immaculate tragedy or as the psychological or any other logical study of a man being gradually engulfed in tragic circumstances, dramatically confluent in pattern and execution. It is rather a narration of a pathetic fellow, doomed to tragedy from the very commencement of his enterprise, a narration made explicit by the embellishments of incident, added to one to the other, in independent succession.

Mr. Lunt is again up to his old tricks but they are good tricks and his Maximilian is a competent vocalization of Werfel's. It is of little consequence to the merit of the drama but one cannot with ease refrain from the remark that Mr. Robinson played his Porfirio Diaz in exactly the same manner as he played Caesar two twelve months ago. The Guild has loaded the stage with furniture, throwing restraint to the winds, but they are skillful about it and the effect, though wealthy, is not improper. A second-rater has just asked your reporter, over his shoulder, whether he meant players when he tactfully typed furniture. Well, he might have, but he didn't.

SURE FIRE, a comedy by Rolph Murphy. Presented by Boothe, Gleason and Truex at the Waldorf Theatre.

The new Waldorf Theatre houses, as its premier offering, a bright, well-developed comedy which goes by the name of Sure Fire. The opus concerns an oft-repeated theme, a playwright seeking and developing material for a play. The play proper and the play within the play become inextricably interwoven, providing potential material for an entertaining two hours if cleverly handled by the author. That such is the case reflects to the credit of Rolph Murphy.

Robert Armstrong is the desperate author who discovers that country widows really do have pretty daughters and mortgages on the old homestead. He does justice to the role of a Greenwich village devotee verifying the information that stories end happily nine times out of ten because that's the way it happens in real life. An equally laudable performance is returned by Hugh O'Connell, who puts Bob in the traditional deep water, incidentally for the sake of the girl but particularly for the sake of the plot. In general,

"U" COMMITTEE DRIVE TO END NOVEMBER 10

Sale of Over 1,000 Tickets Expected by End of Campaign

No more "U" tickets will be procurable after Wednesday, November 10, at 2 p. m., which date will end the seven-week drive of the Union committee for greater "U" membership. All part payment tickets must be paid for in full today, in order for their holders to receive benefits.

To date the committee has received payment in full for 674 tickets and part payment on 257. Chairman J. Leonard Stoll '27 expects to have over 1,000 tickets sold by the end of the campaign. All money collected as part-payments from students who have not paid in full by November 10, will be confiscated and turned in to the standing fund of the Union committee to defray the expenses to be incurred in next term's campaign.

The "U" membership of all men engaged in extra curricular activities is being checked up carefully, repeated notices having appeared in the Campus to the effect that non-"U" members will be dropped from all teams, clubs, publications and other organizations of the College.

Several clubs having refused to give to the committee a list of their members who have no "U" tickets, the Student Council at its meeting Friday approved the decision of Chairman Stoll not to give any activity its allotment for the term until all men engaged in that branch have had their "U" membership certified.

BRANCH STUDENTS PLANNING MAGAZINE AND GRID TEAM

Class Officers Appoint Smoker,
Dance, Athletic and Frosh-
Soph Committees

Extra-curricular activities at the Brooklyn Branch of the College are progressing very smoothly. Although physically separated from the institution proper, the Brooklyn students evidently do not intend to let their annex deteriorate into a mere place of learning.

A football team is being organized this semester for which a schedule at present is being made up. The gridgers intend to engage the St. Nicholas Height's Jayvee in combat and also arrange a number of other contests with some of the high schools.

Plans are also being projected for a Branch magazine which is to be called "The Pioneer". Rabinowitz '30 is the editor-in-chief, while Landau '30 will assist him. Sachs '30 is to be the business manager, while his assistant will be Harold D. Klipstein '29. It had been first intended to organize a paper but the expense and incidental difficulties proved too great and this project was abandoned.

The officers of both frosh and soph classes have already appointed the Smoker, Dance and Athletic committees. There is also the joint Frosh-Soph committee which published the freshman rules yesterday. The prom will be a joint affair, composed of the first and second year classes. Class ribbons are also being sold to the students.

brilliantly for the past several tilts, gaining steadily thru the opponents line, catching forwards, and playing an excellent defensive game will be seen tomorrow at his post at right half. Josephberg will have a capable running mate in Les Barckman whose playing has featured the contests so far. Barckman, is versatile, and might alternate with Josephberg to do the punting. Frank Longo still has the edge on Bill Cohen who has made a desperate battle for the fullback berth. Longo has played consistently on the offensive and defensive and because of his experience at tackle, which he played last year, has proven his ability in the eight man line.

The team will probably line-up as follows:

C.C.N.Y.	Pos.	Manhattan
Seidler	L. E.	J. Cohalan
Eiterich	L. T.	Skidd
Halpern	L. G.	Cronin

The Officers Club will hold its dance on December 10 and the C. D. A. on December 17, as a result of date assignments by the Student Council last Friday. The classes of 1927, 1928, and 1929 were previously assigned November 25, November 20, and November 13 respectively.

J. Leonard Stoll '27, chairman of the Union committee reported that to date, 674 full tickets, and 275 part payment stubs have been sold. $2,809.59 has already been collected and turned in to Professor Williamson, treasurer of the Union. The Biology, French, Dramatic and Mathematics clubs have refused to give lists of their members to the committee. Action will be taken against them in the near future. Other organizations are now being checked up as to membership. November 10 has been set as the final date when students in any activities may purchase "U" stubs.

The Fresh-Soph committee reported that the '30 class won the cross country meet while the '29 class captured the cane spree by the score of 13-11. The Flag Rush will be held next Thursday in the Stadium.

A mail committee consisting of H. Gottlieb '28, and S. Thom '27 and a lost and found committee consisting of Taylor '28, and L. Steinbach '28 were appointed.

DR. VON KLENZE LECTURES ON CLASSICISTS TO YEREIN

Selections Read From Schiller's
"Ballad" and Goethe's
"Faust"

An illustrated lecture on German Classicists including Goethe, Schiller and Heine, was delivered by Professor Camillo von Klenze, at the Deutscher Verein gathering Thursday afternoon at one o'clock in room 308.

Dr. von Klenze read two selections in German from Goethe's "Faust", and a selection from Schiller's "Ballad".

Professor von Klenze began with a reading from Goethe's "Prometheus", in which contempt is expressed for the gods and for all organized authority which, the professor explained, was exemplary of the French Revolutionary Period, as well as the "Storm and Stress" era of the Classical Age. Thus, Prometheus stood in a rock breathing his contempt, when Zeus finally struck him down with a thunderbolt.

The next reading from Goethe's "Bride of the Lamb" was the story of a heartless vampire who tells her that "the castration of the flesh is the highest expression of piety." "In the end," Dr. von Klenze told his audience, "she learns that her vision of a life is a wholly erroneous one." The theme of Schiller's "Ballad", the next reading, was very tersely outlined by the lecturer as "glorifying the ultimate victory of Justice."

Dr. von Klenze, concluded with a dramatic reading from the closing scene of Goethe's "Faust". Margarete is in the dungeon insane, when Faust comes to console her. She, thinking he is the hangman, refuses to leave her cell, as she visualizes the fatal scene in which she is dragged to her death.

Dr. von Klenze had a profound effect on the audience by his lecture. The readings were similar to those in the series given by Prof. Max Mantar, from Columbia who dramatized the readings of Nathan der Weise.

'27 TO DANCE IN GYM
THANKSGIVING NIGHT

Committees of the Class of '27 have arranged the social events for the semester. The Informal Dance will be held in the gym on Thanksgiving night, November 25. The formal dance, or Senior Prom, to be held in the Grand Ball Room of the Hotel Claridge, December 18, will be featured by a "tux parade".

Ben Daneman and Irv Ephron are respectively chairman and vice-chairman of the Informal Dance committee. Herman Kirschbaum and Ed- die Richter are co-chairmen of the Senior Prom Committee.

Joe Tulnor '27, Arty Rosenbluth '27, Johnny Eiterich '28, William Phillips '28, Edwin "Jinks" Levine '27, and William Halpern '28 are the other last year varsity men who will play this season. Several men including Edward Bokart, Seymour Cohen and Hackmeister who were on last year's freshman team are also candidates for the varsity.

A very successful season was had by last year's poloists who defeated Columbia and the University of Pennsylvania twice each and took third place in the league competition. With the addition of the new men it is expected that the team will equal and perhaps better last year's record.

MANY ALUMNI RUN FOR PUBLIC OFFICE

Robert W. Wagner '98, Nominee for U. S. Senator; Royal Weller '01 for Re-election

Candidates for United States Senator and Governor of the State of California are among the City College alumni running for office in tomorrow's election. Other graduates are candidates for Justice of the State Supreme Court, Justice of the City Court and Representative in Congress.

As running mate with Governor Smith, Robert W. Wagner '98 is the Democratic nominee for senator, opposing the incumbent, James W. Wadsworth, Republican. "Robert Wagner for Senator Club" was recently formed in the College and has conducted an active publicity campaign around the campus.

In the Congressional Representative fight in the twenty-first district three City College graduates lead the field of candidates. William J. Campbell '78, is running as the candidate of the Independent Party, while Emanuel Herter '92 is the Republican nominee. Royal H. Weller '01, representing the Democratic Party, aspires for re-election.

Two C.E.N.Y. men are rivals in the fourteenth congressional district, William J. Sirovitch '02 and Nathan D. Peariman '07, representing respectively, the Democratic and Republican parties. Mr. Sirovitch, who was defeated last year by his present opponent by the small majority of twenty-six votes will attempt, once more, to best his old rival.

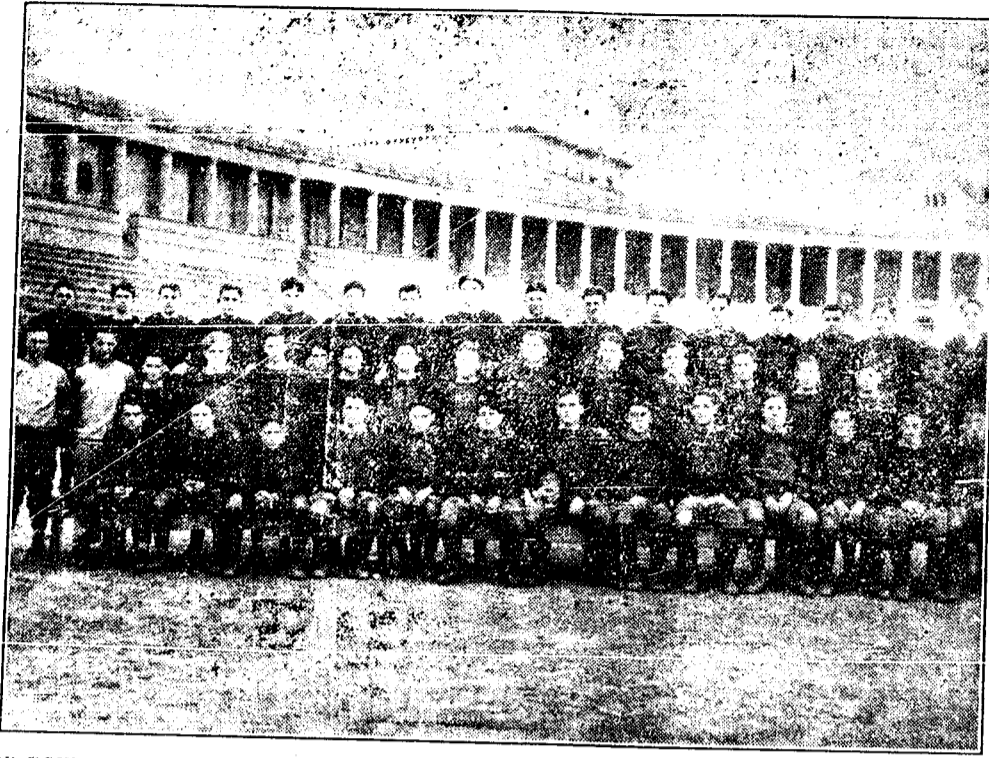

Both Alfred Frankenthaler '00, Democrat, and John Edmond Hewitt '06, Republican, candidates for Justice of the Supreme Court of New York are City College men and have been active in the legal profession since leaving this institution.

In the Bronx, William S. Evans '06, is the Democratic candidate for City Court Justice, while Benjamin Antin '10 will seek re-election as Assemblyman in the tenth district of that borough.

In the Borough of Brooklyn the College has two graduates running for member of the Assembly. They are Maurice Z. Bungard '12 candidate in the sixteenth assembly district and Jacob H. Livingston '16, standing for re-election in the twenty-first district. They are both Democrats.

Upton Sinclair, noted author, is running in California as the Socialist nominee for Governor. Mr. Sinclair, who has won widespread fame by his attack on the educational system of our Colleges and lower schools, first reached the public eye when, in the first decade of the century he published "The Jungle" an indictment of conditions in the Chicago stock yards. Since that time he has written more than thirty volumes, most of which are severe criticisms of some phase of the modern industrial system. Included among these are the "Goose Step" and the "Goslings" dealing respectively with the college and the public schools.

DR. SATTLER TO TALK AT MEETING THURSDAY

Dr. Louis Sattler of the Chemistry Department will address the Baskerville Chemical Society on the subject of "Chemical Reactions in Liquid Ammonia", at their regular meeting on Thursday.

The talk, based upon the theoretical consideration that no water existed on earth, but only liquid Ammonia, and that reactions took place in that medium, will deal with a study of the chemical reactions, both organic and inorganic, that would take place. Dr. Sattler is a well-known research worker in the field of organic chemistry, a short time ago, he read two papers on the subject at a meeting of the American Chemical Society.

BIO CLUB TO DISCUSS NATURAL HISTORY SURVEY

Members on Hike to Hunter's Island Collect Specimens for Study

"A natural History Survey of New York City and its environs" will be the subject for a discussion by the members of the Biology Club at the meeting next Thursday in room 319, according to David Levowitz, president of the organization.

On a Biology Club hike which was held yesterday specimens were gathered to form the basis for this week's discussion. Besides other specimens were obtained for the aquaria. The group then proceeded to Hunter's Island where a lunch over an open fire and a football game added to the day's program.

The discussion next Thursday will include exhibits of mounted specimens of birds, insects, leaves and barks of trees, as well as a discussion of the natural history opportunities of New York. There will be no principal speaker but rather a symposium participated in by members of the club and of the faculty of the Bio Department.

VARSITY HARRIERS BOW TO LAFAYETTE

Lose Dual Meet at Easton, Pennsylvania by Score of 17-38

Succumbing to the difficulties of the grueling Paxinosa Mountain Course, the varsity Cross-country team was trimmed last Saturday afternoon in a dual meet with Lafayette at Easton, Pa., by the score of 17-38.

The highlight of the race was the brilliant running of Peltzer, for the College. Ahead of the record at the half-way mark and constantly increasing his quarter-mile lead, he became lost at a crossroads and finished seventh.

The first three runners to finish were Lafayette men. Hynes, running a strong race, took fourth for the Lavender, five seconds behind Sanford of Lafayette. Fourth, fifth and sixth went to Lafayette with Peltzer finishing seventh and Herrmann, crack two-miler, ninth, a pace in back of Musgrave of Lafayette.

The race was won by George Stewart, Lafayette captain, who completed the course in the time of 39:25, 39 seconds ahead of Payne, a teammate.

The race was over a difficult course through the Paxinosa Mountain that sloped sharply for the first quarter-mile and continued uphill the remainder of the way.

The results follow:

1. Stewart, Lafayette	39.25
2. Payne, Lafayette	40.04
3. Sanford, Lafayette	40.15
4. Hynes, City College	40.20
5. Butte, Lafayette	40.37 1/2
6. Humma, Lafayette	40.44 1/2
7. Peltzer, City College	41.05
8. Musgrave, Lafayette	41.35
9. Herrmann, City College	41.36
10. Mauermeyer, City College	42.15
11. Lowe, City College	42.47
