PRICE FIVE CENTS

LAVENDER MERMEN TRIM SWARTHMORE BY SCORE OF 47-15

Water Poloists Also Gain Victory Over Janus A. C. By 22 to 16

COLLEGE ALWAYS LEADS

Natators Take First and Second in Four of the Seven Events

Taking five first places to their opponents one, the varsity tankmen chalked up their first victory of the season by trimming Swarthmore to the tune of 47-15 in the College pool last Friday night. The Lavender was always in the van, Meisel and Herman capturing the leading places in the opening event and their teammates increasing the lead in every event except the dive.

Relay Wins Event

It was in the relay that the College very conclusively demonstrated its superiority over the visitors. Although Klinger got off to a bad start in this event, before he finished his half-century he handed a considerable lead to Meisel. The latter not to be outdone by his teammate increased the open water to about half a lap. Elterich added a little more to the Lavender's advantage and Herman put the finishing touches to an already bad defeat by finishing a full lap ahead of his rival. Captain Bernie Epstein, although he did not continue on his record breaking streak showed his proficiency in the breast stroke by finishing about a half-lap ahead of Karachefsky who captured the three point position for the Lavender. The long distance swim was also a walk away for the College with Barkin and Lewis showing their heels to the visitors.

Polo Game Hard-fought

In contrast to the swimmers the water polo game with the Janus C. was very close, the varsity winning by the score of 22-16. It was only in the second half that the Lavender poloists after trailing at half time by the score of 12-17 jumped into the lead by means of three field goals while their opponents only garnered four points by free shots. On account of the absence of Deviene and Tubridy, Rosenbluth and Feinberg started the game. Kraus was afterward substituted for Feinberg and played a fine game throughout. Captain Greenstein was the star of the game, several times fighting his way through the entire Janus backfield to score.

The swimming summary: 50-yard Free Style—Won by Meisel, C. C. N. Y.; Klinger, C. C. N. Y., second; Shoemaker, Swarthmore, third. Time—0:27 1-5. 440-yard Free Style—Won by Barkin, C. C. N. Y.; Lewis, C. C. N. Y., second; Stibham, Swarthmore, third. Time—6:39. Fancy Dive—Won by Thompson, Swarthmore (93.2 points); Norton, Swarthmore (89 points), second; Goldman, C. C. N. Y. (96.3 points), third. 150-yard Back Stroke—Won by Boyce, C. C. N. Y.; Cowan, C. C. N. Y., second; Sellar, Swarthmore, third. Time—2:01 3-5. 200-yard Breast Stroke—Won by Ep-

Class Office Nominations Must Be in by Thursday

Nominations for all class offices will close Thursday with the elections committee, headed by Whitey Frank '28. Any student of the college may become a candidate for any office in his class by paying a twenty-five cent fee to a member of the committee. In every class, a president, vice-president, secretary, treasurer, student councillor, and athletic manager will be elected. The latter office is being contested for the first time this term. The athletic managers will assist the manager of intra-mural sports in his program of activities for the year. Elections will be held on March 1 for all classes except 1931.

Prelate and Prude View with Alarm a Licentious Lewd Decline of Drama

The light fantastic toe of musical comedy at the College, after seven years of almost complete quiescence, has at last shaken the sleeping sickness out of its bones and begun to wriggle vigorously. To the end that the Dramatic Society will present a song-and-dance revue in the new Townsend Harris theatre this June as a climax to an ambitious program of activity during the term.

Under the stimulus of the new facilities, undergraduate dramatics has taken a fresh lease of life. The Dramatic Society under the direction of Dr. Joseph L. Tynan is to be definitely organized as a producing group, with the object of putting on this term not only the revue, but also two other offerings. The first of these will be a program of two one-act plays, which have already gone into rehearsal, and which will be given about the middle of March, when carpentry work on the stage has been completed. The second show will be one of the several post-restoration plays that are now under the consideration of the dramatic society-officers.

Production of a musical varsity show has long been the cherished dream of various groups in the College. Several false starts have been made in that direction during recent years, particularly in 1925, when the subject was discussed enthusiastically for a time, and then dropped. In the present instance, work is already under way in all of the production departments.

The revue, as planned, will be a series of musical skits and comic

VARSITY DEBATERS DEFEAT GETTYSBURG

Audience Vote Taken in Novel Manner—2 to 1 for Lavender

The varsity debating team continued its unblemished season by defeating Gettysburg College by a two to one vote of the audience last Friday evening in the Great Hall. The subject for discussion was, "Resolved: That the United States cancel her inter-allied debts." The Lavender debaters upheld the negative. Dean Redmond acted as chairman and welcomed the 300 people who were present.

The decision was rendered in a novel manner. Those present were asked to register on their ballots first their personal convictions on the subject when the debate began, and then their belief after the debate. The C.C.N.Y. debaters convinced twice as many people to change their convictions as did the Gettysburg team and consequently were awarded the verdict.

George Warmund '28, Max Grumette '27, and Meyer Velinsky '28 represented the Lavender, and argued that the Allies are capable of paying, that the United States is morally justified in demanding payment, that the United States was very liberal in the debt funding agreements, and that the method of collection is reasonable and sound.

Gettysburg, represented by Stuart Smith, Walter Richter, and Ralph Ashton Nixdorf, while admitting legal justification for the debt, contended that America is morally unjustified in attempting collection, and that payment of the debt would mean the ruin of both America and Europe.

The Gettysburg debaters visited the

FROSH BASKETEERS DOWN MORRIS, 19-12

Score at Half Time Eight All—Frosh Guards Play Well

But a few minutes of heady basketball, late in the final stanza was all that was required to convince the Morris High School courtmen of the marked superiority of the Lavender cubs. The final score of this mediocre contest was 19-12.

Hard fought throughout, the game impressed the audience that neither team could boast of their passing or shooting ability. Long shots were the order of the evening and only here and there did the sphere swish its way through the net. Very few of the long heaves were followed up. Consequently tussles for possession of the ball were frequent.

The freshmen showed themselves more to an advantage in the Boys' High game. Passing the ball with more confidence, their play in general gave evidence that Doc Parker had stressed the value of teamwork. Berger, who played a fine game at guard was even with Spindell for scoring honors, each being credited with two field goals and one foul.

The first half ended with an 8-8 tie, but a determined yearling team took matters in their own hands in the second period. Korson put in the first goal from mid-field only to have Katzer from Morris follow suit. Then it was Spindell and Berger who tallied with difficult shots. Two fouls put in at different intervals ending Morris' scoring.

But the vindictive frosh were not content. Berger tossed in a foul only to start things popping later on with a field goal. After several minutes of aimless running on the court, Korson cut for the basket and tallied another two pointer. The contest ended soon after.

The line-up:
C.C.N.Y. Frosh
Riak L. F.
Felippa R. F.
Spindell C.
Korson L. G.
Berger R. G.

LAVENDER FIVE OFF-FORM

Sluggish Playing Main Cause of Second Consecutive One-Point Defeat

GAME POORLY PLAYED

Shooting of Lavender Below Standard—Foul Shooting Much Improved

For the second successive Saturday, the varsity courtmen played below their usual form and permitted themselves to be defeated by an inferior team, this time by Carnegie Tech of Pittsburgh. The margin of difference was again but one point, which efficiency could have been made up quite easily had the Lavender taken better advantage of their scoring opportunities. The final score was 24-23.

Teams Play Poorly

Despite the ragged playing by both teams, the game was interesting throughout. Going into the second half, the local quintet was trailing the Pennsylvanians, 15-19, and the gap was widened, 21-12, but with five minutes to go, the home team suddenly found itself and reeled off nine points to tie the score. Carnegie came back with a field goal and a foul which was just enough to win, for Rubinstein caged a goal from the floor as the game ended.

Carnegie's style of play was just the opposite to that of the College. The Pittsburgh boys had no highly-developed passing attack but they possessed keen eyes for the basket when it came to shooting. Acting-captain Amans played a good all-around game for his team and White was not far behind his leader.

Rubinstein High Scorer

Hick Rubinstein walked away with high-score honors, totaling eleven points; and each of his teammates broke into the scoring column at least once. The College's foul-shooting improved a bit, but was still below par, only seven out of thirteen throws being successful. Carnegie tallied six times on nine shots. In their anxiety to score, the local five made frequent infractions of the walking and discontinued-dribble rules, and many promising advances were checked by these violations.

A minute after the opening whistle, Hick Rubinstein started things with a field goal, but this was offset by two fouls by the Smoketown boys. Both Rubinstein and White made free tries, but Amans sent his team into the lead with a pretty side-shot. The passing of the home team was very good, but the New York men couldn't get through for a scoring shot.

Meisel Shoots Foul

Ted Meisel shot a foul, but Bill Lynch sent in a long shot from mid-floor. Rubinstein tallied after some very pretty pass-work and then evened things up with a foul. Hick played a strong game up to this point, scoring six of the Lavender's seven points.

After some wild shooting by the engineers, they suddenly found the range and the Carnegie quintet

WORK OF SEMESTER BEGUN BY MENORAH

Student Aid Committee Receives Approval of Dean Redmond

The College Menorah Society began its formal work of the semester by appointing a Committee on Freshman aid and a committee for the ensuing membership drive.

The Menorah Committee on Freshman Aid was appointed at the end of last semester for the purpose of helping the incoming freshmen during the days of registration.

Through a misunderstanding the committee was at first stopped but when Dean Redmond however, was finally notified of the real purpose of this committee, he heartily approved of its work in the following words:

"Surely students will profit by the assistance your society can offer them in the trying period of registration. This office will appreciate any help you can give to any of the incoming freshmen."

The chairman of the freshman aid Committee is Milton Bershad '27, having as co-workers, Oscar Singer '28, Morris Adler '28, and Sidney Berry '29. The formation of a permanent committee on Freshman Aid will be taken up by the President of the Menorah Society with Dr. Gottschall.

A membership drive was started on last Monday. The members of the committee are Oscar Singer '28, chairman, Milton Bershad '27, Robert Marcus '27, Morris Adler '28, Alvin J. Sonders '28, Isador E. Offenbach '28, S. Selig Sorkin '28, and Sidney Berry '29. These men will be directly responsible to the chairman. Each member of the committee will form his own sub-committee and in this way endeavor to carry out their work with the greatest efficiency.

Robert Marcus '27, chairman of the Debating Squad, announces a debate with the Menorah Society of New York University on Saturday evening, March 26, 1927. Negotiations are in full swing for a joint Menorah play with the Adelphi Menorah which is to take place in the near future. Dr. David de Sola Pool will open the first Menorah forum on Thursday, Feb. 24, 1927 at 12:15 o'clock.

The following is an outline of the

Dr. Kurt Richter Addresses Education Club On Pestalozzi, The Man and His Work

"Pestalozzi, the Man and his Work" was the subject of an address delivered by Dr. Kurt E. Richter before the Education Club Thursday afternoon in room 105. The lecturer is educational director of the American branch of the Pestalozzi Centenary. William Shapiro '27, president of the Education Club, introduced the speaker.

Dr. Richter sketched briefly the salient points in the life of the great educator. Born in Zurich in 1746 Pestalozzi soon showed exceptional promise and after a desultory preparation entered the University at his native town. Though his original intention had been to enter the ministry, a connection which he formed with a group of radicals convinced him that his mission lay rather in the study of jurisprudence.

Rousseau's influence, however, soon showed its force and the young student determined to engage in agriculture. His experience with a few children whom he trained at his farm during this time determined his final vocation.

The publication of his "Leonard and Gertrude" made him instantaneously famous, and his later experience with several schools, the sites for which were donated by the government, established his supremacy as an educator.

"Pestalozzi has often been called the father of the new education," the lecturer stated, "and this name is amply justified. He was the first of the great psychological school. For the first time in the history of education, the idea was promulgated that the student is to be developed, rather than regarded as a receptacle of miscellaneous information.

"Pestalozzi was also the first to stress the importance of the personality of the teacher in relation to education of the child. The instructors who left his school were imbued with the spirit of the master and made teaching a fine art rather than a mere science.

Horace Mann spread the new Pestalozzi system in America; the Prussian schools, too, were profoundly influenced. Much of the modern educational practice is based upon the principles evolved by the noted teacher."

The character of the educator was illustrated by the speaker by quoting a letter written by Pestalozzi to his sweetheart. "I owe you the open confession, my dear," he wrote, "that I shall always consider my duties toward my beloved partner subordinate to the duties to my country.... My whole heart is my country's."

This lecture marked the opening of the Educational Club's program for the coming term. Other prominent speakers have promised to attend later meetings of the club. All students interested in Education are invited to be present. Meetings are held every Thursday in room 305.

THE TASK OF 1931

With the first of the freshman assemblies past and the first snake dance of the class of 1931 over, the sophomores are again at their task of imbuing the newcomers to C.C.N.Y. with college spirit. Certainly the field of endeavor is vast enough. It only remains to be seen what the results will be.

Last Thursday's battling among the lower classmen shows that there is surplus energy stored up in the neophytes. The presence of frosh caps and the absence of neckties on some of the '31 men bear witness to the good work of the '30 class. The freshmen's opposition to accepting the rules meekly and their ability to put up a good scrap against a class twice their size speaks well for them. Upperclassmen, however, remain sceptical as to how long their pep will last.

Freshman rules were not adopted by the Student Council in order to offer occasions for campus fights. Their purpose has always been to introduce the entering class to extra-curricular activities and to include a desire to enter into the spirit of the College. Inter-class contests are meant to take the place temporarily of the activities into which the freshmen are expected to find the way later. The task of the underclassmen is stupendous. They have before them improvement in the ever-growing calibre of athletic teams—a task for which they will have to be on their toes if they expect to keep pace with the progress which has been made within the last few years. The field of intra-mural activities among the upper as well as the lower class is still in its infancy. For those who are not athletically inclined or not able to make the teams, there remains the vast field of clubs and societies—any of which might easily bear improvement and some of which are almost ready to give up the ghost. There are also the three publications of the College whose staffs need replenishing at the beginning of each semester.

The class of 1931 is in an institution new to it. It must find its place and put new blood into the old tradition which has been handed down to it. The extra-curricular world of C.C.N.Y. has a place for everyone except the drone.

RUIN AND GOLD
(An Expressionistic Play)

Preface:

"Every man is confronted with the magnitudinous task of adjusting himself to an universe which seems awry. How one man faces this task is the theme of this play. The author has tried in a straightforward manner to deliver his message. The play is nothing if not symbolical."

Scene I

The home of John Mann. His wife sits in a rocker knitting. Three children play on the floor. From other apartments are heard different noises: a radio soprano singing, "By the Waters of the Minnetonka", a baby crying, an ambitious saxophonist, etc. Mann enters.

"You, my wife. Sitting upon a rocker, huh. And there—my three children. Mine. God, what a world! Don't look at me like that. I'm not crazy. Or yes, I am. What of it? The hell with you. The hell with everything, with everybody. Good-bye."

He goes. His wife weeps quietly. Two of the children scream at the top of their voices, while the third laughs uproariously. The scene shifts.

Scene II

A crowded dance-hall. Numerous couples are dancing to the strains of "Yessir, 'ats my baby!" All the couples clasp each other in the same lackadaisical manner and have the same vacant stare and fixed smile on their faces. Mann enters, his hair disheveled. He wanders about wildly, stopping many of the dancing couples. He looks intently into each face, as if searching for something. Each couple that he stops walks off to the side angrily. Finally all the dancers have stopped dancing and are talking angrily. The uproar grows. They begin to shout. Suddenly Mann seizes a chair and swings at the head of a man nearest him. The man's head flies off his shoulders and hurtles through the air. The scene shifts.

Scene III

A baseball field. Mann stands with a bat in his hands and has just hit the ball. "Foul ball," yells the umpire. The people in the stands howl angrily. "Robber!"—"He's blind!"—"Throw him out." Mann glares at the umpire and then into the stands. All of a sudden he becomes angry. "Swine," he yells. He runs into the pitcher's box and begins throwing balls into the stands. People try to avoid the balls but in vain. There is an uproar. The stands collapse. The scene shifts.

Scene IV

The Police-Court. A child of five sits in the magistrate's seat. He wears smoked glasses and bangs upon the bench with a rattle. A woman is brought before him. "Your Honor, may I have some justice please?" His Honor raps upon the table with his rattle and proclaims, "We're all out of it just now. We expect a fresh supply in any day." Mann comes in, and recognizes the magistrate as his own child. His Honor begins to bawl loudly. Mann walks over to the magistrate and throws him into a waste basket. He gets into the chair himself.

"Order! You, what have you done? Beaten your wife, and half killed her? You are guilty of criminal negligence and laziness. I sentence you to decapitation. Officer, remove that man. And you, what have you done woman? Come, speak. Help, it's my wife!"

He leaps down from his seat and springs through the nearest window. The scene shifts.

Scene V

Heaven. St. Peter and another angel are conversing. St. Peter is slightly deaf, so the other angel has to yell in his ear. Mann enters. "Hey there St. Pete. I know a good joke. It seems there were two Irishmen, St. Patrick and St. Michael—" St. Peter interrupts. "Mortal, do not force me to use one of my miracles. They are all rather rusty from disuse, and I shouldn't be surprised if you got erysipelas from one of them." Mann is not frightened. He begins sparring with the saint. He jabs, hooks, upper-cuts, but his blows seem to pass right through his opponent. Finally, St. Peter swishes with his wing and Mann falls on his back. The other angel counts: "One, two, three, four, five, six—" The scene shifts.

Scene VI

City Hall Park. Mann and another man are stretched out on benches. Mann is speaking: "There is but one eternal force in life, and that is consciousness. Consciousness dominates the world. To live correctly is to be conscious. To be conscious is to be. This I have discovered. It is the secret of life. It is nature's meaning." The other man sleeps on.

Y. M. C. A. OUTLINES TERM'S ACTIVITIES

New Discussion Series Inaugurated—Freshmen Invited to Hike Tomorrow

The College Y.M.C.A. announces a hike tomorrow, Washington's birthday, for the purpose of welcoming freshmen into the organization. All members and those intending to join the "Y" should be at 125 Street Ferry at 9 a. m. From there, the party will cross the river and explore the Palisades. Other features and innovations will make this program more beneficial and instructive than ever before to its members.

A new series of lectures will be delivered every Friday before the combined Collegiate Christian Associations. Vital political, social and educational questions that are troubling the present generation will be discussed by leaders in those fields. Discussions on China and the success of modern education have already been held. Stitt Wilson a well known educationalist has already spoken to the combined groups. This Friday, Norman Thomas is scheduled to address the meeting. His topic has not yet been announced. Tickets for these meetings which will be held at the National House, 519 Riverside Drive, Fridays at 5:15 p. m. may be obtained in the "Y" alcove.

A series of conferences on vocations and professions has been planned for Thursdays. These meetings are designed to give information and practical advice about the various professions students contemplate entering. Successful professional men will tell the members just what each profession calls for both in preparation and in practicing. These meetings will be in the form of luncheons, given on Thursdays at 12 M in the Webb Room. A small charge will be asked.

Other features that will be inaugurated are the "home meetings"; gatherings at the homes of members every Sunday evening. Diversions will be planned for the members, refreshments will be served and general topics will be discussed. This coming Sunday, Feb. 27, George Biscoff, former wrestling captain, will act as host to his fellow members.

Discussion classes for freshmen members will take place every Thursday at 1 p. m. in room 14. Problems confronting freshmen will be discussed.

ATTEMPT MADE TO FORM CITY COLLEGE ORCHESTRA

Rehearsal to Be Held This Thursday at 12:20 in Great Hall.

A symphony orchestra is being formed at the College under the direction of Mr. Kohrson, a professional musician whose services have been secured by Acting President Robinson. Several organization meetings have already been held and it was decided to hold rehearsal this Thursday in the Great Hall at 12:20.

Mr. Kohrson has urged all students of the College who can play musical instruments, especially those who have had experience on high school orchestras, to be present at the rehearsal. There has been no orchestra at the College for many years, and a great effort is being made by those connected with the organization at present to finally form a permanent City College orchestra. All those interested should see Herman Rudasinefsky '28, Locker 1907.

This proposed symphony orchestra has the backing of Dr. Robinson and other officials of the College. They feel that this organization would fill a need that has long been patent in the College.

PAST PERFORMANCES

THE NIGHTINGALE, a musical romance based on the life of Jenny Lind. Book by Guy Bolton. Lyrics by P. G. Wodehouse. Music by Armand Vecsey. Presented by the Messrs. Shubert at Johnson's Theatre.

Only fitting it is that the life of Jenny Lind be portrayed in as beautiful a vehicle as is The Nightingale. And before going any further, we must state here that this operetta is the best that the Shuberts now offer, better than even the popular Countess Maritza.

One does expect to find several good singers in a musical production, but to find the number present in The Nightingale is indeed a pleasant surprise. Eleanor Painter heads them, with a beautiful voice that is generous in its offerings. And besides the soloists, there is a male chorus which gives a thrilling "March Song" and just "brings down the house" with its negro spirituals.

Stanley Lupino, who made his first appearance here in Naughty Riquette, has an excellent comedy team-mate in Violet Carlson. Diminutive Miss Carlson keeps them roaring with her hilarious antics.

Interesting historical characters fill the cast. There is the famous P. T. Barnum, author of the famous "there's one born every minute", there is Colonel Robert E. Lee, and Whistler, Belletti, Otto Goldschmidt, and Cornelius Vanderbilt. And of course, there is Jenny Lind.

Society's plans for the present semester.

1. Open Forum. The speakers will include, among others, the following: Rabbi Stephen S. Wise, Prof. Paul Klapper, Prof. Irwin Edman, and Prof. H. A. Overstreet.

2. Discussion Groups. These will continue in accordance with the policy inaugurated the previous semester.

3. Study Circle. The topic will be "Reuben Cohn at C.C.N.Y." This series will be an attempt to analyze impartially the scholarship, character, and activity of the Jewish student at City College. Recent statistics show that the environment of Jewish students at the College is almost 80 per cent of the total registration.

4. Debating Schedule. Tentative arrangements have already been made to debate the Menorah Societies of New York University and the University of Pennsylvania. We are also contemplating a debate with the C.C.N.Y. Varsity team.

5. Menorah Play. We are preparing to stage a play in conjunction with the Adelpi Menorah.

6. Dramatic and Music Recitals. Our program includes dramatizations by Maurice Schwartz and Ludwig Zatz.

7. Concert of Jewish Music. We conduct an annual concert of Jewish Music in the Great Hall of the College.

8. Hebrew Language and Literature. An intensive campaign will be conducted in the near future to popularize the Hebrew classes.

POSITIONS FOR NEXT SUMMER ANNOUNCED BY EMP. BUREAU

Students who intend to enter some form of employment next summer will be aided by the Employment Bureau. Al Rose, manager of the Bureau, announces that there are several summer jobs open, including the following: bus-boy, waiters, social entertainers, camp councillors and jazz combinations. At present, no new positions for the current term are available.

ALUMNI ASSOCIATION ORGANIZED BY C.D.A.

Society Plans Four Issues of "Urbs Coronata," Official Magazine.

An alumni association has been organized by the Circolo Dante Alighiri to keep in touch with the large number of its members who have graduated from the College. Many of these men have become prominent in politics and in business. The club intends to have addresses delivered by these men.

One of the features of the C.D.A. activities is its semi-annual informal tea-dances. These will be held shortly in accordance with a resolution passed at the last meeting.

The following officers were elected for the present term: John Torzelli '28, president; Sol Catania '27, vice-president; Rosario Giannotta '29, secretary; Peter Munisteri '27, treasurer.

"Urbs Coronata," the official Italian-English organ of the Circolo Dante Alighiri will soon make its second appearance under the editorship of Vincent Luciani '26, who put out the first issue of the magazine last term. It is planned to put out four copies of this magazine this term. The purposes are first, to promulgate Italian culture and art in the College; second to promote the education idea with Italian parents who will read articles in Italian on this point in the magazine.

The C.D.A. is now corresponding with the Brooklyn Branch and has established itself there. Its members at Brooklyn will be entitled to the same privileges as those given here.

The classes in Italian will also be continued this term as heretofore. These classes are organized, under able teachers, for the purpose of teaching Italian life, language and literature to those students who are interested but who have no time to take it in their college courses.

The Circolo Dante Alighiri wishes to emphasize to the incoming freshmen the ideals under which it was organized. The C.D.A. is not a sectarian organization as is generally thought. Jewish and Negro students are included in its membership. It bars no one because of race or color, and is looking forward to welcoming a great number of freshmen as members.

BASEBALL SEASON TO BEGIN APRIL 2

Sixteen Games Included in Schedule Just Released by Prof. Williamson

Sixteen games are listed on the schedule of the varsity baseball team, which has just been released by the faculty manager of athletics, Prof. Walter A. Williamson. The initial game of the season is against the old stand-by, St. Francis, Saturday, April 2, at home. Last year the balltossers were victorious over the Saints and not much difficulty should be encountered this season.

St. Johns of Brooklyn, will be the next opponent of the Lavender, who will play host to the Lavender, who will play host to the Jesuits on April 6th. The Brooklynites always present a strong team and usually furnish the first stiff opposition.

The first tour that Coach Parker's charges will make, will be on April 9, when they will contest the powerful Rutgers aggregation. Seton Hall will be met on the following Wednesday, in the stadium. Seton Hall was not met last year but always turns out good teams and is sure to give the Lavender a hard battle. The next three teams to be met, Villanova, Stevens Tech, and Ursinus, are of equal strength with the varsity and nip and tuck struggles are to be expected. Upsala, Temple, and Drexel hold decisions over the home teams, and Capt. Ephron's men are out to avenge them. Providence is a newcomer to the schedule.

Fans still remember the epic 1926 N.Y.U. game, when the Lavender, only conceded an outside chance to win, actually led a strong Violet nine for eight innings only to be nosed out in the ninth, 2-1. Union is sure to send down a strong aggregation on May 14. Manhattan will try to avenge her defeat of last year when she plays host to the Lavender. Trinity is another stranger, and Fordham again winds-up the schedule. The Maroon won last year, 5-1.

For the first time in the history of the College, a junior varsity ball team will be organized. Only three games are definite, but more are being negotiated, the Fordham and N. Y. U. freshmen teams and James Monroe.

MEN WANTED! MEN WANTED!

Live wires are wanted for the Business Board of Campus. Vacancies on the Circulation and Advertising Staffs will be filled from competing candidates. The opportunity to make the Business Board this term is exceptionally bright as new Circulations and Advertising Staffs will be chosen. No experience is necessary.

Advertising candidates will be furnished with leads. A commission of 15 per cent is paid on all advertising secured. All those interested should see Nathan Berman, Business Manager in the Campus office, Room 411, any day at 2 P. M.

Jr. Assistants for Sports To Meet in A. A. Room

Junior assistants in all sports, including football and baseball, are requested to meet in the A. A. room this Thursday at noon. In order to be considered for election to any of the managerial posts, their presence at this meeting is necessary.

VARSITY NIMRODS LEADING IN N. R. A. TOURNAMENT

Local Shooters Defeat Pittsburg and M.I.T. in First Two Matches

Successful in their last matches, the varsity nimrods have gained a leading position in the championship matches held under the auspices of the National Rifle Association. Seven of the leading rifle teams in the East are competing with the Lavender representatives for first honors in this tournament which practically represents the unofficial championship of the east.

In its first league match, the local shooters defeated Pittsburg University's combination, garnering 1408 of a possible 1500 to their opponents' 1388. The Lavender representatives who qualified in this match were respectively M. Miller, H. Nagler, J. Feinberg, I. Lichtenfels and C. Shapiro who finished in that order.

In its next encounter, C.C.N.Y. defeated the Massachusetts Institute of Technology in four positions to the tune of 1910 to 1860. The local men who qualified in that contest were K. Brodman, M. Miller, H. Nogler, J. Feinberg and I. Lichtenfels who finished in that order.

The Metropolitan Prone Championship will soon be held on City's range. The Lavenderites have captured the cup for the last two years, and permanent possession of the trophy which would be assured by victory this year seems rather secure by the College, for the varsity men have suffered only on defeat in the prone season.

New material is needed for the varsity and freshman teams, and all men who are interested are requested to try out and see the coach as soon as possible.

WILSON FOUNDATION OFFERS $25,000 PRIZE

Twenty-five thousand dollars are being offered by the Woodrow Wilson Foundation as an award to be presented to a young man, between twenty and thirty-five, for an article on "What Woodrow Wilson Means To Me". A similar prize is offered for women.

The articles are to be confined to an exposition of the ex-president's ideals and principles. The total number of words of the essay is limited to twenty-five hundred.

All essays must be reviewed by the Foundation before Oct. 1, 1927, at 17 E. 42nd St. and none arriving after that date will be considered. Complete details of the contest have been posted outside of room 121.

License No. 1 Candidates Get Special Exam Course

A special course of instruction will be given for the benefit of those who desire to make preparations for the June 1927 examinations for License Number 1, as teacher in the elementary schools of New York City on Fridays at 4:20 P. M. beginning February 18th and 25th, at the Apollo Studios, Green and Carlton Avenues, Brooklyn, N. Y.

The course will cover all of the important phases of the subject matter of the Examination for License No. 1, and will be personally directed by Dr. Samuel Katz, Principal P. S. 156, Brooklyn, N. Y. The course may also be taken by correspondence.

VARSITY TENNIS HAS BRILLIANT PROSPECT

Six Veterans and Five Freshman Stars Will Report for Team

Losing only one man by graduation, the varsity tennis team is faced with the most brilliant prospects in years. Although the racquet-wielders will no doubt miss Captain Kleinfeld, a whole freshman team which went through last season's schedule losing only to the private and high school champions will be coming up, and a man to fill his place will surely be found.

There are six veterans left and all are eligible, and expected to report for practice. Jack Ruggles, the former George Washington star, who went through last year's matches undefeated, is one of the leading lights of the team. Charley Oshman is another man from whom much is expected as he showed up very well on the team last season and is a steady and dependable player. The other men who constitute the nucleus of the varsity are: Eddie Phillips, Jack Parsont, Eddie Lissleman and Dan Bronstein.

In addition to these veterans, the Freshman team is sending up "Sy" Klein, its former captain and first singles man; Nat Birnbaum, one time Evander High School star; Jack Stonim, the racquet wizard, hailing from DeWitt Clinton and Dave Delman who went up to the semi-finals of the Westchester county junior championship held last summer, losing to Gene McCauliff, the Fordham tennis leader.

An attractive schedule has been arranged by Manager Harold Schiller. Among some of the teams which will be engaged are Fordham, N.Y.U., Pratt Institute, St. Johns and many others, with whom the final arrangements have not yet been closed.

The services of Mark Zemansky, the popular physics instructor, has been secured as coach of the squad and he is expected to aid materially in developing a championship team. Last year the aggregation split with Fordham, winning the second match after losing the first encounter. St. Johns and Pratt were met and defeated but the racquet-wielders bowed to N.Y.U. As almost the same lineup will be back and each man has improved considerably the prospects for an undefeated season are very bright.

LACROSSE TEAM PRACTICES UNDER EX-CANADIAN STAR

Professors Rody, Panaroni and Mr. Knight to Coach Team at Armory

Lacrosse practice started in earnest last Thursday evening at the 22nd Regiment Armory when Prof. Rody, Prof. Panaroni, and Mr. William H. Knight, former Canadian lacrosse star, supervised a preliminary practice session which was attended by half of last term's squad.

The Lavender team practices in the armory every Thursday evening from 6:30 to 8 o'clock immediately after the N.Y.U. track teams holds its drill. The armory is most suitable since its immense floor is ideal for lacrosse.

Because of the fact that Mr. Rody is teaching at night, he will probably be unable to coach the team regularly and this duty may devolve on Mr. Knight who is well fitted for the post.

Attempts are being made by Professor Panaroni to organize freshman and sophomore teams in order to interest the Indian sport through interclass competition.

Candidates for the team are needed, and all those interested are urged to come out, particularly freshmen. Since no team is decided on, every candidate has an opportunity of making the team. Merit alone will decide appointments, past performances counting for little.

Candidates need incur no extra expense for the uniform or sticks since the uniform consists of a gym suit while sticks can be obtained free of charge from Professor Panaroni. Anyone interested may see Professor Panaroni at 1 o'clock any day in room 213, or Myron Wegman, manager of the team, whose locker number is 1396.

Although no official schedule will be provided, the team will play several games with outside aggregations during this spring and summer. The eleven's active season will not start until after they have held outdoor practice for about a month. This will probably be about the second week in April.

No use handling any pipe with gloves on!

Nobody hates a fight more than old man pipe. Easy-going and easy to please, he's a born peace-maker. And if life with him isn't always rosy, it's certainly no fault of his...

Now keeping a pipe at peace is partly a matter of slow-burning, smooth-smoking tobacco. And mellowness. But above all it's what you call staying power. Pipe tobacco must taste good and sweet... morning, noon and night.

The secret of such a tobacco lies in the way it's mellowed and the way it's cut. That's the secret of Granger Rough Cut. No tobacco was ever mellowed in quite the same way. No tobacco was ever so sure to sweeten a pipe and keep it sweet.

Being rough cut, too, it burns slow and smokes smooth and cool. Smoke it all day long, it's so mild and mellow. Every smoke a peace-pipe smoke.

reeled off four goals in the space of two minutes. White caged one, and then Hitchcock cut for the basket very prettily to score. Both Lynch and Amans eluded their guards and scored goals. This rally by Carnegie seemed to discourage the home team, but Jack Hirsch made a goal from the floor as the half ended, making the score 15-9.

After the intermission, the St. Nicholas five still showed evidences of their slump of the previous period. They playing was ragged and no man seemed certain of just what was expected of him. Carnegie took advantage of the College's indifferent playing and ran up six points. In addition, the local five constantly lost possession of the ball because of running with the leather. Hirsch caged a foul and soon after Raskin scored a field goal.

White, Tech's high scorer, was put out of the game for personal fouls, and the College at last played their real game. Rubinstein first came out of the lethargy with a foul, and then Jack Goldberg took Meisel's perfect pass under the basket for a goal. Rubinstein netted a nice goal and Hirsch put in another foul. Ted Meisel brought the College to within one point of Carnegie when he fooled his guard and broke away for a goal. Jack Hirsch drew two fouls and tied the score at 21 all when he made one of them.

The inspired playing of the New Yorkers gave them nine points and suddenly changed the game from a rout to a close affair. Hitchcock's foul and Aman's goal once again sent the Pittsburg team out into the lead. With only thirty seconds to go, Hick Rubinstein caged his fourth field goal, but the end of the game immediately after gave the home team no further opportunity to score.

The line-up:
C.C.N.Y. (23) Carnegie Tech (24)
Raskin (Capt.) L. F. Amans (Capt.)
Rubinstein R. F. White
Goldberg C. Harpster
Meisel L. G. Lynch
Hirsch R. G. Hitchcock

Field Goals: Rubinstein (4), Amans (3), White (2), Lynch (2), Raskin (1), Goldberg (1), Hirsch (1), Meisel (1), Harpster (1), Hitchcock (1).

Foul Goals: Hirsch (3 out of 6), Meisel (1 out of 1), Rubinstein (3 out of 6), White (3 out of 3), Harpster (1 out of 1), Hitchcock (1 out of 2), Amans (1 out of 3).

FROSH SMOKER TO BE HELD BY NEWMAN CLUB, FEB. 25

Society Holds Elections—Eugene Devine '27, Chosen as President

The Newman Club extends a cordial invitation to the Catholic freshmen of '31 to attend a Frosh Smoker, to be held at Newman Hall, 635 East 115th Street, February 25, at 8:30 p. m. The purpose of this smoker is to acquaint those freshmen who are interested in the formal and social aspect of the Catholic religion with the ideals and purpose of the Newman Club, the Catholic society of the College.

At the first meeting of the Newman Club, the following officers were chosen for the present term: Eugene Devine '27, president; Francis Foran '28, vice-president; Walter Degman '29, secretary; Daniel Tobin '27, corresponding secretary; Frank Bohan '28, treasurer.

The outstanding features of the Newman Club's social activities last term were centered in the New York Province Week End which took place January 13-15. Three thousand members of the associated Newman Clubs of New York attended these events. They comprised a formal dance at the Plaza Hotel on January 13, mass at the St. Patrick Cathedral on January 14, and a Communion breakfast at the Hotel Commodore on January 15.

The Newman Club has completed a full program for the remainder of this term. This consists of a list of speakers who will address the Newman Club at their meetings, dances, and a chess tournament. The first of these speakers will be the Reverend Father Elliot Ross, who will conduct a question box before the club on Thursday, March 10. The dances will be point meetings with the Newman Club of Teacher's Training College and Hunter College, and their dates will be arranged at the next meeting of the club.

college as part of a trip they are taking, meeting several colleges in the east. Friday afternoon, they met and defeated Swarthmore, and today they are to meet Trinity.

Ralph R. Temple '27, recently appointed varsity debating manager, nounced that negotiations are under way for debates with Rutgers, Manhattan, and Harvard. One of these will be broadcast from Station WNYC on April 22. Arrangements for the broadcasting were made by Prof. Schultz of the Public Speaking department who also coaches the team.

The debators opened their season against N.Y.U. on January 7 in a no-decision debate. The following week, they defeated Boston College. Irving Gladstone '27 has been elected captain for the present semester, succeeding Charles Shapiro '27, who was graduated this month.

sketches, burlesquing some of the less usual aspects of modern life. In the hope of having the book compiled rather than written, Irving Jacoby '29, production manager, is asking for contributions from the student body.

Music is being written by several undergraduates. The pony ballet is being organized and will soon go into intensive training under the direction of a special dancing coach. Particular attention is being given to the design and construction of original sets. A meeting of candidates for the technical staff will be held in the near future.

The last musical performance given by College undergraduates was that of "Bye Bye Beouwif", a musical comedy written by Francis Edwards Farago '20 whose new play "Pinwheel" is going into its third week at the Neighborhood Playhouse. "Beouwif" was given as a senior class play under Farago's direction, and was a tremendous success.

The old auditorium at Townsend Harris is being thoroughly remodeled to permit the accommodation of a first class production. The small rostrum could barely hold three or four persons has been extended forward and sideward to create platform 40 feet wide and 35 feet long, of which a center space of 30 by 25 feet will be utilized for actual playing space.

Several veterans of previous Dramatic society seasons will be in evidence in this term's work. Irving Jacoby, production manager for this season, also saw service in last term's show. Dick Diamond '26, the president of the society, has played leading roles in varsity plays for about three years. Other students who will be prominently associated with this season's productions are David Driffohl, old-time officer of the society, who has returned to the fold after a lapse of years, Stanley Cummings '29 will be the stage manager for the coming term and Irving Packer will handle the business and publicity departments of the production. Casimir J. Patrick '26 is the secretary of the society.

ED. 41 TO REQUIRE 2-HOUR TEACHING PERIOD WEEKLY

Beginning today, Ed. 41, the course in methods of Teaching and Class Management in the public schools will include a two-hour period weekly, in addition to the five hours prescribed, to be spent in observation and practice in an assigned public school.

The plan was formulated after a conference between William J. O'Shea, Superintendent of Schools and Dr. Paul Klapper, Dean of the School of Education, it was announced by the latter's office Friday.

Each student in Ed. 41, it was stated, will be required to report to the teacher with whom he has been assigned, at least two consecutive hours each week.

As most of the students in the course have morning programs, they will be required to report in the afternoon to the elementary school to which they have been assigned.

During the first few weeks, the student will largely observe the more experienced teachers. Later he will be permitted to teach during periods selected by the regular class teacher.

The teacher will place his evaluation of the candidate's teaching ability on a blank now being prepared. This will have some influence, it was said, in determining the candidate's grade for the course.

GROUND FOR LIBRARY TO BE BROKEN SOON

Architects and Contractors to Hold Joint Meeting This Week

Ground will be broken for the new College Library in two weeks at the latest, according to the curator's office. Architects and contractors will hold a joint meeting this week to make definite arrangements for the construction.

When completed, the structure will be two stories in height above the basement with east and west walls of temporary character, so that they may be replaced. A Student House will be included, facing 141st Street and connected to the Library proper by a grand tower. It is all designated to form a capital H, and will be constructed in Gothic form, and it will harmonize with the present buildings, with carved light stone substituted for the terra cotta now used.

Contracts have already been awarded to the lowest bidders for the construction of the first section. The total is $241,670—$22,300 for general construction to the Eastern Engineering Corporation; $6,250 to J. P. Duffy for plumbing; $9,000 to Fred Souvan for heating; and $4,120 to L. S. Stern for electrical installations. The entire set of buildings will cost, it is estimated, close to one million dollars.

The buildings are, in part, the gift of the Associate Alumni and will consequently be styled the "College Alumni Library."
