Dr. Robinson Defines "The Liberal Attitude"

President Assails Members
Of S. P. Club For "Lying And Misrepresentation"

Doremus Hall Packed

Declares "I Couldn't Expel
A Student If I Wanted To Do So"

By Lester H. Feinstein.

Trying to defend his position as a liberal in the eyes of the student body, Pres. Frederick B. Robinson spoke on "The Importance of the Liberal Attitude" before a friendly but sceptical audience that crowded its way into every available bit of space in Doremus Hall yesterday at noon.

During the course of his speech and when answering questions put to him by the students, the President accused members of the Social Problems Club and the editors of "Frontiers" of "deliberate lies and misrepresentations."

Comments On Mock Trial

"The mock trial proceedings where my resignation was demanded on the grounds of incompetence, also consisted of lies for the most part. But I was not very much concerned with this meeting or others of a similar nature—a man in the woods does not bother with a mosquito buzzing around his head—and I was busy with much more important business."

"And it is a deliberate lie to say that I coerced any member of the faculty from becoming the faculty advisor of any club. Rather, I refused to accept the resignation of Prof. Otis from the Social Problems Club, and I offered to become the faculty advisor myself, of the Liberal Club in lieu of someone else's being found."

Never Expelled Student

A question was then asked the President as to whether or not he didn't believe that the students were old enough and intelligent enough to manage their own club affairs. Dr. Robinson refused to answer this question directly. Instead, he said, "It might be experimented with. But it is a ruling of the Board of Trustees that all clubs must have faculty advisors. However, it might be experimented with."

In his address, Pres. Robinson continually mentioned that he had never expelled a student. "Why, I couldn't

I. C. C. to Hold Meeting

There will be a meeting of the I. C. C. this afternoon at two o'clock in Room 306. Rooms will be permanently assigned to all clubs which have representation at the meeting.

JAYVEE FIVE MEETS KIPS BAY QUINTET

Lavender Five To Seek 2nd
Victory Over Downtown
Club

The junior varsity quintet will endeavor to secure its second victory of the season when it meets the Kips Bay B. C. Saturday night in the gym. The squad has shown a marked improvement over last week's form and should subdue the downtown club without much difficulty.

In a practice scrimmage during the week with Berkley-Irving in which they defeated the prep school, the jayvees functioned smoothly. The passing was accurate and the quintet worked as a unit without the individual play which was so evident against Penzer. The brilliant shooting of Greenblatt and the all-around play of Demarest featured the scrimmage. After the contest Coach Spindell declared that he was very much pleased with the showing of the team.

The starting line-up tomorrow is the same five that opened the season a week ago. Greenblatt and Bergman will be at the forward posts together with Demarest at the center position while Levine and Solomon will be the guards. Both Schiffer and Weinberger, two players who were expected to see plenty of action, are lost to the team for this encounter, the former because of a knee injury and the latter on account of ineligibility.

Two new games have been added to the schedule. Yonkers High School will be met on Dec. 10 and the Savage Jayvees on Feb. 4. All of the contests played by the Lavender Jayvees are preliminary games before the varsity battles.

VARSITY COURTMEN TO MEET FORMER BASKETBALL STARS

Varsity To Play Aggregation
Of Former College
Captains and Stars

Baltimore U. On Schedule

Proceeds Of First Game To Go To Support Of Training Table

Two new basketball contests, the first on December 23, against an all-star aggregation of former College captains and aces, and the second at Baltimore, December 28, against the courtmen of Baltimore University, have been scheduled for the varsity.

The proceeds of the first remarkable match will go to equip the varsity squad with a suitable training table, which has been sorely lacking for several years.

Captains on Team

Playing for the all-stars will be Joe Davidoff, captain '32 and now a professional with the world-famous Brooklyn Visitations, Frankie Phillips, captain '31, Lou Spindell captain '30 and present J. V. coach, Sam Liss, captain '29, Mac Hodesblatt, captain '28 and former J. V. coach, Hick Rubenstein, captain '27, Milt Trupin, '31, Art Musicant '30, and Johnny White '32.

This will be the first time that such a stellar combination of Nat Holman stars will face another team coached by their former mentor.

The Baltimore University game will be the sole one for which the squad will journey out of New York. These two new games will be played in the open week remaining after the Dartmouth game and before the Colgate contest.

To Hold German Exam

The comprehensive achievement test in German will be given Thursday, December 15th, at one o'clock in Room 315.

Officers Flourish Sabers and Preen Persons for Gala Ball

By Kermit J. Berylson

The boys over in the Officers' Club are waving their swords becomingly these days. And why not? Aren't they going to have a dance December 17th at the Edison Hotel? And don't they have to practice up, so that they can besport themselves in an impressive fashion on that night of nights? Well, they do.

They have a right to be proud. After all, the Officers' Club Ball will be a flashing color-symphony of bright "yuncesfawns" and competitive evening gowns, wherein brilliant swords will flash in a metallic undertone of cadet gray.

Nor will all this splendor be in vain. Mayor-Elect Jape O'Brien will grace the occasion with his presence. Perhaps, if he is persuaded, he may wear the many medals he won for his scholarly translation of Horace from the original Greek.

KURBAN, BILSTIN PRESENT CONCERT FOR GERMAN CLUB

More Than Six Hundred
Students Attend German
Program

Chorus Sings Folk Songs

Mme. Kurban Offers "Bell
Song", "Garden of Your Heart"

Youry Bilstin and Fadwa Kurban were guest artists at the concert which the Deutscher Verein presented yesterday afternoon in the Great Hall before an assembly of six hundred students, faculty members and guests.

The Verein's male chorus, under the direction of Heinz Arnold '34, sang "Ueber allen Gipfeln is Ruh" and a very rollicking German folk song, "Schneider-Jahrestag." Then Pres. Herbert Schuller '34, introduced Mr. Bilstin, the celebrated Russian 'cellist, who rendered his own arrangement of Dal' Abaco's "Grave," Haydn's "Minuet," and "Allegretto," "Capriccioso, and "Deutscher Tanz" of Schubert.

Male Chorus Sings.

Following Mr. Bilstin, Mme. Kurban, the dark haired, Arabian coloratura-soprano offered "The Bell Song from Lakme. As an encore, the Syrian Nightingale then rendered Francis Dou's "Garden of Your Heart."

The male chorus then sang "Wiegelielied," after which Mr. Bilstin presented his second group. These compositions included "Prelude" by Scriabin, and Mr. Bilstin's own "Chants et Danses du Caucase," in three parts: "Chant et Danse Georgiens," "Priere au Soleil Couchant," and "Noces dans les Collines du Daghestan."

Preceding his rendition with an explanation, Mr. Bilstin said, "I am trying to imitate a Georgian instrument, a species of kettle drum which has weird tones much different from ones

Quintet Meets Tomcats In Second Court Game

Discuss Publicity Plans

Benjamin Dreyer, Managing Editor of the Campus will meet the publicity directors of all College clubs on Monday at two o'clock in the Campus office, Room 411, to discuss plans for club publicity.

KLAPPER HONORED AT ED. LUNCHEON

Dean of Ed School Addresses
Meeting On Course
Changes

Dean Klapper, of the School of Education, was honored yesterday at a luncheon tendered him by the Education Club and held at the College Tea Room.

In a short address to the meeting, Dean Klapper stated that there will be a growth in the School of Education that will spell quality, not quantity. "By dropping part-time teachers a much smaller but more compact teaching staff will be obtained," he said, "and this will help to improve the character of the courses."

Smaller Sections Initiated

Changes will be made in the teaching of the "History of Education," one of Professor Hansen's courses. Instead of the present four classroom periods a week, there will be but three, and for the fourth will be substituted a visit to one of the museums in the city. "This visit will not be an aimless one," he asserted, "but will definitely supplement the classroom work."

"Smaller sections will be the order of the day," Dean Klapper declared, "and in some courses the Dalton Plan will be tried."

At the same meeting, the fourth issue of the Education Club Bulletin made its appearance. It was dedicated to Dean Klapper and featured an article on highlights in the career of the Dean.

Lavender Five Favored Over Strong St. Thomas Team Tomorrow Night

To Seek Second Victory

Holman Expects Easy Win
With Spahn, Goldman, Wishnevitz To Start

Seeking its second victory of the current season, Coach Nat Holman's eastern champion quintet will encounter the supposedly strong St. Thomas five tomorrow night in the College gym.

Although the Tomcats do not rate as strong as some of the other opponents on the Lavender schedule, they are far from being regarded as set-ups. Two years ago the Scrantonians came to New York and upset a highly touted St. John team. The Tomcats then engaged a greatly favored Fordham five and were only subdued by the Rams after two hectic periods of overtime. Small wonder then that the Lavender combination is not regarding the outcome of the game too lightly.

Five Lacks Polish

In subduing a weak St. Francis aggregation last Saturday night, the College quintet displayed a great deal of offensive power, but at the same time, it demonstrated a lack of polish. The shooting, in particular, was not up to its usual standard, and had the Lavender cashed in on the great majority of opportunities that it had to score, the totals would have been much greater than they were. With the difficult schedule that it has, the Lavender quintet will be required to display vastly improved form over last week's performance if it expects to equal last year's record.

The Miners will be led by Captain Robert Butterly at one of the forward positions, and he will be flanked by Francis McGrath at the other forward post. Daniel McCaffrey and Steve Malecki will start at guard, and Eddie Deitch will jump center. Joseph Zinder, outstanding player on the 1930 team, is coach of the Pennsylvania

Last Chance for Prophets to Make Correct Score of St. Thomas Game

Gather round, my dear constituents, the day of days, the time of times, et cetera et cetera—ad infinitum, has arrived. Yes, believe it or not, The Campus will donate two Annie Oakleys to the lucky young prophet who forecasts, or in terms of vulgarity, guesses the final tally of the St. Thomas tiff most exactly. Yowsah this brilliant and embryonic swain will be the recipient of two (2) pieces of cardboard for the Dickinson contest. But, mates, remember you must have your approximation within the portals and confines of the Campus office before the game.

Sport Sparks

By L. R. GUYLAY

Court Close-ups.

CAPTAIN Moe Spahn—has a habit of associating himself with championship basketball teams . . . In 1929 captained the Bryant H. S. team to a city title . . . And won All-Scholastic honors . . . This year looks like a sure thing for the All-American . . . Defends his rather indifferent showing last week saying he only wanted to fool Dan Meehan so that the latter would agree to let his Columbia team play the Lavender in the charity carnival . . . Swell case you've got, Moe, to fool Meehan into anything like that . . . Has finally learned how to make a lay-up shot properly after slamming the ball against the backboard for all those years . . . Holman once said Spahn was the best man on the pivot play in college basketball . . . Lou Spindell maintains that Moe is the best amateur player he's ever seen . . . And Spindell has seen everyone worth seeing . . . Among other redeeming features, he owns the hardest elbows and knees on the American courts . . . Although but a callow sophomore he was not in the least flustered when he played against Albie Booth two years ago . . . As a matter of fact he made the Yale pride and joy look just a trifle sick about the gills . . . Confesses to a weakness for blondes and the bathtub water which he drinks profusely . . . Is known to the trade as "Long Ahab, the Terrible Turk" . . . Or "Toik" for short.

MOE GOLDMAN—lives in Brooklyn but then who hasn't got troubles these days? . . . Is the biggest eater on the squad . . . Loves bread especially . . . On the trip to Providence, last year, the squad stopped to eat at a Childs restaurant . . . Moe, after eating all the bread in the place, had to go out and buy two extra loaves to satisfy his gnawing hunger . . . Proudly claims to be the original Joe Blizzard . . . On alternate Sundays, he dresses up in the family bunny and the soup 'n fish wherewith fortified he travels to the Bensonhurst Automat to partake vigorously of a hearty bowl of chowder . . . Has the longest pair of arms in captivity . . . And is so tall he sleeps in bed with his feet in the hall.

LOU WISHNEVITZ—likes to have picture taken . . . Consequently is in most of the action photos which illustrate Holman's new book . . . Has a good shot and is a veritable speed demon on the floor . . . Is crazy about women especially nurse maids who think he's cute . . . Confronts his opponent by his unorthodox methods of breaking through their defense (under their legs) . . . Had a standing grudge against all sports writers until one day last week when he looked up the word "diminutive" and found out it didn't mean "lousy" after all.

SLUG BERENSON—sometimes answers to Pete, Jack, or Barry . . . One day someone called him Berenson for fifteen minutes without avail . . . Walks like an ape and bursts out into guffaws of laughter at the oddest times . . . Will fight at the drop of a hat . . . Packs a powerful wallop but is a sucker for a swift left . . . Is really a swell guy until aroused (that is aroused from sleep).

DUTCH KAUFMAN—plays best when the going is roughest . . . Brilliant scholar, especially in German . . . Can see no points of merit in his opponents and proceeds to disregard them entirely at times . . . Is very conscientious . . . Handles the pivot play almost as well as Spahn . . . Plays Lacrosse in Spring . . . Is the rowdy of the training quarters . . . Spent most of his youth on the East River docks slugging rats.

DANNY and JULIE TRUPIN—are cousins and not brothers as generally believed . . . Cousin Julie weighed 194 pounds two years ago and in order to reduce he ran two or three miles every day during the summer . . . Got down to 160 and spent most of last year trying to regain weight . . . Danny once played on the N. Y. U. frosh . . . The best game of his career was against the Violet last winter . . . Must have been sweet revenge or something . . . Runs daintily about the court like his brother Milt used to do . . . Has the craziest looking one-handed shot but the ball somehow or other always accidentally falls through the basket . . . Makes facial contortions that would befuddle Turpin when he shouts fouls.

SAM WINOGRAD—will be heard from one of these days . . . Is the most promising sophomore on the squad . . . "Winsome Winnie" was star of the Jayvee last year . . . Hard player—always fighting . . . Is forever getting hurt . . . Cracked his head in practise last year and then was out with a cold . . . This fall he missed half of the training season because of a skin disease . . . Is well dressed, soft spoken, with nice manners—the gentleman of the squad.

Ephraim Cross To Speak

Mr. Ephraim Cross instructor in French at the College, will conduct a series of broadcasts over Station WNYC on the "Folklore in Latin Speaking Countries." There will be three talks, on December 5, 12, and 19. They will all be broadcast at 7:35 p.m.

Frontiers Cover Portrays Prexy

By Lester Feinstein

"Frontiers," the representative organ of the Social Problems Club, blazons forth in a format that almost necessitates further inspection. Undoubtedly, the most striking feature of the magazine is its cover, made up of a few photographs so arranged as to give the most realistic illusion of a man covering in shame and fear before a Social Problems Club Messiah. Incidentally, that man looks suspiciously like our president.

The editors of the publication were clever enough to select those topics, such as the fees problem, The Campus-Student controversy, and the Oakley Johnson case, which would be of the greatest interest to the student body. Then, an attempt was made to write these stories in such a convincing manner, that the propaganda thus spread would be favorably received. In every case but one this aim was realized. The story on China, I believe, has no place in a magazine which is otherwise devoted to the discussion of student problems.

"Frontiers" is apparently a medium of 'liberal' propaganda. Yet, in the spreading of this 'liberal' propaganda, no pretence of liberality is in evidence. Nevertheless, spend a nickel and learn just what the Social Problems Club has to say.

Correspondence

Editor:
My admiration for a great man has prompted me to write a poem to him. If the product of my poor ability is within the bounds of your ridicule, I know you will not print my piece. However, do not discard it; leave it in some public place where students may come and read it; and reading it, they may know of a student's sincere respect, although it is so crudely uttered.

The unusualness of such occurrences force me to remain nameless.

To My Beloved Master,
Professor Louis Freeman Mott,
On His Reading of Shakespeare
You stand upon a mountain tall and steep,

The which soft clouds enmantle royal white;
And men gaze up with admiration deep
To find the peaceful pleasure of your sight.
You speak; the gentle richness of your voice

Inspires the meek to thoughts of noblest worth.
Your words, sweet notes of Shakespeare's music choice,
Charms life, and lifts it high from solemn Earth.

And thus my soul with music taking flight,
Transcends the realm of beauty's lucculent hue;
And when returning home again at night,
Rewards your genius with its fittest due:

Here is great Shakespeare newly come to life
To tender mortals joy, and joy mortal strife.

FROSH MERMEN BOW TO CLINTON 44-18

Winning only one first place, that by Goldstein in the 100 yd. breast stroke, the frosh mermen bowed to an underrated Clinton swimming team by a 44-18 count in the College pool Wednesday.

The most exciting race of the meet, the 100-yd. dash, saw Eldrich, Lavender captain, nosed out by Barry, Clinton, in the fast time of 59.3.

Moment Musicale

Frances Nash, the American pianist, gave her first recital of the season at Town Hall last Tuesday evening. Her program consisted of selections from the works of Bach, Mozart, Franck, Dabrawen, and Chopin.

Much interest was evinced concerning the first performance here of the Dabrawen Sonata, opus 10 for the composer, Issay Dabrawen, is to conduct the Philharmonic Symphony Orchestra.

Miss Nash's playing was well received by an enthusiastic audience audience which demanded several encores.

The Barrere Little Symphony Orchestra, under the leadership of Georges Barrere, will play at the Civic Repertory Theatre on Sunday evening, December 4. Mr. Barrere will also give several flute solos, and at the end of the program will lead a talk and debate on subjects of general musical interest.

Sannuel Shankman, New York pianist, will give his first recital in New York on Friday evening, at Steinway Hall. His program consists of music of Chopin, Weber, Liszt and Zgambati.

Soup's on! The traditional Frosh Feed is progressing magnificently and were rarin' to go. Come on, all you joy-seekers! All you need do is slap down 2½ berries and be assured of an extensive program of entertainment packed with plenty of unexpected surprises and thrills plus a gold '36 key and a delicious meal served by Marlene Dietrich and Greta Garbo. Now stay away if your heart and conscience will let you!

Something's Fishy!
For the good of all concerned, I would suggest that the Frosh Council, including officers and members, be placed under the observation of a psychiatrist (brain specialist to you.) At one session, our scarce members deem it worthy and heroic to defy the Sophs and refuse to wear caps and ties. Before you can say Aesculapius, a committee is chosen to petition the Co-op store to reduce their prices on caps and ties. Maybe I'm wrong.

O Council, Dear Council
At a recent meeting of the Council, Pres. Rosenfield appointed Herschel the editor-in-chief of the Frosh paper with Bernfield, Knobel, Saphirstein, and Feldman acting as associate editors. The last issues of the paper have been very gratifying and well-written. The result is not surprising as the entire staff is composed of men who have been affiliated with school publications in the past, and consequently are well qualified for their positions. The chairmen of the various committees appointed to date are as follows:

Publicity—Bernfield
Pin—Lavender
Alcove—Moscowitz, Saphirstein
Auditing—Scheiner

Sophs Are Merry, Have No Fear: Madden Assures Supply of Beer

By Joseph Abrahams

At last the Soph Smoker is an assured success... Owney Madden, the biggest beer baron of them all, has agreed to supply the beer... Yes! I mean real beer... Of course the cases will be marked "Cream Soda"... (But you can never tell, it may be cream soda)...

Two women are wanted to play in the slightly (?) risqué play entitled "Another Way Out"... or "What Happened When Her Husband Came In Through The Door"... which is to be given at the smoker... The gag is that men are wanted for the parts... Candidates should see their doctor, or better still, any officer of the class... except Proccacino who is to play the heroine...

A prize is going to be given for the best joke told at the smoker... All Sophs except Merc readers will be allowed to compete... Incidentally waflets and cigarettes are going to be distributed gratis... As a little gift from Santa Claus and J. A. . . .

According to Nat Fensterstock the sale of tickets is coming along great, marvelously, swell... (Well, anyway, they've sold a few)... After gently quaffing the foaming beer (?) there will be a singing contest... But if the beer (?) has any influence... It may turn into a yodeling contest...

EXTRA!

The freshmen have donated six dollars from the class treasury to kidnap the Smoker chairman... The sophomores wanted to donate six dollars to kidnap the Frosh Feed chairman... But there was only two dollars, a plugged nickel, and a safety pin in the class treasury.

Sophs Take Frosh 34-28

The sophomore swimming team yesterday defeated a hard fighting freshman group to the tune of 34-28. George Perlin '35, took the 220-yd. free style; Schienberg '35, the 100-yd. free style; Adams '35, the 50-yd.; Lowenstein '35, the 100-yd. breast

ROBINSON TALKS ON LIBERALISM

Advises Students To Put Liberal Opinions In Action Outside College

 expel anyone in the College even if I wanted to, and I certainly have no desire to do that. The Board of Trustees is the body that takes action on matters of that nature.

Cites Love for College

"But I love the College more than anything in the world—except my own family—and I will do everything in my power to maintain its welfare."

In reference to the statement that the President cannot expel a student from the College, a question was asked how it was possible for him to threaten Joseph Starobin '34, with expulsion while Starobin was conducting a mass meeting on 141st Street, opposite Dr. Robinson's home.

"That's a lie," retorted the President. "I never threatened Starobin with expulsion. I only said at the time that he was subjecting himself to suspension because of his misstatement of facts. As a result of this misstatement, the Board of Trustees can act as they wish according to their by-laws. As for Starobin, I have told him right to his face that he was dishonorable. That mass meeting was held opposite my house only to heckle my wife and myself. I don't think that was very honorable."

Accuses Oakley Johnson

Once again the Oakley Johnson case was discussed. And in this matter Pres. Robinson accused Dr. Johnson of collecting pay under false pretences. He offered to show anyone who doubted him a photo-static copy of the records which bear no notation by Dr. Johnson of his absences.

Before he started his talk the President expressed his willingness to answer all questions but did not want to be imposed upon as a guest invited by the Social Problems Club to discuss liberalism. After the address, however, questions were being directed at Pres. Robinson so fast from all sides of the auditorium that he seemed to be a bit disgruntled. He told the gathering that "these boys have axes to grind but the axe can cut the other way."

The essence of the entire speech was that a student by all means should be liberal, come to a conclusion, and then act—but he should act as an individual outside College grounds, not with a college club under college jurisdiction.

Liberal a Good Sport

Pres. Robinson characterized the liberal as one who is free from ignorance, prejudice, superstition, fear and hatred, one who is dispassionate and not easily disturbed by the "canned goods" of others, one who is willing to learn, but does not twist or misrepresent facts. The liberal is a good sport and does not "cackle" if he loses, is not afraid to take the medicine that all unsuccessful revolutionaries must face, does not palm off the trouble he has caused by saying, "Well, I'm a student. Treat me as such."

"Liberalism does not mean the necessary adoption of ideas, but consists of an open, growing mind—always eager to face facts leading to an honest operation of principle."

REDUCTIONS OFFERED BY CONCERT BUREAU

The Concert Bureau is offering special reduced prices for the second week of opera performances at the Metropolitan Opera House. The rates are as follows:

$2.75 balcony seats $1.50
 $3.00 dress circle seats $1.75

This week's opera for which these prices prevail is Charles Gounod's "Faust" to be given in French on Saturday evening, December 3rd, at 8:15.

Redmond Announces Seven Suspensions

Seven undergraduates, out of an enrollment of nearly six thousand, were dropped from the rolls of the College at the end of the six weeks period, according to an announcement by Dean Redmond, secretary of the Faculty Committee on Course and Standing. One hundred and eleven students were dropped from one subject each, and twenty-four more were dropped in one subject and warned about their work in the others.

One hundred and twelve undergraduates are on probation from last semester and of these only four were among the seven dropped from the rolls.

Dean Redmond declared that the indications are that the student body is attending to its work in a satisfactory manner as far as can be judged from grades for the first half of the term.

One thousand and sixty-four students were called to the Dean's office last year for attendance irregularities. Two hundred and forty-five students left the College last semester.

Goose Eggs

At the University of Akron, a group of fraternity pledges were told to obtain one goose egg. Instead of consulting Lou Holtz, they canvassed the town, snuffing around poultry markets like a pack of bloodhounds. Somehow, they finally learned that geese lay eggs only in the spring. Upon returning to the frat house they were greeted by the sight of a huge squawking gray goose. Around its neck, tied with pink and blue ribbons was a tag saying, "Keep it until spring and then live on hopes."

The recent election brings up to our mind the fact, that Madine Ormsby was elected most beautiful co-ed of Ohio State University. There's nothing peculiar about this fact except that after the elections it was found out that Madine Ormsby was a prize cow.

We also learn that at Westminster College, because of a dispute over the Queen of the May, the students got together and elected a King of the May.

The directors of Oxford University once voted against putting baths in the men's dormitories... because the students were there only eight months of the year.

Dr. Bere Addresses Menorah On Palestine

Picturing the dramatic influence of youth in the great return of the people to the soil in Palestine, Dr. May Bere, an eminent psychologist and education, until recently associated with the Judge Baker Foundation in Boston, addressed the Menorah Society yesterday at noon. To illustrate this movement the speaker cited the American colony at Ranaana as an example of the shift from city to agrarian life. "Outstanding in the work of the people of Palestine are such accomplishments as the drainage of swamps, reforestation, and malarial extermination," Dr. Bere declared. Especially characteristic of this work is the submergence of the individual to the needs of the group. A great variety of questions followed the address of the speaker.

Edwards Addresses B. A. S. on "Debts"

Summing up in his address on "Alien Debts" yesterday before the Business Administration Society. Dr. Edwards declared that though the December payments will be made, the recent pressure on the United States was to prepare the American public for the default of the payments due on June 1, 1933. He emphatically declared that there will be no further payments after December for the shipment of any more gold to the U. S. by Great Britain would drive the pound sterling to a low point hitherto unknown in history.

"Colonies," Dr. Edwards stated, in referring to the suggestion of a New York University Economics Professor, that we take British Colonies in payment for our debts, "are a liability rather than an asset. I am surprised that one of my colleagues should make such a statement. It would be much better to use the war debts to bargain for a reduction of European tariffs and preferential trade agreements."

Dr. Edwards traced the whole problem of reparations and war debts from its beginning in 1919 to the most recent developments relating many interesting incidents of diplomatic intrigue and trickery, which had been carefully censored and never published.

The Rev. Dr. Imes, Pastor of the St. James Presbyterian Church, addressed the Douglas Society yesterday on "Is Religion of Value to the College Man of Today?"

Dr. Imes, in the course of his presentation, said, "The youth of today are fed up with modern religion in orthodox form.—Religion as it is now has a sound and cultural basis. The present economic condition is bringing this more and more to the fore."

The Douglas Society, in conjunction with the Social Problems Club, is sponsoring Frank Crothwaite, noted negro intellectual, as guest speaker for next week. Mr. Crothwaite, several times Socialist candidate for high positions, has not yet announced his topic.

Lavender Courtmen To Meet St. Thomas

 outfit.

Veterans To Start

When the College combination takes the court against its opponents tomorrow night, the three veterans certain to start are the three veterans from last season's championship outfit, Lou Wisnevitiz, Moe Goldman, and Captain Moe Spahn.

The two vacant positions, at forward and at guard, will probably be filled from among Danny Trepin, Sam Winograd, Artie Kaufman, and Jack Berenson. However, with an abundance of capable reserves on hand, Coach Holman has no reason to be concerned over his starting line-up.

Reynolds To Consult

Professor Frederick G. Deynolds will be in his office at 11:00 every day to consult with students electing mathematics.

You don't want too much Turkish but you do want Enough

that's why Chesterfields Taste Better!

IT'S like this. Turkish tobacco is to cigarettes what spices are to food... the "seasoning" that points up the flavor of all the other ingredients.

In your cigarette... as in anything good... you want enough spice. Not too much. In Chesterfield you get just enough of the right kinds of the spicy aromatic Turkish leaf.

It's this "just-right" blending of tobaccos, both Turkish and Domestic, that gives to Chesterfields their better taste and rich aroma.
