TRUSTEES "FILE" "GAG" AMENDMENT, COUNCIL INFORMED

Board of Higher Education
Fails to Act On "Free Speech" By-Law

GROSSMAN CLAIMS FRAUD BY ELECTIONS CHAIRMAN

Warshauer, Halprin Call For Candidates For Discipline,
Other Comms.

A communication from the Board of Higher Education, stating that the Student Council's resolution of last term asking for the abolition of the "anti-free speech" trustee bylaw, had been "duly considered, and filed," was read at the Council's first meeting of the term, Friday afternoon.

Abraham Grossman '34 laid before the council his objection to the election of Harry Weinstein as Student Council representative of the January '34 class. He charged Harold J. Glickman '32, chairman of the elections committee, with removing his name from the ballots, without "sufficient cause and reason." The case was tabled for next week, when Glickman will be required to explain the matter to the council.

Invitation to Conference Refused
President Warshauer reported there was $112.60 in the treasury. He informed the council he had been invited to represent the College at an organization meeting of a New York unit of "Crusaders," an anti-prohibition movement. The council gave its permission, Warshauer making it understood that he will not officially represent the College or the council.

An invitation for the Council to send a delegate to the Pan-American Student Conference in Florida, April 10, was refused, for lack of funds.

Warshauer announced the appointment of Albert Grossman '32 as chairman of the Soph Fresh committee. Jack Blume '33 and Jerome Levande '34 will be the other members of the committee. Benjamin Glass '32 was appointed chairman of the Inter-Club Council. Joseph Friedman '32 will be Vice-chairman of the Council.

Gilhuley Reappointment Postponed
Eugene Gilhuley '32 was proposed for reappointment as co-chairman of the Alcove committee. Objections from Hyman Redish and Joseph Starobin of the council and occupants of the gallery, however, induced Warshauer to postpone the appointment. Edward Halprin '32, vice-president of the council and chairman of the Class Statements Due

A written statement, approved by the class council, of last term's activities must be posted in the respective class alcoves by next Friday, according to an announcement by Alfred Waksman '34, of the Student Council Auditing committee. Duplicates of this statement must be transmitted to the committee at the next meeting of the Student Council.

FACULTY SALARY CUT NOT TO BE EXPECTED, SAYS CURATOR BRETT

Although the College has been forced to practice every economy possible to make facilities meet the requirements of one of the largest enrollments in its history, no salary cut is expected, according to a statement issued last Friday by Professor George M. Brett, Curator. "Instructors received no increase in the years of prosperity, when it was most expected, and there should be no decrease now."

City College, unlike other educational institutions in this country, is supported by city appropriations, and, as a result of the disappointing business condition, will suffer a corresponding decrease in the budget. This will mean that no instructors will be added to the teaching staff.

In spite of the gloomy prospect, Curator Brett claimed that some consolation might be found in the fact that conditions in other colleges are even more pessimistic.

STUDENTS GIVE $33 FOR HARLAN MINERS

Thirty-three dollars and three cents, collected at the "Bloody Kentucky" meeting of the Social Problems Club in the Great Hall Thursday, has been entrusted to "Jim" Garland, representative of the National Miners' Union, and chief speaker at the meeting for the relief of Harlan and Bell County miners.

Max Weiss to Talk

Nathan Lobell '34, president of the Social Problems Club announced that the Student Forum's executive committee has overruled its club vote to hold a joint meeting with the Social Problems Club on the topic, "The Student and War." "In view of this backing out," it was declared, "the Social Problems Club will hold a meeting next Thursday at which Max Weiss, a former City College student who was suspended from the College for his activities in connection with the fight against Military Science, and Joseph Starobin '34, secretary of the Student Council and former president of the Social Problems Club, will speak and conduct a general student discussion on the same topic."

Plans are being completed for the club's dance to be held March 18, at the Irving Plaza.

BOXING MEET TO OPEN INTERCLASS ATHLETICS

Continuing its policy of "sports for all," inaugurated last term, the intramural board will open its season with a boxing meet Thursday at twelve o'clock in the Exercising Hall. The weights in which the events are to be contested are: 115 lbs., 125 lbs., 135 lbs., 145 lbs., 160 lbs., 175 lbs., and unlimited. Numerals will be awarded to the winner in each class.

The meet, which was originally scheduled for last Thursday, was called off because the freshmen were taking psychological examinations.

Applicants for positions on the intramural board should notify Bernie Bloom '32, manager.

GERSHENSON CHOSEN AS COLLEGE SPEAKER IN FORENSIC CONTEST

Harry Gershenson '33, member of the varsity debating team, was selected last Thursday to represent the College in the oratorical contest, conducted by the George Washington Bicentennial Commission, for the George Washington Memorial Prize. Next Friday, in the regional finals, he will meet representatives of Fordham and New York University at the twenty-third street building.

Gershenson spoke on "Washington—The Nation Eulder." He said in part: "We are here, today, to pay homage to an undying spirit whose perseverance and foresight have become the watchwords of American progress. Beneath the complex superstructure of succeeding ages, we see the firm foundation and strong framework of the creator of our nation."

For representing the College, Gershenson will receive a silver medal.

VEREIN TO PRESENT GOETHE'S "URFAUST"

"Urfaust," a German drama by Goethe, will be given by the members of the Deutscher Verein, Saturday evening, April 16, at the Pauline Edwards Theatre.

Tickets for the first eight rows will be sold at one dollar. The next eight rows will cost fifty cents each, and the remaining tickets will be sold at twenty five cents each. Tickets will be on sale shortly at the German department office.

Roedder to Lecture

Professor Roedder will lecture on Goethe on March 10 at the regular meeting of the Deutscher Verein, and on March 19 he will lecture on the same topic at the Pauline Edwards Theatre under the auspices of the Goethe Society.

The annual concert will be held March 17 in the Great Hall in commemoration of the two-hundredth anniversary of the death of Goethe.

Archeologist's Revelations Published; St. Nick Athletes Perform Real Feats

By Dave Grand
Who said St. Nick teams never were much good? Who said they never competed in interesting or spectacular contests?

Oh yeah? Well then, explain this. The College never was noted for its football teams. Yet the 1927 aggregation trounced Gallaudet 58-0, and then went ahead to shellac Upsala 80-0. Don't talk about what Notre Dame or N. Y. U. would have done against those colleges. The gridgers never beat Notre Dame, but then they never met the Ramblers. They did play N. Y. U., however, and won three of the seven contests.

Then there's the baseball team, generally conceded the least successful major sport on the Heights. It never did beat a maor league nine, but then it's no disgrace to lose to the New

RETURN OF JOE MANDEL CAUSES LINEUP CHANGE

College Center Tallies Spectacularly from Midcourt—
Scores 9 Points

Buoyant Lavender hopes for an undefeated season went crashing when the College junior varsity basketball team, overzealous in its efforts to run its string of victories to twelve, succumbed to the New York University frosh quintet Saturday night by the score of 28-24 at the 102nd Regiment Armory.

For the second time in as many years the St. Nick crews reached the final game of the season with an unbroken chain of victories behind them only to have the wearers of the Violet blast their ambitious expectations.

Hodesblatt's Last Game
Coach Hodesblatt, directing his last team for the College, opened the game with a slightly changed lineup. Joe Mandel, returning to the game after a long illness, jumped center. Bill Webb, clever ball handler, was shifted from center to guard. Ben Goldbaum, bothered by an ankle which was injured in last week's contest, went in at forward. Al Greenblatt filled in at the other offense position in place of the sick Sid Goldsmith. Sid Horowitz, husky defense man, occupied his regular berth at guard.

Joe Mandel furnished the spectacularisms when he scored repeatedly with long shots from center court. He led the Lavender scorers with a total of nine points. Webb, never flashy but always effective, broke up attack after attack brilliantly.

The real nemesis proved to be Willie Kubinstein, forward and captain of the Violet. He led the scoring for

Moe Spahn Elected Captain of '32-'33 Basketball Team

Moe Spahn, sometimes called Ahab, the Terrible Turk, was elected captain of next year's varsity basketball team at a meeting of the squad after the game Saturday night. At the same meeting Joe Davidoff, who leads the team in individual scoring at the present was chosen honorary captain for the season just ended.

Spahn and Davidoff have both played two years of varsity ball, Spahn at guard and Davidoff at forward. Both are almost certain of making places on every all-Metropolitan team named in any newspaper.

COLLEGE SWIMMERS DEFEAT DELAWARE

The College swimming team scored its most overwhelming victory in years on Friday evening when it defeated the University of Delaware, 44-14 in the Lavender pool.

Harold Kramer, leading scorer in the I. S. A., broke pool records for the 150 yard back stroke and 100 yard free style and swam anchor on the 200 yard record-breaking relay team as the Varsity scored its first victory of the year in an Eastern Collegiate Swimming Association meet.

The Lavender won first place in every event. Kramer swam the back stroke distance in 1:51.6, breaking the mark of 1:54 set by Dick Boyce in 1928. The lanky Lavender star won the 100 yard free style in 0:58.6, contrasted to John Nolan's mark of 0:59.4 set last year.

Martin Rubin, Anthony Huffert, Louis Abelson, and Kramer made up the relay team which negotiated the 200 yards in 1:44.4. The former record of 1:44.8 was set last year.

Gene Siegel, College breast-stroke artist, won that event, but was disqualified because of an illegal kick, and the victory was awarded to his team mate, Joe Shubert, who followed him closely to the finish.

WEISER EXTOLS STAGE IN TALK TO LIT CLASS

"The theatre today is richer than ever before in the history of the American stage, from any angle or viewpoint," said Jacob Weiser, Broadway producer and lecturer, in an address given Friday before the American literature class of Professor William Bradley Otis.

"The trouble with the current drama is that we have too many theatres," Mr. Weiser declared. "Within the next two years, at least twenty playhouses on Broadway will become hotels or business houses. Thus, a demand for good plays will be created and bad pieces will be eliminated long before they ever see the light in New York."

WISHNEVITZ REPLACED BY "AMAZING" SECOND

College Now Has Record of
Fifteen Wins in Sixteen
Starts

By Dick Greenblatt
The College basketball team is now firmly enthroned on top of the Eastern court world.

Flashing a dazzling passing attack and displaying a devastating accuracy for the basket, Nat Holman's Lavender five definitely established its claim to the mythical Eastern title by conclusively humbling N. Y. U., 33-21, Saturday night in the 102nd Engineers Armory.

The amazing speed and dexterity of the College five sent the 5,000 spectators out of the huge drill shed hoarse from shouting the praises of this great team, exulting in its ability to defeat all its local opponents in one season, a feat unequalled by a St. Nick quintet in more than five years.

Substitute for Wishnevitz
Outside the armory, in the damp night air high above the Hudson, the crowd paid homage to Moe Spahn, the Terrible Turk, who proved the hub of the entire Lavender attack in his position as pivot man, to Joe Davidoff, the cool-headed, shifty leader of the offense, to Johnny White, who time and again provided openings for his fellows, by his constant cutting, to Moe Goldman, the gangling sophomore center who proved that he could fight and fight hard when he had to, to game little Lou Wishevitz who got up out of a sick bed to help win that coveted championship, and to Danny Trupin, who went in for Wishnevitz when the little fellow ran himself into the floor after a brave attempt to play a game which wasn't in him.—Danny Trupin, who amazed every one by scoring seven points and gaining runner-up honors in individual scoring.

They sang also of the seconds, of Kranowitz, Solomon, Julie Trupin, Berenson, Kaufman, Seigel, and Carus, who put on a bewildering exhibition of "freezing" after the first team had retired from the game shortly after the middle of the second half thoroughly exhausted by the fast pace,—of the seconds who held on to the lead which the regulars had piled
