ALUMNI ASSOCIATION FAVORS RETENTION OF BENNY FRIEDMAN

Advisory Group Satisfied With Results of
First Season

TEAM WON FOUR GAMES

Appointments Await President's Endorsement; Faculty Considers Approval Likely

Going on record as favoring the retention of Benny Friedman as coach of the football team for this coming season, the Alumni Advisory Football Committee took the initial step Monday in the clarification of the College's tangled football situation.

The committee will make its recommendation to President Frederick B. Robinson when he returns to the College after a leave of absence forced by illness.

The group which consists of Arthur Taft, chairman, Jacob Holman, Stanley Winderman, and Maurice Deiches, a member of the board of trustees of the College, met last week to consider the situation.

Taft declared that the alumni were quite well satisfied with the results of Benny's first year as coach. The Beaver gridders last season won four games as against only three losses, incidentally scoring against N. Y. U. for the first time in years. During the 1932 season, the College team won only one game, tied one, and lost five others.

Awaits Robinson Approval

Any action concerning the coaching staff will have to wait until President Robinson returns, Taft explained. It is safe to presume, however, he declared that Dr. Robinson's decision would be favorable to Friedman, and that he would be back at the helm in time for spring practice.

No mention was made of Dr. Joseph Alexander, Paul Riblett, and Saul Hielner, Friedman's assistants last season, but it is fairly certain that Alexander and Riblett, at least will return.

Friedman, informed Monday of the committee's action, was happy to hear of the alumni's approval, and expressed the hope that his assistants would be back this season. He intimated that a large amount of his success was to be attributed to last year's assistant coaches. He also added that he was ready to resume where he left off last fall.

Dr. Conterno Prepares Band
For Semi-Annual Concert

The College band, under the guidance of Dr. Giovanni Conterno, is preparing for its semi-annual concert which will probably be held in May.

An arrangement of American melodies by Dr. Conterno's father, the overture from the "Bohemian Girl" and several Bach compositions, will be included in the program. "Stand Up and Cheer," a march written by Dr. Conterno for the band as well as the other College marches will also be featured.

BEAVERS TO FACE VILLANOVA SQUAD FRIDAY EVENING

College Quintet Hopes to Break Out-of-Town
Losing Streak

LAST CONTEST CLOSE

Wildcats Have Lost to Temple, Duquesne, and George Washington this Season

Seeking to snap a string of defeats inflicted by out-of-town teams while on the road, the Lavender court machine travels down to the outskirts of Philadelphia this Friday night to engage the Villanova quintet. In its previous encounters the St. Nick's Basketeers have met with little success, dropping decisions to Geneva, Duquesne and George Washington University.

The Blue and White boasts an enviable record, losing all its encounters with the limited amount of major opposition that it has faced this year.

The Wildcats dropped close decisions to George Washington University and Duquesne early this year. Last Saturday night, they succumbed to a rejuvenated Temple contingent, one goal providing the margin of victory.

The Beavers first met the Blue and White in 1927, emerging victorious by the unusually close score of 11-9. The following year again saw Nat Holman's five sink a fighting Wildcat aggregation with only a field goal and foul marker to spare.

As far as the number of the College's victories and defeats are concerned as compared to those of Villanova, the records of both teams are on a par. However the Beavers have undoubtedly faced stiffer opposition than that of their forthcoming opponents, and consequently should have little trouble vanquishing the Blue and White.

Sol Kopitko, who added another impressive performance to his already long list when he tied Phil Levine for high-scoring honors against Fordham last Saturday night, will be opposed by John Torpey at the top-off position. Phil Levine and George Goldsmith will in all probability take care of the forward posts.

Klapper Among Educators
Added to "Red Scare" List

Dean Paul Klapper of the School of Education was the latest addition to Hearst's red scare list in the New York American last Monday. He was mentioned along with a group of prominent American educators including Chancellor Harry W. Chase of N.Y.U., Stephen Duggan, Director of the Institute of International Education, John Dewey and Professor George S. Counts of Columbia, in an editorial attacking the Moscow Summer School, of which they are Advisory Board members.

The Moscow Summer School offers courses in art, literature, education and other subjects to vacationing foreign students.

LEWIS COMMENDS R.O.T.C. TRAINING

Declares That Military Science
Aids in Character
Building

"Aside from its great primary National Defense function the R. O. T. C. has by-products of physical training, character building and citizenship instruction which justify its maintenance as an educational institution if we never are again put to the real test of war," declared Colonel George Chase Lewis in an address last Saturday over station WINS. The topic of his speech was, "The R. O. T. C. and C. M. T. C.—their Relation to National Defense."

Speaking on the refusal recently of certain California students to submit to compulsory military training, the head of the College Military Science Department said, "For a land grant college student to refuse this service in return for government aid smacks of the same sort of inconsistency as for a West Pointer to demand his free board and education but to refuse to drill."

Moskowitz Heads Alumni Committee To Investigate College Conditions

Dr. Henry Moskowitz '99 has been chosen as the head of a committee of eighteen members, investigating conditions at the College, according to an official announcement appearing in "The City College Alumnus." Dr. Stephen P. Duggan '90, president of the Alumni, was directed to appoint this committee at an annual meeting of the Alumni, held on December 17.

The committee was directed to report its findings at a special meeting of the alumni to be held within a month. However, President Duggan has suggested to Dr. Moskowitz that the date of the report should be postponed, if necessary, to permit of proper investigation. This was done to permit the hearing of President Robinson, who is now in California.

Besides Dr. Moskowitz, the committee includes Walter Timme '93, Professor of Clinical Neurology in the College of Physicians and Surgeons; Louis I. Dublin '01, second vice-president of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company; I. Ogden Woodruff '00, Professor of Medicine at Columbia; William E. Grady '97, Associate Superintendent of Schools; Waldemar Kaempffert '97; Louis Salant '98; Paul Abelson '99; Henry Neumann '00; Charles V. Morrill '03; Paul L. Kammerer '06; David B. Steinman '06; Elisha Friedman '08; Frederick Zorn '10; Edward F. Unger '11; Jonas J. Schapiro '18; Herman J. Weisman '24; and Herbert Wechsler '28.

FACULTY COMMITTEE DISQUALIFIES PLANK TO "OUST ROBINSON"

MacFadden Scored

Faculty Anti-Fascist Association Passes Resolutions Attacking Publisher; Nunan Bill, Ives Law Condemned

Resolutions condemning the MacFadden publications, the recent Street amendments to the Election law, and advocating rejection of the Nunan bill and the Ives law were unanimously passed at the meeting of the Anti-Fascist Association of the Staffs of the City College, held Sunday, February 17, in the Faculty Room.

With about seventy-five members in attendance, gathered to hear Professor Alfonse Goldschmidt speak on the Economic Causes and Consequences of German Fascism, the movements were introduced and a petition condemning the Ives Oath was circulated.

First introduced was the Election law amendment, as proposed in the New York legislature by Assemblyman Saul S. Streit. The statement, copies of which were sent to Governor Herbert M. Lehman and Assemblyman Saul S. Streit, follows:

The Anti-Fascist Association of the Staffs of the City College is convinced that the series of amendments to the Election Law recently introduced by Assemblyman Saul S. Streit constitutes an attack upon the very base of the American tradition of political freedom. If this should pass, it would be impossible for any minority opposition parties to develop. This is another evidence of the attempt to build up the Fascist state in this country.

In the nature of the case, this shameful assault upon the right of political expression and organization cannot be successfully resisted by those whose rights are suppressed. We feel, therefore, that they must be supported by all those who still believe in the American tradition.

"Liberty" Magazine Attacked
A resolution, similar to that passed at the previous meeting condemning the Hearst activities, was passed attacking Bernard MacFadden's "Liberty" policy:

Whereas William Randolph Hearst has been joined in his campaign of terror against progressive teachers in American tradition of political freedom and his magazine, "Liberty," and

Whereas Mr. MacFadden, himself condemned in a Federal Court as a publisher and purveyor of "lewd, obscene, and lascivious" matter, makes an open and hysterical appeal to lawlessness in the February 2 issue of his magazine, in an article entitled, "Com-"

PLAYWRIGHT SKLAR SPEAKS ON DRAMA

Vigorously Defends Propaganda
Play Before Literature
Class

George Sklar, co-author of "Peace on Earth" and "Stevedore" delivered a vigorous defense of propaganda drama in a talk yesterday before Professor Otis' literature class in room 126.

A capacity audience, described by Professor Otis as "hanging on every word," listened with engrossed attention as Mr. Sklar attacked the modern Broadway drama. "The Broadway theatre caters to the upper and middle classes, about 10 percent of the people of America. It must reflect their interests, which are not the interests of the 90 percent." The theater has, consequently, become more and more remote from life and its problems.

All Plays Propaganda

Every play presents the author's viewpoint, Mr. Sklar stated, and is therefore propaganda whether the author realizes this or not. The viewpoint expressed by the modern plays of O'Neill, Anderson, and Sydney Howard belong to the "escapist" class. "Most of the plays of the past ten years have been escaping from modern problems through either the leg show, historical, romantic play, or the psychological play, which concerns itself with the neuroses of the 10 percent."

BULLETIN!

The Board of Higher Education decided late last night to review the cases of the twenty-one students, expelled last October as a result of the anti-Fascist riot in the Great Hall.

The date for the hearing has not yet been decided upon, although it was announced that Charles H. Tuttle will head the review committee and that the students will be permitted to have an attorney present.

Students' Rights Party Slogan
In Election Campaign
Declared Illegal

NOT "GOOD TASTE"

Murry Bergtraum, Co-chairman of Elections Committee Resigns in Protest

All "Oust Robinson" planks in student platforms were outlawed by the Faculty Committee on Student Affairs yesterday on the grounds that they violated the canons of good taste. The ruling, which is binding on the Elections Committee, effects the Students' Rights Party only.

In an official version of the committee's verdict, Dean Gottschall said:

"The committee (Faculty Committee on Student Affairs) considers that such a plank violates the canons of good taste, and, of course, the posting of placards or streamers expressing such a sentiment likewise is a similar violation. We have so informed the Elections Committee."

After announcing the faculty decision before the Freshman Chapel yesterday, Murry Bergtraum '35, co-chairman of the Elections Committee, resigned in protest. In a statement to the Campus, Bergtraum said:

Faculty Bans Plank
"The faculty has denied the right to a party to use a plank containing an 'Oust Robinson' slogan claiming that such a plank is in bad taste. '..... this may be true. I might not personally state the issue in a like manner. Nevertheless I believe that the faculty should have conceded the point, which is at best a minor one, in the interests of free student expression....'"

"The Elections Committee is found to enforce this ruling. Since everyone seems to be passing the buck, the Elections Committee by not registering a protest, the faculty by putting us in a position where we must enforce the ruling, and the Student Council Executive Affairs Committee by remaining silent, I am resigning from the Elections Committee because I could not wholeheartedly enforce a ruling in which I do not believe registering a protest."

Dr. Robinson Contributes
To Book on Goethe's Life

"Goethe As a World Figure," is the subject of a chapter written by Frederick B. Robinson, president of the College, in a book on various aspects of Johann Wolfgang von Goethe. Edited by Dogbert D. Runes, editor of "The Modern Thinker," and published by the Rorich Museum Press, the book "Goethe — A Symposium," contains contributions by Romain Rolland and Thomas Mann, winners of the Nobel Prize for Literature, and by other eminent contemporary cultural leaders.

Casting Begins For Varsity Show

With the first draft of the book for this year's Varsity Show due next Monday, casting was begun yesterday at 4 p.m. in the Webster Room. Casting will continue today at 3 p.m.

A call for actors, especially girls who have some degree of ability, was issued by Mr. Frank Davidson, director of the show.

The current production will be a musical review similar to the "Plastered Cast" production of last year. Tentative plans for the book were formulated at a meeting of the Dramatic Society in the Hotel Kimberly Monday night.

Although plans are for the most part still rather hazy, several skits and songs were assigned.

DISCIPLINARY DEVELOPMENTS

WHILE the revised disciplinary system, made public last Friday, is obviously a sincere attempt to develop a more workable and more equitable plan, designed to eliminate many of the causes of friction over disciplinary decision, it still contains several features which could be improved.

The new set-up in brief, is this: Two committees, a Committee on Discipline and a Committee on Review, are established. All cases of discipline come to the former group which may mete out penalties ranging from probation to dismissal from the College. Where the punishment has been indefinite suspension or dismissal the case automatically goes before the Committee on Review. In other instances an appeal may be carried from the decision of the discipline group by the plea of any two of the seven members of the Committee on Discipline, the person bringing the charge, or the defendant. The decision of the Committee on Review is final except where indefinite suspension or dismissal has been recommended and then the case goes to the general faculty for final adjudication. The faculty, as we understand it, has the last say in all cases where indefinite suspension and dismissal are involved. Here, as formerly, appeals may be taken to the president or the Board of Higher Education. On the Committee on Discipline are three members of the faculty, selected by the president from a list submitted to him by the Committee on Committees, three students elected by the Student Council, and a chairman, chosen from the general faculty by these six. The five senior professors constitute the Committee on Review.

The revised system differs from the previous one in four important respects:

1. It creates a Committee on Review.
 2. The faculty no longer has original jurisdiction but is, instead, a high court of appeals.
 3. It clarifies and centralizes the powers of the old Faculty-Student Discipline Committee.
 4. The membership of the new Committee on Discipline consists of four faculty men and three students while the old committee had four students and three faculty members.
- The creation of a Committee on Review is without doubt a liberal move. Previously, when the faculty, which usually exercised original jurisdiction in severe cases, meted out disciplinary action, appeal could only be taken to the President, or the Board of Higher Education.

Another point that recommends the plan is the fact that all discipline cases except those of administrative character, which go to the dean, must be brought before the Committee on Discipline. No longer will we have the condition where any group may consider the case. In May, 1933 the Board of Higher Education took action on "The Crampus" without the case ever coming to the Faculty-Student Discipline Committee or even to the faculty. More recently, the trial of the students involved in the anti-Fascist demonstration in the Great Hall went directly to the faculty without going to the discipline committee.

The third point speaks for itself. Any clarification or centralization in a college as complex as ours is an excellent step.

Regrettably, however, student membership on the new Committee on Discipline is reduced from four to three, giving the faculty control. Dean Klapper explains this away by pointing out that in choosing a chairman the vote must be 4-2 and so faculty-student lines will be broken. This is quite true. Nevertheless, the fact remains that after a chairman has been elected, the faculty men can out-vote the student members, 4-3. In all fairness, though, we should realize, as Dean Klapper pointed out, that in only two or three of the seventeen institutions he and the committee surveyed in drawing up the new plan—institutions which have problems similar to those of the College—did the students have any voice or vote in disciplinary measures.

Secondly, the plan does not reduce the influence the president can exercise in disciplinary matters. Now, as previously, he has the power to select the three faculty members of the Committee on Discipline. Since appeals may still be taken to him, it would seem that he can exercise a disproportionate influence on disciplinary affairs.

On the whole, however, the revised disciplinary system seems to be a commendable and progressive step—conferring as it does, original jurisdiction in disciplinary affairs on a hitherto almost powerless Faculty—Student Discipline Committee.

DISCRIMINATING VOTING

IT is customary on the occasion of the semi-annual Student Council elections to discuss at length the necessity for making a wise selection from among the numerous candidates running for the various offices.

And so perhaps we should again repeat the need for voting intelligently. But more important, we think, is a knowledge of the limitations which bind the Student Council.

Certainly we should realize that the powers which the Student Council possesses are subject to severe regulation. The memory of last term when the Student Council sponsored an Anti-Fascist protest and was dissolved for its pains is still fresh.

Apparently student self-government is in large part a myth. When the Student Council left the field of parliamentary bickering and attempted to actively lead a student movement last term, the limitations on student self-government were brought home forcibly.

Accordingly then, it is apparent that some of the Utopian promises held forth mean little. The discriminating voter should be able to single out those platform planks which a Student Council can do little, if anything, to bring about.

But there are certain student movements which the Council can effectively head. Obviously, it can lead in the fight against military training through its Curriculum Committee, it can carry the fight for free books to the Board of Higher Education.

On these and other issues the candidates outlined their stands in Monday's Campus. On the basis of views only and not personalities, should the discriminating voters make their selections.

OUR NEW BEANERIE

THE opening of the new annex to the lunchroom marks a temporary relief from the over-crowded, squalid conditions which exist in the subterranean cafeteria. The extra space now available during the periods of greatest crush has already made itself felt. Professor Browne and his committee are to be congratulated for their efforts to alleviate a condition which has been the blight of the College for many years. News Item

In the news recently was the story about a seven year old lad who set fire to his school because his teacher did not promote him at the end of the term.

Boy, just think of the hell we could have raised over in those chem labs!

(Incidentally, the school didn't burn down.)
(Incidentally, there's a moral to that story.)

be secured with the aid of Federal funds, the new annex will do much toward the realization of a more bearable eating place.

The achievement of the annex, however is significant of a fact more fundamental in its nature. It is the achievement of joint student-faculty endeavor. The Campus conceived of the plan, discussed it with the faculty committee, and received whole-hearted cooperation in its execution. Surely this is a fine example of what can be accomplished by the amicable union of faculty and student body. Surely the Elysium of improved faculty-student relations can not be as unattainable as it has been painted.

Dr. A. Tomars to Address Social Research Seminar

Dr. Adolph Tomars of the Government Department will address the Social Research Seminar tomorrow in room 206 at 12:30 p.m. on the "Sociological Approach."

Next week Dr. George Simpson will address the club on the "Nature of Social Relations." Dr. Simpson, who obtained his Ph.D. degree from Columbia University, has been a frequent contributor to the "New Masses."

Correspondence

THE CAMPUS prints all communications which may be of interest to its readers, as space permits, and as timeliness of topic and propriety of expression warrants. Letters must be typewritten on one side of the page and must be accompanied by the writer's full name. Initials or pen name will be used if the writer so requests, but the full name will be furnished on application. Letters are not limited as to length, but short communications are most likely to find space in this column. THE CAMPUS is not necessarily in accord with the views expressed.

Dear Sir,

In one of the final issues of last term's "Campus," charges were made that the Cadet Club did not control its organ, the "Lavender Cadet." Specifically the charges were that the staff consisted of a cadet officer, a fellow who took Mili Sci about a year ago, and a cadet who should have been automatically suspended for non-attendance. It was also charged that the club did not pay for the paper and that all supplies were furnished by the Mili Sci department. The managing editor of the "Cadet" in answering the charges made statements that only tend to incriminate the club further. In trying to show that the staff of the "Cadet" was chosen in a democratic fashion, he stated that the staff was appointed by the president of the club.

However, this action, he fails to add, was taken without the knowledge of the membership. I suggest the managing editor consult the dictionary and learn the meaning of the word "democracy." The managing editor also stated that it was true that the editor and managing editor were no longer basic course cadets. However, they were "honorary" members of the club and therefore it is nothing strange if they edit "The Lavender Cadet."

An Indignant Cadet.

After the Curtain

The Moscow Art Players arrived on Broadway last Saturday night, presenting "Revisor," Gogol's comedy known in English as "The Inspector-General," and once more it was proven that this play has lasting virtues. For without knowing a word of Russian, it is possible—even easy—to follow the buffoonery of Gogol's comic villagers: And once more it appears that "The Inspector-General" is just as funny now as it ever was, a quality present in few plays.

Anton Chekhov's nephew, Michil, is the director of the company and takes the role of Chlestakov, a rascal in the best tradition. Mr. Chekhov has not seen fit to direct the performance in a tone of broad burlesque, allowing the values in the play to be interpreted by the audience. Thus this performance is more subtle and, I think, more satisfying to those who watch it. The acting of the group is on high standard and an evening with the Moscow Art Players is one well spent.

Screen Straps

ONE MORE SPRING—A Fox Picture. With Janet Gaynor and Warner Baxter. At the Radio City Music Hall.

Janet Gaynor and Warner Baxter are once more reunited as co-stars in "One More Spring", the romantic comedy which opens at the Radio City Music Hall tomorrow. Adapted from Robert Nathan's best-selling novel of several seasons ago, "One More Spring" deals with the romance of a pair of lovable vagabonds who lead a precarious existence in an old stable in a city park. They are joined by a penniless musician and a ruined banker and then adventures become more complicated. The metropolitan city park, locale of the action, forms an interesting cosmos where all types of humanity congregate.

SWEET MUSIC — A Warner Bros. picture. With Rudy Vallee, Ann Dvorak and Ned Sparks. At the Strand.

"Sweet Music," the long heralded Warner musical which gives Rudy Vallee another chance to display his acting and singing ability, has its premiere tonight at the Strand. In his film Vallee has the honor of introducing several fitting tunes which have already made a hit on the air; namely "Sweet Music," "Everyday" and "Fare Thee Well, Annabel."

A unanimous vote was recorded in the resolutions to repeal the Ives' Law. "Be it resolved," the motion read, "that the Anti-Fascist Association of the Staffs of the City College condemns the said Ives Law and requests the Legislature to move immediately for its repeal."

Nunan Bill Recried

The final resolution, also unanimously passed, condemning the Nunan Bill, follows:

Whereas there is a bill pending in the state legislature of New York sponsored by Senator Nunan which would impose an oath upon all applicants to New York schools supported in all or in part by public funds, the purpose of which is to exclude those students whose political principles are not in strict accord with those of reactionary "patriotricks,"

Be it resolved the Anti-Fascist Association of the Staffs of the City College opposes the passage of such a bill as vicious and redundant, and directs the secretary to forward a copy of this resolution to Senator Nunan urging all members to let their wishes on this bill be known.

Committee Bans Election Plank

the Elections Committee, accepted Bergtraum's resignation late last night with deep regrets. Members of the Student Council Executive Affairs committee could not be reached for a statement.

According to Dean Gottschall, the "Oast Robinson" plank reached the notice of the faculty when protests were made by the curator's office concerning the propriety of hanging streamers bearing this slogan in the Alcoves. The dean informed the curator's representative that the streamers could not be removed until the matter had been referred to the proper faculty committee and a decision had been reached.

New Voting System

According to the instructions printed in the Freshman Handbook, the new system of preferential voting in Student Council is as follows:

"In voting, students shall indicate the order of their preference (by numbers) among the candidates for a given office; if a candidate has a majority of the total number of votes cast for first choice he shall be declared elected; if no candidate has a majority on first choice, votes shall be distributed among the remaining candidates in accordance with the second choice, and if a candidate thus has majority of the total number of votes, he shall be declared elected, if they still is no majority, the ballots assigned to the lowest remaining candidates shall be distributed among the other candidates in accordance with the second or third choice, as the case may be; this process shall be continued until a candidate has a majority of the total number of votes cast, and thereupon is declared elected."

Balloting for all positions including student council, class, and freshman offices will be conducted by this system.

Varsity Foilsmen Bow in Dual Meet

Displaying a marked weakness in the epee event, the Lavender fencing team succumbed, 15-12 to the Navy foilsman in its initial dual meet of the season last Saturday afternoon in the Commerce center.

The margin of victory in both the foils and sabre was 5-4. Emil Goldstein and Captain Cornell Wilde accounted for nine of ten victories in these events. Goldstein won five and lost but one to Captain Arnold Johnston of Navy. Wilde lost to Johnston in the foils and Bohn of Navy in a sabre match. In both matches Wilde's opponent barely managed to eke out a 5-4 victory.

Navy Team Beats College Natators

Handicapped by the absence of several first-string men, the College swimming team sustained its fourth defeat of the season at the hands of a strong Navy aggregation last Saturday at Annapolis. The Beavers, aiming for their first Eastern Swimming Association victory, took only two first places, both of which were won by George Sheinberg.

Sheinberg, who is leading the Eastern Swimming League in scoring, won the 50 yard freestyle event in 0:25.3, and the 150 yard backstroke in 1:57. He also took third place in the 100 yard free style swim.

New Record Set

A new pool record for the 220 yd. freestyle was set by Frank Stevens, Navy star, who edged out Ed Waldron of the College. Other College men to place were Eli Kasper who took second place in the fancy dive and Alie Goldstein who finished runner-up in the 200 yard breaststroke. Sol Metzger and Sam Weidmann took third place in the 50 yard free style and 200 yard breaststroke respectively.

In the Water polo game, the Navy team, showing great improvement over its previous appearances, trounced the College outfit 32 to 5. All the College points were scored by Al Herbst on foul goals.

The Beavers will engage N.Y.U. next Friday, and anticipate a very busy evening.

The selection, buying and preparation of the right kinds of Turkish tobaccos for making Chesterfield Cigarettes is a business in itself . . .

Handling Turkish tobacco in the Liggett & Myers modern factory at Smyrna, Turkey.

WE have buyers in all the tobacco markets of Turkey and Greece, including Xanthi, Cavalla, Smyrna and Samsoun.

And at Smyrna Chesterfield has built the most modern tobacco plant in the Near East.

Here the spicy, aromatic Turkish leaf is sorted and graded under the eyes of our own tobacco men.

Then it is put away to age in its own climate for two years or more to make it milder and better-tasting.

When you blend and cross-blend the right kinds of aromatic Turkish tobacco with mild ripe home-grown tobaccos as we do in Chesterfield you have . . .

*the cigarette that's milder
the cigarette that tastes better*
