

Hold Meeting
1, Column 6)
of $50 a year.
include a sub-
A.S.U. news-

The Campus

THE COLLEGE OF THE CITY OF NEW YORK
Official Undergraduate Newspaper of The City College

JOIN THE A.S.U.

JOIN THE A.S.U.

VOL. 57 — No. 32

NEW YORK, N. Y., FRIDAY, JANUARY 10, 1936

PRICE TWO CENTS

Dean Reveals Review Group Reorganization

Prof. Thompson to Replace Brownson; Cohen Rejects Committee Position
SCHAPIRO GETS POST
To Replace Prof. Overstreet Who will Go on Sabbatical Leave Next Semester

Professor Holland Thompson of the History Department will replace Professor Carleton Brownson on the Faculty Committee on Review and Professor Morris R. Cohen, chairman of the Faculty-Student Discipline Committee will continue in his present capacity, Dean Morton Gottschall revealed Wednesday. Professor J. Salwyn Schapiro will be appointed to the committee for one term in place of Professor Harry Allen Overstreet, senior member of the faculty, who will take his sabbatical leave next term. Professor Brownson announced his retirement from the faculty last week. Professor Cohen commented that "so long as the members of the Discipline Committee wish me to remain on the committee, it is my duty to do so," and said that he probably would not accept appointment to the Review Committee on this score.

Composed of Senior Professors

The Committee on Review is composed of the five senior professors, Professors Overstreet, Brownson, H. R. Moody, Frederick G. Reynolds and Nelson P. Mead. Professors Thompson and Cohen are next in order followed by the Deans Paul Klapper and Frederick M. Skene who are ineligible because of their positions as deans of the Education and Technology schools respectively. Professor Schapiro is ninth in the present seniority ranking.

The Committee on Review hears appeals from decisions of the Joint Faculty-Student Discipline Committee of which Professor Cohen is chairman. He was unanimously elected by its six members in October, 1934.

Important Committee

The importance of the review committee lies in the finality its decisions have. The new discipline rules drawn up by the faculty this term make it a second appeals court. The Joint-Faculty Student Discipline Committee is no longer a court of original jurisdiction, the new rulings infer, but one of appeal from whose decisions further petition may be made.

Professor Overstreet's sabbatical leave will last for six months. At the end of that time, he will return as senior member of the Committee on Review and ranking member of the faculty. Professor Schapiro's term of service will come to an end at that time.

Education School to Set Up Speech Clinic Next Term

The School of Education will conduct a speech clinic next term to remedy speech defects which disqualify candidates for a teacher's license. Admission is limited to undergraduates in the Day Session. Candidates require the approval of those instructors who will be available for conferences on January 29, 30 between the hours of ten and twelve in room 410. A fee of five dollars is charged and no credit is given for the course.

Lincoln's Statue Object Of Examination Prayers

The shiny nose of President Lincoln is soon to become three shades lighter, and without using Kolynos. According to an ancient tradition, a proper tweaking of the Liberator's proboscis frees the tweaker from fear of flunking final examinations. The bronze statue of Lincoln is located in front of the Convent Avenue entrance to the Main Building.

According to the same ancient custom, men carrying twelve points are to bow three times before the statue, saying, "Lincoln, free us from oppression."

Literary Workshop Announces Plans

Lavender and Clonian Working On Joint Issue; Society to Hear Goodman, Odets

Plans for intensive literary activity during the coming semester were formed by the members of the Literary Workshop at its meeting yesterday. It was decided that the publications Lavender and Clonian will make their appearance at least three times. Work on a joint issue of these periodicals has already begun.

The Workshop plans to invite prominent literary figures to speak at the College. Clifford Odets and Malcolm Cowley are scheduled to appear, and invitations are being sent to Thomas Wolfe and Sinclair Lewis. Dean Turner and Professor Theodore Goodman have tentatively promised to address the society.

The preamble to the constitution of the Literary Workshop states that "The purposes of this group shall be two-fold: 1, to concentrate and to bring together at regular intervals those students of the College interested in the promotion of literary activity; and 2, to serve as a source for the contributors and editors of the college literary magazines, Lavender and Clonian." Membership will be open to all undergraduate students of the College, and they shall control its policies and administration.

At the meeting yesterday Charles Neider '38 was elected president, Albert Sussman '37, vice-president; and Joseph Cole '37, secretary-treasurer. Arkady Zisskind '36, and Harold Osrow '38 were chosen chairman of the program committee and chairman of the membership committee respectively.

Moore Refuses To Discuss Ban On AFA Paper

Dean of Commerce Center Is Accused of Stoppage of Bulletin Distribution

ASSOCIATION PROTEST

Ackley and Wolfson See Threat To Freedom of Press in Dean's Censorship

Dean Justice H. Moore of the Commerce Center refused to meet with the Executive Council of the Anti-Fascist Association regarding his banning of the A.F.A. Bulletin at the Business School, it was learned yesterday.

Previously Dean Moore had confiscated a bundle of Bulletins which were to have been distributed to the staff of the Business School through the mail boxes. In a letter to the association, the dean claimed that the Bulletins were being held by the administration because some instructor had protested against receiving them. He asked for a list of A.F.A. members in his school.

The A.F.A. protested against this action in a resolution which stated that Dean Moore had always made distribution of the Bulletin difficult and had himself instigated the request that the Bulletin not be distributed. The resolution condemned this action as curtailment of its freedom of the press.

To See Dean Moore

Following this resolution, Mr. John K. Ackley, president, and Mr. Hilliard Wolfson, secretary of the A.F.A., attempted over a period of a few weeks to arrange for an appointment for the Executive Committee to see Dean Moore and straighten out the matter.

Last Tuesday, Mr. Wolfson was informed by Dean Moore's secretary that "Dean Moore believes it to be unnecessary to discuss administrative rules, and feels that his letter to Dr. Leffort is a sufficient indication of his position."

Dean Moore had stated, in part: "So many protests have been received from instructors in this building regarding unauthorized insertion in their mail boxes of publications of the A.F.A. . . . that the bundle just delivered to the mail room is being held until further orders."

S.C. to Decide On C.D.A. Case This Afternoon

ICC Says Council Must Pass On Circulo Affiliation With Casa Italiana

LUCIANO NOT ADVISER

He Was Deputized by Professor Arbib-Costa to Hold that Position in His Stead

The Inter-club Council notified the Circulo Dante Alighieri yesterday that affiliation with the Casa Italiana will not be permitted unless the club first makes application to the Student Council.

The Student Council, The Campus learned, will act on the case when it meets this afternoon. Indications are that the council will not sanction the affiliation with the Casa on the basis of the fascist inclinations which the Casa is reported to have. Charges that the Casa Italiana is in practice a disseminator of fascist propaganda figured prominently in the pages of the Nation during the winter of 1934.

The Student Council has the authority to prevent the C.D.A.'s affiliation with the Casa Italiana by virtue of the article in its charter which empowers it "to pass on proposed amendments to the articles of association or charter of any organization now existing or hereafter to be formed." Joining the Casa would require an amendment to the constitution of the C.D.A.

The article in Wednesday's Campus erred in that it listed Mr. Vincent Luciano as faculty adviser of the club. He has merely been deputized by Professor Arbib-Costa, the official adviser, to act in his stead. However, Mr. Luciano had been asked to replace Professor Costa. He had indicated that he would not do so. The Campus was told, if the club affiliated with the Casa.

Mr. Luciano would not grant an interview to a Campus reporter on Wednesday.

In a letter to The Campus, the C.D.A. denied that it was a "political" group and that it had joined the Casa. It had only "authorized the president to agree to our joining," the letter said.

The C.D.A. yesterday re-elected Caesar Guazzo '36 as president, and elected Anthony Diniro '37, vice-president, Luigi Ferrari '37, secretary, Anthony De Lucas '37, treasurer, Frances Vecchiarelli '37, sergeant-at-arms.

Dean Gottschall Attacks Oxford Oath at ASU Rally; 800 at Great Hall Meeting House Plan Sponsors "Between-Terms" Dance

A "Between-Terms" dance sponsored by the House Plan will be held on Saturday evening, January 21, in the College gym. The affair will be the final one of a series given by the House Plan. Admission is thirty-five cents per couple.

National Chairman Edwards Explains Union's Aims; Sees Fascist Threat

ISSUE PLEDGE CARDS

Officers Club Representative, Neiman, Drob and Lavitt Also Address Group

Dean Morton Gottschall attacked the Oxford Pledge before 800 students in the Great Hall yesterday afternoon at the first undergraduate rally to be held at the College on the subject of the American Student Union.

Other speakers at the meeting, with the exception of Edward Kinney, representing the Officers Club, voiced approval of the new organization. George Edwards, national chairman of the A.S.U., said that the union is "dedicated to the ideals of real democracy and equality that have so long been cherished by the American people."

Dr. Gottschall also made it clear that the liberal movement represented by the A.S.U. has his backing. He asserted that, except for the Oxford Pledge, he is in accord with every point of the platform adopted at Columbus, Ohio.

"But the form which the pledge takes," he said, "is objectionable because it implies that the only way to stop war is to defy the government." He questioned whether there is "sufficient reason for the belief that exerting influence on the government with a view towards preventing war should take the form of defiance."

Classes of Supporters

The dean divided the supporters of the Oxford Pledge into three classes. The first, he said, is very small and consists of those who "have a conscientious objection to war." The second class, also small, is comprised of those who feel that war can be stopped only by a change in the social order.

"The third group," he declared, "made up of the great bulk of the people to whom the Oxford Pledge appeals, has no clear ideas about it." It was to this main body that he addressed his objections, pointing out that the implications of the pledge in time of war are rarely considered.

He declared that the argument of A.S.U. supporters who maintain that an individual can join the organization without believing in all its principles, leaves him unconvinced. "If one joins the American Student Union, he should be ready to subscribe to the whole platform and not a part of it," he asserted.

"I think insistence on the Oxford Pledge," the dean continued, "will

(Continued on Page 4, Column 1)

Campus Group Will Select Editor, Business Manager

The Campus Association will meet Tuesday, January 14, to select the editor-in-chief and business manager of next term's Campus at the office of Louis Ogust '10, president of the association, 114 Liberty Street.

All seniors of the College are eligible for the post. Irving H. Neiman '36, the present editor, urged all members of the managing board and associate board of the Campus to attend the meeting.

Brownson, Head of Classical Department, to Resign; Decries Apathy of Students in Self-Government

Feels that "There Seem to Be Few Students Interested in Council, Elections"

After more than thirty-eight years as an instructor in the College, Professor Carleton L. Brownson, chairman of the department of Classical Languages and Literature, and former Acting President of the College, will be retired at the close of this semester.

In an interview yesterday, Professor Brownson reminisced about the College as it was in 1897, and compared it with his views today. Questioned about the student of the two periods, he replied that there were two aspects to be considered: "In the first place, in the recitation room—as far as college work goes—I see no difference between the students. They are just about the same sort of men, having the same manners, responsiveness, and seriousness. I like them just as much now as then."

The other side of the question, Dr. Brownson declared, concerns the behavior of the students outside the classroom. It is here, he informs the interviewer, that the crowded condition of the College is important: "Pen up a hundred men where twenty-five should be, and there will be disturbance. College students in the building—outside of the classroom—leave a great deal to be desired."

Professor Brownson decried the lack of interest of the student body in the affairs of student government, stating that while ten or twenty years ago it functioned well, it "amounts to comparatively little nowadays. There seem to be few students interested in the Student Council or its elections." Dr. Brownson opined that if greater interest were taken, the council would be more representative of the student body. In connection with student affairs,

He Would "Like to See Students More Concerned with the College" than Politics

Professor Brownson, asked for his views concerning the American Student Union, replied by defining the function of a college or university as purely educational. He continued: "I should like to see students more concerned with the College than with political and social philosophies and the world outside."

Among the manifestations of the growth of the College which have taken place during Dr. Brownson's years as a teacher was the inception of The Campus in 1907. He remarked that he feels himself, to a certain extent, "to be among the founders of The Campus." Professor Brownson related that Bernard Shalek '10, one of the organizers of The Campus, often visited his office to discuss the possibilities of a College newspaper.

Knoff Delivers Lecture On Vice to Psych Club

Denying that economic need drives women to prostitution, Dr. Olga Knoff, physician and author, addressed the Psychology Club, yesterday, on "Prostitution and Criminality from the Viewpoint of the Individual Psychologist." Dr. Knoff said that "crime is changeable in various civilizations" and thus the criminal cannot be diagnosed "from a psychological study of the individual."

Broken homes, incompatibility of father and mother and consequent distorted views on the institution of marriage are the basic causes for women turning to prostitution, Dr. Knoff claimed. She also said that prostitutes' clients are "maladjusted persons not prepared for the responsibilities of married life and monogamous love."

Reminiscing on the past five months of Lavender sports... The Beavers turning in their best performance of the season against Drexel... unfortunately in Philadelphia where we couldn't see them... No doubt the goadings of K F 79 who was a combination of yours truly and Frank Witsen, had a lot to do with it... so incensed were the footballers that for three days afterwards we had to avoid them on peril of our lives... Irv Mauer took it very hard... Chuck Wilford still doesn't speak to us...

The memory of the Manhattan game haunts us yet... we'll never forget the picture of gloom and dejection which the College quintet at the Ebbets Field press box provided... even the frankfurters and coffee which Manhattan served us couldn't make up for it... Gil Rothblatt and myself meeting Paul Riblett on the subway after the game... Riblett was more shocked than we were... that was a bad day all told for Paul, for that afternoon his alma mater, Pennsylvania, lost to Michigan in an upset...

Next week at the NYU game and we sat entranced while we watched the backs speed by... The Violets looked invincible to us and we wondered how any team in the country could stop them... which shows how much we know about football...

That was the day the News "exposed" Bill Rockwell as a pro... the fact that Bill didn't get into the N.Y.U. game was taken by many as confirming the rumor... Bill was nursing an injured leg...

Talking with Bernie Stepensky, sports editor of Main Events after the game... Stepensky was all excited by the theory that the News story was a Fascist plot... If you'll recall the Peace Mobilization meeting was held that Friday... Stepensky insisted the News purpose in breaking the Rockwell story that day was a deliberate attempt to detract attention from the Mobilization meeting and the Robinson-Brown episode...

Everybody insisted that London's story was the bunk... but deep down in our hearts we hoped it was true... what a story that would have made... receiving a ray of hope when after personally communicating with the sports editor of the Chicago Tribune (self-advertised "World's Greatest Newspaper") he wrote us that he was convinced that London had played for the College... Assigning Morty Cohen to investigate the story and trace London's activities here in New York... the disappointing outcome...

The light furor we created in the metropolitan press when we launched our "Drop Manhattan and N.Y.U." campaign... Irv Neiman got his entire editorial on the subject printed in the New York Herald-Tribune... Irv was burned because they wouldn't pay him space rates...

Hoping against hope that our sophomore quintet would come through... watching them take the St. Francis game in stride... and the Brooklyn game although the Kingsmen's last minute rally was as exciting as anything we have seen... being bored to tears by the Dickinson game... the Dartmouth game an improvement... delighted by the Beavers' first half against Geneva... Kopitko's nasty fall, the worst we've seen in all our years of watching basketball... he tried to get up from the floor but fainted because of sheer pain and had to be carried from the floor... eating our heart out as Geneva rallied to win and the Beavers took it calmly... St. John's and defeat... talking with Bush, Kaplinsky and Gotkin of the Redmen last Wednesday night and asking them what the matter was with the Beavers... All of them agreed that what ailed the St. Nicks was merely lack of experience... Ave atque vale...

The Campus Sports

NEW YORK, N. Y., FRIDAY, JANUARY 10, 1936

PAGE 3

Dearth of Athletic Material Proves Hindrance to Coaches

Nat Holman and Benny Friedman Lead Respective Squads Through Disappointing, Mediocre Fall Campaigns; Gridmen Complete Season with Four Wins

By Irving Feingold

Disappointing exhibitions by the varsity football and basketball teams coupled with the excuse for pigskin pilfering that the Jayvees attempted, all goes to show the truth in the old adage that a team is as good as its material.

Boasting of two of the best coaches in their respective fields, namely Benny Friedman and Nat Holman, College contingents have been conspicuous because of their comparatively poor showing against, at times, mediocre competition. This contention was borne out beyond any doubt at the conclusion of the most recent of Lavender football campaigns, when in two games, a total of 110 points was scored against them. As compared to the St. Nick's inability to cross their opponents goal line even once.

To the erudite sports observer, it's no new fact that athletes of great promise are loath to enroll at the College not only because the entrance requirements are as stiff as they are but also because none of the inducements usually extended to potentially great athletes, are offered here. Upon the completion of the 1935 gridiron season, the College administration took a definite stand on pseudo-subsidizing by announcing their intention of maintaining a high scholastic average necessary for admission, without exception.

Although the cleverness and strategy of Benny Friedman's Phi Beta Kappas stood them in good stead when they were outmanned and outclassed to only a slight degree as was the case in the Drexel contest, the disproportionate manpower of the Manhattan Jaspers and New York University proved too much for the Lavender to overcome, and consequently ruined an already successful season.

The Beavers started their campaign auspiciously enough with a victory over Brooklyn 20-6. Continuing their winning ways for another game the St. Nicks trounced St. Francis 14-0, and then met with their initial defeat of their nascent campaign at the hands of Providence 12-0.

Beat Lowell Tech

On the following Saturday, the Lavender returned to the winning column by handing Lowell Textile Institute a 19-0 shellacking. By far their best performance of the year, the Drexel game brought to light the real potentialities of the College gridmen. Here, underdogs for the first time in the season, the Beavers emerged at the long end of a 12-0 score.

At Ebbets field before a crowd of 10,000 fans, Manhattan handed the Lavender the worst shellacking it had sustained in many years by the tune of 65-0. N.Y.U., taking advantage of the doldrums the College found itself in, rode along behind Manhattan and defeated the Beavers 45-0.

Greatest success, however, was achieved by the jayvee gridmen—at least according to their mentor, "Chief"

Leon Miller. Getting off to a banner start, the College Cubs were barely nosed out by the Monroe High School third team 27-0. Nothing daunted by this defeat, however, they came back fighting and coked out a 32-0 defeat under Clinton.

Their best showing, however, was that against Evander Childs when they held the Bronxites to a close score—close to fifty, the final count being 40-0. St. Francis Prep, loath to rub it in, managed to spell fins to the Beaver's season by trouncing them by a 32-0 score.

Basketball

Headed by Sol Kopitko, the 1935-36 edition of Nat Holman's court-machine raised the curtain on the present season lacking both height and experience and in some quarters, it is claimed, fighting spirit.

The College basketballers inaugurated their fourteenth year under Nat Holman by trouncing St. Francis 38-24. This victory was quickly followed up by a win over Brooklyn, the Beavers being hard-pressed all the way but finally emerging the victors by one point, 29-28.

Dickinson was the next team to taste defeat at the hands of the Beavers, losing 41-26. Dartmouth was the fourth team to lose to the Lavender. Geneva and St. John's then crushed the College cagers by the respective scores of 32-28 and 25-22.

After an auspicious start, the Beaver Junior Varsity Basketball team lost their first game of the season to the St. John's freshman team by a 31-28 count in an overtime contest.

Previously, the Beavers had trounced Kips Bay Boy's Club and Textile High School. The victory over Textile was particularly impressive, since Textile is defending P.S.A.L. champion and has four veterans on this year's squad.

The Beavers have also shown to advantage in informal scrimmages with local high schools.

Cagemen Face Eli Hoopsters

Beavers Seek Fifth Victory After Losses to Geneva And St. John's Fives

After successive defeats by Geneva and St. John's, the Beaver varsity quintet will meet a rugged Yale five in the College gym tomorrow night.

Yale, which is not enjoying a particularly successful season in its first year under the guidance of Ken Loeffler, former court coach at Geneva, is not expected to extend the Beavers' unduly. However, since Yale plays the type of basketball usually prevalent in the Eastern Intercollegiate League, spectators at the game will probably witness a rough, scrambling contest with plenty of action. When the Beavers met Yale last year, the Eli's trooped out onto the court, clad in knee-guards, shin-guards, and other assorted paraphernalia, which the average basketball coach regards as material for a football team.

Yale, which last year, under Elmer Ripley, used a man-to-man defense against the Beavers, is expected to employ the zone defense tomorrow night, since Loeffler enjoyed such signal success with that defense at Geneva last season. The Lavender should have no trouble in piercing the Yale defense however, since they have exhibited a set-shot attack which any quintet might well be proud of.

The Beaver starting lineup will consist of Bernie Fliegel and "Ace" Goldstein at the forward positions, "Count" Kopitko at center, and Sid Katz and Phil Levine as guards. However, if everything goes as expected, many of the St. Nick substitutes can expect to see action. "Cy" Schneidman, "Red" Cohen, Rubie Nabatoff, and Harry Kovner will undoubtedly take active parts in the contest.

Schneidman and Cohen, who according to pre-season dope were supposed to supplant Levine and Katz, veterans of last year's team, on the regular five will be striving desperately to show enough to warrant their promotion. Nevertheless, both Levine and Katz appear firmly entrenched in their positions.

After meeting Yale tomorrow night, the Beavers will not engage in another contest until February 5, when they meet Manhattan at Madison Square Garden.

For Homely Atmosphere
Try
FRED'S DELICATESSEN
OPPOSITE TECH BUILDING
1618 Amsterdam Avenue

HOUSE PLAN

presents

"Between-Term Dance"

January 25th

35c per couple

Last Time This Term

The Campus

Share - the - Wealth - Plan

OR

"WE - PAY - YOU - BACK"

THE MORE SUBSCRIPTIONS SOLD

25c	First 2,000 Subscriptions
20c	Next 1,000 Subscriptions
15c	Over 3,000 Subscriptions

THE LESS EACH COSTS

SUBSCRIBE NOW!

Dean Attacks Oxford Pledge At ASU Rally

(Continued from Page 1, Column 6)

make official recognition difficult, not only here but also in other colleges. "The ideal of the A.S.U. is a great step forward. If the organization removes causes of unnecessary opposition it will be free to devote itself to more important concerns."

Meanwhile, the work of organizing the union has been continuing. Over 1,500 pledge cards were distributed yesterday and the provisional committee has announced that it will accept pledges from those desiring to join.

Among the members of the committee are Irving H. Neiman '36, Julian Lavitt '36, Robert Brown '36, Judah Drob '36, Herbert Robinson '37, Wilfred Mendelsohn '37, and Simon Slavin '37.

Despite adverse speeches by Dean Gottschall and Edward Kinney, it appeared that student sentiment in the Great Hall meeting was for the most part behind the A.S.U. Kinney was applauded following his statement that the union had no place for the Officers Club and the section of undergraduate opinion that it represents.

In addition to the address made by George Edwards, support of the A.S.U. was expressed at the meeting by Drob, vice-president of the Student Council, Lavitt, president-elect of the council, and Neiman, editor-in-chief of The Campus.

Edwards spoke of the "fascist forces" that are "threatening" this country.

"We ought to remember," he said, "that in our colleges there are such things as racial quotas. We ought to remember, too, that there are people in this nation today who are threatening the right of free speech."

"We begin to realize," he continued, "that there are powers in America more potent than the American democracy and we realize that it is time to organize."

Attacking the existence of R.O.T.C. on College grounds and the suppression of academic freedom, he said in conclusion: "The students must unite. They must join with the elements among the American people that can fight the fascist forces threatening us."

Kinney termed the A.S.U. a radical organization and attacked its stand on the R.O.T.C. and on the Oxford Pledge.

Contrary to the expectations of the provisional committee charged by the Student Council with drawing up plans for the mass rally, Lavitt was not permitted to preside. The latter told The Campus that in a conference with Dean Turner last Monday he had been given the impression that he would be permitted to act as chairman. Yesterday morning Dr. Turner denied that he had made any promises, and announced that under the rulings of the Open Forum it would be necessary for Professor Babor to preside.

At the Great Hall rally, Lavitt made a speech during the course of which he said that A.S.U. pledge cards would soon be distributed. Professor Babor immediately told him that such proceedings were illegal at open forums. No cards were issued.

Drob spoke immediately after Dr. Gottschall, and denounced the administration's action in banning a student chairman. In defense of the Oxford Pledge he said that wars were caused by economic forces and that it is necessary to "recognize very clearly that there is no distinction between offensive and defensive wars."

Teachers Union Requests Increase in State Aid

The College branch of the Teachers Union posted a petition last Wednesday in the Faculty Mail room urging increased state aid for education in accordance with the terms of the Friedsam Act.

The petition, sponsored by the union and twenty-one organized labor groups, will be sent to Governor Lehman and the legislature of New York State. Parents, citizens and teachers were requested to sign.

Correspondence

To the Editor of The Campus:

This letter is written under the impression that your loudly vaunted desire for justice will carry you so far as to print it. We endeavor to correct the erroneous effects of your article re the C.D.A. affiliating with a Fascist group. Let it be known throughout the College that the C.D.A. is not a political group. Originally organized to foster cultural and social activities among students interested in Italian culture and ideals, it has, in the past, faithfully carried out its pledges, going out of its way on many occasions to avoid even the slightest political contamination. The C.D.A. will continue to do so.

It does not seem possible that you have drawn your information from authorized sources. The only individual designated by the club to give information of its activities is its president, Caesar Guazzo did not make the statements you headlined.

Consider the following pertinent facts. First—Prof. Arbib-Costa is our faculty advisor (a bit of information very difficult to obtain indeed). While it is true that we have approached Mr. Luciano with the suggestion that he cooperate with the society in an advisory capacity, collaborating with the burdened Prof. Arbib-Costa, he has not, up to the time of your article, accepted our proposal.

Now then, about the Casa Italiana's federation of Italian societies, we reiterate that our ties, if there are such ties, will be of a purely cultural and social nature. If ever any political propaganda shows its ugly head, this club will disavow its membership. It will be our duty to do so. But to call the Casa Italiana Fascist is to call Columbia University Fascist and to call C.C.N.Y. communist because a number of its students are suspected of communist activities.

And now to conclude, THE C.D.A. HAS NOT JOINED THIS FEDERATION. At the last meeting of our society we authorized the president to agree to our joining, at a meeting of the presidents of the various societies concerned to be held sometime in February, if the circumstances continued to show no sign of political contamination.

Caesar Guazzo, pre.ident

10% More
On Your Used Text-Books

College Outline Series Review Books at the College Inn and Bookstore

(opposite the Tech Bldg.)

Final Examination Schedule

Day Session — Main Center

9 a.m.

12 m.

3 p.m.

Thursday, January 16

Acctg. 101
Bio. 23, 32
Chem. 22, 122
Civ. Eng. 233
Educ. 117, 119
Elec. Eng. 237
Engl. 34, 41
French 11

Govt. 13a, 59
Hist. 22, 36
Ital. 43
Latin 12
Math. 14
Phil. 22
Span. 24
Unatt. 1

Bio. 25, 27
Chem. 20, 120
Ch. E. 175
Civ. Eng. 236
Elec. Eng. 125
English 8
Fren. 15, 34, 41
Carm. 32, 41, 42
Govt. 16

Greek 41
Hist. 21, 26a
Italian 41
Latin 18
Math. 5, 16, 17
Phil. 53
Physics 7
Pub. Sp. 21
Span. 33, 41

Elec. Eng. 120, 121, 230
Math. 1, 2
Music 1
Phil. 18, 25a
Pub. Sp. 32

Friday, January 17

Education 99
French 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 19
German 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 19
Govt. 51
Italian 1
Spanish 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6

Ch. E. 261
Econ. 150
Educ. 115
Engl. 11
Fren. 51, 53, 54

Germ. 51, 53, 54
Govt. 54
Hist. 31a
Phys. 11
Span. 51, 53, 54

Acctg. 102
Bio. 42
Ch. E. 260
Chem. 55
C. E. 210, 225
Eco. 175, 208
Educ. 13, 61
E. E. 233

Engl. 28, 39
Fren. 24
Geol. 14
Germ. 34
Govt. 22
Latin 33
Math. 13, 53
Phil. 13
Physics 31

Monday, January 20

Chem. Engineering 170
Drafting 101
Elec. Engineering 232
History 33
Italian 13
Latin 1, 2, 3, 4, 51, 52, 53, 54
Philosophy 4, 56

Chemistry 99
Civil Engineering 110, 301
English 32a
Math. 3, 4, 7, 8, 42, 43
Mech. Eng. 220, 235
Philosophy 1
Unattached 15

Bio. 21, 41
Chem. 50
C. E. 224
Draft. 5, 102,
103, 105
Eco. 215, 220
E.E. 199, 231
Engl. 22, 36
Fren. 13, 33

Germ. 20, 30
Govt. 11
Greek 4, 11
Math. 32
M. E. 232
Phil. 19, 61
Pub. Sp. 11
Span. 11
Unat. 2, 5

Tuesday, January 21

Chemistry 1a, 1, 2a, 2, 3,
4, 153, 159
Civ. Engineering 226

Bio. 11
Chem. 60, 121, 123
Econ. 22
E. E. 239
Engl. 24, 37
Geol. 13

Govt. 5, 58
Greek 43
Hist. 27
Phys. 16
Sc. Sur. 4
Span. 13

Bio. 2, 13, 16
C. E. 213
Econ. 105
E. E. 240
Geol. 1
Germ. 23

Govt. 24
Hist. 25
Ital. 3
Math. 11
M. E. 210
Phil. 15

Wednesday, January 22

Chem. Engineering 148
Civil Engineering 120
English 26
History 4, 17
Physics 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6,
10, 12, 15

Bio. 31
Chem. 59
C. E. 232
Econ. 30
E. E. 135
Engl. 27, 30
French 16
Geol. 20

German 18
Govt. 14
Greek 31
Hist. 39
Latin 16
Math. 15
M. E. 234
Phil. 21, 59

Spanish 12

Biology 22
Economics 273, 1
Government 53
History 1, 2, 3
Physics 13

Thursday, January 23

Civil Engineering 101
Education 11, 20, 41, 42
Mech. Engineering 124
Philosophy 24b

Economics 12
Education 76
English 3, 4

Biology 1, 24
Chemistry 33
Mech. Engineering 221
Science Survey 1, 2

Friday, January 24

Economics 7
Education 16
M. E. 122, 231
Philosophy 5

Bio. 26
Chem. 144
Civ. Eng. 111
Drafting 201

Econ. 1, 2, 20
Geol. 11
Hist. 32
Phil. 12

Education 21
Government 1

176
3

More and Text-Books

Outline Series Books
the George Inn
Bookstore
(Tech Bldg.)

gl. 28, 39
en. 24
ol. 14
rm. 34
rt. 22 in 33
th. 13, 53
l. 13
ysics 31

m. 20, 30
vt. 11
ek 4, 11
th. 32
E. 232
l. 19, 61
Sp. 11
n. 11
t. 2, 5

t. 24
c. 25 3
h. 11
E. 210
l. 15

Serial