Beavers Lose To St. Joseph By 13-0 Score

Line Unable to Cope With Heavier Hawk Wall In Year's Third Loss

ST. JOE COUNTERS ON SECOND PLAY

By Gil Rothblatt
Special to The Campus
OVERBROOK, Phila., Nov. 14—St. Joseph's College, which lies a bit to the windward of the Philadelphia city line, should have in all fairness, loaned the latter to Benny Friedman for this afternoon's contest between the Beavers and its own doughty Hawks. It is certain to say, however, that even the Philly boundary would not have been more completely outclassed by a hard-charging Crimson, forward wall than were the Lavender linesmen, as the rambling St. Nicks dropped their third game of the season to the St. Joe team, 13-0.

The reasons for the College's defeat seems to rest solely in the poor play of the St. Nick "Seven Shades of Diaphanous Organdie." Weakened by the absence of Charlie Wilford, the Beaver line was completely unable to provide adequate defense for its passers or openings for its backs, especially in the first half. Although the line play did perk up in the second session so far as the defensive aspect was concerned, the gross total of sixty yards gained on the ground in the sixty minutes bespeaks of an under-par performance throughout the four periods. A goal line stand for four downs early in the first quarter is the only praiseworthy instance.

Cole Runs 61 Yards

The Hawks, who had not been scored upon in their previous three encounters, took Joe Marsiglia's nice kickoff to their own 39 yard line a moment after the starting whistle. Johnny Cole, a 186 pound fullback, tried the center but was stopped with no gain. On the next play, Cole skirted outside of Gus Garber at left tackle behind four interferences, and with each of his convoy blocking perfectly, ran 61 yards for a touchdown. Had the injured Wilford been in the game at his regular position instead of Garber, the score might have been prevented. Cole's try for the extra point was low.

The Crimson team dominated the rest of the half, completing five out of eight passes and gaining some 130 yards. Hard running by the St. Joe backs and very undecisive tackling by the Beavers helped the Hawks stage a drive from their own 40 to a first down on the City 3. A nice play by Bill Silverman, a fumble and two un-

College Debating Team Announces Spring Topic

Professor Lester W. Thonssen of the Public Speaking Department announced yesterday the topic to be debated in national intercollegiate debating circles this year. The topic is Resolved: That Congress shall be empowered to fix minimum wages and maximum hours for industry.

Last year the College Debating Team concluded one of the most successful seasons in its history. The team debated with Harvard and University of California over Station WOR, Princeton, Dartmouth, West Virginia, Colgate, and Penn State.

'37 Class to Feature Personalities Ballot

A meeting of the senior class will take place in room 315, on Thursday, Nov. 19, at 12 noon, Irv Nachbar, president, announced. A special feature on the program will be balloting for senior personalities.

Discussion of the prom policy is scheduled for the meeting. Whether or not corsages will be allowed, is to be decided at that time.

Several schools, including the University of California have moved to outlaw corsages at dances because they incur too much expense.

In addition to the above program, Professor Woll, marshal of Commencement will make the customary announcements.

Mayor to Talk At Alumni Fest

President Robinson, Poor, Osterman and Others Slated to Speak

Mayor Fiorella H. LaGuardia will be among the speakers who will address the College alumni at their fifty-sixth annual dinner to be held Saturday, November 21, at the Hotel Roosevelt, Donald A. Roberts '19, secretary of the Alumni Association announced.

The other speakers who are expected to address the gathering are President Frederick B. Robinson, Charles Lane Poor '86, Professor George W. Edwards '11 and Max Osterman.

Plans have been made for a dinner and entertainment, Harry Cooper '11 and Joseph L. Hochman '11, chairmen of the arrangement committee, announced. Cocktails will be served before dinner with the compliments of the Class of 1911. There will be dancing after the dinner and speeches.

Tickets are available by mail, telephone, or in person with Mr. Roberts until Friday morning, November 20. Ladies will be admitted for the dancing and speeches upon the payment of one dollar.

Gags and Slapstick Fail to Save "Doctor's Wife," Reviewer Laments

Thompson, Freedman Star Despite Poor Choice In Liston Play

By Illidge
The audience laughed last Friday—sixty times in the first two acts, according to the tabulation backstage. Your reviewer laughed, too; some of the cracks were quite funny. But after The Doctor's Wife was over and the time came for a reckoning of the Theatre Workshop's initial production of the season, there remained but two excellent performances and a few good gags.

The two outstanding performances were given by Edward Thompson, as Dr. Harker, and Noel Freedman '39 as Jimmy. With Noel's refreshing personality and ability and his father's connections the boy has a great future ahead of him.

The gags, woven not too cleverly, around a flimsy plot, were the play's saving grace—the gags and some slapstick in the third act. Why the Workshop, in-

'Follies' Stars To Give Show For Dram Soc

Polly Waters From Cast of 'Red Hot and Blue' Also to Appear

TO TAKE PLACE IN GREAT HALL

Polly Waters currently appearing in Red, Hot, and Blue and Cherry and June Preisser of the Ziegfeld Follies are among those scheduled to appear in the Dram Soc Chapel at 12 noon today. The entertainment at the Chapel will wind up a whirlwind campaign to boost sales for Valentin Katayev's Squaring the Circle, to be presented at the Pauline Edwards Theatre on November 27, 28.

Miss Waters, in addition to her present part in Red, Hot, and Blue has played the lead in She Loves Me Not. The Preisser sisters have fourth billing in the newest of the Ziegfeld extravaganzas.

Tickets for Squaring the Circle range from thirty to seventy-five cents and can be obtained in the alcoves.

Miss Horowitz Is Named As Fete Queen

Business Student Picked By Russell Patterson, Famous Illustrator

TO BE CROWNED SATURDAY IN GYM

Miss Hazel Horowitz of the Commerce Center will be crowned carnival queen Saturday night at the House Plan Carnival. Her nearest competitors, who will act as members of her court, are the Misses Charlotte Klein, Muriel Labadorf, Birdie Cohen and Greta Meyer.

Miss Horowitz will be coronated at 11 p.m. during the course of the carnival. The ceremony will be conducted by Mr. Russell Patterson, prominent magazine illustrator, who selected her and her attendants.

Each house in the House plan will maintain a booth at the carnival. Dart games, Bingo, a marionette show, a minstrel show, magician's acts and a fortune teller will be featured.

The deans of the College will select the best booth, whose sponsors will have the privilege of presenting a piece of furniture to the House Plan Center.

McCloskey To Talk

State Director of NYA to Address Joint Meeting Sponsored by College NYA-ASU Committees

Mark McCloskey, New York State Director of the National Youth Administration, will address today's meeting of NYA students and applicants, sponsored by the Student Council NYA and ASU Committees. The meeting will be held in room 315 at 3 p.m.

Other speakers on the program will be Professor Arthur D. Compton, NYA administrator at the College, and Theresa Levin, member of the District Committee of the American Student Union. The members of the Faculty NYA Committee are expected to attend.

Members of the Student Council committees conceive the purpose of the meeting to be the achievement of harmony between faculty and students' on NYA difficulties and the alleviation of certain evils of administration. An attempt will be made to form a permanent organization, with an executive committee and a grievance committee, to be elected today.

A proposed organization of NYA students failed last year after several meetings were poorly attended. A group of Student Council Committees on NYA problems were largely inactive. Members of these committees attributed this to the apathy of the student body.

The proposed American Youth Act is expected to figure prominently in the discussion of the deficiencies of the present act. The College has already participated in several campaigns for the passage of the AYA. The delegation to the various Youth Congresses, the participation of College groups in this year's Youth Day Parade, and the formation of an AYA inter-club committee last term were features of the campaigns.

Women's Acting Bad

Another unfortunate aspect of The Doctor's Wife was the acting of the women. Miss Marcia Newton's performance in the title role was sad. Miss Lowe was pleasing to look at but somewhat amateurish.

George Keuhn '37, who was excellent last time in "Six Characters," did well with a difficult part as Everett Wilson, the hypochondriac, though at times his acting was a bit strained. The direction was adequate.

We hope the Workshop's next choice will be more fortunate. In this respect it can learn from the Dram Soc, an older group and one more versed in gaging what will appeal to the College's taste. Or else, the Workshop might attempt a standard repertoire of Shaw, Ibsen, Shakespeare, and Gilbert and Sullivan.

Great Hall Discussion To Climax Peace Week; Norman Thomas To Talk

Professor Horne to Take Short Leave of Absence

Professor Charles F. Horne, head of the English Department, is convalescing after an attack of influenza which he suffered last week. The professor will take a short leave of absence in order to recuperate from his illness.

Professor Horne's courses include English 73, Shakespeare's comedies, which will probably be taken over by Mr. Burt during the professor's absence and English 85, a course in the development of the novel.

Seniors Seek Prom Beauty

Disdain Columbia Choice Of Gypsy Rose Lee; Plan Floor Show

The seniors of Columbia University have attracted much attention recently by the choice of Gypsy Rose Lee as the Queen of their Prom. College seniors, not to be outdone, intend to have as their Queen someone just as spectacular, but somewhat more respectable. In addition, a complete floor-show, featuring Ben Grauer as master of ceremonies, is promised for the semi-annual event.

In spite of the elaborate program, the price is $3.75 for the supper and the dance.

John Schmidt '37, chairman of the entertainment committee, is concluding negotiations for the heralded attractions.

Murray Cohen '37, chairman of the Prom committee announces that tuxedos can be hired through the class council at the rate of $2.50.

Any suggestions for the Prom are to be brought up at the Senior meeting on Thursday, he stated.

Cohen to Address History Society

Professor Morris Raphael Cohen of the Department of Philosophy will address the History Society on Peculiarities in American History next Thursday at 12:30 p.m. in room 126.

Dr. Cohen is considered to be one of the foremost philosopher and logicians he has written the text used in Philo 12, Logic and Scientific Method. He is also the author of The Faith of a Logician published in 1930, Reason and Nature and Social Science and Natural Science.

Dr. Cohen is undoubtedly one of the greatest authorities on constitutional law. His volume Law and the Social Order is considered one of the classics on that subject. Although he has long been an opponent of the Supreme Court. One of the best and most intimate friends was the late chief justice Oliver Wendell Holmes. Professor Cohen's book Mr. Justice Holmes is a touching tribute to a truly great man.

Last December Professor Cohen read a paper on probability to the American Philosophical Association and a paper on a statistical view of nature to the American Statistical Society.

Ackley and Lerner Also To Speak at Meeting Thursday at 2:30

SEMINARS PLANNED

College Faculty Members To Address Sessions On Various Topics

Climaxing Peace Week, the Peace Institute will hold a series of three sessions at which prominent speakers, including Norman Thomas, Dr. Waldo Stephens of the Department of Political Science at Columbia, and Recorder John K. Ackley will discuss the problem of peace and the student, this Thursday and Friday in the Great Hall.

The second session will consist of five seminars on various subjects relating to the struggle for peace.

At the first session which will be held Thursday at 2:30 p.m., Mr. Ackley and James Lerner, executive secretary of the American League Against War and Fascism will address the student body on the World Peace Crisis and the Spanish Situation As It Affects World Peace.

Norman Thomas and an international authority of political science, Dr. Stephens, have tentatively consented to speak at the same session.

Immediately following these addresses, the five seminars will be conducted in different rooms under the auspices of various chairmen. College faculty members will address each seminar. The topics of these seminars are as follows:

1. a. Shall the Government Control Atoms?
2. How Shall War be Declared? room 308, chairman, Gerald Goodman '38.
3. The Economic System and the War? room 220, chairman, Stanley Silverberg '38. Edward Rosen, of the College History Department will be the opening speaker.
4. Will Collective Security Further Peace? room 225, chairman, Simon Slavov '37.
5. The Question of Neutrality? room 210, chairman, Joseph Janovsky.

The third and concluding session will be held on Friday, at 12 noon in the Great Hall. At this session, James Wechsler, editor of the Student Advocate, Al Sussman, editor of The Campus, and Herbert Robinson, president of the Student Council will speak on the Role of the Student in the Peace Movement.

ICC Meeting to Discuss Impeachment of Delegates

A meeting of the Inter-Club Council will be held on Thursday, November 19, in room 208, at 2:00 p.m. The Council will discuss the question of the impeachment of the ICC delegates to the Student Council.

At the last meeting of the Council, Milton Brodsky '37 and Simon Slavov '37, delegates to the Student Council, were impeached for non-attendance of Inter-Club Council meetings.

The ICC will reconsider the impeachments at the forthcoming meeting, since the entire council was not present at the last meeting.

Students Give $12 to Fund To Help Spain

Group Sends Out Thirty Volunteer Collectors In New Campaign

The ASU-Student Council Spanish Defense Committee, intensified its campaign to collect money, food, and clothing for the Spanish Loyalists by sending out thirty volunteers with contribution boxes, according to Bernard Wolf '40, publicity director, late last week. An additional crew of volunteers will be sent out this week pending the arrival of more boxes. Students willing to take part in this work are asked to report at the committee's booth in the alcove.

The first three boxes opened by the committee late Friday afternoon yielded a total of $12.00. As the boxes ordinarily hold about five dollars each, the committee expects to send out 100 volunteers to reach its quota of $500 by Dec. 4.

Contributions of clothing and medical supplies may be given to these volunteers or to attendants at the alcove booth. The committee is at present trying to arrange to have additional booths put in Townsend Harris Hall, the House Plan Center, and at the Varsity Show.

The publicity division is attempting to bring a group of Spanish students to the College to stage an appeal for the Spanish Government in the closing week of the drive, Bernard Wolf announced. Co-operating with the committee is the Art Workshop which is turning out posters publicizing the appeal for funds. Students of the evening session are also being contacted in an attempt to extend the campaign to them.

The plan, which is under the joint sponsorship of the ASU and the Student Council, was adopted as a result of a resolution to aid the Spanish People's Front, passed by the Council early this term. The collection booth located in the alcoves is open from 9 a. m. to 4 p. m.

Prize-winning Senior Beams As Campus Prints His Name

Arnold Roseman '37 read The Campus last Friday, and fumed when he arrived at columns two and three on page four. There he perused an article which happily related how one Arthur Ellenberg '38 had won some money for his mother in the Irish Sweepstakes.

Roseman read on, hoping against hope. Alas, his name wasn't there. Oh, cruel world! he said, why am I always forgotten? Why can I not get my name in The Campus?

Just as the poor chap burst into tears, a Campus reporter breezed by, and he uncovered the root of all the trouble—which brings us to the reason for all this. It seems that Roseman had a Sweepstakes ticket and drew a non-starter. His mother paid for the ticket, but Arnold picked it out. Today, it's worth $3,000. "It was a great thrill," he told The Campus in an exclusive interview. "Guess I'll get a new suit."

Thus, Arnold Roseman '37, eminent biology student gets his name in The Campus, today. It may be the last time, but Arnold will go on through life, always beaming when he thinks of the Sweepstakes, his new suit, and today's Campus.

Campus to Commemorate House Plan Anniversary

Commemorating the second anniversary of the House Plan, The Campus, will print a supplement in the Friday, Nov. 20 issue, featuring articles on various phases of the plan's development and activities.

The supplement will include a featured article on the House Plan, past, present and future, articles on each house and on the various activities of the plan.

Seminar to Hold Meeting With Social Laboratory

The Social Research Seminar and Social Research Laboratory will hold a joint meeting Thursday, at 12 a. m., in room 208, at which research experiences of students connected with both bodies will be discussed.

In addition, the Seminar will discuss its forthcoming publication, Social Research. Contributions for the periodical are being accepted daily in room 206A.

Democracy Needs Free Universities, Says Mark Eisner

The extension of free higher education is essential to the maintenance of democracy. Mark Eisner, chairman of the Board of Higher Education, asserted at a dinner celebrating National Education Week.

Chancellor Harry W. Chase of New York University offered a divergent view in defending the present system of higher education and stating that it would be a calamity if either free or paid colleges became the sole agencies of higher education. Mr. Eisner held that "it is imperative that we maintain and extend equality of opportunity in higher education in order to provide a more intelligent leadership."

Dr. Chase explained that part of the process of solving the unemployment situation would be by social security on the upper end and by increased education facilities on the lower end.

Others at the dinner, the theme of which was "The Place of Free Higher Education in American Democracy," were Mayor La Guardia; Mrs. Marion R. Mack, Chairman of the Board of Trustees of Hunter College; Arthur M. Howe, chairman of the administrative committee of Brooklyn College.

Campus Moves Down to Office In Lower Depths

After twenty-nine years in Room 412, The Campus has moved to Rooms 8 and 10 Lunch Room Mezzanine. At present The Campus will only occupy Room 8 due to repair work going on in Room 10. Room 8 will be used as the Business and Editorial office, while Room 10 will be the Copy Room.

The history of The Campus' reign in 412 has been studded with amazing and mysterious incidents and accidents, the most amazing of which was a nocturnal visitor who stuck his head through the skylight in Room 412 at 7 p. m., inquiring if he was at the Bronx County Municipal Court. With that introduction, he dropped through the skylight.

Dram Soc to Give Second Production Thursday in 306

The Dramatic Society will present Free Speech by William L. Prosser this Thursday at 12:30 p. m. in room 306 in line with the movement in complete student production of plays at the College. E. Lawrence Goodman '36, last term's president of Dram Soc, will direct.

The cast follows: Ivan, Dan Feins '37; Nikolai, Eli Walzer '40; Feodor, Lawrence Goldstein '37; Boris, Bernard Wessler '39; Sergius, Stanley Glaser '40; Corporal, Mason Abrams '39; Prisoner, Milton Greenbaum '39. Jesse Schwartz '38 is stage manager.

Free Speech will be the second in the series of one act plays Dram Soc is presenting.

Beavers Lose To St. Joseph By 13-0 Score

(Continued from Page 1, Column 1) completed passes, however, gave the College the ball. Marsiglia's 65 yard punt with the wind drove back the home team temporarily, but was forced to boot the ball the same distance five plays later. Undaunted, the Crimson drove down into Lavender territory again, Walter Schimienty's interception of a pass on the City 25 stemming a march which had made four first downs in four plays.

The Beavers plucked four St. Joe passes out of the air in the third period, Leo Garbarsky getting two, and Irv Lubow and Schimienty one apiece, but were unable to capitalize on any of their opportunities. Set back on their heels by Cole's 72 yard quick kick in the last minutes of that quarter, the Beavers then took to the air with the majority of their 17 passes. With Izzy Weissbrod, who played valiant ball all afternoon, pegging aials to Schimienty, Marsiglia and Jacobs, the Lavenders carried the ball from their 18 to the St. Joe 14. A long pass from Weissbrod to Jacobs was about a foot wide in the end zone and the Beavers lost the ball.

Pass Intercepted

Before they could resume their offensive a few moments later on the Crimson 44 yard line, Steve Day, Hawk right-half, who had been tabbed as an able pass defender, snatched a Lavender pass out of Julie Levine's hands and ran 54 yards to the City 17. A pass from Cole to Art Morrison in Marsiglia's territory scored the second Crimson tally. Although Joe is a really fine prospect, he has unfortunately shown a marked weakness at pass defense. Since the Beavers did not need a kicker, he shouldn't have been in the game at the time.

The Beaver ends played poor ball all afternoon, hardly ever rushing the passer or kicker. It is true, however, that the referees warned the Lavender wingmen that they would draw penalties for over-zealous charging. The Beaver safety men never moved more than a few paltry yards on runback of punts, two or three burly Hawk linemen always coming down fast. Roy Howit, who played 60 minutes of good ball, Leo Garbarsky, "heads-up" guard, and Henry Schenkman, who performed at tackle although nominally a guard, were worthy of commendation.

Holman Quintet Reveals Promise

This year's edition of Nat Holman's basketball quintet may or may not set the world afire, but every practice convinces most onlookers, that despite a more vigorous schedule the College five will surpass its 1935 record of ten victories and four losses. Even a cursory glance at the Beaver workouts, establishes the fact, that hampered as they are by inexperience and lack of polish, the hoopsters are bound to develop into smart, smooth working ball handlers.

This year's team will probably be built around co-captains Jack Singer and Harry Kovner, and Bernie Fliegall who will jump at center. Singer is a crackerjack on the defensive while Kovner is an all around player, who has so far been prevented from reaching his real potentialities by an attitude of self depreciation amounting almost to an inferiority complex.

Two other men sure of seeing plenty of action this season are Sy Schneiderman and "Ace" Goldstein both of whom proved themselves fast, tricky floormen last season on the varsity five. Dave "Red" Cohen and Eddie Weiss are other Holman pupils whose play prompts superlatives.

A couple of midget sized performers, Bobby Sand and Lou Edelson will head the reserves, capably assisted by Lou Lefkowitz, Arty Rosenberg and Manny Jarmulnick. Sonny Fishman, a former Jayvee center, and Charley Bergman will further help to assuage Holman's headaches while Carl Supias' awkward efficiency is reminiscent of Sol Kopitko, last year's captain.

SPORT SLANTS

Locker-Room Notes: Bill Silverman may be a boxing champ, but he and the rest of our thick-chested gridders are all afraid of "Doc" Duckers, especially on Fridays, laundry-collection day, when he flits from locker to locker haunting all . . . Al Wiener, Iz Weissbrod, and Artie Jacobs, self-styled 'Touch-Football & Association' champions, have accepted a challenge from Harry Menaker, Gus Garber, and Henry Schenkman, the fastest, most agile trio on the squad! . . . But Henry has his place in Friday pre-mortems. The entrance of his 230-lbs. into any brawl marks 'finis' for the participants . . . Wiener, we have it on good authority, is a real "sharpie" from Brooklyn, down to the suspenders. He's a singing band leader down there where Dodgers grow . . . Sweetest scene of the week: Big Bill Silverman with his tongue sneaking out of the corner of his mouth, carefully putting a part in "Chick" Bromberg's hair . . .

Joe Marsiglia isn't taking to the rave newspaper notices which have been appearing since his punting in the Manhattan game. He knows only too well that one crucial misplay or bad kick might change the toasts into roasts . . .

Strange as it seems, Jack Singer, basketball co-captain, is nearsighted on the court, and when he wears his glasses in a game, curiously enough, his shots are off! . . . He and Bernie Fliegall were on the Metropolitan All-Stars with Bender, Kramer, Merson of L.I.U. which trounced the Bronx 'Y' recently . . . Bernie seems to be headed for the all-city center berth . . . Harry Kovner, other court captain, is playing with the Brooklyn Jinx . . .

Bernie Walpin is a "comer later" emeritus. Saturday, he missed his bus to Philadelphia and thus didn't make the first quarter of the St. Josephs game. In the evening, he had to run to catch the last return bus . . . Abe Weissbrod and Sam Winograd, former basketball greats, are both at Columbia, the former for Law and Sam for Physical Ed . . . Abe's also playing for the 92 St. 'Y' which, too, bowed to the All-Stars . . .

John R. Tunis listed the College eleven among the few and rare purely amateur squads in the country . . . And speaking of amateur football reminds us of the introduction a star was given the other day: ". . . and he sends his father an allowance every week, too!" . . .

Incidentally, any of the "unbelievers," who doubt the McCoy of our column as of Friday the 13th ("NYU O, CCNY '39, S'Help Us!") will be furnished proof in The Campus office by

Beaver Harriers In IC-4A Meet

Competing against the cream of the country's cross-country talent, the College harriers participated in yesterday's IC-4A meet, held in the late afternoon over the Van Cortlandt Park course. The final results were not available at Campus press time, but will appear in the next issue.

The "Big Three," Michigan State, Cornell and Manhattan were slated to have things much their own way, and to decide first place team honors between themselves.

Though you've been smoking them from morn 'til midnight, you'll find that Luckies leave a clean taste...a clear throat. They're a Light Smoke.

For a Clear Throat After a Late Party

The cigarette that leaves your throat free and clear on party nights will also leave it free and clear every night. So, whether it's a "big date" or "early to bed," protect the delicate membranes of your throat! Reach for a light smoke—a Lucky. You'll get the finest tobacco money can buy—but free of certain irritants nature conceals in even the most perfect specimen of raw tobacco. Remember, these irritants are OUT of your Lucky Strike. "Toasting" takes them out. A light smoke gives your taste a thrill . . . and gives your throat protection!

NEWS FLASH!

Memphis Columnist Prints Weekly Forecast for "Sweepstakes"

Harry Martin, well-known Memphis columnist, has added a special feature to his column. Each week he predicts the winners in Your Lucky Strike "Sweepstakes"—and so far he's been right one time in three. "I'll take a small pat on the back for that .333 batting average," says Mr. Martin—and we're ready to give it to him. Congratulations, Mr. Martin.

Have you entered yet? Have you won your delicious Lucky Strikes? There's music on the air. Tune in "Your Hit Parade"—Wednesday and Saturday evenings. Listen, judge and compare the tunes—then try Your Lucky Strike "Sweepstakes."

And if you're not already smoking Luckies, buy a pack today and try them. Maybe you've been missing something.
