Affidavits Concerning Allegations Filed with Board

Charges of anti-semitism have been leveled against Dr. W. Park Richardson, medical supervisor of the College, in a brief filed with the Board of Higher Education by the College Teachers' Union on behalf of Charles Melowsky, a clerk in the medical record office.

The following affidavits are contained in the brief filed with the board:

"To whom it may concern:
This is to attest that on May 10, 1935, Mr. Charles Birchall, a WPA employee assigned to work in Dr. W. Park Richardson's office, made the following disclosure to me. He said that when he first came to work for Dr. Richardson, Dr. Richardson cautioned him to watch out for that Jew in there, —he will get you in a mess of trouble."

"(Signed) Charles Melowsky."
The statements in the affidavit were confirmed on an accompanying affidavit signed by Jerome Swisher, who was employed in the medical record office from November, 1930 to December, 1936.

Additional evidence to corroborate the charges made against Dr. Richardson is furnished in the following statement sworn to by Mr. Herbert Weisberg of the Evening Session Public Speaking department:

"To whom it may concern:
This is to attest that on May 13, 1936 during the course of one of my many conversations with Dr. Richardson, a statement was made to me by the said Dr. Richardson which made a deep impression on me. Among other things he stated that he did not like the environment of the College because there were so many 'kikes' and 'niggers' around."

"(Signed) Herbert Weisberg."
Dr. Richardson could not be reached by The Campus for comment.

Fine New 'Microcosm' Modestly Blushes At Flattery Reviewer Heaps Upon Issue

By David I. Shair

Sporting the picture of a sun-tanned gargoyle on its distinctive white cover, the 1938 Microcosm descended happily upon the College Thursday.

A year's work has made it one of the best, if not the best, senior year-books, in years. The make-up is attractive, the stories clearly-written, the photography excellent, the coverage complete and the poems, for a change, poetic.

The principal criticism is that worrying too much about the content and make-up resulted in neglecting routine matters. Thus, proof errors frequently crop up and there are even some important omissions in a certain insignia list (you know, Howie).

The book, edited by Howard Kievall, is dedicated in a very touching way to Morris Raphael Cohen, Emeritus Professor of Philosophy, who recently

Einstein Honors Cohen At Own Private Dinner

Simultaneous with the Associate Alumni dinner for Emeritus Prof. Morris R. Cohen at the Hotel Roosevelt, Saturday night in a little cottage in Princeton, New Jersey, another great thinker held a one-man dinner in honor of his friend.

A telegram received at the Roosevelt read:

"I prize very highly the work of Professor Cohen and have great sympathy with him. For this reason I shall arrange a dinner in his honor all by myself at home on May 14. Since auditors are not likely to be present I shall keep the speeches entirely for myself. Would it not be more comfortable for you and Prof. Cohen if you did this too?"

All Plans Set For Boat Ride

To Feature Contests, Dancing, Sports

Final arrangements for a gala all-City College co-ed boatripe and moonlight sail this Sunday have been completed, according to Bernard Walpin '39, chairman of the SC Boatripe Committee.

Leaving the Battery at 10 a. m. the SS Mandalay, the boat chartered exclusively for the occasion, will leisurely proceed up the Hudson to Bear Mountain. Here all will disembark for four and a half hours of entertainment and investigation.

The three and a half hour trip up the Hudson will be enlivened by the rhythm of a seven piece union band. Leaflets of popular songs will be handed out on the boat.

Although the Mandalay's capacity is three thousand, two thousand five hundred tickets are being sold. Fifteen hundred have been allotted to Main and one thousand to the Commerce Center.

In addition to a faculty baseball game between Main and Commerce teams, all the varied facilities at Bear Mountain such as pools, row boats, tennis courts and hiking ground will be open for the College's use. On the return trip besides dancing there will be entertainment by members of the In the Groove cast, a sex appeal contest and community singing.

Marvin Rothenberg '39, will render the prize In the Groove song, "The Pied Piper of Hamelin." The "Let's Play Cliche" octette will also sing.

Tickets can still be obtained in 5, mezzanine, at eighty-five cents each, or at seventy-five cents with SO, class or House Plan cards.

Prof. Cohen Strikes Out At Fascism

Alumni Dinner Hears Appeal For Faith In Democracy

By Bernard S. Rothenberg

Lashing out at the suppression of freedom of thought and education by fascism, Emeritus Prof. Morris Raphael Cohen '00, called for a renewal of faith in "the ideal of democracy for which the City College stands" at the Associate Alumni dinner in his honor Saturday night.

Over 350 alumni, students and teaching staff members at the Hotel Roosevelt ballroom heard Prof. Cohen's ringing defense of democratic institutions in an address which summarized his philosophy and his message to the College he recently left.

Democratization of the organization of the teaching staff, tenure for teachers and the practice of a hearing before his colleagues of any teacher about to be dismissed, were all vigorously endorsed by Prof. Cohen. The faculty-student Discipline Committee, the honors course system and the method of flexible marking were cited by Prof. Cohen as the three services he rendered to the College, "which I hope will not be soon outlived."

Discusses Spain

Referring briefly to Spain, he declared, "General Franco, whose triumphant march is made possible by direct help from Italy and Germany and indirect help from the United States which sells arms to the latter, but not to the Spanish Republic,—General Franco everywhere suppresses the schools founded by the Spanish Republic."

"It is a great mistake to suppose that the seeds of these anti-democratic attitudes are entirely absent in our own country," Prof. Cohen warned, "and the attitude to the City College, of some of our best citizens—who may, for all I know, be members of the

'No Comment,' President Answers Editor's Letter

In answer to a letter asking for comments, refutations, or explanations on The Campus series, "The Case Against Robinson," sent by Bernard S. Rothenberg '38, editor, two weeks ago to President Robinson, the President announced yesterday that he had "no comment" to make.

This announcement was made after several attempts on the part of Campus reporters to get the President to comment.

The text of Mr. Rothenberg's letter to the President follows:

April 29, 1938.

Dr. Frederick B. Robinson
President, The City College

My dear Dr. Robinson:

For the past few weeks, The Campus has been running a series of articles which you have no doubt seen, stating in some detail the reasons The Campus has opposed your administration. You will remember that one of the motivating causes for the publication of this series was your request that I offer proof of certain charges The Campus has made editorially, regarding your record as President of the City College.

Considerable research has gone into the articles on your administration and we have made a number of very pertinent charges. Thus far, however, not one fact in these articles has been challenged or refuted.

In the interests of fairness, we feel it only right that you should have the privilege of refuting, denying, explaining or in any other way answering any or all charges that we have made. We therefore take the occasion of this letter to invite you to reply—extending the columns of The Campus to your reply—in any manner that you may choose.

We hope that we may hear from you soon. Thank you.

Very truly yours,
BERNARD S. ROTHENBERG,
Editor-in-chief.

ROTC Review SC Supports This Friday Open House

The annual review of the Reserve Officers Training Corps of the College, featuring the presentation of approximately fifty awards, is scheduled to take place in Lewisohn Stadium this Friday afternoon. Some nine hundred ROTC students here are expected to participate.

Included on the day's program is an exhibition drill by Company "D," 5th Regiment of the Pershing Rifles, competition in the Manual of Arms and the School of the Soldier and the presentation of the regiment to a reviewing party of military notables. Students taking part in the review will be exempted from the final exam in Military Science courses.

Reviews in the past, commonly referred to as Jingo Day celebrations, have often been the subject for pacifist demonstrations and protest. One such demonstration in 1933, was marked by the "Umbrella Incident."

Plans for the Open House Exhibit, which is being sponsored by the Baskerville Chemical Society, Wednesday, May 25 have been approved and supported by the Student Councils of both Main and Commerce Center. The Main Center ASU and the Commerce Center House Plan have also agreed to support the project.

The list of speakers scheduled to talk at the Open House include Mr. Frank G. Breyer, member of the Chemistry Advisory Committee, Mr. P. H. Groggins, chemist in the United States Department of Agriculture, and Mr. Wallace S. Sayre of the Municipal Civil Service Commission. The program will be broadcast over station WNYC.

Dean Morton Gottschall, in a statement to the Baskerville Society on the Open House, praised it as an effort to develop a closer relationship between the College and the community. He stated that the development of practical lines of connection is a slow and difficult process.

Dean Gottschall expressed the hope "that the Chemistry Open House will become a permanent feature of our College organization and that it will serve to develop and to strengthen the ties that should exist between the College and the chemical industry, the federal and municipal service, and the community in general."

Avukah Society Aids Jewish Fund Drive

An intensive drive for funds for the Jewish National Fund is being conducted at the College this week by Avukah in connection with the annual national Flower Day collections of the Zionist Organization of America.

The Jewish National Fund is the land-purchasing agency of the World Zionist Organization, the announcement states. Such land as is purchased in Palestine by the JNF is held in perpetual trust as the property of the whole Jewish people. Fifty thousand people work on JNF land in collective agricultural settlements and in other collective enterprises, according to the release.

Election Deadline

All students who wish to run for class or Student Council offices must drop their names, their thirty-five cents registration fees and the name of one person to help in balloting in the Student Council box, Faculty Mail room, by Friday at noon, according to Dudley Greenstein '38, Chairman of the SC Elections Committee.

Cheaper Milk Plan Will Be Sent to Board

Four and Seven Cent Containers May Be Tried

Proposals for selling at four and seven cents half-pint and pint containers of milk in the lunchroom will be sent to the Board of Higher Education as soon as the Faculty and Student Council Lunchroom Committees agree on a definite plan at the meeting tomorrow afternoon, according to an announcement by Prof. Joseph A. Babor, of the Chemistry department, before the council at its meeting Friday.

The plan calls for the printing of two-cent tickets in addition to the regular tickets and a trial sale of the milk in this way for one or two weeks. However, Prof. Babor added, if the system is found to be impractical, the lunchroom will have to revert to the old method of operation to avoid a loss.

He explained that at present the profit which accrues from the sale of the milk at the present price is used to offset losses resulting from the sale of other commodities.

The council's committee is composed of Murray Meld '41, chairman, Adrian Schwartz '38, Nathan Sussman '37, and Joel Weinberg '37.

Report Rejected

The report of the Union Referendum Committee on the poll just held was rejected on the grounds that the returns of 632 ballots were inadequate. The poll will be repeated on the elections ballot this term.

The vote of the ASU was returned by the passage of a motion granting any organization with membership of over 250 a vote on the council for the rest of the term even though three-quarters of its members have no Student Organization cards.

A resolution was passed prohibiting members of the Boatripe Committee from participating in any "kickback" arrangement in regard to the hiring of a union band for the affair. The three officers of the council were appointed to investigate the accounts of the committee.

Brooklyn ROTC Allowed to Meet

Permission for an ROTC club to meet officially at Brooklyn College was voted by the Brooklyn College Administrative Committee of the Board of Higher Education, Friday.

The recommendation of the board's committee may be considered at the board meeting tomorrow night.

Passed on the petition of some 200 undergraduates, the recommendation has been sought for several months. An earlier Faculty decision rejected the organization's appeal, allegedly because of a statement in its declaration of principles which declares that it was "seeking the establishment of an elective ROTC," according to yesterday's New York Times.

The present appeal comes under a clause of the McGoldrick Resolution, passed by the board last January, which states that "no organization, military or semi-military in character, not connected with established college courses shall be permitted without the authorization of the proper Faculty and the board."

Petitions against the ROTC club have been presented to the Faculty since the club appeared on the Brooklyn College campus. It was twice refused reorganization—once by the Faculty committee on student organization and later by the Faculty as a whole.

Sport Sparks

Lacrosse Team A Honey; Lenchner Stars On A Star Combination

By Philip Minoff

It was just about three years ago that this sports page was clamoring for Chief Miller to give lacrosse back to the Indians. It was not a magnanimous gesture, arising out of the desire to see the vanishing Americans get back what had for centuries been rightfully theirs. It arose out of purely selfish reasons on the part of the sports writers who understood the game just enough to know that the College team was not playing it and realizing this, proposed something to free themselves of the obligation of having to sit through unnecessary hours of mingled pain and bewilderment.

But the suggestion was not taken up, and fortunately. I say fortunately because, at the moment, the Beaver lacrosse men are showing their rivals just how the game should be played. Off to a slow start that was marred by poor refereeing, the St. Nicks are the most improved ball club of the spring season. Lacrosse itself a combination of football and basketball, and the Beavers combine the thrills of both sports in sparkling fashion in winning their contests.

Lost to Hopkins

The boys ran into a piece of bad luck right at the beginning when they had to meet Johns Hopkins in the opening game at the Stadium. Although the visitors were not the wonders they had been cracked up to be, they knew what they were doing, and the raw, unorganized Millermen didn't have a chance, losing by nine goals. In Rutgers they were up against one of the best outfits in the North, but it was Herb Scott, the referee, who was responsible for the loss. Calling penalties for imaginary tripping and roughness against the Lavender, Scott was unbearably unjust. Even Fred Fitch, the Rutgers coach, admitted the officiating was disgraceful, and to counteract it inserted his second team. But the damage had been done and the second contest was dropped.

After easy victories over the Palisades and Manhattan Beach Lacrosse clubs, the stickmen met Stevens, probably the toughest team thus far. The College was leading 8-6 with about four minutes to go when the Stevens goalie, Bridand Groome, was taken out and put on the attack. He was unstoppable, countering for three quick goals and the contest ended in a 9-9 tie. The boys played their best game against Springfield, whose All-New England goalie, Charlie Bryan, plays minus equipment. This time the Beavers won despite unjust officiating which neglected Springfield's picking off and touching the ball with their hands. The trouncing of Lafayette is still fresh in the minds of those who saw it. Of course the losers were a weak club, but the Beavers' seventeen goals testify to plenty of scoring power.

Lenchner Starred

If you haven't heard it by now, co-captain George Lenchner (who, when he's not knocking in goals is knocking out tunes for musicals) is slated for All-America honors. George makes it a point to weaken the morale of every team by starting the game off with one of his spectacular, killer-diller goals. After that he invariably has two men covering him. Hopkins put three men on him after that first sizzler. You get the same kick seeing him score that you get in watching an eighty yard run for a touch-down in football. Despite his feeding the ball to a teammate whenever possible George is good for his five goals a game. Co-captain Normie Block, who has a wov of a standing shot from the center of the field, and Chick Bromberg, on the defense, are the other two mainstays.

So it's a good thing that the game wasn't given back to the Indians. For our Beavers have done more with the game in the space of a season than the Redskins have been able to do in yars and yars of pow-wow with the "fish net on a stick."

Sport Slants

The gridders should have plenty of coaching next fall for rumor has it that Dr. Joe Alexander, one of the leading medical men in town, is returning as assistant to Bonnie Friedman... Alexander, who was All-American center at Syracuse and All-Professional in the majors, should know a little about the game... Al Soupios was clipped the other day down at the barbers' school... by a "barber" who evidently reads the joke books... for he charged "Pop" half for finding it and half for cutting it... Sambo Meister was a little peeved when he saw Mike Grieco's photo adorning the Times Sports Page... seemed as if all of Sambo's posing in the NYU debacle was just so much wasted energy... the Beavers are chipping in to buy Steve Auerbach a hit... but he'll settle for a towering fly to the catcher... The boys who have been singing George Lenchner's praises have sort of overlooked Chick Bromberg—a lad who is without a doubt one of the best defense men this side of the Rockies... Unimpeachable sources report that Manny Jarmon is planning to get married in a couple of years to the "one and only" Florie by name... Manny incidentally will be at Shawanaga lodge this summer along with Whitney Katz... Red Paris will athletic direct at Stevensville Lake Hotel... at Swan Lake... while Bernie Fliegel and Ace Goldstein will rough it at Nat Holman's Camp Seatica at Elizaville, New Jersey... the basketball midgets will keep in shape by hooping them in the Catskills... Leon Garbarsky tested a lacrosse helmet the other day by having four Indians swat him on the cranium for half an hour... it was no decision... for "Muscles" emerged from the ordeal no more punchy than ever... Reade McKollum.

Beaver Batsmen to Face Five Teams in Next Week

Kingsmen Only Nine To Be Opposed At Home

By Irving Gellis

Seton Hall tomorrow and then a busy week starting next Saturday during which time Temple, LIU, Brooklyn, and St. Joan's will be met with only a day's rest between each game is the bill of fare which faces the Lavender baseball team for the remainder of this semester. All of these, except Brooklyn, will be played away.

That all the preceding offerings have been distinctly indigestible, with the exception of Brooklyn and Upsala, is no new disclosure to the Beavers—or to anyone else. But that the end is in sight, even though it be an inglorious end, seems to be the only bright spot in the future.

Seton Hall, which usually plays the same grade of ball as the College, is unfortunately for us, exceptionally strong this season. In Dick Coyle they have a pitcher who has been positively irritating to all metropolitan teams. Although the New Jersey aggregation hasn't yet humbled a city rival, it has established itself as a power to be respected. Only bad luck has prevented the Hall from triumphing more often. All season it has been losing to such teams as Fordham, Manhattan, and NYU by one or two runs.

Need Wins Badly

Clearly, the Beavers have their work cut out for them. With only five games remaining, and the poorest record in College history staring them in the face, a win or two would go a long, long way toward making up for the sad record they have compiled to date. The key to a St. Nick success lies, as usual, in the way Arky Soltes can make his arm and the ball behave.

Complaining at the beginning of the season that he needed more work on the mound, Arky, if anything, should now be complaining of too much work. As the College's one man pitching staff, he has operated in every game. Certainly, with all that experience, he should have been increasingly better as the season wore on, but it is a matter of record that he has lasted fewer and fewer innings.

Arky Better Start Working

Whatever may be the matter, Arky had better begin working himself into a lather. All season he has acted the perfect gentleman up on his little hill. And the consideration he has shown opposing batters has been not a little embarrassing to his team-mates, Coach Sam Winograd, and all Beaver rooters. It may be fine and dandy to be sweet when company comes, but when it's company like Seton Hall, LIU, St. Joan's or Manhattan, a little snarl is much more helpful.

Maybe the Beavers' luck has changed already. For, the game up at Manhattan Saturday was called in the fourth inning when rain, which threatened in the St. Joan's and NYU games, finally saved the Beavers. The Kelly-Greens were leading 8-1.

Lavender Sluggers Lag; Soupios Leads With .350

At last it can be told! The Campus gives you at no extra cost the batting averages of our sterling nine, or eight when we strike off Arky Soltes. Pitchers don't count anyway.

	ab.	h.	avg.
Al Soupios	40	14	.350
Julie Jamowitz	43	13	.302
Sambo Meister	39	11	.282
Milt Weintraub	33	9	.272
Sid Cozin	11	3	.272
Mike Grieco	32	7	.218
Hank Friedman	24	5	.208
Steve Auerbach	34	5	.147

Soupios' .350 average confirms a suspicion long held by Campus office sages. The boys think that Al is the best college first baseman in the city, both at the plate and around the sack.

Stickmen Train For St. John's

After getting Lafayette out of the way last Thursday, the College lacrosse team rested over the week-end before resuming practice yesterday for the all-important St. John's of Annapolis game which takes place next Saturday in Lewisohn Stadium.

Earlier in the season, St. John's became the first college team since 1933 to beat the Mt. Washington Lacrosse Club of Baltimore. Beating St. John's will serve the double purpose of furnishing a fine climax to a fine season as well as avenging last year's 18-2 drubbing the Lavender absorbed from the Marylanders.

This Thursday afternoon all the students of the College lacrosse team who have only sat by while the team was playing, will get a chance to show their stuff when the jayvees meet Boys High's team in the Stadium.

Trackmen Face Rams Tomorrow

By Israel Darwin

If the runners come through, the College track team stands a good chance of nosing out Fordham, when the two schools clash tomorrow in a dual meet at Lewisohn Stadium. The Rams scored eight points in the Metropolitan Intercollegiate Championships last Saturday to the Beaver's one and a half, mainly on the showing of Wes Wallace and George Gallico in the track events.

The Lavenders, who took fifth in a field of six at the Mets, will have to depend on the field men to gather points for them. Chief scoring threat among the field men, now that Captain Leo Silverblatt has been scratched from the high jump, is big George Gittens. George, who along with Sol Cohen, a pole vaulter, scored all of the College's points at the Mets, has been a consistent winner in the St. Nicks abbreviated track schedule, both in the high jump, and in the running broad jump.

In the freshman division of the Intercollegiate, the Jayvee also took fifth, but this time in a field of five. A sign that bodes no good for next year's Championship competition is the fact that St. John's, in the meet for only the second time, almost tripped the Beaverette's score, and yet the best the Redmen could get was a fourth place.

With colleges starting in to recruit track men in a big way for the prestige a winning team gives them, the chances of really star runners entering the College are getting slimmer every year.

Coach Discovers New JV Hurler

Only a downpour saved the J. V. baseball team from another loss when its game with the St. John's Freshmen, Saturday at St. John's home field, was called at the end of four innings with the Redmen leading, 8-2.

The game was marked by Coach Maloney's discovery of a new pitcher, Paul Graziano, the regular Jayvee second baseman. Graziano, who had never pitched for the J. V. before, relieved Julie Weber, the Beavers' starting pitcher, and showed a good curve ball and fine control.

The Beavers started by scoring once in the first, but the Redmen came right back to score five runs in their half of the inning. The Lavender scored again in the second, but St. Joan's then staged a three run attack that drove Weber from the mound and brought Graziano on the scene.

of St. Lawrence University invites inquiries from those students who wish to begin their law study in June or September of 1938. For information, address The Registrar, 375 Pearl Street, Brooklyn, New York City.

Dear Mr. Joseph College,

You may not know it but last year the Commerce Center ran a boat ride. The price was $1.25 per person. Now this year both centers, day and evening sessions, are running a combined boat ride. And this time the price is only 85c (75c if you've a class, house, or S.O. card).

Needless to say, you'll never again board the Mandalay for an all-day excursion as well as moonlight sail for so cheap a price. Then there's the entertainment and fun that only a collegiate crowd can give.

Yes, this is the big chance of your life.

ASU Scored by New Group For Its 'Clique Politics'

'Campus' Under Fire; Party Will Meet Today at 3

Decrying "the return to clique politics" in student government during the past year "when the ASU gained control," a new group called the United Action Party yesterday issued a call to a convention to be held tomorrow at 3 p. m. in 128, Main.

Further charging that the "ASU has now become merely the 'front' for a group which 'makes ineffectual' the attempts of a few of the Student Council members 'to make the council into a democratic representative group,'" the statement condemned the ASU "as having failed in all efforts to make the student body student government conscious."

The Campus was also declared to be an organ of that group and it was claimed that these "clique politics" successfully throttled a council investigation of journalism on the campus. The call stated that members of the council possessed "proof of cases of bias and inexcusable inaccuracy in news columns" and knew "of definite cases of discrimination in appointments and promotions on The Campus staff."

The American Student Union will hold its nominating conventions this week, starting today. The class conventions will be held in accordance with the following schedule, according to William Rafsky '40, chairman of the ASU Elections Committee: '39 class, today at 3 p. m., 130, Main; '40 class, today at 4 p. m., 213, main; '41 class, tomorrow at 4 p. m., 110, Main; '42 class, today at 3 p. m., 207, Harris.

The full nominating convention will meet Thursday at 3 p. m. in 126, Main. At that time, the choices of class officers will be ratified and candidates will be named for the three major offices of the Student Council.

ASU Forum Thursday To Hear Dean, Ackley

"What Is Wrong With the American Educational System" will be the topic of a forum being conducted by the College chapter of the American Student Union this Thursday in 315, Main at 12:30 p. m. Speakers will be Dean Morton Gottschall, Recorder John K. Ackley and Prof. Harold Tuttle of the Education Department.

Candidates to run on the ASU slate for SC and class officers will be nominated at a general ASU meeting, Thursday at 3 p. m. in 126, Main.

MCNA Urges Lifting Of Embargo on Spain

Urging the lifting of the embargo on Loyalist Spain, the Metropolitan Collegiate Newspaper Association sent telegrams to President Franklin D. Roosevelt and Secretary of State Cordell Hull, following a meeting of the association Saturday at the Lawrence House of New York University.

The association also sent a letter to Brooklyn Law School protesting the expulsion from the school of Joseph D'Addario, who was to graduate next month. Although it was claimed by Dean William Payson Richardson that the only reason for D'Addario's expulsion "was his failure to maintain an adequate scholastic record," the American Law Students Association, of which D'Addario was national treasurer, stated that it came as a result of an open letter which D'Addario addressed to Dean Richardson "chiding the Dean for placing a ban on a symposium concerning the National Labor Relations Board."

Council Youth Group Broadcasts Hearing

The first session of the New York City Council Committee on Youth Problems on Friday afternoon from 2 to 3 p. m. was broadcast over Station WNYC. Miss Janet Feder, General Secretary of the American Youth Congress, testified before the committee on the plight of American youth.

Miss Feder described youth's position as "the tragedy and waste of youth." The waste, she continued, lies not entirely in the lack of employment but in the fact that youth has no chance of acquiring a vocation and no facilities for recreation. As a consequence young people turn to crime as the only outlet.

Mrs. Feder concluding by enumerating the accomplishments of the American Youth Congress in solving the problem. "Youth," she said, "knows what to do and knows how to do it."

Father Engel of the Catholic Youth Organization and Dr. Searle of the New York Federation of Churches also addressed the Committee. Dr. Searle urged the Council to provide funds to prepare the city school buildings for recreational centers after school hours.

To The Editor:

Mr. Hachmeister of Tech School has labeled the Student Council communistic. This obvious distortion of the true situation requires an explanation to those who may have been misled by the charge.

The Student Council is a democratically elected body representing both classes and clubs in the Council. Here every shade of opinion and belief is voiced by over fifty members. The fallacy of Mr. Hachmeister's statement is obvious to those who are aware of the Council's true composition and activity. Executive Committee of S. C.
