ELEVEN SET TO WHIP B'KLYN

'Beat Brooklyn' Rally Today In Great Hall

The "old college try" spirit that invades the College at regular semi-annual intervals is with us again. Today at noon in the Great Hall, at the Varsity Club's annual "Beat Brooklyn" rally, some 1,500 students are expected to let loose some of their pre-game tension.

Benny Friedman and his gridders, who upset Springfield 13-7 last week in gaining their initial win of the season, will appear on the stage as guests of honor.

Brooklyn stopped the Lavender eleven for the first time last season, and with chances for revenge very good, feeling is running high in the alcoves.

Hal Aronson '43, passing and punting hero of last week's victory, will be making his initial Great Hall appearance—along with several other sophomore gridders—but veterans like Stan Romero '42, another hero of the Springfield game, will undoubtedly be able to give the younger men some good pointers.

Eddie Dooley, former All-American griddler at Dartmouth, who appeared at the Campus' Football Rally last Tuesday, picked the Beavers to top the Maroons by a 6-0 count. College fans, however, are hoping for a greater margin of victory.

Dooley attracted a capacity crowd to the Great Hall, and his agile wit and football predictions proved very entertaining to the huge audience.

Leg. Congress Elections Scheduled for Nov. 27

The revival of the Legislative Congress will be marked by the election of an entirely new membership on Wednesday, November 27.

The Legislative Congress has been delegated by the Student Council to discuss peace and political issues.

All candidates for the twenty-five seats must submit their name, classes, and thirty-five cents to the Elections Committee in care of the Student Council, Box 22, faculty mail room.

ASU Holds Rally Tomorrow In Nation-Wide Peace Drive

The American Student Union will join with various student leaders in sponsoring a peace rally tomorrow at noon at a place not as yet designated. The meeting will be part of a nation-wide peace drive sponsored by the American Peace Mobilization.

Jack McMichael, President of the American Youth Congress, and Dr. Max Yergan (History Dept.), officer of the National Negro Congress, have

Team Ready to Avenge '39 Defeat on Saturday

By SIMON LIPPA

Blood, Blitzkrieg and Brooklyn!

The loyal sons and subway alumni of the College who will crowd trains, busses, and trolleys on Saturday will be out for all three when they watch the Beavers clash with Brooklyn College at the Kingsmen's field, in what has been innocently billed as a football game.

Inspired by a 13-7 victory over Springfield, their first of the season, the Lavender has been preparing all week for their meeting with the Maroon and Gold with the sole idea of committing some legalized mayhem on their rivals from across the river. There will also be a little matter to settle concerning last year's 12-6 win by Brooklyn.

This has not been the same Beaver team that lost to Montclair earlier in the campaign. It has taken all season to develop the blocking and charging of the line, the smooth precision with which the reverses are run, and the proper defense against forward passes. In the last few games, this has been offset by last period lapses, due to the fact that the boys simply could not stand that sixty minute pace.

Last week, however, the St. Nicks met Springfield and put on an exhibition that the crowd will not forget for some time. It was not the passes, or the blocking, or the runs so much that captured the stands; it was the sheer grit that the Beavers displayed in the last period. The boys were dead on their feet, but they stuck it out. Not many heavy-set gorillas could take the physical beating that 165 pound Stan Romero suffered, and walk out after sixty minutes, on their own power. But "Romeo" and the whole team took it, and sent the spectators home marveling at what they saw and predicting dire things for Brooklyn the next week.

The squad came out of the game none the worse for the pounding which it took. Co-captain George Alevison, end Lou Dougherty, and full back Norman Bronstein are still out for the big game, but the rest of the team

Dr. Mead Resigns Next February; Selection of President Rumored Soon

Ordway Tead, chairman of the Board of Higher Education denied reports that Dr. Carl Wittke, Dean of the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences at Oberlin, is being groomed for the presidency of the College in secret meetings of a number of members of the Board. The article about Dr. Wittke appeared in the World-Telegram Tuesday under the signature of staff-writer Murray Davis.

Regardless of the Board's action, Dr. Nelson P. Mead will definitely resign as acting president of the College next February. He will resume his teaching duties as chairman of the History Department, he stated yesterday to The Campus.

Refuting the report that Wittke was the leading candidate for the vacancy, Mr. Tead declared that a special committee of the Board was considering the names of several outstanding educators, including Dr. Wittke's, but that no recommendations had been made to the Board.

The appointment of Wittke, the World-Telegram article suggests, would be "a direct affront to the Mayor," who has "expressed preference for the naming of a New York City resident." The Mayor, who is travelling on the West Coast, could not be reached for comment.

S.C. to Ask Students' Opinion On Ban of Outside Literature

Within the next two weeks, students at the College will be asked "Do you favor the Faculty Committee on Student Activities ban on the sale, display and distribution of outside literature in and around the College? If not, would you favor the Student Council imposing such a ban?"

The SC decided to hold this referendum to probe student opinion on the literature ban after the SC Literature Ban Committee members disagreed among themselves on plans for further action.

Meanwhile the American Student Union which is independently fighting the ban has printed buttons with "Lift the Ban" imprinted on them in an effort to increase student interest on the school authorities are also contemplating a student delegation to the question, according to Joe Krevisky '43, executive secretary of the ASU.

College Gains In College Budget

The drastic surgical operation performed by the City Planning Commission on the Board of Higher Education's capital outlay budget last week, cutting it ninety-three per cent, will not actually make much difference in the College appropriations.

Of the three items approved by the Commission, two, renovation of the lunchroom and additions to the chemistry building, went to the College.

Last year's act of cutting the library appropriation from the budget was repeated. This is in accordance with Mayor La Guardia's recent statement that no appropriations for new constructions would be included in the 1941 budget. The striking out of this item and of others, including repairs on Lewisohn Stadium, the roof of the College buildings, and the swimming pool will make it more difficult to get these improvements in the future. Not only will they have to be placed back in the capital outlay budget and gotten through the City Planning Commission, but appropriations will have to be obtained for them.

Approval of the budget by the Board is meaningless unless it actually appropriates the money. This was shown last year when it approved the lunchroom appropriation and then failed to allot the $125,000 necessary for the construction. Also, in recent years it approved the library project but did not appropriate the needed $805,000.

Padraic Colum, Famous Poet, To Hold College Lecture Post

Padraic Colum, well-known Irish poet and literary critic, will soon be added to the roster of famous scholars which the Board of Higher Education has appointed as visiting lecturers to the College in recent years.

Mr. Colum's appointment as a lecturer in English will be effective next term if the Board of Higher Education, at its meeting on Monday, approves the recommendation of its Administrative Committee, according to Professor A. D. Compton, (chairman English Dept.).

The poet, with Mr. Robert Dickson (English) will conduct the course in contemporary poetry, listed in the College bulletin as English 59. The class will meet Mondays, Wednesdays, and Fridays at 9 a.m. He will combine his lecturing at the College with lectures at Columbia, where he is now teaching.

A prolific writer, Mr. Colum has more than a dozen volumes to his credit. Originally, he was interested in native Irish songs and traditions, and was instrumental in founding the National Theater in Dublin.

He came to the United States in 1914, and has taught at various colleges and universities including Buffalo, Columbia, Wisconsin, Florida, and Colorado.

In 1923, the poet visited Hawaii at the invitation of the Hawaiian Legislature to study native mythology and folklore.

Inefficiency Blamed For Use of Band At Tech Dance

A non-union band played at the Tech Open House Dance last night in violation of Student Council regulations, touching off a controversy which threatens increased cooperation between Tech and Liberal Arts by the College.

Spokesmen for the Tech-Alumni-Student Council sponsor of the dance, the use of the band in inefficiency of the SC Regulations which did not include the regulations under contract with the non-union band. But William '41, SC Vice President, it to bad faith on the part of the Tech committee.

Pointing out that the band was not used a week ago last, Machover declared yesterday at least one of the members of the committee, Gerard '40, was informed of regulations for a union band a day before the signing of the contract. This statement was made by Frank Freiman '40 and Teherkoff '40, who they had told Schweser SC regulations at that time.

Martin Dasher '40, chairman of the FAS committee, was the contract with the band that Schweser had no rest of the committee regulations until last Monday. He also declared that the contract was already signed. He also declared that a meeting of the Tech committee, Fromm '40, had contacted Rosenbaum '43 and Freiman '40, of the Council's Student Council and the committee assured him that it was able to use a student band. Neither Schweser, Freiman or Gronick could be reached for comment yesterday.

Declaring that the Tech committee's policy of allowing a band for College affairs, at its meeting Friday voted to:

- (1) To deprive the Tech committee of all rights to call functions at the College.
- (2) To call the union band to establish a picket line at the dance.

The dance was not held, however, when the union band was sent a delegate instead.

Board Refuses To Bar Russell

(Continued from Page 1) The City Council meeting yesterday, went on record, 16-10 in favor of the appointment. A six-page memorializing the Council rescind its appointment of Russell was introduced in the Board meeting last week but was rejected.

Attacks on Professor Russell's religious groups and his prominent among them by William T. Manning of the Episcopal Church named in Mr. Tuttle's memorandum of the appointment, reconsideration of the appointment against him, Mr. Russell in a statement to the press last week declared: "Neither my religion and morality nor Bishop Manning and others have anything to do with it."

"To prohibit any man from teaching a subject which he is competent to teach because of his race or national origin is a familiar proceeding in our country, but the same is not true in our country."

Blitzkrieg Brooklyn

"C'mon City. Blitzkrieg Brooklyn!" This slogan is the College war-cry for Saturday's finale against the Kingsmen. The Beavers are out to revenge last year's defeat and from their showing against Springfield, they will do it.

The Varsity Club has scheduled a Pep Rally in the Great Hall this afternoon at 12:30. Coach Benny Friedman and his players will be there in full force. Make it your business to be there and show the team that you are really behind it.

All out to the Great Hall at 12:30.

We Can Still Fight For Peace

The lack of interest in attempts to organize a peace strike at the College this semester is a sad situation in an institution which had become accustomed to two or more lusty demonstrations in previous years.

Instead, we are faced this term with the following alternatives: we either take no action to express our anti-war sentiments at this time when they are most essential; or we must attend the demonstration run by a minority organization—the ASU—whose policies do not represent the views of the majority of the students here.

There is still time, however, for us to organize a unified, forceful rally for peace at the College. In a world torn by war we do not need a special occasion like Armistice Day to express our views on war. And it is time that official organizations like the Student Council or the Legislative Congress cut some of the red tape which has strangled all attempts to show what the attitude of the City College student is on this vital question.

'Bob' Wagner, '96 Grid Capt. Roots Eleven On to First Win

Way back in 1896, an unheralded football team from little City College met and defeated NYU 12-0. That victory, which was the first over the Violets by a Lavender eleven, was due, in a large measure, to the fine play of its captain and quarterback, a young man bearing the name Robert F. Wagner.

Last Saturday, after a long absence, "Bob" Wagner '98, U. S. Senator from New York and father of the NLRA, revisited his Alma Mater on the day of another momentous pigskin victory, the first Lavender gridiron triumph of 1940.

Visit Is Surprise

Senator Wagner's visit to Lewisohn Stadium was unannounced and a complete surprise. Yours truly got a lucky break from a vantage point in the 136 Street ticket booth, spotting the Senator as he came up to the window. Accompanied by a friend, Senator Wagner purchased two ducats from varsity basketball manager Bill Richman and unobtrusively made his way to a seat near the fifty yard line. There, noticed only by a few students, he watched the Beavers score, cheering "C'mon City" as enthusiastically as the wildest freshman.

The surprising victory over Springfield pleased and impressed the Senator, but throughout the game he maintained that his '96 eleven would have had no trouble beating Benny Friedman's '40 pigskinners.

Bob, as he is known to his friends, explained that it was the first time in more than six years that he had been able to slip away from official business to watch the Lavender gridsters. When told about the poor support College football teams received from students and alumni, the Senator, amazed, declared, "I'm a City College rooter, and every City graduate should also be one." He regretted that he would be unable to go with the team to Brooklyn to see the contest that has taken the place of the epic City-NYU battles of his time.

Intends To Return

He did say, however, that he intended to come back and really look over the College as soon as his duties in Washington would permit.

"Yessir," he said, "a swell game. I wish I could see more of them, but I'm too busy in Washington."

"Never mind," he was told, "you continue the good work in Washington and we'll take care of watching the games."

Dramsoc Doings

Marc Blitzstein's The Cradle Will Rock has never been manhandled by a student theatrical outfit in New York City. When the Dram Soc's version of the Blitzstein hit blitzes into its two day run at the Pauline Edwards Theater on Friday and Saturday evening, November 29 and 30, it will, in fact, mark only the second showing, professional or amateur, of The Cradle Will Rock since its original run by the Mercury Theater.

When the stage props have been knocked down after the final performance of their show, the Dram Soc is certain that Blitzstein's handiwork will still not have been manhandled.

Show Has Potentialities

Jerry Rosenberg '41, president of Dram Soc, is especially wary of the potentialities of The Cradle Will Rock. "And these potentialities will be realized," Jerry says, "For The Cradle Will Rock was chosen not for its social significance but for its entertainment value."

"Individualistic individuals" describes the cradle rockers who will attempt to realize the potentialities which Jerry was talking about. Michael Marcus '41, who plays the part of Larry Fireman, the union organizer, will repeat his theatrical history upon the slightest provocation. It includes the role of Aiken, the Communist, in Excursion; an honest-to-goodness dramatic group organizer for the Transport Workers' Union; and a lead part in the Theater Arts Workshop presentation of Bury the Dead before the ninety-second Street YMHA. Mike says their show was so good, the YMHA threw them out to escape competition.

Robert Matheo '43, who plays Yascha the artist, will show you his ulcer operation without the slightest provocation.

Marshall Berger '41, who plays Dr. Specialist, the doctor, will tell you from what locality you come by the way you say "marry, merry, fairy."

The A. I. Ch. E. announces J. L. Bennett of the Hercules Powder Company, will speak on "The Manufacture of Dynamite." Color movies will feature this meeting, to be held in 107 Main at 12:30 today.

Tech Notes

Tech News, weekly of the Civil Engineering Society, announces an article of real interest for its next issue, entitled "The Puget Sound Bridge Disaster." This timely feature will appear in an issue edited by Max Novinsky '41.

The A. I. E. E. is sponsoring a trip for its members and all interested to the Engineering Department of Radio City.

The group will meet there on November 16 at 10 a.m.

'Merc's' PM-Purity Issue Is PU; Whacko Sacco Ipso Facto Stinko

The latest mercury is supposed to be a parody on Post Meridian, also known as PM. In fact, it is "the slickest little piece of journalistic satire you've seen in all your borned days," if you read "Staff Stuff" on page 3.

"Staff Stuff" lies as usual. Aside from Dick Kraus—he has concocted one or two good cartoons, in addition to his splendid cover—merc has no artists. Instead they have characters like Charley Allen, whose pointless, extremely un-funny stuff is given full pages.

Sacco Is Puerile

And why are so very many pages

devoted to Ignatius Sacco's puerile ravings? Especially that totally insane piece on the Beach Crumb—can anyone actually regard this drivel as humor? We don't care what his motives are,—we can't make them out.

However, let's not get nasty about it. merc does include a fine article on Japan by Arnold Rosen, one which borders on the hilarious. Rosen, we suspect, has something on the ball. Mort Levin is another lad for whom merc need not blush. As for Jules Aarons, we have hopes for him. He steals fine gags.

But don't get us wrong. We hate mercury.

Thanksgiving Sees Three Class Dances

Seventy-five per cent of the College will be dancing in the Main Gym on two nights of the Thanksgiving week-end, according to official predictions.

The junior class is holding its Prom Turkey Trot on Friday, November 22 at 8:30 p.m., with Marvin Brown's orchestra on the stand.

Admission will be free to all official members of the '42 class, stag or drag. Co-chairmen Sidney Love '42 and Al Finklestein '42 have announced that they will provide enough of Hunter College's best beauties to accommodate the entire class.

Junior Prom Dec. 23

The juniors are using this dance as a springboard for their Prom, which is being held December 23 at the Hotel Lincoln.

The freshman and sophomore councils are co-sponsoring the first annual Amity Dance on Thursday, November 21 at 8:30 p.m. Tickets are being sold by members of both Councils at thirty-five cents per couple.

Seniors Announce Queens

The seniors, meanwhile, have announced the selection of two queens for their Prom. Emphasizing their Pan-American spirit, the '41 men will have Jane Pickens and Rosita Rios sharing the throne.

Circolo Dante Alighieri will anticipate the round of festivities this Saturday night with its annual Dante Fund dance. Tickets are selling for fifty cents per person.

CDA chairman John Armato '42 announced that refreshments and entertainment will be on the house.

There will be a slight social lull after the Turkey week-end, but the Intramural Board is planning a dance in the Main Gym for Friday, November 29.

Some sort of record is apparently being set, with present plans indicating that there will have been a dozen dances at the College between November 1 and Christmas.

Bernie Oliver '42, Junior Prom chairman, reports that sales of Prom bids are mounting and should go over expectations. He says sales of class cards, which will entitle holders to reductions on bids, are mounting daily.

The A. I. E. E. is sponsoring a trip for its members and all interested to the Engineering Department of Radio City. The group will meet there on November 16 at 10 a.m.

Stella Is Gone

Stella, the voluptuous stone maiden whose Grecian beauty was the pride of all City men, has gone home.

The stone beauty and her dais were brought back to the Metropolitan Museum of Art, after a twelve year sojourn at the College. The Museum had only lent her to us, so they stole her away.

In return, the College has received a massive relief map of New York and vicinity, which occupies about twenty square feet in the center of Lincoln Corridor. But Stella can never be replaced.

College to Beat Brooklyn Saturday Says Sports Editor

LOU STEIN

City College is going to beat Brooklyn this Saturday. This prediction is not based on a technical comparison because, as a matter of fact, I know nothing at all about Brooklyn. It is based, rather, on what I saw last week in Lewisohn Stadium, where the Beavers put on a magnificent exhibition of courage in defeating Springfield.

To say that the St. Nick's were courageous, is gross understatement. They were a helluva lot more than that, and all the credit in the world is due them. Here was a team that had lost four games and was crippled by injuries to practically every one on the squad. Yet they went in there and tore the big Springfield club to pieces. They didn't fully realize on their potentialities because no club, however good it may be, can play its best football with a lineup of hospital cases. They just hammered out two touchdowns, then dug in and stood off the Indians throughout the "fateful" fourth quarter.

It was apparent, during the last fifteen minutes, that the Beavers had nothing but fight, and an overpowering determination to win. I think they best illustrated the old football adage, "A team that won't be beaten can't be beaten" in the moments when they grimly held on to a lead that looked as if it surely would be erased by the ponderous Bay Staters.

What appealed most to me was the grand team spirit of the City players. This was a team, in the fullest sense of the word. Some psychological bond existed among the players which translated itself with unanimous courageous action which would not, and did not, admit defeat.

And yet, there were many individual heroes whose actions were part of the collective team effort. There was Hal Aronson, whose accurate passes and clever punting kept Springfield from Beaver pay dirt. There were co-captain Art Gmitro, Stan Romero, Ray Von Frank, Art Goeschel, "Blimp" Rosenfeld, and the others who contributed so much to the victory. It was a pity that co-captain George Alevison, who has played so brilliantly for the College, could not take part in the game. George likes such a fight, and to have led his gang in such a scrap would have meant a great deal to him.

If the Beavers can retain the emotional pitch which they reached against Springfield—and I am positive they can, they will walk all over the Kingsmen. Ordinarily, it is hard to attain and then keep the fighting edge which the Lavender had last week, but I think the double incentive—beating Brooklyn, and finishing the season with a victory—will be sufficient to insure a City College victory against the Maroon.

Quintet Plays Alumni Nov. 23; Dance Follows

Despite his excellent state of health, Nat Holman is seeing red spots in front of his eyes these days. The flame color comes from the brick-tops of two flashy forwards, Claude "Red" Phillips and Bill "Red" Holzman, currently burning up the floor of the Hygiene Gym in the daily hoop practice sessions.

Coach Holman has the boys keyed up for their pre-season game with an all-star alumni team Saturday night, November 23. Although the regular season does not begin until November 30, the whole squad is anxious to pile up a bigger margin than that scored in last year's tussle with a cocky ex-Holman five. Most of the old Beaver stars will be back to show some of their skill and to avenge that one-sided defeat.

Among the former hoop aces returning to play for the Stein Memorial Fund are Babe Adler and Jack Carpien of last year's squad, Al Goldstein, the Trupin brothers, Moe Spahn, Manny Jarmom, and many others.

After the game, the floor will be taken over by the jitterbugs for a full evening of dancing. Tickets are on sale at the AA office. Thirty cents with an AA book, forty without.

Team Ready to Avenge '39 Loss on Saturday

is in fairly good condition. Bill Mayhew and Hal Goldstein, who were limping after the game, have responded to "Doc" Duckers' liberal use of arnica and adhesive, and will also be available.

It was hard to pick an individual star of last week's tussle. Hal Aronson was tossing bullets all afternoon, Romero caught everything that came his way, and drove like a demon, while Ray von Frank brought everyone to their feet with a scintillating run after catching an Aronson aerial. He twisted and squirmed for twenty yards, knocking off three would-be tacklers, and making the complete play good for forty yards.

The highlight came in the second period, when a touchdown pass from Aronson to Romero was called back because of a City offside. On the next play, Romero took the ball and steamed through center twenty-four yards for the score. On his way, he hit the safety man so hard that the poor fellow bounced as if he had been catapulted from a springboard.

The Beavers will close the season against a typical Brooklyn team, one that is still boasting about its win over St. Lawrence earlier in the season. On the heels of a particularly disappointing season, because the boys weren't really that bad, the win over Springfield should be an important psychological stimulus for the Lavender. They have been pointing to this game for a whole year. Besides, a piece of the Brooklyn goal post would look awfully good in the Varsity Club room. They've lost the one they got two years ago.

J.V. Gridmen Face De La Salle Saturday

City's all-conquering Jayvee eleven meets its most powerful foe to date in LaSalle Military Academy, this Saturday at the Long Island school's field. LaSalle lost, 20-13, in the little Army-Navy game on Armistice Day, but their all-around class should tell against Coach Gene Burke's raw squad.

Cross Country

Cliff Goldstein, phenomenal Beaver harrier, scored another first in the Fordham meet last Saturday afternoon at Van Cortlandt Park, even though the College varsity cross-country dropped the encounter, 20-35.

Board Ref To Bar Rus

(Continued from Page 1) The City Council, meeting Thursday, went on record, 18-10, in appointing a commission to study the appointment. A resolution memorializing the Board to rescind its appointment was introduced in the Board last week but was defeated.

Attacks on Professor Russell and religious groups and individuals prominent among them by William T. Manning of the Protestant Episcopal Church named in Mr. Tuttle's motion for reconsideration of the appointment.

Answering the attacks against him, Mr. Russell in a statement to the press last week declared "... Neither my religion and morality nor Bishop Manning and others event.

"To prohibit any man from teaching a subject which he is competent to teach because of his race or nationality is a familiar proceeding in this country, but the

BHE Committee to Investigate Promotions in Hygiene Dept.

A committee "to study the problem of the status of requirements for promotion of members of the Hygiene staffs of the City Colleges who do work solely in the gymnasium" was formed by the executive board of the Board of Higher Education, recently under the chairmanship of Dr. Joseph J. Klein.

Although the reason given by the Board for the undertaking of this study is "to slacken the rigid requirements for promotion in the Hygiene Departments," the Association of Hygiene Teachers, a chapter of the Teachers Union, declared that it can "see no reasonable ground for the Committee's existence or for the treatment of the Hygiene Department as a special problem in the question of promotions." Under the Board's present by-laws, the Hygiene Department is on the same status as the Music and Arts Departments.

Referring to the phrase in the resolution "who do work solely in the gymnasium," the Association felt that there was implied a possible division of hygiene lectures, floor workers, and coaches. A similar attempt was made in the past in the science departments.

ROTC Marches In Stadium Today

To the blare of the College ROTC band, 1,756 ROTC students will march today at 12:30 in Lewisohn Stadium.

The cadets will be reviewed by General Irving Philipson, Chief of Staff of the second corps area.

The ROTC here is divided into three battalions; the first is commanded by Cadet Lieutenant Colonel Norman Perlberg '41, the second by Cadet Lieutenant Colonel Albert Knewton '41, and the third is under Cadet Lieutenant Colonel Anthony Donabedian '41. Commander of the College ROTC is Cadet Colonel Harold M. Kneller '41. Cadet Major Canali '41 will lead the cadet officers not in command of units.
