Student Council Holds Elections Friday; Lunchroom Report Shows Slight Profit

Lower Prices Not Likely in Near Future

Hopes for any general lowering of lunchroom prices were virtually shattered Friday when the long-awaited lunchroom financial report was made public at the weekly Student Council meeting.

A net loss of $1,797 for the 30 operating days in two summer months (58% of total income) took most of the profit earned by the cafeteria in 27 days in September and October, which amounted to $2,019, according to Jerome Singer '44, who delivered the report.

The net profit for the four months was $222. On the balance sheet, however, the September and October loss of the faculty lunchroom, amounting to $194, was also included, which reduced the final net profit to $28.

The sum of $69 was also reserved for improvement of the faculty lunchroom on the balance sheet.

Higher Prices Possible

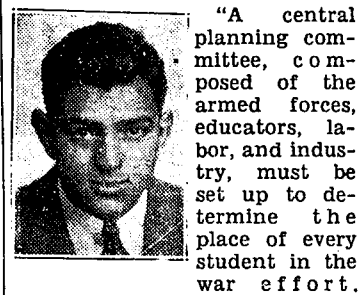

The small profit earned by the cafeteria in its first four months of operation, plus the prospects of higher operating costs and an increased scarcity of foods, makes the charging of even higher prices a distinct possibility, Singer declared.

Singer predicted that the lunchroom would show a profit for November, but that December and January would show a loss because of the great number of non-school days. Those workers who are paid by the week will receive full salaries on (Continued on Page Four)

Waldman, Halperin Speak

Larry Waldman

"The only platform which I believe every City College student should support is 'the fullest utilization of the College in war effort.'

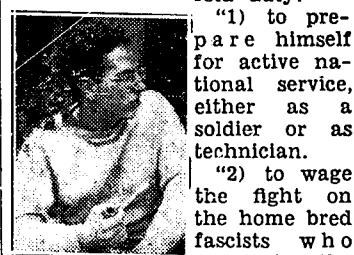

There must be an end to the predicament in which the college student doesn't know whether he can serve best in the armed forces, war industry, or in college.

"Among other needs of our college is co-education, adequate curriculum planning, an expanded war council, and a free student tutoring service to prepare for wartime needs.

Stan Halperin

"With contracting educational facilities, I stand for an expanding program of student war work. The student has a two-fold duty:

ocratic peace and obstruct the fruition of the People's Century.

"To carry out this enormous task, we shall need the full participation of all the students and of all student facilities; it is my program to utilize all to the fullest extent so that the City College may discharge its duties to Democracy with great honor and with telling efficiency."

Halperin Opposes Waldman In Vote For SC Presidency

Possibly, the most interesting student election campaign in College history comes to head tomorrow when Stanley Halperin and Larry Waldman, both '43, vie for next term's presidency of the Student Council.

BULLETIN

College students who are members of the Army Enlisted Reserve Corps can expect a call to the colors within the next few weeks, an official Army spokesman announced in Washington late Tuesday. Orders to that effect will probably be issued soon after the first of the year, it was stated. (This announcement confirms a bulletin printed in The Campus on Dec. 3, which quoted a letter from Maj. Gen. J. A. Ulio, predicting the calling of the ERC about Feb. 1.)

Simultaneously, the Selective Service headquarters extended time for enlistments into the Army, Navy, Marines, and Coast Guard up to Feb. 1. Professor William G. Crane (English), Armed Service Representative at the College, said that this order does not affect entry into the Army Enlisted Reserve, which is closed.

The Army Air Corps is still open to ERC members who wish to apply for a transfer.

Polling booths will be open from 9:30 a.m. to 3:00 p.m. and will be located in the lunchroom, Tech Building, Main Library, and ground floor of Harris. In order to cast his ballot the student will have to present his library card. This will then be stamped on the back to prevent "repeating." Votes will be tabulated during Christmas week.

Old System Inadequate

According to Leonard Karsen '43, chairman of the SC-Alpha Phi Omega Election Committee, "the old system of distributing ballots in class was totally inadequate due to lack of cooperation on the part of both faculty and students." In addition, mimeographed sheets will be circulated tomorrow giving the candidates' platforms and qualifications.

Both candidates have stressed the fact that increased participation of the College in the war effort was of prime importance and each implied that if elected, he would support revision of the College setup so that all other activities would be subordinated to the war program. At an election meeting in freshman chapel Tuesday, Waldman declared, "My program embodies the fullest utilization of College facilities for the war effort and my purpose in running for office is to expedite the inauguration of such a program."

Helfeld Represents Halperin Halperin, who was ill and could not appear, was represented by Dave Helfeld '43, this term's SC president. Helfeld asserted, "Halperin deserves special consideration for the excellent job he has done this semester as chairman of the Student War Board. If his past record is to be taken as a criterion, he will undoubtedly make a fine Student Council president."

Both candidates have been on (Continued on page four)

Plan Treasury To Aid Clubs

Plans for the formation of a central extra-curricular treasury were announced yesterday by Dean of Men John L. Bergstreser, in an exclusive statement to The Campus. The treasury's function, he said, will be to provide financial advice and to supervise accounting for student organizations.

The plan is still in the formative stage, having been conceived three weeks ago at a meeting of the Student Council auditing committee. Since then, the committee has been meeting regularly with representatives of the various organizations which would be affected by the plan.

At the beginning of the semester each club would have to submit a budget to the central treasurer and have it approved. This would facilitate the compilation of a complete budget for all College activities and requests for added appropriations could then be submitted to the Alumni Association. Upon withdrawal of cash, a disbursement slip, signed by the president, treasurer, and faculty adviser of the group would be submitted to Mr. Jackson, who would endorse a check.

'Center' Reporter Gets His Story While FBI Agents Get Their Spy

Center's snooping reporter, Paul Cornyetz '43, recently trekked to the Museum of Non-Objective Painting at W. 54 St. where he met Baroness Hilda Von Eirenshewer Rabaye, who had consented to co-author a story with Cornyetz. Madame Rabaye is a leading spokesman for non-objective painting.

Some time later, Center sent a reporter to the Museum in quest of additional information for the story. He was informed by Madame Rabaye's secretary that the Madame was inaccessible; that she was away

Two weeks later, FBI men raided the estate of Madame Hilda Von Eirenshewer Rabaye where they found Nazi propaganda material, secret letters and documents, 500 pounds of coffee and 1400 pounds of sugar.

Danny Kaye to Highlight HP Rally Today For 'Corpus Delecti', Fast Musical Mystery

Danny Kaye, hit comic of the Broadway show Let's Face It, will highlight the Corpus Delecti ticket selling rally, to be held in the Great Hall today at 1:15. Besides Mr. Kaye, the committee in charge, composed of Art Sidney '43, author, Lou Heller '44, and Jerry Yaretzky '43, key men of House Plan, and Kenny Goldstein of The Campus also have arranged for the appearance of the female stars of Delecti, plus a prominent band-leader (either Benny Goodman, Vaughn Monroe, or Harry James) to be present.

Besides the student performances scheduled for tomorrow and Saturday evenings, Dec. 18 and 19, at the Pauline Edwards Theater, a special showing will be given tonight for the 69th and 138th Army Regiments. The show itself, by special permission from the White House, is being dedicated to President Roosevelt.

In addition to the rally, the same fems who startled Lavenender lunchroom patrons last Thursday when they invaded the College to sell tickets to the show will whet the Beaver appetites again today from 12 to 1:15. The pretty young miss, Judy Roth (candidate for Miss Subways) will again head the contingent.

Corpus Delecti, first original College musical mystery in elev years, is featuring in its cast a magician, who can and will make himself disappear on the stage, a new hit comedy team, and a long line of hand-picked chorines. Ducats are 44, 55, and 77 cents.

Penny Pennington, voted the most photogenic girl of the Commerce Center, and Ruth Harris, the vivacious bombshell, will share singing honors.

'Mike' Takes Group Pics At Webb Statue Today

Group photos for the '43 Micromocosm are being taken today in front of General Webb's statue. In case of rain or unfavorable weather they are to be taken in the Webster Room, fifth floor, Main. The schedule for the various societies follows:

- Remsen, 11:55; Caduceus, 12:05; A.S.E.E., 12:15; A.S.C.E., 12:25; S.K.T., 12:35; A.S.M.E., 12:45; Pi Tau Sigma, 12:55; Vector, 1:05; Baskerville Society, 1:15; Varsity Club, 1:25; Economics Society, 1:35; Douglass Society, 1:45; and Journal of Social Studies, 1:55.

The SC Elections

As a college newspaper, The Campus is forced to decide upon the relative merits of the candidates for the various positions on the Student Council. The issues at stake are clear and involve the immediate role of the College in the war effort. Both candidates for the SC presidency, for example, present similar platforms, with which The Campus, and, we feel, the entire student body, is in general agreement.

The election, therefore, resolves itself into a question of who can more effectively execute the statements made in the campaign leaflets. We urge all students to look over the complete election slate (printed on page 4) and determine who the best man is—before being confronted by the ballot in the polling booth tomorrow.

For SC president, we indorse Larry Waldman, who has shown the greater capacity for organization. His platform was compiled in consultation with various student leaders, and represents more completely the various functions of the College.

For the vice-presidency, we support Marvin Stern. The Tech War Committee, of which Stern is chairman, has been active in organizing war activities, and Stern has done a good job.

For secretary, we feel that Bernard Sorkin deserves the position. He has carried out most of his duties as SC finance chairman well, while his opponent, Louis Orzack, has shown neither the inclination nor the ability to accept responsibility.

None of the candidates for the position of '43 president impress The Campus, and we shall make no choice there. For '46 president, we support Kenneth K. Goldstein, who, as a member of our staff, has worked with us and shown his capabilities.

Wondering About the Lunchroom

Before anyone gets excited and tries to throttle the freedom of the College press, let's get this straight for the record. We're not accusing anybody or implying anything. We're just asking a couple of innocent questions about the financial report of the lunchroom which nobody has bothered to answer to The Campus, and through us, the entire student body.

We'd like to know, for instance:

1) Why there is no mention among the assets of the cafeteria the reserve fund left over from the old lunchroom, reputed to be about $5000, from which the salary of Mrs. Elsie Kamholtz, ex-dietician, is still being paid (through Dec. 31.)?

2) Why a reserve of $68.53 "for improvement of faculty lunchroom" is listed among liabilities of the cafeteria on the latest balance sheet, dated Oct. 1?

3) Why the loss for September and October of the faculty lunchroom, amounting to $193.77, is deducted from the profit of the student cafeteria for the same period, leaving only $28.58 as a net profit?

4) Why paper supplies for September and October amounted to $608.38, an average of $22.53 per day? Why so high?

We wish somebody would take the trouble to answer us. We'd like to know, and we think the student body would too.

Welding Corp. Offers Awards For Reports

"To encourage engineering students to study arc-welded construction so that their imagination, ability and vision may be given opportunity to extend knowledge of this method and thus aid the war effort and the economic reconstruction in the peace which is to follow," the James F. Lincoln Arc Welding Foundation of Cleveland, Ohio, sponsor of previous nationwide contests, has launched upon its first undergraduate program.

The awards will be made for papers describing the conversion from other methods to arc-welded construction of parts of machines or complete ones. Anything which the student has observed in school shops, publications, or elsewhere may be the subject. Or he may originate one which has never been investigated. No actual structure need be built, but the design must be described in the paper.

The program offers $5000 in student awards and $1750 in scholarships for the departments of the institutions in which the award winning students are registered. The first award is $1000, second $500, third $250, and the remainder in twenty smaller prizes. In addition, the winning student will receive the honor of having the scholarship in his school named after him.

The awarding committee will be drawn from various branches and institutions of engineering education. The selection will be under the direction of Dr. E. E. Dreese, chairman of the Board of Trustees of the Foundation. Prospective participants may obtain complete information by writing to the Foundation at P. O. Box 5728, Cleveland, Ohio.

SAE Obtains Charter After 5 Year Struggle

After five years of hard work, the S.A.E. has finally realized its goal, a branch charter from the national organization. John H. Warner, general manager of S.A.E., in a letter to George J. Moncher, president of the student chapter, said, "Your group has done splendidly in the preparation of meetings and in enlarging S.A.E. student enrollment on the CCNY campus. I am expressing the sentiments of the Society and its officers when I say 'Congratulations!'"

The A.I.E.E. plans a Christmas dance on December 23 in the Webb Room.

Plan Course In UHF in '43

A course in ultra-high frequency radio will be given to senior electrical engineers next semester, according to Professor Harry Baum (Chairman, E.E. Dept.). Offered under the auspices of the Engineering, Science, Management War Training Program, it will attempt to fill a need for men with special training in this new field of electronics, which is finding wide application by the armed forces in communication and locating devices.

Lack of facilities has prevented the College from giving the course sooner, but Army-Navy interest has cleared priorities on new equipment. As no additional space has been provided, the new equipment will presumably be placed alongside present laboratory equipment.

College Adds Navy Courses In Radio and Photography

Since last March, the Navy has been sending men to the College to train for specialized work in radio and electronics. Within the next few months, courses in aerial photography and ultra-high frequency radio will be added to this unique curriculum, according to Professor William Allan, (Chairman, C.E.).

Classes are held in the evenings and consist of recitation work only. No lab facilities are available for this work. Successful completion of the proposed course in aerial photography qualifies the officer for the Navy's school in Virginia.

Technically Speaking

By Bernard Hochman

Tomorrow Techmen will be asked to cast their ballots in the Student Council elections. And since they are Techmen, they will consider the matter as of little relative importance and vote either by filling in every other box, or by not voting at all.

The issues involved concern the College and the war. And since this war is a highly industrialized one, the engineering schools find themselves right in the middle of a complex situation. Techmen are being called to decide upon certain critical issues, and they will have to do a lot of cold analytical reasoning.

Last term, ballots never got to the Tech School, and nobody gave a darn. This term, ballots are going to be in the Tech School, and a lot of guys still don't give a darn. The Student Council, they feel, or they've heard, contains a bunch of amateur politicians who know and care little about the College. But there are some who have been doing some fine work.

It's up to you to decide upon the issues involved. It's up to you to decide upon the men who must execute these issues. And it's up to you to base your vote on these decisions.

The fellows around here are studying their machine and structural design on the basis of the standard materials of construction—steel, cast-iron, aluminum, etc. But in a war situation such as we are facing, many of these items will be substituted for. Timber has been used to replace steel on bridge construction. Plastics, notably, have taken the place of many materials, and in some respects have proved themselves to be superior to that which they have replaced.

The Germans are reported to be using a lensless camera for aerial photography. Its optical system consists of a polished aluminum parabolic mirror, which operates on the principle of the reflecting telescope. In the work for which it was designed it is reputed to have sharper definition than the conventional type.

At the short distances involved in regular photographic work, a parabolic reflector would be useless. But the principle might be used in a camera which would have a light gathering capacity greater than any commercially available. The optical system would first have to be worked out mathematically, and then the shutter, film holder, etc. built around it.

Editor Instructs Santa On His Duties For the Morning of Dec. 25

By Jerry Luntz

With Christmas only one week away and with the idea in mind that this will be the last issue of The Campus in 1942, we would like to devote this space today to giving Santa Claus, who was recently saved from Hitler, Mussolini, and Tojo by Superman, instructions as to what his obligations will be on the morning of Dec. 25.

To Dr. Joe Alexander—Thirty-three Liberal Arts students, whose last class will be at 12 every day. These men are to be 4-Fs because of their bad lungs. And Doc is to be given the job of doing research work to see whether he can fix up their lungs and make them win a game in Lewisohn Stadium. The successful accomplishment of both is calculated to make the cigar-smoking doctor, the 33 students, and the Beaver fans immeasurably happier in 1943.

To Nat Holman—A re-designed basketball court with the basket two feet lower. Or a rule against the use of players taller than 5 ft. 6 in. Also five players who will not take set shots until they can at least see the basket. A special request is made to Santa to deliver these before this Saturday night or at least before the Beavers meet 6 ft. 9 in. Harry Boykoff and his St. John's cohorts.

To Tony Orlando—A star cross-country runner who sleeps at least four hours the night before he runs. Also a full house at every basketball game so that the AA can buy the $1000 bond it plans to in the event of a successful season at the box-office. P.S.—AA book sale ends on Dec. 23.

To Ernest Wilbur—More than two inches of publicity on his soccer team so that The Campus can get back into his good favor.

To Abe Sperling—Another undefeated tennis team. Also the transfer of his hygiene lectures from the Tech gym to the Great Hall so that more students will be able to take advantage of his vast sex knowledge.

To Sam Winograd—Grass in Lewisohn Stadium so that the dust won't blow into the eyes of his infielders, thus causing them to commit innumerable errors. Also the day when his JV hoop squad won't have to play second fiddle to the Varsity.

To Chief Miller—many big, husky fellows who know what a lacrosse racquet looks like before the Chief shows them one.

To Mike Shinkarik—A full length mirror so that he can admire both his phiz and physique. Also at least five more inches of height so that he won't look too spectacular when he outjumps a seven footer.

To Stan Brodsky—A football team next year so that The Campus can call him Capt. Brodsky. Also a stiff wind on Saturdays so that he can repeat that "kick to self" play he worked in the Brooklyn game. Also a speedy end who can catch up to Stan's 60-yard passes.

To Carl Waite, the between-halves basketball auctioneer at Madison Square Garden—two men, one of whom will bid $100,000 for the autographed ball and the other who will offer $101,000. (Attention Tony Orlando: Bob Rothstein, Campus copy editor, suggested this plan to us. Have the College basketball fans contribute $.25 or $.50 at each game. By the time the NYU game is played, the College will have amassed a tidy little sum which can be used to outbid all others and buy the basketball at the Garden.)

To The Campus sports staff—A year in which all of the Beaver teams go undefeated (assuming of course that there is intercollegiate competition) so that the boys can extol the virtues of the various squads without their consciences bothering them.

Hoopsters Oppose Fort Totten In Main Gym Saturday Night

Intramural Tournaments Near Close

With table tennis competition completed, and swimming and basketball in their final rounds, the intramural tournaments are rapidly coming to a climax.

For the second straight term, Burt Lasky '44, captured the Intramural Table Tennis championship. Lasky beat out a field of 53 entrants in last Thursday's finals. Sol Goodelman '43, member of the track squad, was second and Isaac De Bottner '46, placed third.

Besides table tennis, the swimming tournament reached its finals last Thursday. Walter Grechanik '46 won the point competition and a medal. Grechanik, who is a new member of the swimming team, was eligible for the tournament since he had not swam for the College up to that time. Saul Berkowitz '46 was second and Albert Bove '46 third among 68 entrants. The following is a summary of results:

Free style 50 yards: Won by Walter Grechanik '46, Ernest Kottenback '45, second. Time: 26.3. Breast Stroke 50 yards: won by Saul Berkowitz '46, Edwin Kaufman '46, second. Time: 34.8. Backstroke, 50 yards, won by Albert Bove '46, Leonard Ayre '46, second. Time: 35.1. Medley Relay 150 yards: won by Berkowitz, Bove, Schnazel '46, Kaufman, Blaustein '46, Ayre, second. Free-style Relay 200 yards won by Louis Lippitt '45, Douglas Hill '45, David Gottlieb '45, Arthur Katz '45.

The independent division of the basketball tournament saw the A.K.s beat the 4-Fs, 10-9. The A.K.s meet the Shrimps in the finals today. Also scheduled for today are volleyball, basketball and football.

J V Quintet Faces Harlem Five Today

With three straight victories under their belts, Sam Winograd's JV hoopsters face the Harlem Boys' Club away today. Hal Korovin, Maynard Hewlett, Norm Gotthelf, Joe Rochemacher, and Dave Shapiro will start for the Baby Beavers.

Hewlett, without a doubt the best offensive player on the jay-vee, scored 15 points last Wednesday as the Lavender trimmed the Madison Square Boys Club for the second time, 45-41. In the 46-33 win over the NYU Commerce team last week, Hewlett dropped in 17 counters.

The team was weakened by the loss of Irv Mlenko who suffered an appendicitis attack, and Johnny Myslicky who was out with a cold. However, Johnny will see action in today's game.

Booters Wade Thru Mud To Triumph Over Queens

In a wild game caused by the slippery turf, Coach Ernest Wilbur's soccer team defeated Queens College 2-0, Saturday. Despite the weather handicaps, the boys played the brand of ball expected of them, especially in the second half. Paul Freidman and Felix Freiheight scored the Beaver goals while Eddy From supplied the assists on both counters and Hugh Lovelle the play making.

Hoopsters to See Action During Xmas Holiday

Nat Holman's Beaver hoopsters will see a lot of action between this Saturday's game with Fort Totten and the next time The Campus is published, in January.

On Dec. 26, the Lavender quintet will invade the Garden to play in its second twin bill. The Beavers will meet Oregon State in one game with St. John's and Tennessee completing the bill. On New Year's Eve, the hoopsters will face the Mitchell Field quintet. This game will be no set-up as the soldiers have LIU's Rader twins and Stan Waxman, member of last year's squad. The Beavers will play Geneva on Jan. 2 and St. John's in the Garden on Jan. 6.

Meet Strong Squad In Soldier Quintet

By Bob Rothstein

You don't have to be a swami to predict that Coach Nat Holman's Beavers will be in for plenty of trouble for the rest of the season, but how much worse they're going to cause their foes even Coach Holman can't tell. At present the boys are hard at work preparing for Fort Totten, which invades the gym Saturday night, and are trying to correct some of the mistakes that lost them the Oklahoma Aggies battle, 38-32.

Although most Lavender rooters went home none too happy, Holman wasn't over-disappointed at the boys' showing. He blamed the loss on their inexperience and lack of previous top-flight competition. "They were coming from behind all night," said Holman, "and if they had gone out in front at the beginning, I think the boys would have won."

Standout for the Hol-men was Evvie Finestone, the sharp-shooting soph, who sank four field goals for eight points to tie Mike Shinkarik for our side's high scoring honors. Even Evvie wasn't too good, though, committing an important defensive faux-pas late in the game. Joe Lauren was runner-up with seven points.

The whole team played in and out ball sinking 10 out of 21 fouls but missing the ones that would have meant the game. The boys netted the twine on only 11 of 61 field goal tries.

Fort Totten will open its season against the Beavers, but preliminary reports show that the soldier boys will not be any pushovers. Pvt. Jim Scavone, who was a terror against us on the gridiron earlier in the season, is the boy to watch. As a Holy Cross freshman Jim scored 454 points in 23 games. Privates Steve O'Leary and Steve Fullam, both 6 ft. 2 in. tall and former Fordham varsity men in 1938, will help Scavone. Rounding out the quintet will be Corp. Bill Walters, who played with the Army All Stars in Panama and Brit Paterson, formerly of LIU.

Mermen Beat Rams, 39-36

LeRoy Weiner, unbeaten in any swim meet last season, took first place in the 50- and 100-yard free style events to score ten points and lead the Beavers to a 39-36 win over Fordham Friday night in the home pool.

For the first time in several seasons Coach Radford McCormick can boast of having a full complement of divers. Whereas last year Larry Cervone went through the motions to score a point for third place, Friday the Beaver tankmen picked up eight points in the diving event. Bob Houska placed first and Cervone was second.

Co-captains Howie Moscovitz and Al Kohn contributed their shares with Howie copping seconds in the 220- and 440-yard races and Al stroking and kicking his way to a third place in the 100-yard freestyle. Tommy Pavone won first place in the 150-yard backstroke event and Al Bove followed him in third place.

Weiner now holds the College records in the 100- and 220-yard freestyle races.

SWB Seeks Small Change In Allied War Relief Drive

Beginning tomorrow and continuing until the end of the term, the SWB will conduct an Allied War Relief drive. Collections will be made every day. Daily collections will not be new, since several New York high schools have been collecting a penny or two a day from their students for similar purposes since the beginning of the term.

Two $25 bonds were presented to President Harry N. Wright last Friday by Lester Lazarus '43, chairman of the Student War Board, and Alfred Lerner '44, treasurer, from money collected in Thursday's "Penny Bond Collection."

This drive will culminate in a mammoth rally in the Great Hall which will feature Zero Mostel, Kate Smith, and Canada Lee. The proceeds will be divided two ways, half for the USO and Army-Navy Relief Funds, and the other half to the British, Chinese and Russian Relief Funds. The drive will run concurrently with the weekly "Penny War Bond" day for student rehabilitation after the war.

In a further effort to get as much of the student body as possible behind its campaign, the SWB has sent letters to all clubs requesting them to elect representatives to a general war council.

Record Turnout For Senior Prom

One hundred and eighty couples, a record turnout, will attend the Senior Prom in the Hotel Plaza, Fifth Ave. and 59 St., this Saturday night. Henry (WOR) Morgan and Zero Mostel, two former Beavers whose odd ways have won them a large following, will entertain along with Yvette, the radio songbird, prom queen, and Johnny Dunlop and his orchestra, Fred Coleman '43, prom chairman, declared yesterday.

The Juniors are holding their prom the same night, Saturday, December 19, at the Hotel Edison. Cass Car and his Savoy orchestra plus a special surprise guest will provide the entertainment, according to Milton Avol '44, chairman in charge of entertainment. Seventy couples will be at the affair. A full-course dinner will be served.

Hunterites Take Over HP During Christmas Week

The College will be invaded by Hunter—for real—on Wednesday, Dec. 23, as the hale, hearty and buxom Hunterites take over House Plan for the day. The Amazons will go so far as to set up their own HP officers under Joan Menken, their queen, who will depose the Beaver president, Jerry Yaretsky '43. They will also issue the Megaronia in place of the Megaron.

As a tribute to the conquerors, Finley and Sim will serve a bitter tea known as HP tea a la faucet. The tea will also be the scene of the distribution of HP achievement awards.

Lunchroom Report Shows Small Profit

Lunchroom Pays For Light
The financial report for September and October showed food costs amounting to $6,927, 48% of gross income; labor costs, $3,429, 25%; and depreciation, $926, 6%. The net profit, $2,019, was 14%.

Labor Policy Attacked
Concerning the pay of workers, a charge that cafeteria employees are paid only half of union scale was made by Leo Kaplan '43. Larry Harris '43 further moved that the Council invite an organizer of Local 302 (AFL), the Cafeteria Workers' Union, to speak to the employees.

David Helfeld '43, SC President, after replying to Harris and Kaplan, then offered a resolution, later passed, which recommended that "the faculty-student lunchroom committee ask the lunchroom employees to meet and select one of the workers to represent them at committee meetings."

Carolers to Gather In Lincoln Corridor

Silent Night, God Bless Ye Merry Gentlemen, and other old-time carols will feature the College's traditional "Christmas Sing" scheduled for 12:30 today in Lincoln Corridor.

Miss Laura Cleverdon (History Librarian) and the coeds will prepare the tree, while J. Bailey Harvey (Public Speaking) will lead the singing.

Christmas vacation, incidentally, begins next Thursday, Dec. 24.

JSS Deadline This Week

This week is the deadline for all contributions to the Journal of Social Studies. All articles should be placed in Box 1, Mailroom.

Drama Groups Feud For Date

Theatre Workshop and Dramsoc have reached the boiling point over the proposed Student War Board-Dramsoc revival of Colleg-i-antics on Dec. 26 and 27 for Allied War Relief. Dramsoc wants the Theatre Workshop to move its showing of The Dream Doctor from Saturday, Dec. 26 to another date to make way for Colleg-i-antics. Workshop refuses to do it.

Allen Zwerdling '43, Director of Theatre Workshop, declared that "Dramsoc had its chance at bat and struck out financially. Now they won't even let us get up to the plate. It's a matter for the student body to decide. If they don't support The Dream Doctor by buying tickets immediately they'll get nothing but low slapstick comedy from now on."

Tickets for The Dream Doctor are $45.

Margie Hart Makes Hop Sales Rise

As the date for the Frosh-Soph Hop, Saturday evening, Dec. 26, nears, ticket sales are ahead of schedule. The extravaganza will be staged in the Main Gym. The high sales are due, rumor hath it, in no small manner, to a leak from the Hop Committee to the effect that Margie Hart may fulfill the duties of Hop Queen.
