Beavers Face Brooklyn Five In Garden Tilt

By Harvey Schiffer

Rebounding from its upset loss to Niagara with a 76-57 triumph over Manhattan Saturday, the Beaver quintet faces Brooklyn College tonight in the Garden and Fordham Saturday in the 69th Regiment Armory.

The Beaver-Kingsmen game is first on tonight's twin bill, preceding a clash between St. John's and Indiana State. Saturday's meeting with Fordham is an afternoon affair, starting at 2:45. The Lavender Jayvee will engage the Fordham Frosh team in a preliminary game.

Beavers Favored

Unbeaten in ten starts against the Flatbush foe, Nat Holman's crew is favored to continue the string of victories started in 1935.

Whitey Levy is the lone season-long first-stringer wearing Maroon and Gold. Paul Urchenko, a rugged 6 foot 2 inch forward, and Al Gottlieb are also slated to start against the Beavers. Urchenko may be remembered for the trouble he caused the Lavender in the 1945 encounter.

But if any real threat to the Beavers' chances exists, it is in the person of Don Siegelau, who dominates the stratosphere at 6 feet 7. Reportedly adept in the bucket as well as off the boards, the big boy may give the opposition a bit of a headache before the forty minutes are up.

Benson to Start

For the St. Nicks, Mason Benson, Joe Galiber, Hilty Shapiro, Lionel Malamed and Sonny Jameson constitute a likely starting five. If the club continues along the path begun against the Jaspers, however, the traffic to the Curriculum Changes Going into Effect In Tech School

Important changes in the curriculum of the School of Technology, conforming to recent scientific developments, have been announced by Dean Albert P. Newman (Technology).

To become effective for the fall semester, the new changes are in line with a policy of the Tech School, which strives for a curriculum continually adjusting itself to keep its course of study up to date. Dean Newman stated, however, that a change as important as the present one occurs only at intervals of three or four years.

New curricula will go into effect for all courses leading to degrees in engineering except those of Chemical Engineering. Added courses offered include Physics 114, Atomic Physics for Engineers, and elective courses made available to students in the senior year of study for the E.E. degree. The number of credits required for a degree in engineering remains at 140.

SC Again Attacks Ban on AYD; Blame Publishers in Book Famine

Twelve College Courses Short On Textbooks

By Sid Maran

Publishers who have reneged on promised orders are partly at fault for the current textbook shortage which has caused twelve courses at the College to be in need of unavailable books, a Campus survey completed yesterday revealed.

Hardest hit by the absence of a single book are the English 3 sections, who are reported short of more than a thousand copies of Volume 1 of "The Literature of England" (Woods, Watt, and Anderson). Professor William G. Crane (Chairman, English) told The Campus yesterday that he had "left the ordering of that book to the College store", and declared that he "should have been informed by February 1 that the book was not on the College grounds".

Book Due Soon

Morris Jacobs, Manager of the store, in reporting that the book is due there by March 10, said that the publishers had promised to deliver it for the first week of the term, and that since he expected it, "saw no need of notifying the English Department of its absence."

Barnes & Noble, at Fifth Avenue and 18th Street, has the following books which are not available at the College store. Prices are those for new editions unless otherwise specified:

"Qualitative Chemical Analysis" by Curtman ($4.15; used: 3.10); "Process Equipment Design" by Hesse & Rushton (3.50); (Continued on Page 2)

Student Federalists In World Gov't Group

At the recent merger convention of the six major world government organizations in the United States, the Student Federalist group at the College was incorporated into the new organization "for a world government of limited powers to prevent war", Abe Bargman '48, president of the society, announced yesterday. The new organization is called "The United World Federalists."

The prospectus, adopted at the first meeting, endorsed the work of the United Nations. "However," it said, "we will work primarily to strengthen the United Nations into a world government of limited power to prevent war, and to have direct jurisdiction over the individual in its area of competence."

Dr. Goldsmith Discusses Peacetime Role of Radar

"The New Science: Radio and Radar" was the subject of the lecture by Dr. Alfred N. Goldsmith ('07) last Monday night in the Great Hall. Dr. Goldsmith is at present Chairman of the Board of Editors, Proceedings of the Institute of Radio Engineers, and is a former member of the Department of Electrical Engineering at the College.

Dr. Goldsmith spoke of the roles played by electromagnetic waves in radio and radar devices in the war and of their potential use in peacetime industry. His speech indicated the great importance of basic scientific research when followed by detailed engineering research.

Austria Low on Coal and Food But High in Spirits and Culture

"Austria's cultural life, the only thing Austria has to offer the world today, is still on a remarkably high level," said Prof. Fritz Jahoda (Music), who returned last week from a three-week stay in Vienna. "The Viennese still pack two unheated opera houses nightly. I guess opera is a perfect escape for them."

Prof. Jahoda conducted three operas for the Vienna State Opera, lectured before the Austrian Institute for Arts and Sciences, and delivered a radio address.

"Difficulties in preparing for the performances were unbelievable," he said. "Gas for cooking in Vienna is turned on between 11 and 1, so I had to schedule rehearsals so that singers and musicians could get a hot meal."

Prof. Jahoda, a genial man who speaks with a very slight accent, asserted that Europe faces a serious shortage of operatic talent and the situation offers fertile opportunities for American singers and musicians.

At present in charge of the College orchestra and chorus, he voiced the need for greater student interest in musical activities. "If there are any string instrumentalists in school," he grinned, "forget about what I said about Austria. I need you here, on the College orchestra."

Revocation of Queens Charter Held 'Undemocratic' by Council

On the heels of its objection to the expulsion of the American Youth for Democracy chapter at Michigan State College, Student Council, at its meeting last Friday evening, denounced Queens College Student Council's "unparliamentary and undemocratic" action in attempting to revoke AYD's charter there.

College Reps Seek Continued Rent Controls

The Student Council, the College chapter of the AVC, the Progressive Citizens of America, the AYD, and the Veterans Association sent two delegates to Washington last Saturday with a petition signed by 1500 students asking President Truman to continue rent ceilings. The President's secretary assured the delegates, William Hertzoff '49 and Paul Brown '49, that the Chief Executive would personally receive the scroll upon his return to the White House.

AVC Meets Today

Boasting a membership of 245 veterans, almost 150 more than last semester, the College chapter of the American Veterans Committee, the other veteran's organization at the College, will hold its first organizational meeting of the term at 12:15 today in 126 Main.

The primary purpose of the meeting is to introduce the new members into the functions of the group. In addition, discussions of the Austin-Mahoney anti-discrimination bill and the Rogers Bill for increased subsistence are planned.

The AVC is conducting a subsistence survey of all veterans who attend the College under Public Law 346. These veterans are requested to fill out survey questionnaires in the Faculty Room, 200 Main, today from 2:15 to 5:00 p.m., and on Friday from 2:00 to 4:00 p.m.

Nichols Made Director Of Public Relations Assn.

Lester M. Nichols, Director of Public Relations at the College, was recently appointed Director of District II of the American College Public Relations Association. This district includes 150 universities and colleges in the East and Canada. The College was also chosen as the site of the next public relations convention to be held in September, 1947.

Mr. Nichols was also named to the National Board of the American College Public Relations Association.

At the last school-wide election for the 28-man Queens College SC, the campaign's focal point was about the status of AYD on the campus. Directly after calling its first meeting of the semester to order, those opposed to AYD, a majority, took up the matter of revocation after first limiting debate on the topic.

Procedure Confused

According to the college's undergraduate newspaper, "Crown," SC President Lawrence Milbauer cited as precedent as decision of the United States Supreme Court maintaining that a legislature can destroy what it creates. When asked whether Robert's Rules of Order was the procedure used during meetings, Milbauer "admitted to confusion on this point."

This College's Council based its decision to send a letter to Milbauer and Dr. Paul Klapper, President of Queens College, on two points: the "illegal parliamentary procedure" used and the "gagging of minorities."

Appropriation Refused

Sandwiched between an appropriation (which the vets admitted they did not need) granted to the new Veterans Association newspaper and one to "Sound and Fury," was a refusal by Student Council at its last meeting of a similar request by The Campus for a ten-dollar complimentary advertisement.

Council also voted to sponsor a "March on Albany" on March 1 to seek the passage of the Austin-Mahoney bill on prejudice in the states colleges and universities. It was decided that the nine-man delegation shall be constituted a committee to plan an outdoor rally for the same purpose at the College today.

Elections were held for five vacant positions on the Executive Committee. Dave Yashanowsky '48 and Eugene Schwartz '49 were the club representatives elected. Class reps elected were Ray Kaufman '47 and Leonard Goodstein '48. Representative-at-large is Stanley Rothman '48.

One for the Books

Improved as the textbook situation is, when compared to past terms, the Campus survey indicates that more careful planning would have aided the College store in reaching a higher level of efficiency and service to students. With the causes of the present shortage in mind, we wish to present a three-point program which will introduce order to our book program.

We believe that if all of the College's instructors consulted the book publishers before assigning textbooks for any course, we would not be faced with the present debacle, where students in twelve courses can not purchase the required text anywhere. Where books cannot be had, substitutions could be made before the damage is done.

The installation of a reward-and-punishment system for textbook publishers would be a great boon to students. Reliable book manufacturers who deliver pledged goods, and those who are honest enough to give adequate warning of inability to do so should be assigned to fill the complete book orders of the College. On the other hand, publishers who consistently disappoint the student body should have their order blanks relegated to the waste basket.

Finally the students themselves can be given an even greater opportunity to help solve the shortage. Calling upon the students to sell their used texts to alleviate the shortage is not enough. The College or the Student Council should institute a system at the beginning and end of each term whereby a central location will be provided for all students desirous of selling and buying used text books. This book exchange or market would enable the student to put his books back in circulation with a minimum of the effort and confusion that comes with the present unsatisfactory method of 'hawking' books up and down the corridors while classes are in progress.

Once again, it is a question of common sense, rather than of dollars and cents. Certain flaws are obvious, but corrective measures are just as obvious. Why not invest a little more planning toward a great deal more comfort?

A Pencil And an Eraser

Under the provisions of Public Laws 346 and 16, the tuition and supply expenses of a veteran-student, up to a maximum of five hundred dollars per term, are defrayed by the government. When this bill was passed the provision of maximum expense was thought high enough to cover adequately a college year, and low enough to soothe the Congressional fear of an expanding debt.

To bring those provisions down to 139th and Convent, it is apparent that with no tuition fee here, the vet-student should not be faced with a supply shortage.

That, however, is not the case. For five hundred dollars he receives a pencil, an eraser, a package of paper, and a loose-leaf binder.

The pencil is NOT a gold-plated lifetime Eversharp, the eraser is NOT nylon, the paper is NOT papyrus vellum, and the binder is NOT a chinchilla fur with platinum zipper.

Included in that five hundred dollar quota is the issuance of required texts. That, however, is frequently obviated by the failure of many instructors to authorize an adequate number and type of texts.

If the intent of the Bill is to aid the veteran's education, why is he hindered by the denial of complete benefits—Such items as typewriting paper, notebooks, and the like remain beyond his reach, except if he uses part of that "enormous" subsistence allowance.

At other institutions of higher learning, these tight conditions do not prevail. If the Student Council is so adverse to "disgraceful conditions," why don't they stay at St. Nicholas Terrace this week and do something about the vet?

Workshop, Dramsoc Plan Saroyan Play, Moliere Production

"Sweeney In The Trees", a play by William Saroyan, will be presented by the Theatre Workshop on March 8 and 9 at 8:40 p.m. at the Pauline Edwards Theatre, Ira Bilowit '47, production manager, announced this week.

All sons of Eire named Sweeney will be given a free pair of tickets to either performance, and every person named Sweeney in the metropolitan area has been contacted and invited to attend the play.

Tickets will go on sale at the Workshop Office at 220A Main, the Co-Op store, and 119 Main next month. The tickets will be priced at fifty cents each.

The other theatrical organization at the College, Dramsoc, has also completed plans for the term's activity. Productions scheduled for this term include "Le Misanthrope," by Moliere, a five act play, which will be given in the original French. A musical comedy later in the term is also part of Dramsoc's plans. Auditions for the musical will be held from 4 to 5 this afternoon in 308 (Main), Marvin Rosenberg '49, director, said yesterday. Singers, both male and female are needed, as well as dancers, comedians, and musicians.

"Engineering Drawing" by French sells for 2.82 at Macy's, 3.50 at B & N, and 5.25 at the Barchas & Schiffer store. "Physiological Psychology" by Morgan is 4.50 at Both B & N and Barchas Schiffer.

German, Latin Texts

Students in need of "Sir Wilhelm Tell" by Schuller may get used copies at Barchas & Schiffer for .80. The same store has "Elements of Latin" by D'Ooge in the new edition for 1.36.

Gov't and Law Society To Hold Meeting Today

After almost five years of inactivity, the Government & Law Society is being reactivated under the sponsorship of the Government Dept., announced Stanley Plesent '48, vice-president.

"We intend to acquaint our members with the various fields of law, government, public administration and the like. Various speakers will be presented, including those who detail employment opportunities in related fields. All prospective members are invited to our next meeting Thursday 12:15 in 224 Main," announced Plesent.

Formal Ball Set for May

A formal ball will be held in the Great Hall on Saturday evening, May 3, for the dual purpose of helping to raise part of the $150,000 pledged by the student body for the Centennial Fund drive, and to establish a precedent for holding an annual ball at the College,

NIBS

The Christian Association and the Douglas Society are presenting a play entitled "What's the Why?" starring an American Theater Wing cast. No charge will be required to attend the performance which will be given at 12 P.M. today in the parlor of the St. Luke's Church at 141 St. and Convent Avenue.

Aiche

The AICHE will have an Introduction Smoker for its new and present members, as well as the alumni and faculty, tomorrow evening at 8:30 in the Webb Room.

Oratorical Contest

The "New York Journal-American" is sponsoring a $1,000 grand prize "Patrick Henry National Oratorical Contest" open to all matriculated students.

Competitors for the $1,000 national award and the $500 bond New York City prize must deliver an original six minute speech on the life, character, and work of Patrick Henry. The College try-outs will be held March 21 at 3:00 in the Faculty Room, Main.

She Goes Up . . .

. . . Or She Comes Out Here

Going to and from work has its ups and downs for Mrs. Shirley Blackwood, secretary to C. E. Bilheimer, athletic director at Gettysburg college. She must use a ladder to go to her office in the morning in order not to cut through the men's quarters in the gymnasium. Government housing units were planned to alleviate the housing shortage, but to date they have not been completed. More than 200 students are living in the gym.

In 1815, Timothy Alden journeyed to Meadville, Pa., by flatboat and founded Allegheny college. Today, freshman John Alden Page, a fifth-generation descendant of the founder, finds himself right at home as he checks the family portrait.

Student-teacher coffee hours are a usual part of campus life, but it takes on an unusual angle at Ohio Wesleyan when student John Aker and instructor Olton get together. He knew her 17 years ago when they met on their first day of school in Canton. Conversation always gets around to old times.

Catch as Catch Can

All wrapped up in the Michigan-Western Michigan basketball game are Steinke, Western center, and Pete Elliott, Michigan captain. Every minute was packed with thrills as the teams tied six times, five in the last half. Western was victorious on her home court, 65-61.

Wittenberg college's honorary Alma Mater is just another customer for Dick Mozier, as he works his way through school as a service station attendant. But after work, it's a different matter for the attractive student leader is none other than Mrs. Mozier. Photo by Willson

Quintet to Meet Brooklyn Tonight

Face Fordham At Armory Sat.

scorers' table will be far from sparse.

At present Fordham's record is 16 and 3, but tonight the Rams square off with traditional rival NYU. Regardless of the outcome of the game with the Violets, Fordham's superb showing in humbling Army last week has established its position as a major opponent.

Gerry Smith, high scorer against the Cadets with 25 points, also led his team in its fruitless struggle against Boykoff and associates. Driving way in for his shots, he's hard to stop.

Tony Karpowich, who dropped in 16 against Army, is the Ram pop-shot specialist. Bob Mulvihill, Dan Graham, and Herb Clann round out the Fordham line-up.

In whipping Manhattan the Beavers used every man on the squad. Control of both backboards and a shooting average of forty-four percent gave the St. Nicks their twelfth win of the season, and their 18th victory against seven losses in the series.

Jameson was high man for the victors with 16 points. Lionel Malamed added 12 to boost his season's point total to a team-leading 145. Brother Paul, playing only the last six minutes, knocked in 10 points.

Wrestling Squad After Second Win

Coach Joe Sabora's undefeated wrestling squad faces its toughest test of the season against New York University, Saturday afternoon in the Commerce Center's Hanson Gym.

The Beavers grapplers gained a decisive 28-8 triumph over Brooklyn Polytech last Friday evening in their initial meet of the campaign.

Turning in winning performances were acting captain Murray Rosenberg, Ted Mausner, Joe Arico, Dave Lasky and Hi Federman. Arico gained his 145-pound class decision in an overtime struggle.

The Violet clash has been dedicated as the "Alumni Homecoming Day" with such stellar ex-Lavender matmen as Henry Wittenberg and Jake Twersky expected to be in attendance.

BEAVER ACE

Hilty Shapiro, only player to start in every game for the College quintet, who was dubbed the key man on the Beaver squad by Coach Nat Holman.

Indoor Track Outlook Dark

By Sid Maran

An entry in every running event will feature this Saturday's IC4A meet at Madison Square Garden, Coach Harold Anson Bruce said yesterday.

Added ineligibilities indicate that the Lavender will be hard pressed to avoid a recurrence of last week's debacle at the senior AAU meet, in which the Convent Avenuers failed to mark up a single tally. Sprinter Bob Hylton is the latest to be denied an eligibility card.

Feigelson to Run

Coach Bruce will send Harold Feigelson in the 1,000 yard run on Saturday, and will count on Ira Coron and Herb Bernario in the one and two mile events, respectively. Eric Williams and Carl Holmes are listed for the 60 yard high hurdle race.

In the 600 yard event, Oliver Tucker and Holmes will represent the Beavers, and Tucker, Williams, Channing Conway, and William Omeltchenko are scheduled for the mile relay.

NYU Victor

NYU's sparkling win completely dwarfed the St. Nicks' shabby performance last Saturday. The Lavender sprint medley team was disqualified after the baton was dropped, while Beaver participants in two shorter events failed to get further than the quarter-finals.

Tankmen Face B'klyn, Friday

Delayed by a badly-timed blizzard in their return to intercollegiate competition after a long interterm recess, the Beaver swimmers will finally resume acmen's pool.

The outfit which Coach Rider predicted would win the Met championship didn't meet Rider College, as scheduled, last week, due to the transportation problem posed by the sudden heavy snowfall.

Baby Beavers To Face Rams

Opening the twin bill of the City-Fordham game at the 69th Regiment Armory Saturday afternoon will be the tiff between the Baby Beavers and the Rams' jayvee. This follows by exactly one week the junior Lavender five's drubbing of the Manhattan College frosh by a 36-25 count.

Expected to spark the Sandmen in the quest for their eleventh victory as opposed to two setbacks are Leroy Watkins, Sy Chadroff, and Bernie Ettinger. Although Chadroff was high scorer in the Jasper encounter with 14 markers, it was six-foot six-inch lanky Watkins, who, working out of the pivot and hitting with ten points, spelled the major difference between the opponents.

High man and court leader of the junior Jaspers, Al Pelka, left the game early in the last quarter with an injured leg, after tallying nine counters.

Football Schedule

Three newcomers and a pair of night games are listed on the 1947 Beaver football schedule, released last week. The St. Nick gridgers will play eight games.

The schedule:
Sept. 26, Susquehanna (nite).
Oct. 4, Connecticut Teachers, away.
11, Rider; 18, Hofstra; 25, Wagner, away.
Nov. 1, Brooklyn; 7, West Chester Teachers, away (nite); 15, East Stroudsburg Teachers, away.

FOUND: A STARTING FIVE

By TONY SHUB

After fifteen games of a nineteen game schedule, Nat Holman finally found the right combination for his once Tournament-bound Beaver quintet. A little late, it is true, but he found the right five in Lionel Malamed, Sonny Jameson, Mason Benson, Hilty Shapiro and Joe Galiber. Each had been a starter at one point in the season, but never all five together.

This quintet, consisting of four sophomores and a freshman, averages 6 feet 1 inch, possesses three good rebound men (Shapiro, Benson and Galiber), a fine single pivot operative in Benson, and four driving scorers around him. In addition, the new Lavender starting five has one of the better set shots in the city (Jameson), a prolific shot at close range (Malamed), the smartest defensive player hereabouts (Shapiro), and two competent tap artists.

Where did previous Beaver quintets go wrong this season? First, the presence of Irwin Dambrot as a starter was not a happy move. The kid, a charming personality off the field, was becoming less and less popular with the fans as a result of his high-school-trained tendency to hog the play. "If there's a shot to be taken, depend on Dambrot to take it," remarked one spectator recently.

Second, the experiment with handsome Everett Finestone never quite came off. Evvie's game is based on drawing fouls, but when Truby will undoubtedly come back as a shooter, just as Dambrot will, one of these days, learn that it is as much fun to pass for a basket as it is to shoot. When that happens, the Lavender five may be a champion. Right now, it has a good starting combination, may get by Fordham, and, with a little luck, give NYU a battle.

the opposition discovered that his driving shot from the side missed more times than it hit (as Canisius did in Buffalo), they stopped fouling him. The upstate tilt saw Finestone fouled once, and five of his five layups in the first half muffed.

The last mistake is one that pains this writer personally to write too much about. We refer, to Sid Trubowitz, who three years ago was the greatest player ever seen in a Beaver uniform. Sid brought back the same speed, the same cunning, the same will to win that had formerly characterized his play. But his Number One stock in trade, his shot, was left in the files of the Bureau of Naval Personnel. As he started missing shots, his confidence began to dwindle, until the point where he was the farthest thing from a steadying influence imaginable. In the Canisius and Niagara games, Sid made three out of twenty-eight shots.
