Rosenwasser Opposes Schwartz For SC Presidency Tomorrow; 3500 Expected to Cast Ballots

Editorial: The Election

ALAN ROSENWASSER is the only qualified candidate for President of the Student Council at the election tomorrow. A vote for ROSENWASSER is a vote for a Council interested solely in College problems, for College publications uncontaminated by political control, for student representation in athletic and ticket policy, and for a student who has given three-and-one-half years of unselfish and unstinting service to the student body.

ROSENWASSER has had experience in many organizations with a variety of activities, ever since he first entered the College. His opponent, who was soundly repudiated by you a year ago, has been active for less than two years, and has concentrated his efforts in organizations which might conceivably air his peculiar political credo. While ROSENWASSER has been a conscientious and straightforward delegate to the National Student Association, his opponent's reputation has been seriously impugned by representatives from the entire NSA region, who recently declared he was withholding vital information and resorting to undemocratic procedures to attain his various ends.

ROSENWASSER is an independent candidate running without any organization of trained politicians

82 Candidates Seek 48 Posts In SC Election

Harold Stassen is out in Oregon, but local politicians are just as energetic, and tomorrow is their big day, with 3500 students expected to cast ballots in the semi-annual Student Council elections. 82 names will be presented to the public between 11 and 11:50, and 48 people attached to the handles will emerge as SC officers, SC class delegates, class officers, and NSA representatives.

Alan Rosenwasser '49 is opposed by Eugene Schwartz '49 for the SC presidency. Their qualification are listed in the left-hand column of this page.

Gets Backing

Rosenwasser is running independently, but has been endorsed by Robert Bernstein, former TIC president; Seymour Posner, president of the FDR Young Democratic Club; Louis Levine, president of the Young Republican Club; Murray Berkowitz and Sid Trubowitz, former football and basketball captains; and all but one of last term's presidential candidates. Marvin Kessler '48, the incumbent, could not be reached, but Ivan Shapiro '48 and Rudy Sommer '49 have declared themselves for Rosenwasser.

Among Schwartz's supporters are Peter Paulson '49, president of YPCA; Ghita Milgrom '50, SC rep of Students for Wallace; Alvin E. Gershen '48, SC treasurer; Seymour Brown '48; William Fortunato '49, SC rep of the ROTC Officers' Club; Lewis M. Rosen, co-editor of "Z" quarterly; and Ed Sparer, president of Students for Wallace.

Independent candidates running for major office are Vincent Gurahian '49, for vice-president; Audrey Gottlieb '49, for secretary; and Simon Ghitelman '51, for treasurer. They are opposed by the LSV party which has put up Theodore Kostos '49 for vice-president; Peter Paulson '49 for secretary; and Henry Katz '50 for treasurer.

Disqualify Greenberg, Ludwig as Professionals

Milt Breenberg, reserve catcher, and Bob Ludwig, regular second baseman, admitted to playing for pay and were dropped from the College nine last week.

Statements by the Candidates

Vice-President

VINCE GURAHIAN: Last Friday my opponent introduced a resolution to Student Council "to enjoin Campus from commenting editorially upon the election." This is a direct attempt to stifle the freedom of the press and a body blow to "free thought on the College campus" which he and his party profess to defend. In the light of such actions, my efforts must be directed towards actively working against the election of such individuals and to provide the students with democratic leadership.

TED KOSTOS: Part of the "circus" atmosphere of past student elections has been the habit of those running for office to bring forward beautiful programs advocating everything from Aristotelian democracy to Townsend "ham 'n egg" proposals. However, the net result of all this has been nil in the past, largely because no group has been committed to the pursuance and implementation of their policies. It's a political reality on this campus that no action can be effected unless there are groups that pledge themselves to realize it.

Secretary

AUDREY GOTTLIEB: I am running as an independent since I am opposed to party politics on the campus. It has been too long since major offices have been more than a political plum for self-styled campus politicians. A secretary should be just what the word implies. I served as assistant to the present secretary of SC and am thus qualified for the position. I promise efficiency and a job well done free from political connotations.

PETER PAULSON: The League of Student Voters places primary emphasis on student welfare and student activities. At the same time we recognize that outside issues affect students, and that SC should carry on an informational and educational program and express the sentiments of the student body. Speaking for the four major LSV candidates, I say: we are opposed to the Mundt bill which would curtail student political activities; we are opposed to UMT since it would lead to an extension of military influence on the campus.

Treasurer

SIMON GHITELMAN: If elected, I intend to institute a permanent used book mart on the campus, to see that the Treasury is administered well so that the extra-curricular activities of the school will function properly. As an executive member of the Student Council, I intend to see that SC looks after the affairs of students rather than deal with outside affairs. I also would like to institute more integrated social events on campus.

HENRY KATZ: We will not present a program that floats around in the sky. The program put forth by the LSV is of practical and definite service to the student body. We want you to judge us by the criteria of Student Security, Welfare, and Service for a meaningful program. We intend to accomplish:

1. The establishment of committees that will work for the students (Economic Welfare, College Budget, etc.).
2. The expansion of Student-Faculty relations.
3. Inter-club coordination.

'Dark of Moon' Opens Tomorrow

Tickets are still on sale for the Dramsoc production of "Dark of the Moon," being presented tomorrow and Saturday evenings at the Central High School of Needle Trades, 24th St. and Seventh Ave. Curtain time is 8:30 for both performances.

Tickets, priced at 85 cents, are still on sale in the cafeteria.

Don Madden, Rita Yaro and Sid Trubowitz have the principal roles.

Concert Today

The College Band, under the direction of Dr. Walter E. Nalin (Music), will present its semi-annual concert today at 12:30 in Townsend Harris Auditorium.

The entire band will perform half of the program, and will be followed by a selected concert band.

The Election

to do his handiwork. His opponent, on the other hand, is now reaping the fruits of his long cultivation of the AYD, whose chief apologist he has been for the past two years.

We feel obligated at this point to anticipate a slander which may occur in this campaign. The line will go, "Since ROSENWASSER is managing editor of THE CAMPUS, ergo THE CAMPUS had to support him." No charge could be further than the truth. ROSENWASSER was excluded from the discussion on our endorsement. Moreover, THE CAMPUS enjoined him not to run for the office, despite his obvious qualifications, until it became apparent that no other man had the courage to oppose the other candidate—whom THE CAMPUS regards as holding political and ethical views diametrically opposed to the overwhelming majority of our student body. ROSENWASSER may be hampered by these ruthless insinuations of nepotism, but we feel confident that the students will value his record and principles far above any slanders directed against him.

ALAN ROSENWASSER is one of three candidates for major office who are fully qualified for the offices they seek. The other two, VINCE GURAHIAN and AUDREY GOTTLIEB, are running for vice-president and secretary. GURAHIAN, although not connected with any publication, is leading the fight against the "thought-control" measures against College publications currently contemplated by his supposedly "liberal" opponents. MISS GOTTLIEB is the first secretarial candidate in years who has possessed any knowledge of secretarial techniques, in addition to being a sensible and intelligent young lady.

ROSENWASSER, GURAHIAN and GOTTLIEB have a lot in common: they are against political machines; they want a Council interested in the welfare of the average student, and not merely of the average AYD member; they are four-square against political control of your student publications; and they are perfectly qualified for the offices they seek.

In the other columns on this page, you will find a list of candidates running for office. Feeling that it has had a greater opportunity to observe the various candidates in action, the Managing Board of THE CAMPUS has indicated those most qualified, by principle and performance, in bold (dark-face) type. In several cases, doubt exists in our own minds, and in those cases no choice is indicated. We hope you take heed of these considered judgments, for we feel sure that votes for ALAN ROSENWASSER, VINCENT GURAHIAN, AUDREY GOTTLIEB and the other candidates indicated at your right are votes for the kind of Student Council YOU want.

List of Candidates

(This is the official list of candidates in tomorrow's election. Those indicated in BOLD type are those the Managing Board of THE CAMPUS feels are fully qualified for the offices they seek. Where no endorsement is indicated, the Managing Board either feels that both candidates are unqualified or has not had sufficient opportunity to observe their work.)

News In Brief

September graduates will be permitted to take part in Commencement exercises in June, Senior Class President Stan Plesent announced yesterday. They will also be listed in the program. They must pay commencement dues, however. Arrangements must be made in the Senior Class Office, 280 Convent Ave., by May 21.

INSTRUCTORS POSTED

The Student Council educational practices committee announced yesterday that the following departments will post instructors' schedules at registration next term: German, History, Government, Mathematics, and Psychology. Schedules will be posted in the department offices or on departmental bulletin boards.

FROSH DANCE

The freshman class will hold a dance this Saturday at 8:15 in Warner Gymnasium. Tickets selling for twenty-five cents each can be purchased from class representatives or at the door.

DREYFUSS SLIDES

The most complete set of slides in the world on "The Dreyfuss Affair" will be shown by Prof. Louis B. Snyder (History) today at 12:30 in 126 Main at an open meeting of the History Society.

WANTED: CHEMISTS

The Baskerville Chemistry Society and the Chemistry Department will conduct a forum on "Graduate School and Job Opportunities" today at 12:30 in Doremus Hall.

SDA ELECTIONS

Next term's executive officers of the College Chapter of the Students for Democratic Action will be elected today at 12:30 in 211 Main.

Correction Please: TIME magazine will cost only $3.42 for 40 weeks not $3.47 as was advertised in our last edition by H. Manoojian, agent.

Sports Roundup

BULLETIN

Sam Piacentino, star sophomore righthander, was removed from the College nine yesterday, when it was learned that he had pitched for the Jersey City and Bristol professional teams in 1944.

The removal of Tom Cusmano, Fordham's center fielder and leading batter, was also announced by Jack Coffey, Fordham's faculty athletic manager.

Coach Sol Mishkin's over-eager Beavers meet Queens tomorrow away from home. It may be just as well they won't show before the College crowd because the nine last Saturday blew a 12-9 decision to Army at West Point. Ten errors nullified acceptable pitching by Gene Satin, Frank Tejedor and Joe Pereira.

Hobbled by injuries, the Lavender lacrosse team rose to real heights last Saturday in drubbing Springfield by 11 to 7 at the Stadium. Seneca Erman had a field day, netting four goals, three of them consecutively. It was the stickmen's second win and they have two matches left, one at Adelphi and one at Swarthmore.

The tennis team takes on Manhattan tomorrow and NYU on Saturday.

The College will stage its annual invitation track meet this Saturday at the Stadium with a lot of Met colleges invited. Up to yesterday's meet the tracksters had won two of three dual meets.

When the Giants are away the midgets will play. Students spending the summer in New York will get a chance to spend the cool of evening in the Polo Grounds watching daredevil midget auto racers burn up a specially constructed track. The races are planned for Saturday and Wednesday evenings.

Editorial

The CCNY Mundt Bill

By some ironical twist of fate and Student Council politics, those most opposed to the Mundt bill in Congress have been the most avid to impose a new Mundt bill at City College.

These people, under the guise of an "investigation," would have this newspaper, always run democratically, subordinated to political control.

It is interesting to note that of the five members of the "investigating committee," two are key figures in a political slate which knew THE CAMPUS could never support them and maintain its integrity and responsibility to the student body.

The "investigation," which may or may not have the power to issue contempt citations, was prompted by the "discovery" that this newspaper had not adhered to its 1941 constitution. Hardly amazing, since the 1941 constitution had been supplanted three times with the knowledge of the Dean of Students and the Faculty Committee on Student Activities. Here is the history of THE CAMPUS since that 1941 constitution was adopted:

Several weeks after the constitution, which provided for a Governing Board of prominent campus politicians, was adopted, that Board began to deteriorate. Although it was supposed to determine editorial policy, it stopped meeting, and the editors of the paper started signing expressions of opinion "The Managing Board."

By 1942, the Student Council forgot about selecting members of this governing board, so much so that Dean of Men John R. Turner appointed a faculty-student advisory board to assist the Managing Board in the operation of the paper.

A year later, the Faculty Committee on Student Activities merged the advisory board of all college publications into a Sub-Committee on Publications. This board was resented by all publications, and was disbanded by the fall of 1943.

Dean of Men John L. Bergstresser, in 1944, with the full consent and knowledge of Prof. John J. Theobald, chairman of the faculty committee on student activities, directed THE CAMPUS to fix modes of operation for its own organization. A constitution was adopted, in January 1944, and was recognized by Dean Bergstresser and Prof. Theobald as the only legal document governing THE CAMPUS. Copies of the 1944 document were filed in the office of the Dean of Students in his presence, but have since disappeared, along with the charters and constitutions of almost a dozen other clubs.

After a salacious April Fool issue in 1944, the Faculty Committee on Student Activities established the board which currently is responsible for this newspaper: THE CAMPUS Advisory Board. This board is supplementary to the 1944 constitution, has no power over editorial or business policies, and is merely to be used as a reference for items deemed in questionable moral taste by the editor of THE CAMPUS.

The gentlemen of the "investigating committee" might also note that this newspaper does not "adhere" to its 1906 constitution either; likewise for 1916, 1926 and 1936. But we doubt if the facts in the case of THE CAMPUS's constitutional status will have any influence on those who are already determined to impinge on the democratic right of freedom of the press.

Last Concert of Term Set for Next Thursday

The College Orchestra, under the direction of Prof. Fritz Jahoda (Music), will present the last musical event of the semester with a program featuring the rarely performed Mozart "Symphony No. 33 in B-flat Major" next Wednesday at 4 in the Townsend Harris Auditorium.
