

Niagara Edges Lavender, 66-64

Overtime Loss Jolts Beaver Tourney Hope

By DICK KAPLAN
The University of Niagara did the impossible last night before 2,500 witnesses at Madison Square Garden. The Purple Eagles, behind by nine at the half and with two minutes to go in the game, put on a whirlwind exhibition of ball-stealing and shotmaking, to pull up even at 60-60 at the end of the regulation time. Then, they completely outfought a wearied City College five to gain a 66-64 overtime victory.

The defeat, which came as a startling surprise to practically everyone in the arena, was the Beavers' fifth of the season as against thirteen wins, and put a severe crimp in their post-season tourney aspirations. For Niagara, the triumph was sweet indeed, and they returned to Buffalo with their seventeenth decision in twenty-three starts.

Sinicola's glittering performance took some of the glamour away from Irwin "The Kid" Dambrot of Nat Holman's cast. Dambrot connected for 23 markers, an all-time Garden high for a Beaver cager, to keep his team in the running through a furious second half assault by the Eagles.

A 30-21 margin at intermission dwindled rapidly until Niagara drew abreast at 36-36. Down to the wire the two teams battled, with the Beavers stubbornly for-

Manhattanville Purchase Sent To Board of Estimate by BHE

CAMPUS Map by Staff Artist Gatelys

BHE Approves $3-6 Million Extension Plan

The Board of Higher Education has adopted a resolution recommending that Mayor O'Dwyer take steps to purchase the eighteen-and-a-half acre Manhattanville site for the College "at the earliest possible moment," Benjamin Ribman, a member of the board reported Saturday. Mr. Ribman said the resolution would be presented to the Board of Estimate within the next week.

His announcement was made at the thirty-sixth annual meeting and luncheon of the City College associate Alumni in the Grand Ball Room of the Statler Hotel, honoring Dr. Nelson P. Mead, president of the organization and former chairman of the college's History Department.

Great Need

Cognizant of "the complete lack of space" at the College, the board will "from this moment on" acquaint the public with the great need for the acquisition of the property.

Meanwhile, it was reported that a group of approximately nine or ten prominent alumni would visit the Mayor this week to secure his aid in purchasing Manhattanville.

It is known that the Manhattanville authorities are eager to vacate their site and move to Westchester. College authorities, anxious to move in, have expressed the conviction that purchase would solve their housing problems for at least the next ten years.

Needs Little Renovation

Dean of Administration, John J. Theobald, stating the administration's position, explained the location of the property would make it a perfect appendage to the present campus. Since the land is tax free at present, the assessment value would not decrease were it bought by the city. Its buildings are school buildings, so that their acquisition would require no great construction costs and presumably little renovation.

Fee Application Deadline Set for Next Wednesday

Organizations are requested to place their budget forms for application for Fee Plan money in the Student Council office, Room 20 Main. The forms will be accepted until Wednesday, February 23 with the earlier forms gaining primary consideration.

'Campus' Candidates To Meet Thursday

Journalistic hopefuls, who missed yesterday's CAMPUS candidates class, are invited to attend Thursday at 12, in 15 Main. The second class will deal with the methods of covering a news story and submitting copy. "Cubs" will attend these classes and work on the newspaper for eight weeks, after which they may become members of THE CAMPUS staff.

New Student Council Convenes Today at 4

Demands for censure of the four major officers are expected to arise at tonight's initial Student Council meeting in the Faculty Room at 4. The demands will arise from actions of Pres. Bill Fortunato '49, Vice-Pres. Ed Sparer '49, Sec. Shirley Lay '50 and Treas. Harvey Karp '50.

Action by the Executive Committee and the four officers in sending letters to freshmen detailing the charges against Prof. Knickerbocker and William C. Davis.

Motion Involved

Involved in the question of the letter to freshmen was a motion passed at last term's final meeting. The motion provided for compilation of a brochure to give extracts from all hearings on Knickerbocker and Davis, and include replies from them to the charges.

Fortunato claimed that it was not possible to have the brochure ready for registration, and that the letter bore no relation to the motion. He said that the Executive Committee sent the letters in view of the position on the cases taken by last term's Council.

Browne Met New York Fund Drive Chairman

Prof. William W. Browne (Biology), has been appointed Metropolitan New York area chairman of the Brown University Housing and Development Campaign, campaigning to fill a six million dollar quota.

Staff Cut by 55 Since Last Fall, Taylor Reveals

The College has dropped 55 instructors from its teaching staff during the past five months, Robert L. Taylor, Registrar, revealed yesterday.

Twenty-nine were dropped last September when total registration dropped 400, and the remaining 26 were dropped last month when registration dropped still another 100.

None of the cuts in the teaching staff were made at the Commerce Center since registration there has been slowly rising. Mr. Taylor revealed that the Board of Higher Education has requested only the funds needed to maintain the teaching staff at its present size, since another small decrease in registration is expected next September.

The paring-down was necessitated by the insufficient funds allotted to the College by the City.

Toscanini to Conduct For Centennial Fund

Arturo Toscanini and the NBC Symphony Orchestra have agreed to present a special concert in Carnegie Hall, April 20, for the College Centennial Fund. The announcement was made by Ben Grauer '30 at the Annual Alumni Luncheon of the College, Saturday, at the Hotel Statler.

First Fund Concert

This will be the first fund raising concert in the school's history. It will help obtain the $3,000,000 goal set for the proposed war memorial building.

Mr. Grauer said Mayor William O'Dwyer has accepted the position of honorary chairman and Bernard Baruch has been invited to serve as honorary co-chairman. Tickets will be made available

The Right Way

The case of Prof. Knickerbocker will drag on interminably until he is tried by a jury of his peers, not his colleagues or his superiors. The case must be pushed into court. The best way this can be accomplished is by a taxpayers' suit, and the only hope for securing such a suit lies in the eleven students remaining in his class.

If it can be shown that Professor Knickerbocker is not doing his job—that he is not teaching because students are staying out of his classes, then the case can be brought into court. Once there, the question of his guilt or innocence must be decided.

Some students have already left his class. It remains for the eleven who remain to request to be transferred, or dropped, even if it means postponing Spanish, to achieve a final decision in the case. Otherwise, we may see Professor Knickerbocker gracefully retire in two years without the question of his guilt or innocence having been answered.

In the case of Mr. Davis, although the Special Faculty Committee investigating his administration at Army Hall claimed that his segregation of Negroes was a "mistake in judgement," grave suspicion remains as to whether he is actually biased. So long as this situation exists, the principles upon which the College was founded will have been subverted. Every instructor at the College must be above reproach. There must be a hearing on the case of Mr. Davis.

We feel that Mr. Davis is guilty of segregation and therefor definitely not above reproach.

This hearing can be secured in the same manner as that of Professor Knickerbocker. Students must drop or transfer from his classes. Mr. Davis, if he is innocent, should want to have his name cleared. If he is guilty, there is no place for him at this College.

The students must be given a fair opportunity to learn all the facts. Closed hearings by their colleagues or superiors will not settle the question. The cases must be brought to juries of their peers. And this is only possible if the students vacate their classes. However much discomfort or inconvenience it may cause, we plead with those students, in the interest of the College and the student body, to drop or transfer from their classes.

Now Is the Time

The Board of Higher Education has approved the purchase of the buildings and grounds of Manhattanville College by New York City. This passage is not the final step in the acquisition of the property as a much-needed enlargement of the College. Now the expenditure must be approved by the Board of Estimate as part by the new budget. It is at this point that proper effort by the students, their families and neighbors will prove most useful. Write to the Board of Estimate, room 1356, Municipal Building, N. Y. 7, asking that the appropriation be passed and that Manhattanville be purchased for the College.

TW Sets March 4, 5 For 'Great God Brown'

First nighters will have an opportunity to see Theater Workshop's current performance of Eugene O'Neill's, "The Great God Brown," on March 4 at the Hunter Playhouse. In addition, a matinee and evening performance will be given Saturday, March 5.

This seldom performed tragedy, because of its use of masks and because of the dual role played by its main characters, presents a challenge to the cast as a piece of stagecraft and also as a bit of twentieth century philosophy. Wilson Lehr, director of Theater Workshop, has assumed not only the directorship of "Great God Brown," but also its lead.

Lehr Takes Lead Role

In its early stages of rehearsal, the play's cast is headed by Mr. Lehr as William A. Brown, the successful but dissatisfied businessman who gains possession of the mask of his friend, Dion Anthony, after the latter drinks himself to death. Dion, the genius, portrayed by Don Madden '49, wears a mask to hide his aesthetic, sensitive character.

The love interest of both men, Margaret, Dion's wife, who never suspects the dual role assumed by Billy Brown after her husband's death, has been taken by Rita Lloyd, a student of NYU, Washington Square Branch. Other minor roles, in addition to that of Katharine Agruss as Cybel, the prostitute, are used to carry William Brown through the last 18 years of his life until his death at the climax of the play.

Proposed Budget Lists Pay Rises Among Requests

In increase of $672,124.39 in the proposed budget for the fiscal year 1949-1950, with the major part going to mandatory and permissive pay raises, was announced by President Harry N. Wright in his introduction to the budget report to the Board of Higher Education this week.

Mandatory increments amounted to $143,094. A request for $288,534 was made for permissive pay raises, but may not be approved. Other requests for funds were made necessary by a proposed increase in the number of managerial, custodial and clerical personnel. In addition, funds were requested in order to allow for the promotion of five faculty members to Assistant Professorships and ten to full Professorships.

The total budget for next year amounted to $7,755,219.30. For the current year, the budget amounted to $7,083,094.91.

March Dates Set For 'Girl Crazy'; Summers in Lead

Danny Churchill, playboy-hero of "Girl Crazy," will be portrayed by Billy Summers '49 in the initial Dramsoc production this semester. Besides participating in "Joy to the World" and "Anything Goes," Summers' has also appeared on television as part of a choral group on Bob Emery's "Rainbow House."

"Girl Crazy" will be presented at the Pauline Edwards Theater on March 25, 26, and 27. Tickets, at 85 cents each, will soon be on sale in the rear of the Cafeteria.

The feminine lead, that of post-mistress Molly Gray, will be enacted by Carrie Caldwell. A former resident of Nashville, Tennessee, she is in her first term at the College and has already appeared in the Theater Workshop's production "Jason." Eli Bloom '50 is directing the production.

looked back upon his five month tenure at the community house with "great satisfaction." "The underprivileged children with whom I came in contact," he said, "were very cooperative, friendly and eager to learn the right ways to get along together." The Brooklyn ball player cautioned, though, that "most of the Harlem kids that need this instruction are too little cared for to be sent to the Y."

Quizzed on Gardella
After the talk Robinson was questioned about the case of former New York Giant player, Danny Gardella, against the major leagues charging them with monopolistic practices. He refused to take sides in the controversy, remarking "the case itself is legally sound."

Robinson first received mention at the College early in 1947 when the Social Research Lab of the Sociology Department was the first to predict that he would enter the major leagues as the first Negro player in baseball history.

Six Spanish 51 B's Ask New Teacher

Claiming that Professor Knickerbocker was "unfit to teach because of his past discriminatory acts," six students of his Spanish 51B-class of sixteen petitioned Dean Morton Gottschall for a new instructor. The petition was rejected, but the Dean politely offered to see that they would all receive program changes.

The first session, scheduled to meet at 10 in 201 Main, found only four students in attendance. All but six of those missing had gathered outside Dean Gottschall's office. A fifteen minute brief was given to the assembled students by Bill Fortunato '49, Ed Sparer '49 and Shirley Lay '50 of Student Council and Mel Jacobson '50, Chairman of Hillel's Community Action Committee.

Jacobson drew up a petition suggested by Miss Lay. Neither of these two were registered in the class. The petition read: "We, students of City College Day Session, respectfully request to the proper authorities of the City College that a different instructor than the one now assigned be assigned to class and section Spanish 51B. We feel that Professor Knickerbocker, the present instructor, is not fit to teach in the City College because of his discriminatory acts."

Lock and Key to Hold Introduction Dinner Feb 26

Ed Course Wants Upright Donation

Transportation costs will be paid.

CORRECTION

In a previous article several students were mentioned as having urged freshmen during registration not to register in Knickerbocker's and Davis' classes. Some confusion has resulted from the omission of the organization of one of these students. He is Hy Goldfarb, who spoke for the Community Action Committee of Hillel.

Holmen Lose as Dambrot Tops Beaver Garden Scoring Record With 23 Tallies

But Sinicola Draws Honors, Hitting for 25

ing ahead, principally on the efforts of Irwin Dambrot, who turned in what was perhaps his greatest game for a Lavender squad.

Then, with the count 60-51 against them, the Eagles started to click. Harry Foley dropped in a foul shot and Tom Birch followed with a push shot. Sinicola raced in with a lay-up as Beaver attempts to freeze the ball failed dismally. Moments later, Sinicola stole the ball from Mike Wittlin and fired up-court to Birch who once again laid it up and in.

Moran Forces Overtime
Fouled on the play, Birch received orders to waive the shot and take possession at midcourt. In the ball came to Sinicola, who essayed a set shot. The ball bounded high off the rim and out toward the keyhole. Leaping high into the air, forward John Moran executed an unbelievable tap-in to force the five-minute overtime.

It was apparent at the very outset of the crucial bonus period that the Beavers were at a disadvantage, having lost Joe Galiber via the personal foul route. Galiber had found the mark for 13 points and was a power underneath both backboards.

Moran Hits Again
It was the Beavers, however, who gave their adherents the chance to howl first, when Irwin Dambrot hit on his patented left handed jump shot. But the basket only seemed to redouble the vigor of the Niagara attack, as Sinicola dribbled in with a lay-up. An instant later Niagara was in the lead for the first time since the very earliest minutes of the game as Moran feinted Dambrot away and hooked for two, giving the Eagles a 64-62 cushion with 60 seconds left in the contest.

The Lavender had one more shot left.

With the entire Garden alive and exhorting their favorites on, the Lavender came back to tie the score for the last time. Niagara had attempted to hold the ball out and had done so adroitly until little Sinicola elected to drive in for a clinching bucket. All Zeke accomplished was to foul Sonny Jameson and hand the College one last crack — and capitalize the Beavers did, Jameson grabbing a loose rebound and thrusting it back into the nets.

Wraps Up Scoring
But it was not enough — the Eagles were not to be denied. Sinicola took a pass at midcourt, poised, and swished home a 35-foot effort to wrap up the scoring for the night. In the meager seconds left to them the Beavers tried desperately to regain possession, but Niagara had the answer every time. For one delirious moment victory seemed within their grasp as the valiant Dambrot dumped in the two-hand jump shot that staved off defeat by San Francisco December 30, but it was no go. Referee Lou Eisenstein detected a holding violation before the shot and awarded the Beavers one free throw, which they promptly waived. With 15 seconds left Sonny Jameson let the ball slide

It took a New York boy, Zeke Sinicola, to beat Beavers . . . Dambrot, with 23 points, broke record held by Sonny Jameson, who tallied 21 against Drake in '45-'46 . . . away from him as he drove toward the basket, and with the clock showing two seconds left in the fray a headlong dive by Dambrot brought about a jump ball. Irwin tapped the ball over to Jameson but Sonny had time only to gaze sorrowfully at the ball and disgustedly fling it high over the Beaver backboard and into the crowd.

In the first game, LIU staged a late drive to defeat Seton Hall, 57-53, with Sherman White blazing the trail.

Slice in Garden Allotments Seen as Tix Sales Decline

Possible reductions in the allotment of half-rate student tickets to the College's basketball games at the Garden may be in the offing as a result of declining sales, according to Dr. Arthur H. Desgrey, Assistant Faculty Manager of Athletics.

"So far this season we have had an average of 750 tickets returned out of 2900 allotted for each game at the Garden, Dr. Desgrey declared. "At a similar point last year, we had an average of 250 come back, out of 2500 distributed. If the present trend continues, the Garden could act to cut our allocation."

"Last term," he said, "there were demands to extend the duration of ticket sales, but the records show that we have consumed 75% of our sales during the first day. After that, they dwindle considerably."

"Where there were requests for higher priced seats, we've found

Cagers to Face Hawks in Philly; College Host to Fencing Tourney

By VINCENT HARDING

With memories of last month's clash and visions of a post-season tournament bid, the College Basketball squad journeys to Convention Hall, Philadelphia, Monday, February 21, to face the Hawks of St. Joseph's.

Madison Square Garden was the scene of the last game between the two quintets, held on January 8, when the St. Nicks won, 60-53.

Watch Welsh

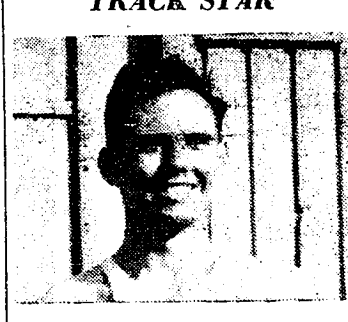

Jack Welsh, the high-scoring center of the Hawks, sank 23 points despite the efforts of Joe Galiber, Norm Mager and Leroy Watkins to stop him. All concerned were quite relieved when Welsh fouled out with one minute to go in the game. Welsh was aided and abetted in his role of headache-maker by Paul Senesky, who scored 17 points. Coach Bill Ferguson's charges will be seeking their eleventh victory in eighteen games while the College hoopsters had a 13-4 record going into last night's contest against Niagara.

In trouncing Canisius up in Buffalo Saturday, February 12, by a score of 70-54, the team racked up a phenomenal shooting average, sinking 29 out of 56 attempted goals, better than 50 per cent. Sonny Jameson led the way by scoring 18 points, 15 of which came in the first half of play.

Meet Rams

The 69th Regiment Armory will be the location of the game against the Rams of Fordham University on Wednesday, February 25. The Rose Hill quintet, led by Gerry Smith and Al Shiels, had a mediocre record of 9-9 before their contest last Wednesday night, Feb. 16, against Army.

Baseball Squad Reports For Practice Sessions

While the College's basketball squad pondered their tournament chances, the Lavender Baseball team quietly took over the Tech Gym last Wednesday to hold their first practice session of the season.

Coach Sol Mishkin, beginning his second year as the mentor of the Lavender nine, had fifteen catchers and pitchers on hand for the opening drills with the remainder of the thirty man squad scheduled to report later in the week.

With no park available until mid-April, Mishkin is contemplating the use of an unoccupied sandlot until the team opens the season April 2 against Queens College.

Sextette Overcomes Adelphi For Fourth Successive Win

After preserving its "loss-less" record last Thursday against a strong Adelphi team, 33-25, Coach Marguerite Wulfers' women's basketball team attempted to extend its win streak to four yesterday against Panzer. Results were not available as THE CAMPUS went to press.

Captain Norma Fagin led the Lavender sextette with 18 of her team's 33 points against the Long Island outfit, sinking eight field goals and two free throws.

Behind 9-8 at the first quarter intermission, a barrage of seven points by veteran forwards Irene Fagelson and Lois Hinds put the Beaverettes ahead, 15-12, at half time.

High scorer for Adelphi with 13 points, Captain Bea Toner put on a one-woman show in the third stanza with seven points—lay-ups, hook shots, et al, to bring her team within two markers of the St. Nicks, 23-21, at the end of the period.

Beaver Swimmers To Oppose Violets

With a 4-1 record behind them, Coach Jack Rider's Swimming team faces the NYU tankmen in the College's pool tomorrow at 3. The loss, during intersession, of Bobby Cohen, who led the team to a 44-31 victory over the water Violets last year, will be counteracted to some extent by the acquisition of Joe Browdy, a classy free-styler.

Looking past tomorrow's Fordham meet, Coach James Montague revealed that on March 18 and 19, for the first time in the College's history, the Main gym will be the site of the annual Eastern Intercollegiate Fencing Championship competition. Last year the Beavers won the title.

With triumphs over Princeton and Columbia Universities, and a tie with Army in their first three meets, the College fencers are looking optimistically toward the Fordham clash. In the ten years since the inception of the Beaver-Ram series, Fordham has never come out on top.

While Al Axelrod, Abe Cohen and Bert Gedzelman will be missing from last year's championship array, Montague has added Eugene Natanblut, who performed well in his first two trials against Princeton and Army. He is also fielding an entirely new saber group, whose number one man, Gene Bassin, won the Met Novice Saber and Junior Epee Championships last season.

The bouts will get under way Friday afternoon at 1 P.M. in the CCNY Hygiene Building and will continue through Saturday evening. In addition to playing host, the CCNY fencing team will be the defending champions having won the three weapon title and the Little Iron Man trophy at last year's championships.

Omeltchenko's Transfer To New Relay Position Pays Off in Victories

Coach Harold Anson Bruce recently shifted Bill Omeltchenko from the mile relay team to the two-mile stick-passers and gave Eric Williams the third leg spot on the mile relay, a maneuver that has paid off in three first-place trophies within two weeks for the College's indoor track team.

In tomorrow night's National AAU Championship Games, a sprint medley relay foursome of Don Spitzer, Bob Glasse, Williams, and either Carl Holmes or Bert Adler and a two-mile quartet of Omeltchenko, Tony Bonanno, Vince Porter, and Ed Laing will compete on the new Garden boards.

Negotiating a 3:28.1 clocking, the reshuffled mile-relay team of Glasse, Laing, Williams, and Spitzer led St. John's, St. Francis, Brooklyn, and Kings Point, in that order, across the tape at the NYAC Games last Saturday night.
