Committee Says SC Referendum 'Is Not Valid'

The Student-Faculty Committee on Student Affairs refused Tuesday to approve the referendum which would increase Student Council to forty-one members. Passed last week by a student vote of only 1,070 to 429, the proposed reorganization of Council was rejected because of the small total vote. Prof. Kenneth Clark, chairman of the SFSCA, pointed out that the vote was not valid under the original qualifications established by Council. The Committee rejected it, he said, "in spite of the rescinding of qualifications by an emergency Council session."

Lifts Ban

The Committee also declared that all clubs may issue leaflets and endorse candidates during the election week from Monday May 8, to Thursday, May 11. This, in effect, lifts the ban on those clubs that were suspended by SC in March for refusal to pay the five cent assessment imposed by Council.

These groups will be able to issue leaflets with only the permission of the "Student Life Department."

Non-Paying Clubs

As yet, thirty-six clubs of the approximately 70 chartered groups have not paid the tax. The assessment was passed to collect funds to reimburse the four complainants for court costs incurred in their libel suit against the "New York Times."

A large portion of the Committee's three hour session was taken up with a discussion of the "secret report," which outlines the powers of the SFSCA as constituted under the Board of Higher Education by-laws. The report was given to a three member committee for further study: Dean Dorothy E. Wells (Student Life), SC President Philip Scheffler '50, and Vice-president Beverly Rubin '51.

Psych Group To Convene

The Intercollegiate Psychology Association will hold its fourth annual convention on Saturday, May 6, at 1:30, in Townsend Harris Hall.

The convention will feature a symposium on "An Evaluation of Psycho-surgical Methods in the Treatment of Psychoses." The speakers will be Dr. George W. Freeman of George Washington University; Dr. Gilbert Glaser of the Psychiatric Institute of New York City; Dr. Mortimer Garrison, Jr. of the University of Pennsylvania; and Dr. Kurt Goldstein of the College. Prof. Herbert Birch (Psychology) will act as moderator.

The keynote address will be given by Dr. Bernard Reiss, of Hunter's Dept. of Philosophy and Psychology.

A general membership meeting for the election of new officers will be followed by a buffet supper and a dance in the Army Hall Lounge.

CBS 'Town Meeting' At Great Hall Tuesday

By Arthur Selikoff

In a broadcast which will be heard throughout the nation, "America's Town Meeting of the Air" will convene in the Great Hall on Tuesday evening at 8.

Two Thousand Students Await Trip Up River

A solution to that "haunted" look that has long characterized students at the College will be found at the annual Boatride up the Hudson on Sunday, May 14. Long hemmed in by dungeon-like class rooms and a peanut-sized campus, some 2,000 he and she Beavers will find solace in the fresh air, and elbow room on the 40 acres of deck space offered by the good ship "SS Meseck."

Ducats for the jaunt can be picked up at House Plan or at 120 Main for $1.25.

A full day's entertainment will be offered by the Boatride, which starts at 9:30 in the morning and winds up with a moonlight return trip back to Pier A, the Battery. Swimming, rowing and hiking only scratch the surface of activities offered by the vast Bear Mountain park.

In addition, sports-minded students can participate in the student-faculty baseball game at the park while lovers of unusual scenery can take it easy cruising up the river.

Those who are just lovers will get their chance on the moonlight trip.

'52 Night Hayride To Be Held Sat.

A night hayride sponsored by the class of '52 will be held Saturday, May 6th at 8. The hayride, in Dumont, New Jersey, will last about four hours.

Horsedrawn wagons have been hired to take the outdoor party into the woods where a bonfire will highlight the occasion. Free refreshments, including cokes and Wieners will be served.

Tickets are available until tomorrow and may be obtained in: 20 Main, the booth opposite Knittle Lounge and 330A and 200B Army Hall at $1.25. In case of rain the hayride will be held.

College Observes 103rd Charter Day

Commemorating the 103rd anniversary of the founding of the College, Charter Day and Senior Day will be jointly celebrated today for the first time in the history of the College. Classes will be called off from 10:30-2, enabling students to attend the ceremonies at 11 in the Great Hall.

Track Meet, Judiciary Mix—No Decision

A track meet held in Lewisohn Stadium yesterday afternoon prevented Student Council's Judiciary Committee from making its final decision on the long disputed tax assessment case.

Chief Justice Irv Epstein attended the track games and the meeting was called off until tomorrow at 7.

This marks the third time that the Committee has put off a consideration of the appeal of four campus organizations against the penalties imposed against them by Student Council. The groups had refused to pay the SC tax levied to finance the libel suit against "The New York Times" and Prof. William E. Knickerbocker (Romance Languages).

Four of the Committee's six members were present yesterday.

In an attempt to increase student interest in the festivities, the seniors will play a leading role in the day's activities. Besides holding a student-faculty softball game in Jasper Oval at 1, they will also take over the Great Hall ceremonies. After a processional of the members of the senior class, the assembled students will hear addresses by Irv Kaufman, president of the graduating class, and Roy Eaton '51.

Included in the activities will be the presentation of SC awards and varsity Letter insignia, as well as the awarding of trophies to the members of the basketball team by Leonard Bloksberg, vice-president of the senior class.

Among the twenty members of the class of '00, who will attend, Dr. I. Ogden Woodruff will speak on the accomplishments of his class since its members were graduated. The College orchestra, directed by Prof. Fritz Jahoda (Music), will present a musical program. Dr. Elias L. Soloman will deliver the invocation and the benediction.

The seniors will start off their day by taking over all the administrative posts at the College, as well as the classes they have at 9 in the morning.

TW, Hunter Combine to Produce NY Premiere of 'Bayou Legend'

Vampires, people floating in space, voodoo rituals and a two headed monster; all these will be present and accounted for on the stage of the Hunter Playhouse on the evenings of May 15 and 16. At that time, Theatre Workshop, together with the Hunter College dramatic group, will present an all-Negro cast in "Bayou Legend," a musical fantasy of life in the swamplands of Louisiana.

The production will mark the first time that Hunter girls and males of the College have cooperated to produce a play. Tickets, now up for sale in the rear of the Cafeteria, range from $.60 to $2.40. On the night of each performance, all remaining ducats will sell for $.60.

Over $5000 will be spent on the unusual sets, costumes and effects for this most lavish of TW productions. Broadway producers had long abandoned the play, despite its successful interweaving of drama, music, comedy and fantasy, since the estimated cost to present it on the legitimate stage would have been some $200,000.

TW left no stone unturned in its effort to get desired effects for "Bayou Legend." A special projector and screen, the only one of its kind in the country, has been borrowed from Yale Univer-

Baruch to Address Business Convocation

The College's School of Business will commemorate its 30th anniversary with a five-day "Business Education Week" celebration, beginning May 8.

Conducted through the cooperation of student and faculty members and one hundred leading New York executives, the program includes two May 11 convocations, one which will feature an address by Bernard M. Baruch.

Admission to the events is free and most of them are open to the public.

In addition to the convocations, thirteen seminars will be held dealing with different phases of business and civic administration. They will be addressed by prominent New York businessmen on advertising, credit and sales management, economics, management and personnel, retailing, real estate and insurance, taxes, foreign trade, and public administration. Stress will be placed upon job opportunities in these fields.

Exhibitions on textiles, statistics and other subjects will be shown. There will also be a demonstration on glass blowing.

Classes at the Commerce Center will be shortened on May 9-11, to allow students to attend seminars of their choice between 11 and 12:20 each day.

Tickets to a Saturday, May 6 downtown Carnival are on sale at House Plan. After a night of dancing and fun at various booths, Broadway stars will entertain.

THC Publicizes College Engineers

"You can judge the dependability of a product by its trade-mark" is the theme of a brochure prepared by the Technology Interfraternity Intersociety Council advertising the quality of the College's graduate engineers.

The pamphlet, to be mailed to approximately one thousand engineering firms next week, is entitled "What Is the Priceless Ingredient?" It was completed under the direction of Bob Tovor '50.

CORE to Hold Bias Meeting

The College chapter of the Congress of Racial Equality will participate in the CORE Race Relations Workshop to be held Saturday and Sunday afternoons, May 6 and 7, at Brooklyn College. All non-CORE students are also invited.

The Workshop discussion Saturday will feature Lillian Smith, author of "Strange Fruit," speaking on "The Roots of Prejudice." Conrad J. Lynn, prominent lawyer now engaged in carrying out the Student Council libel suit against the "New York Times," will speak on the "Legal Aspects of the Fight Against Discrimination." On Sunday the group will see the film "Prejudice" and plan numerous action projects.

A seventy-five cent registration fee will be charged to all students wishing to attend the meetings. The fee must be paid Saturday, May 6, at 1 in Room 0200 Boylan Hall at Brooklyn College.

The purpose of the Workshop is to arrive at an understanding of the effects of discrimination on the individual and society and the different methods used in attacking the problem.

of two meetings comprising the second annual John H. Finley public lectures presented by the College's English Department. The theme of the series is the "Newspaper and Society."

On the following Thursday, well-known alumni will speak on "Covering the National Scene," in the Faculty Room, at 8:30.

The Hon. Jacob K. Javits, member of the House of Representatives; Ben Gilbert '37, city editor of the "Washington Post," Carl Levin '35, White House correspondent, "The New York Herald-Tribune," and Hobart Rowen '38, Washington correspondent, Newsweek magazine, will be members of the panel.

This series, inaugurated last year to "aid in bridging the gap between the newspaper and the people," was established as a memorial to Dr. John H. Finley, President of the College from 1903 to 1913, and later editor of "The New York Times."

NAACP Sponsors Friday Night Dance

The College chapter of the National Association for the Advancement of the Colored People will present a spring frolic Friday night, May 5, in the Army Hall Lounge. There will be a band, entertainment and refreshments for all. Tickets at 75 cents may be purchased at the door.

College May Become Recognized University

Official university status may be reached by the College as a result of studies now being made.

An examination of the need, and facilities available for a Liberal Arts graduate school is presently being pursued by Prof. Oscar Janowsky (History), a member of the committee on Graduate Studies. If, as a result of his findings, a Liberal Arts graduate school is established, four of the College's schools will offer a Master of Arts degree. Professor Janowsky's study will be completed by the Fall semester.

In February, 1943, a Faculty Council of the College approved a program leading to the establishment of a graduate school and set up a supervisory committee. The subjects were to be designated by Harry N. Wright in the light of needs and costs.

The first concrete steps taken under the program was the establishment of a graduate school in the psychology department in 1944. However, only nine students, on the average, have been accepted per term.

Only discussion has occurred since then, but to keep the Liberal Arts School in the running for a graduate school, permission was obtained in 1949 from the Board of Higher Education to contact the State Board of Education department on the subject. In March, 1950, the program was registered with the State Board.

The tentative qualifications for a Masters degree are: the equivalent of a year's unit course in research with a definite objective under departmental direction; a written thesis, or examination, or both; and a foreign language may be necessary.

According to Dean Morton Gottschall (Liberal Arts), chairman of the Graduate Study Committee, the College, in effect, already has university status. The Technology, Education, and Business schools have been authorized since 1921 to give Masters degrees.

Time Capsule

A bronze plaque to mark the site of the College's "Time Capsule" will be presented today by Alpha Phi Omega as part of the Charter Day ceremonies between 1:30 and 2.

Sculptured by Prof. Albert P. d'Andrea (Chairman, Art), the plaque will be placed directly over the 14 by 10 foot lot that holds the capsule. Under the sponsorship of APO, the capsule was buried on May 9, 1947, about thirty feet from the flag pole, with the provision that it not be opened until 2047.

College Takes Top Spot in Rifle Meet

The College contingent of the 8th Regiment of the Pershing Rifles, a national honorary military fraternity, captured first place honors in the annual regimental drill contest, held April 29 at Cornell University.

The group scored 789 points in the matches, receiving the 20-inch gold-plated trophy awarded to the first place team.

Naval Reserve Offers College Commissions

An opportunity to earn a Commission in the U. S. Naval Reserve is being offered to all students of the College, male and female. Those accepted for training will receive their commissions upon graduation.

The training period for the Commission will consist of two six-weeks summer sessions, during which time the candidates will be able to clear about 150 dollars per summer. These training camps will in no way resemble the familiar navy "boot" camps. Students will wear the uniform corresponding to that of a Chief in the Naval Service.

One of the chief advantages of the program is that a student may drop out at any time he wishes, unlike the Army's ROTC course at the College.

Additional information and application forms may be obtained next Thursday when a representative of the Naval Reserve program will be at the College in 200 Main from 10-4.

Qualifications

- 1) Be a natural born citizen of the U.S., or naturalized for a period of at least 10 years.
- 2) Men must be between the ages of 17 and 27; women, 18 and 27.
- 3) Be enrolled at the College.
- 4) Be preparing for a degree which will not lead to an appointment in the Medical Service Corps.
- 5) Be able to complete the two summer sessions before graduation.
- 6) Be physically qualified.
- 7) Female applicants will not be accepted if they are mothers, adoptive parents or step parents.

Theater

Meanwhile, students from both colleges have scoured New York State countryside, collecting grass that resembles the kind found in the Louisiana swamps.

The play is based on Henrik Ibsen's masterpiece, "Peer Gynt." Frank Fields, who wrote the music for "Body and Soul," has composed an outstanding score that will be performed by a 30 piece orchestra conducted by Robert Mandel. Sets are by Charles Elsen, stage designed for Tallulah Bankhead's "Private Lives." The entire show will be directed by Mr. Wilson Lehr (Public Speaking).

'Sound and Fury' Accepts Material

"Sound and Fury," newly formed magazine at the College, is now accepting for publication short stories, non-fiction articles, poetry, cartoons and photos. All student contributions should be placed in the Student Council mail box, 20 Main. Copy must indicate the name of "Sound and Fury." Contributions not published will be returned.

Beavers Rip Hofstra In Meet at Stadium

Leading on points from start to finish, the Beaver trackmen swamped Hofstra, 96 2/3 to 43 1/3 yesterday, in the opening dual meet of the season at Lewisohn Stadium. First place finishes in the 100, 220, 440 and 880 yard dashes, mile run, mile relay, high jump, broad jump, hammer, shotput, discus, and javelin earned Coach Harold Anson Bruce's forces fifty-five points. The remainder were made through second and third place finishes in these and other events.

Co-Captain Jake Stein garnered the highest individual total of points, 121 1/3. He took first in the hammer and discus with heaves of 92.6 feet and 109 feet, 11 inches respectively. Stein also tied for second in the pole vault, and placed third in the javelin.

Co-Captain Bob Glasse and Charlie Fields contributed ten points each to the winning cause. Glasse won the 100-yard dash in 10.1, and the 220-yard dash in 23.2, excellent times considering the poor track.

Charlie Fields was victorious in both his specialties, the broad and high jump. He turned in a leap of 18 feet 1 1/4 inches in the first, and 5 feet 9 inches in the second.

Bill Omeltchenko, a disappointment in the Penn Relays, returned with a vengeance, nipping Eddie Rochford, cross-country metropolitan champion, at the wire with a sensational 4:29.9 mile run.

The mile relay squad of Cecil Grie, Don Radov, Ed Laing, and Charlie Fields won the mile relay easily with a mark of 3:29.9.

Last Saturday, at the Penn

Elect Hoop Co-Capts.

Ed Warner and Ed Roman, the Beavers' one-two scoring punch, have been elected co-captains of the Varsity Basketball team for the 1950-'51 season, it was announced last Monday by Dr. Sam Winograd, Faculty Manager of Athletics.

The two sophomore stars led the Lavender to the Golden Double this year. Roman nailed down 475 markers in 29 games, and Warner 429 points. The fact that each scored more than 400 points in a single season marks the first time that a St. Nick has turned in this feat.

Warner picked up the MVP award in the NIT, and Roman was placed on the first team of both All-Star tourney fives.

Relays, the Beaver cindermen took their class mile relay in the time of 3:23.9, a new record for the College. The quartet of Bob Glasse, Stafford Thompson, Ed Laing, and Don Spitzer, who finished second in the Seton Hall Relays took it all this time. Breaking the mark of 3:25.4 set two years ago at this meet, was the same quartet entry with the exception of Stafford Thompson, who gave way to Bill Omeltchenko.

Don Spitzer, with a 49.9 mark, ran the best individual time beating out seven teams in the anchor leg.

Coach Bruce received a plaque commemorating the teams brilliant achievement.

Summary.

100-Yard Dash—1. Bob Glasse, City; 2. Robert Braune, Hofstra; 3. John Griffen, Hofstra. Time—0:10.1.

Hammer Throw—1. Stein, City; 2. Graf, Hofstra; 3. Ed Deutsch, City. Distance—92.6 feet.

Fleischer to Headline 5th All-Sports Dinner

The College's fifth Annual All-Star dinner will be held Wednesday evening, May 10, at the Hotel Astor. Nat Fleischer '08, editor of Ring Magazine will present a trophy called the Nat Fleischer '08 Award to the senior who has the most outstanding academic and sports record for his four years at the College. Casey Stengel, manager of the World Champion New York Yankees, will be the main guest.

More than 125 Beaver varsity athletes, including members of the basketball team that captured world attention with its unprece-

Beaver Nine Meets Brooklyn Today at 3

Aiming at a victory that will even their Metropolitan Conference record and hoping to achieve it at the expense of the league's cellar-dwellers, Coach Sol Mishkin's unpredictable baseball Beavers will take on Brooklyn, arch interborough foe, this afternoon at Babe Ruth Memorial Field, 161 Street and River Ave., Bronx. Game time, for those who crave

Both teams are starting the second half of a 14-game Conference campaign. The Beavers have won three of their seven games but the Kingsmen have yet to gnan a league victory.

On Saturday, the Beavers will engage Kings Point, Brooklyn's basement mate, at the same field. The Mariners, who have gone four games without a victory, were

Cagers Face Tough Test

Ed Roman, the Lavender's 6'6" sophomore star, will jump center against Clara Young, 4'10" dynamo of the women's basketball squad, tomorrow night in the Main Gym as Coach Marguerite Wulfers sends her quintet against Nat Holman's all-conquering five. Admission will follow the game, and admission is free.

Irwin Dambrot, fresh from his cross-country tour with the College All-Stars, will not see action. Irwin is now considered a professional. Consequently, he is not permitted to compete in collegiate athletic affairs. Herb Cohen probably take his place.

Coach Wulfers hasn't yet decided who will try to hold Warner down. Chances are, however, that Irene Fagelson, 5'11" center, will attempt to put the whammy on Warner's spinning lay-ups off the pivot slot. How Ed will fare against Irene's faking is problematical. Coach Holman only hopes that the male Beavers will be as hot against the female Beavers as they were against Bradley.
