Brooklyn College Prexy Suspend 4 in Strike

Dr. Harry Gideonse, Brooklyn College President, suspended four students yesterday for actively participating in a demonstration outside his office over "Vanguard," former undergraduate newspaper. Three other demonstrators were placed on probation.

Protesting the dissolution of the "Vanguard" and the fact that President Gideonse had refused to reinstate them, 230 students staged a sit-down strike, chanted songs and shouted for him to come out and see them.

Calling itself the "Committee for Free Press," a seven man group representing five college organizations have demanded the reinstatement of "Vanguard" by Monday as the official newspaper at the college, if the strike is not to continue.

Of the seven, two have been suspended and three put on probation for conduct "unbecoming a student." The committee had originally intended to confer with the President but were denied an audience.

The five organizations backing the committee are the Brooklyn College House Plan, Young Progressives of America, "Vanguard," Philosophy Society and the Psychology Society.

The Brooklyn College Student Council has voted to impeach its president, Harry Taubefeld, by a vote of 18 to 9, for "malfeasance and neglect of duty." Taubefeld had been instrumental in the dissolution of "Vanguard." He is to be tried next week by the Faculty-Student Committee on Student Activities.

The Labor Youth League and the Young Progressives of America of Brooklyn College, opposing the dissolution of the school's undergraduate paper "Vanguard," marched Wednesday to the office of the college president.

They said they had questions he must answer. Two hours later when President Gideonse didn't appear, they voted to "adjourn."

The former executive board of "Vanguard" afterwards issued a statement condemning the action of these two groups.

LYL's Charter

For the fourth time in a year the Student Faculty Committee on Student Affairs will be asked to approve the charter of the Labor Youth League.

On Wednesday, the Executive Committee of Student Council voted 6 to 1 in favor of chartering the organization. But before LYL can be chartered the SFCSA must approve.

This is not likely. In the past SFCSA has insisted that LYL declare in its charter "Its connection with the communist party." The charter at present, contains no such statement.

No Gambling

Card playing is not allowed in the Cafeteria between eleven and two.

No, Mayor Impellitteri has not issued the edict; it is a ruling of the Student Faculty Committee on Student Affairs.

According to Mr. Phillip H. Brunstetter (Student Life) the law was passed "to obtain more ease and space for individuals during rush hours."

World Needs Regional Unity States Javits

Young people today should train themselves in technical skills to assist the European, Far Eastern and Near Eastern countries in achieving a regional unity, stated Congressman Jacob Javits (Rep-Lib) yesterday before 50 listeners at a meeting jointly sponsored by the Young Liberals and Students for Democratic Action.

"This regionalism," continued the incumbent candidate in the 21 A.D., "is a step more than nationalism and a step less than world federalism. It is a better plan than abolishing the veto in the U.N., because having Russia in the U.N. with a veto is more useful than a vetoless U.N. without Russia. Therefore, my advice to the youth of today is not Go West, but Go anywhere."

Commenting on his idea of regionalism, the Congressman concluded, "I am for such a plan instead of U.N. police operations."

When asked if the United States should take an active lead in the recognition of Communist China, Rep. Javits stated that we should not endeavor to recognize China until they are prepared to live up to their duties as a nation.

Rep. Javits has been elected to office twice previously by sizable majorities. He has consistently accepted the Republican nomination for a seemingly personal reason.

Mayoralty Candidates Declare Manhattanville Essential for College

Paul Ross

Grad Fete Scheduled

The College alumni will hold their seventieth reunion dinner tomorrow on the Starlight Roof of the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel. Highlighting the celebration will be the presentation of the third annual John H. Finley Award to Mrs. Helen R. Reid, publisher of the "New York Herald Tribune" and Arthur Hays Sulzberger, publisher of the "New York Times." The award is given annually for outstanding contributions to the welfare of New York City.

Main speaker will be Robert F. Wagner, Jr. Others to be heard include Jacob Schapiro, president of the College alumni; Dr. Harry N. Wright, President of the College, and Nat Holman.

Candidates' Views Stated in Reply To SC Letter

By Stella Stern

In a poll of the four mayoralty candidates, three agreed to the necessity of the purchase of Manhattanville and to the maintenance of an adequate budget for the Board of Higher Education.

They are Edward Corsi (Republican), Ferdinand Pecora (Democratic-Liberal), and Paul Ross (A.L.P.).

Initiated by Gerald Walpin '51, chairman of the Student Council Budget Committee, the poll was conducted by sending identical letters to each of the candidates, posing such questions as: "Do you favor the immediate purchase of Manhattanville . . . for City College?" and "As a member of next year's Board of Estimate will you endeavor to return to the City College expense budget all the already ready cut funds?"

Quick Reply

Four days after being queried, Paul Ross (A.L.P.) wrote, "If Manhattanville is the best available, my answer is yes. If better facilities are available, I would make it my business to acquire them."

He concluded, "the City Colleges are kept to minimum budgets . . . because the politicians who run for our city are . . . ignoramuses."

Mr. Corsi, replying ten days after receipt of the Walpin letter, said: "I have proposed that if the school construction program cannot be met out of the present capital budget, then we should cut back on other capital expenditures and

ACLU Talks At Gov-Law

The dispute over permitting Communists to teach in the University of California involved a struggle for power between the trustees and the teachers rather than a question of civil liberties, said Mr. George Soll, Associate Staff Counsel to the American Civil Liberties Union.

He stated this, yesterday, in an address before the Government and Law Society during which he outlined his personal beliefs and the ACLU's stand on outstanding issues affecting civil liberties. His conclusion was based on the fact that ninety percent of the faculty at the University had voted to bar Communists from teaching there.

Concerning the magazine, "Red Channels," he said it had printed the truth about the actors accused of Communist affiliation, but had neglected to include anti-Communist statements made by these same people.

Theatre Workshop to Stage British Psychological Thriller

If you should see persons strolling through the halls clad in British tweeds, and smoking thin, emaciated cigarettes, don't be surprised. These pseudo Englishmen, members of the Theatre Workshop, are putting themselves in the mood for their parts in the British thriller "Night Must Fall."

Theatre Workshop will present it on November 9, 10, 11, and 12 at The Pauline Edwards Theater.

The mock Britishers, who are in the cast of this epitome of psychological melodrama, include Egon "Dinky" Dumler, who plays the cold-blooded murderer, Julie Bovasso, playing the girl who loves him and Florence Oliansky, who plays his aged, wheelchair-ridden victim. Others in the cast are Joan Olinar, Zelda Bennett, Eleanor Kline, Radley Metzger and Don Costello.

The set for the living room of the victim's bungalow in Essex, England, was designed for Theater Workshop by Eldon Elder.

Overcoming many minor, but annoying, difficulties, T. W. is getting "Night Must Fall" into shape as opening night nears. One difficulty was finding Victorian furniture in New York City! Another difficulty was getting the invalid-victim's wheelchair to the theatre from the Bronx. A student with a convertible did the job.

Tickets for "Night Must Fall" are on sale in the rear of the main cafeteria at $.50 apiece for the nights of the 9 and 12, and $1.00 apiece on the 10 and 11.

Carnival Flavored in French

House Plan is insuring that the five finalists competing for Queen of this term's Carnival will be the most glamorous contenders yet!

When the lucky quintet is chosen November 18 at the

Rita Oksman

Carnival Dance, each girl will receive free of charge a complete modeling course (and not with clay) from the world famous Grace Downs Modeling Agency. And just in case they haven't "got a thing to wear," each finalist will appear at Carnival in an original gown created by Tina Leser, the noted dress designer, and shoes styled by "Mademoiselle."

Glamour at Carnival will also be emphasized in the form of Denise Darcel, the French movie star who acts and sings but has become famous for neither. Others top celebrities slated to appear include Hazel Scott, the brilliant jazz pianist, and Ralph Slatner, hypnotist extraordinary.

Starring in the Olsen and Johnson stage-comedy, "Pardon My French," Miss Darcel should feel right at home on Carnival night. The entire atmosphere will have a decided "French" flavor.

Taking the theme of 'An American in Paris,' the gala affair will occupy the first four floors of the Main Building and convert them into a replica of the Bohemian sector of Paris.

Picked to choose the five finalists from some hundred candidates at the dance will be the unholy trio of Mr. Joe Taffet (Economics), Prof. Stuyvesant Van Veen (Art) and Prof. Kenneth Clark (Psychology). Milt Luchan will try to raise his spirits by emceeing the dance, while Stu Lose and his band take care of the musical end.

The task of choosing the Carnival Queen will be left to two experts—Grace Downs herself and Chauncey Porter, official judge for the Miss America Beauty Contests in Atlantic City.

At midnight, Rita Oksman, last year's Queen will crown her successor.

Political Promises

Elections are near at hand, and when they're over next week we'll be digging ourselves out from under the deluge of campaign promises which the politicians have bombarded us with in recent days.

As citizens of the metropolitan community we have an interest in all facets of the present political spectacle. But as college students we have narrower, perhaps even vested, interests which much concern us in the coming election.

We are concerned with the purchase and improvement of Manhattanville; with the appropriation of funds for a new library building; with the budget cuts which in recent terms have caused the firing of scores of instructors and with the increase in overcrowded classrooms.

It was with these interests in mind that Gerald Walpin '52, sent letters to all the mayoralty candidates, asking them to state for publication by the student newspapers their attitudes on these vital issues.

What the politicians said in their replies amounted to an affirmation of the old aphorism, that "talk is cheap." Unanimously, they all but promised us to erect a new college. In fairness though, two of the four nominees exhibited at least some understanding of the problems confronting the city colleges. The two were Edward Corsi, the Republican candidate, and Paul Ross, his American Labor Party opponent.

Mr. Corsi, in his reply, stated that "the needs of education, particularly those for school construction, must somehow be met, and I have proposed that if the school construction program can not be met out of the present capital budget, then we should cut back on other capital expenditures and services so that the needs of education can be met."

Mr. Ross exhibited a similar understanding of the educational situation when he answered that "I believe that the City and State owe an obligation to its young people to give them the opportunity for higher education without costs in the same way that they furnish elementary and secondary education."

While the statements of Corsi and Ross are slightly vague, they are nevertheless more precise than the glittering generalities of both Judge Ferdinand Pecora and Acting Mayor Impellitteri. The latter two seem to favor education as they oppose sin. We somehow feel, from reading their statements that nothing beneficial to the College can be expected from them.

Only time will tell.

WSSF and Community Chest

At yesterday's meeting of the College's Committee on the World Student's Service Fund, the participants came to the conclusion that they would probably hold their drive some time within the next few weeks. To a stranger, this may seem like a pretty indefinite action. To those who have watched the progress of this Committee during the past month, however, the decision is the most decisive yet.

Not that this bogging down is the fault of the Committee members. Some have come through with excellent suggestions, like having photographs taken for a quarter or so in Lincoln Corridor. The profits would go to the WSSF.

One large stumbling block, however, is Alpha Phi Omega. It seems that this organization is planning to hold a Community Chest Drive this term. What APO wants is to have its drive take the place of all other charity drives at the College, and this, of course, would include the WSSF campaign. But the APO set up has not yet been approved by Student Council and there's a strong possibility that it may not be set up until next term. Despite this uncertainty, APO wants the WSSF drive to be dropped—just in case the Community Chest Fund is held this term. The joker, of course, is that the WSSF will receive no money at all from the College if the Community Chest Drive falls through.

It seems to us that APO is being a bit silly in this matter. It cannot ask any other charity drive to "hold up" its campaign unless it can show that its own plans for the Chest are practicable and will go into effect this term. This it has not been able to do, to the satisfaction of Student Council or anyone else outside of Alpha Phi Omega.

services so that the needs of education can be met." Continuing, he said he would support the "immediate purchase of Manhattanville."

Harry Kingsley, a representative for Acting Mayor Impellitteri (Experience), in a letter received sixteen days after the poll had commenced, pointed to the official record of Mr. Impellitteri as "factual evidence of his keen interest in all the City Colleges." He stated that the Acting Mayor had "pledged himself to deal equitably, with the most careful and conscientious application to all the problems presented by the Board of Higher Education."

Ferdinand Pecora (Dem-Lib.), whose written reply did not come in, could not be reached by telephone either. The Assistant Research Director of his Campaign Committee, Miss Burke, said that the Judge was "100% behind increasing the building facilities of the College by the purchase of Manhattanville as soon as the courts decide the final disposition of the subject."

In an interview with the All-City Committee for Reduced Fares for Students of the city colleges, Corsi also stated he favored an immediate reduced fare for such students.

Paul Ross has also told the committee that he is in favor of "a reduction in transit fare for students."

Although Judge Pecora, the Democratic candidate and Acting Mayor Impellitteri had been asked for their stand on this issue, no statement on the matter has yet been received by the committee.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor:

At the meeting of the SFCSA held on Tuesday, October 31st, the recent article concerning the suspension of Y.P.A. publicity privileges was discussed.

The SFCSA is composed of five faculty members. The committee promulgates each semester the existing regulations pertaining to student activities and revised by the committee from time to time. The Committee is not an investigating committee and therefore delegates the responsibility for the administration of its regulations to the Division of Student Activities, Department of Student Life. It is unjust, therefore, to criticize the SFCSA for singling out a group for penalization.

The Division of Student Activities does not have regulations at variance with the SFCSA. From time to time representatives from this division tour the campus to determine the extent of violations and letters are written to the groups that fail to conform to the existing regulations. Mr. Jesse Sobel of the Division of Student Activities has written approximately eighteen letters to date pointing out infractions of the regulations.

The Student Council Facilities Committee is in a position to cooperate with this Division by reporting to it any violations that come to their attention. It is not the purpose of the Division to indulge in a "witch-hunt" and I further state that all groups will be treated alike on the basis of the regulations.

In considering the suspension of publicity privileges for Y.P.A. it was brought out that this would work a hardship on the organization in view of the desire for publicity in the impending elections. The Committee decided, however, unanimously, that it would not be consistent with sound educational practices to allow a group to select the time in which it was to serve its penalty for violating existing regulations.

The two YPA representatives who appeared before the committee admitted two violations but denied the third. After due deliberation it was felt that there was substantial evidence on the matter of the third violation.

My purpose in writing this letter to you is to enable the student body to better understand the situation as it refers to the Committee's recent action.

Sincerely yours,
Dorothy Wells for
James S. Peace,
Associate Dean.

Beavers Engage Pro Champs In Main Gym Game at 3:30

By Eugene Blum

The 1950-51 edition of Nat Holman's national championship basketball team will go on display tomorrow for the first time, when they face the Scranton Miners, champions of the American Basketball League, before a crowd of Homecoming Day fans.

The Miners will bring a power-packed line-up to the College gym, including Dollie King, Irv Rothenberg, Vinnie Verdeschi, and Bob Kelly.

Alumni and others watching the Beavers for the first time this season will notice quite a few changes in the squad. Though four-fifths of last season's starting five and three of the first line subs have returned, there are a total of eight new men on the roster.

Reserves A Problem

With Ed Roman, Ed Warner, Floyd Layne, Al Roth, Ronnie Nadell, Herb Cohen, and Arnie Smith, Coach Holman and Assistant Coach Bobby Sand need have no worries about fielding a strong starting five. Indeed, unless the draft interferes, they are assured of a good starting team for the next two seasons as all of the above are juniors, with the exception of Nadell, who is in his last year.

However, the big question this year will be reserve strength. Whether the newcomers will be able to take up the slack when the veterans need a rest will be the big problem during the coming season.

Watch This Levitch

Foremost among those who are expected to aid the reserve strength is 6'5" Eddie Chenetz, the third "Big Ed" on the squad. Chenetz is considered by many the mystery man of the 1949-50 Beavers, as his face adorned the squad picture appearing in the Madison Squar Garden programs, but he failed to get into a game, being declared ineligible at the start of the season.

Coach Marguerite Wulfers' pert feminine hoopsters are currently in the midst of pre-season practice in preparation for their opening game against the Alumni on December 11.

One of the coach's chief tasks now is to select their best starting six. Co-captains Elaine Schwartz and Ann Ulnick, and veterans Barbara Allen, Rosemarie Greco, Consuela Stokes, Ann Oksman, Vera Greenwich, Jean Zemlowitz, and Roslyn Berkowitz form the nucleus of this year's squad.

Two other reserves who bear watching are transferees from other colleges. They are Sy Levitch from Duquesne, who traveled to Israel last month along with Roman, Roth and Cohen, and Jerry Gold, ex-L.I.U. star.

Look Out, Opposition

One of the "new" men on the court will actually be a returnee, Herb Holmstrom. The 6'1" senior from Gompers was a member of the varsity squad in the 1948-49 season.

Rounding out the roster of the Beavers are Suzie Cohen, a team mate of Roman, Warner, et al on the freshman squad of two years ago, and three bright new faces from last season's freshman aggregation, Moe Bragin, Ted Levine, and Harold Hill.

With the reserve strength the only important problem for the Beavers, the Miners and the opponents on the regular schedule are warned to look out for a quintet loaded with good height, lightning speed, and amazing court know-how.

Riflers Inaugurate Season Nov. 29

The Beaver Rifle team will open its schedule Nov. 29 against Cooper Union at the college.

Sergeant Carl Lehmyer, coach, has a mixture of veterans and newcomers at his command. Henry Brockhagen figures to be the team's top marksman. He is expected to shoot in the 280's consistently. Other shooters are Len Gollobin, Dick Goldberg, John Callahan, Sherwood Waldman, Howie Fiedler, Jerry Kaluski, and Bert Mayer.

Homecoming Day

Alma mater will welcome back 1,000 of its Sturdy Sons tomorrow, when St. Nicholas Heights becomes the scene of an all-day sports carnival to celebrate the College's third annual Alumni Athlete Homecoming Day.

For sheer number of performers, it will be the biggest day in the sports history of the College.

Starting at 11:00 a.m., when the fencing team meets its alumni, the College's former athletes will be entertained by every one of the 13 Beaver squads.

The only day on the school's sports schedule when every team sees action is to be climaxed by a night football game at Ebbets Field between the Beavers and Brooklyn College. That game is the only event of the day for which an admission fee is required.

The program's top attraction takes place at 3:30 in the Main Gym when the hoop squad clashes with the Scanton Miners. Another big game gets under way 2:00 at the Stadium when the Beaver soccer team faces Seton Hall.

Out at Van Cortlandt Park, the Bronx, the St. Nick barriers are scheduled to run against St. John's.

In other events, Coach Joe Sapor's wrestlers tangle with the freshman grapplers, and the tennis, lacrosse, boxing, and women's basketball teams will play intra-squad games.

Fencers Vie With Alumni On South Hall Strips

By Bill Wanek

In what may prove to be the most hotly-contested event of the gala Homecoming Day festivities tomorrow, the College's fencing team will meet the Alumni in South Hall at 11:00 A.M.

Although the complete line-up of the Alumni is not shown as yet, it is certain that they will have swordsmen of national prominence ready for combat. James Strauch, Danny Bukantz and Hugh Salsberg, all highly heralded fencers in their college days, will be seen in action. Bukantz was one of the best foilsmen ever to attend the College. He is the former National Foils Champion.

Montague Coaches

The varsity, coached once again by Prof. James Montague, has lost several outstanding men from last year's squad, which went through its regular intercollegiate schedule undefeated.

Gone are Co-Captains Francis

Kramer, 1949 Eastern Intercollegiate Foils Champion, and Eugene Natanblut, Junior Metropolitan Sabre Champion. Other sturdy swordsmen lost through graduation were Ken Bassner, Gene Bassin and Al Goldstein.

Strong Showing

With the opening of the season still more than two months away the team once again appears to be strong. The epee squad will consist of Captain Cliff Rober, Metropolitan Junior Epee Champion, and Vic Mordiano. Both are holdovers from last year.

The foilsmen will be Hal Goldsmith, who finished fourth in the Eastern Intercollegiate last March, and Bill Clarvitt, a transfer from Cornell. The third positions on the epee and foils squads are wide open at the moment. Irwin Ackerman will lead the sabre-

Maccabi Stars Earn Medals

Nine City College undergraduate and alumni athletes recently returned, laden with medals, from the World Maccabian Games in Israel.

Two of the gold award winners are former Lavender stars. Dr. Dan Bukantz '38 won the fencing crown in the unlimited division. Bukantz was National Foil Champion in 1949; Wittenberg won the 1948 Olympic light-heavy-weight competition.

Ed Roman, Herb Cohen, and Al Roth, all juniors, sparked the victorious U. S. court team, with Roman scoring 24 points in the final against Canada.

Don Spitzer, a senior, brought back a gold medal for his part in the one-mile relay triumph. Don, a member of the mile-relay teams that hold both the indoor and outdoor City College records, set the Lavender 440-yard mark of 0:50.2 last year.

Dave Lesky '48 was runner-up in the 174-pound wrestling competition, as was Jerry Steinberg '52 in the 191 class.

Bill Omeltchenko '50 took second place in the 1,500 and 800-meter races. Outstanding trackman at the College for four years, Bill is Metropolitan Junior one-mile outdoor champ.

Boxing Team in Intrasquad Bouts

Making one of their infrequent public appearances, the College's boxers will engage in intra-squad matches tomorrow in the Tech Gym at 11:00 A.M.

Justin Sirutis, who is beginning his seventeenth year as coach at the College recently said, "four of my boys should make the National Collegiate." They are Co-Captains Fred Watts, a heavyweight, and Ben Caiola, a welterweight, John Hess, a hard-punching middleweight and Howie Greenberg, a clever boxer who has no punch.

Matmen Wrestle Saturday at 1:30

The college wrestling team will hold an intra-squad workout tomorrow at 1:30 in the Tech Gym.

Coach Joe Sapor promises a full schedule of matches for the visiting alumni.

Jerry Steinberg, New York State light heavyweight champion, who recently returned from Israel, will partake in the featured match with Vita Pizzuro, 210-pound heavyweight.

Dick Meliken, New York State middleweight champ will wrestle the 145-pound Sam Shapiro in another standout match.

Steinberg's co-captain, Tom Woods, will wrestle an opponent yet to be named.

Tomorrow night at Ebbets Field the fiery feud between New York's football-playing diploma mills is renewed and the record books go for naught.

The Lavender footballers are bloody but unbowed. "The boys are up for this one," says head coach Irv Mondsheim. "They're bruised and battered, but they've improved with every game and now they're ready."

One year ago this month, the Allagarooters presented Joe King, impressario of the most collegiate hangout in New York, with a City College banner to add to the vast collection in his Rathskeller.

But King never nailed up the hallowed ensign.

The 'Rooters will hit the beer hall at 17th St. and Third Ave. at 12:45 A. M. Sunday morning, and this time, according to Herb Rosenblatt '52, chairman, the 'Rooters won't be denied.

less, Leo Morison, Al Matican, Pete Pizzarelli, and Sy Kalman have consistently been picking up ground in four-yard chunks in the last few games.

Should the inspired Beaver blockers mow down the defensive backfield more often tomorrow night most of the problems will be solved, and the College will have victory number ten in the twenty-two gameseries.

Once again, the offensive burden rests on Kalman's strong right arm. The Giles Place Gunner started his T-quarterback career at last year's transpontine tussle, playing one of his best games in the 7-7 tie.

Let's Go, City

Tomorrow night he'll have as receivers Matican and Pizzarelli from left halfback, Joe Mas, right half, and Peter Paull, Bob Douglas, Stan Carp, and Morty Ray at offensive ends.

The Lavender defense must be wary of Brooklyn's tricky single-wing. With its assortment of delayed bucks, reverses, and end sweeps, the Kingsmen's offense will give the College a busy night.

But if John Palesty, Morrison, and Marty Krisloff back up the line as they did against Susquehanna; if ends Irv Rzepnick, and Douglas, tackles Lou Banchemo and Harry Altman, guards Scher and Izzy Cohen, and halfbacks Mas and Pizzarelli fight for every inch as they did last week, Brooklyn shouldn't get too far.

Besides the ends, the offensive line tentatively lists Harry Altman and Sy Rapp at the tackles, Scher (if his knee holds up) or Bernie Stiefeld and Harry Stathos at guards, and Aaron Brownstein at center.

Allagaroo Together
For the first time in the Ebbets Field history of the City-Brooklyn football rivalry, the stands will be divided into rooting sections tomorrow night.

All seats south of the 50-yard line will be reserved for Lavender fans, according to Dr. Arthur Desgrey, assistant faculty manager of athletics.

Harriers to Meet St. John's Tomorrow; Redmen Rough

By Sheldon Podolsky

The College cross-country team will attempt to resume winning ways tomorrow in an encounter with a strong St. John's team at Van Cortlandt Park. The Homecoming Day event is scheduled for one o'clock.

N.Y.U. snapped the Beavers four meet winning streak last Tuesday, coming out on top of a 17-43 score.

St. Johns, though not nearly as potent as N.Y.U., nevertheless will be tough for the Beavers.

Lou Cascino, the Beavers' ace sophomore, turned in his best time of the young season against the Violets, but it was good only for fourth place, as the St. Nicks tasted their initial defeat. Cascino's time of 28:02 bettered his former low of 28:31, accomplished against Fordham, by close to thirty seconds.

Jumpin' Charley

The Beavers' Eugene Rocks, Al Gluckman and Donald Rosenberg arrived too late to make any difference in the score.

The track season is being looked forward to by the majority of Beaver track fans.

A victory in a class mile of the Penn Relays capped a successful season.

Charlie Fields, sophomore sprinter and jumper, twice broke the College's high jump record. His jump of 6'3" in a triangular meet with St. Johns and Wagner broke Vic Cohen's old record of 6'2", established in 1936.

Later in the season, Fields broke his own record with a leap of 6'3½" against Long Island Aggies.

In the Metropolitan Intercollegiate, the tall junior tied for first place with a jump of 6'2".

Champs Staf and Joe

Two other championship trackmen will return next season. Stafford Thompson, National Junior 400-meter champ, and Joe Grevious, Junior Metropolitan 880 champ, will try to bring the school further glory this coming year. Cascino, improving with every cross-country meet, will be relied on to do a major part of the distance running.

College athletes are usually home bred, but Moshe Mosston, a physical education transfer from Israel will be heard from before the season grows too old. Best known for his track and field prowess, Mosston is an all-around athlete. He is currently performing for the soccer team. The mustachioed sophomore threw the javelin 175 feet in the Israeli track and field championships.

Jake the Magnificent

Bill Omeltchenko, who placed second in the Metropolitan Intercollegiate mile, and Don Spitzer, were selected for the Israel Olympic team. Spitzer is eligible for competition this year.

The loss of Jake Stein, Bob Glass, Ed Laing and Omeltchenko will be felt. Stein was referred to as the one-man field team. Although he was master at none of his trades, Jake's efforts will not soon be forgotten.

Booters Face Toughest Test Tomorrow Against Seton Hall

By Ken Rosenberg

The College's soccer team will meet its toughest opponent of the season tomorrow, engaging an undefeated Seton Hall squad at the Stadium. A Beaver victory would be a major upset.

The Beavers again will have the services of Ude Nkoye. The hustling forward missed the last two games because of his engineering studies.

The Lavender has had a very successful season so far. Rothchild, who replaced Richard Havel as coach at the start of the season has done a splendid job.

The Beavers have a record of 3 wins, 1 loss and 2 ties. They downed the Alumni, 4-1, Columbia, 6-2, and Pratt, 3-2. Kings Point and Bridgeport were played to 1-1 ties. The Long Island Aggies handed the Beavers their only defeat by a score of 2-1.

The Beavers are now second in the Metropolitan Conference standings. Brooklyn, with an unbeaten team, leads the parade.

After the Seton Hall game, the Beavers will have only four games left of their record eleven game schedule. Brooklyn, Stevens, Rutgers, and Queens will be their remaining opponents.

The freshman team will play the Queens frosh Tuesday at 2:00 at Lewisohn Stadium.

Swimming Team Is Still Beached

Although the College will be a beehive of activity tomorrow, the Beaver swimmers must remain idle. Due to repair work being done on the pool, Coach Jack Rider's mermen will be deprived of participation in Homecoming Day festivities.

"Even though the other colleges have been training for several weeks, the team will not be handicapped too severely," says Rider, "because most of the boys have been working out on their own, either at other colleges or at the pool at the Commerce Center."

This year's team is composed of about an equal number of ex-frosh and lettermen. Among the returnees are Captain Joe Browdy, a 220 and 440 man, diver Milt Baltas, Howie Singer, Ralph Young, and Steve Berger. Some new faces on the team will belong to boys like Sid Schwager, Normie Klein, and Artie Silverberg.
