Student Council Elections Tomorrow; Newspaper Merger Question on Ballot

By Aida Mason

Students will vote on the question of the Campus-Observation Post merger, for the third time in the history of the College, as part of tomorrow's Student Council elections.

This semester's referendum for merger was originally to have been held at the beginning of November. However, it was postponed until tomorrow as a result of a request to Student Council by the editors of both newspapers.

The reason for this postponement was that the editors felt they could work out a trial merger issue without any unnecessary pressure from Student Council. Plans for a trial paper were set up, but did not materialize after the OP staff voted against a trial run.

As a result, tomorrow's referendum will settle the issue. The referendum consists of two questions:

1. Are you in favor of the merger of Campus and Observation Post into one newspaper?
2. If there is such a merger, how many times a week would you be in favor of having this paper published?

The second question anticipates that there will be enough money allotted to the newspaper for several publications per week.

OP Editor Suspended For Failure to Sweep

Herman Cohen '53, Editor-in-Chief of the Observation Post, was suspended from the paper for one week this Monday by Managing Editor Walter Porges '53. Cohen had failed to sweep the OP office on his assigned date.

However, Cohen was permitted to work at the OP printer on Tuesday. He stated, "perhaps if I do some extra work I'll be able to get back in the good graces of the staff."

College to Collect Clothes for Korea

The College has been asked to contribute to a drive for the collection of clothes for Korean civilians.

ROTC students have been contributing all week to a campaign co-sponsored by the Pershing Rifles and the Webb Patrol, honorary societies of ROTC.

On Monday and Tuesday, December 17 and 18, the Christian Association and Pick and Shovel will collect the needed garments in Lincoln Corridor.

With another hard winter expected in Korea, all students are urged by the participating organizations to contribute old and discarded clothes.

The drive ends Friday, December 14.

Contenders for Top SC Post

By Walter Gray

With all but two of the major candidates backed by slates, tomorrow's Student Council elections will see Irwin Schiffres '52, Gary Schlessinger '54, and Gerald Walpin '52, contending for the position of president.

Ballots will be distributed in all classrooms at 11 by Alpha Phi Omega. Voting will also take place in the Cafeteria, Lincoln Corridor and Army Hall.

Students will be permitted to vote only upon presentation of the stub marked "Student Council Election" from their Activities Card.

Schiffres, who last term lost the presidency to Walpin by 43 votes, leads the "Prospice" slate and decries what he terms "the irresponsible way in which the present administration has been running Student Council."

Schlessinger, this term's Secretary, who is running on the "Quo Vadis" slate, has declared that "Walpin has alienated a large part of Student Council by continually fighting over useless points of order." Schlessinger's platform calls for the elimination of outside politics from Council meetings.

Walpin, who once again heads the "Student Needs" slate, on which he was elected last semester, has said that "the issue in this election is whether Student Council shall continue working for the students or shall return to being a do-nothing group just talking about outside politics. I am running on the record of an efficient, courageous and working Council."

Running for Vice-President are Leonard Lederman '53 (Prospice) and Henry Krisch '52 (Student Needs).

In the race for Secretary, the competition is between Leo Bodner '53, Raymond Hamilton '54 (Student Needs) and Phyllis Schwab '54.

Fred Boretz '54 (Prospice) and Harry Pollak '54 (Quo Vadis) are candidates for Treasurer of Student Council.

In the Senior Class, Martin Dubin, Richard Fields, Mark Maged and Stanley Ross are contending for the position of President.

Two UBE Posts Open; Apply Now

Applications are being accepted for the positions of manager and assistant manager of the Used Book Exchange. The salaries are $150 and $75 respectively for the entire semester's work.

Applications must include the student's name, address, class, and all qualifications or experience which are pertinent to the positions. Address all letters to Cecilia Kopito c/o Student Council Mailbox, Room 20. The deadline for applications is December 19.

Statements of Presidential Candidates

Irwin Schiffres

I am proud to be at the head of the PROSPICE slate this term—the slate which three terms ago first started Council "looking to the future." A lot of the gains that Council made when I was Secretary and Vice-President have been lost this term by the irresponsible statements and actions of the Council leadership, including my two opponents. Student Council has lost the respect of the students, the faculty, and the administration.

Council's record this term is a very blank one, due in large measure to the arbitrary manner in which the incumbent has tried to rule Council. Next term, we of PROSPICE would like to see:

1. Greater student control over athletics.
2. A liberalization of student loans.
3. An all-day conference at which students could present their gripes against Council and their ideas for improving student government.

Gary Schlessinger

QUO VADIS means "where are you going? That is the question you decide tomorrow at the polls. Are you going back to the days when SC was a political debating society or are you continuing with a SC that is so disorderly as to be a joke?"

If you elect GARY SCHLESSINGER and the members of the QUO VADIS slate you will be going towards a SC which will sincerely serve the student body. Next term we wish to accomplish the following:

1. No outside political matters in SC.
2. A big brother system for freshmen.
3. Coat hooks in classrooms and fixing of shower facilities.
4. Channel all money possible to Camp Marion Fund.
5. Lobbying for a greater budget and money for our sports program.

For real service to the student body, elect GARY SCHLESSINGER and vote "QUO VADIS"!

Gerald Walpin

There is one overall issue in this election: Has this term's Student Council been a successful one? I am running for re-election because I believe the answer to be "yes".

Student Council has worked on and completed a large number of projects this term. Here is a partial list:

1. A full social functions program presenting five free gala dances and an excellent movie every week.
2. The sale-at-cost of sample final exams in almost all courses.
3. A new and enlarged freshman advisory program.
4. Student pressure to keep a full College appropriation in the NYC budget.
5. An alumni job placement panel system to help seniors find jobs.

At the same time, Student Council was never afraid to stand up for its beliefs against the pressure of either the administration or selfish minority student pressure groups.

'Fact Sheet' About ROTC Designed to Help Frosh

A "fact sheet" indicating disadvantages as well as advantages of the College's Military Science course will be distributed at freshman registration beginning next semester.

This is one of the changes in registration resulting from "high pressure" recruiting charges levelled against the Reserve Officers Training Corps earlier this term. The other provision is for a member of the Veterans' Counseling Service to be present at registration. Up to the present time, only members of the ROTC have been counseling students.

The "fact sheet," which will be

Parents Take 'Get-Friendly' College Tour

Four hundred parents of lower freshmen visited the College as part of the Department of Student Life's first "get-acquainted" session held last Sunday afternoon.

After hearing speeches in the Great Hall by Dean Daniel Brophy (Student Life), Dr. Louis Long (Director of Testing and Guidance), and Dean James S. Peace (Student Life), the parents were afforded the opportunity of a question-and-answer period about the college.

Some of the issues discussed were the basketball situation, the Paul Robeson case, registration, and curriculum.

Tomorrow's Elections

Ten students are competing for the major Student Council positions. A few arouse our enthusiasm, and several others are so neutral in attitude and ability that they bring forth no reaction at all.

Of the three competing for the position of SC president only one has shown any of the qualities of leadership and ability needed for the office. During his tenure this semester Gerald Walpin has demonstrated a willingness to state and defend the convictions which he believes are representative of student opinion.

There are two names on the ballot for vice-president. No student need have a doubt in choosing the first—Henry Krisch. Krisch is certainly one of the most competent candidates on the entire list.

Our support for Henry Krisch is unqualified. If Ray Hamilton were not running for SC Secretary students would find themselves in an unpleasant predicament. There would be no one to vote for in this office.

There are two candidates for the office of Student Council Treasurer. The Campus endorses Fred Boretz for the position.

The senior class president is important not only to his class as a leader but to the entire school as a member of the all-important Student Faculty Committee on Student Affairs. Mark Maged has all the qualifications necessary to do an outstanding job in both capacities.

Tomorrow students will vote for more than SC officers when they express their opinion on the controversial issue of a merger of The Campus and Observation Post.

During the course of the present semester, we have extensively re-examined the benefits and disadvantages of a merged newspaper. After considerable thought, we have concluded that a merged newspaper will be a boon for all parties concerned.

blocked the path to merger.

On the whole, the response of OP's editors was encouraging. But at the crucial moment the staff of Observation Post vetoed continuation of the probing conferences and opposed a proposal to issue a merged newspaper for two weeks during this semester as a trial effort.

We ask the student body to vote FOR a merged newspaper. But we point with great emphasis to the fact that a merged newspaper will benefit no one unless it is issued AT LEAST THREE TIMES WEEKLY.

Above all we wish to remind the student members of the College community that a good citizen exercises his electoral prerogative. Vote for whom and for what you wish—but VOTE.

Martin Dubin

The Senior Class must have a vigorous social and job-finding program. I am the man to do the job if the job is to be done well.

That I am capable and qualified to hold office is testified to by the fact that I have been elected to every honor and recognition society on campus and that TIIC, the Engineers Organization, wholeheartedly endorses me.

The record indicates that Martin Dubin is an active and able administrator and ardent proponent of academic freedom and that he is interested in service to the Class. VOTE DUBIN FOR PRESIDENT OF 1952.

Statements of the Candidates

Vice President

Henry Krisch

Do you want a Student Council that is alert to the students' needs? This semester, Council's committees have come up with solutions to the conflict over "high-pressure" in the ROTC, curricular revision, adoption of the NSA Student Bill of Rights and the course-instructor critique.

As a member of the SFCSA, I will carry out the position I have advocated in Council and in the editorials of OP. We must maintain academic freedom in its full measure, but it must be done with faculty cooperation.

Leonard Lederman

The V.P. has two major functions: he has the responsibility of co-ordinating and fostering the work of committees; and he has an all-important seat on SFCSA. That I can do the former, my qualifications and statement in OP are adequate testimony.

So vote for Lenny Lederman, and to vote the right way vote Prospice.

Secretary

Leo Bodner

The Student Council Secretary records the minutes and handles the correspondence of Student Council. In addition to being a voting member of SC, he serves on the Executive Committee and on the Student Faculty Advisory Council.

As Secretary I intend to cooperate with the Public Relations Committee to publicize the events of SC. Elections should be publicized well in advance so that everyone who wishes to run will know exactly where and when to obtain his petition.

I very strongly urge every one of you to express interest in your student government by voting tomorrow.

Ray Hamilton

The position of Secretary of Student Council is one of great responsibility. I feel that I have shown myself capable of this office in all positions I have held.

As Secretary of the Summer Session SC and Secretary Acting of Student Council I gained experience which will enable me to carry out my duties successfully. Don't forget. Vote RAY HAMILTON for SC Secretary.

Phyllis Schwab

You students pay a good deal for the up-keep of Student Council, you're entitled to get something besides long-winded orations—even if they happen to be by good orators.

Our school has been justifiably proud of its record on the academic freedom and student self government issue, and what has Student Council done? This term it has sent and come near to sending more nasty letters to certain members of the faculty who, incidentally, have been instrumental in giving YOU a voice in the running of the school.

Treasurer

Fred Boretz

PROSPICE means "to the future" and the students should think of the future when they vote for Student Council Treasurer. The future looks bright for the more than seventy organizations which will be applying for fee funds next semester.

My semester on this committee as well as my year on Student Council Fee Committee has taught me a great deal about the working of Fee Plan; the most important part of the SC Treasurer's job involves working on the fee committees.

Harry Pollak

Why am I running for SC Treasurer? I am running because I feel that my experience in student government and my accomplishments amply qualify me for the job. I have been a member of Student Council for three full terms, starting with my lower freshman term, and represented the College at the last National Student Congress.

Senior Class President

Dick Fields

We shall begin our last term of College shortly. Years from now we shall want to remember more than just registration, finals and the steady grind. It is possible for our Senior term to be filled with many more activities than ordinarily take place in the Spring.

The Senior President serves on many committees and devotes much time to details many of us tend to overlook. As chairman of Class Night and a member of other organizations, I have met and worked with most of the people who are sincerely interested in our class.

I ask you to vote for US—both YOU and ME.

I will try to make our senior term as successful and memorable as we all want it to be.

Mark Maged

I have never before run for political office.

Hence, I don't know if I can promise as many things as the next person. But I can offer a wealth of the administrative experience which is so necessary for the senior presidency, plus a program which encompasses all the graduating seniors' needs.

In the way of experience, I have served two terms as editor-in-chief of The Campus whose staff numbers approximately eighty.

My program? In addition to the Farewell Ball, and the traditional Numerals festivities, I and the "Senior Service" slate intend to work for improvement of the job-placement bureau, revision of the curriculum, and use of graduating seniors in an expanded Frosh Advisory Committee.

Stanley Ross

It is my belief that there has been too much emphasis placed on the Senior Class President's position on the Student Faculty Committee. The point to be remembered is one which too many observers overlook, namely that the President's MAIN duty is to serve his class. I aim to provide the Class with the traditionally sponsored functions of the graduating class, as well as other, interesting events in which all Seniors may participate.

prepared by the Military Science Department and the Veterans' Counseling Service, will contain information on draft deferments, and opportunities for commissions in the armed forces, as well as the advisability of joining the ROTC. Colonel Malcolm Kammerer (Chairman, Military Science) said of this revision, "This is a satisfactory innovation as far as ROTC is concerned. It is just and probably could have been arrived at without all the trouble that has gone into it."

Apology

In the December 6, 1951 issue of The Campus an article on Prof. Isaac Berkson (Education) mistakenly implied that the professor thought American capitalism would eventually decay. Actually, it was a student of Professor Berkson, Marvin Sandler '52, who held this view, not the professor.—The Editor.

Cagers Meet Mitchell Field In Main Gym Saturday

Frosh-Jasper Tilt Opening Attraction

By Dan Kahn

Smarting from the trouncing handed them by St. Joseph's, the College's basketball team, still seeking a cohesive combination, plays host to Mitchell Field Air Base Saturday night in the Main Gym. The Lavender freshmen meet Manhattan's frosh in the opening game, starting at 7.

Unable to field a satisfying team, Coach Nat Holman's starting lineup will remain a mystery until game time. It will probably consist of Captain Jerry Domerschick, Bob Logan, center Dick Watson, tallest men on the squad at 6'7", Suzie Cohen and Jerry Gold. Not yet fully recovered from an injured ankle, 6'4" Marty Gurkin is a doubtful starter but will see some action.

Flyers Experienced

The Mitchell Field hoopsters are short on height but long on experience. They are undefeated in five Northeastern Conference contests—the conference consisting of service teams within an area of 600 miles—but dropped an exhibition game to Hofstra, 56-50. The Flying Dutchmen may prove to be one of the basketball "sleepers" in the Metropolitan area.

The Flyers' attack is centered around 6'2" Dick Wagner and Charles Jessup, also 6'2". High-scorer Wagner, who jumps center, is a three year veteran for the Flyers, and led them to the Conference title two years ago. The playmaking is handled by 5'11" Bob Scott. Don Meneely and either Bob Nording or Harvey Reichenberg round out the starting five.

Lose First

St. Joseph's of Philadelphia proved to be very uncourteous hosts Saturday night, handing the Beavers a 66-45 beating. Suzie Cohen paced the Lavender with 15 points, followed by Jerry Gold, who netted 7. The Lavender styled its offense around Watson, attempting to feed the ball to him in the pivot, but were unsuccessful. Cohen's 15 points came on five field goals and five fouls. All but one free throw coming in the second half. Jim Desmond and John Doogan led St. Joe's with 16 and 15 points, respectively.

Matmen Face Mariners Tomorrow at Kings Pt.

By Morty Sheinman

The College's wrestlers will make the Kings Point Merchant Marine Academy their next port of call, meeting the Mariners tomorrow night. Although they were swamped by Hofstra, 29 to 2, last Saturday, the Beavers should come through with a much better effort against Kings Point.

Only four men from the Mariner team that compiled a 4-2-1 record last season have returned. They are Ted Dawson, 167-pound captain of the squad, 130-pound Steve Rathkopf, 137-pound George Evanovich, and heavyweight Bill Stocking. Dawson, Rathkopf, and Evanovich each won five out of their seven matches last season. Stocking had a record of 2-2-1.

Mariner Coach Clem Stralka tabbed 147-pound Steve Farris as "the best of the newcomers." Stralka, who also coaches football at the Academy and who once starred as a lineman for the Washington Redskins, added that Farris should "do pretty well."

According to their coach, the grapplers have been hampered by gridiron activities "I'm not too happy with our prospects," Stralka said, "but we'll hold our own. The lack of practice time before the season started has hurt our team."

Last Saturday, the Lavender tried to halt a 12-meet winning streak that Hofstra had amassed but only succeeded in being victim No. 13. The Dutchmen, who boast one of the best wrestling teams in the nation, won every match but one. 167-pound Jim Farlekas, managing to draw with Hofstra's Dick Kranzier to score the Beavers' only points.

Aquamen Face Jaspers Today in Hygiene Pool; Trounce Brooklyn Poly

The College's power-laden swimming team will try for its second victory of the season today meeting Manhattan in the Hygiene pool. Meet time is 3 and admission is free.

Previous clockings for both teams indicate a close struggle. Both the Jaspers and the Beavers won easily in their opening meets with the Manhattan times slightly better than the College's. Manhattan bested Brooklyn College 52-32, while the Lavender floated to a 53-31 victory over Brooklyn Poly Tech.

Riflemen Aim For Rutgers In Next Meet

Victorious in three previous matches, the Beaver nimrods will receive their first stern test of the season tomorrow afternoon as they attempt to keep their unblemished record intact against a strong Rutgers squad at the Scarlet's New Brunswick, N. J., range.

Last season the Lavender eked out a 1390-1382 triumph over Rutgers. However, in the final Metropolitan-New Jersey Conference standings, the Beavers finished fourth, while the Scarlet annexed second place.

Columbia University became the nimrods' third 1951 victim as Alan Moss paced the Beavers to a 1397-1331 victory over the Lions last Friday at the Lewisohn Stadium range.

Moss, who has garnered individual scoring honors in all of the Beaver matches this season, eclipsed his previous efforts, firing 285.

The Manhattan time advantage stems from the fact that at no time was Coach Rider's crew extending itself. The Lavender enjoyed such a huge lead, 53-24, before the final event that Rider conceding the 400-yard freestyle relay inserted his scrubs.

No Advance Sale

The advance sale for tickets to home basketball games has been discontinued, announced Harold "Chippy" Spohr, of the AA Office. The new ruling will go into effect starting with the Mitchell Field game, this Saturday night.

Those students who have AA cards may purchase their tickets at the gate at the usual reduced rate of $.60. Others may buy their ducats at the gate also, at the familiar prices of $1.20 for general admission seats and $1.80 for reserved seats.

Campus-Allagarooter Contest

Here it is! Your chance to out-guess the experts and win an award for doing it. The prizes are two tickets to the Beaver-Fort Dix basketball game next Saturday, and your choice of any "slim jim" tie featured by George Pakradonian, proprietor of the Army Hall Haberdashery.

Coupons for the Allagarooter-sponsored contest will be honored until five tomorrow.

Write your guess for the Beaver-Mitchell Field game in the allotted space accompanied by your name and address. Only one coupon to each participant.
