Student Council Condemns SFCSA Action in Barring Robeson From Great Hall

Student Council vigorously condemned the action of the Student Faculty Committee on Student Activities last Friday in refusing to allow Paul Robeson to speak in the Great Hall.

By a vote of 28-4, with two abstentions, SC expressed "extreme disapproval of the committee's action, terming it "an abridgement of academic freedom."

At its meeting Friday afternoon, the SFCSA, voting 6-3-1, approved a motion stating that "the use of the Great Hall should not be extended to the Young Progressives of America for the appearance of Mr. Paul Robeson."

Mr. Robeson was asked to speak at the College Thursday, January 10 from 12-2. The invitation was extended by the Young Progressives of America and the Non-partisan Student Committee to Call Upon Paul Robeson.

A ruling of the Board of Higher Education requires that at least two student organizations sponsor any individual wishing to use the Great Hall. In addition, Student Council and the SFCSA must agree to co-sponsor the event.

Viewing the action as "an assault upon academic freedom," Student Council President Gerald Walpin '52 stated, "College facilities are open to all student organizations on campus. Yet the Student Faculty Committee on Student Activities has seen fit to deny the Young Progressives of America the right to use the Great Hall. Although I disagree with the views of YPA, I must also disagree with the stand taken by the SFCSA."

Lisle Greenidge, '53, co-chairman of the Non-partisan Committee to Call Upon Paul Robeson,

Refuses to Co-Sponsor

Dean James Peace stated, "The action of the SFCSA completely destroys the democratic principles upon which City College was founded."

Dean James Peace (Student Life) stated, "I will not co-sponsor Robeson's appearance."

Men, Women 'n Profs Vie in 'Ugly' Contest

Gruesome girls, grisly males and hideous faculty members can now submit their faces for consideration in APO's "Ugly Man Contest."

Ballots, in the form of pennies, will be cast in jars labeled with the names of grisly contestants. Proceeds from the jars, located in Lincoln Corridor, will go to the Cerebral Palsy Fund.

Whoever collects the most money will be proclaimed winner(?) and awarded an equally ugly "Hating Cup."

Deadline for bringing entries to 20 Main is November 28. Remember, if you can't qualify, you can now enter your girlfriend's picture.

Ralph Bunche Rejects Offer For Presidency of College

By Edward Swietnicki

Dr. Ralph Bunche, head of the United Nations Division on Trusteeship, has declined an offer to become the next president of the College.

Dr. Bunche was quoted as refusing the position because of "present commitments to the United Nations" in a page one article in this week's issue of the "Pittsburgh-Courier".

The article disclosed that Dr. Bunche was offered the position by the College's Board of Trustees. It promised to keep the post open for him until October, 1952, if he would accept.

Pres. Harry N. Wright is scheduled to retire August 31, 1952.

Dr. Bunche's statement that he was offered the position was made Wednesday from Paris, where he is now attending the sixth meeting of the General Assembly.

Petition of Faculty Is Not Conclusive

Faculty support of Dean Morton Gottschall (Liberal Arts) as the successor to Pres. Harry N. Wright is not as strong as the recent petition signed by over one hundred members of the faculty seems to indicate. Four of the signers, in fact, said that they favored Dr. Ralph Bunche.

This was learned in interviews with more than forty signers of the petition.

Prof. Oscar Buckvar (Government) emphasized that when he signed the petition he did not exclude other possible choices. He said, "I prefer Dr. Bunche as the next president of City College. His diplomatic experience and scholarship would make this UN member

Sentencing of Five Postponed To Monday After Sixth Delay

The sentencing of the College's five suspended basketball players has been postponed for the sixth time. Scheduled by the Court of General Sessions for yesterday, the sentencing has now been set for Monday. No official reason was given for this action.

Although the sentencing appeared on the calendar of the Court of General Sessions, not one of the former athletes received official announcements or news of the changes. Al Roth and Herb Cohen received the news of the postponements from their lawyers. Ed Warner, Ed Roman and Floyd Layne received no call from their lawyer's office, Fire Commissioner Jacob Grumet.

Student reaction towards the "delaying tactics" of the District Attorney's office was that of general disgust and impatience.

"If the issue isn't solved soon, it will be too late for the players to ask re-admittance for next semester. In all fairness to them, they should be allowed to have the right to plan their future," commented by Sy Richman '52.

"I feel sorry for the fellows. It's callous and unfair to them and to the people who are interested in their welfare. I don't know the reasons for the postponements but they had better be good," said Bernie Triestler '54.

Another student said, "at this rate, the boys will never be able to re-enter this school."

Use of NIF Funds for Staff Pay Termed Beneficial by Pres. Wright

By Julian Jaffe

Stand on NIF

Pres. Harry N. Wright defended the use of non-instructional fee funds for supplementary salaries at a meeting yesterday of Student Council leaders and members of the College administration.

Students Benefit

"Supplements are given," President Wright explained, "for the efficient running of the College. The student body is reaping the benefits of these salary boosts, since many staff members would have left for better paying jobs in private organizations if salary supplements had not been provided."

The President pointed out that departments such as Student Life and the Architectural Office owe their origin to the non-instructional-fee funds. "I agree that these

Pres. Harry N. Wright departments should be supported by tax money but we had to use that idea, because there was no tax money forthcoming."

No Padding

Gerald Walpin '52, SC President, asked President Wright whether there would be a restoration of the recent 75 per cent cut in student aides. The President replied that "some of the student aides' jobs will be restored but that the problem must be given further study." He also stressed the point that student aid is designed to get service for the College and not to help needy students.

President Wright objected strongly to the handling of the news by the Observation Post and said that the charges of "salary padding" were pure "sensationalism" with no factual basis.

$100,000 for Repairs

Water leakage ruined many valuable books and periodicals kept in storage in the Library Building and has damaged many classrooms in the Main Building. The leakage is costing the College over $100,000 for repairs.

Because of the conversion of the College's electricity from D.C. to A.C., the Consolidated Edison Company has had to rip up the paving on St. Nicholas Terrace. After every heavy rain there was a water seepage into a steam tunnel connecting the Library and Main Buildings.

Last month, a two foot flood of water ruined 30 cartons of books and 15 volumes of periodicals stored in the sub-basement of the Library Building.

Damage to Main Building classrooms caused by rain leaking through the roof and seeping down walls is causing the College to put a new roof on the building. The reroofing will be completed next March at a cost of $104,000.

What Might Have Been

The information that Dr. Ralph Bunche has been offered the presidency of the College comes as no great surprise to The Campus, which carried a story to that effect two weeks ago. We are disheartened, however, by the fact that Dr. Bunche has seen fit to turn down the proposal. A man of his qualifications would have undoubtedly made an excellent and outstanding choice as successor to Pres. Harry N. Wright. Dr. Bunche's reasons for declining, however, in themselves show how capable a leader he would have made at the College. He has turned us down for the sake of the United Nations, an organization for which he has already accomplished so much. But he has not only turned down a College presidency, which some might say, in comparison, lacked enough prestige. He also refused the position of Assistant Secretary of State that was offered him by President Truman.

We can only sigh a bit regretfully and hope that the next person selected by the College's Board of Trustees has the same high standard of qualifications and that he, unlike Dr. Bunche, has not dedicated his life to another cause.

The Robeson Incident

Why Mr. Paul Robeson has been denied the use of the Great Hall raises a disturbing question. Was it, as one faculty member maintained, that the SFCSA feared that Mr. Robeson would not draw a large enough audience? We hardly think so. Nor do we think that Mr. Robeson is not of sufficient stature or importance to justify his appearance.

Why Mr. Robeson was turned down still is not clear, although we have our own opinions. We are certain, however, that the choice of who shall appear in the Great Hall should not, in the final analysis, be left up to the SFCSA. We believe that Student Council should be empowered to override such decisions of the SFCSA by a two-thirds vote. Only through such a method can the problem of who can be heard in the Great Hall be placed where it belongs—in the hands of the students themselves.

Soccer Success

After last Saturday's victory over Brooklyn College, congratulations are in order to Werner Rothschild and his Beaver Booters. From all angles the Brooklyn game was the big one. This was the game the boys were pointing to from the opening practice session. This was a "must" game and they won it.

We feel that an added compliment should be given to Coach Rothschild. Never before has there been such a close relationship between players and coach than the one that exists this season. Rothschild not only gives the orders but treats his athletes like human beings. In this respect many coaches could take a lesson from him. The boys respect him and it could easily be said that Saturday's victory was their way of telling him thanks for a job well done.

A LIL' OL' COMPLAINT

... Mr. Flaster, I still can't find a seat in your Cafeteria when I buy my 95c lunch every day. Not having learned that time-consuming game of bridge, I find that I'm not wanted at most of the tables. I should think—and I hope that you agree with me—that one's adeptness in bridge-playing should not be the prime factor in his locating a seat in the Cafeteria... while I have been able to locate the Theatre Workshop table, the various House Plan tables, the bridge-playing tables and other tables belonging to other organizations too numerous to mention, I am still, as yet, unable to locate the table on which one is supposed to eat (pardon the word)... of course I go under the assumption that there is such a table in existence in the Cafeteria...

HASTA LA VISTA Bill Feigen... a wonderful guy to know... a wonderful editor of "Main Events"... best of luck to Gloria B. Schild who steps into his shoes. They may be a bit big at first, but I'm certain she'll take her first few steps comfortably in a very short time...

THE COLLEGE went "sea-ward" last Sunday evening, the night of Theater workshop's benefit performance of "The Skin of Our Teeth" for the World Student Service Fund... armed to the teeth with overcoats and mufflers, twenty-two Cityites boarded the Staten Island Ferry (still only a nickel) and took control of the upper forward deck in the name of The College and the Young Pidookies of America. Frightened onlookers in the ferry's waiting room were soon put to ease when the treasurer of Student Council (whose name I wouldn't mention because she doesn't want anyone to know about her connection with the incident) and yours truly did a dance (or a reasonable facsimile of) to the tune of "Give Me That Old Time Religion."

Sy Richman, president of the Senior Class, fascinated the onlookers further with an original version of the "Hokey Pokey". He was quite adept.

Russian Atomic Explosions Detected by Seismograph

By Phyllis Prager

The City College Seismograph has in all probability recorded the recent atomic explosions behind the Iron Curtain, according to reliable sources.

Prof. Daniel T. O'Connell (Chairman, Geology) intimated that the seismograph had recorded the explosion of the first Russian atom bomb in August, 1949, but would not commit himself definitely on this point, since the State Department has never released the exact date of the blast. The second explosion was not recorded, but the third one was.

Professor O'Connell described the seismograph station as being "remarkably efficient in proportion to the equipment that we have and the amount of money that has been put into it."

The seismograph, reputedly one of the top five in the nation, is located in the basement of Finley Hall. It magnifies the vibrations of the earth from two to three thousand times. A record of these vibrations is sent to Washington for comparison with other reports from all parts of the country and then returned to the College.

Professor O'Connell, however, stressed the fact that the Government uses these records "purely as a scientific project to determine the time and locality of earthquakes."

Ten other professors maintained that Dean Gottschall is the only person qualified for the position. Prof. Marcus Zemanisky (Physcis) said, "Dean Gottschall's connection with City College and his knowledge of the problems of the school qualify him best for the position of Wright's successor".

The views of the other professors ranged considerably.

Shriek of Pidookie Resounds Tonight

Some two hundred collegiate-starved "Pidookies" will fight their way into the Faculty Lounge fifth floor, Main Building, tonight at 8:30 to partake in the first "revival" meeting of the term.

"We have invited stars of stage, screen, radio, and television. All faculty members of any importance will also be present," he said.

Started last semester, mainly through the efforts of former Big Brother Gabe Gelb '51, the Pidookies have developed into the College's chief collegiate organization.

Editor of 'Main Events' Resigns; Co-ed Named

Bill Feigen, editor-in-chief of "Main Events," resigned Tuesday night because his work on the paper was too time-consuming. Gloria B. Schild filled the vacant position.

Naomi Rey, Ivan Lyon-Plescow, Seymour Schmutter, Ted Rifkin, Rosalyn Yagar, and Sonya Kokatoss are cast in lead roles.

Tickets for "Light up the Sky" cost $1.00 and $1.20. A special performance for the benefit of United Jewish Appeal will be given on Dec. 17.

Lou Cascino Hits 27:58

Rosenberg, Marcal And Greivous Star

By Herb Sternfeld

Surpassing his previous efforts with a second-place clocking of 27:58, co-captain Lou Cascino paced the Beaver harriers for the fifteenth successive meet yesterday as the Lavender succumbed to heavily-favored Rutgers, 22 to 33, at Van Cortlandt Park. Scarlet junior Ted Glassford garnered individual honors in 27:12.8.

The setback, which ended the Beaver's dual-meet campaign, was the Lavender's third in six outings. Rutgers possesses a 3-3 record.

Besides Cascino, who was the first Beaver to eclipse the 28:00 mark since Vinnie Porter turned the trick in 1948, four other Beaver scorers—Joe Marcal, sixth, Gene Rocks, seventh, Don Rosenberg, eighth, and Joe Greivous, ninth, traversed the five-mile course in the fastest times of their careers.

Glassford Romps

Marcal hit the tape at 28:40; Rocks in 29:09; Rosenberg in 29:16, and Greivous in 29:32.

Glassford, who registered a blistering three-mile time of 16:21, had a 200-yard lead when he crossed the finish line.

Cascino, who occupied second-place from the outset of the race, turned in a three-mile time of 16:34—his fastest in two years of varsity competition.

The slender junior came home good 60 yards ahead of Rutgers' Allan Illig, who reported third in 28:09.

Beavers Win

A pair of Illig's teammates—Bruce Freeman and George Boyle—captured the all-important fourth positions in 28:19 and 28:21, respectively.

With Lou Cascino showing the way in the pace-setting time of 28:11, the Beavers snapped a two-meet losing skein last Saturday as they romped to an easy 23-45-58 victory over Adelphi and Queens in a triangular contest at Van Cortlandt Park.

Cascino coasted home 200 yards ahead of Adelphi's captain, Bob Turner, who finished second in 29:22.

Booters Seek Eighth Win In Rutgers Tilt Tomorrow

By Ken Rosenberg

The Beaver booters will aim for their eighth straight win this season when they meet powerful Rutgers tomorrow at New Brunswick, New Jersey. Last year the Beavers scored an amazing 2-1 upset victory.

The Lavender maintained their undefeated string last Saturday, when they defeated Brooklyn, 2-1, to practically clinch the Metropolitan Conference title.

After the game Coach Werner Rothschild gleefully exclaimed, "We aimed for this one and took it in stride. The win was completely a team victory. The whole team played great ball, especially Pinky Pinczower, Lucien Daouphars and Tommy Holm."

Holm played almost the entire game with a painfully injured ankle. After the game he was taken to Knickerbocker hospital for x-rays. The plates showed no break and he will definitely play tomorrow.

The Kingsmen scored first when George Andreatis, their all-American center forward, converted a corner kick from a melee in the Lavender goalmouth, late in the second quarter.

After a great pep talk from Rothschild, a rejuvenated band of Beavers came out for the second half. From the beginning they swarmed all over the Kingsmen until Edozie Ekwunife scored at 5:10 of the third quarter. It was the first goal scored on all-city goalie Sal Catania this year.

Four minutes later Pinczower cut loose a long 35 foot shot which

The Beavers held off the Kingsmen in their last desperate attacks to hand them their first defeat in their last 25 conference tilts. Their last loss came at the hands of the Beavers in 1947.

In the last 10 minutes of the game, the Kingsmen had several scoring threats. Vern Del Godo, their all-american fullback, kicked an indirect kick into the goalmouth. Hal Friedland, who played his best game of the year in goal stepped out of the way and let the ball go in. The Kingsmen argued long and loud that it was a goal, but the referees ruled that a goal could not be scored on an indirect kick.

Beavers vs. Pratt

The soccer game against Pratt, which was to have been played on Saturday, November 3, will be played Tuesday at 2:30 in Lewisohn Stadium. It will close the regular season. Should the Beavers win or tie they will win the conference championship. In the event that they are upset they will finish in a tie with Brooklyn, provided that the Kingsmen defeat Long Island in their season's windup.

Rams Win Again In Football Intras

In last weeks football intramurals the Rams defeated the Jaffees, 19-0, to remain unbeaten and unscored upon.

Meanwhile, last week's basketball games supplied no upsets. The undefeated Zilches downed Hillel, 26-15. The Nippers, who the week before were upended 40-39 by the Zilches, took it out on "21" Club, 55-19. The La-Guardias took a 44-21 beating at the hands of Tau Delta Phi. A.S.M.E. beat Briggs '55, 23-16. The Metzkers easily topped the Knobblers by a 40-23 count.

Sports Slants

By Bill Wanek

Old cross-country runners don't fade away; they just die. Now I'll grant you that this statement in itself doesn't make much sense. But I'm sure that anyone who was at Van Cortlandt Park a week ago Saturday for the Harriers meet with Fordham, will readily understand my logic.

Not that I'd expect anybody in sound mind to venture out of his home on a day not fit for man nor beast. But at any rate there were a few spectators on hand. They were the coaches, two reporters and the athletes themselves.

To refresh your memory it rained all day Thursday and Friday. Saturday morning it was still raining, and the weather Bureau's forecast gave no indication of a change.

At about eleven o'clock in the morning I called the A.A. Office to confirm my suspicions that the meet would be cancelled. But, to my great surprise, and believe me it was an unwelcomed one, I learned that the race would be held as scheduled. By this time my curiosity was beginning to get the better of me, so I left home and started the journey to Van Cortlandt. On my arrival at the park, I was pleased to find out that not only was the weather turning colder but that it was beginning to snow.

There were rumors circulating to the effect that Fordham officials had suggested that the meet be postponed to a later date, but we were quickly assured that it was only an expression of courtesy on their part. "After all," as one coach said, "The weather can't affect the boys running. Maybe their times might be a little slower but that's all that can possibly happen. Anyhow, the fellows will all take a hot shower after the race."

The race was run-off as planned with the athletes wearing only their usual cross-country togs. One young man rounding the three mile pole yelled to his coach, "Gee I'm cold." "Keep running," was the coach's comforting reply.

Until this experience I thought that we had seen about everything possible in sports in the past couple of seasons. From fireworks to the latest fashions of Paris. But now it looks as though we haven't even scratched the surface.

Anyhow, that performance was a dilly if I ever saw one. Running in a freezing mixture of rain and snow, the harriers floundered around like a deep sea fish on dry land. You couldn't tell if they wanted to run or swim.

Through it all, one of the coaches, clad in a raincoat, and boots, chewed gum, giving one of the most masterful performances of gum chewing ever seen. If, however, he will pardon a friendly suggestion, it seems to me that he can improve his act. With bubble-gum there's no telling how far he would go as a television performer.

By the time this daffy affair was over, the running course looked like it had some contagious disease. It was a combination of water and mud. Don't get me wrong. I'm not saying that the weather wasn't conducive to running five miles or that the meet should have been cancelled. After all, as one coach put it, all that could happen would be to slow up the boys' times a little.

Montague Sees Successful Season Ahead for Fencers

By Les Kaplan

"We will be as strong as we were last year, and perhaps even a little better," maintained Prof. James Montague, fencing coach at the College since 1937. "Our schedule is tough, and we have no soft touches, but I'm expecting good things from the boys."

The team will be poorly balanced, he stated, because of a preponderance of strength in the foils squad. The foils trio, which Montague rates second to none, is composed of Hal Goldsmith, a member of last year's all-American fencing team and one of the foremost swordsmen in the nation, Bob Byrom, whom Coach Montague maintains is a "very good prospect," and Al Gordon, a lower freshman with a big future.

Coach Montague waxed warm in praise of Goldsmith. "He's a fine fencer, strong, fast, cagey, and cool-headed. Watch for him in the NCAA tourney, he'll be at the top."

Last year Goldsmith placed third in the NCAA foils competition behind Frank Neilson of Columbia University, and Gerardo Biagini of San Francisco State College. Columbia University, the National and Eastern champion, should be the Beaver's toughest opponent, but Coach Montague pointed out that Yale, Army, and the other teams on the schedule usually have strong squads. The Lavender will open the season against Yale on Jan. 12, and after a mid-semester break will resume against Brooklyn College on February 2.

The saber trio, while not as powerful as the foils, should be able to win consistently. They are led by Norm Itzkowitz, who already has established himself as a fine swordsman. Also on the team is Sheldon Myers, a sophomore, who is in his first year of college competition.

The weakest part of the team, though weak only in comparison with the foils trio, is the epee, led by Jack Benoze, who is a first year man.

Ink Blots Offer 'Raw Shock' Plus Two Tickets

An opportunity for the more neurotic and frustrated students of the College to express their anxieties in print is afforded by a novel contest originated by some neurotic and frustrated students in charge of the House Plan "Carnival."

Accompanying this story there appears a picture of an ink blot. It is the contention of many professional and amateur psychologists that ink blots mean many things to many people. What does this one mean to you? House Plan will award a pair of ducats to the "Carnival" to the student who submits the most imaginative and original answer. Solutions to the puzzler may be handed in at House Plan, 292 Convent Avenue, any time during the day. Winners will be announced at House Plan's flag-pole rally, November 29th.

In order to help students who may not be familiar with this type of problem, several members of The Campus have volunteered some sample solutions. Mort Sheinman '54 said, "I thought it was Jane Russell in a fur coat. However, when I studied it further, I was positive that it was two tse-tse flies in the act of conjugating."

Sex reared its ugly head when Cyril Koch '53 took a good look at the blots. "I see a host of illegitimate children of a primitive tribe. Two aloof parents stand in the middle. They know that in the morning their case comes up before the Grand Witch-Doctor. The question of alimony appears particularly disturbing to the father."

"Jane Russel in a Fur Coat"

ASME Smoker Tonight At Hotel Diplomat

The American Society of Mechanical Engineers' Fall Smoker will take place tonight at the Hotel Diplomat, 108 W. 43 St. Beer and cigarettes will be supplied during the evening's entertainment.

Tickets can be obtained at the Smoker.

There are only three days left to purchase the thirty-five remaining tickets to the Junior Prom.

The prom will be held in the Mirror Room of the Hotel Warwick on Friday, November 23. Music will be provided by Mel Stuart's orchestra. Tickets are $3.75 per couple.

Highlight of the evening will be the crowning of a Junior Queen, who will be chosen from those present by a student-faculty committee.

Among the door prizes to be given are a chest of cigarettes and two tickets to Dramsoc's presentation of "Light Up the Sky."

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor:

Our College has a reputation of being a communist school. We allow organizations like the Y.P.A. and the Students for World Peace, whose views are at times similar to those expressed by the Communist Party, to exist on our campus. People who never came to C.C.N.Y. believe (wrongly) that City is infested with Communists.

The members of Student Council who want to give Mr. Robeson the use of the Great Hall fear that by not doing so, it will tend to disprove our tradition of academic freedom. However, the fact that we are allowing Mr. Robeson, a tried and true Communist sympathizer, to speak at our College is proof enough of our academic freedom. Then, too, the Great Hall should be used only for dignitaries.

Sincerely,
Paul Sevransky '53

Be Happy-Go LUCKY!

LUCKIES TASTE BETTER!

It takes fine tobacco to give you a better-tasting cigarette. And Lucky Strike means fine tobacco. But it takes something else, too—superior workmanship. You get fine, light, mild, good-tasting tobacco in the better-made cigarette. That's why Luckies taste better. So, Be Happy—Go Lucky! Get a carton today!

STUDENTS! Let's go! We want your jingles! We're ready and willing and eager to pay you $25 for every jingle we use. Send as many jingles as you like to Happy-Go-Lucky, P. O. Box 67, New York 46, N. Y.

I teach the students all day long
But always am in haste
To finish classes and enjoy
A Lucky's better taste.

It usually takes me years to get
The knowledge that I lack,
But learning Lucky Strike tastes best
Just took a single pack!
Joseph Ellis
Wayne University

I've smoked a million Lucky Strikes
And never found a flaw.
They're always firm and fully packed
And easy on the draw!
