Board of Estimate Cuts Do Not Definitely Mean Faculty Losses—Engler

By Wayne Kola

Dean Leslie Engler (Administration) yesterday warned against "jumping to the conclusion that the Board of Estimate—approved College budget for next year means more instructor dismissals in September."

His statement was made following the Board of Estimate's approval of the College Budget and its approval of cutting, by $75,000, a special personnel service fund from which faculty, clerical and administrative salaries are paid.

Third Straight Cut

"We'll try everything, including a reduction of clerical and administrative help, before we drop faculty members," the Dean explained. "But right now, it's too early to predict what effect the cut will have on the College."

This marks the third consecutive year that the personnel service fund has been cut by the Board. In the past two years, this fund was reduced by $200,000, compelling the dismissal of 36 instructors at the College. This term, 16 instructors were dropped because of a $100,000 cut, while last year 20 instructors were dismissed because of a similar cut.

No Funds For Athletics

The total budget, as approved by the Board, comes to approximately $7,391,840. This, according to Mr. Walter Stalb (Business Manager) is $30,000 more than last year's approved budget.

Significantly increased in the budget is the allocation for fuel and supply costs.

Among the requests denied the College was a $100,000 request for 17 additional instructors and a $40,000 request to help pay for inter-collegiate athletics.

Final approval of the College Budget will be made by the City Council this month. The Council, unlike the Board of Estimate, has only the power to slash the present appropriations.

The Budget will go into effect on July 1.

Dr. Ordway Tead To Speak at 12:30

Dr. Ordway Tead, president of the Board of Higher Education, will speak to members of the Senior Class on "How to Get a Job" today at 12:30 in 126 Main.

This lecture will be the first in a series of talks planned by the Senior Council Job Opportunities Committee. The lectures in general will cover a wide range of job opportunities.

Dr. Tead is a faculty member of Columbia University and also holds an editorial post on Harper's publications.

The next program in this series has been scheduled for May 15. The program will include several speakers who will talk about the civil service job opportunities.

Student Life Has Tix for Hit Shows

The College's Ticket Bureau, located in 120 Main, has tickets available for the following shows: "The Fourposter," "I Am A Camera," and "The King and I."

The bureau also is stocked with discount tickets for "Paris 90" and is taking orders for "Stalag 17."

In addition to selling tickets to Broadway hits, the bureau, previously known as the Concert Bureau, is also continuing its sale of concert tickets.

Streit Hits Commercialism In Athletics at Kentucky U.

By Melvin Stein

General Sessions Judge Saul S. Streit, who last year condemned the commercialized athletic policy of the College, directed a similar but more vigorous blast at the high-gear sports program of the University of Kentucky, this Monday.

Terming Kentucky's athletic policy the "acme of commercialism," the Judge decried the "disintegrating influence of money-mad athletics" that he stated presently exists at the school.

In a fifty-page decision rendered while delivering suspended sentences to three former Kentucky University players accused of shaving points in basketball games, Judge Streit listed the evils of the Kentucky athletic system and also unloosed a sharp verbal criticism of the University's head basketball coach, Adolph Rupp.

Rupp, who after the basketball scandal developed at this College stated, "a gambler couldn't touch any of my players with a ten-foot pole," was charged by Judge Streit of having been very friendly with Ed Curd, one of the better-known bookmakers of Kentucky. Rupp had once phoned Curd to learn of the point spread in a game between Kentucky and the Univer-

Student Status Uncertain With Larger Draft Calls

"There is no way of knowing what the effect of the trebled draft quotas, recently announced by the Department of Defense, will have upon students," Mr. Stuart Clarkson, (Veteran's Counselor) said yesterday.

The student's status will be judged solely on an individual basis, taking into account such factors as class standing, Selective Service Test score, and year of graduation, he added.

Test May 22

A Selective Service Test will be given on May 22. Applications for this exam may be obtained by students from the nearest local board. Those who apply must be satisfactorily pursuing a full-time college course leading to a degree.

"Previously," Mr. Clarkson said, "there was no need to induct men under twenty in the New York City area. However, I expect that the new quotas will force local draft boards to lower the age limit in order to meet their obligations," he concluded.

Notices Being Sent

At present, draft boards are sending out pre-induction physical examination notices and are following them up with induction calls. The notices are mere formalities, however, since all college students are receiving deferments until June. Additional deferments will have to be gotten by written appeals, as before.

A score of seventy or better on the Selective Service Test or class standing among the male members in the upper half of the freshman class, upper two thirds of the sophomore class or upper three fourths of the junior class is used as the basis for a student deferment.

Seniors will be accepted for admission to a graduate school if they are in the upper half of the male members of their senior class, or make a score of seventy-five or better.

The College administration will meet today to officially consider the future use of the Manhattanville property. The possibility that a dormitory will be established on the site was given added strength as Pres. Harry N. Wright declared yesterday: "The majority of those meeting today favors the maintenance of such facilities at Manhattanville."

At today's meeting, Prof. Albert D'Andrea (Chairman, Art) will present a report that he prepared with the aid of the architectural staff on the facilities now available at Manhattanville. According to Professor D'Andrea, the newly acquired property has 273 dormitory rooms which can be equipped to accommodate 379 students.

To Present Report

The Army Hall Resident's Council which has been conducting a survey among the students now living at Army Hall will also present their findings to the Building Committee today. The report was drawn up to determine the reasons given by students for living in the dormitory.

Dean Morton Gottschall (Liberal Arts), a member of the Administration Building Committee, minimized President Wright's enthusiastic statement in support of dormitories. The Dean stated that he believed that the members of the administration would advocate dormitories in Manhattanville only after provisions are made for the more imperative needs of the College.

Only Forty-Three Classrooms

Finding enough classrooms to replace the sixty-seven classrooms the College will lose when it is forced to vacate Army Hall and Finley Hall is the administration's biggest problem.

At present there are only forty-three classrooms at Manhattanville, Professor D'Andrea revealed.

Chabot Quits Student Council; Cites Reps' 'Negative Attitude'

Herbert Chabot '52, Student Council representative, formally filed his letter of resignation from Student Council and all its committees on Monday.

Chabot stated that he resigned because he felt that he could no longer vote impartially on all of the matters that were brought before the Council. He said, "I had reached the point where my personal feelings about certain of its members had prevented me from being objective about the motions that they brought up and supported."

Speaking further on the subject Chabot said that there were many members of Council who since their election to office had worked at only one activity, namely "the blocking and slowing down of Council proceedings." He said that he believes the most important function of a Student Council representative is to pass legislation that would benefit the student body as a whole.

Chabot said, "I hope that other representatives who feel the same as I, will not follow suit and resign." Chabot remarked, "If my actions brings forth any improvement I hope it is one in which more people run for the various offices in the coming election." "Also," he concluded, "I hope that everyone who is elected tries to serve the students as a representative under a democratic form of government should."

Thank You Mr. Halley

As a result of the Board of Estimate's unanimous acceptance of the proposed New York City budget for the next fiscal year, the College's monetary request has been cut by $75,000.

In the past two years, the School's requests have been slashed for a total of $200,000, necessitating the dismissal of thirty-six full-time instructors.

Rudolph Halley, president of the City Council, recently assured the College that he would oppose the cut. By the context of his statement he implied that he also had intended to vote against it.

Evidently, what Mr. Halley implies and what he says are two different things. However, the ex-counsel for the Kefauver investigation probably had his own personal reasons for his actions.

Perhaps Mr. Halley feels that the City cannot afford to comply with the College's request. Possibly he doesn't deem necessary an adequately manned instructional or clerical staff. Or perhaps Mr. Halley just doesn't care.

2000 A.D.—?

It is not possible to envision the changes that the 105-year old College will undergo after we occupy the Manhattanville property. Today fifteen administrative officials begin the first of a series of meetings for consideration of the disposition of the seventeen Manhattanville buildings. The result of these meetings will determine the entire future structure of the College.

Much has been said in favor of the establishment of permanent dorm facilities on the Manhattanville site. Faculty members, students, and Army Hall residents have expressed the need and desirability of such facilities. President Wright's idea that dormitories form a necessary educational part of any college is, we feel, the best argument for a dormitory on the site.

If as a result of the meetings, a dormitory is not established on the property, then obviously some administration members have deluded themselves as educators. Our faith in the common sense of these administrators, perhaps, overcomes any doubts we may have as to whether a dormitory will be permanently established on Manhattanville. We hope we are not disappointed.

Beat Wagner

This afternoon at 1, the College's baseball team plays host to Wagner College in a double header at Macombs Dam Park. The contests, both league games, will have a distinct bearing on the Metropolitan Collegiate standings. There will be no admission charge and the ballpark is only a few minutes away from the College. Let's all get out there today and root the Beavers to victory and have a pleasant afternoon in the bargain.

"GETTING TIGHTER IN HERE, ISN'T IT?"

On Student Government

Student Council has lost something which it can least afford to lose—the calm, objective thinking of Herbert Chabot '52. That even SC members thought highly of Chabot is indicated by his election to the all-important Executive Committee and to the Chairmanship of the Membership Committee.

But Herbert Chabot has resigned as a result of what he terms "the lack of responsibility, both to the student body and to Student Council, which has been displayed on Student Council." Let us consider the nature of the events immediately preceding his action.

In a nine hour meeting last Friday, Student Council accomplished little else than giving many of those present headaches and a general feeling of disgust.

The meeting was characterized by innumerable private conversations among the members. They roamed the Council room at will, paying no attention to whoever had the floor and not caring a whit that they were disrupting the proceedings. Several times members had to be called in from the corridor outside, where they were taking unauthorized recesses, in order that they might vote on a topic with which they were completely unfamiliar, not having been present for the discussion. In the face of this, the Chair found it difficult to maintain order.

This meeting can not be labeled as unusual. Rather, it was TYPICAL.

Obviously, something is wrong. There are two relatively simple innovations which would make for a better Student Council.

1. Change the Friday meeting date.
By their actions, it would seem that several Council members regard an SC meeting as nothing more than a form of social diversion, and consider it an evening wasted if they leave the College as early as midnight. They would probably feel differently about the matter if they had to prepare for classes the next day.

2. Have a 15 minute recess in the meeting at 10.
From 7:30, when Council reconvenes after the supper recess, until the meeting adjourns, four to six hours later, members go without a break. It is too much to expect even the most interested and cooperative people to remain fully attentive for this length of time.

The aforementioned changes will, we believe, effect a certain amount of improvement in Council. However, only one thing can bring about the drastic improvement which is so necessary, and that is STUDENT INTEREST IN STUDENT GOVERNMENT.

We urge students to attend meetings of Student Council. Only from a direct view of the Council proceedings can one determine, to his own satisfaction, who are the obstructionist groups, and only then can one vote intelligently in SC elections.

Today, most students will be asked to sign nominating petitions. We ask only that people think before they sign. Do not sign a nominating petition unless you feel that the candidate will sincerely attempt to represent the students at the College, and that he will not, upon entering the Council room, lose all the dignity of a human being.

Unless students at the College begin to show an interest in what their Student Council does, SC will become an even more exclusive organization than it is now, and since it will not be able to fulfill its function as a representative body, Council will have not the slightest excuse for its continued existence.

With the approach of the Student Council elections which will be held on Friday, May 16, we recommend that everyone examine the column on this page entitled "On Student Government."

LIFE'S LIKE THAT—Starting in August, Stanley Reid '52, who directed this term's Senior show, "Alagaroo," and Queens College's Susan Loesserman are going to make it Mr. and Mrs. . . . Congratulations to Prof. John Yohannan (English) on the birth of a son last Friday . . . Dick Kaplan '50, former Copy Editor of this newspaper and now an assistant-editor of Sport Life magazine, has a feature appearing in the August issue of that publication on Henry Wittenberg '40, Olympic Wrestling Champ . . . Happy Birthday, Phyllis.

FACULTY QUIP—Mr. Lloyd McCorkle (Sociology) tells the story about the football player who received a 95 on a test, while sitting next to the smartest boy in the class. When the instructor investigated, he found that on one of the questions the smart student had written, "I do not know the answer," and the football player had penned, "Neither do I."

A PUN, MY WORD—The question of dormitories at Manhattanville so far is a "sleeper" . . . Shades of Buckingham Palace! With Sigma Alpha's flower sale going on last Thursday, there were plenty of carnation ceremonies . . . Would you call the $400 rent that the College collects for the Saturday night use of the auditorium on the second floor of the Main Building a great haul?

SOCIAL SERVICE—Tickets for the Nocturne Players' production of "Heaven Can Wait," the play from which the picture "Here Comes Mr. Jordan" was made, which will be presented tomorrow and Saturday evenings at the PET, can be gotten in 120 Main .

To the Editor:

I wish to violently disagree with your editorial in support of the increased general fee to support intercollegiate athletics. I do not believe that any compulsory fee to support an extra-curricular activity should be instituted without a student referendum to determine whether or not the students are willing to pay such a fee.
In conversations with yourself and other supporters of this fee, I received the impression that the principal reason for this support is a belief that intercollegiate athletics are a very important part of college life and a fear that if this proposal were put to referendum, it might fail.

I agree with you in both these beliefs. However, I would not presume to say that simply because I feel that some particular project is good, that my opinion should prevail. I think it is for the students to decide whether or not the inter-collegiate athletic program is worth two dollars a year to them. If they do not think so, then they neither want nor deserve an athletic program.

In regard to your statements about student participation in the control of the athletic program and the expenditure of these funds, I would like to point out that the proposed plan calls for a committee with six faculty and three students. I do not feel that a committee charged with the control of student funds should have anything less than equal student representation.

While I feel strongly that the athletic program is important I feel other things are more important. I would rather not have an athletic program because the students vote against a fee than have the student body lose any of their hard won rights to decide these matters themselves.

Student council at its meeting last Friday passed a resolution in which it called upon the Board of Higher Education to rescind its action in increasing the General Fee. It also elected a committee to investigate ways of obtaining the kind of athletic fee we want. While the committee has not yet had a chance to formulate a complete program I feel justified in calling upon the student body to support the principle of no athletic fee without student referendum.

Lavender Upsets West Point, 9 to 6

Beavers Meet Wagner in Double Header at 1

By Lester Kaplan

Beaver baseball fans are in for a double treat this afternoon as the College's nine meets Wagner in a twin-bill at Macombs Dam Park, 161 St. and Jerome Ave., just across the street from Yankee Stadium.

The game time is at 1:00. Both contests will count in the standings of the Metropolitan Conference.

The double-header against Hofstra, originally scheduled for last Saturday, was rained out and will be re-scheduled for sometime next week. This Saturday, coach Sol "Skip" Mishkin will send his men against the Mitchell Field Flyers. Monday they play Manhattan, also at Macombs Dam Park. The Jaspers beat the Lavender, 4 to 1, earlier in the season.

No Lineup Changes

This afternoon, against Wagner, Mishkin will probably use the same lineup that lost to Fordham last week, 9 to 3. Except for that loss and the one to NYU, the Skipper claimed that the Beavers have never been outclassed, and hopes that an increase in hit production will produce a few more victories.

Neuberger Nominated

Big Warren Neuberger will pitch one of this afternoon's games, with either Neal Deoul or south-law Steve Weinstein going in the other. Sy Volinsky, who has been used sparingly this year, will probably start against Mitchell Field. Wagner coach Herbert E. Suter will send "Ziggy" Wachsmuth and Don Finley, his star twirlers, against the Beavers. Wachsmuth, a senior and a choice on last season's All-Met team, compiled a 7-2 record in '51 and had an earned-run-average of 1.28.

Stickmen Meet Dutchmen Sat.

The College's lacrosse team will try to snap its four-game losing streak this Saturday, when it meets Hofstra out at Hempstead, L. I. Since the Beavers lost to these same Dutchmen, 6 to 2, on April 9, they will be especially primed for this game.

Last Saturday, the Lavender was beaten by a strong Yale squad, 20 to 2, at New Haven.

Beaver coach Leon "Chief" Miller was extremely pessimistic about the Hofstra game. "We've had a lot of tough breaks in our games, and a team which has lost 25 out of 28 men from last year's team can't afford to make basic mistakes."

Netmen Bow To B.C., 8-1; Nelson Stars

By Meyer Baden

The College's tennis team dropped its second match of the season yesterday, bowing to a powerful Brooklyn College squad by a score of 8 to 1 at the Kingsmen's home court. The Wolfemen's record is now one and two. Last Saturday's meet with Queens College was postponed because of rain.

The final score, however, does not indicate the actual closeness of the match as the Beaver's extended Brooklyn to extra games in four of their five singles losses.

Exhibiting a very strong service, Milt Nelson registered the only Lavender win, defeating Joe Ostroff 6-3, 6-3. Co-captain Ed Zeitlin, Lavender number one man, lost the opening match to Ed Levinson 6-2, 6-2, after winning the opening set 6-3. Mick Mitrowski, elevated to second spot because of his very fine showing against Seton Hall, lost to Norm Fine, 6-0, 8-6, 6-3.

Co-captain John Favre, still not in top shape after a recent illness, won his first set 7-5, but dropped the next two 6-3, 6-0. Dave Duries beat previously undefeated Cliff Hoffmann 8-6, 6-3, and Eli Greenstein topped Hal Reikes 6-2, 6-2.

Trip to Army

The Varsity Club is sponsoring a trip to West Point on May 10 for the lacrosse game between the College and the Cadets, announced Bob Greenberger, president of the club.

The price of the trip is $2.00. This includes round-trip fare to the beautiful and historic site in upper New York and admission to the game. Those who are interested in attending should inquire at the A. A. Office in Lewisohn Stadium. Students are advised to make their reservations early, since a large crowd is expected.

Baretz Bats in Six Tallies; Deoul Picks Up 2nd Victory

By Morton Sheinman

WEST POINT, N. Y., April 30—"The West Point Story" was replayed here today, and this time the Cadets didn't fare too well. Led by left-fielder Nate Baretz, who batted six runs across the plate with a home run and two singles, the College's baseball team upset Army, 9 to 6. The game was called at the end of seven innings because of a West Point ruling which says that no inning may start after 6:10.

Neal Deoul was the pitcher who stopped the Cadets after they threatened to dissipate an early 7-to-0 Beaver lead, and thus gained his and the team's second victory.

He came in with one out in the fifth frame, replacing reliever Chet Palmieri. Palmieri had replaced starter Jerry Gross an inning earlier, after Gross had failed to get anyone out.

The Beavers were leading, 7 to 4, at the time of Deoul's entry. Army runners were on first and second and the 300 Cadet rooters were yelling for a rally, but Neal took charge by striking out Pete Manus, giving up a scoring single to Vince Bailey, and then whiffing Bill Ritter.

Baretz added an important two runs to the Beaver totals in the top of the sixth, slamming Don Wilson, the third of four Army pitchers, for a 353-foot homer with Ted Solomon, on base. Army scored once more after that, but never threatened seriously.

Coach Sol "Skip" Mishkin's crew started scoring early. Helped by shoddy Cadet fielding, they scored three runs in each of the first two innings. Army starter Hal Myrah got into trouble by mugging up Dick Dickstein's lead-off bunt and before one could say "General MacArthur," the Beavers had loaded the bases on successive hits by John Saladino and Solomon. Baretz' single chased two runners across and he later tallied on a wild pitch.

In the second inning, the Lavender again soaked the sacks with no one out. Solomon's long fly sent in one run, another scored on a wild peg by Bill Weafer, and Baretz knocked home the third with a fly.

The Beavers scored their seventh run in the fourth inning off righthander Bob Marcrum. Saladino and Solomon walked with two out, and Baretz banged a single to center, scoring Saladino.

Gross pitched fairly well for the first three innings. He didn't permit the Cadets to score, but was helped by fine defensive work by the Beaver infield. In the fourth, however, the roof fell in. Two runs were already in and runners were on first and second when Mishkin called upon Palmieri to try and get the first out of the inning. Chet gave up a scoring fly, but got Dick Boyle to smack a grounder to Dickstein, who started a quick double play.

Fields Outstanding at Penn, Leaps to First-Place Tie

By Martin Ryza

The showing made by the College's track team at last weekend's Penn Relays was, according to coach Harold Anson Bruce, a creditable one "considering the shortage of good material this season." Charley Fields, the Lavender Leaper, was particularly outstanding, finishing in a seven-way tie for first place in the high jump.

Charley cleared the bar at 6'2", an excellent performance, considering the soggy condition of the field. He didn't get a first-place medal, though, because the prizes were awarded to the seven winners on the basis of a draw. Fields managed to garner the second-place medal.

This Tuesday, the Beavers will meet their old arch-rival, Brooklyn College, at Lewisohn Stadium. Meet time is 3. Last year, the teams did not face each other, but in 1950, coach Bruce's men beat the Kingsmen. Bruce is confident that they will win again this year, but expects the Brooklynites to furnish tough opposition.

Brooklyn track coach "Happy" Furth does not have an overabundance of talent, but he does have four seasoned campaigners. They are co-captains Dick Olens and Jimmy Soler; Joe Trepane, who competes in the 220; and half-miler Stan Goldberg.

Olens is the Met Intercollegiate champion in the javelin throw, but Bruce said, "We'll concede first-place in that event, but we'll take second and third." Furth cited Ray Zimbarta, who will run the 440, as the most promising of the newcomers.

Getting back to the Penn Relays, coach Bruce had praise for several other performers besides Fields. In the 440-meter hurdles event, Bill Plummer, the Metropolitan low hurdles champ, took fourth place against some of the toughest competition in the country. Joe Grevious, who slipped and fell during the race, still managed to scramble back to his feet in time to come in fifth.

The four-mile relay team, consisting of Grevious, Lou Cascino, Joe Marcal, and Paul Pavlides, didn't do quite as well as the other Beaver entrants in the Relays, finishing ninth in a field of thirteen. They ran against top-notch schools, almost all of which featured scholarship-laden squads,

Peace Confab At Wisconsin Ends in Split

NSA Chairman at College Attends Conference

The National Student Conference on peace, equality, and academic freedom held at Madison, Wisconsin April 25-27 ended in confusion and dissension, according to James Berry '54, NSA chairman at the College and participant in the Conference.

Disunion reached such heights at the plenary session of the meetings, Berry said, that two groups left, charging that, "the Conference is serving only to further the interests of Soviet imperialism."

Two resolutions, however, were passed by the Conference. One provided that the United States "seek more effective methods of disarmament, especially in outlawing the atomic bomb and germ warfare." (A proposal to include "all nations" was defeated.) The other motion called upon the United States to negotiate with the world powers.

Originally scheduled to be held at the University of Wisconsin, the Conference delegates were forced to rent the Labor Temple in Madison. The refusal to grant them meeting facilities was, according to Wisconsin University officials, based on the fact that the delegates did not "apply properly."

Bridge Team Ranks Third In Intercollegiate Meet

Two engineering students, representing the College, finished third in the 1952 National Inter-Collegiate Bridge Tournament held in Chicago last week.

Alvin Schwartz '52 and Robert Cohen '53 ranked second in the North Atlantic Zone in the semifinals and finished third, ahead of 250 colleges, in the national competition.

Hoping to have the College some day capture first spot in the tournament, the two are now training a freshman bridge team.

Letters to the Editor

spoiled so many peoples' dinners. We were genuinely pained that Mr. Scheinback's sex life is so unsatisfactory that he cannot tolerate the sight of "legs protruding from the skirts of low-cut dresses." But remember, Mr. Scheinback, it is somewhat less than gentlemanly to blame one's own shortcomings on other individual or groups of individuals.

It does not take much intelligence or originality to utter the old half-truths about women's veiled reasons for attending college. If we wished to appear as shallow as Mr. Scheinback, we might point out that not a few young men can be seen floating around the College year after year not because they are so enamoured of education, but because they prefer the security of school to the many problems of the outside world. To anyone who is endowed with a modicum of grey matter, this is no cause for ridicule; it is a sad commentary on our world that young people shrink from encountering it.

Similarly, when we consider the stigma which is still attached to the unmarried woman, it is not difficult to sympathize with the efforts of some women to escape social ridicule even at the expense of their dignity. To ridicule individuals who are not strong enough to overcome the limitations and pressures of their environment is to be worse than heartless. But to heap that ridicule on all women indiscriminately is completely inexcusable. The same kind of reasoning was used only recently in Germany to build up the stereotypes of the ambitious Jew as well as that of the inferior woman and the mentally backward Negro.

We find it hard to understand how THE CAMPUS, which is avowedly against the slurring of individuals on a mass basis, was able to add to Mr. Scheinback's insensitive remarks with its own crude jokes about the "pleasing" qualities of women. We had hoped that the editors would exhibit a more intelligent appreciation of the insulting implications of the letter.

Be Happy-Go LUCKY!

In a cigarette, taste
makes the difference—
and Luckies taste better!

The difference between "just smoking" and really enjoying your smoke is the taste of a cigarette. You can taste the difference in the smoother, mellow, more enjoyable taste of a Lucky... for two important reasons. First, L.S./M.F.T.—Lucky Strike means fine tobacco... fine, mild tobacco that tastes better. Second, Luckies are made to taste better... proved best-made of all five principal brands. So reach for a Lucky. Enjoy the cigarette that tastes better! Be Happy—Go Lucky! Buy a carton today!

Exams are coming round once more,
And cramming is the style—
But just the taste of Lucky Strike
Will guarantee a smile!
