Prof to Debate Ruling on Full Membership Lists; Easton Agrees With SFCSA

By Louise Gross

Professors have agreed to the ruling by the Student Committee on Student requiring full membership all College organizations. Stewart C. Easton (Hispanic) will speak against the ruling at 3 in 315 Main, and John C. Thirlwall (English) will speak in favor of it.

Several groups sponsor the debate. It is being sponsored by the Democratic Action Young Democrats, Young Republicans, and Young Republicans. Buell Gallagher declared that he is in full agreement with SFCSA's ruling. He stated that it was made without consultation and without knowledge, President Gallagher condemned SFCSA's action "a bad move."

They are to develop a sound policy and maintain full freedom. There is a need to discourage the time and the secret and to open the open and the committee," he stated.

Opponents of Communism means the assuming responsibility," the president said "and a person does not have the right to disclaim responsibility while still enjoying the benefits of freedom."

In the benefit of the ruling, according to President Gallagher, it will prove "non-membership" in a group, thereby protecting a person who might be denied a job because of suspicion that he belonged to a particular group while at the college.

"Compulsory lists will also make it impossible, or at least very difficult, for the disruptive efforts of communist agents to be effective on campus," President Gallagher said.

Although the president acknowledged that a student might feel it would be violating his principles to sign a compulsory membership list, he felt that this does not outweigh the advantages of the ruling.

SC to Name Reps to Conf.

Pres. Buell Gallagher has announced that a second All-College Conference will be held "sometime next term."

In letters sent to the presidents of the day and evening session Student Councils at the Main and Baruch Centers, the president requested that the councils elect delegates to a special twelve-man Student-Faculty Steering Committee which will be charged with making actual preparations for the working of the Conference.

The Steering Committee is to consist of six faculty members named by the president and six students, two each from the Up-

Adelphi Rips Five, 107-78; Shorr Injured, Tallies 28

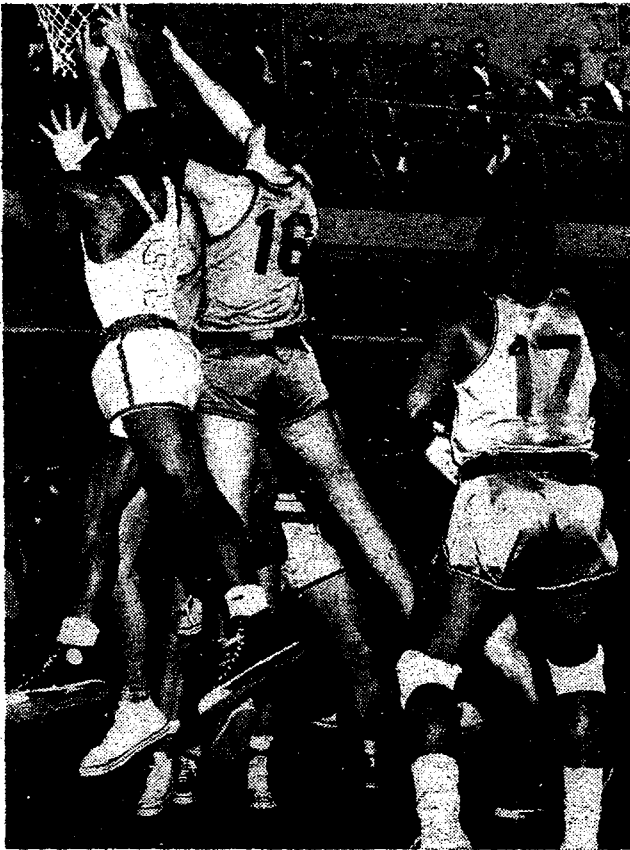

By Martin Ryza

A red hot Adelphi Basketball team made Nat Holman's return to the College basketball scene, last Saturday night, a dismal affair. The Garden City five outran, outshot, and outrebounded the Beavers as they rolled up a record-breaking 107 points to 78 for the Lavender. As if that didn't hurt enough, Merv Shorr, the team's top scoring threat, was injured late in the second half, and forced to leave the game.

The score was highest ever racked up against a Beaver team, breaking the mark of 101 points by Montclair State Teachers last year, at the latter's court, and eclipsing the previous home high of 97 set against Hunter last season.

Foiled!

Dave Simmons (31) leaps for rebound but he's boxed out by Karl Soderstrom (16) and other Adelphi player. Beavers were no match for Adelphi under the boards. Number 17 is another Adelphi player, Gil Scott.

Before the game, the players of both squads were introduced to the capacity crowd. But the great share of the plaudits were reserved for Mr. Basketball. The crowd gave him a rousing ovation lasting several minutes.

Then Adelphi took over and proceeded to raise the roof with some murderous shooting accuracy. (Continued on Page Four)

Knittle Lounge will feature the rhythmic beat of Al Israel's mambo band. Al, besides having his own band, is a student in the College's evening session.

Tickets for House Plan's version of the upside-down world of make-believe sell for one dollar and fifty cents each, and two dollars at the door. They may be purchased at the "House of Jabberwock" in Lincoln Building, or at House Plan.

Debate Team Ties For First In Intercollegiate Contest

The College's Novice Debating Team tied for first place in a tournament held at Temple University Saturday.

With fifty teams competing, the tournament ended in a three-way tie between the College, Dartmouth, and Georgetown.

The topic under debate was, "Resolved: That the United States Should Extend Diplomatic Recognition to the Communist Government of China."

Arguing on the affirmative side were Joan Wojtowicz '56 and Robin Carson Jr. '56. They were victorious in all four of their debates, winning over Immaculate, Pennsylvania State Womens', Virginia State, and Delaware Colleges.

Opposing the resolution was the team of Bruce Feinne '58 and Arthur Stupay '56, business manager of The Campus, which compiled a 3-1 record defeating Brooklyn, Fordham, and Howard Colleges.

The accompanying judge of the College's squad was Morton E. David '56, club president, who commented, "The members of the Debating Society feel that this great intellectual triumph is but small repayment for the education we receive thankfully here at the College."

'SATISFACTION GUARANTEED':

IFC to Hold Fair Thursday

By Allen Kraut

Kisses, at ten cents a buss, with satisfaction guaranteed, will be among the features of a fair to be sponsored by the Inter-Fraternity Council Thursday in Knittle Lounge from 12 to 4.

The kisses will be sold at a booth set up by members of the Sigma Tau Delta sorority, with all proceeds going to the World University Service. "The girls are contributing their talents for a worthy cause," said Elaine Bregman '56, STD dean, "and the fellows will go away satisfied."

Calls Fair 'Unique'

Michael Walsh '56, IFC president, described the fair as "a unique adventure on the campus. Each of the participating fraternities and sororities will operate a different booth at the fair, and some are really dillies."

A booth being run by the Delta Alpha fraternity will test the shaying skill of students brave enough to attempt removing the lather from a balloon with a sharp razor. Like all other booths at the fair, the charge will be ten cents. Sheets will be provided to protect the clothing of those who may "nick" the balloon.

Hopes for Precedent

The fair will run for four hours, thus providing, said Walsh, "a chance for those students who must attend meetings during the usual two-hour break to visit it."

Walsh expressed the hope that the fair will set a precedent as a means of raising funds for worthy organizations such as WUS. "The frats have worked to make this fair one which students will enjoy," he said. "It should show the effectiveness that fra-terneries may have in developing a strong school spirit."

The best booth, to be judged for attractiveness, originality, and the amount of money earned, will be awarded a trophy.

Plan Forum To Consider SU Problems

Pres. Buell Gallagher last week indicated that a general forum to discuss "all facets of the Student Union problem" will be called sometime after the Christmas vacation.

The meeting will be attended by representatives of all interested organizations. President Gallagher said that the exact date of the meeting would be decided by Dean Daniel Brophy (Student Life).

Dean Brophy believes the meeting will clear up many of the Student Union problems. "Information has been coming from too many sources," he said, "nothing has been decided."

Dean Brophy emphasized that "there will be no authoritarian control over the Student Center. The managing board of the Center will be controlled by the Students." Dean Brophy indicated his preference for one managing board composed of both Day and Evening Session students, instead of separate boards for each session.

"The Center is primarily an Uptown venture," said Dean Brophy. "Downtown students should not be forced to use the Center." He believes Baruch Center students desiring to use the services of the Center should pay for it "on an individual basis."

Dean Brophy is opposed to any referendum on a Student Center

Pearl Harbor Bombed 13 Years Ago Today

Exactly thirteen years ago today, activity at the College came to a sudden halt as over 3,000 students filed into the Great Hall to listen "spellbound" as President Roosevelt denounced Japan and called for a declaration of war. There was a short lull and then the College quickly became alive with activity.

Only a few days before, life at the college was going on much as it is today. Committees investigating subversive activity were active all over the country. The App Committee of the New York State Legislature had just accused the publications of Brooklyn and City College of consistently following the Communist Party line. President Harry N. Wright wrote to President Roosevelt protesting the curtailment of the National Youth Administration College Work program, which gave financial assistance to the students.

But on the days following December 7, all activity centered around the war. Student Council posted news bulletins hourly outside 100 Main and they moved to begin sale of war stamps and bonds. Students held rallies and a mock air raid.

President Wright said that communists on the faculty and the student body had "gotten nowhere" in their attempt "to seize the reins of the defense drive. They no longer have any influence on the student body," he declared.

Although there was uncertainty among the student body, war hysteria and pessimism was absent. Most seniors felt that they would not finish college. Realizing the prevalence of this feeling, the BHE urged the students not to let exams and term papers fall into insignificance because of the war.

President Wright announced a proposal to hold commencement in May to allow seniors to graduate before they were drafted. Summer session was increased to twelve weeks for seniors needing up to sixteen credits for graduation.

Mermen Break 3 Records; Powerful Hofstra Club Defeats Matmen, 22-6

By Larry Levin

In a display of excellent swimming form and speed, the College's powerful crew of mermen swamped a weak Brooklyn Poly team, 55-29, last Saturday at the winner's pool. The victory in itself was decisive enough but the Beaver natators added insult to injury by setting three new college swimming records. They were established in the 300-yard Medley race, (Farber, Kellogg and Trasen) in which the amazing time of 3:11.2 was hit to smash the old mark of 3:11.5 set in 1925 against Kings Point.

In the 50-yard freestyle event, Steve Kesten splashed home in the blazing speed of 24.2 and chopped off .2 seconds from George Scheinberg's former record which had stood for some 20 years.

Arnie Farber with a time of 2:30.3 in the 200-yard backstroke broke Norm Klein's 2:31.5 of the 1952 Metropolitan Championships. During practice, Farber was barely reaching 2:35 but in the B.P.I. meet he was pressed hard by teammate Sol Stern causing Arnie to put on the extra steam to cop the event in record-breaking fashion.

It looks as if Coach Jack Rider has come up with a winner in both the team as a whole and in young Sophomore Jimmy Johnson, who placed second in the 150-yard Individual Medley and who easily won the 300-yard Medley event. The veterans Howie Schloemer, Bob Kellogg and Lou Ruffino, as anticipated, soundly whipped their Engineering opponents.

The College's wrestling team dropped its opening match of the season, this Saturday, to a highly touted Hofstra squad by a score of 22-6.

The Long Islanders are considered one of the best teams in the metropolitan area this season. Last season they captured eleven of their twelve bouts. Three members of the squad are Long Island champs. They are, Pete Demone, Billy Bear, and John DeGraff. Last year the matmen were beaten by Hofstra 24-8.

Sal Sorbera 123, took the first match for the Beavers as he outpointed Jack Wallace. This gave the grapplers a 3-0 lead. That was all the scoring they did for the next three bouts, as Seymore Holtzman 130, was pinned by John DeGraff; Al Taylor 137, was outpointed by Billy Bear, and Steve Karides 147, lost on a reversal to Bob Wilcott with only ten seconds remaining. The Beavers trailed at the end of the half-way mark 11-3, with four bouts still to go.

Co-captain Norm Balot 157, got the only other Beaver score, as he outpointed his opponent 8-4. The Long Islanders then captured the last three bouts: Jack Horowitz 167, and Ira Zingmond 177, lost on points. Newcomer Jim Michaels wrestling in the heavyweight class, finished the match by losing to McChesney on default.

Commenting on the game, Coach Sapora said, "We've made a very good showing. They were just a better team." Coach Sapora proudly declared, "Every man on Hofstra knew he was in a match." The Beavers next match is with the Long Island Aggies on Saturday.

Nimrods Take Second In Three Way Match

In a three-way round robin held last Friday, St. Johns defeated the College's nimrods and Stevens Tech. St. Johns scored 1399 points, the Beavers scored 1352 points and Stevens Tech had 1310 points.

Top men for St. Johns were White who shot 289, and Ciofero who shot 283. For the Lavender, John Marciniak shot 280, and John Miller shot 278.

Payne Paces Adelphi Five To Record Shattering Win

(Continued from Page One) racy. Led by senior captain Don Payne, who swished thirty-three points through the hoop, they rolled to a ten-point lead at half-time and were little threatened thereafter.

While Adelphi had five players who scored in double figures, the Beaver offense consisted largely of Merv Shorr's shooting feats. Merv canned twenty-eight points before a sudden leg muscle spasm put him out of commission late in the second half. The injury occurred as Merv was shifting direction with Adelphi breaking down-court.

The burly 6 foot 4 Shorr writhed in pain while aid was administered by the team trainer. He was helped off the floor and taken to the Medical office where Dr. Stern, team physician, examined him.

Since the injury does not involve a break, he will probably be able to play against Columbia this Saturday.

The game stayed close through most of the first half. At one stage the Beavers picked up a six-point lead, 21-15, but that was their only sizable margin of the evening.

Adelphi roared back in front with nine consecutive points featuring two quick baskets by Payne. When Payne wasn't scoring, he was being knocked to the floor in futile attempts to bottle him up.

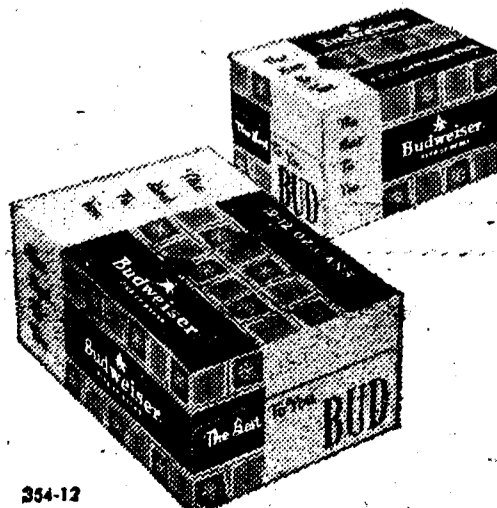

Employing Shorr in the pivot and four men out, the Beavers whittled the margin to six points early in the second half. That's as close as they got. Payne started his team off on a ten-point splurge by canning two of the fifteen fouls he ended up with. This rally virtually sewed up the win.
