Two Students In VP Race Ineligible

Two candidates for the Student Council vice-presidency were declared ineligible yesterday, leav ing Hank Stern '54 as the sole contender for the position.

Political observers, however, do not take Stern's candidacy seriously, since he is slated to graduate this year. Stern, who has been accepted to Harvard Law School, insists that he is a bona fide candidate.

Barney McCaffrey '55, former SC treasurer, was declared ineligible for failure to meet a College rule which states that in order to hold office or be a candidate for office' students must maintain a C-minus-4 scholastic average. Mc-Caffrey's average is C-minus-41/2.

Harold Jones '55, another vicepresidential candidate, was disqualified by the SC Judiciary Committee on the grounds that he had not been a member of SC for one full semester prior to his candidacy, as is required in Council by-laws.

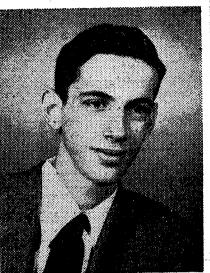

The Judiciary will meet again tonight at 6 to rule on the eligibility of Stanley Sokol '55, candidate for SC secretary. It has been charged that Sokol was expelled from SC last semester for excessive absences.

Elections for SC and Class of fices will be held next Friday. the eleven o'clock class.

Soviet Trip Election To Be Held Today

By Dave Ratkowsky

Eight students will be elected in a primary ballot today to run in the final ballot next week which will select three students to tour the Soviet Union this summer. These eight names will be chosen from a list of nineteen students who have filed petitions and submitted essays.

Students may vote at a booth which will be located in Lincoln Corridor near President Gallagher's office, or by filling out the ballot that appears beneath this article.

The Tour Committee, under the chairmanship of Hank Stern '54, sees the collection of money as its remaining main task. Several plans have already been set into motion for the collection of funds. These include sending letters to the faculty asking them for contributions, and appealing to outside organizations for funds.

Student Council has already appropriated 250 dollars for the tour, and students will be asked to make contributions at the booth while they are voting. A majority of students indicated they were willing to give some money for the trip in the SC referendum last spring.

Larry Gorkin '54, member of the Tour Committee, pointed out that this would be the first time that students going on a tour of this kind would be representatives of the student body. Russian Tour

Today, primaries will be held to nominate eight candidates for the proposed tour of the Soviet Union. A trip into Russia at this time is a much needed educational experience, for when it comes to factual knowledge about life in the Soviet Union, America may very well be an intellectual Siberia.

The lack of authoritative information concerning the Soviet Union is, of course, no fault of the American people. Involved in the current power struggle, Russia has deemed it necessary to pull down her shades as well as her curtains on the Western world.

The recent admittance of a group of editors to the Soviet Union, however, increases the possibility that a College delegation will be allowed a look-around in Russia. The need for first hand observations cannot be over-emphasized, whether they reinforce or refute the current impessions about the Soviet Union.

Those who do not make the trip must remember that they can beneit only through the reports of the elected representatives. We urge the student body, therefore, to choose intelligent candidates by intelligent voting in today's primary.

Letter From the Editor

In these days of doctored evidence we are quite sympathetic with the skepticism of Jerry Vanderberg, manager of the Used Book Exchange, who, in a letter to the editor of The Observation Post, declared one of our conscientious letter writers to be an unperson.

Actually the bewilderment of the erstwhile UBE manager is partly our fault; due to a typographical error the signature read "Roberta Litauer," when it should have been signed "Roberta Litwen."

We are disappointed, however, that the young bloodhounding book-manager checked everywhere, except with us, in his efforts to track down the lady who penned a rather vicious barb at his Exchange. We would have been quite willing to inform Mr. Vanderberg of the error and any other information he might have desired—perhaps even the latest on UBE hours.

As for his complaint that the UBE hours have never appeared in THE CAMPUS, we advise young Sherlock to refresh his memory by checking our issues once again.

Perhaps the shoddy methods which he has used to expose the "nefarious" facts of this case are also reflected in his management of the UBE, but at this late date we would prefer to refrain from making any evaluation. However we do invite more "Letters to the Editor" from our readers.

Could such a system be started here at the College?

Well, most of the profs consulted by The Campus didn't particugo for the idea. Prof. Frank Davidson (Speech) felt that unted cutting would not be at all effective. "The way a great ny of our classes are set up, a student would jeopardize his cess of learning by being allowed to attend at will," he thought, the keen competition that would be aroused by the system ald not be beneficial.

The game was a scoreless tie until the fourth inning, when CCNY Hofstra scored a run. With one out, left-fielder Paul Nacinovich misjudged Earl Everett's base knock and as a result Everett wound up on third base. Everett then scored on third-sacker Joe Abrazzo's single through the mid-

Losing Skein

A weak Lafayette squad may be just the tonic needed by the College's lacrosse team tomorrow when it seeks to snap a three game losing streak. The contest will be held at Lewisohn Stadium, starting time 2 P.M.

The last time Coach Leon "Chief" Miller's charges tasted victory was back on April 10 when the Beavers took the season's opener from Adelphi, 9-4, at the Long Islander's field. Since hen the stickmen have dropped three straight contests, to Stevens Pech, Hofstra, and Manhasset. Of he three, only the Manhasset game could even be called a con-

Co-captain Arnie Levinson, the eam's high-scorer, and Charlie Rowe, who missed the Manhasset ame due to injuries, will return to action tomorrow. Had Levinson peen available for the Manhasset racas, which the Lavender droped, 6-5, the College's record night now be even up 2 and 2, nstead of 1 and 3.

"We should take this one," Coach Miller said, commenting on the upcoming Lafayette tussle. "But you never know. The boys are out of condition, and haven't looked too good of late. They've been making a lot of stupid mistakes out there." The "Chief" continued, "Take the scrimmage game we played against Brooklyn Poly on Wednesday. We beat those guys easily two weeks ago, but we couldn't do a thing against them the second time, and they beat us, 6-1. You never know."

The Beavers will be ba heavily, as usual, on their tancemen. "Tom O'Brien an captain, Paul Pavlides, have turning in some fine rac late," the mentor stated, they'll be up against some standing men including G King of NYU, Don Townsen Jimmy Byrnes of St. John's Manhattan's Jim Debraggia

In the shorter distances, Bruce is depending on the Joe Gold and Jimmy Spend rack up some points for the ender. Both boys performed in last week's Hofstra meet Gold has broken fifty-one se for the quarter mile. The able favorite in the 440 wi Manhattan's Ron Lucas, who bettered fifty seconds on se occasions.

"We'll probably have a time scoring any points in field events," Coach Bruce tinued. "The other squads to be to strong in that de ment, while it definitely is weak point."

Once the Mets are his Coach Bruce is confident "the team will probably through the remainder of the son undefeated. Our only meet remaining will be
