Gallagher to Open Brotherhood Wk.

Pres. Buell G. Gallagher will promote the College's Brotherhood Week program which commences today in 306 Main at 10 and will last through next Friday.

The ceremonies are being cosponsored by the Student Government Human Rights Division, National Association for Advancement of Colored People and the College's three religious organizations.

After President Gallagher's speech, "Boundary Lines," a film dealing with the methods in which "lines" between people of different races are drawn, will be shown. This will be followed by a "rumor clinic," which will attempt to demonstrate the methods by which distortion spreads. The clinic will be presided over by Mr. Philip Brunter (Student Life).

Dean James S. Peace (Student Life) in the role of recording secretary, will sum up the achievements of the program.

This is the first time this type of program has been attempted.

Iris Goldstein '56 co-chairman of the committee in charge of the week's arrangements. "We expect to see a great deal of student participation in the program."

The second part of the program, designated "International Brotherhood" will be held during the week of March. The program will feature a panel of foreign students at the College, who will discuss the customs of their countries.

Entertainment will be provided by some of the College's clubs, including Hillel's Folk Dance group and an exhibition of Israeli dances.

The next week's program is being cosponsored by several of the international clubs on campus, and will be run in coordination with the Student Government International Agency.

APO Pledge Smoker In Lounge Tomorrow

Alpha Phi Omega's thirty-first semi-annual smoker for prospective pledges will be held tomorrow in the Faculty Lounge, on the fifth floor of Main.

APO is the College's honorary service fraternity.

Refreshments will be served at the smoker which will start at 8:30 in the evening, according to Gary Lewis '56, membership vice-president.

The party will adjourn later and both brothers and prospective pledges will retreat to the APO fraternity house at 467 West 143 Street.

Miss Venus to Be Chosen At Dance in Drill Hall Sat.

The Class of '58 will initiate its first school-wide, "gala" of the semester this Saturday night at 8:30 in Drill Hall.

The highlight of the evening will be the crowning of Miss Venus of '58, to be chosen by a panel of judges consisting of faculty members, their wives, and Barbara Robbins '58, the winner of the Miss World beauty contest. Tickets will be supplied by the King Kings, who recently appeared on Steve Allen's TV show. Eve Stone '58 and Larry Green '57 of Dramsoc, and Paul Green will do a routine comedy. Joey Ulmus, pantomime artist, Barbara Stern '58 and Bob Goldberg '58 will also offer talents.

A dimmed horseshoe area will surround the dance floor which will be decorated in carnival style, said Rosanne Farkas '58, coordinator of the affair. Tables for more than four couples may be reserved by contacting a member of the class council. Tickets are on sale in 20 Main at one dollar and twenty-five cents per couple.

Students Planning Petitions For Athletic Appropriation

By Sheldon Podolsky

Students of the four municipal colleges will present a united front in favor of the proposed 55,000 dollar 1955-56 athletic budget, Isabel Kersen '55, secretary of the Varsity Club, disclosed yesterday.

"The students themselves will bring the fight directly to the Board of Estimate," Miss Kersen said, "and the ammunition will be in the form of petitions." The Board is expected to act on the budget late in March.

Hillman Talk Opener Slated For Tuesday

"Government in the New York Area," the first of a series of four lectures in memory of the late labor leader Sidney Hillman, will be delivered Tuesday at 2 by City Administrator Dr. Luther Gulick in the Faculty Room, 200 Main.

Organized by the College's Committee on Cultural Relations in cooperation with the Division of Graduate Studies, the lectures will deal with "Aspects of Life in the Metropolitan Area."

"We have obtained the best speakers available in the field," said Prof. Harvey Lissim (Art), chairman of the Committee on Cultural Relations. "We hope to have a large attendance."

Future lectures will include such speakers as Judge Samuel Liebowitz and Dr. Joseph G. Cohen, Dean of Teachers' Education of the Board of Higher Education. The series has been made possible by a grant given to the College last fall by the Hillman Foundation for the purpose of having "at least two lectures on any subject the College chooses."

Judge Liebowitz will speak on "Juvenile Delinquency in the New York Metropolitan Area." He is recognized as one of the foremost authorities in the field. On April 5, Dr. Kenneth Johnson, Dean of the New York School of Social Work will speak on "Health Education Welfare for All." One week later Dr. Cohen will discuss "Education in Metropolitan New York."

All the lectures will take place in the Faculty Room and begin at 2. The series is open to all students at the College.

Action Lovers Invited To Join 'The Campus'

You may not get to cover the shooting down of Augusto Robles or even a Student Government officer, but if its action you want, The Campus will provide it.

The third candidates session of the semester will take place in 15 Main today at 12:15. All those interested in learning how to get the facts and how to write them up are invited to attend the sessions.

Lessons will be given in the art of news, features and sports writing. Potential business managers and artists are also welcome.

Rabbi Schultz Talks Here March 3; Will Discuss Communism in America

Rabbi Benjamin Schultz will speak on "Communism's False Masks in America" on Thursday, March 3, at 12:15. The speech, co-sponsored by the Robert A. Taft Young Republicans and Students for Americanism, will be given in 126 Main.

Rabbi Schultz is executive director of the American Jewish League Against Communism. He also led the "March on Washington" last fall to protest the Senate's censure hearing against Sen. Joseph McCarthy (R-Wis.).

Dan Hodes '57, president of SFA, revealed that Rabbi Schultz will "tell us to what extent he feels the Communist conspiracy has already subverted our national economy and corrupted the moral fibre of the American individual."

Hodes stressed the importance of the speech. "Rabbi Schultz may disclose what we can expect

Outlines Plan

Miss Kersen's plan is still in the formative stage. She has incorporated all four municipal colleges into the plan in order to appeal directly to the four borough presidents, Hulan Jack, (Manhattan), John Cashmore (Brooklyn), James Lundy (Queens) and James Lyons (the Bronx). The Board is made up of the five borough presidents, the mayor and the comptroller.

According to Miss Kersen, the drive will follow these lines:

(1) A meeting of two Varsity Club members from each municipal college will be arranged within the next week.

(2) Those present at the meeting will be given full details of the operation and will be responsible for petitions to be distributed among undergraduates for signatures. The petition will explain the necessity of a City athletic grant and the signees' desire for the passing of such a grant.

(3) At the end of a week's time the petitions will be collected and certified in writing by a certified public accounting student at the Baruch School as to the number of signatures and their validity.

(4) A delegation of two students from each of the colleges will then journey to City Hall and request a two minute audience with the Board of Estimate. During this audience, seven unsigned copies of the petition, each addressed to a different member of the Board, will be made available along with a package of the signed petitions.

Letters To The Editor

To the Editor:

It has been a practice in recent years for presidents of the municipal colleges to issue biennial reports to the Board of Higher Education on conditions at the schools. The current report is the first from the College since President Gallagher's predecessor, Harry N. Wright, submitted his last study tracing college life from 1951-1952. There are significant differences between the two reports.

The Wright report is more orderly in its presentation. It goes from the more important points to the less significant. The Gallagher study jumps from point to point, stressing areas in which there have been unfavorable public ramifications (Communists in the College, and athletic irregularities) and unusual curricular developments; important points are neglected entirely (major curriculum problems).

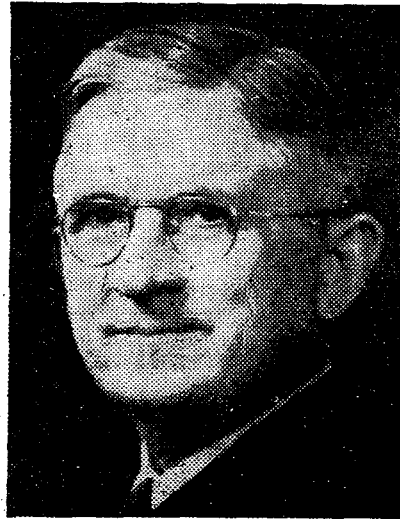

The Wright paper is more thorough in its treatment (seventy pages). The current report is very brief (only eighteen pages). Many questions are raised without any attempt to follow them through; other points are conspicuous by their absence.

There is a superficial discussion of the problem of overcrowding. Is it caused more by an inadequate number of classrooms or of teachers? What of the Manhattanville construction delays? What of the Hygiene teachers pay scale? What is the current enrollment? Is it rising or declining? How many rooms in the Student Union will be converted into classrooms?

What of curricular developments? How do our standards compare with those of other schools? Are the libraries adequate? Are we attracting scholars as students and teacher? What is the curriculum geared towards? What are specific problems of the Liberal Arts, Education, Technology and Business Schools?

Nothing was said about faculty or student groups or faculty-student relations to justify statements about campus democracy. What of the All-College Conference? The Buckvar Committee? The Committee of Five?

President Emeritus Harry N. Wright

The statements about there being a current Communist conspiracy to infiltrate the campus and the need to ferret out the guilty were a priori assumptions with no attempt made to substantiate them.

The president swiftly passed over finances. He didn't state major sources of money from city, state, national government and from students; nor did he state major expenditures. Why did the city's share of expenses go down, the students' go up? How much money is in the City College Fund? What gives Dr. Gallagher cause to believe that the Fund will do more than twice as well in raising its annual goal ($200,000) than it did in the past?

I for one would like to see another President's Report embodying answers to these and other questions.

hood Week at the College, Gallagher said, "Brotherhood is not optional—it is a necessity."

"In a world perspective, survival of humanity depends upon a thoroughgoing practice of brotherhood. In a campus perspective everything we are, or hope to be, is bound up in the kind of mutual respect and affirmative affect which ties men and women of diverse backgrounds into a single community of concern.

"Fortunately for us at the College, little needs to be said, except to encourage what is quietly being practiced every day of our lives."

Today, the president will present before a meeting of the General Faculty Committee, a proposal calling for the setting up of a student-faculty committee similar to those already adopted by the schools of Education, Arts and Science and Technology.

Dance Class to Form In Gym Today at 12

Ever get bored between the hours of 12 and 2 on Thursday? It's happened many times to many people, but as the saying goes, nobody does anything about it.

Last week, however, a group of students got tired of doing nothing. They stopped talking, looked at each other and said in unison, "Why not dance?"

Soooo . . . the Folk and Square Dance club will hold its first meeting of the term this afternoon at 12 in 104 Hygiene.

If you've got nothing to do, but hanker for some action, just step right in. Don't let Professor Branman scare you. He's only the caller, which gives you some sort of idea how much experience is necessary to partake in these dances.

is the first in a 'Campus' series on organizations at the College.

By Murray Pollock

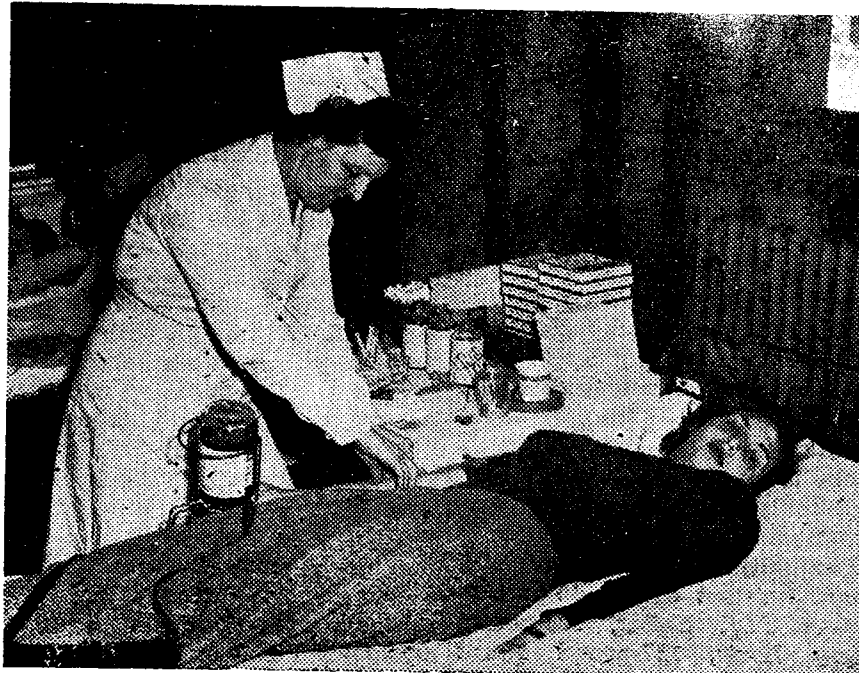

Three organizations which have become synonymous with service at the College, Alpha Phi Omega, Chi Lambda, and Webb Service Society, have formed the foundation of student service organizations at the college. The three organizations have worked together on between them the Used Book Exchange, Blood Bank, Student-Faculty Teas, Student Council Elections, Lost and Found and Schools Tours.

APO, dedicated to "service, friendship, and leadership" sponsors such service projects as Blood Bank, the Freshman Student Council Elections, Used Book Exchange, the Lost and Found and High School

Three years ago, Chi Lambda has grown to become one of the most popular female service organizations on campus. This group of girls, originally known as Sis Sim '55, has as its purpose the development of friendship and leadership among its members, and the rendering of service to the student body, the faculty, and the community. The group, which has now an active membership of forty girls, participated in such varied service projects as the redecoration and staffing of Knittle Lounge for a one-year period, working at Blood Bank, the Used Book Exchange, and at the High School Tours.

In addition to giving a Christmas Party at some hospital each year, Chi Lambda has run the Activities Fair, Parents Day, and participated at Commencement and Charter Day Ceremonies. One of the most successful and profitable of their projects was the auction which they held last semester to raise money for the World University Service.

The Webb Service Society adopted the constitution of their brothers, the Webb Patrol, and used as their motto, "Service, Fellowship, and Scholarship." The sixteen members of this one and a half year old organization have embarked on such projects as selling finals, helping the Student-Faculty Teas, and working on the Student Union project.

None Hurt, 2 Cars Damaged In Accident on Convent Ave.

An accident involving two cars occurred Monday morning at the corner of 141st Street and Convent Avenue. The collision resulted in damage to both vehicles, but no passengers were hurt.

The greatest damage was suffered by the 1952 Buick sedan driven by Alfort Williams, 39. The left front fender and bumper were severely dented. The other auto, a cab owned by the Roy Taxi Company and driven by Jasper Hamriok 34, had its right front fender dented. The taxi was coming up the 141 street hill and was struck by the Buick, traveling south on Convent Avenue after it was well into the intersection. Both drivers maintained that the light was in their favor.

A woman passenger in the cab was not injured. There were no passengers in the sedan. The scene of the accident, near Drill Hall, was the same corner on which Pauline Hauser '58 was injured by an auto last semester. Miss Hauser spent five weeks in the hospital and still wears a cast on her leg.

SPORT LIGHTS

Barring a mass kidnapping of the Beaver swimmers before Saturday's meet at Brooklyn, the Kingsmen have little chance of scoring an upset, according to the Beavers. "The boys consider this meet as a warm-up for the Met championships which will take place on March 5. Howie Schloemer, the Lavenders' record breaking free styler, looks even further to the Eastern championships to re-encounter a guy called Zucher from Pitt. Howie dropped both the 220 and 440-yard events to Zucher at the Easterns last year.

In a rambling interview Jack Rider, the coach, touched on the good and bad aspects of coaching a team such as ours, as well as on the problems that arise when a coach has swimmers of Schloemer's caliber.

"It seems to me that a swimmer like Howie, who in local circles can be considered great, gives a coach a great deal of satisfaction with a minimum of problems," he said. "There is, in place of conceit, a confidence which aids the boy as well as the team. Howie has been overconfident at times, such as at last year's Easterns, when he held back too long and couldn't close the gap in the 220-yard free-style event. The strain of his effort drained him to the extent that he lost the 440-yard event later in the afternoon."

"Things like that happen though, and a swimmer, like everyone else, learns. That is, some swimmers. There are guys who are stars only by virtue of lack of competition. This type of boy is the perennial troublemaker. He is the crybaby, he always has an aching back, or an aching leg, or he isn't getting enough attention from the coach. He swims one good meet, then misses practices, shirks the mat conditioning, and tells you, 'don't worry coach, you know me, I'll come through in the clutch.'

"He never does, though—he's the guy who falls flat on his face and loses the cinch meet. I'd much prefer to have the boy who works hard and does his best all the time—those boys have a way of becoming outstanding performers in the pool, and out of it. The self confidence born of effective practice is wonderful to see. The cockiness shown too often by second rate performers with inflated egos is hard for me, or any other coach to swallow."

All in all, it looks as if we have another Met championship to hang on our belts. Jack Rider feels that we may take eight of ten events in winning it, too. And, to restate the original theme, barring an act of God, we are a cinch to beat Brooklyn.

Sports Notes

The Varsity Club is holding a meeting tonight at 6:30 in 126 Main. The Club asks that all members of athletic teams and all those interested in aiding intercollegiate athletics to please try to attend. The purpose of the meeting is given in detail in the lead story of today's "Campus."

Tickets for the NYU-CCNY basketball game Thursday, March 3 at Fordham University, will go on sale today for day and evening session students at both centers.

Day session students can buy tickets in Room 2, Lewisohn Stadium from 12 to 3 PM.

The student price for Athletic Association members is fifty cents. The night of the game there will be general admission tickets only, at one dollar.

New Coach Sees Lavender 'Nine' Much Improved

The return of twenty-one varsity veterans gives baseball coach John LaPlace high hopes for the coming season.

Dr. LaPlace, newly appointed baseball mentor, formerly advisor to the golf team, and short-stop for the 1942, '46 and '47 Lavender nines, is determined to put the Beavers back in contention for the coveted Met Championship, which it won in '53.

Two reasons for optimism this year are Co-Captains Jim Cohen and Mike Kucklinka. Cohen, All-Met catcher two seasons ago and iron man of the Beaver infield, will be waving a potent club for the Lavender.

Short-stop Kucklinka, who was out the latter part of last season with a broken ankle, will be depended upon to take charge from his position.

Matmen Face Brooklyn Poly 'Team Play' Is Weakened

The Beaver grapplers will conclude the 1954-55 campaign, tomorrow, when they tangle with a tough Brooklyn Poly squad.

So far this season the locals have only been able to capture one match. This came against NYU last Saturday. With a 1-5 record, the Beavers should find themselves in good company as the Polymen are sporting a 1-6 ledger.

In his ninth year at the helm, Brooklyn Poly coach Ed Collins would like very much to beat the Lavender. "I have a lot of confidence in my squad," he said. "I can only say that I am very hopeful. Anyway you look at it, it looks to be a close match."

Brooklyn Poly, whose only victory came against Orange County Community College 28-3, will probably start this line-up: 123-pound Paul Salter, 130-pound Jerry Louis, 137-pound Norm Johnson or Joe Re, 147-pound Joe Settetanie, 157-pound Marshall Jones, 167-pound Bob Sievers, 177-pound John Heller, heavy-weight Anthony Marsaglia.

Wondering about how come the basketball team massacred at St. John's, 83-41, last Tuesday? It's a simple story: no shooting, no rebounding, and worse, no team play.

"They outthusted, outran, and outshot us," said Nat Holman, who spent the evening casting furtive glances at the ceiling of DesGrey gymnasium in Brooklyn while the hapless Beavers were being run into the ground.

"In our own class we give a good account of ourselves," he went on. "But we haven't got the personnel to compete with teams like Fordham and St. John's. We don't have the shooters and we don't have the height. We were forcing our shots at St. John's and they controlled the boards.

"I haven't got much material. My bench is very weak. Besides that many of the boys can't get up to practice on days when it conflicts with their classes. The other day I had to put the team manager in a scrimmage because there weren't enough men up for practice."

Taking into account the scarcity of experienced players on the squad, Holman is still not satisfied with the team's play. "They haven't made the progress I hoped they would. In this game you've got to have a pattern. At St. John's they weren't working the ball. There was no team play."

WHAT'S THIS? For solution see paragraph below.

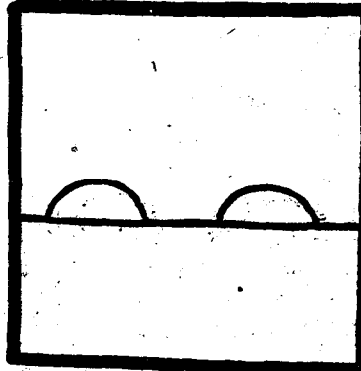

IT'S EASY TO SEE that the Doodle above is titled: Tired anthropologist relaxing with better-tasting Lucky behind freshly dug-up fossil. No bones about it, Luckies taste better to all sorts of people. College smokers, for instance, prefer Luckies to all other brands, according to the latest, greatest coast-to-coastest college survey. Again, the No. 1 reason for Luckies' wide lead: Luckies taste better. They taste better, first of all, because Lucky Strike means fine tobacco. Then, that tobacco is toasted to taste better. "It's Toasted"—the famous Lucky Strike process—tones up Luckies' light, good-tasting tobacco to make it taste even better... cleaner, fresher, smoother. So, enjoy the better-tasting cigarette... Lucky Strike.
