All-College Conference Report To Be Submitted to President; Five Year Tech Course Seen

A report made by last year's All-College Conference Committee will be submitted to Pres. Buell G. Gallagher next week, according to Prof. Harold J. Carter (Education), chairman of the body. Over twenty suggestions coming out of the conference will be included and the president will take whatever action he thinks necessary. The presentation of the report will complete the duties of the committee.

Among the suggestions for consideration made by the six student-faculty panels are that an honor system be instituted at the College, that a five year course of study for technology be introduced, that clubs be given the option of having a faculty advisor, and that the problem of credit load for responsible student leaders be surveyed.

Goes to Committee

Each of the suggestions will be listed with the appropriate body for its consideration. The majority of suggestions are slated to go to the Faculty Committee on Curriculum and Teaching Methods.

Action has already been taken by the General Faculty on the question of instituting courses in Comparative Religion. President Gallagher has been empowered to select a body to study the merits of the plan which originated from the conference.

Six Panel Discussions Held

The theme of last semester's conference was: "What are the Responsibilities of the City College for Developing Values in Thought and Action?" Twenty-five suggestions, similar to those in the report, were released after the discussions of the six panels.

The Conference Committee is expected to recommend that provisions be made for student-faculty forums throughout the academic year on minor problems. Although the idea of a periodic conference meets with the body's approval the committee feels that enough interest on the part of the students and faculty must be shown.

Prof. Harold Carter

Placement

Two teacher placement group conferences have been planned by the Office of Teacher Placement for all those engaged in student teaching during the fall term of 1955. The conferences will be held in the Faculty Room, 200 Shepard, today.

The administrative officials present at the first conference will be Mrs. Vesta F. Davis, of the Board of Examiners, Nathan Jacobson, principal of P.S. 94 in Manhattan and Sidney Rosenberg, principal of P.S. 75 in the Bronx.

The second conference will have a panel of school administrators from Long Island, New Jersey and Westchester.

On hand will be Dr. Donald Phillips, New Rochelle superintendent of schools, Mr. J. W. Fuchs, Palsades Park, N. J. superintendent of schools and Mr. Martin Walsh, administrative assistant of the East Meadow Public Schools.

Tutors

The Sigma Alpha Tutorial Service will give free aid to all students who apply for it.

The Service is also accepting volunteer upper classmen to act as tutors.

All students interested either in tutoring or receiving tutorial aid should make out an application in Student Government 151 Finley.

By Doris Ringler

Fifty-three student photographers have already entered the Student Government greeting card contest.

The five best photographs of scenes on the campus will be chosen as frontispieces for greeting cards. The cards will then be sold to students at one dollar per box of ten.

Contest Closes Nov. 11

Any day session undergraduate is eligible to enter the contest which closes November 11. All entries must be submitted on eight by ten glossy paper to the Student Government office 131 Finley.

The contest will be judged by Gloria Kingsley '57 Student Government president, John Sherwood '57, co-chairman of the greeting card committee and representatives of the Art and Photography societies. The awards will be as follows: first prize, fifteen dollars; second prize, ten dollars; and three other awards of five dollars each.

Serve Double Purpose

Sherwood explained that the cards will serve a double purpose for the student body. "On the one hand," he said, "they will supply students with handsome greeting cards depicting the College. On the other, the money invested in the cards will be returned to the Students in the form of activities sponsored by Student Government.

Beanies Voted Back By Council Decision

By Hank Grossman

Freshman Beanies will be back at the College next semester. In a meeting of Student Council held last night, a resolution providing for the sale of freshman beanies, a practice last conducted at the College in the 40's, was approved by a 14-7 vote.

The revival of beanie wearing is an attempt to offset the apathy which Council feels now exists on the campus. It is felt that the institution of freshman head-gear will serve as a means whereby "incoming frosh may identify themselves with the school."

Inter-Class Competition

A second part of the resolution provides for the setting aside of Thursday afternoons on which to hold competitive activities between the freshmen and sophomore classes. The entire resolution was referred to Inter-class Council for implementation.

Student Council's decision on the wearing of Beanies was praised by Sid Lawrence '56, chairman of the School Affairs Committee which originated a motion in a majority report to Council. Although Lawrence criticized SC for considering freshman beanies in "such a light-hearted manner" he felt that "any program for reducing student apathy must be based upon the newness and vitality of the freshman class."

Beanies to Combat Apathy

He was backed up in this by SC Vice-President Joel Resnick '56. Resnick states that "the identification of the freshman with their class and college should be one of the primary responsibilities of Student Government." He added the hope that "other organizations on campus will aid us in combating the student apathy which has its roots in the failure to inculcate spirit in the freshman class."

Brown Against Resolution

Bill Brown '57, Council's Treasurer, voiced a different opinion. Brown voted against the resolution because "I don't think that S.C. has the right to impose the wearing of any article of clothing on the freshmen without first getting their views on the subject.

The Rolling Wheel Societies non-voting representative to Student Council, Larry Shulman '57, is in favor of freshman beanies. "The resolution," said Shulman, "was in the spirit of Rolling Wheelism now prevalent on the campus. Our executive committee is meeting tonight to plan future action supplementing S.C.'s decision."

Although the wearing of freshman head-gear was discontinued many years ago at the College's Main Center, the Baruch Center has continued to the present, the practice of selling beanies to the frosh class.

Senior Prom

The Senior Prom has been a complete sell-out with six weeks still remaining before the dance, on December 17.

The entertainment for the dance, which is to be held in the Burgundy Room of the Hotel Moritz, will be headed by comedian Joey Adams, while "The Devil-Aires" and a ten-piece dance band will be featured.

All reserved seats must be paid for by Nov. 7 at 4. No seats will be held after this time. Any unpaid seats or returns will go on sale after this date.

Those still desiring tickets should apply immediately at 151 Finley on the chance that seats will become available. In the matter of all new seats, the policy will be "first come, first served."

Outing Tickets Still Available

Reservations for the House Plan camping trip over the Thanksgiving holiday are now on sale in the HP office, 131 Finley.

The three-day trip, which will leave for Surprise Lake Camp in Cold Springs, New York, on Nov. 24, will cost eleven dollars. Included in the price are food, lodging and transportation. A deposit must be made on or before Monday, Nov. 27.

Eli Bordowitz '57, chairman of the camping committee, commented that "the previous camping trips were usually held at Andover, New Jersey, but the facilities at Surprise Lake will afford us better activities. Although this is an HP-sponsored trip," Bordowitz continued, "students not belonging to HP may also come."

AND THEY COME OUT FIGHTING:

Co-eds Vie for Campus Queen Crown

Five finalists for the title of "Miss Campus Queen" will be chosen at the annual Carnival Queen dance at the Hotel Capitol in mid-town Manhattan, on Thursday evening, November 10.

Tickets for the dance will be available today, tomorrow and all of next week, in 331 Finley Center from 11 to 2. A special ticket booth will be set up in Lincoln Corridor for the benefit of technology students.

Contestants Meet Today

Among the "Campus Queen" contest judges will be Mrs. Jerry Gold, Mrs. Dave Newton, and Prof. Coleman O. Parsons (English).

There will be a meeting of contestants today at 12:30 in 348 Finley. It is still possible for anyone to enter the contest at this meeting. It is of great importance for each applicant to attend.

Bunny Gold

The "Queen" will be chosen at the House Plan Carnival on December 10.

Five Finalists Get Awards

Regardless of who is voted the winner, all five finalists will receive awards. Some of the prizes will be: a beauty course from Helena Rubinstein's; gowns from Ohrbachs; gloves and handbags from A. S. Beck Shoe stores. The "Queen" will also receive luggage, sweaters, perfumes, and many other special gifts.

Prospective student entertainers should apply in 331 Finley. Any student organization may still apply for booths in the same room.

Proceeds from the dance will go to the United Nations Children's Fund.

Beanies Are Back

The Beanie has returned to the College and with it, many feel, the School Spirit that has lain dormant for some time. The Beanies are to serve as an identifying process, which will make the freshman feel a closer bond to the College. This close bond is to be an aid in fostering a positive attitude towards the school, and as a result a better school spirit.

The idea of a Freshman Beanie is a novel one and should be a familiar sight on college campuses; but to base a great deal of hope for the rejuvenation of a collegiate spirit on a tiny piece of felt is too optimistic an ideal.

Looking at it realistically, something more than a Beanie will be needed to revive a spirit which has at times been frighteningly close to oblivion. It is hard to picture any beanie causing that change which will turn an apathetic freshman into one imbued with a strong desire to participate in Collegiate activities. Although the Beanies are not compulsory and will lose much of their effectiveness, they are a step in the right direction, for they do show, at least, that there is an awareness by student leaders that something is lacking in the overall attitude towards Collegiate affairs. Perhaps more time should be spent on investigating ways in which to make the student body more conscious of what the College can offer it in the realm outside of classroom studies.

It will take a lot more pressure than an eight ounce beanie can exert to affect the minds of students here, but at least we now have an indication that action is being taken towards remedying the situation.

Beaver Boosters

The time has long since passed when the need for a booster organization was necessary. In former times, there was little necessity of asking students to come out and support the College's teams. But now, the athletic events are all too often attended by only a handful of spectators.

The booster idea is not new. The College has tried it before. So have many other schools. In fact, when the soccer team meets Brooklyn College on Election Day in Lewisohn Stadium, the Kingsmen will have a group of sixty females in the stands rah-rahing it up for them.

In an attempt to counter-act the complacency of the College's students and re-stimulate interest in the sports program, the Cheerleaders are trying to organize the Beaver Boosters. They are meeting today in 02 Abbe with the hope of getting enough people interested so that they can have a representation at the Election Day soccer game. Let's hope they are successful.

Student Aid

With the addition of the new self bussing system, students will now be expected to clear their own trays from the tables. A little extra work by the students will result in a neater cafeteria and a saving of money for the College.

A little cooperation will go a long way.

Bookstore Sets South Campus Opening Date

The College's new bookstore, located in the sub-basement of Finley Center, will officially open next Monday, according to Mr. Ronald Garretson, bookstore manager. However, there is a possibility that the store might begin selling tomorrow.

The shop will carry a much larger selection of text books, paper-back books, engineering supplies and school notebooks. In addition, it will offer a full line of subscriptions to magazines.

Six Counters

There will be six separate counters in the store, each one having its own cash register. This system will enable students to make their purchases quickly and eliminate the inconvenience of long lines.

The hours will be from 8:45 to 5 every day and from 6 to 9 in the evenings. The number of evenings per week that the store will remain open has not yet been decided.

Among the new items that will be available are bathing suits, sneakers and girl's gym suits.

Large Sportswear Selection

The store intends to expand its sportswear department and will offer such things as wool sweaters in the school colors, sweatshirts and heavy wool jackets.

In addition, the store will carry social stationery, greeting cards, candy, stuffed animals and other novelties.

Typewriters will also be sold and, as a special service to students, they will be offered on an installment plan and trade-in basis. Later on, the store plans to institute a system whereby students will be enabled to rent typewriters.

Mr. Garretson stated that all suggestions as to what the store should add to its stock will be welcome.

Lock and Key

Lock & Key, the senior honorary society, has announced it will accept applications for membership. Any student who will be at least a lower senior by next semester is eligible to apply.

Applications may be picked up at Room 152 Finley Hall and must be handed in to that office no later than Thursday, November 17.

Lock & Key seeks "to recognize those seniors who have shown outstanding leadership in some phase of College activity." The society also performs service projects for the College.

Photo Contest

"The cards can be used for all special occasions," Sherwood continued. "As a matter of fact, we are trying to influence the U.S. Army to use them when sending out greetings to prospective draftees."

Miss Kingsley said that "it is preferable that the photographs not be just of buildings, but of students participating in activities on the campus." SG has already commenced taking orders for the greeting cards.

The cards, which will be ready for distribution by the week of Thanksgiving, will be sold around the campus by fraternities, House Plan and other student organizations.

Balloting Begins Today In 'Ugly Man' Contest

Fresh from Halloween trick or treat forays, candidates for the Ugly Man title, in both student and faculty contests, are practicing facial contortions today as voting begins.

Voting booths have been set up opposite Knittle Lounge on the North Campus and outside Park Hall (Girl's Gym) on the South

Each booth will display photos of the contaminated contestants and receptacles for contributions. The APO brothers staffing these booths have been equipped with special smoked glasses to protect their tender sensitivities from the strain of seeing the contestant's horribly contorted faces over an extended period of time.

Proceeds from the balloting — minimum vote this term is five cents — will go to combat polio in the name of the late Sheldon Scherr.

Eight students and four faculty members have entered the contest thus far and all are radiating repulsive confidence.

Vic Ziegel '58, necromancer deluxe and phantom Campus contestant, issued a victory statement last night on the eve of the voting.

"I have nothing to fear but my own reflection in the mirror."

Green-eyed and dimpled, pretty Rosalind Rock (34-2495) is one of George Washington High School's contribution to the College this term.

A student in the College of Liberal Arts, Rozzy has lived in New York all her life. She likes dramatics, loves to dance, dabbles in journalism and is pretty good on a pair of ice skates.

Self Bussing System

A new "self bussing" system has been instituted in the Finley Center cafeteria.

Students are now expected to remove their dishes from the tables and place them on trays provided for that purpose.

The reason for the new ruling is to provide a neater cafeteria and to save money, which will result in increased services and lower food costs.

The policy was initiated by the Student Government and approved by the Student-Faculty Cafeteria Committee.

The new cafeteria, which opened last Monday, contains three student dining rooms, each seating 320 people, and one faculty dining room.

Hot lunches are served from 10:45 to 2, and hot dinners from 4:30 until 7. The cafeteria griddle is open between 2 and 4:15 in order to serve late afternoon meals.

ENGINEERING GRADUATES

Activities at the California Division of Lockheed Aircraft Corporation cover virtually every phase of aeronautical endeavor. A total of 45 major projects is in progress.

The expanding development and production program has resulted in 13 models of aircraft now on production line—huge airliners, commercial and military cargo transports, extremely high-speed fighters, jet trainers, radar search planes and patrol bombers.

Development projects are even more diversified, include nuclear applications to aircraft, turbo-prop and jet transports, advanced versions of vertical-rising aircraft and a number of other significant classified projects.

This capacity to develop and produce such a wide range of aircraft is important to career-conscious engineers. It means more scope for your ability, more opportunity for promotion with so many projects constantly in motion, more job security—because your career is not restricted to one type of plane.

Lockheed representatives will be on campus Wednesday, November 9, 1955 to discuss how the company's diversified development program can advance your career.

For interview see your Placement Officer.

Booters Return to Action; Harriers to Encounter Iona To Face Ft. Schuyler, Sat. At Van Cortlandt, Saturday

After a well-needed ten day layoff, the College's title-contending soccer team returns to action this Saturday against the New York Maritime Academy at Fort Schuyler. The Beavers then take a two day rest before they face Brooklyn College in Lewisohn Stadium on Election Day.

In their last two outings, against Queens and the Long Island Aggies, the booters did not show the form which carried them through most early season competition in relatively easy style, bringing them victories over Pratt, Army, Kings Point, and Adelphi. The Queens squad battled Coach Harry Karlin's team to a 2-2 tie, while the Beavers just managed to edge out the Aggies, the last place club in the Met Standing, by a 2-1 count.

In Top Shape

But Coach Karlin thinks that the extended rest is just what the booters needed to return them to their early season style. "We played three games in eight days, before the rest," Karlin commented. "But now, the squad should be in top shape."

In meeting the Fort Schuyler club, the Beavers will be battling the "dark house" of the Met Conference. Early season estimates did not place the Mariners in favorable light, but their showing to date, they were in third place behind the College until yesterday when they were defeated by Queens, 3-1, have shown NYMA to be tough. They fought the league leaders, Hunter, to a 1-1 tie.

Coach Surprised

That the NYMA has been a surprise ballclub has even bewildered their coach, Myron "Bus" Recordon. "We have a young ballclub," he commented, "with only three seniors in the lineup. I never anticipated doing so well, only taking each game as they came."

Once the Beavers have encountered Fort Schuyler, they still have two more games before they wind up the season on Nov. 14, against Hunter. Brooklyn, the squad they meet on Election Day, got off to a slow start this season, but as of late, the Kingsmen have come into their own. The Brooklynites have won their last two outings, the last against Pratt, to move them into fifth place in the standings.

With the Met Conference as close as it is now, the fight for the championship may well go down to the very last game of the season, when the booters meet the Hunter Hawks in Lewisohn Stadium.

Met Standings

Polansky Hopeful; Still Shy Tall Men

With tryouts for freshmen basketball entering the second and last week before completion, Coach Dave Polansky is optimistic about this year's turnout; so much so, that he is having difficulty in deciding whom to cut.

The main need, however, is the addition of at least two big men, the coach explained, but with the wide range of material, he still may be able to come up with a squad comparable to last season's. One standout hoopster is Bernie Mennis, who played for stuyvesant High's varsity.

After the completion of tryouts some time next week, Coach Polansky will start work in preparation for the start of actual play

In what figures to be a real close meet, the College's Cross-Country team will encounter a well balanced Iona squad this Saturday in Van Cortlandt Park at 1.

Both teams have lost only one meet, while the Beavers have won three and Iona two. The Gaels dropped one to a powerful Manhattan (18-45) outfit and triumphed over Montclair State (32-34) and Adelphi (26-31).

Harry deGirolamo

Howard Bulger, Gael mentor is reluctant to predict the outcome of the meet, but feels that both clubs have the potential to really open up with a fast three miles.

Expected to compete for Iona is O'Donnell Joshua, whose best time of 26:54, is better than any the Beaver hill and dalers have produced.

Bulger announced that along with Joshua, his lineup will consist of John Connelly, Phil Karpinsky, John Goldstein, Robert Howell, Larry Thorpe, Fred Natal and Enzo Vialotta.

Though the Iona victory over Adelphi was more impressive than the Beavers (27-28), Coach Harry deGirolamo can look to better things with the vast improvement of Brian Quinn. Quinn recorded the best three mile time this season for the College with a 28:28.
