Gallagher Makes Speech At Tuskegee Univ...

Pres. Bule G. Gallagher called for "moderation" on the issue of desegregation in a speech at Tuskegee University on March 25. He defined moderation as "the quiet courage to welcome the inevitable and to step into the future without fear." The address was in commemoration of the 75th anniversary of the founding of Tuskegee University by Booker T. Washington.

President Gallagher praised the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People by placing it near the top of the list of those who have worked gradually and without the tools of terror and excess. He explained that the NAACP waited a quarter century before bringing its first suit to open up a single graduate school to one Negro, and that the much publicized case of mob violence at the University of Alabama was a perfect illustration of the gradualism with which the organization works, since Miss Lucy applied for the University in 1950. He went on to say that the extremists are those who challenge the Supreme Court decision, and talk irresponsibly of resort to armed force in defiance of the law of the land. "Men of good will and high conviction must refuse to heed the siren calls of political opportunists and parlor demagogues, and must be undeterred by the threats of the extremists and undaunted in our expectation of the inevitable," he explained.

"Today," President Gallagher continued, "We stand in the opening stages of the third great phase of American racial patterns. Slavery has gone, giving way to caste; now caste is doomed, and the gimmerings of democracy are before us." He continued, "Everybody knows that racial caste and democracy are in irrepressible conflict. The only differences are between those who want democracy and those who prefer caste."

President Gallagher once again lashed out at Senator James O. Eastland of Mississippi, calling him "the voice of rearguard reaction, defending a caste system which is on its way out just as surely as slavery was once on its way out of American life." "There are always men who shout their defiance of the onward movement of events. We hear them but are unmoved.

Listen rather to the quiet voice of human understanding, leading us forward, undismayed and undeterred."

Annual Boatride Sponsored by S.G.

The annual Boat Ride, co-sponsored by Student Government and Alpha Phi Omega, will be held on Sunday, May 6th, according to Chairman Jerry Friedman '57 and Paul Siegeman '57. Tickets will be on sale starting Monday, April 9th in 126 Finley, near the first floor dance lounge. The boat, Hudson River Dayline's Peter Stuyvesant, will leave West 42nd Street at 9:30 and arrive at Bear Mountain about noon. Food can be bought or you can bring your own lunch. There will be dancing aboard to a five-piece band, with music piped to all corners of the ship. The boat will leave Bear Mountain at 5:30 and is expected to return at 8:30. Tickets are $2.00 each.

Up at Bear Mountain, softball games will be organized, there will be rowing for those who desire it, and the panoramic view of the Hudson and surrounding countryside will create breathtaking scenes for camera lovers and lovers in general.

Student identification is necessary at the time of ticket purchase (all Student Activity Cards will be stamped with the ticket number). Identification by other means as well as Activity Cards will be required of all participants on the Boat Ride. No non-CCNY students will be allowed unless accompanied by a City College student.

In honor of the event, all APO members will be seen carousing around in white yachting caps. They will be glad to refer all inquiries to the proper source of information.

Faculty Comm. Met Last Week in Decisionless Conf.

By STAN HANDLER

The General Faculty Committee on Student Activities, meeting for three hours in a closed session on March 26, was unable to reach a decision on the fate of compulsory membership lists at the college. Dean James S. Pease (Student Life) described the meeting as having "extremists on both sides."

Howard Schumann '58, Chairman of the Political Action Committee, which has been fighting lists at the College, had this to say, "This is the first time that we have had any substantial representation for our point of view on any faculty committee," he added. "We feel the trend is settling in our favor."

GFCSA Meets

The GFCSA meeting was the second of the month called to discuss the issue of membership lists. At its earlier meeting on March 9, the Committee had decided to table the question until March 26, when all its would be able to attend. The Committee members from the Baruche Center, who had been absent from that meeting, were present at this one. The meeting took place in Room 200 Shepard Hall.

Schumann, still PAC Chairman, commenting on PAC's proposed plan to substitute voluntary club lists for compulsory ones declared

"the solution which we have recommended is a reasonable and fair one and I certainly hope that the present indecision of GFCSA will be quickly resolved in favor of this plan." "WE are anxious to return to campus as soon as possible to resume our political activity, however we can only do this once the air has been cleared of all the restrictions on such activities. We feel that this can be done by rescinding compulsory membership lists."

Prof. Michael Kraus, (history) GFCSA chairman said that "the committee was planning to hold another meeting in the near future, as soon as possible, in order to reach a final decision on the membership lists question. asdf546 #%%)kjmn

Stud Council Takes Action

By RALPHY DAMHEISER

Student Council reversed itself at its last meeting before the Easter vacation by agreeing in principle to having two minutes of silent meditation in sympathy with the plight of the Negro in the South.

Mediates

Council had voted at an earlier meeting not to sponsor the mediation in conjunction with the College's chapter of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

Appeal

However, after an appeal from four members of the NAACP, including former Student Government Treasurer Dudley McConnell, Council agreed to reconsider its previous action.

Appointed

A three-man committee was appointed by S.C. to ask Pres. Gallagher to grant his official sanction to the idea and set aside a specified time for mediation.

Move

In another move, Student Council referred a proposal to the Student Athletic Association. The proposal, submitted by S.C. Treasurer Arnold Deuchtman, asked the College not to participate in any athletic contests with schools who practice segregation.

College G & S Now Rehearsing

The City College's Gilbert and Sullivan Society is now in rehearsal for their forthcoming production of "Pirates of Penzance." The operetta, the fifth of the group's career, will be seen on May 11 and 12 at the Chelsea School, Ninth Avenue and 27th Street. Tickets at one dollar, will go on sale about April 15th.

According to Fred March, '57, president of G & S, the group has some of the finest talent in the school. Carole Joy Dawkins '58, and Annette Gritz Carrelle '57, have both made professional appearances and plan to make singing their careers.

The cast of "Pirates" will be headed by Ralph Fried '56, playing the Pirate King, Annette Gritz Carrelle as Mabel, and Richard Solow '58 as the Major-General. The other solo parts are filled by Leonard Goldensberg '58, Al Friedman '56, Carole Joy Dawkins, Helen iFeld, '57, Judith Goldsmith '58, Mary Boris, '59 and Fred March.

The technical side of the production will be handled by Alan Sklar '59, Bob Schwartz, and Anita Stienmetz '59 as music director, stage director and choreographer.

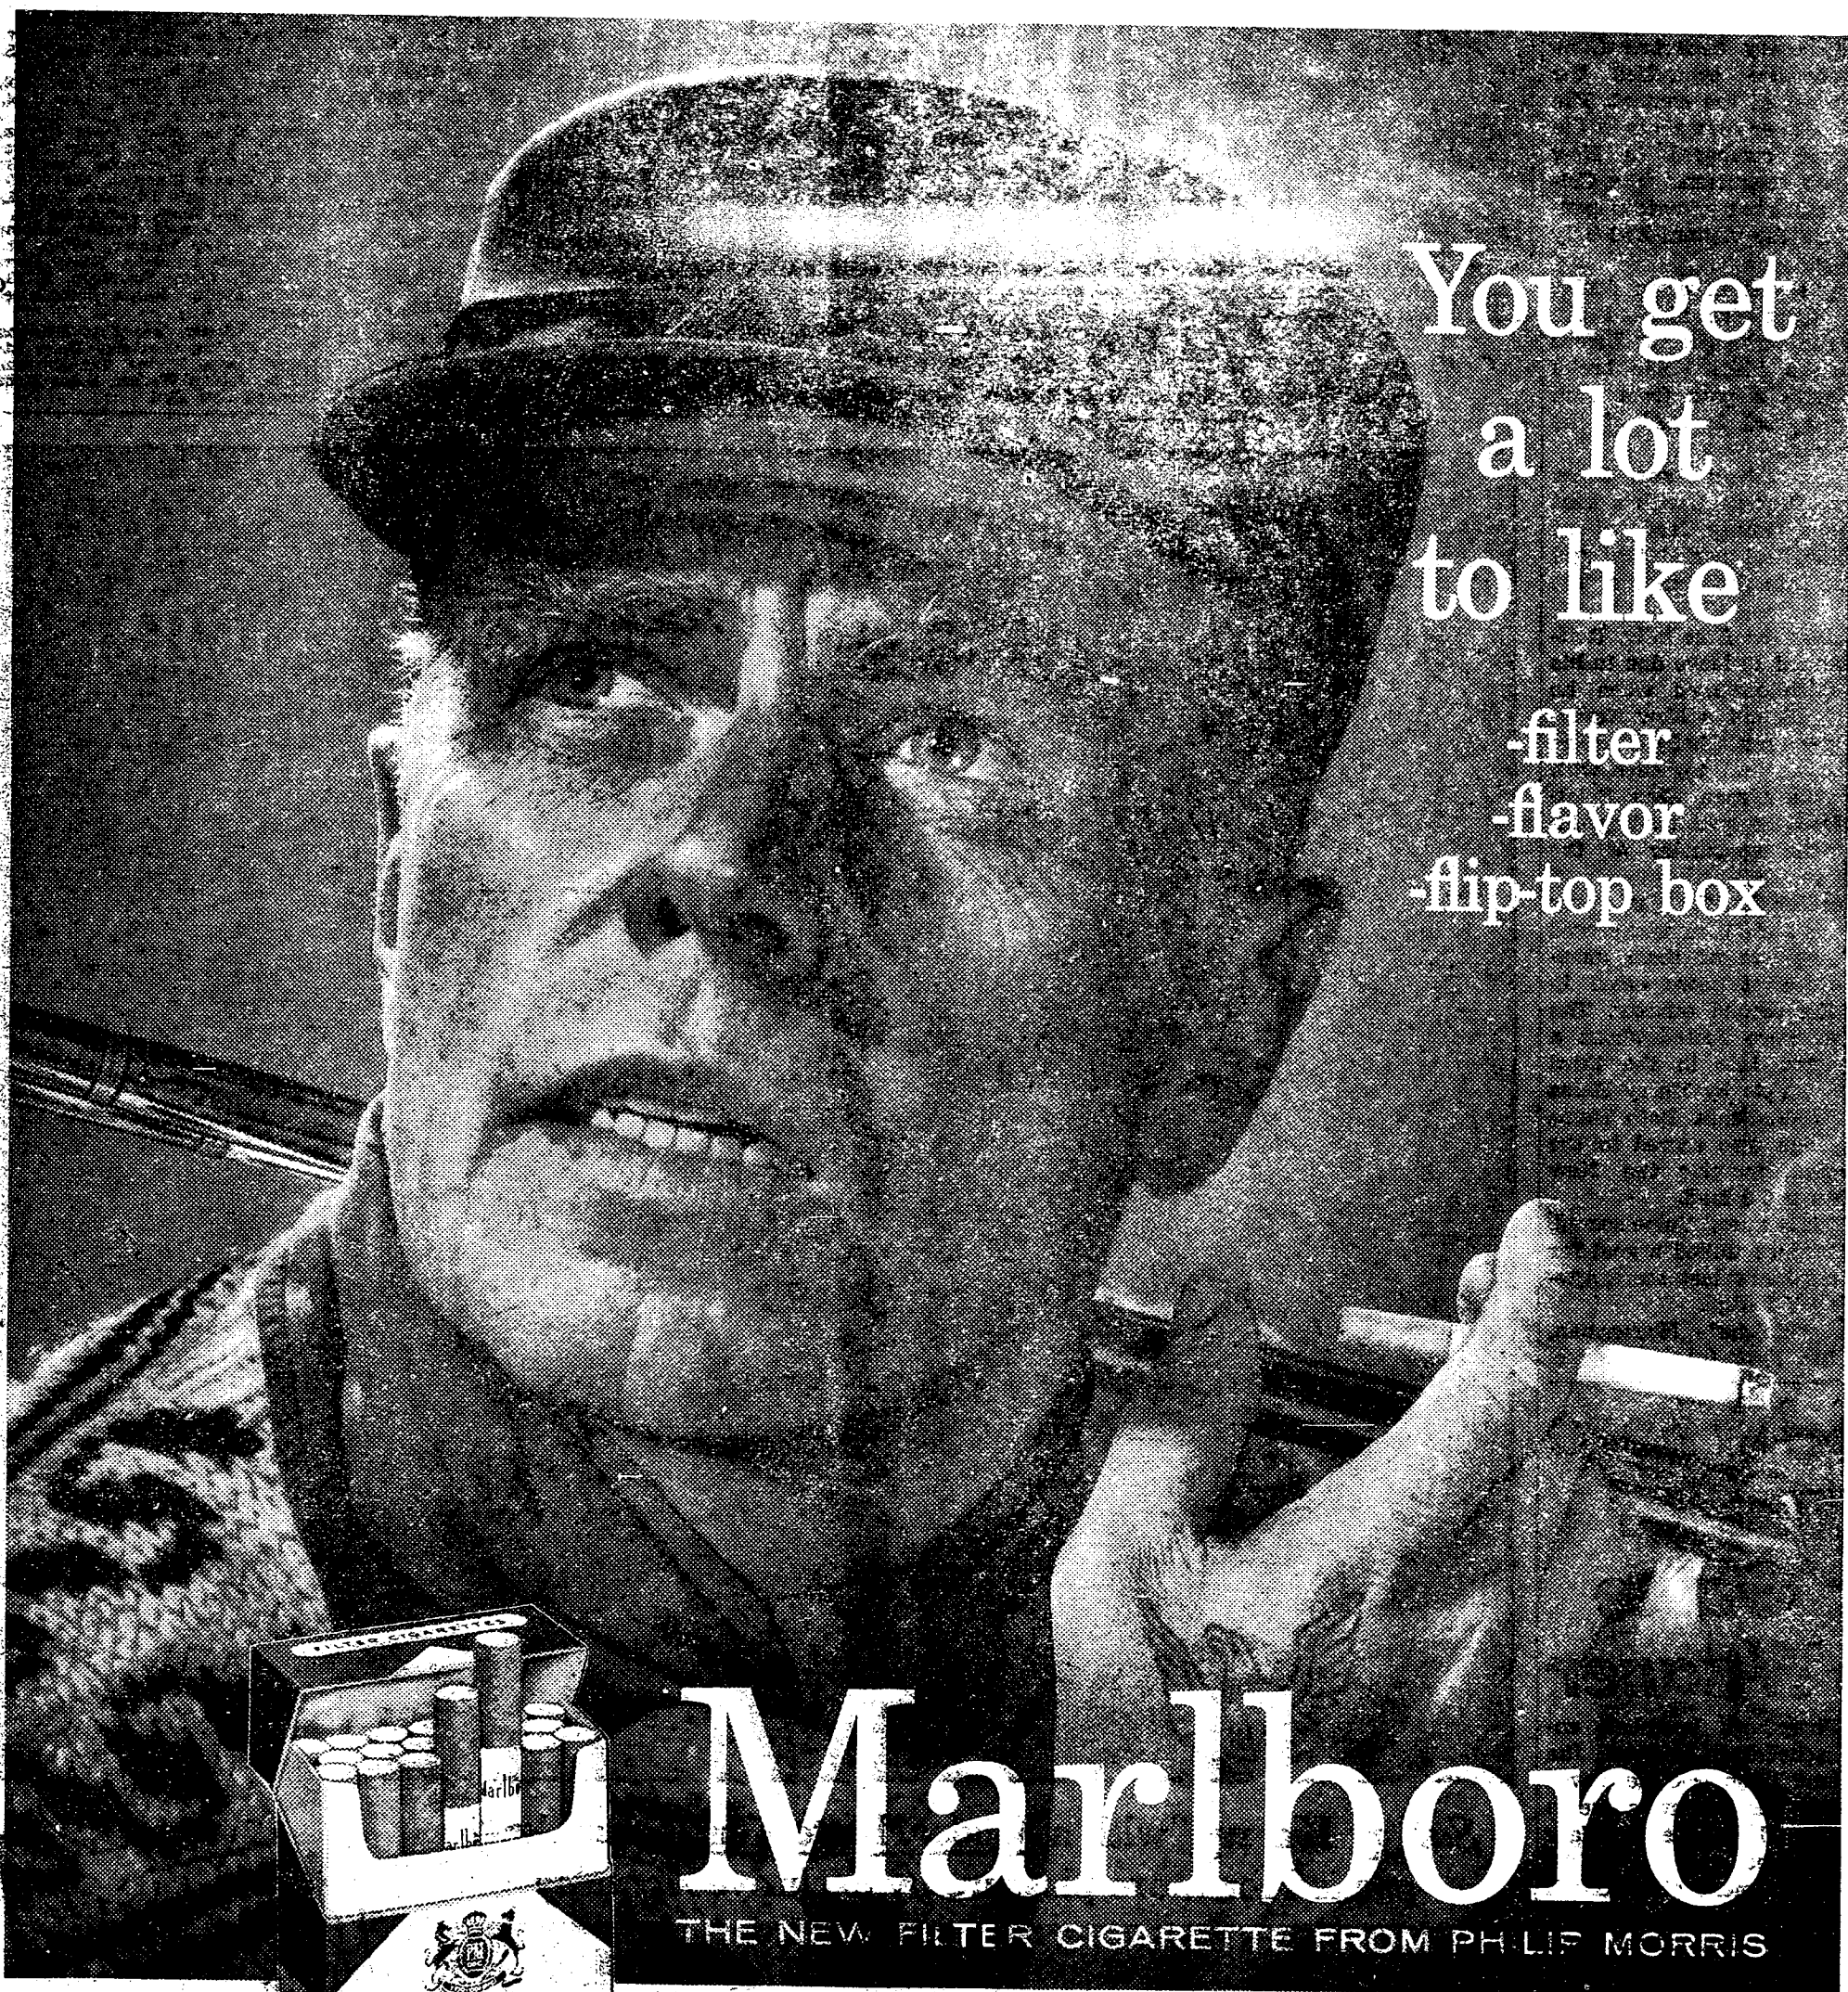

In speaking of the Society, Mr. March said that it has two aspects, that of a social group and of the serious group, putting on a show. They work as an entertainment group besides their semi-annual productions. On April 13, in conjunction with Dramsoc, they will entertain the tubercular wards at Bellevue Hospital.

Referring to their present endeavor, he also expressed the need for several tenors and a few more female voices in the chorus. Anyone with a good voice is invited to attend their meetings.

Sour Notes Mark Lacrosse Opening . . . They Lose . . . Game (7-2) & Goalie Reifler

By LOU EGO

The College's lacrosse team started its season off on a sour note last Friday, as the University of New Hampshire handed the stickmen a 7-2 defeat.

The game also marked the loss of Beaver goalie Zonnie Reifler for an indefinite period due to a broken collar bone. The same injury kept Reifler out of play for most of last season.

Playing on the muddy, wind-swept field of Lewisohn Stadium, the Beavers were a small match for the more experienced New Englanders, who were playing their third game in as many days. In the previous contests, New Hampshire lost to Penn State, 7-2, and beat Adelphi, 11-4.

The Beavers were outplayed in practically every department, as New Hampshire controlled the ball for most of the contest. The Beavers took only six shots in the entire game, compared to New Hampshire's seventeen. The College also collected seventeen penalties, while the visitors had only four.

The game was never in doubt, as New Hampshire blanked the Beavers for three periods before the College's Mike Volpe broke through with a pass from Ron Bose for a goal in 3:36 of the fourth period.

New Hampshire's Ansel Jones tallied the first goal with a shot from about twenty feet out at 4:15 of the first period that got by Reifler into the corner of the goal.

Soon after the first tally, Reifler was forced to leave due to his injury, which occurred when he tried to block out a New Hampshire attack man. Shelly Cashdan replaced him, and together with regular attack man Stan Spielman, shared the goal tending duties for the remainder of the game.

High scorer for the game was the visitor's Jim Miller who scored three goals, one of them unassisted. His first score came in 7:55 of the second quarter. The other two were scored about a minute apart late in the third period on assists by Harry Heins and Ralph Wadleigh. Both Heins and Wadleigh also scored in the same period, to give the New Englanders a 6-0 lead.

After the Beavers' Volpe scored, George Gardner tallied a goal for New Hampshire's last score, giving them a 7-1 edge.

Morris "Moishe" Hocherman, playing his first lacrosse game, scored the College's last goal. Moishe came from about midfield to score unassisted at 13:05 of the final period.

Coach Leon "Chief" Miller
Sour Note

Coach Leon A. "Chief" Miller wasn't disappointed at the loss. "New Hampshire has a very good club," the Chief commented after the game, "and considering that we have a very green team we did all right. They beat us in every department, but that's because we made a lot of mistakes that were due to our inexperience. With good weather, so that we can hold some outdoor scrimmages, and a couple of breaks, we should do all right for the rest of the season."

The lacrosse team's encounter is on April 7 against the Alumni in Lewisohn Stadium.

Well, the judges have been going over the answers you fans submitted to our OPICTURE PUZZLE and the laughs on all of you who listened to the clues printed in Campus.

Mud There Cause of No Game At Wagner

Last Saturday's baseball encounter scheduled between the Beavers and Wagner College was called off by the Seahawks due to wet grounds. The rescheduled date has not been set yet.

The postponement gives Coach John LaPlace an additional week to round the diamondmen into shape before the team meets St. John's this Saturday away. Bad weather had forced the mentor to hold practices inside the gym before last week. Due to this situation he has been unable to see much of the Beaver nine in action.

St. John's, 1955 Metropolitan Intercollegiate Baseball Conference Chumps, will probably be the Lavender and Black's toughest opponent. "It's a tough foe to face for the opening game of the season," opined the baseball head.
