Columbia Wins Twice — On the Court, On the Air

Lions Down Cagers By 92-75 Score; Forte Gets 42

By Ed Kosner
and Vic Ziegler

The College's basketball team stepped out of its class last night and ran right into Chet Forte. The 5-9 Columbia guard scored 42 points and led the Lions to a 92 to 75 victory over the Beavers at the University Hall gym on Morningside Heights.

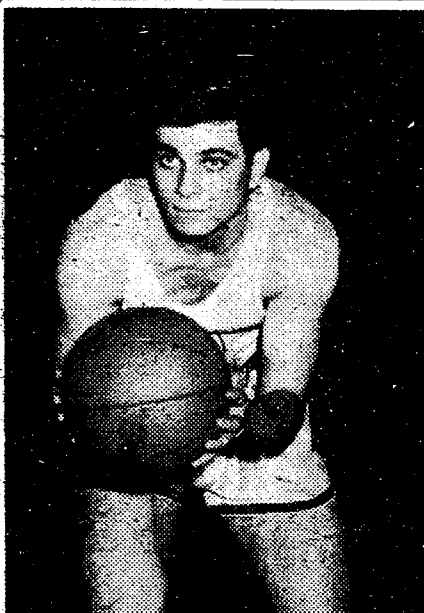

Forte tallied on eighteen of 33 shots from the floor and added six free throws to break the previous Columbia record of 41 set by Jack Molinas in 1953.

The Beavers—playing a loose, disorganized game and losing the ball repeatedly—fell behind in the early minutes of the first half as Forte, forward Ed Dwyer and Rudy Milkey, the Lions 6-5 center, hit consistently from all points on the court.

Levy Bottled Up

Center Syd Levy, who was counted on to be the big gun for the Lavender was bottled up effectively by a collapsing Lion defense. The big Beaver notched only twelve points, eight of these coming in the second half.

The play of Joe Bennardo was the one bright spot for the Lavender. The 5-9 guard sunk four field goals and went seven for seven from the foul line to become the Beav-er's high scorer with 15 points. His back-court cohort, Ralph Schefflan hit for fourteen and forward Bob Silver chipped in with eleven.

Scoring on 38 of 75 shots from the floor, the Lions hit for a phenomenal shooting average of 51 per cent. The best the Beavers could do was a mediocre 30 per cent: 26 for 82.

Even in Second Half

Down by twenty at the half, old Allagaroo held the light blue on even terms throughout the second stanza. When Columbia coach Lou Rossini cleared his bench they cut the Lion lead to seventeen points.

Prof Beats Stempel On TV Quiz Show For $20,000

By Barbara Ziegler

Herb Stempel, a veritable Wizard of Oz for eight weeks on the television quiz show "Twenty-one" lost out last night to Columbia Professor Charles Van Doren who refused to play the cowardly Lion.

Battling his way out of a tie worth 2,500 dollars a point, the professor chose to halt the game at a moment when he was leading Stempel by a score of eighteen to ten. This resulted in a loss of 20,000 dollars for the senior and left him with 49,500 dollars out of his previous 69,500 dollars.

Donates to College Fund

Speaking with emcee Jack Barry after the contest, Stempel said he would use at least part of the money "to outfit my family" and would "make a contribution to the College Fund" in return for the education he had received.

In saying goodbye to Stempel who had appeared on the show for the past eight weeks, Barry congratulated him on his "knowledge, fighting spirit and courage."

Herb Stempel lost his chance last night to become the biggest money maker on television.

At one point in the contest, Stempel led the professor sixteen to nothing and stood to win 111,500 dollars if he chose to stop. He didn't, and thereby missed his chance to become the biggest money winner on television.

Misses on "Marty"

From that point on, Stempel's luck began to fade. He failed to name the picture "Marty" as the winner of the 1955 Academy Award for the best film and wound up in the 2500 dollar-per point tie with Professor Van Doren.

He next missed an eleven point question on newspapers and fell behind the professor eight to nothing. Although he answered the next question correctly, so did the professor, who then stopped the game and put an end to the Stempel era.

Accept Student Insurance Plan

By Barbara Rich

Health Insurance at the College is now a reality.

The American Casualty Company's plan for Insurance has been approved and will go into operation next term. The final approval was given by Stuart Schaar '58, director of the program and Student Government, after bids from Blue Cross, Continental Casualty and American Casualty had been received and studied.

One of the most salient features of the American Casualty plan, according to Schaar, is that enrollment is not limited to any specific quota.

Rates Higher for Males

Rates for the insurance are slightly higher for male students. This is due to statistical evidence that males are more accident prone than females, Schaar said. For a plan offering coverage for nine months—beginning the first day of registration in September and ending the last day of final June exams—the rate for males is nine dollars and ninety seven cents per semester, or nineteen dollars and ninety four cents per year.

Basic Features Cited

Female students will pay seven dollars and eighty five cents per semester or fifteen dollars and seventy cents per year.

The plan is also available for a twelve month period. The cost to male students would then be thirteen dollars per semester, and ten dollars and twenty five cents for females. Both the nine month and the twelve month plan will be paid on a semester basis. Included in the plan are the following features:

- Accident Insurance for each injury received, with a limit of five hundred dollars.
- Twelve dollars per day coverage in a hospital for a limit of 30 days, and 360 dollars. Coverage will be given for any illness.
- Coverage of physician visits to hospitals, three dollars per visit, with a limit of 90 dollars.
- Surgeon fees up to 225 dollars.
- Miscellaneous coverage for x-rays, drugs, operating room charges, etc., with a one hundred dollar limit.

Copies of Plan Available

Letters which will include application blanks and further information about the plan will be sent out to all students at the College before next month. An information booth will be set up at the registration to give the student an opportunity to ask questions they might have about the plan.

Copies of the American Casualty plan will be available to students tomorrow between 2 and 3 in 326 Finley.

Dramsoc Deploys Witches For Weekend Presentation

By Jack Schwartz

Three witches, two mortals and a cat named Pyewacket, will try to cast a pleasing spell over the audience in Townsend Harris Auditorium tomorrow night and Saturday when Dramsoc presents "Bell, Book and Candle."

Mitzi Metzle '57, Dramsoc veteran, is both the director and outstanding witch of the production. In presenting the John Van Druten Pulitzer Prize winner, Miss Metzle will be faced with a great challenge in trying to stir a palatable dramatic potion with the brew of comparative novices which compose the rest of the cast.

She is, never the less, more than satisfied with the performance. "For people who have never acted before," she said, "they are putting on a show which experienced actors would be happy to duplicate."

Miss Metzle portrays Gillion, a beguiling young witch who plays fast and loose with the affections of Shepard Henderson, (Daniel Solomon '60), a publisher.

According to the mores of witchdom, a sorceress is allowed to act the coquette, but the ethereal line is drawn when passion metamorphizes into love.

Any broom rider discovered to be in league with cupid automatically loses her witching power.

All this naturally happens to the promiscuous Gillion who is willing to risk her broomstick for Shepard Henderson and Madison Avenue.

Weaving back and forth through the meandering columns of cauldron smoke are Gillion's witch aunt Miss Holroid, (Janet Ades '59), her witch-brother Nicki, (Larry Lerman '60), and Sydney Redlitch, (Peter Rossi '60), a bohemian who just writes about witches.

Also there is a cat name Pyewacket.

Tickets at one dollar for Friday nights performance and a dollar twenty for Saturday night are on sale at the Finley center ticket bureau.

The witching hour is 8.

Interviews

The Campus will interview candidates for Student Government offices for possible endorsement on Friday and Monday between 3 and 6. Candidates must submit their qualifications and statements to Campus office, 338 Finley, by 6 Monday.

Three Students Vie in Election For SG Pres

A three-way race for Student Government president will head the slate of competition in next Friday's SG elections.

Incumbent, President Bill Brown '57, SG Secretary Bohdan Lukaschewsky '58 and Stan Wissner '57, chairman of the Finley Center Student Board of Managers will vie for the top post.

Barton Cohen '58, a member of the Executive Committee of SG and former chairman of the Civil Liberties Committee, is running unopposed for the office of vice-president. The post of SG secretary is also uncontested, with Mike Horowitz '59, present treasurer, the only candidate. Arthur Genen, sophomore class president, is the only candidate for treasurer.

Four Run for SFCSA

Competing for the two vacant positions on the Student Faculty Committee on Student Activities are Bill Brown, Howard Schumann '58, SG vice-president, and Joe DeMaio '57 and Henry Grossman '57, present committee members.

In addition to vying for candidates, the student body must approve or reject a referendum calling for the annual election of major SG officers (president, vice-president, secretary and treasurer) instead of the present semi-annual election. Should it be approved the new system would go into effect next fall. The class of '59 shows the greatest competition with eight contestants for the five positions of SC rep. The sophomore class is the only other one to have more than one candidate for every position.

No candidate is running for class treasurer in both the senior and junior classes. In cases where no one is elected the class council is empowered to fill the vacancy.

Blood Bank Drive Reaches Final Day

Today is the last day to register for the Colleged Blood Bank Drive sponsored by Alpha Phi Omega and Chi Lambda.

So far, 421 people have signed up to donate blood tomorrow in the Grand Ballroom of the Finley Center. However, from past experience workers participating in the drive predict that at least one hundred pledges will fail to show up, despite the postcards sent out as reminders. This loss is expected to be more than made up for by the unregistered donors who turn up every year at the Bloodmobile. The main source of unsigned donors are expected to be from the ROTC and the Evening Session.

After the donation is made, refreshments along the order of juice, coffee, and cookies will be provided.

Students who wish to contribute must be at least eighteen years of age and must weigh 110 pounds or more.

Answer the Cynics

Today is the last day to register for the blood drive. According to the latest figures, more than 421 people have already registered. This means that the quota of 400 pints should be met. However, past experience has shown that over one hundred of the pledges will not show up. It seems that the sight of blood makes them dizzy.

These pledges shy away when they hear their finger has to be pricked to obtain a blood sample. Why they signed up in the first place still remains an unanswered question. Perhaps they were afraid of looking cowardly in front of their friends. However, they should be reminded that what they are doing now is not only cowardly, but childish.

Giving blood is an answer to the cynic who constantly moans and asks what he can do as a lone college student. It is an answer to those who say that nothing is accomplished by talking.

By giving blood and helping the drive reach its quota, students at the College are helping not only their friends, but themselves. If the quota of 400 is reached, any student is guaranteed that in case of an emergency or illness, free blood, not only for himself, but for members of his family as well, will be available.

Sharp Contrast

The Health Insurance plan which will go into effect at the College next semester is a giant step in the direction of improving the general welfare of the student body.

The announcement yesterday of the final approval of the plan was the second significant health story of the week. On Tuesday, the College announced that beginning next month, Salk anti-polio inoculations will be available on a voluntary basis to students, faculty, Administration and personnel.

While the Administration was responsible for arranging the Salk program, the success of the Health Insurance plan is due in great measure to the efforts of one student—Stuart Schaar. He has been working almost single-handedly and without fanfare on this project since he accepted the assignment from Student Council a year and a half ago.

A legal technicality prevented Schaar from implementing the program this semester, but he worked out the difficulties with the help of several members of the Administration, and the revised and the approved plan will be available on a voluntary basis next semester.

Both the Salk and the Health Insurance episodes are stories of which we may be proud. It is altogether fitting that the College should be speedy in making available to its members the benefits of the discovery by one of its own alumni. And the final adoption of a Health Insurance plan is proof of the good which Student Government, working within its realm and with competent and dedicated direction, can achieve.

This is in sharp contrast to the pious inertia which has dominated the Student Government Executive this semester.

With more people like Stu Schaar in Student Government, it could really become a worthwhile and efficient organization.

Veteran Grapplers to Open With LI Aggies Saturday

By Michael Cook

The Beavers will be represented by a veteran squad when the College's wrestling team meets the Long Island Aggies in Farmingdale, L. I. this Saturday.

Although the Beavers lost their two strongest operatives when Sal Sorbera and Al Taylor graduated last June, Lavender coach Joe Sapora has come up with enough experienced wrestlers to fill the gap. Co-captains Bernie Stolls, 167 pounds and Vince Norman, 137 pounds, should be the mainstays of the squad. Both were consistent winners last season.

Once again the middle weights figure to be the strongest positions on the Beaver's squad. Wrestling between Stolls and Norman will be Fred Starita in the 147 pound class the spot left open by Sorbera's graduation. Past results show Sam was a competent and consistent wrestler in his matches last season. The majority of these outings were against JV opponents, but Sapora feels that Berkowitz will justify his elevation to a starting varsity spot.

Sapora's biggest headache has been in finding an adequate replacement for Jim Zoubandis, the Beaver heavyweight during the '55-'56 season.

Beavers Open Rifle Season In Triangular Meet Tomorrow

The College's rifle team will face three opponents tomorrow and Saturday.

Tomorrow afternoon, on the Lavender range, the Beavers will face Kings Point and St. Peters in the first triangular meet of the season. Saturday the team will travel to West Point.

Coach Bernard Kelley feels that his team can take both matches, but admits that Kings Point and Army should be tough to handle. Kelley would like to better last year's record of thirteen and six.

Last season the Lavender finished in the top third of their league and lost to Rutgers, a division leader, by one point. The loss of sharpshooter Sal Sorbera through graduation has hurt the team, but Kelley thinks his squad might be just as good with captain John Marciniak as the number one man.

Behind Marciniak, Steve Madigan and Eddie Mehecha are being counted on to score high for the Beavers. Morty Solomon should also be one of the best the College has to offer.

Treasurer Winner Of 1st Hoop Meter

Mike Horowitz '59 Student Government treasurer, is the winner of The Campus' first Hoop Meter contest.

Horowitz called the score at 80-74, only two points off the correct total. His guess of twenty-six points for high scorer Syd Levy was but a single point off. When asked to explain his uncanny predictions, Horowitz said, "I guessed."

The SG office-holder will receive two tickets to the next basketball home game. Another Hoop Meter will be held for the Beaver-Adelphi clash on Dec. 15.

What's doing... at Pratt & Whitney Aircraft

THE HOUSE THAT JET ENGINES BUILT

Engineers and scientists at Pratt & Whitney Aircraft developed the piston engines that wrote aviation history for three decades. Then came the jet age, and again it was the P & W A team that came up with the mighty J-57, most powerful production aircraft engine in the world today. Behind such accomplishments, of course, stand many development tools...tools like the house that jet engines built: the Andrew Willgoos Laboratory.

Located on the eastern bank of the Connecticut River in East Hartford, this windowless, thick concrete-walled laboratory has been growing almost continuously since its initial "completion" in 1950. As more powerful, far more advanced turbojet engines are conceived, the means for testing them in development stages must itself undergo carefully calculated alteration. Hence, authorship of today's specifications for Willgoos Laboratory properly belongs to the experimental engines it is testing today. Similarly, tomorrow's proportions, capacities and equipment will depend upon the requirements of tomorrow's power plants.

Behind the ponderous walls of this multi-million-dollar structure lies the wherewithal to simulate many of the rigorous flight conditions to be encountered by military and commercial aircraft. The range of these conditions must vary from ambient pressures and temperatures in a static condition at sea level all the way to the pressures, temperatures and high speeds involved in high-altitude flight.

This, then, is the house that jet engines built; at the same time, it is the house that tomorrow's engines will change and re-build.

Starita was not a regular starter last year, but in his few appearances he proved that he does have the ability to wrestle on a varsity level. # Mermen Win 55-21 In Season Opener

By Jack Schwartz

Manhattan's swimming team made a fatal mistake in yesterday's opener against the Beavers — they put on their trunks—and were consequently swamped in their own pool by 55-21.

The powerful Lavender squad rolled up a 55-6 lead before being disqualified in the final two events for minor infractions.

Sol Stern, Shelley Manspeizer, Dick Fisher and Ben Trasen teamed up in the 400-yard medley relay to give the Merman a quick 7-0 lead.

Larry Premisler and Fred Vicedomini increased the Beaver margin to 15-1 by finishing one-two in the 220-yard free style.

The Lavender widened the span in the 50-yard free style as Steve Kesten and Rich Silverstein came in first and second respectively.

Jim Johnson and Joe White racked up another grand slam for the frogmen by placing first and second in the 200-yard butterfly.

Keeping consistent with the rest of the team, Sol Stern and Jerry Lopatin coasted to easy victories in the 200-yard back stroke giving the Beavers a comfortable 47-5 cushion.

The aquamen fired their final salvo in the forms of Premisler and White who outstroked their opponents in the 400-yard free style.

Coach Jack Rider was more than pleased with the game's results: "If we keep up like this," he said, "we'll have a solid chance for the Met championship."

"I have more depth on this squad," he continued, "than on any other team I've ever had."

Poly Meet Tomorrow

The College's swimming team will meet Brooklyn Poly tomorrow afternoon in the Wingate pool. The match will begin at 3.

The top swimmers that Poly will send into the pool against the Beavers will be co-captains Jim Whidden and Rick Gegenwarth, a freestyler and backstroke, respectively. John Jacobson and Ronnie Gluck are also freestylers. Wes Layman is the top diver and Al Smith the leading breaststroke.

Beaver coach Jack Rider would make no predictions about tomorrow's results, but feels his team is capable of winning.

Stein Fund Total

The entire complement of two thousand Stein Fund buttons was sold last week.

The proceeds from this sale plus the twelve hundred odd dollars from the sale of tickets to the Hunter game last Saturday will be placed in the Stein Fund for injured athletes.

Lions Hand Cagers First Loss, 92-75; Forte Gets 42; Bennardo Leads Beavers

The Beavers drew first blood as the game opened when Levy scored with a layup. Schefflan scored with a set to put the Lavender ahead 4 to 1 which proved to be its biggest lead of the game.

Dwyer, Forte and Bennardo then scored two-pointers each; the Beaver tally came on a beautiful give-and-go with forward Bob Silver. From then on it was all Columbia. The Lions led at the ten-minute mark by 24 to 15.

The Lavender closed the gap to seven on two foul shots by Jim Mazzaferro, who had replaced Bill Lewis at forward. But the Light Blue came back on successive scores by Dwyer, Forte, Milkey and Dwyer again to send them out in front by fifteen points with eight minutes to go in the half.

Schefflan and Bennardo hit for two in a row for the Lavender to cut the Lion lead to eleven.

Columbia then poured it on. Dwyer, Milkey and Forte on three successive sets and a foul by Bob Lehner brought the Columbia lead at half-time to 47-27.

The loss left the Beavers with a record of one victory and one defeat for the young season. Columbia has taken six of the nine games played thus far in the series between the two schools which dates to 1907.

In the freshmen preliminaries, the Lion cubs defeated the Beaver frosh 72-65. Guard Irwin Lieber led the scoring for the Lavender with seventeen points. The loss was the second for the Beaver frosh in as many games.

Queens Game Saturday

Trying for their second win, the cagers will meet Queens Saturday in a Metropolitan Conference game at the latter's gym.

Coach Dave Polansky will go with his regular starting lineup of Bill Lewis, Bob Silver, Syd Levy, Joe Bennardo and Ralph Schefflan. With the exception of Silver, this is the same lineup used by Nat Holman in last season's double win over the Knights.

Starting for Queens will be forwards Pete Allen and Bob Bass, guards Tony Carpio and Jerry Moskowitz, and 6-3 center Don Hill.

The hoopsters lead the Met Conference with a 1-0 mark. Queens and Brooklyn have no decisions as yet, while Hunter holds down last place as a result of last Saturday's defeat by the Beavers.
