SG Elections Set for Tomorrow at 11; GFCSA Removes All Lists Safeguards

Shacknow Sent To Plead Case Before Faculty

By Fred Jerome

Safeguards for club membership lists will be discontinued next semester due to a decision made last Friday by the General Faculty Committee on Student Activities.

The decision will be appealed to the General Faculty today by the dissenting members of GFCSA.

The Student Council, last night, voted unanimously to oppose the decision and delegated Louise Shacknow, '57, secretary of Student Government to present its views before the General Faculty.

Under the system of safeguards, in effect since last term, a four man "student-faculty" committee was responsible for the lists and a unanimous decision of this committee was required before the lists might be shown to anyone.

In addition, the safeguards permitted a student to withdraw his name from the list at the end of the semester by appearing in private before the four man committee. The lists were kept in a sealed envelope inside a strong box during the term and then put in the student's personal file in the Department of Student Life.

GFCSA's decision makes no mention of the safeguards, thereby removing them from future application.

Prof. Stuart C. Easton (History), SG faculty advisor, called the decision "a very backward move."

'Early Registration Privileges' Killed by President's Decision

Pres. Buell G. Gallagher yesterday ruled that no student will be allowed any early registration privileges.

The President's decision, which will go into effect next semester, kills any chances of a system whereby preferential early registration would be extended to athletes.

Since the privilege of early registration was already accorded to approximately one hundred students, most of whom were employed during registration, many athletes hoped that this privilege could be extended to them.

President Gallagher in refusing the extension to athletes ruled that the privilege which has hitherto protected the schedules of students employed during registration periods is not defensible on democratic grounds. He feels that the only equitable thing to do

"It is quite certain," he added, "to destroy every political club on campus." Although the College Administration has repeatedly assured the student body that membership lists would not be shown to outsiders, Professor Easton explained that "the new ruling seems to suggest that membership information is to be used for some outside purpose."

The resolution was passed according to GFCSA, "although the deliberations of the committee, over a period of several long meetings, revealed a strong division of opinion which still exists."

The decision states that signed membership cards for full membership shall be submitted to the Department of Student Life by all campus groups. "At the end of the semester, membership cards and any signed letters of resignation which are submitted during the semester shall be filed in the permanent folders of the respective student members in the office of the Department of Student Life."

Bill Brown '57, SG vice-president, and Louise Shacknow '57, SG secretary, are vying for the position of SG president in tomorrow's campus elections. Voting will begin at 11.

Brown Battles With Shacknow For Top Post

By Vic Ziegel

Bill Brown '57, and Louise Shacknow '57, will vie for the position of Student Government president in tomorrow's SG elections. Voting will begin at 11.

Competing for the vice-presidency are Steve Nagler '58, Student Council representative, and Howard Schumann '58, chairman of the Political Action Committee. Eli Gold '57 and Bohdan Lukaszewsky '57, are the opponents in this term's race for SG secretary, while Michael Horowitz '58, is running unopposed for the post of treasurer.

SC representatives and officers for each of the four classes will also be elected in tomorrow's balloting.

A three-way race shapes up for the senior class presidency, with Howard Nizen, Michael Rizzo and Al Stien competing for the post.

Ily Fenster is the sole nominee for Senior Class secretary. There are no candidates for '57 treasurer. Sima Friedman, Marjorie Gettleman, Marvin Gettleman and Martin Dorenbush are running for the three available class of '57 SC representative posts.

Competition for Junior Class offices is less heated. Al Sornotsky, Marcel Brysk and Rochelle Rothenberg are running unopposed for the posts of president, vice-president and secretary respectively. No one is running for the post of treasurer. The only Junior Class contest will see Barton Cohen, Seymour Migdal, Gerald Speal, Sol Stern and Melvin Wermuth, running for the three council positions.

The class of '59 has probably the most competitive races in this term's elections. Arthur Genen and Al Eckert are running for the class presidency, while Dick Newman and Arthur Laxman oppose each other in the contest for vice-president. The secretary's post sees Marv Adler and Bob Salzman, vying, while the treasurer's race is between Anthony Calabrese and Paul Kahan. Ten people are running for the three open sophomore class positions on council.

In direct contrast with this term's freshman class competition, there are no contests for next term's frosh posts. Ina Roffenberder and Barbara Lasker are running unopposed for president and vice-president. The positions of secretary and treasurer are not being contested, with only one person, Jeffrey Warner, running for SC representative.

Charter Day Proceedings Feature Mayor, Publisher

By Jacob Rosen

Mayor Robert F. Wagner and Mr. Arthur Hays Sulzberger, president and publisher of the New York Times, will speak at Homecoming Day on Saturday. The annual alumni Homecoming has been coupled this year with the Charter Day celebration.

Mayor Wagner will speak at the dedication of Wagner Hall, named for his father, the late Sen. Robert F. Wagner (D-NY). Mr. Sulzberger will be present at the dedication of the Finley Student Center, named for the College's third president, John H. Finley, who later became an editor of The Times.

The celebrations will start in the morning when the alumni will tour the South Campus and hold class reunions. The annual Alumni Association meeting will also be held in the Finley Center.

After a picnic luncheon on the South Campus lawn, the dedication ceremonies will take place. In addition to the Mayor and Mr. Sulzberger, speakers will include Dean Morton Gottschall (Liberal Arts), president of the Alumni Association, Mr. Harold Lifton '18, chairman of the campaign committee of the City College Fund, Jared Jusisim '57, president of Student Government, and Alice Mulloy '51, who will speak for the students of the Uptown Center.

A concert by the College Band, under the direction of Prof. Walter Nallin (Music) will be part of the festivities.

Following the dedications, which will be broadcasted over station WNYC, a citation will be awarded to Mr. Jacob Schapiro '11, who served as president of the Alumni Association during the College's Centennial Fund campaign to raise funds for the Student Center.

The day will close with a reception in the Finley Center given by President Buell G. Gallagher and his wife. An exhibit on the life and work of Senator Wagner '98, and Dr. Finley will be put on view.

Festivities Set For Boat Ride Sunday May 6

The 1956 version of the College's annual boat ride is slated for this Sunday, May 6. The boat will leave the Circle Dayline pier at 9:30 and a full boatload of students is anticipated.

The affair is expected to last till 5:30 and will feature boating, ballgames and picnics, all at the Bear Mountain retreat. Music for dancing will be provided by Jack Adato and his orchestra.

The Sunday fete will cost two dollars per passenger and each student is required to have his student activities card with the number of his tickets stamped on it. The tickets can be purchased at 149 Finley.

John Sherwood '57, an A.P.O. brother in charge of the boatride—which is sponsored by Student Government and Alpha Phi Omega remarked that in the past the boat ride has been one of the most successful events affiliated with the College. Sherwood continued, "The boatride is always extremely popular. There is no reason why this year's event should not run true to form."

Pres. Buell G. Gallagher discontinued preferential registration for the entire student body.

Louise Shacknow

The position of Student Government president has to be filled by someone willing to work and accept responsibility. Louise Shacknow, during her past term as SG secretary, has proven that she can fulfill these qualifications.

Miss Shacknow has included in her program one of the most necessary factors in running a well-organized Student Government, that is to establish a better relationship among faculty and students. A mature understanding and cooperation are fundamental prerequisites in breaking down the existing barriers between faculty, Administration, and students.

In addition, Miss Shacknow has expressed a desire to strengthen the committees to set up departmental student-faculty committees to discuss curricular problems; and to make SG a more significant voice on campus.

These points are constructive ones. The committees, and agencies are a vital part of SG, and are in dire need of overhauling. Student-faculty committees designed to discuss curricular difficulties could be the long-sought solution to the deluge of problems that crop up year after year.

Making use of her maturity and capabilities, Miss Shacknow will be able to take a step forward in making SG a noticed voice at the College.

Howard Schumann

A month ago "THE CAMPUS" wrote an article about a student who "Gets in and Fights," Howard Schumann, the "Man in the News," is still fighting.

Schumann, an often heard voice at the College, stands up for what he believes is right. When he sets his mind to a job he doesn't quit until it is finished. This is a quality that is needed by anyone undertaking the job of Student Government vice-president. A student holding this position must be able to lead, advise and coordinate the SG agencies. It is a job that gets harder year after year, as vice-presidents come and go without making an effort to improve the situation. For this reason, we feel Schumann, who is determined to do a job well, will be able to replace the poorly run agencies with well-coordinated ones.

Schumann strongly believes in the fundamental rights of the students. SG needs a person, who will take an active interest in the needs and the rights of the College and its citizens.

Bohdan Lukaschewsky

One of the most important prerequisites for the position of Student Government secretary is intimate knowledge of the various functions and responsibilities of SG itself. Bohdan Lukaschewsky, we feel, has this prerequisite. Throughout a long period of service to the College, he has proven his abilities and exhibited a knowledge of Student Government which far surpasses that of his less experienced rival.

Realizing the functions entailed in the job of SG secretary, and recognizing the somewhat limited power of the position, Lukaschewsky has outlined a program which is constructive and practical. To offset student apathy, he intends to integrate the job of public relations with the other duties of SG secretary. He plans to publicize the minutes of various council and committee meetings, and bring to the attention of the students the many SG activities in which they can participate.

In view of the fact that student apathy is one of the major problems at the College, we feel that a fair trial should be given to any proposal which could possibly alleviate the situation. We credit Lukaschewsky for offering sound suggestions on the matter and not merely issuing verbal attacks which propose no remedies.

Mike Horowitz

Students at the College are fortunate indeed that this term their inertia will not result in the uncontested election of a candidate whose only qualifications are incompetency and inefficiency. We do not mean to imply by this that interest in Student Government has risen to such immense proportions that all the major officers of SG are being hotly contested; the mere thought of such a situation would seem ridiculous in the light of the present apathetic atmosphere. What we do mean, however, is that Mike Horowitz, lone candidate for the position of SG treasurer, rates high among students in terms of ability and qualifications.

Endowed with a wide knowledge of Student Government, Horowitz has demonstrated through past performances that he is fully equipped to assume the responsibilities of major office. We feel that he is capable of doing an excellent job and only hope that his interest will not falter due to the lack of competition.

The Candidates Speak

President

BILL BROWN

Student Government will be faced with two major problems next semester. The first is the lack of delineation of areas of responsibility between the Administration and Student Government. The other is the fact that some internal structural changes must come about, to tighten the agency system.

I propose that a committee of agency and bureau heads, which will meet twice a month, be created. This committee will be chaired by the Vice-president. I believe that this will be a big step in providing a working link between the agencies and SG.

To involve the various segments of the College, I plan to have an advisory cabinet composed of the presidents of IFC, HP, TIIC, Senior Class and the editors of the newspapers. This body will be consulted on major matters directly affecting the whole student body.

LOUISE SHACKNOW

The Student Government is a vital part of our education — not only in the training it gives to those students participating in it, but also in the contribution it makes to the objective of the College, which is to help form a well-rounded citizen of a democratic society. For this reason the Student Government is or should be concerned with all the major areas of college life; cultural, social, intellectual, civil liberties, etc.

I agree with the Bukvar report that "the primary responsibility for governing the students should rest with the students." I realize that the Student Government has a long road to travel before it reaches that goal. However, in order to achieve our objectives we must promote, among other things, more student-faculty cooperation, more student understanding of our aims, and increased services to the school. In short, we must strive to make the Student Government a more effective and significant voice on the campus.

Vice-President

HOWARD SCHUMANN

I believe in Student Government because I believe in students; in their capacity to handle responsibilities; in the maturity of their decisions, and in their right to be granted the fundamental liberties that are accorded to all our citizens. I think the student body of City College needs encouragement so that more students can be motivated to work in Student Government. One way of accomplishing this is the granting of more power to the students by the Administration. Student Council should have the power of legislation with the advice of SFCSA. The Managers Agency should have a part in making the rules of Finley Center; and, as is now being planned, the students should elect four representatives to SFCSA.

STEVE NAGLER

The main functions of the Vice-president of Student Government are coordinating, policy making, leadership and hard work. In the capacity of a coordinator he must run the agency system so that it serves the student body efficiently. In his capacity as a policy maker he must give direction and meaning to the work of Student Government. As a leader he must represent the Student Government to the community and as a worker he must help in the everyday work of running the Student Government.

If elected I will attempt to carry out these functions as thoroughly as possible. In general I will try to give the office of Student Government Vice-president greater purpose and direction.

Secretary

ELI GOLD

I have decided to run for office of secretary of Student Government for two main reasons. First of all, I shall be in a policy making position, and in this capacity I know I can and will do the job that the students want done. I shall fight against compulsory membership lists, and shall try, to the best of my ability, to have Student Government take over more areas of responsibility in college affairs. I shall also endeavor to get more of you, the students, interested enough in Student Government so that you will want to be more active in this phase of college life which is so important in molding our characters.

BOHDAN LUKASCHEWSKY

One of the most important functions of Student Government is the services it provides for the student body. Some of the most important are boat rides, final exams, drivers education programs, blood bank, Friday night dances and, the latest, a health insurance program which will go into operation in the fall. My efforts shall be directed towards ever improving the present services and exploring possibilities for adding new ones.

Informing the students of what is happening, what services are being offered, and where help is needed, will keep them more interested in their Student Government, and will awaken a desire to participate more actively in serving themselves the school and the College community.

'Nine' Given Worst Setback of Season

By Michael Cook

The College's baseball team absorbed its worst defeat of the season at the hands of the St. John's Redmen, 15-1, Tuesday at Babe Ruth Field in the Bronx.

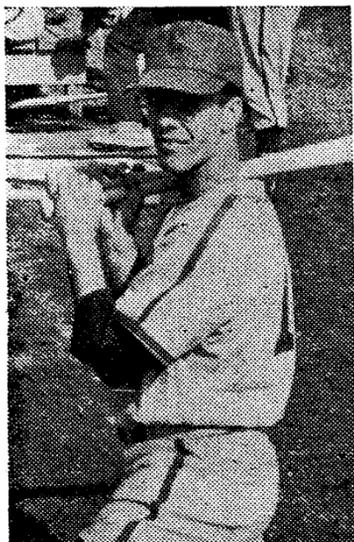

Left hander Stu Weiss started on the hill and before he could retire the Indians in the first inning, twelve men batted and the Beavers were seven runs behind. In the second frame, Weiss went from bad to worse and coach John La Place called Freddy Fred in from the bull pen after three runs had scored.

Fred got the side out, but it certainly wasn't his infield's fault as short stop Raoul Nacinovich kicked one grounder and heaved another into right field. Catcher Mike Steurman chipped in with a passed ball.

Poor Hitting

On top of atrocious fielding and completely ineffective pitching, the Beavers had a miserable day at the plate collecting only five hits and scoring their only run by virtue of an error, a wild pitch, a pass to Tony Lucich and an error on Peté Troia's infield roller.

Joe Morguess, who replaced Al DiBernardo in left field in the second inning was one of the few Lavender bright spots. Joe picked up two hits and played his position very well considering he hasn't seen much action this season. Fred pitched good ball despite what the score indicated. Considering that his infield wasn't much help and that St. John's is a hitting club, the fact that he only gave up five runs is something to be happy about.

Split With Wagner

In a Saturday double header against Wagner at Babe Ruth Field the College's baseball team took the first game 3-2 and lost the second 13-8.

Starting for the Beavers and going all the way for the win was Al Di Bernardo. Although he gave up twelve hits and his fielders made four errors, three by third baseman George Maginley, Al had his stuff when he needed it the most. The Lavender won the contest on home runs by John Ryan and Raoul Nacinovich.

The second game saw the Beavers score seven runs in the fifth inning and still manage to lose the game. Wagner with thirteen runs, fourteen hits and three homers was not to be denied. Catcher Vince Ciccone hit the lone home team round tripper. The losing pitcher was Fredrick Fred, his record now stands at 0-1.

The next three Beaver encounters are all non-league games. Opposing the "nine" will be Queens College, Army and Hunter. The Hunter game to be held today at Babe Ruth Field will see Ron Check on the mound for the Lavender.

Netmen Down NYU, Record Stands at 4-0 Trackmen Win, Lacrosse Team Faces Army

The College's tennis team defeated NYU, 5-4, last Saturday for the first time in more than fifteen years at the Fleet Tennis Club in the Bronx. Yesterday's St. John's match was called because of rain with the College ahead 4-0 and leading in two other games.

Dick Woodley, playing in the number one spot against the Redmen, defeated Ray Tassman and Mel Drimmer, Roy Fleischman, and Walt Ritter won their matches handily. Alan Jong and Guy Ferrara were leading when rain halted the contest.

On Saturday the Beavers took the first three singles matches only to have the Violets tie the score at 3-3 going into the doubles. Jong, Drimmer, Ferrara and Woodley teamed to take the first two doubles matches and put the contest out of NYU's reach.

The Lavender track team took

and the broad jump. Hunter's big gun was George Vogel who broke Hunter records in the mile and two mile events.

Last weekend the trackmen journeyed to Philadelphia to compete in the nation-wide Penn Relays. The Beavers scored three points as Jack Kushner finished third in the shot put and the mile relay team came in fourth.

Track coach Harry diGirolamo has seen his team win two straight meets.

The Beavers took ten of the sixteen events with George Best placing first in the 880 yard run

The Beaver lacrosse team will journey to West Point on Saturday to meet a powerful Army team. The stickman played some very good ball in the losing effort to Stevens two weeks ago, but coach Leon Miller isn't expecting any miracles. Army is consistently good and what they don't have in the way of talent, they make up for in manpower, commodity the College is sadly lacking in.
