HP Carnival, Boatripe Set For Weekend

The first All-College Weekend in the history of the school, consisting of Carnival and the Boatripe, will be held Saturday and Sunday. Featuring professional and student entertainment, Carnival will begin at 8 Saturday evening on the South Campus. Comedienne Martha Raye and songstress Martha Wright will headline the show, while Jack Barry will act as master of ceremonies. Highlight of the evening will be the crowning of "Carnival Queen."

Centered around the theme "State Fair," the festival will feature booths representing various states in the nation. Among the attractions will be a mouse race, a hammer and scale contest, and a gold panning race.

The Student Government Boatripe, set for the following morning at 10, will feature dancing and entertainment on board. The Hudson River Day Line steamer Peter Stuyvesant, will leave from Pier 81 at 42 Street, carrying students and faculty members to Bear Mountain.

Once ashore, boating, hiking, picnicking and softball will be offered. Among the notables who will attend is Raymond, the College's bagel vendor.

Tickets for Carnival, at fifty cents each, can be purchased in the House Plan office, 331 Finley, or the Carnival office, 330 Finley. There will also be a door sale the night of the festival. Boatripe tickets, at four dollars a pair, are on sale in the ticket bureau, 152A Finley.

City Grants College Record $10 Million

A ten million-dollar budget for the College was approved last week by the Board of Estimate.

The amount was included in a record thirty million dollar appropriation for the five municipal colleges. As expected by authorities in the Department of the Budget, the expenditure was approved by the Board with no major changes.

Preliminary hearings were held on April 10, 11 and 12. At that time, the Board of Higher Education requested more than eleven million dollars.

The approved budget was the result of the revisions and compromises which were subsequently adopted.

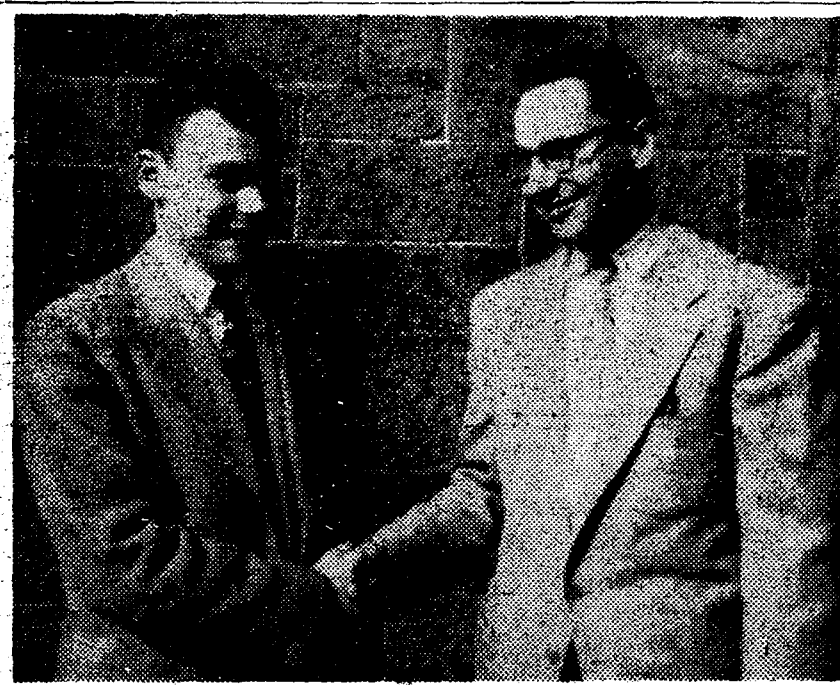

Committee on Lists To Interview Today

The committee established by Pres. Buell G. Gallagher to study membership lists at the College will interview students and faculty members today and Monday between 10 in the morning and 9 at night.

Dr. Max Wise, Charles Maruth and Dirk Brown will be available today in 313 Finley and Monday in 321 Finley to discuss student records with any interested students and faculty members.

Mr. Maruth was named to the committee earlier this week. He is Director of Admissions at the University of Denver.

Mr. Brown suggested that those who wish to be interviewed make appointments in 151 Finley, but this procedure is not mandatory.

Defer Elections To SFCSA Until Fall

Student Government Vice-president Barton Cohen '58, and Howard Schumann '58, Chief Justice of the Student Court, will be presidential opponents in tomorrow's SG elections.

The elections will begin tomorrow morning at 11. Voting booths will be set up in the Finley Center and opposite Knittle Lounge in Shepard Hall. Ballots will also be circulated in classrooms throughout the College.

Running for the position of SG Vice-president will be SG Secretary Michael Horowitz '59, SG Treasurer Arthur Genen '59, and Steve Nagler '58, chairman of the SG Public Affairs Forum.

The Student Faculty Committee on Student Activities decided yesterday to postpone SFCSA elections until the second week of the fall semester.

Joel Resnick, SFCSA member explained that the Committee delayed the voting because it felt that the student body was not only unfamiliar with the quality of the candidates, but was practically unaware that SFCSA elections were even being held.

In addition to his position as SG Vice-president, Cohen is Speaker of Student Council this term and a former member of the SG Fee Committee. Schumann was formerly SG Vice-president and President of the FDR Young Democrats.

No Candidates For Secretary Horowitz was previously SG Treasurer and a member of the SG Fee Committee. Genen was also a member of the Committee, in addition to serving as President of the Class of '59. Earlier this term, Nagler was a member of the SG Executive Committee.

Richard Trattner '59, this term's Assistant SG Treasurer, will be unopposed for the office of Treasurer. There are no candidates for Secretary, and in the event of a vacancy, Student Council can hold an election for that position.

No candidates are running for seventeen positions in this election and eight are running unopposed. Ten nominees were declared ineligible.

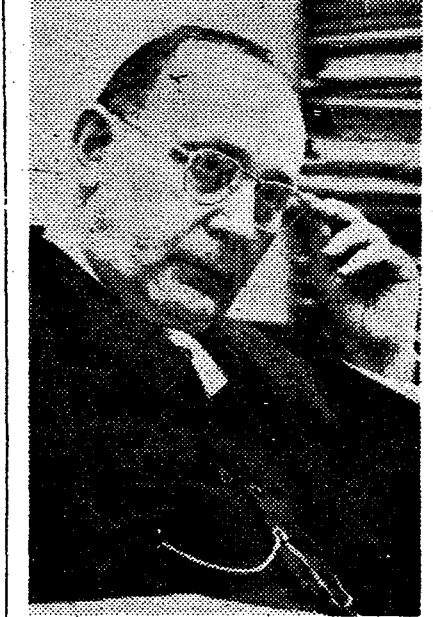

Senior Apathy Prevails No one is running for any of the major offices in the Class of '58. Only two candidates, Max Zazlow-sky and Gerald Speal, are seeking election for the four open positions for Class of '58 representatives to Student Council.

Demonstration of Reactor Set for Homecoming Day

The first demonstration of the College's subcritical nuclear reactor will highlight the Alumni Association's 105th Annual Homecoming Day this Saturday. The reactor is situated under the stands in Lewisohn Stadium.

A day long series of events commemorating the occasion will take place in the circus tent now set up on the South Campus lawn. The tent will also be the site of the Dean Morton Gottschall will be one of the participants in a Homecoming Day forum.

House Plan Carnival that night.

More than one thousand alumni and members of their families are expected to attend the homecoming, which will begin at 11 in the morning with a symposium on "The Future of City College—The Next Decade."

Moderating the forum will be Pres. Buell G. Gallagher. The participants will be Pearl Max, administrator of the Board of Higher Education, Dean Morton Gottschall (Liberal Arts and Science), Dean Harold H. Abelson (Education), Dean William Allan (Technology), and Dean Emanuel Saxe (Baruch Center).

Following class reunions and a picnic lunch, the alumni will elect officers at their annual meeting.

Presiding over the meeting will be Dean Gottschall, president of the Association and a graduate of the Class of '13. President Gallagher will deliver an address and speaking for the fifty-year class will be Mالدwig Fertig '07.

After the meeting the nuclear reactor will be demonstrated.

Concluding the Day's program will be a tea in the Buttenweiser Lounge of Finley Center which will be hosted by President and Mrs. Gallagher.

Buckley, Feingold To Debate Today

Mr. William Buckley, editor of the "National Review" and an outspoken conservative, and Mr. Stanley Feingold (Government), will debate "Academic Freedom: What limits?" at noon today on the South Campus lawn. In case of rain it will be held in 200 Shepard.

The debate is one in a series of Student Government Public Affairs Forums.

Mr. Buckley is the author of "God and Man at Yale." He debated with New York Post editor James Wechsler at the Baruch Center several weeks ago.

Mr. Feingold was one of the most outspoken critics of the ruling which barred John Gates from speaking at the College.

Editorial Policy is Determined by a Majority Vote of the Managing Board

Barton Cohen

Too many semesters have passed since Student Government has had a president worthy of representing the students of the College. There have been too many would-be leaders to steal the votes of the ever-diminishing minority who somehow manage to retain hope in the results of their ballots.

This year, at last, students have a chance to vote for a presidential candidate who is more than a "well-he's-not-as-bad-as-the-other-guy" type. Bart Cohen has proved himself to be a competent and consistent representative of the student body. In every capacity, whether as Chairman of the important SG Civil Liberties Committee, Speaker of Student Council or this term's SG Vice-president, he has shown the qualities of leadership which his recent predecessors so sorely lacked.

In this semester's battle for the right of students to hear John Gates, in the now perennial movement to abolish the restrictive, apathy-inspiring membership lists and on every occasion where student rights were threatened or violated during the past three years, Cohen has been in the thick of the fight for academic freedom.

But Cohen has been outspoken on other, "smaller" issues, as well. Had it not been for his cool head and sincere efforts, the Boat Ride-Carnival fiasco (bad enough as it is) would surely have exploded into an all-out feud bringing ruin to House Plan and shame to SG. And it was his clear thinking which prevented the children on Student Council from adopting a "rah-rah" program of compulsory freshman beanies as the panacea for student apathy.

Bart Cohen has not been silent when strong voices were called for in the past. He will not be another silent follower to lead Student Government. His promises are not of the make-em-and-break-em variety. The student body at last has a chance to elect a leader.

The Vice-Presidency

The three-way race for Student Government vice-president is at first glance a welcome surprise in view of the growing dearth of candidates for SG positions. Arthur Genen, Mike Horowitz and Steve Nagler, the threesome who have elected to run, are all experienced, senior members of Council.

Upon closer scrutiny however, it becomes unhappily apparent that the bumper crop of vice-presidential candidates, although sufficient in quantity, is greatly lacking in quality. The major function of the SG vice-president is to coordinate the agency system—an awful feat for an individual far more capable than the Messrs. Nagler, Genen or Horowitz. They seem confident nevertheless in their ability to handle the job. Let us see if the record bears them out.

Mike Horowitz, the first of three candidates, distinguished himself as SG treasurer last year and was influential in retaining lawyer Morris Ernst in the fight to lift the Gates ban. It has been said of Mr. Horowitz that he has the aggressiveness to drive the agencies to work. He may also drive them right out of the Student Government office. We also wonder how Mr. Horowitz expects to fulfill the heavy administrative duties of the vice-president, when as SG secretary this semester he often neglected even to send out post-cards informing the SG Executive of committee meetings.

Most important, we must remember that a primary reason for SG's accomplishing so little, is the windy speeches and abuses of parliamentary privileges with which certain individuals bog down Council meetings. Mr. Horowitz is certainly second to none in this category.

Perhaps his only rival in this area is Steve Nagler. Often the protagonist in the tragicomedy performed every Wednesday in 121 Finley, Nagler is notorious for impeding the already stunted progress of Council. When not bombarding the chair with "points of order," Mr. Nagler doubles as chairman of the SG Public Affairs Forum. Last semester, he was successful in inviting a number of notable speakers including Jacob K. Javits and Emanuel Celler to the College. This semester, while running up a most amazing phone bill in attempting to invite guest speakers to the forum, Nagler has been able thus far to obtain only three speakers for his meetings. He even invited Vice-president Nixon by telegram. Mr. Nixon couldn't make it. We doubt whether Mr. Nagler can either.

If for no other reason than the fact that he is quieter than his two more vociferous opponents, we would be tempted to endorse Arthur Genen. Unfortunately, the criteria of finding an individual competent enough to coordinate the SG agencies is still most important. Arthur Genen is perhaps neither as suave nor as glib as his opponents, yet he has a record of getting the work done. He coordinated Cabaret Night, the Class of '59's Freshman Prom, and was instrumental in the success of the All-College Prom two years ago. All three of these affairs were among the few social functions held at the College over the past four semesters which have been social as well as financial successes.

In view of this, we give our endorsement to Arthur Genen. We are, however, not completely without reservation in doing so. Certainly none of the three candidates, Mr. Genen included, are equal to the calibre of former SG vice-presidents such as Martin Gruberg and Joel Resnick. Nevertheless, Arthur Genen has the potential to develop into a capable vice-president—something we feel his opponents lack.

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor:
When the College teams play out of New York City careful arrangements are made to transport, feed and provide for them. Yet, while "Down with Apathy" is the motto of every newspaper and organization in the school, the representatives of whatever spirit there is, the cheerleaders, are treated brutally and not provided for in any way.

No bus carries cheerleaders to games, no food or facilities are offered them and they are left to fend for themselves if they can, and be scorned for not appearing at games if they can't.

This past Saturday, another cheerleader and I spent four hours in fright, wondering if we could find any way at all to get back to New York after we had travelled all the way to West Point to cheer for the lacrosse team. The people who had driven us to West Point took some team members home with them, expecting, as we did, that we could get a ride to the city or go back on the team bus. When we couldn't get a ride back, we asked Professor Miller if we could go back on the bus. We were told we couldn't because we were girls, and when we asked for suggestions for ways to return we were shocked to hear Professor Miller say he didn't care how we got back.

The fact that we were alone in a strange school meant nothing, it seemed, but was overshadowed by some law, by-law, or rule which states that girls cannot ride on a team bus for this would distract the team. This makes sense on trips to games, but certainly not on return trips. Rules are meant for the benefit of those who are bound by them and should be extended when their limitations make them unbeneficial. On Saturday no one benefited from the situation that brought two girls home after two the next morning—hungry, tired and disillusioned about their own school.

If those who stubbornly encase themselves in rules are hoping to knock out the remaining fervor for the College and its teams, some quick action will easily bring them victory for, right now, those in my corner are down for the count.

STUDENT COURT

To the Editor:
By way of correction, the article in Tuesday's paper headlined "SFCSA Gives Student Court Wider Powers" contained the following misstatement: "The justices will decide whether or not rule infractions will be noted on a student's record." The correct statement should be: The justices will decide whether or not the court will keep records on the particular cases they handle, on the basis of the severity of the infraction.

AP0 REPLIES

To the Editor:
For a good many years Student Government has sponsored a Boatride on the first Sunday in May. The event is always a financial and social success and never requires much in the way of publicity gimmicks to convince the students of its worth. The only major problem that the chairman of the Boatride Agency have had to contend with in the past is rain. But this year, after praying and appeasing the gods of the weather into agreement with phrenetic sun dances, we found ourselves at the mercy of another omnipotent deity, House Plan.

This overrated socio-political group of 850 students suddenly invaded our annual date with their thirty-five ring side show and then informed us that we were "morally and ethically wrong" in not moving the Boatride to Mother's Day, a date on which there has never been a College social event, and for obvious reasons. Besides, another city institution had already contracted the boat of that day.

Inflated with the spirit of cooperation, and at the righteous insistence of House Plan, the Student Council voted approval to an All-College Weekend, replete with cash discount and combined publicity. No sooner had the school tabloids proudly announced this epitome of cooperation between two arms on the same body, when Carnival, now only one half of a share-and-share-alike proposition, applied for an underwrite to cover their possible losses. And as soon as they had the underwrite, they slashed their asking price to 50 cents, leaving the immoral and unethical half of the partnership branded with their 2 dollar tickets. In the course of this double-crossing blitzkrieg, House Plan violated every publicity stipulation that the rule-conscious Department of Student Life could think of.

It takes 1500 dollars to support a Student Government, which represents some 6,000 students, for a single year. This money comes annually from the Boatride. In his letter, Mr. Shulman bemoans the loss of a similar sum, saying that it will come from the combined All-College Weekend. Now that House Plan's sleeves are empty and all its gimmicks are exhausted, it appears that this loss will be suffered in total by the Boatride, while Carnival emerges unscathed. House Plan's egoistic planning and faculty partialities just may spell the financial death of Student Government.

Needless to add, Shulman's charges that Alpha Phi Omega is a sorority and is unconcerned with the welfare of the school as a whole, and that 40 APO brothers are given free tickets to Boatride, are ludicrous and libelous and purely the work of his perverted imagination. However, Alpha Phi Omega humbly admits to holding a traditional Mother's Day Tea and begs forgiveness from House Plan's tin gods for their juvenile, selfish devotion to their mothers.

'Nine' Rips Lions, 12-4, As Di Bernardo Stars

By Michael Cook

Exploding for nine runs in the first inning and three in the second, the College's baseball team routed Columbia, 12-4, yesterday afternoon at Baker Field.

In a complete reversal of the form the Beavers showed in the Queens loss, the boys from St. Nicholas Heights jumped on Lion pitcher Ed Magnani early. Bobby Iacullo opened the game with a walk and went to second as John Whelan singled to left. Bobby Demas sacrificed and Pete Troia followed with a single, scoring both runners.

Al Di Bernardo, starting and winning pitcher, helped his own cause with a single to left and Tony Lucich walked to fill the bases. At this point the Lions changed pitchers and Harvey Seidenstein took the hill for the Light Blue. Jerry Zutler was the first Beaver to face Seidenstein, and the big rightfielder didn't waste any time as he hit the first pitch into left for a single, scoring Di Bernardo and Troia.

Stan Rothman walked to fill the bases again and Ronny Weiss promptly singled. Iacullo, up for the second time in the inning, walked, and after Whelan hit into a force play at second, Demas singled to score the last run of the inning. Columbia went down in order in the bottom of the first, and the Beavers were at the plate again.

Di Bernardo doubled to left center and scored as Lucich singled over the shortstop's head. Zutler singled and Bill Pepper replaced Seidenstein on the mound for Columbia. Pepper struck out Rothman but Weiss got his second straight hit, a single to left. Iacullo, tired of walking to first, singled, and the Beavers were off to a 12-0 lead.

On the mound, Di Bernardo had the situation completely in control as he pitched his first win of the season and the Beavers' second. The Lavender right hander walked two and struck out four in his nine inning stint, and was never seriously in trouble.

Columbia's scoring came in the third and seventh as the Lions picked up two runs in each of the innings. In the third, Weiss lost the handle on a slowly hit ground ball, putting a runner on first. After Di Bernardo walked Jim Abrams, a wind-blown triple to right brought two Lions home. In the seventh, a double by football hero Claude Benham and a home run in left center off the bat of Chet DiLalo, finished the Lion's stickwork for the day.

Commenting on the game, coach John LaPlace said that "no team could have played better ball than we did today. It was the best sustained drive we've had all year. We got the hits when there were men on base."

Face Wagner Saturday

The Beavers will return to Metropolitan Conference competition Saturday, when they attempt to avenge an early-season defeat by Wagner. The contest will begin at 2 on Babe Ruth field in the Bronx.

In its first game of the season the Lavender "nine" was defeated by the Seahawks, 13-10.

Stickmen to Meet Stevens In Quest for Second Win

By Vic Ziegel

Lavender luck, or rather the lack of it, will be a strong factor when the College's lacrosse team faces Stevens Tech Saturday at 2 in Lewisohn Stadium.

Victorious in but one of their four outings, the Beavers will be out to garner some of the good fortune that has eluded them in their games to date.

The pattern was set in the first game of the season, when a hard-fighting Lavender squad dropped a 5-4 decision to New Hampshire in the last thirty seconds of the fray. A week later, the stickmen lost to Drexel Tech, 13-7, with Al Rosenstein scoring six goals for the visitors. It was Rosenstein's first intercollegiate lacrosse contest.

Although the Beavers drubbed Adelphi, 12-0, for their lone win of the season a week later, the game can hardly be called a good showing for the college, since most of the goals came on Panther mistakes.

In their most recent outing, the Luckless Lavender ran up against two referees who did not see things in the same light or on the same field that the Beavers did. The result was an easy win for Army.

Coach Leon "Chief" Miller will be looking for considerable improvement in his Beavers when the team takes the field against the visitors from New Jersey. Openly disgusted by their play against Army, the Chief has his boys up for this contest.

Stevens Tech, with three wins, two losses and a tie, features the same kind of running attack as the Lavender. Last season, the Engineers edged the Beavers, 7-6. But the combination of a little ability and a little luck could conceivably give the College its second win of the year.

Beavers Defeated By Queens Netmen

The College's inexperienced, undermanned tennis squad fell victim to an undefeated Queens aggregation yesterday, 6 1/2-2 1/2 on the victors' Flushing court.

Tennis coach Harry Karlin praised his boys for their fine play in a losing cause.

The Beavers suffered their fourth setback in six outings, despite winning efforts by sophomore Jay Hammel and senior Mike Stone.

Aside from those contests, however, the Knights displayed the form that had earned them previous victories over Hunter, Kings Point, and St. John's. Only one other Beaver, Roy Fleischman, was able to cop three games in one set in the singles competition. The number five man on the team, Fleischman was defeated by Carl Weinbaum, 6-1, 6-3.

The top three men for the Lavender all went down in split sets. Larry Gittleston, playing in the top spot, was defeated by Bill McCarthy, 6-1, 6-0.

The only experienced member of the squad, Walter Ritter, played in second position. He was beaten by Jan Mulford, 6-2, 6-0. Senior Arnie Menschenfreund lost both his matches to Phil Fankushen by 6-1 counts.

The half point in the final score was caused by a split in the doubles matches. The College's team of Hammel and Ray Pestrong divided two matches with Queensmen Al Mohr and Fankushen. The Lavender duo won, 6-1, and lost, 2-6. No third set was played.

Despite the defeat, Lavender coach Harry Karlin had high praise for the squad. "For boys with such little intercollegiate experience, they're doing a good job," he said.

Unbeaten Runners Go Against Knights

The only undefeated Lavender squad, the College's track team puts its 2-0 record on the line against Fairleigh-Dickinson, Saturday afternoon at the Knights' Rutheford, New Jersey field.

The Beavers have beaten Hunter and Adelphi thus far. Neither the Hawks or the Panthers have the depth or the first line material to constitute a threat to a fairly well balanced team. Fairleigh-Dickinson, has a 3-2 slate with an 84-50 romp over the Panthers to its credit.

Managing to escape with few serious injuries the Beavers are in good shape physically. Dr. Harry DeGirolamo, the Lavender coach, traces the success of the squad to the fine performances of his relatively inexperienced newcomers. "Sophomores Ralph Taylor and Stan Dawkins have teamed up with veterans Randy Crosfield and Len Olson to provide the team with unexpected strength in the middle distance and field events," he commented.
