Bookstore's Aides

Requests by student bookstore aides for fringe benefits were repeatedly rejected last Thursday by the Student Faculty Bookstore Committee.

After considering very carefully such things as length of service, working conditions, and responsibility, we decided that the student aides are just ordinary aides, and are not entitled to special privileges, said Prof. Nathan Seitel-man (Accounting, Baruch Center), chairman of the committee.

He added that because the student aides are not committed to specific numbers of work hours per week, they could not be considered regular employees.

No Direct Jurisdiction

The committee has no direct jurisdiction over the matter. However, the group could have recommended that Aaron Zweifach, the bookstore's business manager, ask the Board of Higher Education to review the regulation which pros-cribes the benefits being sought.
The rule prescribes a dollar per hour as the maximum student

Among the worker's requests are paid holiday, vacation and overtime pay. These benefits would accrue only to students who work a minimum of ten hours per week throughout the

Mr. Ronald Garretson, the Bookstore manager, declared Tuesday that the overtime pay restriction is no longer valid. He explained that student employees after will work thirty five hours a week as a maximum, while the requirement for overtime compensation is thirty seven hours per week. During the last "rush week" the undergraduates worked forty hours without receiving overtime pay, according to a spokesman for the workers.

Student Spokesman Displeased

The spokesman criticized the actioning of the committee. "The setup is not impartial," he charged.
The bookstore management dominated the agenda for the meeting and exerted undue influence on committee members."

He noted that while members of management were present at the meeting, the student workers were not invited. Furthermore, he said, the students were not officially told the reasons why their requests were denied.

Sophomore Class to Hold 'Paris Ball' in April

Tickets for the Sophomore Class'
'Paris Ball' went on sale yesterday at $1.59 for individuals with class cards and $2.00 for other students.

The first such function sponsored by the Class of '61, the dance will be held Friday evening, April 6, in the Finley Center Grand Ballroom. Tickets for the ball may be purchased in 133 Finley.

May Demolition Date Set For Drill Hall, Library

By Vic Ziegel

The College has accepted a bid for the demolition of Drill Hall and Bowker Library, Pres. Buell G.
Gallagher announced yesterday.

The buildings, located at 140th
Street and Convent Avenue on St.
Nicholas Terrace, stand on the projected site of the new six-story
Technology building.

Destruction of the two buildings must be completed by September, College officials said.
Present plans call for work to begin in May and be concluded a month later.

A bid of $43,000 by the Beaver Concrete Breaking Company of Maspeth, Long Island was the low-

Talk on Plastics

Various phases of the plastics industry will be described by six speakers from the Society of Plastics Engineers at 12:30 today in 200 Shepard. The program, sponsored by the student chapter of the American Institute of Chemical Engineers, will include a discussion of job opportunities in the field.

est of the eleven submitted. The cost of the demolition had been estimated at one hundred thousand dollars. The $57,000 difference between the estimate and the bid will be returned to the fund for the Technology building.

The original cost estimate was put forth by the Architectural and Engineering Unit of the Board of Higher Education. Mr. Thomas O'Connor, a member of that department, explained that "the demolition will start approximately 45 days after the final contracts are signed." Representatives of the Beaver Concrete Breaking Company will be at the College today for the signing.

Named after Richard R. Bowker
'68, a student instrumental in forming the College's first student council and newspaper, the library was erected in 1929. Until the opening last year of the Morris Raphael Cohen Library it housed the main reading and periodical rooms.

Drill Hall, the home of the College's ROTC unit, was completed in 1941.

SC Picks Bregman To Replace Genen

Hank Bregman '59 was overwhelmingly elected acting vice-president of Student Government last night. He replaced Arthur Genen '59 who resigned from the vice-presidency last week. Bregman was chosen over his opponent Harold Gotthelf by a 12-0 vote of Student Council. Four representatives place Arthur Genen.

abstained.
Genen resigned from the vice-presidency, contending that President Steve Nagler had stifled his ideas.

The acting vice-president anticipated no difficulties with Nagler.
"Steven and I have always worked well together," he said.

Outlines Program

The new executive outlined his program for the remainder of the semester. Bregman's plan includes the active coordination of the SC committees. "This job was not included in the vice-presidential duties last semester."

He further indicated that he would guide the new reformed Activities Program Board through its organizational stage. According to Bregman the board is having
"growing pains."

This was Bregman's initial session on Council. He was editor-in-chief of SG Notes and associate vice-president of the Personnel Agency.

Gottthelf Moves Up

Gottthelf will replace Bregman as associate vice-president of personnel. Peter Steinberg '60 will succeed Gottthelf as chairman of the Civil Liberties Board.

Bregman refused to comment on the possibility of his running for the presidency next semester.

Bregman said he would accept the vice-presidency when he was recommended for the position last week by former SG president Bart Cohen '58.

Later in the meeting Council voted to dispatch a letter to President Harold Gideonson of Brooklyn College protesting the "administrative interference" with the operation of The Kingsman, undergraduate newspaper at Brooklyn College.

New Board Elected

The Brooklyn College Kingsman
yesterday elected a new editorial board, filling the vacancies created by the resignation of its editorial board last Friday.

Those elected were: Norman
Goldstein, editor-in-chief, Harvey
Fisher, Phyllis Starker, and Mike Roth, associate editors and Gerald Rothberg managing editor.

Gallaghers to Visit Hebrew University

Pres. and Mrs. Buell G. Gallagher will travel to Israel later this month to participate in dedication ceremonies at the Hebrew University in Jerusalem.

They will leave the United States on April 22 and return to the College a week later. This will be the first visit of the President and his wife to Israel.

On April 27, Dr. Gallagher will speak before international digni-taries at the formal dedication of 24 of the university's buildings.

Students Favor Juke Box Diet

Snack Bar Winning Cafeteria Patrons

By Jack Brivic

The "balanced diet" of the South Campus cafeteria is losing out to a menu of "Lolly-pop" and "Tequilla" served up on the platters of the Snack Bar juke box.

That observation was made yesterday by Joseph Raviol, the College's food service director, who said that the cafeteria cannot compete with the Snack Bar because of "that thing." "We are unable to install a juke box in the cfeteria," he cried.

Last year the cafeteria lost
"thousands" of dollars, although Mr. Raviol would not attribute this directly to the competition. He said that rising prices were more to blame.

The cafeteria manager observed that business has been hardest hit in the afternoons—to the extent that some employees are despondent because they are left "hanging around" during these periods.

Cafeteria workers do not have

Photos by Sadownick
The cafeteria yesterday afternoon at 12:30 . . .

to be prompted into saying unkind words about the snack bar, although they refuse to speak for publication.

Many students who were interviewed while eating in the snack bar disagreed with Mr. Raviol's analysis of the situation. One girl asserted, "The atmosphere is much cozier here. The cafeteria is dismal and dirty. Furthermore, the sandwiches in the cafeteria are usually stale and too small."

The convenience of the snack bar was also cited, especially for those people who have to "eat on the run."

Some of the students became vehement and voiced the opinion that cafeteria food was "terrible" at times. One girl, obviously representing a fringe element, said that she ate in the cafeteria because she'd "rather get sick on a full meal than on a snack."

Speaking for the cafeteria, a student said that he ate there because he brings his own lunch to the College and is not allowed to eat in the snack bar. He also objected to the snack bar management's policy of "shooing out" all students who are not eating.

Several people recommended the cafeteria for its "spaciousness" and the "variety and quality" of foods served there.

The cafeteria menu is changed

Questionable Distinction

The Student Faculty Bookstore Committee last week drew a questionable distinction between student aides and other regular employees of the College. The committee denied the bookstore employees' requests for certain fringe benefits claiming they should not be treated differently from other part time students employed by the College.

We support the committee's concern for all student employees, but not its conclusions with regard to the individuals in the bookstore. The latter are unique in that they work alongside permanent full-time employees who provide a yardstick for measuring the competency of the students. In many cases the responsibilities of the two groups coincide. However, the full-time workers enjoy the benefits of overtime, sick and vacation pay. We think it fair that these benefits should accrue to regular student employees on a pro-rated basis. These students are not considered "full-time" workers even though they may put in more than thirty hours each week.

The Committee was not authorized to legislate regulations on behalf of the student employees. At best it could have recommended to Aaron Zweifach, the College's business manager, that the much sought after fringe benefits be granted. However, the bookstores of all municipal colleges carry out a mutual policy. Had Mr. Zweifach favored the employees' position, he would have had to consult the Board of Higher Education.

An overriding consideration in the matter is the precedent such positive action would set for the betterment of all regular student employees. Students should not be discriminated against because they are students. Those who perform the same jobs as full time employees should receive similar benefits.

A New Vice-president

Hank Bregman, a little-known but capable administrator, was appointed SG vice-president by Student Council yesterday to fill the vacancy created by the resignation of Arthur Genen. Although he has been an Council for less than a semester, Bregman has gained valuable experience by working diligently while some of his colleagues alternately basked and battled in the public arena. As associate vice-president in charge of personnel, he has been responsible for the coordination of SG workers, a task he has handled admirably. We trust that he will enjoy a more successful term in office than his predecessor.

Then Again, There's Finals

One month after Easter the term will end. With this cheerful thought we leave you to your vacations.

'A HECTIC TERM'

To the Editor:

As a member of the Executive Committee of Student Government and as an officer of Student Government, I feel that the time has come to make myself heard. Thus far this term I have followed a course of strict neutrality, however the maintenance of such a position I no longer feel is feasible.

Student Government has had a rather hectic term, and the clincher has come with the resignation of Mr. Arthur Genen. Mr. Genen makes a number of interesting statements and accusations in his resignation and I feel it is only fair that a view other than his be heard.

Mr. Genen makes a statement to the effect that he has had little or no cooperation from Mr. Nagler. However, he fails to realize that this is not a one-way street. Granted he may have gotten little cooperation, he gave none.

To put it rather bluntly, aside from his one "brilliant" idea (that of having a Moonlight Cruise), Mr. Genen has not contributed a thing to Student Government this term. Neither his ideas nor his time have been in evidence.

Therefore, I can only conclude that far from any loss, Student Government can only gain from the resignation of Mr. Genen. He has not only reneged on his obligation to Student Government, but to the student body itself.

Burt Bernstein '59
SG Secretary

GENEN EXPLAINS

To the Editor:

I wish to express my appreciation and thanks for your understanding and support of my resignation.

I had no intention of becoming a martyr, but I am always willing to fight when I believe that I am right.

Having been critical of the actions of this term's council, I quite naturally expected a great deal of retaliation and expect still more. I was not dejected or dispirited.

I felt that I had a right to resign, because, as you stated in your editorial of March 25: "By this time the vapors had become too pungent for even Genen's accustomed nostrils."

I am graduating this June, therefore I quite naturally will not be able to run for any SG position in the future.

Arthur Genen '58

5 Finalists Chosen In Speech Contest

Five finalists were chosen yesterday in the Sandham Contest for Extemporaneous Speaking.

They are James Barnes '59, Herbert Geslowitz '59, Arnold Deutschman '59, Gerald Hezzard '59, and Fred Newman '59.

"Do Our Schools Have the Answer to the Threats of Today?" was the topic discussed by the contestants. It was taken from the general topic of the contest, "Knowledge: Our First Line of Defense."

The five students chosen will vie in the finals to be held on Wednesday, April 16. The winner will be the student speaker at the official dedication of the Morris Raphael Cohen Library on May 3.

Graduation Posts

Seniors will be interviewed in 223 Finley today from 12 to 2 for positions as graduation marshals.

Kehoe Leading Tech Student

A slip of the slide rule, discovered last week, placed the wrong man at the top of the Tech senior class.

Irv Dostis '59, an electrical engineering student, was listed as first in his class with a 93.63 average but the top man among 478 upper seniors is actually James V. Kehoe with 93.86 per cent.

Kehoe is one student who is so busy he doesn't have time to worry about keeping up with his studies. He works forty hours each week to support a wife and two-year-old son. He is also president of the student chapter of the American Institute of Chemical Engineers.

As AIChE president Kehoe is responsible for planning a program for more than 120 students. The chapter at the College is among the largest in the country. After school he works for a large pharmaceutical firm in Brooklyn near his home.

At 25, with two years in the Army behind him, Kehoe is more mature than most students at the College. His calm, unhurried manner belies his busy schedule and a warm smile and glowing pipe contribute to his relaxed appearance.

He seems to take every hurdle in stride and jests, "I'd be lost if I ever stopped to figure it out," when someone asks how he manages all his work. Actually he wastes little time between jobs. "I usually think out problems on the bus or subway," he said.

With his high average to maintain, Kehoe sometimes finds things getting tight near the end of the term. Last Christmas he took a week's vacation to catch up with some of his classwork. "I'll be glad when finals come around," he smiled, "because then I can't fall any further behind."

The individuals selected will lead their school into the Lewisohn Stadium during the academic procession. Graduating seniors from schools of Liberal Arts and Science, Education and Technology are eligible.

Jazz Program

Tickets are on sale for the Modern Jazz Society's Intercollegiate Jazz Concert to be held Friday, April 25 in Harris Auditorium. Young musicians from the municipal colleges will be featured. Articles included are: "Ion Exchange Catalysis," "The World of Ultrasonics," an expanded Engineering Highlights feature and a critical appraisal of engineering in India. ## College Fund Grants Additional Aid to Finley Student Center

By Carole Fried

Almost eight thousand dollars was granted Friday to the Finley Student Center by the City College Fund. The money was appropriated to meet an anticipated financial deficit for the fiscal year. Ten thousand dollars had been requested of the Fund two weeks ago by officials of the Center. According to Dean Morton Gottschall (Liberal Arts and Science), who is a director of the Fund, the figure represents a more accurate "economical and prudent estimate" of the Center's needs.

The Fund is an organization of alumni which aims to raise supplementary funds for the College. The group has contributed more than one hundred thousand dollars to the College during the current fiscal year. More than $52,000 was allotted to the Finley Center. Dean Gottschall attributed the deficit to the inexperience of Center authorities with budget planning. He noted that the Center has been operating for only three years. "I'm sorry that anyone got the impression that worthwhile activities would be curtailed," he declared. Finley Center officials expected two weeks ago that the services provided by the Center would be decreased if the Fund were unable to meet the Center's requirements. The only service that has been noticeably curtailed is the Finley Center Facilities Agency. However, a Center spokesman declared that the change was "good management" and did not result from an anticipated financial deficit.

every day, while the snack bar's bill of fare consists basically of hamburgers, frankfurters, and sandwiches.

"This does not constitute a balanced diet," Mr. Raviol asserted. He went on to say that the College purchases "only the finest meat and produce available, as specified by city regulations."

Each day's meal is planned by Mr. Raviol and the College's chef, Mr. Ivan Hrzick. Both have each been in the catering business more than twenty years.

A recent addition to the cafeteria menu is pizza, which is sold only in the afternoons.

WHAT IS A MAN WHO BLOWS SMOKE RINGS?
(SEE PARAGRAPH BELOW)

SMOKE RINGS come in all shapes and sizes. Like 4-sided smoke rings for squares. Sturdy smoke rings for windy days. Even invisible smoke rings for people who aren't ostentatious. As any competent smoke ringer (Vapor Shaper in Sticklese!) will tell you, the best way to start one is to light up a Lucky. It's best mostly because a Lucky tastes best. A Lucky gives you naturally light, wonderfully good-tasting tobacco, toasted to taste even better. Why settle for less? You'll say a light smoke's the right smoke for you!

DON'T JUST STAND THERE...
STICKLE! MAKE $25

Sticklers are simple riddles with two-word rhyming answers. Both words must have the same number of syllables. (No drawings, please!) We'll shell out $25 for all we use—and for hundreds that never see print. So send stacks of 'em with your name, address, college and class to Happy-Joe-Lucky, Box 67A, Mount Vernon, New York.

Nine Bows to Rutgers, 8-2, In Season Opener

By Barry Mallin

NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J., April 1 — Both afield and at the bat the College's baseball team spent a frustrating opening day here today, losing to Rutgers, 8-2.

The Beavers battled vainly to overcome winds of gale force, their own erratic throwing arms, and the swift serves of Rutgers pitcher Paul Tootleman.

The wind carried fly balls out of reach of the outfielders, the infielders short pegs out of reach of their teammates, and the Scarlet hurler pitched within reach—but past—the Beaver hitters. In total, the College committed eight errors, struck out thirteen times and left eleven men on base.

Singles Produce Tally

Tootleman yielded seven hits and six walks and retired the side in order only twice. But he successfully thwarted Beaver attempts to mount substantial rallies, limiting the College to lone runs in the fourth and fifth innings.

Singles by Tim Sullivan, Joe Maraio and Tony Piscitello produced one tally. A walk to Bob Iacullo and a hit by Co-captain John Whelan accounted for the run in the fifth.

Tootleman kept the ball low, forcing the Beavers to bang into the ground when they weren't striking out. The College's inability to loft the ball was significant because of the difficult wind conditions in the outfield.

Rutgers scored single runs in the first and third innings on wind-tossed pop-ups that might have been caught on ordinary days.

Quick Is a Flash

A walk and a fly-ball double by cleanup hitter Jake Quick scored the first Scarlet run. In the third, Quick again delivered the tally with a pop single that sailed away from the right fielder.

Stu Weiss, the College's starting pitcher, gave up six runs in five innings. The senior southpaw, however, pitched poorly in only one

Schedule 12 Events For Easter Break

The College's five spring teams will compete in a total of twelve events during the Easter vacation.

Busiest will be the varsity and freshman baseball squads. The nine will face three opponents, including league games with Manhattan and New York University. Traditional Ivy League rival Columbia completes the varsity slate. The frosh will open their season against Hofstra with Fordham and Columbia following.

Three other teams will also begin their campaigns during the spring recess. The lacrosse squad will face Harvard Friday at Lewisohn Stadium and Stevens Tech next week.

The track team will compete in dual meets against Adelphi and Hunter, while the tennis squad will engage Adelphi and St. John's.

COACH John La Place placed three sophomores in the starting lineup against Rutgers.

frame. He yielded three runs on four hits and a walk in the fourth. Aided by Beaver errors, the Scarlet tallied runs in the fifth and sixth without a hit. Rutgers concluded the scoring with a run on two hits in the eighth frame.

Although the Beaver performance was not impressive, it is difficult to determine the actual strength of the squad at this early date. Poor weather has curtailed the outdoor training sessions, and the team has had little practice against actual pitching.

Coach John La Place started three sophomores in the opening game. Outfielders Maraio and Sullivan each stroked two hits. Catcher Bill Nicholas, however, had a disappointing day, fanning three times.

Nine to Meet Hofstra

The College will play its first Met Conference game today at 3 against Hofstra in Staten Island. Coach John La Place will probably go with righthander Luby Mlyner as the starting pitcher.

Five Cage Stars Named To All-opponent Squad

Five Metropolitan basketball standouts, who scored a total of 127 points against the Beavers, have been elected to the College's all-opponent cage squad.

Fordham University's Jim Cunningham and St. John's Al Seiden were the top men in the balloting, held by the Lavender players and managers at last Wednesday's annual basketball dinner. Nick Gaetani (Brooklyn College), Jack Madden (Rider) and Cal Ramsey (NYU) round out the team.

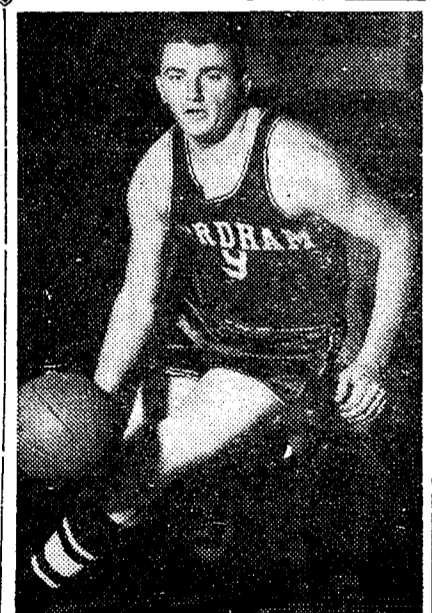

Cunningham led the Rams to a 61-47 victory over the Beavers, scoring 28 points, and exhibiting the all-around form that won him the Hagerty award as the metropolitan area's outstanding player.

All-Met guard Seiden broke through the College's defense for 22 points, and was the big gun of the Redman team that advanced to the semi-finals of the NIT. Only a junior, the 5-10 sharpshooter will be back to haunt the Beavers again next year.

Gaetani capped a brilliant career with the Kingsmen with two stellar performances against the cagers. Besides leading the Kingsman floor game, the first player in Brooklyn College history to amass a career total of more than a thousand points scored 32 against the Beavers in two contests this year.

Cage Captains

The two tallest men on the College's basketball team have been elected co-captains for the 1958-'59 season. They are Hector Lewis, 6-6, the team leader with 252 points, and Joel Ascher, 6-4, who led with a field goal percentage of .538.

FORDHAM STAR Jim Cunningham was named to the cagers' all-opponent team.

The Beavers eeked out a 60-58 decision over Rider College, and it would have been a runaway if not for an outstanding 28-point performance by the loser's 6-4 sophomore star, Jack Madden. Lavender Coach Dave Polansky called Madden "the best player we faced all season."

It was Cal Ramsey's control of the boards, as well as his seventeen points against the Beavers, which won him the final place on the squad.

Stickmen Bow

The College's lacrosse team, playing its final scrimmage before Friday's season opener, bowed Tuesday to the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, 5-4, at Lewisohn Stadium. The stickmen looked good compiling a 4-2 lead, but a three goal fourth quarter by MIT proved the Beavers' undoing.

A FRAT TO REMEMBER

Every year, as we all know, the Benevolent and Protective Order of Collegiate Fraternities awards a highly coveted prize to the fraternity house which, in its judgment, has done the most to promote and enhance the fraternity way of life. The prize this year—eight hundred pounds of putty—goes to the Alpha Hernia chapter of the South Dakota College of Dentistry and Renaissance Art.

The award this year is exceptionally richly deserved, for the Alpha Hernia house is the very model of all a fraternity should be. It is, first of all, a most attractive house physically. The outside walls are tastefully covered with sequins. Running along the upper story is a widow's walk, with a widow stationed every three feet. Moored to the chimneypot is the Graf Zeppelin.

Indoors the house gives an impression of simple, casual charm. The chapter room is furnished in homey maple and chintz, with a dash of verve provided by a carp pool three hundred feet in diameter. A waterspout rises from the center of the pool with the housemother bouncing on the top.

Members' rooms are gracious and airy and are provided with beds which fold into the wall and are never seen again. Each room also has a desk, a comfortable chair, a good reading lamp, and a catapult for skeet-shooting. Kidney-shaped desks are available for kidney-shaped members.

Perhaps the most fetching feature of the house are the packs of Marlboros stacked in heaps wherever one goes. If one wishes to enjoy a fine filtered cigarette in any room of the house, all one need do is reach out one's hand in any direction and pick up a Marlboro. Then one rubs two pledges together, lights one's Marlboro, and puffs with sweet content the tastiest smoke the mind of man has yet devised.

The decor, the grace, the Marlboros, all combine to make Alpha Hernia a real gasser of a fraternity. But a fraternity is more than things; it is also people. And it is in the people department that Alpha Hernia really shines.

Alpha Hernia has among its members the biggest BMOCs on the entire campus of the South Dakota College of Dentistry and Renaissance Art. There is, for instance, William Makepeace Sigafos, charcoal and bun chairman of the annual Stamp Club outing. Then there is Dun Rovin, winner of last year's All-South Dakota State Monopoly Championship, 135 Pound Class. Then there is Rock Schwartz, who can sleep standing up. Then there is Tremblant Placebo, who can crack pecans in his armpits. Then there is Ralph Tungsten, who went bald at eight.

But why go on? One can see what a splendid bunch of chaps there is in Alpha Hernia, and when one sees them at the house in the cool of the evening, all busy with their tasks—some picking locks, some playing Jacks-or-Better, some clipping Playboy—one's heart fills up and one's eyes grow misty, and one cannot but give three cheers and a tiger for Alpha Hernia, fraternity of the year!

And, if you don't mind, a rousing huzzah for Marlboro, cigarette of the year, whose makers take pleasure in picking up the tab for this column.
