Student Exhibits Highlight E-Day Program Tomorrow

The College's nineteenth annual E-Day program will be held tomorrow from 10 to 4 on the North Campus.

The five engineering departments and the Military Science Department will present exhibits and demonstrations.

Announcement of the program has been sent to one hundred engineering firms, as well as to high schools throughout the city. The general public may also attend at the discretion of the department heads.

Among the highlights of the program will be movies on rocketry and a demonstration of the uses of the College's nuclear reactor. The Military Science Department also will exhibit land mines, booby traps, and demolition equipment.

Dean William Allen (Technology) regarded the E-Day program as one of the continually successful events presented by the College. "We expect this year's E-Day to eclipse those of past years," he said.

Dr. Allen noted that engineering exhibits will be open to visitors this year. He considered this an opportunity for liberal arts students to become acquainted with basic engineering principles.

As part of E-Day, TIIC is sponsoring an "E-Day Ball" in the Finley Center Grand Ballroom at 8:30. A "Miss E-Day" will be chosen at the Ball. Tickets priced at three dollars per couple will be on sale at the door.

Two Parties Meet

DFU to Continue; PLS Draws Fifty; Officers Chosen Adopts Platform

By Don Langer

The Party of Liberal Students established itself yesterday as the political rival of the Democratic Forum and Union.

At a two hour meeting attended by about fifty students, the group quickly selected officers and approved previously prepared resolutions on the academic curriculum and three political issues on the campus.

Monty Horwitz '59 was elected chairman. After the meeting he declared, in response to questions, that the embryo political party would present "solid candidates" for the May Student Government election as opposed to what he presumed would be "wishy-washy" nominees of the Democratic Forum and Union. He also expressed the opinion that the Student Democratic Slate has been absorbed by the DFU. "There no longer is an SDS," he said.

The Democratic Forum and Union decided yesterday to continue its existence. The decision was unanimous and reversed a voice vote of two weeks ago, when the organization supposedly was dissolved.

About twenty persons participated in the meeting—approximately a third of the original membership. Most of the students who left the DFU have since affiliated themselves with the Party of Liberal Students.

Three new officers were elected yesterday. They were: Nels Grumer '60, chairman; Hope Rauch '60, secretary; and Myra Jehlen '61, chairman of the forum.

A resolution opposing the College's sending an official delegation to the Vienna Youth Festival received unanimous approval. However the statement added the individual has a right to attend the gathering.

The party also passed resolutions endorsing such items as: (Continued on Page 3)

Roth Offers Plan for SG Streamlining

By Sue Solet

A plan to simplify the structure of Student Government was presented to Student Council Wednesday night.

The proposal, offered by SG President Renee Roth '59, will be discussed at the SG Executive Committee meeting Monday and returned to Council Wednesday for approval.

The plan calls for a consolidation of SG agencies and committees into five commissions. The commissions are to be composed mainly of SC representatives, which will make the bodies "more responsible to Council" than the present agencies, according to Miss Roth.

Miss Roth's proposal also urges the expansion of SG responsibility into curricular affairs. "The value of extra-curricular activities should not be underestimated, but no useful purpose is performed by presuming that they are equal with curriculum and the classroom," the plan states.

It suggests that SG study the curriculum, student-teacher relations, administrative problems affecting classes, and the financial problems of the municipal colleges.

Miss Roth said yesterday that her proposal was based on "hard experience."

"We aren't effectively using able students and we aren't co-ordinating our activities effectively," Miss Roth said.

Details of the proposal call for the establishment of the following commissions: School Affairs, Student Government Operations, Academic Affairs, Civil Liberties and Public Information.

The chairmen of the first three bodies, which Miss Roth called "the major commissions," would automatically become members of the SG Executive Committee. This would assure SC of information on the activities of these commissions, she said.

Man, Religion, Politics Discussed

Professor Contrasts Christ and Sartre

By Bruce Solomon

Was man thrown into existence or was he created by an almighty God? The provocative question, long an enigma to man, was raised by Prof. William W. Paul of Shellen College yesterday in a talk on Jean-Paul Sartre and Jesus Christ.

The lecture, the second in a series of three on "Existentialism and Christianity," sponsored by the Inter-Varsity Christian Fellowship, was delivered before about 100 students in 121 Finley.

According to Dr. Paul, Sartre, considered by many the foremost contemporary existentialist writer, believes man must be his own God in a world of conformity. Man has been thrown into his existence, a phenomenon over which he had no control. It is this existence which he must realize, for there is no life after death, but a state of "non-being," a "nothingness," according to Sartre.

"Consequently, Sartre looks on God as a meaningless being who has no reality in man's experience," said Professor Paul. "To man, the religious answer to man's existence is an unauthentic one." Dr. Paul contrasted this with the Biblical conception of man created fundamentally good by an almighty God. According to the New Testament, he said, God has provided man with a means of redemption to a fellowship with Himself, by sending man a being eternal with Himself. This is Jesus Christ, who achieves a permanent sacrifice for man.

Buckley Criticizes Intellectuals

By Fred Martin

American intellectuals in public affairs are responsible for the spread of international Communism, the editor of the National Review, a conservative bi-weekly, charged yesterday.

Speaking in the Townsend Harris auditorium at the invitation of the Newman Club, William F. Buckley said that the intellectuals influencing American foreign policy "are unable to critically examine or understand trends in world politics." These people, "are not qualified to fight the Communist menace," he said.

Mr. Buckley blamed the "breakdown of intellectuals" for the West's yielding to the ominous growth of the Soviet state and the (Continued on Page 2)

Prof. Irani Scores 'Mechanized' Man

The view that man is an advanced machine was criticized yesterday by Prof. K. D. Irani (Philosophy).

In a speech sponsored by the Caduceus Society, Professor Irani said that in the last hundred years scientific experimentation has led many to believe that human life is merely a complicated mechanical system.

Countering this opinion, Professor Irani said that man has "the ability to make decisions" and machines do not. No social relationships could exist between machines, but man has developed social systems, the Professor added.

Dr. Irani predicted that when men are able to foresee human decisions, there will be a social revolution "the likes of which human-

Monotheism Faults Cited by Taubes

The basic flaw in the monotheistic religions is that they take pride in being ethical, Prof. Jacob Taubes of Columbia University contended yesterday.

"Religion is sometimes the suspension of ethics," he said.

Speaking at an open meeting of the Philosophy of Religion course here, Prof. Taubes said, "The human community defines itself through prohibitions without which it could not sustain itself." Violence, which terrifies while it fascinates, is implied in every prohibition, he added.

He held that the underlying religious concept is the concept of taboo. He pointed out an "ambiguity" here—that a violent negative sentiment is needed to oppose any kind of violence. He called war an organized transgression of a taboo.

Prof. Taubes said that in primitive religions animals were worshipped as Gods because animals, like Gods, are not subject to prohibitions.

Attend First PLS Meeting; Opt Platform, Elect Officers

The group condemned the gathering, declaring it has been organized for the purpose of serving Communist propaganda ends. "The condemnation was tempered by an amendment recognizing many American students and the Festival this summer believe no official sanctions ought to be placed on those who attend." An amendment to the resolution stated that the sending of an official City College delegation to the Democratic Forum and the sending of an official City College delegation to the Vienna Festival.

Tennis Coach Seeks Help Despite Win Over Adelphi

By Vic Ziegel

Tennis coach Harry Karlin is in a position similar to a window cleaner working without a safety belt on a ground floor, who knows he's got to complete the building.

The first thing the window cleaner does is call for something to back him up. And that's what the coach was doing Wednesday after his Beavers defeated Adelphi, 6-3, in the season's opener at the Fleet Tennis Club.

"I've sent out a call," Karlin said "to some of the boys in the school who once played tennis for me. I'm hoping they can help out over the season."

"We won the match," said Karlin, "because our top four singles men, and Hal Deutchman in the doubles, looked good. But I lost my number five man, Vic Leviatin, and that leaves us with a serious experience problem."

Leviatin's departure from the squad to take a job will be felt in full when the Beavers face a good Pratt squad on Wednesday.

The need for these men was graphically demonstrated in the Adelphi contest. The College dropped the last two singles matches after winning the opening four but won the meet by taking two of three in the doubles competition.

Singles winners for the Beavers were Mike Stone, Jay Hammel, Mark Buckstein and Seymour Silver. Buckstein was the only player to lose a set. Stone and Hammel teamed to win the first doubles; Buckstein and Deutchman, coming from a late chemistry lab, won the second.

"The team needs at least one more experienced man," the coach said, "to give us a chance in the tougher matches ahead."

Riflers Compete

The College's rifle team will conclude its season against St. Peter's in the Lewisohn range today at 5:30. The nimrods have a 12-2 record.

Beaver Pitchers Hurl 3-hitter But Nine Bows to Tigers, 3-0

By Mike Katz

PRINCETON, N.J., April 9 —The College's baseball team traveled almost fifty miles to get here today and then didn't get past second base. Princeton blanked the Beavers, 3-0, on two hits.

A three-hitter hurled by a pair of sophomore righthanders, John Calichio and Al Jacobs, was not good enough for the Beavers as Herm Belz allowed only three Lavender runners to get to second base.

[The Beavers will return to Met Conference action when they face Wagner at Macomb's Dam Park tomorrow at 2. Both teams are 1-0 in league play.]

Calichio, started and went the first five innings, allowing all the Tiger runs and hits. But for factors other than his pitching, he might not have been scored on at all.

In the fourth inning, Tiger right-fielder Ken Murray was on first base with two out. Two frames before Murray had tried to steal second and Calichio consequently was watching him closely.

The Beaver hurler, however, made simultaneous motions to first base and home plate and a balk was called, moving Murray to second. Pete Crispo then got the last hit of the game, a single, scoring Murray.

The College's defense collapsed in the next inning. Belz, leading off, hit a slow bouncer towards third. Ronnie Weiss made a fine pickup and throw but George Lopac dropped the ball at first base.

Calichio then walked leadoff hitter Bill McMillan and Gene Locks attempted to sacrifice the runners along. Calichio fielded the bunt and threw the ball wildly past third into leftfield.

By the time the ball was retrieved it was too late to prevent the two runners from scoring.

COACH JOHN LA PLACE

Belz in each of the first two innings. In the opening frame Bob Demas doubled after two were out, but Ken Rosenblum grounded out. Bill Botwinik singled in the second.

Belz pitched near-perfect ball until the ninth. A Beaver runner on with a walk was erased by a double-play in the fourth.

The Tiger hurler retired fifteen batters in a row until, with one out in the ninth, Weiss drew a base-on-balls and the Beavers had one last chance to reach Belz.

Whelan hit back to Belz who tried for the force at second, but McMillan dropped the ball. With the tying run at bat, Belz retired the Beavers' number three and four hitters, Demas and Rosenblum, to end the game.

Freshmen Lose

The freshman team lost its opening game yesterday, 5-4, to Fordham University on the victors' field.

The Beavers got a hit off field.

Recuperating from two attacks of insulin shock, lacrosse Leon (Chief) Miller was unable to witness his team's 12-8 victory over Stevens Tech on Wednesday.

Miller also missed another win last Saturday when the Beavers defeated Tufts, 12-9.

Dave Polansky, the freshman basketball mentor, coached the team in Miller's absence. He was aided for the Stevens contest by George Barron '48, an All-American goalie in his playing days at the College.

But, as co-captain Dave Elias said, "this is Chief Miller's team, nobody else's." Miller, a veteran of 29 seasons here, has developed each player on the team. None played lacrosse prior to entering the College.

Before a shirt-sleeved crowd of about four hundred persons in Lewisohn Stadium Wednesday, the stickmen scored six goals in the fourth quarter to overcome a 7-6 Stevens lead. Co-captain Willie Rodriguez scored the tying goal early in the period and soon after Jerry Kolaitis put the Beavers ahead for keeps.

The stickmen's scoring was balanced. Kolaitis, Al Gold and Fred Schwettman each three times, Rodriguez twice, Stu Bisbe once. In the goal, stopped 24 Engineer shots.

Now with a 2-1 record, the will face the University of Pennsylvania tomorrow at Franklin Field, Philadelphia.

Either Polansky or Barron coach the stickmen tomorrow. Miller continues to rest. There is a strong possibility that Barron will finish the season as coach, if he is unable to reassume his duties.

Track Talk

Horace Ashenfelter, former Olympic steeplechase champion, will speak at the Spike Club's meeting in 121 Finley Hall tonight at 8. Films of the Olympic Games will be shown.

Track Season Begins Tom'w

The College's track team will open its outdoor season against Hunter in Lewisohn Stadium tomorrow at 2. The Beavers had a successful indoor campaign, tying for second place in the Collegiate Track Conference championships.

Coach Harry de Girolamo, comparing this year's squad to last season's team that had a 2-1 dual-meet record and finished second in the CTC championships, said that in the track events the team is about the same. "But we're definitely weaker in the field events," he added.

George Best, Stan Dawkins, and Ike Clark will lead the trackmen in the sprints. Dawkins will also compete in the jumping events and both the high and low hurdles.

Ralph Taylor will start for the Lavender in the 440-yard run, the low hurdles, and probably in the 880-yard race. Tony Marcantonio and Bob Ryerson are probable starters in the 440 and 880. In these races the Hawks' Ron Roudner and Art Backman, respectively, should offer stiff competition.

Possibly the closest race tomorrow will be the mile, where Backman will be opposed by Josue Delgado, the College's sophomore ace. Backman's best time has been 4:40. Delgado, in his only race in competition, had a 4:37 to take second in the CTC championships. Delgado may also run the two-mile.
