De Sapio Cancels Thursday Speech

CARMINE DE SAPIO

Carmine De Sapio, the controversial leader of Tammany Hall, has cancelled a scheduled address at the college Thursday. He was to speak before the Conference of Democratic Students on "The Vitalization of the Democratic Party."

According to Allan Ferman '62, president of the CDS, Mr. De Sapio's secretary mistakenly scheduled his appearance for April 16. This Thursday, Mr. De Sapio will attend a State Committee dinner in Albany.

Criminology Major Seeks SG Action On Swerdlow Case

Student Government was asked last night to take action in the case of Donald Swerdlow '60, a student here who was arrested last week and has made charges of police brutality and false arrest.

Louis Korn '59, a criminology major submitted an "outline for action" to the SG Executive Committee last night. The plan suggested that SG initiate a fund raising campaign to obtain a lawyer for Swerdlow and to "cover the expense of locating witnesses to the incident."

Other proposals were: soliciting the New York Post to get publicity and perhaps to locate witnesses, and asking advice on the case from interested faculty members and the American Civil Liberties Union, the Americans for Democratic Action and the Legal Aid Society.

Korn emphasized that SG should ascertain whether Swerdlow would accept student support, check the facts of his story, and find out what presently is being done on his case before action is taken. He proposed the formation of a permanent committee to deal with cases such as Swerdlow's.

Korn said that Swerdlow must obtain "unshakeable" witnesses and a lawyer skilled in cross-examination if he hopes to win his case against the policeman who arrested him. He based his observations on his experience with the Stern incident, a similar case two years ago involving a student at the college.

The Executive Committee decided to investigate the case before submitting any plans to Student Council. Swerdlow's trial has been set for March 25.

SDS Charges New Party With 'Illiberal' Practices

By Sue Solet

The proposed Democratic Forum and Union was attacked yesterday by members of the Student Democratic Slate.

In a prepared statement, the SDS, which endorsed candidates for the last Student Government election, charged that the actions of some DFU leaders "bely the principles they are so quick to support and to bring before the student body for acceptance."

Citing "closed meetings" of the proposed group, the statement continued: "We have already seen that some of the founders of the group who decry 'anti-democratic' and 'illiberal' elements have since practiced anti-democratic and illiberal actions."

The statement was prepared to "answer the vicious accusations leveled against the Slate, its members, and the students its members represent: the student body."

The "vicious accusations" are generally believed to refer to a statement last week by Mike Horowitz '59, a founder of the DFU, who said that "... there are students on SDS with liberal pretensions who in reality follow doctrinaire principles..."

Horowitz said last night that the reference to "vicious accusations" was unfounded. "No one has been attacked," he said. "We have purposely stressed the positive aspects in order to avoid publicly hurting individuals."

He added that "to the extent

Easton to Receive Citation for Service

PROF. STEWART EASTON

Prof. Stewart Easton (History) has been named to receive the Alumni Association Faculty Service Award, it was announced Friday.

According to the Association, the award is "recognition of the contribution a faculty member has made to advance the welfare of students at the College."

Dr. Easton has been active in student affairs for the past five years. He presently is faculty advisor to Student Government and Observation Post.

The professor was recommended for the award by eight student leaders.

Prof Criticizes GF On 'Secret' Meetings

By Dolores Alexander

The General Faculty was severely criticized yesterday for holding "undemocratic, secret" meetings.

The charge was leveled by Prof. Ephraim Cross (Romance Languages), who is faculty advisor to the Marxist Discussion Club. Professor Cross declared that the GF conducted its meetings as "if it were an exclusive gentlemen's club." He called on students and faculty members to initiate a campaign to open GF meetings to the College community.

GF Votes on Observers

"There's no legislative body in the free-world that excludes visitors. Even I, a foreigner, can attend a session of the British Parliament without question," the Professor declared. "Students and faculty members should know how and why rulings which affect them are passed," he added.

Members of the faculty who are non-members of the GF may not attend meetings except with approval by a special vote of the GF.

Professor Cross took special exception to the "secrecy surrounding discussion at the meetings." "The GF has a gentlemen's agreement not to divulge what is said at the meetings," he asserted. No detailed stenographic record is kept of the meetings and only regulations approved by the committee are made public.

The GF, which is composed of 128 members, is elected by the voting members of each department. The departments are represented in proportion to their size. The function of the GF, according to the by-laws of the Board of Higher Education, is to regulate the granting of degrees, curriculum, student activities and discipline, and the use of the College's name by organizations and clubs.

Claims Right to Sit-in

Professor Cross, who has been teaching at the College for 28 years, contended that he, as well as other voters on the faculty, has a right to observe the meetings.

The Romance Language Department, which is allowed three representatives to the GF, elected Professor Cross as a fourth-alternate-delegate. He said that it probably was because of this—that his presence at last month's meeting went unchallenged. But President Gallagher (Continued on Page 3)

22 Applications Received By Fee-Lists Committee

By Dave Schick

Twenty-two student groups and individuals have applied to speak before the Special Hearings Committee on student fees and membership lists.

The Committee, established by President Gallagher, will hold open hearings April 6 and 7 starting at 1 in 200 Shepard. The schedule of speakers is now being drafted.

Dean Samuel Middlebrook (Liberal Arts), chairman of the committee, indicated that the applicants will be invited to submit a statement to the committee a week beforehand.

"We will ask the individuals involved to amplify their statements at the hearings," Dean Middlebrook said. "I believe that this is an orderly and good procedure for expediency and to permit everyone to have his say."

The committee's findings will be transmitted by President Gallagher to the General Faculty. A date for the committee's report to President Gallagher has not been set.

"I don't plan on making these hearings my career," Dean Middlebrook said. "I believe that they will help clear up the air on the matter."

According to Dean Middlebrook the following groups have asked to speak before the committee:

The Christian Association, Newman Club, Hillel, National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, the Senior Class, the Alumni Association, Students for Democratic Action, the Democratic Forum and Union, the Baskerville Chemistry Society, Interscience Council, and the Conference of Democratic Students.

The individuals who applied are: Dean Daniel F. Brophy (Student Life) Student Government President Renee Roth '59; Prof. Austin J. O'Leary (Physics); former SG President Bart Cohen '59; Mike Horowitz '59, and Steve Nagler '58; Prof. Frank Brescia (Chemistry); Prof. Mark Brunswick (Chairman, Music); Prof. Harry Lustig (Physics); Marvin Goldfine and Frank Rasher.

Pick and Shovel

Applications for membership in Pick and Shovel, the senior honor society, are available in 152 Finley. The deadline for filing is March 25.

'Class of '34 Day' Set for Tomorrow

President Gallagher has proclaimed tomorrow "Class of 1934 Day" at the College.

Members of the class will tour the College grounds and buildings in the afternoon. In the evening a Silver Anniversary Reunion Dinner, at which President Gallagher will speak, will be held in the Finley Center cafeteria.

Mr. Herman Reddish (Speech) is president of the class. Among the other members are world-famed scientist Dr. Jonas Salk, Prof. Harold Spielman (Education), Prof. Abram Taffel (Romance Languages) and Dean Jerome Cohen, director of graduate studies at the Baruch School.

Editorial Policy Is Determined by a Majority Vote of the Managing Board

Curtain of Secrecy

The General Faculty, object of much student criticism recently, was subjected to a serious attack yesterday by Prof. Ephraim Cross. Although some of Professor Cross's statements are not calculated to win friends and influence General Faculty members, his major thesis is sound.

The General Faculty is the highest policy-making group on the campus, and its function is primarily legislative. The regulations it adopts can have profound effects. There is no reason why they should be discussed and acted upon in secret.

Certainly, the General Faculty has the right to close meetings when it desires. But such action should require a majority vote, or at least a motion from the floor. The principle of closed meetings at all times by a legislative body shows little confidence in democratic precepts.

One faculty member said yesterday that General Faculty meetings should not be opened because the "generally inept actions" of the group would be further revealed. Perhaps the presence of outsiders, and the spotlight of publicity, would be the first step toward doing away with the "ineptitude" referred to. (That such ineptitude exists is plainly evident from the GF's recent actions, such as the fee-lists fiasco.)

It is perhaps unfortunate that the first faculty member to take a forthright stand against the secret meetings of the GF is Professor Cross. The professor, faculty advisor to the Marxist Discussion Club, is known for his outspoken opinions on College issues, and for this reason his views may not receive the consideration they deserve. Now that the issue has been raised, however, it is incumbent upon the liberal members of the General Faculty to follow his lead, and press for the removal of the GF's unwarranted curtain of secrecy.

Service Award

Congratulations are in order for Professor Stewart Easton of the History Department, recipient of the third annual Faculty Service Award presented by the Alumni Association. A number of professors have devoted themselves unselfishly to the improvement of student activities here, and it is difficult to select the one whose contributions have been most outstanding. Professor Easton has long been in the forefront as faculty advisor to both Observation Post and Student Government, however, and he is definitely worthy of the award.

A word of praise is due also for the Alumni Association for making the award. The fostering of closer relationships between the students and the faculty is one area in which the Association's services can be doubly rewarding.

Coveted Grants

Congratulations also are in order for the eight students at the College who have been awarded Wilson Fellowships. The Wilson awards — given to prospective teachers — are among the most coveted educational grants in the nation. The ratio of applicants to winners exceeds one hundred to one, and it is not often that one school receives as many as eight. The awards are further proof that despite recent criticisms of the caliber of the student body here, our finest students rank with the best.

Letters

To the Editor:

I wish to call to the attention of the student body the fact that before eight A.M., on any day of the week, the gate near Wagner Hall on Saint Nicholas Terrace is locked.

This of course necessitates a student with an eight o'clock class to plan to enter South Campus through the Convent Avenue gates. It is evident that both students and faculty members who use the Eighth Avenue subway or drive and park on the terrace must walk an extra four blocks, at least, to get into school.

In industry, any company would have all of its gates open at least one half hour before the reporting time of its employees. It seems ridiculous to open a gate at eight A.M. when classes start at eight A.M.

This whole problem could be solved by opening the gates one half hour earlier, namely at 7:30 A.M. The extra walk on clear days is quite often enjoyable, but on days of rain or extreme cold this extra distance is most annoying to say the least.

Many persons, coming upon the locked gates just scale them. The Dean has called in those persons caught scaling the fence, both in the morning and the evening, and lectured them for not having waited for the gate to open or for not using opened gates.

I ask you as one of the voices of the student body to bring this to the attention of the entire student body and the General staff at the college, since in the last three weeks none of them have done anything to open the gate earlier.

student wages, membership lists, and student responsibility."

SG President Renee Roth '59 yesterday said that the assertion was untrue. "They definitely did not 'spark' action on membership lists. There is an investigation being conducted at present on student wages," she said.

However, SG Secretary Peter Steinberg '61, a member of SDS, said that he had introduced the question of wages to Student Council. He said that SDS members had fought together with Miss Roth against lists.

Miss Roth said the SDS statement "libels" the Democratic Forum and Union when it calls the membership "handpicked." "Its members will be those who of their own volition join DFU," she said.

Steinberg said that SDS support of sending delegates to the Vienna Youth Festival probably was one reason for opposition to the group by some members of the Forum. "A minority of the people in the DFU are not as liberal as they say they are," he said.

In a different statement, prepared before the SDS attack, the DFU called a general membership meeting for Thursday at 3. According to the statement, signed by the four DFU founders, the purpose of the meeting is to adopt a constitution, elect officers and a faculty advisor and to "enact basic organizational policy."

The statement declared: "We hold that any charge that our conversations with fellow-students who share our views regarding the prospective group have been 'undemocratic' is patent nonsense. The organization will belong to its members."

Professor Ephraim Cross: A Lifetime of Controversy

By Fred Martin

When Prof. Ephraim Cross (Romance Languages) spoke out against the General Faculty yesterday for conducting its meetings within an atmosphere of exclusive secrecy he was not acting out of character.

The scholarly professor, who claims to have carefully studied more than forty foreign languages, has long been an active participant in controversial matters affecting students here.

Professor Cross currently is faculty advisor to the Marxist Discussion Club, and has acted as faculty advisor to the College's chapter of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, the Young Progressives of America, and the Frederick Douglas Society.

As to why he has taken such an active role in student activities, Professor Cross says he considers it his duty as a member of the faculty to serve as an advisor to campus organizations.

"It is the responsibility of the faculty advisor to protect the academic interests, and to defend the civil and constitutional liberties of the group he sponsors," he said.

With regard to the students who have lead the opposition to compulsory membership lists Professor Cross thinks that they "have an enlightened attitude towards this question and see very clearly the lists controversy."

Professor Cross came to the College in 1909 as an undergraduate language major and graduated four years later, receiving awards in English composition, French, and two in Latin. After winning two graduate scholarships in Latin he received his PhD in Romance Language from Columbia in 1930.

Dr. Cross returned to the College—this time as an instructor—in 1931.

During the twenty-eight years he has taught at the College, he has written several books and conducted research projects on ancient and modern languages. The professor also has studied law and is a member of the New York State Bar Association. His professional experience as a lawyer has included service in the government and private industry.

Professor Cross is highly regarded by his colleagues at the College. One member of his department said his "entertaining and buoyant personality always adds life to discussions." He also is well liked by his students, who say they are impressed with the intense interest he has shown in their activities.

Eight Students Given Awards Three Alumni Receive Grants

Eight students from the College have received fellowships from the Woodrow Wilson Foundation, it was announced last week.

They are seniors Gil C. Alroy, Gerald B. Dworkin, Doris Flowerman, Jonathan Goldberg, Morton J. Horowitz, Martin Pomerantz, Irwin Spirn and alumnus David Shelupsky '58.

The fellowship program recruits and supports promising scholars for their first year of graduate study. Each winner receives a $1,500 living allowance plus full payment of tuition and fees.

The purpose of the program is to stimulate college teaching as a career.

Alumni Win Awards

Three graduates of the College have won Rockefeller Public Service Awards for educational study projects related to their government jobs.

The three are: Mr. Isiah Frank '36, Mr. Marvin Schneiderman '39, and Mr. Abner Silverman '29.

Eleven prizes were granted, but only the College was represented by more than one winner.

Mr. Frank is deputy director of the Office of International Trade in the State Department. He will use his grant to appraise the effect of the European market on non-members.

Mr. Schneiderman, who is the chief statistician of the research unit in the National Cancer Institute, will study statistical methods in England related to cancer chemotherapy.

Mr. Silverman, assistant commissioner for management of the Housing and Home Finance Agency, will prepare an analysis of British housing techniques.

Support Sought Richard Austin

Richard Austin '34, is seeking support for his appeal to Board of Higher Education for reinstatement to his former post Registrar's Office.

Austin spoke Friday to Student Government President Renee 59 to request an appearance before Student Council Wednesday. He asked him to submit a brief of his case.

Student Government Executive Committee will consider his appeal and determine if SG can aid before answering his request. Austin was dismissed by the Board for invoking the Fifth Amendment before the Senate Internal Security Committee. He said that under the State Education Law he should have been given a hearing. He says he was dismissed on a technicality, and is suing the City for back pay from the date of his dismissal in 1953.

Mermen Fourth In ECSA Meet; Bayuk Excels

By Mel Winer

Mike Bayuk scored more than half the Beavers' points to lead the College to a fourth place finish in the Eastern Collegiate Swimming Association championships Friday and Saturday at the NYU pool.

The ten team meet was won by Pittsburgh University with 90 points. Rutgers finished second and NYU third with 80 and 79 points, respectively. The College, with 32 points, finished eight points ahead of Fordham and Lafayette, who tied for fifth place.

Bayuk Wins Two

Bayuk, a sophomore, proved to be the surprise of the meet as far as the Lavender was concerned. Not expected by coach Jack Rider to place first in any of his three races, Bayuk won the Eastern championships in the 100-yard and the 200-yard breaststroke races and placed third in the 200-yard butterfly competition for eighteen points.

Bayuk's performance in the event he didn't win, the butterfly, set a new Beaver record time of 2:34. This broke the mark of 2:35.5 he set a week earlier in the Metropolitan Conference championships.

West Defeated

In the diving competition, Nick West, undefeated this season in nine dual-meets and the met champ, finished second to John Barroncini of NYU in the one meter springboard dive and third in the three meter dive, also won by Barroncini. West had twice defeated Barroncini earlier in the season.

The remainder of the College's points were scored by Joel White, who finished fourth in the 200-yard individual medley and sixth in the 200-yard freestyle, and Carl Ross, who finished sixth in the 200-yard individual medley.

Drury Gallagher of Fordham was the only swimmer to win more championships than Bayuk. He won the 200-yard individual medley in addition to the 220 and the 440-yard freestyle races.

Riflers Third In NRA Meet

The College's rifle team captured third place Saturday in the eastern sectionals of the National Rifle Association tournament held at Kings Point.

Nineteen teams were entered in the tournament won by Kings Point with a 1437 score. Second place St. John's edged the Beavers, 1423 to 1419. "I was a little disappointed with our performance," remarked coach Bernard Kelley.

The Beavers were led in scoring by captain Walt Venberg who shot 289, Bob Helgans with 287, and Bernie Renois with 285.

The nimrods were without Ed Mahecha. "Ed is a consistently fine scorer and the team felt his loss badly," Kelley said.

NRA tournaments are held in all sections of the country. When all the scores have been accumulated the national standings will be announced.

Friday, the Beavers defeated Brooklyn College, 1424 to 1323. Originally scheduled as a triangular meet with Stevens Tech, the Engineers forfeited the match to the College. Venberg led all scorers with 289.

Delay CTC Field Events; Fencers Finish 8th at IFA

Runners Hold 2nd Place Sabre Squad Captures Seco

The Collegiate Track Conference indoor championships, interrupted Saturday because of a muddy Queens College athletic field, will be resumed Friday at Montclair College when the Beavers will attempt to hold their runner-up position.

Eight track events were held in the new Queens gym, but only one of the five scheduled field events—the high jump—was completed.

After the day's activities were over, Iona led with 28 points. The Beavers had 23 with Kings Point next with 14.

Five men did all the scoring for the College. In the high jump, Stan Dawkins tied for first place with a leap of five feet, eleven inches. Dawkins came back later to take third in the 60-yard high hurdles, won by Bob Balderson of Montclair. Balderson's time of 0:7.6 was a CTC record.

In all, six meet standards were set. Jose Delgado in the mile, George Best and Ike Clark in the 600-yard run, and the College's mile relay team were beaten by record-breaking performances. Co-captain Ralph Taylor, the other Beaver scorer, placed third in the 1000-yard run.

A second place finish Saturday by the sabre team, pled with poor showings Friday by the epee and foil s produced an eighth place position for the College's fence the Intercollegiate Fencing Association championships.

A ninth place finish in the epee and a tie for eighth in the foil offset the Beavers' fine sabre showing. The fencers took ten victories in the epee, eleven in the foil and nineteen in the sabre, for 40 points.

Harold Mayer of the sabre squad was the Beavers' outstanding star. Mayer finished third in the individual championships, while winning seven matches in the team competition.

Andy Kemeney and Dick Koch with seven and five wins, respectively, rounded out the sabre scoring. Last year the sabre squad also placed second in the IFA's.

Coach Edward Lucia was dissatisfied with the Beavers' efforts in the epee and foil matches but was enthused by the accomplishments of the sabre squad.

"It is a great achievement," the coach said, "for a team with a 3-5 dual-meet record to finish in the sabre and place men individual finals against staunch opposition."

In the foil competition Johnson won six matches and in alnd Spooner five. But Abenick and Jerry Muldovan were able to win any of their matches. Johnson reached the finals in his five bouts.

The epee team fared poorly, none of its members winning a majority of his matches.

GERALD A. PARSONS received his B.A. in 1950 and his M.B.A. one year later, both from Cornell University. He joined General Electric in 1954 and is presently Specialist-Marketing Administration in the company's Large Steam Turbine-Generator Department.

"The biggest challenge a man has to face is himself"

"Men and businesses are alike in one respect," says Gerald A. Parsons, 30-year-old marketing and personnel development specialist. "Their success depends to a great extent on how well they respond to challenge. And I've found that the biggest challenge a man has to face on his job is not the competition of others — but the far more important one of developing himself to his fullest capabilities."

"During my four years with General Electric, I've had plenty of opportunity for self-development. Challenging training assignments at five different locations within the company have given me a broader understanding of my career area. In my present job I have the benefit of working with experts, both in establishing long-range goals and in helping to achieve them. I've found that working toward future potential is vital in the development of successful businesses — and successful men."

Young men such as Gerry Parsons are important to the future of companies like General Electric and to the growth of America's dynamic, competitive-enterprise economy. Our nation's progress will depend more and more upon those forward-looking individuals who continue to develop to their fullest capabilities during their lifetime.

That is why General Electric provides a climate for individual progress — with opportunity for increasing knowledge and skills — for all of its employees, including 30,000 college graduates. For it is only as individuals meet the challenge of self-development that there continues to be progress for a business, an industry, or a nation.
