

ary 29,
Fac
oe
Po ppel outloo ege's sw prepare at Wing eir 71-23
aving du y face rea soft touc edule.
thus far have be Manha
Beaver and S Charles will, in ermen
y.
lose me ull Be at they ied ement meet, tisfied nce of perform hn Mar
d and Paul
s.
ers do all-aro ow not and Ri Denny M emerged
Poly. M -Yard F
ng the coach J ed of copped nd the and lo Laven
rong
o have n, read e Colleg
ers, Dec at of ating, rtero, petition ings Po cal pov
NYU, ne regu
Feb. 15
, who ust de pe to mark.

Cagers Drop Three of Four Intersession Games

Beavers' Mark Set At 6-5 Overall

By George Kaplan
LAWRENCEVILLE, N.J.—The College's basketball team, unable to score during the first 7:22 of the second half, was defeated by Rider College, 72-57, Saturday night at the Broncs' Alumni Gym.

The loss brought the Beavers' league record to 1-2. They are 6-5 overall.

The Roughriders spurred to a five point lead with six minutes one in the game and held this margin (16-11) midway through the first period.

Then the Beavers went to work. Dave Schweid hit on a pair of jump shots from the outside and, after a Rider time-out, Al Zuckerman scored from the corner. From this point until the end of the half, it was a nip-and-tuck battle with the Broncs coming out on top when Nick Serban hit from the corner with one second left. At the end of the first half, Rider led, 35-34.

But things couldn't have looked much brighter for the Lavender. Two of the Broncs' finest starters, Dick Kuchen and Ray Haesler, were in danger of fouling out of the game. In addition, Beaver center Steve Golden, who had been making a habit of collecting the maximum five fouls per game, had only two personals called against him in the first half.

The second half, however, brought no good news for the cagers. The Beavers just couldn't do a thing right and, through the first 8:34, they were outscored, 18-2.

From the moment of the tap at center, the cagers did not look like the team that had beaten Wagner only the week before. As the Broncs soared into the lead, it seemed that the Beavers were getting more and more shook by the foot-stamping of a highly partisan crowd of some 1500 fans.

The second half romp started when, with 23 seconds gone, Bill van Druten, who had replaced Dick Kuchen when the latter ran into foul trouble, scored on a jumper from inside the key. Luckily for the Lavender, the Roughriders could not sink another bucket until four minutes had passed.

Soon, though, the bombs began to fall on the Beavers. Nick Serban hit from the corner and, when

(Continued on Page 8)

THE CAMPUS

Undergraduate Newspaper of the City College Since 1907

Vol. 114—No. 2

MONDAY, FEBRUARY 10, 1964 401

Supported by Student Fees

BEAVER center Steve Golden (50) in action for the Lavender against C. W. Post and Wagner. Against Pioneers, (left), he battles for rebound; in Seahawk contest he scores a two-pointer.

Gallagher Asks SC To Consider Raise In Students' Fees

By Dorothy Ferber

President Gallagher has asked Student Council to consider increasing the $17 bursar's fee by two dollars to provide for a salary raise for student aides.

Dr. Gallagher told members of the Student Government School Affairs Committee on January 30 that he favored their demand of a $1.25 minimum wage for the College's aides. However, he noted that funds could be made available only through an increase in the fee.

He told the committee that the city had rejected a request for funds to provide student aides with a pay hike.

Dr. Gallagher emphasized that he would approve a fee increase only if Council and the student body endorsed a raise. He added

(Continued on Page 5)

Gallagher Sees Enrollment Rise Of 375 Extra Fall Freshmen

By Jerry Nagel

President Gallagher revealed last Thursday that the College will enroll 375 additional freshmen next fall, 725 less than he had originally planned. Freshman enrollments next fall will total 2825 students.

Tuition

Students interested in joining the anti-tuition campaign in Assemblyman Paul Curran's district should sign up at booths set up in the Bookstore and opposite 152 Finley.

Students To Honor Gottschall Thurs. In Great Hall Fete

Students will have a chance to honor Dean Morton Gottschall next Thursday in Great Hall.

The College will confer an honorary Doctorate of Humane Letters on the retiring dean. It will be only the twelfth honorary degree granted by the College in its 117 year history.

Ceremonies will begin at 11:45 with a procession of two representatives from each student organization and two faculty representatives from each department. Addresses by President Gallagher and Dr. Gustave G. Rosenberg, Chairman of the Board of Higher Education, will follow.

Dean Gottschall will be on terminal leave beginning this month from the post of Dean of the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences. His retirement will be effective September 1, a month before he reaches the mandatory retirement age of seventy.

Student Organizations who have not responded to a letter requesting their participation in the procession, can still participate by contacting Professor J. Bailey Harvey (Speech), chairman of the Committee on Ceremonial Occasions.

Dr. Gallagher said in November the College would admit 1,100 additional freshmen next fall if the city would provide $3 million and the state $2.6 million for expansion of enrollments in the four senior colleges.

Thus far, the City has pledged $2 million. Governor Rockefeller in his annual budget did not recommend funds for increasing enrollments.

The additional 375 students, President Gallagher said, could be absorbed "with one hand tied behind our backs." Therefore, the

(Continued on Page 3)

MDC May Hold Demonstration On Delay in Report on Files

By Henry Gilgoff

The Marxist Discussion Club has threatened to stage protest demonstrations here unless the President's ad hoc committee on access to student personal files submits its report by next week.

In a petition, signed by members of ten other student organizations including the Young Democrats Club and the Student Peace Union, the MDC demanded that the ad hoc committee submit its report "by the beginning of the term."

The committee, headed by Dr. Willard Blaesser, Dean of Students, was formed in mid-November to review the College's policy on giving access to the files to outside organizations.

Dean Blaesser had set January 15 as the date when the group's recommendations would be submitted to Dr. Gallagher. However, committee members are still meeting to work out the final draft of

SG to Begin Tuition Fight Wednesday

By Clyde Haberman

Student Government will launch its drive Wednesday to restore the free tuition mandate to the State Education Law.

SG will send an estimated 400 students into the district of Assemblyman Paul J. Curran (Rep-Manhattan) to enlist the aid of district residents in the anti-tuition campaign.

The students will ask Mr. Curran's constituents to write to the Assemblyman demanding that he vote to discharge a bill guaranteeing free tuition in the City University from the Ways and Means Committee.

According to Bob Rosenberg '64, SG President, the campaign on Wednesday is "of the utmost importance because we are in an election year, when legislators are most vulnerable to public pressure."

SG selected Mr. Curran's district in Stuyvesant town Rosenberg said, "because Curran voted against discharge last year and

(Continued on Page 2)

BOB ROSENBERG

What do you mean fortune cookies are extra? Sacre bleu! After we go to all the trouble of recognizing you, you little monkey face, is this how you treat us? Mon Dieu! Well, to prevent any further misunderstandings, we must both agree to release all further news announcements through The Campus—the world's most impartial newspaper. In their candidate classes, held each Thursday in 201 Downer, they teach the fine points of journalism. I, Charles DeGaulle, could not do much better myself. So for now au revoir mon ami Mao, eh Chou, eh Mou, eh fella.

their report. Eric Eisenberg '64, a spokesman for the MDC charged that the committee "has put too much emphasis on formalities and too little on concrete action to reassure academic freedom."

He then said that protests through demonstrations may be staged if the report is not submitted to President Gallagher by next week.

Judy Mandelberg '63, president of the Young Democrats Club said that her organization did not officially sign the MDC petition "because of the phrasing of certain clauses."

"However, individual officers did

(Continued on Page 3)

Student Council Charts Plan For Manhattan Tuition Fight

Special Council meeting comes to order: (l-r) John Zippert '66, Danny Katkin '65, Bob Rosenberg '64, Larry Steinhauer '64.

Student Council met in special session last Tuesday to discuss operational procedures for Wednesday's anti-tuition campaign in the district of Assemblyman Paul J. Curran (Rep)—Manhattan.

Bob Rosenberg '64, Student Government president, informed Council members of the intended drive and what would be required of them.

Rosenberg stressed that this term's campaign must be intensive because this is an election year, and the upstate legislators are most vulnerable now to pressure.

Student Government plans to send an estimated 400 students into Mr. Curran's district to urge residents to send post cards to the Assemblyman demanding that he vote for discharge of the Abrams bill from the Ways and Means Committee.

The bill proposes that the mandate for free tuition in the City University be restored to the State

Education Law. In further action during the first session of the term, Council members settled down to routine business.

Three juniors, Joel Cooper, Stan Lowenthal, and Steve Marcus were elected executive vice-presidents. Outlining the intended duties of the executive vice-presidents, Rosenberg noted that one officer would be concerned with the recent referendum in which students requested that President Gallagher attempt to restore major competition to the basketball schedule.

A special committee, headed by John Zippert '66, SG Treasurer, was formed to investigate methods of reorganizing the Student Activities Board.

Student Groups Convene Here; Determine Anti-Tuition Plans

Anti-tuition groups from five City and State University colleges met at the College February 1 and decided to make a coordinated effort for the restoration of the free tuition mandate.

State University college students, who have been accused here of apathy towards the tuition fight, showed surprising enthusiasm and support for the tuition drive.

The five Colleges represented were: the College, both day and evening divisions, Downtown Hunter College, Baruch School of Business and Public Administration, New Paltz State Teachers College, and Buffalo State University.

Chairing the meeting, Student Government President Bob Rosenberg '64 emphasized the importance of pressuring state legislators before March 3, the date the State Assembly will vote on a petition to discharge the bill mandating free tuition from the Assembly Ways and Means Committee.

SG Vice President Danny Katkin '65 listed some of the City representatives who voted against discharge last year and told the audience that "we're going to try to get all these people and frighten the hell out of them."

Ray Dugas, representing New Paltz, outlined a school program that had been very successful in gaining student cooperation for the anti-tuition fight. In New Paltz, a student receives an "Our Position—No Tuition" button only if he writes a letter to his state representative. "At first we were skeptical, but now we are running out of buttons," Dugas said.

A proposal for a bus trip to Albany, similar to the one held on March 11 of last year met with some objections.

New Paltz representatives explained that the march would come in the middle of finals week. Linda Bucaria of Downtown Hunter's Anti-Tuition Committee did not consider an Albany march worthwhile because she did not feel her student government could enlist enough student support.

Rosenberg Releases Two-Year Report On State of the CU

Dr. Gustave G. Rosenberg, chairman of the Board of Higher Education released his biennial report on the City University February 2. It was the first report issued by the BHE since the four senior colleges began offering a graduate program and combined with the three community colleges to become a university.

The report listed the achievements of the City University in the last two years. It declared that the BHE had begun six doctoral programs at the CU, gained approval for two new community colleges, enrolled more than 3000 additional undergraduate matriculants in the four senior colleges and 1,100 additional matriculants

DR. GUSTAVE ROSENBERG

in the community colleges, maintained free tuition in the senior colleges and urged free tuition for the community colleges.

Outlining a major program for future development, the report said the University would have to find further ways to use present facilities on its nine campuses to the utmost. It mentioned devices for this expansion which were included in the plan authored by Dr. Harry Levy, Dean of Studies for the CU.

Efforts to have the mandate for free tuition restored will continue, the report said.

The report also noted that a central facility would have to be found to house the headquarters of both the CU and BHE.

Stamps and Coins

The Stamp and Coin Club will have an organizational meeting on Thursday at 12:30 in 014 Harris. An informal discussion will follow on "Stamp Collecting vs. Coin Collecting."

Campaign in Curran's District

(Continued from Page 1)

because now he is in the position where he must present the image of a liberal Republican to attract voters."

"Supporting free tuition is necessary to convey such an image," he added.

The 400 students will rally Wednesday morning in the auditorium of the Baruch school. From there, they will divide into small groups to circulate leaflets on every block urging district residents to demand that Mr. Curran vote for discharge.

Wednesday's drive will be the first door-to-door campaign staged by Student Government in its three-year attempt to restore mandated free tuition.

Mr. I. E. Levine, the College's Public Relations Director, has informed radio and television stations and metropolitan newspapers of the Wednesday drive. He hopes that broad news coverage will provide increased pressure upon Mr. Curran to vote for the bill mandating free tuition.

On March 3, pro-tuition forces in the Assembly will attempt to force the Ways and Means committee to report the bill, submitted by Assemblyman Melville Abrams (Dem-Bronx), to the Assembly floor.

In a telephone interview with The Campus last Wednesday, Mr. Curran said that he will "definitely not vote for discharge."

"No demonstration or rally could change my mind," he said.

Mr. Curran indicated that he supports free tuition in the City University but that he will stay within the bounds of party discipline by not voting to discharge the Abrams bill.

Rosenberg said that smaller groups of students may be sent into the districts of other Assemblymen on February 22.

However, he said that no specific districts have been selected for such action.

Booths will be set up in the Finley Center today and tomorrow to recruit students to help in the campaign. Rosenberg stressed that "a large turnout is desired, although 400 students are not really needed."

"Our main purpose in recruiting so many students is for the psychological effect of a large turnout," he said.

MR. I. E. LEVINE

NYU Head Attacks CU Irresponsibility

The president of New York University charged last Wednesday that the City University often puts new programs and facilities into operation irresponsibly, disregarding the possible impact on private universities and colleges.

The president, Dr. James M. Hester, supported the State Board of Regents recommendation of an imposition of a tuition charge at the City University, claiming that once these recommendations are accepted, "the whole complex of higher educational institutions in New York City will become more rational and productive."

He stated further that the tax-supported institutions "in seeking to fulfill their new conception of public responsibility, have largely ignored the realities of the existing private institutions with whom they have been partners in serving the public for decades."

Declaring the City University's plans to increase enrollment next September, Dr. Hester said that "when the City University decides, all of a sudden, to increase radically the freshmen from the New York City high schools who will receive free tuition, the effect is similar to the effect on the Encyclopedia Britannica company of some federal agency starting to give away a set of encyclopedias produced by the government."

MICROCOSM '64
 Final payment for the yearbook is due no later than February 15th. Our new office is 207 Finley and we'll be open between 10 a.m. and 3 p.m. Payments may also be made by check. For those of you who haven't as yet taken a photo, appointments will be made the first two weeks of school. There are still some yearbooks left so we will accept new orders those weeks also.

SAVE WHEN YOU BUY... PROFIT WHEN YOU SELL

at Barnes & Noble
 New and Used Textbooks

NEW YORK'S LARGEST EDUCATIONAL BOOKSTORE ■ 105 FIFTH AVENUE AT EIGHTEENTH STREET

Monday, Fe
Carfi Bill Top I nor Rock
 City Univ Assembly
 ino has pro request for increase en per and to doctoral pr pledge plac ion to whose 1964 provide the
 by the uni
 Two Ma
 Senator Ma assemblyman also press 1 have introd million in university.
 Governor recommend tion for the crease of year. The lion for un
 $1 million
 There was get for the the CU to i September.
 Speaker
 would supp
 university refusal to i "Tuition
 Speaker Ca think the be penalize low the r
 Board of I
 The Boar for a $400
 at the univ
 Speaker
MDC (Conti sign it," s berg said may join ad hoc co its report Dean Bl day that t mitted by
 "no demon sary."
 "We're j body to hav
 he said. "C mittee wil to make m ve origina mission; Ja approximat delays."
 In its p mandated th
 by Studen
SIS
 wil
G
 AN EVE
 STARTS SE "An Even gin its' sec at the Was Bleeker, Str
 Performa
 Friday and and Midnit
 Fred Ma
OFF-I LEARN
Remed
GROUP of
AT
 Call or LOT
 2
 BKLYN, 1

Carlino Backs CU Aid Boost; Bill Filed to Increase Funds

Top Republican state legislators have split with Governor Rockefeller on the issue of increased state aid for the City University.

Assembly Speaker Joseph Carlino has promised to support a CU request for extra state funds to increase enrollment next September and to expand the university's doctoral programs. The speaker's pledge placed him in direct opposition to Governor Rockefeller, whose 1964-1965 budget does not provide the extra funds requested by the university.

Two Manhattan Republicans, Senator MacNeill Mitchell and Assemblyman John R. Brook, will also press for increased aid. They have introduced bills providing $5.1 million in additional aid for the university.

Governor Rockefeller's budget recommends a $31 million allocation for the City University, an increase of $1.1 million from last year. The total includes $30 million for undergraduate study, and $1 million for doctoral programs. There was no provision in the budget for the $2.6 million asked by the CU to increase enrollment next September.

Speaker Carlino said that he would support extra aid for the university despite the university's refusal to institute a tuition charge.

"Tuition is a separate issue," Speaker Carlino said, "but I don't think the City University should be penalized for its refusal to follow the recommendation of the Board of Regents."

The Board of Regents has called for a $400 annual tuition charge at the university.

Speaker Carlino said that since

JOSEPH CARLINO

1959, the state had increased its aid to the CU by 211 per cent. The state contributes 45 per cent of the university's total budget. In the same period, the city's contribution has increased only 27 per cent, he said.

"If they had gotten the same measure of support from the city over the past five years that they get from the state, then their budgetary problems would have disappeared," Speaker Carlino said.

The bills proposed by Senator Mitchell and Assemblyman Brook would provide $2.6 million by computing state aid on the basis of 1964, rather than 1963, enrollment. The bills also provide a flat grant of $2.5 million for graduate schools.

—Patman

Increased Enrollment

(Continued from Page 1)

College will proceed with only one of his proposals to increase enrollments — scheduling of more earlier classes.

In his October 3 address to the General Faculty, President Gallagher had proposed that the College increase enrollments by:

- Scheduling of many more Saturday classes.
- Extension of the school day till 7.
- More scheduling of earlier classes.
- Extensive use of lecture classes.
- Staggering of elective courses.
- Increased use of summer school facilities.

Requirement for entrance here will be the composite score equivalent of an 84 high school average. The 84 average will be uniform policy at all four senior colleges next fall.

Dr. Gustave G. Rosenberg said last month that more students would be admitted next fall if the state provides some of the money asked by the City University.

President Gallagher noted that the College has had no trouble recruiting teachers for the additional class hours because the city's additional allocation was made early. "We will have the teachers for the extra classes," Dr. Gallagher said.

A meeting of the General Faculty will be held February 20 to discuss important scheduling and credit changes for the fall.

PRESIDENT GALLAGHER

JOIN's Volunteers To Begin Tutoring School Dropouts

Volunteers in the Job Orientation in Neighborhood program will begin tutoring high school dropouts this week.

The volunteers met during inter-session to discuss the role they must play to aid the dropouts.

Dr. Cecil Foster, director of education for JOIN, told the tutors that one problem they will encounter is "the impairment of the level of anticipation of the dropouts." Also, he added, this level of aspiration may vary.

The tutoring will emphasize the importance of reading, Dr. Foster said, because "it is basic to being able to do work, to drive a car."

Beyond such elementary tasks, the tutor will determine his own program, from his knowledge of his students' needs.

Dr. Foster considers the possibilities of the tutor-dropout relationship "almost unlimited," benefiting the tutor as well as the client. The program might lead to increased social action in the future, he said.

—Sorkin

State Regents Say $400 Tuition Fee Would Increase Future Enrollments

The City University was told January 29 by the State Board of Regents that it could expand its physical plant and admit more students if it would institute a $400 tuition fee.

The regents and Dr. James E. Allen, the State Commissioner

of Education, estimated that the tuition fee would raise $15 million a year without taxing students from low income groups.

They claimed that $8.4 million of the total would come from the state in Regents scholarship payments and the state's Scholarship Incentive Program. Scholarship winners would receive a straight $400 grant to pay for the fee.

Students whose families' gross annual income is less than $5000 would pay nothing, receiving a $200 incentive award and $200 from a special city grant. The city would have to provide $1.3 million a year in additional aid to pay for this grant program.

The regents' request for a tuition charge in the City University is the second within the past month.

Dr. Gustave G. Rosenberg, chairman of the Board of Higher Education, rejected the regents' proposal. "Any tuition charge would throw a major obstacle in the path of Negroes and Puerto Ricans," he said.

Dr. Allen attributed the City University opposition to the regents' plan to "a failure to understand what the policy would be and a very strong pride in the fact that they have had free tuition for so many years."

The Commissioner noted that students have sources of financial assistance that did not exist "one hundred, fifty, or even ten years ago." He added that no student could be denied the opportunity of obtaining higher education because of this assistance.

MDC May Protest Delay in Files Report

(Continued from Page 1) sign it," she said. Miss Mandelberg said that her organization may join an MDC protest if the ad hoc committee does not issue its report soon.

Dean Blaesser said last Wednesday that the report would be submitted by the end of the week and "no demonstrations will be necessary."

"We're just as anxious as anybody to have the report submitted," he said. "On February 6 the committee will hold its last meeting to make minor revisions. The date we originally mentioned for submission, January 15, was only an approximate one. There were no delays."

In its petition, the MDC demanded that the resolutions passed by Student Council on December

11 be incorporated into the report. Council had recommended that:

- Political information should not be released to outside organizations without the student's consent
- Jurisdiction over the files should be removed from Dean James S. Peace (Student Life) and be transferred to Dean Blaesser
- Only four officers of each organization must file student activities cards with the Department of Student Life. At present each organization must submit the names of twelve members.

Dean Blaesser refused to reveal whether the report embodied the ideas expressed in Council resolutions.

President Gallagher also declined any comment on the controversy until he receives the report.

DEAN Willard Blaesser said no protest will be needed because the report will be out by Friday.

SIS TREMAINE '66
will grow with
GRAU

AN EVENING WITH THEODORE
STARTS SECOND WEEK IN VILLAGE
"An Evening With Theodore" will begin its second week of an extended run at the Washington Square Theatre, 145 Bleecker Street.
Performances will be given every Friday and Saturday Nights at 10 p.m. and Midnite.
Fred Martin is the producer.

OFF-KEY SINGERS!
LEARN TO SING IN TUNE Remedial Ear Training
Workshops
GROUP or INDIVIDUAL TRAINING
AT CARNEGIE HALL
Call or Write Immediately!
LOTTIE HOCHBERG
222 PENN STREET
BKLYN. 11, N. Y. ST 2-3052

ALPHA EPSILON PI
Cordially Invites You to
An Evening to Get Acquainted with Fraternities at City College
OPEN RUSH
315 CONVENT AVE. (cor. 143rd) 8:30 P.M.
Friday, February 14, 1964
LOOK FOR THE MEN IN THE YELLOW CARNATIONS

GIRLS!
LOOKING FOR FUN?
RUSH — SIGMA CHI THETA
Thursday, Feb. 20 — 12 - 2
Room 424 Finley

"BRILLIANT! POSSESSES LIKE Mescaline, SOME CHEMICAL MEANS OF HEIGHTENING ALL ONE'S SENSES!"
—Brendan Gill, New Yorker Magazine
POINT OF ORDER!
A Film of the Army-McCarthy Hearings
Produced by Emile de Antonio and Daniel Talbot
RUGOFF STUDENT DISCOUNT CARDS WILL BE HONORED
BEEKMAN

Student Council Charts Plan For Manhattan Tuition Fight

Special Council meeting comes to order: (l-r) John Zippert '66, Danny Katkin '65, Bob Rosenberg '64, Larry Steinhauer '64.

Student Council met in special session last Tuesday to discuss operational procedures for Wednesday's anti-tuition campaign in the district of Assemblyman Paul J. Curran (Rep.—Manhattan).

Bob Rosenberg '64, Student Government president, informed Council members of the intended drive and what would be required of them.

Rosenberg stressed that this term's campaign must be intensive because this is an election year, and the upstate legislators are most vulnerable now to pressure.

Student Government plans to send an estimated 400 students into Mr. Curran's district to urge residents to send post cards to the Assemblyman demanding that he vote for discharge of the Abrams bill from the Ways and Means Committee.

The bill proposes that the mandate for free tuition in the City University be restored to the State Education Law.

In further action during the first session of the term, Council members settled down to routine business.

Three juniors, Joel Cooper, Stan Lowenthal, and Steve Marcus were elected executive vice-presidents. Outlining the intended duties of the executive vice-presidents, Rosenberg noted that one officer would be concerned with the recent referendum in which students requested that President Gallagher attempt to restore major competition to the basketball schedule.

A special committee, headed by John Zippert '66, SG Treasurer, was formed to investigate methods of reorganizing the Student Activities Board.

Student Groups Convene Here; Determine Anti-Tuition Plans

Anti-tuition groups from five City and State University colleges met at the College February 1 and decided to make a coordinated effort for the restoration of the free tuition mandate.

State University college students, who have been accused here of apathy towards the tuition fight, showed surprising enthusiasm and support for the tuition drive.

The five Colleges represented were: the College, both day and evening divisions, Downtown Hunter College, Baruch School of Business and Public Administration, New Paltz State Teachers College, and Buffalo State University.

Chairing the meeting, Student Government President Bob Rosenberg '64 emphasized the importance of pressuring state legislators before March 3, the date the State Assembly will vote on a petition to discharge the bill mandating free tuition from the Assembly Ways and Means Committee.

SG Vice President Danny Katkin '65 listed some of the City representatives who voted against discharge last year and told the audience that "we're going to try to get all these people and frighten the hell out of them."

Ray Dugas, representing New Paltz, outlined a school program that had been very successful in gaining student cooperation for the anti-tuition fight. In New Paltz, a student receives an "OurPosition—No Tuition" button only if he writes a letter to his state representative. "At first we were skeptical, but now we are running out of buttons," Dugas said.

A proposal for a bus trip to Albany, similar to the one held on March 11 of last year met with some objections.

New Paltz representatives explained that the march would come in the middle of finals week. Linda Bucaria of Downtown Hunter's Anti-Tuition Committee did not consider an Albany march worthwhile because she did not feel her student government could enlist enough student support.

Rosenberg Releases Two-Year Report On State of the CU

Dr. Gustave G. Rosenberg, chairman of the Board of Higher Education released his biennial report on the City University February 2. It was the first report issued by the BHE since the four senior colleges began offering a graduate program and combined with the three community colleges to become a university.

The report listed the achievements of the City University in the last two years. It declared that the BHE had begun six doctoral programs at the CU, gained approval for two new community colleges, enrolled more than 3000 additional undergraduate matriculants in the four senior colleges and 1,100 additional matriculants

DR. GUSTAVE ROSENBERG

in the community colleges, maintained free tuition in the senior colleges and urged free tuition for the community colleges.

Outlining a major program for future development, the report said the University would have to find further ways to use present facilities on its nine campuses to the utmost. It mentioned devices for this expansion which were included in the plan authored by Dr. Harry Levy, Dean of Studies for the CU.

Efforts to have the mandate for free tuition restored will continue, the report said.

The report also noted that a central facility would have to be found to house the headquarters of both the CU and BHE.

Stamps and Coins

The Stamp and Coin Club will have an organizational meeting on Thursday at 12:30 in 014 Harris. An informal discussion will follow on "Stamp Collecting vs. Coin Collecting."

Campaign in Curran's District

(Continued from Page 1)

because now he is in the position where he must present the image of a liberal Republican to attract voters."

"Supporting free tuition is necessary to convey such an image," he added.

The 400 students will rally Wednesday morning in the auditorium of the Baruch school. From there, they will divide into small groups to circulate leaflets on every block urging district residents to demand that Mr. Curran vote for discharge.

Wednesday's drive will be the first door-to-door campaign staged by Student Government in its three-year attempt to restore mandated free tuition.

Mr. I. E. Levine, the College's Public Relations Director, has informed radio and television stations and metropolitan newspapers of the Wednesday drive. He hopes that broad news coverage will provide increased pressure upon Mr. Curran to vote for the bill mandating free tuition.

On March 3, pro-tuition forces in the Assembly will attempt to force the Ways and Means committee to report the bill, submitted by Assemblyman Melville Abrams (Dem-Bronx), to the Assembly floor.

In a telephone interview with The Campus last Wednesday, Mr. Curran said that he will "definitely not vote for discharge."

"No demonstration or rally could change my mind," he said.

Mr. Curran indicated that he supports free tuition in the City University but that he will stay within the bounds of party discipline by not voting to discharge the Abrams bill.

Rosenberg said that smaller groups of students may be sent into the districts of other Assemblymen on February 22.

However, he said that no specific districts have been selected for such action.

Booths will be set up in the Finley Center today and tomorrow to recruit students to help in the campaign. Rosenberg stressed that "a large turnout is desired, although 400 students are not really needed."

"Our main purpose in recruiting so many students is for the psychological effect of a large turnout," he said.

MR. I. E. LEVINE

NYU Head Attacks CU Irresponsibility

The president of New York University charged last Wednesday that the City University often puts new programs and facilities into operation irresponsibly, disregarding the possible impact on private universities and colleges.

The president, Dr. James M. Hester, supported the State Board of Regents recommendation of an imposition of a tuition charge at the City University, claiming that once these recommendations are accepted, "the whole complex of higher educational institutions in New York City will become more rational and productive."

He stated further that the tax-supported institutions "in seeking to fulfill their new conception of public responsibility, have largely ignored the realities of the existing private institutions with whom they have been partners in serving the public for decades."

Declining the City University's plans to increase enrollment next September, Dr. Hester said that "when the City University decides, all of a sudden, to increase radically the freshmen from the New York City high schools who will receive free tuition, the effect is similar to the effect on the Encyclopedia Britannica company of some federal agency starting to give away a set of encyclopedia produced by the government."

MICROCOSM '64
 Final payment for the yearbook is due no later than February 15th. Our new office is 207 Finley and we'll be open between 10 a.m. and 3 p.m. Payments may also be made by check. For those of you who haven't as yet taken a photo, appointments will be made the first two weeks of school. There are still some yearbooks left so we will accept new orders those weeks also.

SAVE WHEN YOU BUY... PROFIT WHEN YOU SELL

BARNES & NOBLE
 at
Barnes & Noble
 New and Used Textbooks

NEW YORK'S LARGEST EDUCATIONAL BOOKSTORE ■ 105 FIFTH AVENUE AT EIGHTEENTH STREET

Carlino Backs CU Aid Boost; Bill Filed to Increase Funds

Top Republican state legislators have split with Governor Rockefeller on the issue of increased state aid for the City University.

Assembly Speaker Joseph Carlino has promised to support a CU request for extra state funds to increase enrollment next September and to expand the university's doctoral programs. The speaker's pledge placed him in direct opposition to Governor Rockefeller, whose 1964-1965 budget does not provide the extra funds requested by the university.

Two Manhattan Republicans, Senator MacNeill Mitchell and Assemblyman John R. Brook, will also press for increased aid. They have introduced bills providing $5.1 million in additional aid for the university.

Governor Rockefeller's budget recommends a $31 million allocation for the City University, an increase of $1.1 million from last year. The total includes $30 million for undergraduate study, and $1 million for doctoral programs. There was no provision in the budget for the $2.6 million asked by the CU to increase enrollment next September.

Speaker Carlino said that he would support extra aid for the university despite the university's refusal to institute a tuition charge.

"Tuition is a separate issue," Speaker Carlino said, "but I don't think the City University should be penalized for its refusal to follow the recommendation of the Board of Regents."

The Board of Regents has called for a $400 annual tuition charge at the university.

Speaker Carlino said that since

JOSEPH CARLINO

1959, the state had increased its aid to the CU by 211 per cent. The state contributes 45 per cent of the university's total budget. In the same period, the city's contribution has increased only 27 per cent, he said.

"If they had gotten the same measure of support from the city over the past five years that they got from the state, then their budgetary problems would have disappeared," Speaker Carlino said.

The bills proposed by Senator Mitchell and Assemblyman Brook would provide $2.6 million by computing state aid on the basis of 1964, rather than 1963, enrollment. The bills also provide a flat grant of $2.5 million for graduate schools.

—Patman

Increased Enrollment

(Continued from Page 1)

College will proceed with only one of his proposals to increase enrollments — scheduling of more earlier classes.

In his October 3 address to the General Faculty, President Gallagher had proposed that the College increase enrollments by:

- Scheduling of many more Saturday classes.
- Extension of the school day till 7.
- More scheduling of earlier classes.
- Extensive use of lecture classes.
- Staggering of elective courses.
- Increased use of summer school facilities.

Requirement for entrance here will be the composite score equivalent of an 84 high school average. The 84 average will be uniform policy at all four senior colleges next fall.

Dr. Gustave G. Rosenberg said last month that more students would be admitted next fall if the state provides some of the money asked by the City University.

President Gallagher noted that the College has had no trouble

recruiting teachers for the additional class hours because the city's additional allocation was made early. "We will have the teachers for the extra classes," Dr. Gallagher said.

A meeting of the General Faculty will be held February 20 to discuss important scheduling and credit changes for the fall.

PRESIDENT GALLAGHER

JOIN's Volunteers To Begin Tutoring School Dropouts

Volunteers in the Job Orientation in Neighborhood program will begin tutoring high school dropouts this week.

The volunteers met, during inter-session to discuss the role they must play to aid the dropouts.

Dr. Cecil Foster, director of education for JOIN, told the tutors that one problem they will encounter is "the impairment of the level of anticipation of the dropouts." Also, he added, this level of aspiration may vary.

The tutoring will emphasize the importance of reading, Dr. Foster said, because "it is basic to being able to do work, to drive a car."

Beyond such elementary tasks, the tutor will determine his own program, from his knowledge of his students' needs.

Dr. Foster considers the possibilities of the tutor-dropout relationship "almost unlimited," benefiting the tutor as well as the client. The program might lead to increased social action in the future, he said.

—Sorkin

State Regents Say $400 Tuition Fee Would Increase Future Enrollments

The City University was told January 29 by the State Board of Regents that it could expand its physical plant and admit more students if it would institute a $400 tuition fee.

The regents and Dr. James E. Allen, the State Commissioner

of Education, estimated that the tuition fee would raise $15 million a year without taxing students from low income groups.

They claimed that $8.4 million of the total would come from the state in Regents scholarship payments and the state's Scholar Incentive Program. Scholarship winners would receive a straight $400 grant to pay for the fee.

Students whose families' gross annual income is less than $5000 would pay nothing; receiving a $200 incentive award and $200 from a special city grant. The city would have to provide $1.3 million a year in additional aid to pay for this grant program.

The regents' request for a tuition charge in the City University is the second within the past month.

Dr. Gustave G. Rosenberg, chairman of the Board of Higher Education, rejected the regents' proposal. "Any tuition charge would throw a major obstacle in the path of Negroes and Puerto Ricans," he said.

Dr. Allen attributed the City University opposition to the regents' plan to "a failure to understand what the policy would be and a very strong pride in the fact that they have had free tuition for so many years."

The Commissioner noted that students have sources of financial assistance that did not exist "one hundred, fifty, or even ten years ago." He added that no student could be denied the opportunity of obtaining higher education because of this assistance.

MDC May Protest Delay in Files Report

(Continued from Page 1) sign it," she said. Miss Mandelberg said that her organization may join an MDC protest if the ad hoc committee does not issue its report soon.

Dean Blaesser said last Wednesday that the report would be submitted by the end of the week and "no demonstrations will be necessary."

"We're just as anxious as anybody to have the report submitted," he said. "On February 6 the committee will hold its last meeting to make minor revisions. The date we originally mentioned for submission; January 15, was only an approximate one. There were no delays."

In its petition, the MDC demanded that the resolutions passed by Student Council on December

11 be incorporated into the report. Council had recommended that:

- Political information should not be released to outside organizations without the student's consent
- Jurisdiction over the files should be removed from Dean James S. Peace (Student Life) and be transferred to Dean Blaesser
- Only four officers of each organization must file student activities cards with the Department of Student Life. At present each organization must submit the names of twelve members.

Dean Blaesser refused to reveal whether the report embodied the ideas expressed in Council resolutions.

President Gallagher also declined any comment on the controversy until he receives the report.

DEAN Willard Blaesser said no protest will be needed because the report will be out by Friday.

SIS TREMAINE '66
will grow with
GRAU

AN EVENING WITH THEODORE
STARTS SECOND WEEK IN VILLAGE
"An Evening With Theodore" will begin its second week of an extended run at the Washington Square Theatre, 145 Bleecker Street.
Performances will be given every Friday and Saturday Nights at 10 p.m. and Midnite.
Fred Martin is the producer.

OFF-KEY SINGERS!
LEARN TO SING IN TUNE
Remedial Ear Training
Workshops
GROUP or INDIVIDUAL TRAINING
AT CARNEGIE HALL
Call or Write Immediately:
LOTTIE HOCHBERG
222 PENN STREET
BKLYN. 11, N. Y. ST 2-3052

ALPHA EPSILON PI
Cordially Invites You to
An Evening to Get Acquainted
with Fraternities at City College
OPEN RUSH
315 CONVENT AVE. (cor. 143rd) 8:30 P.M.
Friday, February 14, 1964
LOOK FOR THE MEN IN
THE YELLOW CARNATIONS

GIRLS!
LOOKING FOR FUN?
RUSH — SIGMA CHI THETA
Thursday, Feb. 20 — 12 - 2
Room 424 Finley

"BRILLIANT! POSSESSES LIKE Mescaline, SOME CHEMICAL MEANS OF HEIGHTENING ALL ONE'S SENSES!"
— Brendan Gill, New Yorker Magazine
POINT OF ORDER!
A Film of the Army-McCarthy Hearings
Produced by Emile de Antonio and Daniel Talbot
RUGOFF STUDENT DISCOUNT CARDS WILL BE HONORED
BEEKMAN

Student Council Charts Plan For Manhattan Tuition Fight

Special Council meeting comes to order: (l-r) John Zippert '66, Danny Katkin '65, Bob Rosenberg '64, Larry Steinhauer '64.

Student Council met in special session last Tuesday to discuss operational procedures for Wednesday's anti-tuition campaign in the district of Assemblyman Paul J. Curran (Rep.—Manhattan).

Bob Rosenberg '64, Student Government president, informed Council members of the intended drive and what would be required of them.

Rosenberg stressed that this term's campaign must be intensive because this is an election year, and the upstate legislators are most vulnerable now to pressure.

Student Government plans to send an estimated 400 students into Mr. Curran's district to urge residents to send post cards to the Assemblyman demanding that he vote for discharge of the Abrams bill from the Ways and Means Committee.

The bill proposes that the mandate for free tuition in the City University be restored to the State

Education Law. In further action during the first session of the term, Council members settled down to routine business.

Three juniors, Joel Cooper, Stan Lowenthal, and Steve Marcus were elected executive vice-presidents. Outlining the intended duties of the executive vice-presidents, Rosenberg noted that one officer would be concerned with the recent referendum in which students requested that President Gallagher attempt to restore major competition to the basketball schedule.

A special committee, headed by John Zippert '66, SG Treasurer, was formed to investigate methods of reorganizing the Student Activities Board.

Student Groups Convene Here; Determine Anti-Tuition Plans

Anti-tuition groups from five City and State University colleges met at the College February 1 and decided to make a coordinated effort for the restoration of the free tuition mandate.

State University college students, who have been accused here of apathy towards the tuition fight, showed surprising enthusiasm and support for the tuition drive.

The five Colleges represented were: the College, both day and evening divisions, Downtown Hunter College, Baruch School of Business and Public Administration, New Paltz State Teachers College, and Buffalo State University.

Chairing the meeting, Student Government President Bob Rosenberg '64 emphasized the importance of pressuring state legislators before March 3, the date the State Assembly will vote on a petition to discharge the bill mandating free tuition from the Assembly Ways and Means Committee.

SG Vice President Danny Katkin '65 listed some of the City representatives who voted against discharge last year and told the audience that "we're going to try to get all these people and frighten the hell out of them."

Ray Dugas, representing New Paltz, outlined a school program that had been very successful in gaining student cooperation for the anti-tuition fight. In New Paltz, a student receives an "OurPosition—No Tuition" button only if he writes a letter to his state representative. "At first we were skeptical, but now we are running out of buttons," Dugas said.

A proposal for a bus trip to Albany, similar to the one held on March 11 of last year met with some objections.

New Paltz representatives explained that the march would come in the middle of finals week. Linda Bucaria of Downtown Hunter's Anti-Tuition Committee did not consider an Albany march worthwhile because she did not feel her student government could enlist enough student support.

Rosenberg Releases Two-Year Report On State of the CU

Dr. Gustave G. Rosenberg, chairman of the Board of Higher Education released his biennial report on the City University February 2. It was the first report issued by the BHE since the four senior colleges began offering a graduate program and combined with the three community colleges to become a university.

The report listed the achievements of the City University in the last two years. It declared that the BHE had begun six doctoral programs at the CU, gained approval for two new community colleges, enrolled more than 3000 additional undergraduate matriculants in the four senior colleges and 1,100 additional matriculants

DR. GUSTAVE ROSENBERG

in the community colleges, maintained free tuition in the senior colleges and urged free tuition for the community colleges.

Outlining a major program for future development, the report said the University would have to find further ways to use present facilities on its nine campuses to the utmost. It mentioned devices for this expansion which were included in the plan authored by Dr. Harry Levy, Dean of Studies for the CU.

Efforts to have the mandate for free tuition restored will continue, the report said.

The report also noted that a central facility would have to be found to house the headquarters of both the CU and BHE.

Stamps and Coins

The Stamp and Coin Club will have an organizational meeting on Thursday at 12:30 in 014 Harris. An informal discussion will follow on "Stamp Collecting vs. Coin Collecting."

Campaign in Curran's District

(Continued from Page 1)

because now he is in the position where he must present the image of a liberal Republican to attract voters."

"Supporting free tuition is necessary to convey such an image," he added.

The 400 students will rally Wednesday morning in the auditorium of the Baruch school. From there, they will divide into small groups to circulate leaflets on every block urging district residents to demand that Mr. Curran vote for discharge.

Wednesday's drive will be the first door-to-door campaign staged by Student Government in its three-year attempt to restore mandated free tuition.

Mr. I. E. Levine, the College's Public Relations Director, has informed radio and television stations and metropolitan newspapers of the Wednesday drive. He hopes that broad news coverage will provide increased pressure upon Mr. Curran to vote for the bill mandating free tuition.

On March 3, pro-tuition forces in the Assembly will attempt to force the Ways and Means committee to report the bill, submitted by Assemblyman Melville Abrams (Dem-Bronx), to the Assembly floor.

In a telephone interview with The Campus last Wednesday, Mr. Curran said that he will "definitely not vote for discharge."

"No demonstration or rally could change my mind," he said.

Mr. Curran indicated that he supports free tuition in the City University but that he will stay within the bounds of party discipline by not voting to discharge the Abrams bill.

Rosenberg said that smaller groups of students may be sent into the districts of other Assemblymen on February 22.

However, he said that no specific districts have been selected for such action.

Booths will be set up in the Finley Center today and tomorrow to recruit students to help in the campaign. Rosenberg stressed that "a large turnout is desired, although 400 students are not really needed."

"Our main purpose in recruiting so many students is for the psychological effect of a large turnout," he said.

MR. I. E. LEVINE

NYU Head Attacks CU Irresponsibility

The president of New York University charged last Wednesday that the City University often puts new programs and facilities into operation irresponsibly, disregarding the possible impact on private universities and colleges.

The president, Dr. James M. Hester, supported the State Board of Regents recommendation of an imposition of a tuition charge at the City University, claiming that once these recommendations are accepted, "the whole complex of higher educational institutions in New York City will become more rational and productive."

He stated further that the tax-supported institutions "in seeking to fulfill their new conception of public responsibility, have largely ignored the realities of the existing private institutions with whom they have been partners in serving the public for decades."

Declaring the City University's plans to increase enrollment next September, Dr. Hester said that "when the City University decides, all of a sudden, to increase radically the freshmen from the New York City high schools who will receive free tuition, the effect is similar to the effect on the Encyclopedia Britannica company of some federal agency starting to give away a set of encyclopedia produced by the government."

MICROCOSM '64

Final payment for the yearbook is due no later than February 15th. Our new office is 207 Finley and we'll be open between 10 a.m. and 3 p.m. Payments may also be made by check. For those of you who haven't as yet taken a photo, appointments will be made the first two weeks of school. There are still some yearbooks left so we will accept new orders those weeks also.

SAVE WHEN YOU BUY...
PROFIT WHEN YOU SELL

at
Barnes & Noble
New and Used Textbooks

NEW YORK'S LARGEST EDUCATIONAL BOOKSTORE ■ 105 FIFTH AVENUE AT EIGHTEENTH STREET

Monday, Carl Bill Top for Roch City Uni Assemblino has p request for increase e ber and to doctoral p pledge pla tion to whose 19 provide th by the ur Two M Senator M ssemblyma also press have intro million in university Governi recommen tion for th crease of year. The lion for u $1 million There was get for th the CU to September Speaker would sup university refusal to "Tuition Speaker C think the be penaliz low the Board of The Boa for a $40 at the uni Speaker

MDC (Cont sign it," berg said may join ad hoc co its report Dean Bl day that t mitted by "no demoi sary." "We're body to ha he said " mittee wi to make n ve origina mission; J approxima delays." In its manded th by Studer

SIS wi

OFF- LEARN Remel

GROUP o At Call on LOT 2 BKLYN.

AN EVE STARTS S "An Eve gin its' sec at the Wa Bloeker, St Perform Friday and and Midni Fred Ma

District

Page 1)
in the position ent the image an to attract tion is necesan image," he ill rally Wed-the auditorium

From there, small groups in every block ents to de-ran vote for will be the paign staged ment in its restore man-the College's ector, has intelevision sta-an newspapay drive. He ews coverage sed pressure vote for the tuition.

ition forces in empt to force committee to mitted by As-brams (Dem-nibly floor.

interview with Wednesday, Mr. will "definite-arge."

or rally could e said.

ated that he
in the City
he will stay of party dis-to discharge

that smaller may be sent other Assem-22.

that no spe-been selected

t up in the and tomor-to help in berg stressed is desired, al-are not really in recruiting for the psy-a large turn-

64 no later is 207
.m. and check.
aken a e years those

REET

Carlino Backs CU Aid Boost; Bill Filed to Increase Funds

Top Republican state legislators have split with Governor Rockefeller on the issue of increased state aid for the City University.

Assembly Speaker Joseph Carlino has promised to support a CU request for extra state funds to increase enrollment next September and to expand the university's doctoral programs.

JOSEPH CARLINO

Two Manhattan Republicans, Senator MacNeill Mitchell and Assemblyman John R. Brook, will also press for increased aid. They have introduced bills providing $5.1 million in additional aid for the university.

Governor Rockefeller's budget recommends a $31 million allocation for the City University, an increase of $1.1 million from last year. The total includes $30 million for undergraduate study, and $1 million for doctoral programs.

1959, the state had increased its aid to the CU by 211 per cent. The state contributes 45 per cent of the university's total budget. In the same period, the city's contribution has increased only 27 per cent, he said.

Speaker Carlino said that he would support extra aid for the university despite the university's refusal to institute a tuition charge.

"If they had gotten the same measure of support from the city over the past five years that they got from the state, then their budgetary problems would have disappeared," Speaker Carlino said.

"Tuition is a separate issue," Speaker Carlino said, "but I don't think the City University should be penalized for its refusal to follow the recommendation of the Board of Regents."

The bills proposed by Senator Mitchell and Assemblyman Brook would provide $2.6 million by computing state aid on the basis of 1964, rather than 1963, enrollment. The bills also provide a flat grant of $2.5 million for graduate schools.

The Board of Regents has called for a $400 annual tuition charge at the university.

Speaker Carlino said that since

Increased Enrollment

(Continued from Page 1)

College will proceed with only one of his proposals to increase enrollments — scheduling of more earlier classes.

In his October 3 address to the General Faculty, President Gallagher had proposed that the College increase enrollments by:

- Scheduling of many more Saturday classes.
• Extension of the school day till 7.
• More scheduling of earlier classes.
• Extensive use of lecture classes.
• Staggering of elective courses.
• Increased use of summer school facilities.

Requirement for entrance here will be the composite score equivalent of an '84 high school average. The 84 average will be uniform policy at all four senior colleges next fall.

Dr. Gustave G. Rosenberg said last month that more students would be admitted next fall if the state provides some of the money asked by the City University.

President Gallagher noted that the College has had no trouble

recruiting teachers for the additional class hours because the city's additional allocation was made early. "We will have the teachers for the extra classes," Dr. Gallagher said.

A meeting of the General Faculty will be held February 20 to discuss important scheduling and credit changes for the fall.

PRESIDENT GALLAGHER

JOIN's Volunteers To Begin Tutoring School Dropouts

Volunteers in the Job Orientation in Neighborhood program will begin tutoring high school dropouts this week.

The volunteers met during intersession to discuss the role they must play to aid the dropouts.

Dr. Cecil Foster, director of education for JOIN, told the tutors that one problem they will encounter is "the impairment of the level of anticipation of the dropouts." Also, he added, this level of aspiration may vary.

The tutoring will emphasize the importance of reading, Dr. Foster said, because "it is basic to being able to do work, to drive a car."

Beyond such elementary tasks, the tutor will determine his own program, from his knowledge of his students' needs.

Dr. Foster considers the possibilities of the tutor-dropout relationship "almost unlimited," benefiting the tutor as well as the client. The program might lead to increased social action in the future, he said.

-Sorkin

State Regents Say $400 Tuition Fee Would Increase Future Enrollments

The City University was told January 29 by the State Board of Regents that it could expand its physical plant and admit more students if it would institute a $400 tuition fee.

The regents and Dr. James E. Allen, the State Commissioner

of Education, estimated that the tuition fee would raise $15 million a year without taxing students from low income groups.

They claimed that $8.4 million of the total would come from the state in Regents scholarship payments and the state's Scholar Incentive Program. Scholarship winners would receive a straight $400 grant to pay for the fee.

Students whose families' gross annual income is less than $5000 would pay nothing, receiving a $200 incentive award and $200 from a special city grant. The city would have to provide $1.3 million a year in additional aid to pay for this grant program.

The regents' request for a tuition charge in the City University is the second within the past month.

Dr. Gustave G. Rosenberg, chairman of the Board of Higher Education, rejected the regents' proposal. "Any tuition charge would throw a major obstacle in the path of Negroes and Puerto Ricans," he said.

Dr. Allen attributed the City University opposition to the regents' plan to "a failure to understand what the policy would be and a very strong pride in the fact that they have had free tuition for so many years."

The Commissioner noted that students have sources of financial assistance that did not exist "one hundred, fifty, or even ten years ago." He added that no student could be denied the opportunity of obtaining higher education because of this assistance.

MDC May Protest Delay in Files Report

(Continued from Page 1) sign it," she said. Miss Mandelberg said that her organization may join an MDC protest if the ad hoc committee does not issue its report soon.

11 be incorporated into the report. Council had recommended that:
• Political information should not be released to outside organizations without the student's consent
• Jurisdiction over the files should be removed from Dean James S. Peace (Student Life) and be transferred to Dean Blaesser
• Only four officers of each organization must file student activities cards with the Department of Student Life. At present each organization must submit the names of twelve members.

Dean Blaesser said last Wednesday that the report would be submitted by the end of the week and "no demonstrations will be necessary."

Dean Blaesser refused to reveal whether the report embodied the ideas expressed in Council resolutions.

"We're just as anxious as anybody to have the report submitted," he said. "On February 6 the committee will hold its last meeting to make minor revisions. The date we originally mentioned for submission, January 15, was only an approximate one. There were no delays."

President Gallagher also declined any comment on the controversy until he receives the report.

In its petition, the MDC demanded that the resolutions passed by Student Council on December

DEAN Willard Blaesser said no protest will be needed because the report will be out by Friday.

SIS TREMAINE '66 will grow with GRAU

AN EVENING WITH THEODORE STARTS SECOND WEEK IN VILLAGE

OFF-KEY SINGERS! LEARN TO SING IN TUNE Remedial Ear Training Workshops

ALPHA EPSILON PI Cordially Invites You to An Evening to Get Acquainted with Fraternities at City College OPEN RUSH 315 CONVENT AVE. (cor. 143rd) 8:30 P.M. Friday, February 14, 1964 LOOK FOR THE MEN IN THE YELLOW GARNATIONS

GIRLS! LOOKING FOR FUN? RUSH - SIGMA CHI THETA Thursday, Feb. 20 - 12 - 2 Room 424 Finley

POINT OF ORDER! BRILLIANT! POSSESSES LIKE Mescaline, SOME CHEMICAL MEANS OF HEIGHTENING ALL ONE'S SENSES! RUGOFF STUDENT DISCOUNT CARDS WILL BE HONORED BEEKMAN

THE CAMPUS

Published Semi-Weekly
Undergraduate Newspaper
Of The City College
Since 1907

Vol. 114—No. 2

Supported by Student Fees

The Managing Board:

CLYDE HABERMAN '66 Editor-in-Chief	BOB ROSENBLATT '64 Associate Editor
KEN KOPPEL '64 Associate Editor	JOE BERGER '66 News Editor
JEAN ENDE '66 Business Manager	GEORGE KAPLAN '66 Sports Editor
EVA HELLMANN '66 Associate News Editor	INES MARTINS '64 Features Editor

CONTRIBUTING BOARD: Marion Budner '64, Ray Corio '65, Effie Gang '64, Jeff Green '65, Bob Weisberg '66.

NEWS STAFF: Sam Bavli '66, Paul Biderman '67, Janie Blechner '66, Pete Bushey '65, Matt Daley '67, Nimrod Daley '64, Dorothy Ferber '67, Steve Goldman '65, Henry Gilgoff '67, Linda Gruber '67, Batyah Janowski '66, Alma Kadragic '64, Martin Kauffman '65, Roslyn Kazdon '67, Janet Lieberman '67, Jerry Nagel '64, Neil Offen '67, Jean Patman '67, Eileen Safir '64, Jane Saladoff '67, Sam Schildhaus '66, Jeff Silber '66, Tami Smilgiewicz '67, Nancy Sorkin '67, Frank Van Riper '67, Frank Wechsler '67, Brian Weiss '65, Regina Winkler '64.

SPORTS STAFF: Gail Fabricant '66, Bruce Freund '66, Andy Koppel '67, Arthur Woodard '66.

BUSINESS STAFF: Rona Gelman '67, Joanne Migdal '67.

ART STAFF: Marilyn Edelson '67, Marguerite Mink '64, Annette Roseman '65.

PHOTOGRAPHERS: Bill Frank '65, Ted Weitz '67.

Phone: FO 8-7426

FACULTY ADVISOR: Mr. Jerome Gold

Editorial Policy is Determined by a Majority Vote of the Managing Board

Bells Are Ringing

Student Government will go to the grassroots Wednesday in its drive to muster support for the restoration of the free-tuition guarantee. Students will ring doorbells and distribute free tuition literature to the residents of the district of Assemblyman Paul Curran, a New York City Republican who voted last year against the bill to restore the mandate. The purpose of the campaign Wednesday is to arouse Mr. Curran's constituents, and pressure the Assemblyman into changing his vote in this year's session. Since this is an election year, a door-bell ringing campaign may be the best method available to bring the "voice of the people" to Mr. Curran's ears. We urge students to register at the Finley Center booths in order to join the campaign in Mr. Curran's Manhattan district.

But Wednesday's effort must not be an isolated act. It should be part of a concerted drive for the Republican votes needed to pass the bill. All Democratic members of the Senate and Assembly are pledged to vote for the bills to restore the mandate. But the Democrats are in the minority party in both houses. Therefore, Republican votes are needed to pass the bills. The upstate Republican legislators are beyond reach. But their New York City colleagues are susceptible to pressure from students at the College, these students' parents, and any voters who may be influenced by students or parents. Because of this, we urge a doorbell and leaflet campaign in the district of each city Republican legislator who abstained or voted the wrong way last year on the tuition issue. Student Government should organize such a campaign immediately.

Other measures are also needed to round out an impressive drive for free tuition. A rally in Albany on the day when the bills come up for a vote is needed. This rally should include contingents from all colleges of the City University as well as representatives from State University colleges. The sight of hundreds of determined students may influence wavering legislators.

Also, a rally at the College, similar to last year's gathering, would be an effective device for boosting enthusiasm for the campaign.

We trust that Student Government will bend its efforts to planning and executing the various measures outlined above. The tuition question is one of paramount concern for every student here.

File and Forget

The President's ad hoc committee investigating access to student personal files was formed in mid-November. It was supposed to submit its report to President Gallagher by January 15. It is now mid-February and still no report has been issued. We can understand that with final examinations and intercession, the committee may have had difficulty meeting, but with an issue as important as this such difficulties should have been overcome. Now school is starting and there can be no excuse for a delay in submitting the report beyond the Friday deadline the committee has set.

We cannot, however, condone the Marxist Discussion Club's threat to stage protest demonstrations if the committee delays. Such demonstrations will only arouse the ill will of the administration and possibly provoke them into actions which may only harm the cause of those who want the FBI and other parties to be denied access to student dossiers.

Letters

To the Editor:

I would like to call your attention to a libelous article in your edition of January 7, 1964. In it your reporter said the following: "Every fraternity in the College is required to have a clause in its constitution forbidding discrimination because of race. But still there are no Negroes."

The first statement is true, but, as a member of Sigma Beta Phi fraternity, I know that the second statement has no factual basis. Negroes, as well as people from other minority groups are brothers in the fraternity. We at Beta Sigma Phi are proud that we not only preach non-discrimination, but practice it.

I strongly urge that more care be taken to prevent personal prejudices and mis-information from entering into a supposedly factual article.

Martin Kaplan '66
January 27

Ed. Note—Mr. Kaplan is right. According to the latest edition of the Greek Letter, there is one Negro brother in all the Interfraternity Council member fraternities. THE CAMPUS regrets this error.

News In Brief

Domber-SAB Head

Barry Domber '64 was elected chairman of the Student Activities Board on January 13.

Student Government will hold open hearings during the semester in which any student can voice his opinion on the advisability of continuing the SAB.

Test Weissman

Edward Weissman, alleged murderer of Mike Schaffer, is undergoing psychiatric examination at Bellevue Hospital. Weissman was admitted to the hospital on February 3 at the request of his lawyer.

Weissman's case is pending on the docket of the Manhattan Criminal Court following an indefinite postponement of his trial.

Gottschalk Ill

Dr. Louis Gottschalk who was selected Buell Gallagher Visiting Professor in history for this term was taken ill and will not teach. The course has been postponed indefinitely and no new visiting professor will be hired.

Kingsboro President

Dr. Jacob I. Hartstein has been selected president for the new Kingsborough Community College. The college will open in September.

Dr. Hartstein, a 53 year old alumnus of the College, is a professor and Dean of the School of Education at Long Island University.

Finley Bust

A bust of John Finley has been added to the Finley exhibit currently on display in the Cohen Library. Sculptured by Enoch Glicenstein, the work has been lent to the library by his family.

Cercle Francais

Le Cercle du Jour Francais will hold its first meeting of the semester on Thursday in Downer 204 at 12:30.

A REVIEW

'Promethean'

By Bob Weisberg

The word for this term's Promethean is balance. For one thing its one hundred pages are fairly evenly distributed among fiction, criticism and poetry; for another, it represents a lot of the best and some of the poorest works college writers are producing.

The editors celebrate the first solid-bound issue in the magazine's history with eight short stories that best typify the distribution of quality. Clearly the finest is Mark Engler's "She Wore White." The story is the consciousness of a young man playing squash tennis with himself. The man has a sequence of remembrances, first of himself as a small boy, scoring the winning touchdown, then of his mother clouding his joy by scolding him for ripping his pants, and finally of the girl who has forsaken him. The transition of the flashbacks is handled well, and the description of the act of hitting the tennis ball is a powerful vehicle for the young man's emotions. The story deserves more than one reading.

A vignette by L. Jeffrey Norwalk called "Man's Best Friend" is the only other polished piece of fiction. It conveys a weird concept of Hell and death on the part of a commuter who had just been in an auto accident. The absurdity of the situation is highlighted by low-key dialogue, for example, the man's reference to the accident as "some thing interesting." The resulting is a refreshing shock and a genuine symbol.

A few other stories merit mention, for different reasons. David Kirby's "A Dark Door Closing" and Arthur Dobrin's "Cherry Cay" both reflect the importance of a story's climax. Mr. Kirby's piece is a well-written drama of a man who cannot enjoy his new-found social freedom when he learns that his old girl-friend has gone to bed with his friend. The story is ruined by an ambiguous and probably rhapsodized ending that tries to convey an image of fate too strong for Mr. Kirby's hand. Mr. Dobrin's is a trite story of a young man trying to escape his dull Caribbean home. This piece is saved to some extent by an ending that really shocks.

Michele Abramowitz' "Her Story" is an awkward portrayal of a sort of female Holden Caulfield. It jousts at introspection through the first person narrative are amateurish. It is disappointing to find that the editors have included another of her stories, a bit of cliché Jewish realism. Miss Abramowitz is the writer in the magazine who least deserves a second chance on the basis of first performance.

By far the best feature of Promethean is its two pieces of criticism. Dr. Edmund Volpe of the English Department offers an analysis of Faulkner's As I Lay Dying. He first notes the theme of the novel as the gross absurdity of human life. But he treats the novel for its unique aspect—the portrayal of the absurdity as a macabre joke. The novel concerns a ten-day funeral procession, and Dr. Volpe points to the attitudes of the characters to the meaning of the procession as the essence. He emphasizes the suggestion of one character that death is merely a function of the mind of the bereaved, and that since the response of each mind is different the only real thing about death is the corpse itself. To the reader, Dr. Volpe says, the absurdity is that so much anguish and effort go into keeping a decaying mass above ground for no good reason. The dead body is pictured as a stasis in the center of all the insane motions of the characters. One does not have to be a Faulkner enthusiast to appreciate Dr. Volpe's perceptiveness.

Poetry editor Robert Kern presents a review of four young British poets, Charles Tomlinson, Jon Silkin, Thom Gunn, and Ted Hughes. Mr. Kern admits to being overly kind to the first two because of their undeserved obscurity, and overly harsh to the latter two because their fame exceeds their worth. But all four poets are treated simply and honestly. The focus is the contrast between the freshness and the impossibility of classifying these men and the trite jargon of "The Group" of contemporary British anti-war poets. Mr. Kern evinces a fine ability to perceive potential in some admittedly poor poems.

The poetry in the magazine is the most difficult writing to analyze. Most of it rates several readings; several poems are failures at first glance. Mr. Kern's six poems are best; especially interesting is his "Ulysses," a sort of dialogue between an observer and the protagonist who has just risen from the sea "Unconvinced that the ghosts of memory/ Are a fiction . . ."

Barry Sheinkopf, Joe Sloman, and Richard Strier also deserve a perusal, though the work of each falls a bit short of Mr. Kern's tightness of style. The line between honest experimentation with meter and rhyme and immature looseness of verse is thin, but most of their poems fall on the good side. Mr. Sloman's long poem, "Her Eyes Shining, Her Clothes to the Wind," is an example of good creative verse.

An instance of the bad side of the line is two poems by Nancy Moore. Both describe situations in nature unnecessarily playing around with graphics, and both conclude with analogies of nature to love and hate. The endings are awkward and didactic. It is a tendency of even some of the fiction in the magazine to show something, realize that it has been shown poorly, and proceed to state what it had tried to show.

The fact is, the writing of one's fellows should be by definition a worthwhile investment. In the case of Promethean, the expected shortcomings are so clearly matched by original and creative work that Promethean uniquely justifies its purchase.

Flattery Gets the Sports Fans Nowhere—Booboo Pine and Sigh Over Julie Levine

By Ines Martins

Julie (Booboo) Levine has that certain "something" on a ball court which makes him succeed—with women. This shy student, who, according to former teammate Johnny Pine, has "quiet determination" when playing basketball, has created a stir among girls that many have called him for dates. "I don't want them," Booboo said, smiling, "but I'm very flattered."

For the girls, however, "flattery will get you no where" is their guide. Thus far, Julie has accepted only one date. A twenty-year old junior who hopes to teach physical education today, Julie has strict rules for his female admirers. "If the girl sends nice on the phone, goes to school, and sounds intelligent," he said, "I might take her out."

Booboo, who goes out every weekend except during finals, received his nickname before he was born. While his mother was still at the hospital, his grandmother told his older brother that "Mama's going to bring home a little booboo." The name stuck.

According to his teammate, Alex Blatt '64, Booboo's attractiveness has captivated the heart of his girl friend, Ellen Shaffer. "She loves him and she wants to make me jealous," he said, referring to a girl Ellen made to Julie after he sustained an eye injury in the tennis game.

Alex said that girls apparently "want him" because "Booboo's cute and has sex appeal." He indicated that he's "cuddly and has a Beatle hair cut," adding that he is also popular, good looking, intelligent, a star, a tremendous ball handler and a nice guy to be with.

Running out of breath, Alex feigned exasperation. "Lately it's been too much for me," he said. "I can't help it if Ellen likes back court men better than forwards."

Ellen, however, denied that she had designs on Booboo. Although she once called herself his "secret admirer," she only wanted to tease him when he didn't recognize her phone voice. She indicated that he is "very modest," adding that "he reeks from goodness and has a cute build."

Just what Julie's certain "something" consists of is hard to pin point. "I'll tell you the one thing I love about him," Batyah Janowski '66 said. "It's the agonized look he gets on his face every time he takes the ball out after the other team scores. He stares at the ceiling and looks as if it's all over."

When informed of Booboo's most recent claim to fame, Coach Dave Polansky jokingly said, "I'd like to know if the girls are from City College or Music and Art." "All I'm interested in," he added, "is whether he can play basketball. I think he can take care of the young ladies without the help of the coach."

Booboo's popularity, however, has adversely affected one male student who wished to remain unidentified. "Why can't it happen to me?" he lamented.

JULIE hits a jumper as Post's Mike Brandeis guards closely.

JULIE LEVINE

College Will Host Conference On Latin American Education

A conference on the status of education in Latin America will be held at the College on March 21-23. The conference will be sponsored by the College's Center for Latin American Studies and the New Education Fellowship, an international organization of educators.

According to Professor Jose Maria Chavez (Romance Languages), director of the center, the gathering will deal with educational problems on a regional basis. Six panels will be established, one each for Argentina, Brazil and Mexico, and three for the other Latin American nations.

Panel members will include members of the faculty committee on Latin America, metropolitan representatives of the New Education Fellowship, and Latin American businessmen and educators.

President Gallagher will open the conference. When the meeting ends, Dr. Gallagher will leave for Uruguay as an official guest of the government.

A guest speaker from the United States state department will speak at the conference.

PROF. Jose Maria Chavez announces Latin American Conference to be held next month.

—Silber

Debaters Win at Hopkins, 4-2; Two Set New College Record

Battered but unbowed, two units of the College's debating team returned last weekend from tournaments held 500 miles apart.

Competing in a tournament held at Johns Hopkins University in Baltimore, the team of Bruce Freund '66 and Joel Glassman '66 finished eighth in a field of 62 teams. Meeting teams from Minnesota to Virginia, the College's team emerged with 4 wins and 2 defeats.

At the same time, the team of John Zippert '65 and Carl Weitzman '65 journeyed to Harvard University in Boston where they scraped through with a 4-4 record.

The big news was made in Baltimore, where Freund and Glassman posted the best showing ever made by a team from the College at the annual Hopkins tournament.

The team defeated Hampton-Sydney College (Va.) and American University in the opening rounds on Friday. In the third round, they were matched against an undefeated team from Hiram College (Ohio).

After a grueling battle, in which the advantage alternated continually, the College's team succumbed to defeat by 1 point out of a possible 60. Hiram eventually finished in sixth place. Glassman, however, managed to place sixth in the individual speaker rankings, ahead of more than 100 other debaters.

The results from Boston were not nearly so roseate. Competing against teams from virtually every state, Zippert and Weitzman dropped their opening round to the University of Maine on a technicality, the victory going to the negative side because of a tie. The College could not recover sufficiently to post a winning record.

Oil Heating Is Worth $1800 For Student Contest Winners

By Jane Saladoff

A funny thing happened to two College students and a Brooklyn College friend on the way to the movies. They wound up winning a Renault and 750 gallons of heating oil. Lewis Mandell '64, Jeffrey Michaels '66, and Arthur Sher, a Brooklyn College sophomore entered a guessing contest sponsored by the State Island Oil Dealers Association and submitted 500 educated guesses on the heating capacity of an 84-inch high elliptical oil tank.

Three of the guesses were good for the top three prizes—a 1964 Renault, 500 gallons of heating oil, and 250 gallons of heating oil.

The adventure began one December night when Mandell called his two fellow Staten Islanders to see if they wanted to go to the movies. En route to the theatre they suddenly decided to do something different and agreed to spend the night out in the St. George Ferry Terminal, where the contest was being held.

Mandell admits that what really attracted them to the terminal was not the ferries but "two or three girls there dressed up in Santa Claus outfits."

Coincidentally, the contest booth was set up in back of the terminal. Their appetites were whetted by the prize offerings and so they entered the contest set on victory.

Repairing to Michaels' house, they stayed up to the wee hours of the morning. Using analytic geometry and trusty slide rule, they determined that the heating capacity of the oil tank must be 25,100,000 British Thermal Units.

The next few weeks were spent submitting entry blanks at a rate of 20 per day.

To avoid embarrassment from taking so many entry blanks, Mandell said, "we had to swoop down and grab them off the table before the girls at the counter would recognize us. I used to wear a different coat every day."

The correct answer proved to be 24,889,000 B.T.U.'s and their estimate was worth the car and the quantity of oil. By previous agreement they sold the prizes, winding up with a profit of $600 a man.

Increase in Bursar's Fee

(Continued from Page 1)

that he personally does not favor an increase because it would tax all students for the benefit of a few.

At present, student aides receive a starting salary of $1 per hour with an increase of ten cents per hour after 200 hours of service. Students performing special services or holding responsible positions receive a starting hourly salary of $1.25.

Bob Atkins '64, a member of the committee and an aide, expressed dissatisfaction with President Gallagher's proposal because he felt wages could be increased through further use of available funds.

According to Atkins the total receipts from the bursar's fee is $300,000. He questioned the possibility of meeting the $200,000 cost of the aides' wages from funds obtained through the fee.

Atkins also noted that Council would not support a fee increase.

Atkins expects that a committee representing the union will present Dr. Gallagher with a list of grievances. Among the chief complaints, he said, will be:

- low wage scales
- lack of job security
- poor treatment of aides by librarians and secretaries
- classification of certain skilled jobs in lower wage brackets

If the union is dissatisfied with the President's response to its grievances, it will consider striking to gain its demands, Atkins said.

BARON, GRAU
Then and Now

N. Y. WORLD'S FAIR
1964 - 1965

Save 12% on adult tickets
(transferable, good any day)

Leave name, phone in RAILROAD CLUB — mailbox in 152 Finley.

All College students, faculty, employees eligible. Offer ends February 21, 1964.

COLLEGE STUDENTS
An Exciting 7½ Week
Summer Adventure

KIBBUTZ & VACATION
in ISRAEL & EUROPE

JET DEPARTURES: June 27 & July 9

ALL INCLUSIVE RATE: $897

Program Features:

- 14 days of fruit-picking and other work in Galilee Kibbutzim
- 7 day "Go Native" sightseeing tour throughout Israel
- 14 days of rest and recreation at the ASHKELON — village de vacances on the Mediterranean
- 14 day tour of Italy, Switzerland and France

For further information & reservations contact:
HISTADRUT STUDENT TOURS
33 East 67th St New York 21, NY
RE 4-7440 or RE 4-6010

The Campus
Congratulates
BOB and SANDY
On the Birth of Their Daughter
Thanks for the New Staff Member

THE CAMPUS

Published Semi-Weekly
Undergraduate Newspaper
Of The City College
Since 1907

Vol. 114—No. 2

Supported by Student Fees

The Managing Board:CLYDE HABERMAN '66
Editor-in-ChiefKEN KOPPEL '64
Associate Editor
JEAN ENDE '66
Business ManagerBOB ROSENBLATT '64
Associate Editor
JOE BERGER '66
News EditorGEORGE KAPLAN '66
Sports EditorEVA HELLMANN '66
Associate News EditorINES MARTINS '64
Features Editor

CONTRIBUTING BOARD: Marion Budner '64, Ray Corio '65, Effie Gang '64, Jeff Green '65, Bob Weisberg '66.

NEWS STAFF: Sam Bavli '66, Paul Biderman '67, Janie Blechner '66, Pete Bushey '65, Matt Daley '67, Nimrod Daley '64, Dorothy Ferber '67, Steve Goldman '65, Henry Gilgoff '67, Linda Gruber '67, Batyah Janowski '66, Alma Kadragic '64, Martin Kauffman '65, Roslyn Kazdon '67, Jane Lieberman '67, Jerry Nagel '64, Neil Offen '67, Jean Patman '67, Eileen Safir '64, Jane Saladoff '67, Sam Schildhaus '66, Jeff Silber '66, Tami Smilgiewicz '67, Nancy Sorkin '67, Frank Van Riper '67, Frank Wechsler '67, Brian Weiss '65, Regina Winkler '64.

SPORTS STAFF: Gail Fabricant '66, Bruce Freund '66, Andy Koppel '67, Arthur Woodard '66.

BUSINESS STAFF: Rona Gelman '67, Joanne Migdal '67.

ART STAFF: Marilyn Edelson '67, Marguerite Mink '64, Annette Roseman '65.

PHOTOGRAPHERS: Bill Frank '65, Ted Weitz '67.

Phone: FO 8-7426

FACULTY ADVISOR: Mr. Jerome Gold

Editorial Policy is Determined by a Majority Vote of the Managing Board

Bells Are Ringing

Student Government will go to the grassroots Wednesday in its drive to muster support for the restoration of the free-tuition guarantee. Students will ring doorbells and distribute free tuition literature to the residents of the district of Assemblyman Paul Curran, a New York City Republican who voted last year against the bill to restore the mandate. The purpose of the campaign Wednesday is to arouse Mr. Curran's constituents, and pressure the Assemblyman into changing his vote in this year's session. Since this is an election year, a door-bell ringing campaign may be the best method available to bring the "voice of the people" to Mr. Curran's ears. We urge students to register at the Finley Center booths in order to join the campaign in Mr. Curran's Manhattan district.

But Wednesday's effort must not be an isolated act. It should be part of a concerted drive for the Republican votes needed to pass the bill. All Democratic members of the Senate and Assembly are pledged to vote for the bills to restore the mandate. But the Democrats are in the minority party in both houses. Therefore, Republican votes are needed to pass the bills. The upstate Republican legislators are beyond reach. But their New York City colleagues are susceptible to pressure from students at the College, these students' parents, and any voters who may be influenced by students or parents. Because of this, we urge a doorbell and leaflet campaign in the district of each city Republican legislator who abstained or voted the wrong way last year on the tuition issue. Student Government should organize such a campaign immediately.

Other measures are also needed to round out an impressive drive for free tuition. A rally in Albany on the day when the bills come up for a vote is needed. This rally should include contingents from all colleges of the City University as well as representatives from State University colleges. The sight of hundreds of determined students may influence wavering legislators.

Also, a rally at the College, similar to last year's gathering, would be an effective device for boosting enthusiasm for the campaign.

We trust that Student Government will bend its efforts to planning and executing the various measures outlined above. The tuition question is one of paramount concern for every student here.

File and Forget

The President's ad hoc committee investigating access to student personal files was formed in mid-November. It was supposed to submit its report to President Gallagher by January 15. It is now mid-February and still no report has been issued. We can understand that with final examinations and intercession, the committee may have had difficulty meeting, but with an issue as important as this such difficulties should have been overcome. Now school is starting and there can be no excuse for a delay in submitting the report beyond the Friday deadline the committee has set.

We cannot, however, condone the Marxist Discussion Club's threat to stage protest demonstrations if the committee delays. Such demonstrations will only arouse the ill will of the administration and possibly provoke them into actions which may only harm the cause of those who want the FBI and other parties to be denied access to student dossiers.

Letters

To the Editor:

I would like to call your attention to a libelous article in your edition of January 7, 1964. In it your reporter said the following: "Every fraternity in the College is required to have a clause in its constitution forbidding discrimination because of race. But still there are no Negroes."

The first statement is true, but, as a member of Sigma Beta Phi fraternity, I know that the second statement has no factual basis. Negroes, as well as people from other minority groups are brothers in the fraternity. We at Beta Sigma Phi are proud that we not only preach non-discrimination, but practice it.

I strongly urge that more care be taken to prevent personal prejudices and mis-information from entering into a supposedly factual article.

Martin Kaplan '66
January 27

Ed. Note—Mr. Kaplan is right. According to the latest edition of the Greek Letter, there is one Negro brother in all the Interfraternity Council member fraternities. THE CAMPUS regrets this error.

News In Brief

Domber-SAB Head

Barry Domber '64 was elected chairman of the Student Activities Board on January 13.

Student Government will hold open hearings during the semester in which any student can voice his opinion on the advisability of continuing the SAB.

Test Weissman

Edward Weissman, alleged murderer of Mike Schaffer, is undergoing psychiatric examination at Bellevue Hospital. Weissman was admitted to the hospital on February 3 at the request of his lawyer.

Weissman's case is pending on the docket of the Manhattan Criminal Court following an indefinite postponement of his trial.

Gottschalk III

Dr. Louis Gottschalk who was selected Buell Gallagher Visiting Professor in history for this term was taken ill and will not teach. The course has been postponed indefinitely and no new visiting professor will be hired.

Kingsboro President

Dr. Jacob I. Hartstein has been selected president for the new Kingsborough Community College. The college will open in September.

Dr. Hartstein, a 53 year old alumnus of the College, is a professor and Dean of the School of Education at Long Island University.

Finley Bust

A bust of John Finley has been added to the Finley exhibit currently on display in the Cohen Library. Sculptured by Enoch Glicenstein, the work has been lent to the library by his family.

Cercle Francais

Le Cercle du Jour Francais will hold its first meeting of the semester on Thursday in Downer 204 at 12:30.

A REVIEW

'Promethean'

By Bob Weisberg

The word for this term's Promethean is balance. For one thing its one hundred pages are fairly evenly distributed among fiction, criticism and poetry; for another, it represents a lot of the best and some of the poorest works college writers are producing.

The editors celebrate the first solid-bound issue in the magazine's history with eight short stories that best typify the distribution of quality. Clearly the finest is Mark Engler's "She Wore White." The story is the consciousness of a young man playing squash tennis with himself. The man has a sequence of remembrances, first of himself as a small boy, scoring the winning touchdown, then of his mother clouding his joy by scolding him for ripping his pants, and finally of the girl who has forsaken him. The transition of the flashbacks is handled well, and the description of the act of hitting the tennis ball is a powerful vehicle for the young man's emotions. The story deserves more than one reading.

A vignette by L. Jeffrey Norwalk called "Man's Best Friend" is the only other polished piece of fiction. It conveys a weird concept of Hell and death on the part of a commuter who had just been in an auto accident. The absurdity of the situation is highlighted by low-key dialogue, for example, the man's reference to the accident as "something interesting." The resulting is a refreshing shock and a genuine symbol.

A few other stories merit mention, for different reasons. David Kirby's "A Dark Door Closing" and Arthur Dobrin's "Cherry Cay" both reflect the importance of a story's climax. Mr. Kirby's piece is a well-written drama of a man who cannot enjoy his new-found social freedom when he learns that his old girl-friend has gone to bed with his friend. The story is ruined by an ambiguous and probably rhapsodized ending that tries to convey an image of fate too strong for Mr. Kirby's hand. Mr. Dobrin's is a trite story of a young man trying to escape his dull Caribbean home. This piece is saved to some extent by an ending that really shocks.

Michele Abramowitz' "Her Story" is an awkward portrayal of a sort of female Holden Caulfield. It jousts at introspection through the first person narrative are amateurish. It is disappointing to find that the editors have included another of her stories, a bit of cliché Jewish realism. Miss Abramowitz is the writer in the magazine who least deserves a second chance on the basis of first performance.

By far the best feature of Promethean is its two pieces of criticism. Dr. Edmund Volpe of the English Department offers an analysis of Faulkner's As I Lay Dying. He first notes the theme of the novel as the gross absurdity of human life. But he treats the novel for its unique aspect—the portrayal of the absurdity as a macabre joke. The novel concerns a ten-day funeral procession, and Dr. Volpe points to the attitudes of the characters to the meaning of the procession as the essence. He emphasizes the suggestion of one character that death is merely a function of the mind of the bereaved, and that since the response of each mind is different the only real thing about death is the corpse itself. To the reader, Dr. Volpe says, the absurdity is that so much anguish and effort go into keeping a decaying mass above ground for no good reason. The dead body is pictured as a Lewis stasis in the center of all the insane motions of the characters. One does not have to be a Faulkner enthusiast to appreciate Dr. Volpe's perceptiveness.

Poetry editor Robert Kern presents a review of four young British poets, Charles Tomlinson, Jon Silkin, Thom Gunn, and Ted Hughes. Mr. Kern admits to being overly kind to the first two because of their undeserved obscurity, and overly harsh to the latter two because their fame exceeds their worth. But all four poets are treated simply and honestly. The focus is the contrast between the freshness and the impossibility of classifying these men and the trite jargon of "The Group" of contemporary British anti-war poets. Mr. Kern evinces a fine ability to perceive potential in some admittedly poor poems.

The poetry in the magazine is the most difficult writing to analyze. Most of it rates several readings; several poems are failures at first glance. Mr. Kern's six poems are best; especially interesting is his "Ulysses," a sort of dialogue between an observer and the protagonist who has just risen from the sea "Unconvinced that the ghosts of memory/ Are a fiction . . ."

Barry Sheinkopf, Joel Sloman, and Richard Strier also deserve a perusal, though the work of each falls a bit short of Mr. Kern's tightness of style. The line between honest experimentation with meter and rhyme and immature looseness of verse is thin, but most of their poems fall on the good side. Mr. Sloman's long poem, "Her Eyes Shining, Her Clothes to the Wind," is an example of good creative verse.

An instance of the bad side of the line is two poems by Nancy Moore. Both describe situations in nature unnecessarily playing around with graphics, and both conclude with analogies of nature to love and hate. The endings are awkward and didactic. It is a tendency of even some of the fiction in the magazine to show something, realize that it has been shown poorly, and proceed to state what it had tried to show.

The fact is, the writing of one's fellows should be by definition a worthwhile investment. In the case of Promethean, the expected shortcomings are so clearly matched by original and creative work that Promethean uniquely justifies its purchase.

Flattery Gets the Sports Fans Nowhere—Booeds Pine and Sigh Over Julie Levine

By Ines Martins

Julie (Booboo) Levine has that certain "something" on a ball court which makes him succeed—with women. This shy student, who, according to former teammate Johnny Pine, has "quiet determination" when playing basketball, has created a stir among girls that many have called him for dates. "I don't want them," Booboo said, smiling, "but I'm very flattered."

For the girls, however, "flattery will get you no where" is their guide. Thus far, Julie has accepted only one date. A twenty-year old junior who hopes to teach physical education one day, Julie has strict rules for his female admirers. "If the girl sends nice on the phone, goes to school, and sounds intelligent," he said, "I might take her out."

Booboo, who goes out every weekend except during finals, received his nickname before he was born. While his mother was still at the hospital, his grandmother told his older brother that "Mama's going to bring home a little booboo." The name stuck.

According to his teammate, Alex Blatt '64, Booboo's attractiveness has captivated the heart of his girl friend, Ellen Shaffer. "She loves him and she wants to make me jealous," he said, referring to a girl Ellen made to Julie after he sustained an eye injury in the teens game.

Alex said that girls apparently "want him" because "Booboo's great and has sex appeal." He indicated that he's "cuddly and has a Beatle hair cut," adding that he is also popular, good looking, intelligent, a star, a tremendous ball handler and a nice guy to be with.

Running out of breath, Alex feigned exasperation. "Lately it's been too much for me," he said. "I can't help it if Ellen likes back court men better than forwards."

Ellen, however, denied that she had designs on Booboo. Although she once called herself his "secret admirer," she only wanted to tease him when he didn't recognize her phone voice. She indicated that he is "very modest," adding that "he sneaks from goodness and has a cute build."

Just what Julie's certain "something" consists of is hard to pin point. "I'll tell you the one thing I love about him," Batyah Janowski '66 said. "It's the agonized look he gets on his face every time he takes the ball out after the other team scores. He stares at the ceiling and looks as if it's all over."

When informed of Booboo's most recent claim to fame, Coach Dave Polansky jokingly said, "I'd like to know if the girls are from City College or Music and Art." "All I'm interested in," he added, "is whether he can play basketball. I think he can take care of the young ladies without the help of the coach."

Booboo's popularity, however, has adversely affected one male student who wished to remain unidentified. "Why can't it happen to me?" he lamented.

JULIE hits a jumper as Post's Mike Brandeis guards closely.

College Will Host Conference On Latin American Education

A conference on the status of education in Latin America will be held at the College on March 21-23. The conference will be sponsored by the College's Center for Latin American Studies and the New Education Fellowship, an international organization of educators.

According to Professor Jose Maria Chavez (Romance Languages), director of the center, the gathering will deal with educational problems on a regional basis. Six panels will be established, one each for Argentina, Brazil and Mexico, and three for the other Latin American nations.

Panel members will include members of the faculty committee on Latin America, metropolitan representatives of the New Education Fellowship, and Latin American businessmen and educators.

President Gallagher will open the conference. When the meeting ends, Dr. Gallagher will leave for Uruguay as an official guest of the government.

A guest speaker from the United States state department will speak at the conference.

PROF. Jose Maria Chavez announces Latin American Conference to be held next month.

—Silber

Debaters Win at Hopkins, 4-2; Two Set New College Record

Battered but unbowed, two units of the College's debating team returned last weekend from tournaments held 500 miles apart.

Competing in a tournament held at Johns Hopkins University in Baltimore, the team of Bruce Freund '66 and Joel Glassman '66 finished eighth in a field of 62 teams. Meeting teams from Minnesota to Virginia, the College's team emerged with 4 wins and 2 defeats.

At the same time, the team of John Zippert '65.5 and Carl Weitzman '65 journeyed to Harvard University in Boston where they scraped through with a 4-4 record.

The big news was made in Baltimore, where Freund and Glassman posted the best showing ever made by a team from the College at the annual Hopkins tournament.

The team defeated Hampton-Sydney College (Va.) and American University in the opening rounds on Friday. In the third round, they were matched against an undefeated team from Hiram College (Ohio).

After a grueling battle, in which the advantage alternated continually, the College's team succumbed to defeat by 1 point out of a possible 60. Hiram eventually finished in sixth place. Glassman, however, managed to place sixth in the individual speaker rankings, ahead of more than 100 other debaters.

The results from Boston were not nearly so roseate. Competing against teams from virtually every state, Zippert and Weitzman dropped their opening round to the University of Maine on a technicality, the victory going to the negative side because of a tie. The College could not recover sufficiently to post a winning record.

Oil Heating Is Worth $1800 for Student Contest Winners

By Jane Saladoff

A funny thing happened to two College students and a Brooklyn College friend on the way to the movies. They wound up winning a Renault and 750 gallons of heating oil. Lewis Mandell '64, Geoffrey Michaels '66, and Arthur Sher, a Brooklyn College sophomore entered a guessing contest sponsored by the State Island Oil Dealers Association and submitted 500 educated guesses on the heating capacity of an 84-inch high elliptical oil tank. Three of the guesses were good for the top three prizes—a 1964 Renault, 500 gallons of heating oil, and 250 gallons of heating oil.

The adventure began one December night when Mandell called two fellow Staten Islanders to see if they wanted to go to the movies. En route to the theatre they suddenly decided to do something different and agreed to spend the night out in the St. George Ferry Terminal, where the contest was being held.

Mandell admits that what really attracted them to the terminal was not the ferries but "two or three girls there dressed up in Santa Claus outfits."

Coincidentally, the contest booth was set up in back of the terminal. Their appetites were whetted by the prize offerings and so they entered the contest set on victory.

Repairing to Michaels' house, they stayed up to the wee hours of the morning. Using analytic geometry and trusty slide rule, they determined that the heating capacity of the oil tank must be 25,100,000 British Thermal Units.

The next few weeks were spent submitting entry blanks at a rate of 20 per day.

To avoid embarrassment from taking so many entry blanks, Mandell said, "we had to swoop down and grab them off the table before the girls at the counter would recognize us. I used to wear a different coat every day."

The correct answer proved to be 24,889,000 B.T.U.'s and their estimate was worth the car and the quantity of oil. By previous agreement they sold the prizes, winding up with a profit of $600 a man.

Increase in Bursar's Fee

(Continued from Page 1)

that he personally does not favor an increase because it would tax all students for the benefit of a few.

At present, student aides receive a starting salary of $1 per hour with an increase of ten cents per hour after 200 hours of service. Students performing special services or holding responsible positions receive a starting hourly salary of $1.25.

Bob Atkins '64, a member of the committee and an aide, expressed dissatisfaction with President Gallagher's proposal because he felt wages could be increased through further use of available funds.

According to Atkins the total receipts from the bursar's fee is $300,000. He questioned the possibility of meeting the $200,000 cost of the aides' wages from funds obtained through the fee.

Atkins also noted that Council would not support a fee increase.

Atkins expects that a committee representing the union will present Dr. Gallagher with a list of grievances. Among the chief complaints, he said, will be:

- low wage scales
- lack of job security
- poor treatment of aides by librarians and secretaries
- classification of certain skilled jobs in lower wage brackets

If the union is dissatisfied with the President's response to its grievances, it will consider striking to gain its demands, Atkins said.

BARON, GRAU
Then and Now

N. Y. WORLD'S FAIR
1964 - 1965

Save 12% on adult tickets (transferable, good any day)

Leave name, phone in RAILROAD CLUB — mailbox in 152 Finley.

All College students, faculty, employees eligible. Offer ends February 21, 1964.

COLLEGE STUDENTS
An Exciting 7½ Week Summer Adventure

KIBBUTZ & VACATION
in ISRAEL & EUROPE

JET DEPARTURES: June 27 & July 9

Program Features:

- 14 days of fruit-picking and other work in Galilee Kibbutzim
- 7 day "Go Native" sightseeing tour throughout Israel
- 14 days of rest and recreation at the ASHKELON — village de vacances on the Mediterranean
- 14 day tour of Italy, Switzerland and France

For further information & reservations contact:

HISTADRUT STUDENT TOURS
33 East 67th St New York 21, NY
RE 4-7440 or RE 4-6010

The Campus

Congratulates

BOB and SANDY

On the Birth of Their Daughter

Thanks for the New Staff Member

Washington's Party Activity Studied by Young Democrats

By Jean Ende

More than 40 students, under the sponsorship of the Young Democrats Club descended on Washington during intersession to check on party activity. They found the city to be one big party.

For three days the students held impromptu celebrations in their hotel rooms.

In between, they managed to tour the White House, led by Lynda Bird Johnson, hear some political debates, and get in some extensive sight-seeing.

On the first day, the young Democrats and their fellow travelers were addressed by Senators Robert McGovern (Dem.—Kansas) and J. Strom Thurmond (Dem.—South Carolina). The issue was civil rights, but some students thought the attitude of Senator Thurmond was not exactly civil—or right for that matter.

Senator Thurmond reminded the students of the value of the constitution in deciding matters of civil rights. "The constitution, like the Bible will never be outdated," he said. Then he proceeded to speak on the Bible.

The students did not appreciate his filibustering and wanted to ask him questions on his views. He rushed out immediately, explaining that he had previously made an engagement to address a junior high school graduation class.

College students got a special treat when they were invited to a cocktail party thrown by Stanley Pleasant '48, the General Counsel of the United States Information Agency. Between drinks, they learned that Washington's inner circles expect Richard Nixon to get the Republican nomination for President and either Robert Kennedy or R. Sargent Shriver to gain the Democratic nomination for vice-president.

The students appeared to favor Senator Hubert Humphrey for the vice-presidential nomination by their loud applause when Senator McGovern had earlier raised the possibility.

During the White House tour, President Johnson's personal representative, his 18-year-old daughter Lynda Bird, told the group that she "was proud to live in such a house . . . so full of history."

The students spied her younger sister, Lucy Baines, walking around the house in blue jeans and a sweat shirt. Lynda Bird asked the students to understand scenes like that because the White House is not only a place for tourists to visit. "After all it is my home," she said.

John Lauritzen wanted further knowledge

He's finding it at Western Electric

When the University of Nevada awarded John Lauritzen his B.S.E.E. in 1961, it was only the first big step in the learning program he envisions for himself. This led him to Western Electric. For WE agrees that ever-increasing knowledge is essential to the development of its engineers—and is helping John in furthering his education.

John attended one of Western Electric's three Graduate Engineering Training Centers and graduated with honors. Now, through the Company-paid Tuition Refund Plan, John is working toward his Master's in Industrial Management at Brooklyn Polytechnic Institute. He is currently a planning engineer developing test equipment for the Bell System's revolutionary electronic telephone switching system.

If you set the highest standards for yourself, both educationally and professionally, we should talk. Western Electric's vast communications job as manufacturing unit of the Bell System provides many opportunities for fast-moving careers for electrical, mechanical and industrial engineers, as well as for physical science, liberal arts and business majors. Get your copy of the Western Electric Career Opportunities booklet from your Placement Officer. Or write: Western Electric Company, Room 6405, 222 Broadway, New York 38, N. Y. And be sure to arrange for a personal interview when the Bell System recruiting team visits your campus.

Western Electric MANUFACTURING AND SUPPLY UNIT OF THE BELL SYSTEM
AN EQUAL OPPORTUNITY EMPLOYER
Principal manufacturing locations in 13 cities • Operating centers in many of these same cities plus 36 others throughout the U.S.
Engineering Research Center, Princeton, N.J. • Teletype Corp., Skokie, Ill. • Little Rock, Ark. • Gen. Hq., 195 Broadway, New York

Grau Dynasty

expresses its desire for your success and happiness in the forthcoming semester

On Campus with Max Shulman

(Author of "Rally Round the Flag, Boys!" and "Barefoot Boy With Cheek".)

ARF!

Benjamin Franklin (or The Louisville Slugger, as he is better known as) said, "A penny saved is a penny earned," and we, the college population of America, have taken to heart this sage advice. We spend prudently; we budget diligently. Yet, despite our wise precautions, we are always running short. Why? Because there is one item of expense that we consistently underestimate—the cost of travelling home for weekends.

Let us take the typical case of Basil Metabolism, a sophomore at UCLA majoring in avocados. Basil, a resident of Bangor, Maine, loved to go home each weekend to play with his faithful dog, Spot. What joy, what wreathed smiles, when Basil and Spot were re-united! Basil would leap into his dogcart, and Spot, a genuine Alaskan husky, would pull Basil all over Bangor, Maine—Basil calling cheery halloos to the townfolk, Spot wagging his curly tail.

The results were not all Basil had hoped

But the cost, alas, of travelling from UCLA to Bangor, Maine, ran to $400 a week, and Basil's father, alas, earned only a meagre salary as a meter-reader for the Bangor water department. So, alas, after six months Basil's father told Basil he could raise no more money; he had already sold everything he owned, including the flashlight he used to read meters.

Basil returned to California to ponder his dilemma. One solution occurred to him—to ship Spot to UCLA and keep him in his room—but Basil had to abandon the notion because of his roommate, G. Fred Sigafos, who was, alas, allergic to dog hair.

Then another idea came to Basil—a stroke of genius, you might call it. He would buy a Mexican hairless chihuahua! Thus he would have a dog to pull him around, and G. Fred's allergy would be undisturbed.

The results, alas, were not all Basil had hoped. The chihuahua, alas, was unable to pull Basil in the dogcart, no matter how energetically he beat the animal.

Defeated again, Basil sat down with G. Fred, his roommate, to smoke a Marlboro Cigarette and seek a new answer to the problem. Together they smoked and thought and—Eureka!—an answer quickly appeared. (I do not suggest, mark you, that Marlboro Cigarettes are an aid to cerebration. All I say about Marlboros is that they taste good and are made of fine tobaccos and pure white filters and come in soft pack or Flip Top box.)

Well, sir, Basil and G. Fred got a great idea. Actually, the idea was G. Fred's, who happened to be majoring in genetics. Why not, said G. Fred, cross-breed the chihuahua with a Great Dane and thus produce an animal sturdy enough to pull a dogcart?

It was, alas, another plan doomed to failure. The cross-breeding was done, but the result (this is very difficult to explain) was a raccoon.

But there is, I am pleased to report, a happy ending to this heart-rending tale. It seems that Basil's mother (this is also very difficult to explain) is a glamorous blond aged 19 years. One day she was spotted by a talent scout in Bangor, Maine, and was signed to a fabulous movie contract, and the entire family moved to California and bought Bel Air, and today one of the most endearing sights to be seen on the entire Pacific Coast is Spot pulling Basil down Sunset Boulevard—Basil cheering and Spot wagging. Basil's mother is also happy, making glamorous movies all day long, and Basil's father is likewise content, sitting at home and reading the water meter.

© 1964 Max Shulman

Pacific Coast, Atlantic Coast, the great Heartland in between —not to speak of Alaska and Hawaii—all of this is Marlboro Country. Light up and find out for yourself.

Parriers Down Tigers in Hard Fought Duel

4-13 Decision Brings Record To 3-2

By Arthur Woodard
One of the most see-saw matches ever seen in Wingate College's fencing team "g tough" to beat Princeton 14-13, Saturday, February 7. The victory brought the parrier's season record to score was knotted seven during the meet until Weiner and Stan Lefkowitz took the bouts which gave Beavers the victory. These two bouts were characteristic of the match—close and fought. Both Weiner and Lefkowitz were tied three times their opponent before they tried, 5-4.

PARRIER Ray Fields continued his winning ways as the Beavers beat Princeton in close contest.

Clincher
Lefkowitz' bout was the clincher a great clutch victory. With ten seconds of fencing time and Lefkowitz leading, 4-3, Princeton's Steve Harwood got to Lefkowitz and tied the score at disappointment could have been Lefkowitz and caused him to alter, but he seemed to be completely unruffled. He calmly pushed his opponent back and then his thirteenth win in fourteen attempts this season by beating Paul Pressly, 5-1. The unexpected developed though, as Bob Kao dropped his bout to John O'Sullivan, 5-3. This was only Kao's second loss in thirteen decisions. Frank Appice then lost his bout, 5-2.

Captains Duel

In a battle of opposing team captains, Beaver Ed Martinez showed his toughness in the clutch—as he had several times earlier in the season—by edging past Tiger Bill Hicks, 5-4. His foils teammates, George Weiner and Ronald Wallenfels could not duplicate his victory, however, and the Lavender was behind, 4-2.

It was here that Lefkowitz won his bout and injected new life into the parriers. Barry Cohen followed Lefkowitz' lead and trounced his opponent, 5-3. Alan Darion tried to give the epee team a clean sweep, but was nipped, 5-4, although he fenced well.

Kao then evened the score at 5-5 by clobbering Pressly, 5-2, but the parriers were soon behind again as Appice was "bombed," 5-1, by O'Sullivan. Fields then took his bout, 5-3, to again tie the score.

Foils Still Weak

The foils squad once again lost two bouts out of three as Weiner and Richard Weininger, subbing for Wallenfels and fencing foil for the first time in competition, were beaten, 5-2 and 5-3, respectively, while Martinez took his bout, 5-2. Cohen then blew a 4-2 lead to White and ended up on the short end of a 5-4 score. This loss gave the Tigers a two bout edge at 9-7, but things were soon knotted again as Darion (5-4) and Lefkowitz (5-1) won their bouts.

By this time excitement had reached a fever pitch and it soon rose even higher as Mike Mechanic, in for Appice, squared off with Pressly.

Mechanic Comeback

At first, this seemed like a dull bout as Mechanic quickly fell behind, 3-0. But he refused to give, and, with his teammates cheering him, Mechanic fought his way back to a 4-4 tie. Pressly then made a beautiful move, however, and captured the bout, 5-4.

Fields and Kao then came through and knocked off their opponents, 5-4 and 5-3, respectively, to give the Lavender an 11-10 lead.

The tide seemed to turn against the Lavender, though, as Weininger was murdered, 5-0, by Hicks, and Martinez fell behind, 2-0, in his bout with Charles Wertheimer.

Martinez wouldn't give up, however, and scored five consecutive touches to put his team back in the lead at 12-11.

It was now that Weiner took his crucial match. His victory was truly amazing as he had so much pressure on him—not only the pressure of a big bout, but also the pressure of trying to break an eight bout losing streak.

Darion then lost his bout to White by 5-1, but Lefkowitz took his clinching bout to give the Lavender the victory.

THE CONCLAVE unanimously condemns
DANIEL GUBIN
... for being alive

FEBRUARY 12th-18th

Fellini "8 1/2"
and
"Strangers In The City"

FEBRUARY 19th-25th

"David & Lisa"
and

"No Love for Johnny"

FEBRUARY 25th-MARCH 3rd

"Lord of the Flies"
and August Strinberg's
"Miss Julie"

THE HOLLIS REPERTORY CINEMA
Jamaica Ave. & 191 St
HO 4-5337

W - SH

The ittes cancel

GRAU '67

tired of just listening?

Join a N Y RECORDER WORKSHOP group

BEGINNERS—play Renaissance & Baroque chamber music in six months.

INTERMEDIATE—improve your musicianship while enjoying group playing.

ADVANCED—acquire performance level technique & polish. Individual instruction included in all classes.

recorder—viol—flute—violin—baroque flute

n y recorder workshop un 6-1603

directed by Paul Ehrlich formerly with Pro Musica

General Camp Counselors Wanted

Take Advantage of Your Coming Holidays to Line Up YOUR SUMMER CAMP JOB

MEN AND WOMEN - 1000 openings with the '58 country and day camps affiliated with the FEDERATION OF JEWISH PHILANTHROPIES. Preference given to Psychology, Sociology, and Education majors with camping or group activity leadership background.

APPLY IN PERSON

STARTING DECEMBER 16th
Mondays through Fridays
8:30 A.M. - 4:30 P.M.
Starting in January, also Open Tuesdays to 7 P.M.

Camp Department Federation

Employment and Guidance Service

42 East 41st Street New York City
NO FEE FOR PLACEMENT

Camp Directors on Premises
Christmas Week

ANNOUNCING GRADUATE PROGRAMS

leading to

MASTER OF SCIENCE DEGREE with specialization

in PHARMACY ADMINISTRATION and HOSPITAL PHARMACY ADMINISTRATION

SESSIONS BEGIN FEBRUARY AND SEPTEMBER

Course is designed to prepare graduate pharmacists for positions of responsibility and leadership in management, marketing, selling and research in pharmaceutical, cosmetic and related industries in the wholesaling and retailing of the drug trade; in preparation for teaching of pharmacy administration; and in the administration of the hospital pharmacy.

Admission for matriculated graduate students is limited to those who possess B.S. in Pharmacy degrees.

Write or Phone for BULLETIN of INFORMATION APPLICATION FORM

LIU
B'KLYN COLLEGE of PHARMACY
600 LAFAYETTE AVE., B'KLYN 16, N. Y.
FOUNDED 1886 MAIN 2-4040

IT'S A SNAP!

TO STUDY AND REVIEW WITH

BARNES & NOBLE COLLEGE OUTLINE SERIES

What is your motive for charging only 19¢ for your pen, Mr. BIC?
BIC is the world's finest writing instrument—writes on and on—yet it costs only 19¢. Only BIC is guaranteed* to write first time every time. BIC's "Dyamite" Ball Point is the hardest metal made by man. Get a BIC, now at your campus store. BIC "Crystal" 19¢. BIC pens available with blue, red, green, and black ink. Made in U.S.A. *For replacement send pen to: WATERMAN-BIC PEN CORP., MILFORD, CONN.

Correction

In the last issue of The Campus it was reported that the College's Irwin Fox had been selected to the soccer All-Met second team. The Beaver picked for the was Mike Pesce. The Campus regrets the error.

GRADUATE AND LAW SCHOOL CANDIDATES

We can help you appreciably raise your test scores for Graduate and Professional School Admission Exams. Law School Exam (April 14) Graduate Business School Exam (April 4) Graduate Record Aptitude Exam (for graduate school and Federal gov't career appointment)

$30 (3 payments)—15 hrs. of intensive coaching in selected areas

BROOKLYN COURSE: Tuesdays, 6:30-9:30 p.m. YMCA, 1520 Flatbush Ave. (near Brooklyn College) Meets Feb. 25 and March 3, 10, 17 and 24.
MANHATTAN COURSE: Saturdays, 1:30-4:30 p.m. YMCA, 215 West 4th St. (near 7th Ave.) Meets Feb. 29 and March 7, 14, 21 and 28.

S. ALTMAN—HI 4-4717—
Licensed N. Y. C. Principal and former NYU instructor.
S. BLITZ—VI 9-4845—
Licensed N. Y. C. Principal and Assistant Professor, LIU. (Established, experienced, successful coaches)
ALTMAN - BLITZ GRADUATE COURSE

Want a Sorority that's really YOU?

RUSH — SIGMA CHI THETA

Thursday, Feb. 13 — 12 - 2
Room 424 Finley

First Open
RUSH
ALPHA SIGMA RHO
Feb. 13 - 440 Finley - 12-2

Beavers Bombed by Rider, 72-57

Beat Wagner In Upset, 68-65

(Continued from Page 1)

the cagers brought the ball downcourt, Bob Kissman, as if having a premonition of the oncoming disaster, blew one right under the basket. The Lavender play and the cheering of the crowd got the Broncos fired up. Nick Valvano scored from the outside and Doug Endres followed with three quick baskets, all from underneath.

Before Alex Blatt hit with the Beavers' first bucket of the second period, Rider had built up a 47-34 lead.

The Beavers did make one last vain effort. With the Broncos leading by 17 points with little more than eight minutes to play, Blatt made good a shot from the foul line. Schweid and Golden then sank free throws as the cagers tried to move into high gear.

But the Lavender could come no closer than seven points. Down by 60-48 with slightly more than five minutes left, Schweid hit from the outside and was fouled intentionally by Valvano. The little (5-8) guard sank both foul shots, bringing the score to 60-52. When Golden sank one free throw in a one-and-one situation, the Beavers were closer than they had been since the opening moments of the period.

COACH Dave Polansky will lead the Beaver cagers once again this Wednesday at Yeshiva.

The Broncos, however, closed out the game in another scoring spree and the Beavers were losers as they have been in three of their last four games.

This game was a "must" for the Beavers as far as the Tri-State League is concerned. With a win, they could have stayed in contention with league leader Fairleigh Dickinson. Rider is now 2-3 in league play, 9-6 overall.

The College's basketball team, in quest of its second Tri-State League win, was turned back by the Stags of Fairfield, 74-69, at Wingate Gym January 30. The Beavers bounced back to beat Wagner, 68-65, Saturday, February 1, before losing to C.W. Post, 83-74, last Tuesday.

The Stags coasted to a 41-30 halftime lead thanks to the almost flawless shooting of guard Pat Burke who would up with a total of 27 points, including 12-19 from the floor. Alex Blatt led the Lavender with 20 points.

Wagner came into Wingate with

Defeated By Fairfield, Post

a record of 12-2, including a big upset win over the Violets of NYU. But the Seahawks were without the services of Fred Klittich, the third highest scorer in Wagner's history. Although Klittich came in at various times during the game, his illness made him too weak to play for very long. And, while he was playing, it seemed that this was not the same man who had

STAG-GERED
FAIRFIELD (74)			CCNY (69)
FG	F	P	FG	F	P
Branch	8	2-4	18	Blatt	9	2-3	20
Boole	4	2-4	10	Smolev	3	3-3	9
Burke	12	3-5	27	Levine	3	6-7	12
Pascale	0	4-4	4	Zerman	6	2-4	14
Rafferty	6	1-2	13	Golden	2	0-1	4
Wagner	1	0-0	2	Schweid	3	4-4	10
Kilty	0	0-0	0	Trell	0	0-0	0
Lingua	0	0-0	0
Totals			31	12-19	74	Totals		26	11-22	69
Halftime score—Fairfield 41, CCNY 30.

scored 1,205 points during his three year career.

Instead of Klittich, Van Neher started at the pivot spot. Neher, at 6-8, three inches taller than Klittich, falls far short as far as overall ability is concerned.

Steve Golden led the Beavers

UPSET
WAGNER (65)			CCNY (68)
FG	F	P	FG	F	P
Glasser	5	2-2	12	Blatt	4	3-5	11
Grannis	0	2-2	2	Smolev	5	3-4	13
D'Neigo	6	1-1	13	Levine	7	0-1	14
Pedro	7	5-6	19	Zerman	3	5-7	11
Neher	2	0-0	4	Golden	6	5-6	17
Klittich	3	1-3	7	Kissman	1	0-0	2
Blois	2	4-5	8	Sherr	0	0-0	0
Flege	0	0-3	0
A'arumo	0	0-0	0
Totals			25	15-22	65	Totals		26	16-23	68
Halftime score—Wagner 42, CCNY 39.

with 17 points. Top man for the Seahawks was guard Hank Pedro who scored 19.

The C. W. Post game gave Lavender fans the chance to see the most dazzling backcourt play seen here in years. Frank Townsend (5-6) is evidence that the little man can still hold his own — and then some — against the giants of the basketball world.

Time and again, Townsend would fly downcourt with the ball, fade, and then drive for layups. When he wasn't scoring, he was setting up plays with passes that even the most diehard Beaver fans had to applaud.

Mike Brandeis, Townsend's backcourt sidekick, was high man for the Pioneers with 30 points. Al Zuckerman led the Beavers with 27 points.

BEAVERS Alex Blatt and Al Zuckerman are two reasons for cagers' winning record. Blatt is high scorer. Zuckerman has filled in well at guard since the untimely death of Mike Shaffer.

PINT-SIZE COUSY
C.W. POST (83)			CCNY (74)
FG	F	P	FG	F	P
S'blum	4	1-1	9	Blatt	6	4-7
Wulf	2	7-11	11	Smolev	6	4-4
B'ides	9	12-11	30	Levine	4	0-0
Shapiro	0	0-1	0	Zerman	6	9-10
T'send	7	9-10	23	Golden	3	2-3
Bergs	0	0-0	0	Trell	0	0-0
E'hwitz	0	2-4	2	Schweid	1	0-1
F'iberg	1	0-0	2	Kissman	1	0-1
H'icton	1	2-3	4	Sherr	0	0-0
Ludwin	1	0-1	2	B'berger	0	0-0
M'illard	0	0-6	0	Greene	0	1-2
				Menken	0	0-0
				Suwara	0	0-0
Totals			25	33-51	83	Totals		27	20	38
Halftime score—CCNY 41, C.W. Post

ROUGH-RIDING

CCNY			RIDER
FG	F	P	FG	F	P
Blatt	6	2-3	14	Kennedy	1	0-0
B'berger	0	0-0	0	VanDr'u	4	1-1
Golden	3	4-9	10	Endres	8	1-2
Greene	0	0-0	0	Fives	1	0-1
Kissman	0	0-0	0	Gibson	2	0-0
Levine	3	1-1	7	Valvano	4	0-1
Schweid	5	2-3	13	Null	0	1-2
Sherr	0	0-0	0	Kuchen	3	0-1
Smolev	1	7-8	9	Serban	6	2-4
Trell	0	0-0	0	Haesker	3	3-5
Zerman	2	0-0	4
Totals			20	17-24	57	Totals		32	8-17	72
Halftime Score—Rider 35, CCNY 34

FDU Pins Matmen, 20-18; Loss of Siegel Is Handicap

The College's wrestling team dropped a hard fought decision to the grapplers of Fairleigh Dickinson Saturday in Goethals Gymnasium. The score was 20-18.

The Beavers were handicapped by the absence of 130-pounder Al Siegel. After reporting to the team's 9 a.m. weigh-in, Siegel drove away and was not heard from until the following morning. Siegel had gone to the hospital when he discovered that his girl friend had taken ill. His absence prompted the first Lavender default in coach Joe Sapura's 32 year tenure.

COACH Joe Sapura's grapplers forfeited a bout Saturday for first time in coach's career.

Unmindful of Siegel's sudden disappearance, the College's Ron Taylor got the matmen off to a fine start as he pinned his opponent to register his fifth victory of the season. Wrestling in the 123-lb. class, Taylor has lost only to Carl Bateman of Montclair State.

In the next match, Beaver Paul Biederman took to the mats to oppose 137-lb. Horst Rudolph, captain of the Purple Knights.

It was Rudolph whom the college's Harvey Taylor defeated last year in what Sapura termed "the best match of the season." But Biederman was not equal to Taylor's heroics and Rudolph pinned him in the third period.

When Charles Hough pinned

the Lavender's 147-lb. entry, Paul Weiss, the visitors increased their lead to 15-8. But the Beavers cut the margin when Mark Miller, who had moved up to 157 lbs. for this match, found himself without an opponent for the second time in his last three matches. "They're afraid of him," Sapura chortled. "They won't put anybody in to wrestle him."

Miller had to content himself with wrestling an exhibition match against a member of the Fairleigh Dickinson freshman team, whom he clobbered, 11-1.

Now the Lavender began to pick up momentum. Al Fein decisively decided his man in the 167-lb. class and Al Leydecker pinned his purple-shirted adversary as the Beavers forged ahead for the first time.

Alas their three point lead was short-lived as heavyweight Jack Stein succumbed in the final seconds of the last match to give the Knights five points and the victory.

Lavender Mermen Dunked In Three Vacation Meets

Intersession did not prove to be a particularly enjoyable holiday for the College's swimming team. The mermen were defeated by Kings Point, Fordham, NYU, and saw their record wilt to 1-6.

Against NYU, Saturday, the Beavers were unable to capture a first place and lost, 66-25. Their only strong performance came in the 500 yd. freestyle event as they took both second and third places, with Walt Konen edging Girard Pessis.

In the dive, the usually strong duo of Richie Woska and Al Carter was soundly defeated by the Violet's Sam Finns.

Al Frishman, who has come into his own during the second half of the season, swam in three events. He took third place in the 200-yd. Individual and in the 200-yd. Backstroke. He also swam a leg in the 400-yd. Freestyle Relay.

Winners for the Violets included Steve Semryck (200-yd. Breaststroke), Ed Buncanson (500-yd. Freestyle), and Norm Globberman (200-yd. Freestyle). Globberman, NYU's versatile sophomore, completed the eight laps in 2:10.9.

Two days prior to the NYU meet, Fordham had administered similar treatment, defeating the Beavers, 65-26. In five different events, the Rams swept the first two places, and coupled with a victory in the Medley Relay, they proceeded to give the Mermen one of their worst beatings of the 1963-64 campaign.

Beaver standouts were Frishman and Woska. Frishman won the 200-yd. Backstroke and swam the first leg of the victorious 400-yd. Freestyle Relay. The other legs were swum by Steve Gluck, Al Morgenthal, and Tom Hoepfner. Woska triumphed in the dive, with SWIMMING coach Jack Rid can't wait for next season when he will bring up frosh team.

Carter placing third.

Ken Zinkand, Frank Tarra and Gary Oswald gave strong performances for the Rams.

The Beavers' best showing during the intersession period came against Kings Point January. The Lavender bowed in that meet 52-41.

Point scorers were divers Carter and Woska, finishing first and third, respectively.

Denny Mora, who had won events in the preceding meet against Brooklyn Poly, took first place in the 100-yd. Freestyle. Girard Pessis came up with strong performance in winning 200-yd. Butterfly.

The Beavers will close out regular season February 15, with little chance for victory against a strong Lafayette squad. Hopes are high for next season as this year's fine freshmen swimmers will attempt to strengthen the varsity's chances for future winning campaigns.

ol. 114
Gro
Fu
A
prises
The g approved which w approval
At the January
requeste formed t ure inc owered
The fi
the comm
(Speech) Political horn (E History stry).
Accord
Dr. Gall tion of t faculty l
the impl enrollme
October Bellush:
sion sta
students ards of of, will the over reach th
The co lined sev consider.
● the pected t
next dec
● the coping v school g privilege who enc wards v than hig
● the teaching panded
The cc of great lager, F cause "h of the hasn't h SG
As Th voted t
the fre Howev leaders such a de ize beca
Albany
SG wa
The present Antigon
by Rob Storr.
Ann Gi
Gerald Pevsner
David S be held Harris. are urg
— Kop